Our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King conſidering the premiſes, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and at the prayer of his Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained and provided, that no merchant ſtranger, after the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, ſhall bring into this Realm of England to be ſold, any manner girdles, nor harneys wrought for girdles, points, leather laces, purſes, pouches, pins, gloves, knives, hangers, tailors ſheers, ſyſors, andyrons, cobbards, tongs, fireforks, gredyrons, ſtocklocks, keys, hinges and garnets, ſpurrs, painted glaſſes, painted papers, painted forcers, painted images, painted Clothes, beaten gold, or beaten ſilver, wrought in papers for painters, ſaddles, ſaddle-trees, horſe-harneſs, boots, bits, ſtirrups, buckles, chains, latten-nails, with iron-ſhanks, turnets, hanging candleſticks, holy water ſtopps, chaffingdiſhes, hanging lavers, curtain rings, cards for wool, Roan cards (except claſps for garments) ſheers, buckles for ſhoos, broches or ſpits, hawks-bells, tinn and leaden ſpoons, wyre of latten and iron, iron candleſticks, grates, horns for lanthorns, or any of the ſaid wares made and wrought pertaining to the crafts above ſpecified, or any of them, upon pain to forfeit all the ſaid wares ſo brought into this Realm contrary to this Act, or the value of the ſame, in whoſe hands they or any of them ſhall be found: The one half of ſuch fines and forfeitures to be to the King, and the other half to him or them that ſhall ſeiſe or purſue for the ſame by action of debt, by writ, or bill at the common Law, or by bill or plaint after the cuſtom of the City or Town where any ſuch fines, forfeitures, and penalties ſhall hereafter happen to be or fall. And that the defendant in ſuch action be not admitted to wage his Law: Nor that any protection or eſſoin of the Kings ſervice ſhall be allowed in the ſame for any ſuch defendant. St. 5 El. 7. 14 Car. 2. ca. 13.

Certain Merchandiſes prohibited to be brought ready wrought into this Realm to be ſold.

CAP. XIII.

The contents of every veſſel of Wine or Oyl. And they ſhall not be ſold until they be gauged.

ITem, Upon grievous complaint made to our Soveraign Lord the King, in the ſaid Parliament, by the Commons of the ſame, of the defaults of meaſures of Butts of Malmſey and other veſſels of Wines and oyl: Our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent of the ſaid Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and at the ſupplication of the ſaid Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted, That no manner merchant nor other perſon whatſoever he be, from the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, ſhall bring nor cauſe to be brought into this Realm, any Butt of Malmſey to be ſold, unleſs it do contain in meaſure at the leaſt C. xxvi. gallons, nor no veſſels with any manner wines, whoſe ſoever they be, or of what Countrey they be, nor no manner of veſſels of oyl, unleſs the ſame veſſels of wine or oyl do contain and hold the meaſure and aſſiſe following, that is to ſay, every tun to contain xii. ſcore and xii. gallons, and every pipe to contain vi. ſcore and vi. gallons, every tertian to contain iv. ſcore and iv. gallons, and every hogſhead to contain lxiii. gallons, and every barrel to contain xxxi. gallons and an half, and every rundlet to contain xviii. gallons and an half, according to the old aſſiſe and meaſure of the ſame veſſels uſed in this Realm. And that all the veſſels of wine and oyl brought into this Realm after the ſaid Feaſt to be ſold, ſhall not be put to ſale after the ſame Feaſt, till they be well and truly gauged by the Kings gauger, or his ſufficient deputy, upon pain to forfeit to the King all the ſaid wines and oyl ſold contrary to this preſent Ordinance, or elſe the value of the ſame. And in caſe that any perſon, of what Countrey he be, from henceforth do ſell to any of the Kings liege people for any certain price aſſigned, any butt, tun, pipe, tertian, hogſhead, barrel or rundlet, of any manner wine or oyl, lacking any thing of the ſaid Aſſiſe or meaſure, that the ſeller ſhall allow or rebate of the ſame price to the buyer of ſuch wine or oyl, as much money as ſuch lacking after the rate ſhall amount to, upon pain to forfeit to our Soverain Lord the King, the value of all the wine and oyl ſo ſold contrary to this preſent Ordinance: Any privy covenant or contract made or to be made betwixt the buyer and the ſeller contrary to this Ordinance in any manner notwithſtanding. Stat. 18 H. 6. 17. 11 H. 7. 4. 28 H. 8. 14.

The content of every veſſel of wine & oyl brought into the Realm to be ſold.

The veſſels of wine ſhall be gauged. St. 27 Ed. 3. 8.

A recompence ſhall be made, for the meaſure lacking.

CAP. XIV.

Accomptants for diſmes are not chargeable to anſwer other mens ſuits in the Eſchequer.

ITem, Whereas the Clergy of the Provinces of Canterbury and York have before this time divers times granted to the Kings Progenitors, in their Convocations, diſmes to be levied of their goods and poſſeſſions, and after that they do appear before the Barons of the Kings Eſchequer, and the names of the Collectors for the ſame grant be certified in the ſaid Eſchequer, when the ſaid Collectors do appear before the Barons of the Eſchequer, and enter into their account for the ſaid diſme, that then the ſaid Collectors be often charged, vexed and troubled with bills put by other perſons againſt them for other cauſes and matters then touching the ſaid account, and by occaſion thereof oftentimes they fall to great poverty, and cauſeth the ſaid account to be two or three years hanging, and the diſmes not contented, to the Kings great damage, and the ſaid Collectors alſo:

Accomptants for diſmes are not bound to

CAP. II.

Aliens made Denizens ſhall pay ſuch cuſtoms as they did before.

ITem, Where in time paſt divers grants have been made by King Edward, as well by his Letters Patents, as by Acts of Parliament, to divers Merchants ſtrangers, born out of this Realm, to be denizens, whereby they have and enjoy ſuch freedoms and liberties, as do denizens born within this Realm, as well in abatement of their cuſtom, which they ſhould bear if they were no denizens, as in buying and ſelling of their Merchandiſe, to their great avail and lucre: and oft times ſuffer other ſtrangers, not denizens, deceitfully to ſhip and carry great and notable ſubſtance of Merchandiſe in their names, by the which the ſaid goods be free of cuſtom, in like wiſe as they were goods of a denizen, where of right they ought to pay cuſtom, as the goods of ſtrangers, by the which they be greatly advanced in riches and honour: and after they be ſo inriched, for the moſt part they convey themſelves with their ſaid goods into their own Countries, wherein they be naturally born, to the great impoveriſhing of this Realm, and to the great hurt and defraud of the Kings Highneſs in payment of his Cuſtoms: Wherefore it is enacted, eſtabliſhed, and ordained by the advice of the ſaid Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That any perſon made, or hereafter to be made denizen, ſhall pay for his merchandiſe like Cuſtom and Subſidy, as he ought or ſhould pay afore that he were made denizen: any Letters Patents, or other Ordinances by Parliament, or otherwiſe, contrary to this made, notwithſtanding. ITem, Foraſmuch as before this time divers Ordinances and Statutes have been made in divers Parliaments holden in the ſame Realm, for the punition of inordinate and unlawful huntings in Foreſts, Parks, and in Warrens within the ſaid Realm: Which Statutes and Ordinances notwithſtanding, divers perſons in great number, ſome with painted faces, ſome with viſors, and otherwiſe diſguiſed, to the intent they ſhould not be known, riotouſly and in manner of war arrayed, have oftentimes of late hunted, as well by night as by day, in divers Foreſts, Parks, and Warrens in divers places of this Realm, and in ſpecial in the Counties of Kent, Surry, and Suſſex, by colour whereof have enſued in times paſt great and heinous rebellions, inſurrections, riots, robberies, murders, and other inconveniences, to the prevarication and enſample of Riotors and evil diſpoſed perſons of this Realm in ſo offending, which offences could not be puniſhed afore this time, according to the ſaid Statutes, Ordinances, and Laws of this ſaid Realm, becauſe that the ſaid miſ-doers, by reaſon of their painted faces, viſors, and other diſguiſings, could not be known: The King our Sovereign Lord, of his noble and abundant grace, conſidering the premiſſes, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, at the ſupplication of the Commons in ſaid ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, ordaineth, That at every ſuch time as information ſhall be made of any ſuch unlawful huntings by night, or with painted faces, hereafter to be done, to any of the Kings Council, or to any of the Juſtices of the Kings Peace of the County where any ſuch hunting ſhall be had, of any perſon to be ſuſpect thereof, that then it ſhall be lawful to any of the ſame Council, or Juſtices of Peace, to whom any ſuch information ſhall be made, to make a Warrant to the Sheriff of ſuch County, or to any Conſtable, Bailiff, or other Officer within the ſame County, to take and arreſt the ſame perſon or perſons of whom any ſuch information ſhall be made, and to have him or them afore the maker of any ſuch Warrant, or any other the Kings ſaid Council, or Juſtice of his Peace of the ſame County: and that the ſaid Counſellor or Juſtice of Peace, afore whom ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall be brought, by his diſcretion have power to examine him or them ſo brought afore the ſaid Counſellor or Juſtice, of the ſaid hunting, and of the ſaid doers in that behalf: and if the ſame perſon wilfully conceal the ſaid huntings, or any perſon with him defective therein, that then the ſame concealment be againſt every ſuch perſon ſo concealing felony, and the ſame felony to be inquired of and determined, as other felonies within this Realm have uſed to be: and if he then confeſs the truth, and all that he ſhall be examined of, and knoweth in that behalf, that then the ſaid offences of huntings by him done be againſt the King our Sovereign Lord, but treſpaſs finable, by reaſon of the ſame confeſſion, at the next general Seſſions of the Peace, to be holden in the ſame County by the Kings Juſtices of the ſame Seſſions, there to be ſeſſed. And if any reſcous or diſobeyſance be made to any perſon having authority to do execution or juſtice by any ſuch Warrant, by any perſon the which ſo ſhould be arreſted, ſo that the execution of the ſame Warrant thereby be not had, that then the ſame reſcous and diſobeyſance be felony, enquirable and determinable, as is aforeſaid. The Statute of 1 R. 3. 9. touching Italian Merchants, and other ſtrangers whoſoever, and the penalties, forfeitures, and ſeiſures therein limited, be revoked from all others, and by this Statute be given to the King onely.

The ſecond Parliament holden in the third year of the Reign of King Henry the Seventh.

THe King our Sovereign Lord Henry the Seventh, by the Grace of God King of England, and of France, and Lord of Ireland, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the ninth day of November, in the third year of his noble Reign, to the worſhip of God and holy Church, and for the common wealth of this his Realm, by the advice of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in the preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame Parliament, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed certain Statutes and Ordinances, in manner and form as hereafter enſueth.

An Enqueſt charged to inquire of the concealment of another Enqueſt.

The cauſes why murderers be committed. St. Winton. An 3 Ed. 1.

FIrſt, The King our ſaid Sovereign Lord remembreth, how by unlawful Maintenances, giving of Liveries, ſigns and tokens, and retainders by indentures, promiſes, oaths, writings, or otherwiſe embraceries of his ſubjects, untrue demeanings of Sheriffs in making of Panels, and other untrue returns, by taking of money, by injuries, by great riots and unlawful aſſemblies, the policy and good rule of this Realm is almoſt ſubdued, and for the not puniſhing of theſe inconveniences, and by occaſion of the premiſſes, little or nothing may be found by inquiry, whereby the Laws of this Land in execution may take little effect, to the increaſe of murders, robberies, perjuries, and unſureties of all men living, and loſſes of their lands and goods, to the great diſpleaſure of Almighty God. Therefore it is ordained, for reformation of the premiſſes, by authority of the ſaid Parliament, that the Chancellor and Treaſurer of England for the time being, and Keeper of the Kings Privy Seal, or two of them, calling to them a Biſhop and a Temporal Lord of the Kings moſt honourable Council, and yͤ two chief Juſtices of the Kings Bench & Common Place, for the time being, or other two Juſtices in their abſence, upon Bill or Information put to the ſaid Chancellor for the King, or any other, againſt any perſon, for any miſbehaving afore rehearſed, have authority to call before them by Writ or by Privy Seal the ſaid miſdoers, and they and other by their diſcretion by whom the truth may be known, to examine, and ſuch as they find therein defective, to puniſh them after their demerits, after the form and effect of Statutes thereof made, in like manner and form as they ſhould and ought to be puniſhed, if they were thereof convict after the due order of the Law. And over that, it is ordained by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of the Peace of every Shire of this Realm, for the time being, may take by their diſcretion an Enqueſt, whereof every man ſhall have lands and tenements to the yearly value of xl. ſhillings at the leaſt, to enquire of the concealments of other Enqueſts taken afore them, and afore other, of ſuch matters and offences as are to be inquired and preſented afore Juſtices of Peace, whereof complaint ſhall be made by Bill or by Bills, as well within Franchiſe as without. And if any ſuch concealment be found of any Enqueſt, as is afore rehearſed, had or made within the year after the ſame concealment, every perſon of the ſame Enqueſt to be amerced for the ſame concealments, by diſcretion of the ſame Juſtices of the Peace, the ſaid amerciaments to be ſeſſed in plain Seſſions. Item, The King remembreth how murders and ſlaying of his ſubjects daily do increaſe in this land, the occaſions whereof be divers: One, That no men in Towns where ſuch murders hap to fall and be done, will attach the murderer, where the Law of the Land is, That if any man be ſlain in the day, and the Felon not taken, the Townſhip where the death or murder is done, ſhall be amerced; and if any man be wounded in peril of death, the party that ſo wounded ſhould be arreſted, and put in ſurety, till perfect knowledge be had, whether he ſo hurt ſhould live or die. And the Coroner, upon the view of the dead body, ſhould inquire of him or them that had done that death or murder, of their abetters and conſenters, and who were preſent when the death or murder was done, whether man or woman, and the names of them that were preſent, and ſo found, to inrol and certifie: which Law by negligence is diſuſed, and thereby great boldneſs is given to ſlayers and murderers: And over this it is uſed, that within the year and a day after any death or murder had or done, the felony ſhould not be determined at the Kings ſuit, for ſaving of the parties ſuit, wherein the party is oftentimes ſlow, and alſo agreed with, and by the end of the year all is forgotten, which is another occaſion of murder. And alſo he that will ſue any appeal, muſt ſue in proper perſon, which ſuit is long and coſtly, that it maketh the party appellant weary to ſue. For reformation of the premiſſes, the King our Sovereign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, will that every Coroner exerciſe and do his Office according to the Law, as is afore rehearſed; and that if any man be ſlain or murdered, and therefore the ſlayers, murderers, abettors, maintainers, and comforters of the ſame, be indited, that the ſame ſlayers and murderers, and all other acceſſaries of the ſame, be arraigned and determined of the ſame felony and murder at any time at the Kings ſuit, within the year after the ſame felony and murder done, and not tarry the year and day, for any appeal to be taken for the ſame felony or murder. And if it happen any perſon named as principal or acceſſary, to be acquitted of any ſuch murder at the Kings ſuit, within the year and day, that then the ſame Juſtices afore whom he is acquitted, ſhall not ſuffer him to go at large, but either to remit him again to the priſon, or elſe to let him to bail, after their diſcretion, till that year and day be paſſed. And if it fortune the ſame felons or murderers, and acceſſaries ſo arraigned, or any of them to be acquit, or the principal of the ſaid felony, or any of them, to be attainted, the wife or next heir to him ſo ſlain, as ſhall require, may take and have their appeal of the ſame death and murder within the year and day after the ſame felony and murder done, againſt the ſaid perſons ſo arraigned, and acquit, and all other their acceſſaries, againſt the acceſſaries of the ſaid principal, or any of them ſo attainted, or againſt the ſaid principals ſo attainted, if they be one line, and the benefit of his Clergy thereof before not had, and that the appellant have ſuch and like advantage, as if the ſaid acquittal or attainder had not been, the ſaid acquittal or attainder notwithſtanding. And over that the wife or heir of the ſaid perſon ſo ſlain or murdered, as the caſe ſhall require, may commence their appeal in proper perſon, at any time within the year after the ſaid felony done, before the Sheriff and Coroners of the County where the ſaid felony or murder was done, or before the King in his Bench, or Juſtices of Gaol-delivery: and the appellant in any appeals of murder or death of man, where battail by the courſe of the Common Law lieth not, may make their Atturneys, and appear in the ſame, in the ſaid appeals after they be commenced, to the end of the ſuit and execution of the ſame. And if any perſon be ſlain or murdered in the day, and the murderer ſcape untaken, that the Townſhip where the ſaid deed is ſo done, be amerced for the ſaid eſcape, and that the Coroner have authority to inquire thereof upon the view of the dead body. And alſo Juſtices of Peace have power to inquire of ſuch eſcapes, and that to certifie afore the King in his Bench, and that after the felony found, the Coroners deliver their inquiſitions afore the Juſtices of the next Gaol-delivery, in the Shire where the inquiſition is taken, the ſame Juſtices to proceed againſt ſuch murderers, if they be in the Gaol, or elſe the ſame Juſtices to put the ſame inquiſitions afore the King in his Bench. And foraſmuch as Coroners had not, nor ought to have any thing by the Law for their Office doing, which oft-times hath been the occaſion that Coroners have been remiſs in doing their Office: It is ordained, that a Coroner have for his fee, upon every inquiſition taken upon the view of the body ſlain, xiij. s. iiij. d. of the goods and cattels of him that is the ſlayer and murderer, if he have any goods, and if he have no goods, then the Coroner have for his ſaid fee, of ſuch amerciaments as ſhall fortune any Townſhip to be amerced for eſcape of ſuch murderer as is aforeſaid. And if any Coroner be remiſs, and make not inquiſitions upon the view of the body dead, and certifie not according as is afore ordained, that the Coroner for every default forfeit to the King 100 ſhillings. And alſo it is ordained by the ſame authority, that every Juſtice of Peace within this Realm, that ſhall take any Recogniſance for the keeping of the peace, that the ſame Juſtice do certifie, ſend, or bring the ſame Recogniſance at the next Seſſions of peace, where he is or hath been Juſtice, that the party ſo bound may be called: and if the party make default, the ſame default then there to be recorded, and the ſame Recogniſance, with the Record of the default, be ſent and certified into the Chancery, or afore the King in his Bench, or into the Kings Eſchequer. So much of this Statute as concerneth the puniſhment of thoſe that give of take Liveries, is repealed. 3 Car. 4.

CAP. III.

Juſtices of Peace may let Priſoners to bail: The Sheriff ſhall certifie the names of all his Priſoners at the Gaol-delivery.

St. 1 R. 3. 3. The Juſtices of Peace may let a priſoner to mainpriſe, which is mainpernable. St. 1 & 2 P. & M. 13. Fit.N.B. f.251.f.

The Sheriff ſhall certifie the names of all priſoners in his cuſtody to the Juſtices of Gaol-delivery.

A repeal of the Statute of 1 R. 3. touching bailing of priſoners.

ITem, Where in the Parliament late holden at Weſtminſter, the firſt year of Richard, late in deed, and not right, King of England the third: It was ordained and enacted among other divers Acts, That every Juſtice of the Peace, in every Shire, City, or Town, ſhould have authority and power, by his or their diſcretion, to let priſoners and perſons arreſted for light ſuſpection of felony to bail or mainpriſe; by colour whereof afterward divers perſons, ſuch as were not mainpernable, were oftentimes letten to bail and mainpriſe by Juſtices of Peace againſt the due form of the Law, whereby many felons eſcaped, to the great diſpleaſure of the King, and annoyance of his liege people: Wherefore the King our ſaid Sovereign Lord conſidering it, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the prayer of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted, That the Juſtices of Peace in every Shire, City, and Town, or two of them at the leaſt, whereof one to be of the Quorum, have authority and power to let any ſuch priſoners or perſons mainpernable by the Law, that have been impriſoned within their ſeveral Counties, City, or Town, to bail or mainpriſe, unto their next general Seſſions, or unto the next Gaol-delivery of the ſame Gaols, in every Shire, City, or Town, as well within Franchiſes as without, where any Gaols been or hereafter ſhall be: and that the ſaid Juſtices of the Peace, or one of them, ſo taking any ſuch bail or mainpriſe, do certifie the ſame at the next general Seſſions of the Peace, or the next general Gaol-delivery of any ſuch Gaol within every ſuch County, City, or Town, next following, after any ſuch bail or mainpriſe ſo taken, upon pain to forfeit unto the King for every default thereupon recorded, x. l. And moreover it is enacted by the ſame authority, that every Sheriff, Bailiff of Franchiſe, and every other perſon, having authority or power of keeping of Gaol, or of priſoners of felony, in like manner and form do certifie the names of every ſuch priſoner in their keeping, and of every priſoner to them committed for any ſuch cauſe, at the next general Gaol-delivery, in every County or Franchiſe where any ſuch Gaol or Gaols have been, or hereafter ſhall be, there to be kalendred before the Juſtices of the deliverance of the ſame Gaol, whereby they may as well for the King as for the party proceed to make deliverance of ſuch priſoners, according to the Law, upon pain to forfeit unto the King, for every default there recorded, 100 s. And that the foreſaid Act giving authority and power in the premiſſes to any Juſtice of the Peace by himſelf, be in that behalf utterly void and of none effect, by authority of this preſent Parliament.

CAP. IV.

All deeds of gift made to defraud creditors, ſhall be void.

Deeds of gifts of goods to defraud creditors ſhall be void.

ITem, That where oftentimes deeds of gifts of goods and chattels have been made to the intent to defraud their creditors of their duties, and that the perſon or perſons that maketh the ſaid deed of gift goeth to Sanctuary, or other places priviledged, and occupieth and liveth with the ſaid goods and chattels, their creditors being unpaid: It is ordained, enacted, and eſtabliſhed, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that all deeds of gift of goods and chattels made or to be made of truſt, to the uſe of that perſon or perſons that made the ſame deed of gift, be void and of none effect. St. 50 Ed. 3. 6. 2 R. 2. 3. 13 El. 5.

CAP. V.

All bargains by the name of dry exchange ſhall be void, whereby any certain ſum ſhall be loſt. Rep. 11 H. 7. 8. and 37 H. 8. 9.

CAP. VI.

None ſhall make any exchange without the Kings licenſe, or make exchange, or rechange of money to be paid within the Land, but onely ſuch as the King ſhall depute thereunto, to keep, and make anſwer for ſuch exchanges and rechanges, upon the pain contained in the 14 R. 2. 2. viz. upon forfeiture of the ſame. All unlawful Cheviſance and Uſury ſhall be extirpate; all brokers of ſuch bargains ſhall be ſet on the pillory, put to open ſhame, be half a year impriſoned, and pay twenty pounds. Rep. 37 H. 8. 9. Raſt. pla. fo. 45.

CAP. VII.

A Certificate ſhall be made of goods brought into one Port and removed to another. One man ſhall not enter goods in the name of another.

A certificate of goods brought into one Port, and cuſtomed, and then removed into another.

ITem, The King our Sovereign Lord, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons aſſembled in this ſaid Parliament, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained and enacted, that every Merchant, as well denizen as ſtranger, which ſhall bring from henceforth any manner of goods into any Port within this Realm by way of merchandiſe, and there do enter the ſaid goods or merchandiſes in the books of the Cuſtomers of the ſaid Port, where the goods and merchandiſes ſhall firſt come to, and the Kings duty thereof, the ſaid Cuſtomers contented, or therefore with him agreed, and afterward that done, will convey or carry the ſame goods or merchandiſes from thence in any other Port within the ſaid Realm: that then the owner of the ſaid goods and merchandiſes, his Factor or Atturney, ſhall bring from the Cuſtomers of the Port where the ſaid goods or merchandiſes be ſo entred, a Certificate under the ſame Cuſtomers Seals, directed to the Cuſtomers of the Port whereto the ſaid goods or merchandiſes ſhall be conveyed or carried, making mention within the ſame Certificate, as well of the natural colour, length, and value of all merchandiſes ſo entred, uſed to be meaſured with Eln or Yard, as of the natural weight, content, or value of all manner other merchandiſes, uſed to be weighed or valued: and that the ſame Certificate ſo made be delivered to the ſaid Cuſtomers, before the ſaid goods be diſcharged, ſo that they may ſee whether the nature, colour, or length, value, content, or weight of the ſame, do agree with the ſaid Certificate, ſo that the King be not deceived of his Cuſtoms and Subſidies thereof due. And if any Certificate from henceforth be made by any Cuſtomer of any Port, whereto any ſuch merchandiſes or goods ſhall be firſt brought, and there in their books entred, not making mention according as is aforeſaid: that then the ſaid Cuſtomer or Cuſtomers, for their miſbehaving, ſhall loſe their Office, and make fine with the King for the ſame at his pleaſure. And furthermore if any ſuch goods or merchandiſes, or any parcel thereof be diſcharged, unpacked, or put to ſale within any Port then within the ſame where they ſhall be firſt entred, before the ſaid Certificate ſhall be delivered, and the ſame goods and merchandiſes ſeen, according as above is expreſſed: that then all the ſaid goods or merchandiſes be forfeited to ẏ King our Sovereign Lord; the one half thereof to remain to his Highneſs, & the other half to him or them which ſhall prove any ſuch goods or merchandiſes ſo forfeited. And that the Cuſtomer or Cuſtomers, nor no deputy to any ſuch common Officer, to whom ſuch Certificate ſhall come, take nothing for the ſight of the ſame goods ſo certified. Alſo it is ordained and eſtabliſhed by authority aforeſaid, that no manner of merchant, denizen, ne ſtranger, do take upon him to enter, or cauſe to be entred in the books of any Cuſtomer of any Port within this Realm, any manner merchandiſes coming into this ſaid Realm, or going out of the ſame, in any other merchants name, ſaving onely the name of the true Merchant owner of the ſame, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch goods and merchandiſes ſo entred. And every of the ſaid Merchants, which ſo ſhall take upon him to cauſe ſuch untrue entry to be made, to have impriſonment, and make fine therefore at the Kings pleaſure: And that no perſon take upon him to be Cuſtomer, Comptroller, or Searcher in any Port, in any City, Borough, or Town, where he is common Officer, nor no deputy to any ſuch common Officer, upon pain of forfeiture for every half year, that he occupieth the ſaid common Office, and Office of Cuſtomerſhip, Comptroller or Searcher, the ſum of xl. l. the one half thereof to the King, and the other half to him that will ſue for it by Writ, Bill or Information.

The penalty of a Cuſtomer omitting his duty.

The forfeiture if the goods be ſold before the certificate delivered.

No goods ſhall be entred in any other perſons name, but in the owners. St. 1 H. 8. 5. 1 El. 11.

A common Officer in a City, Borough, &c. ſhall be no Cuſtomer, Comptroller, or Searcher there.

CAP. VIII.

Merchants aliens, &c. and Victuallers, ſhall employ their money upon the Merchandiſe of this Realm.

St. 17 Ed. 4. 1.

ITem, That where in the Parliament of King Edward the Fourth, holden at Weſtminſter the xvij. year of his Reign, It was ordained among other, that every Merchant alien, and every other Victualler, and other ſtranger, not being denizen, that reſort to any place or port within this Realm, or Wales, after the Feaſt of Eaſter then next following, ſhould duly imploy all the money by him to be received within any Port within this Realm, or Wales, upon the merchandiſes, or other commodities of this Realm, or elſe without fraud put the ſame money in due payment within this Realm, the ſame imployment or payment duly to be proved by the Merchant, Victualler, or other ſtranger before his departing out of the ſame Port, by writing from the Merchant or Merchants to whom the ſaid Merchant alien, Victualler, or other ſtranger hath imployed or paid his money by him received for his merchandiſes brought into this land, witneſſing that he hath ſo done, or elſe by ſuch proofs as ſhall be thought reaſonable to the Cuſtomer, or Comptroller of the ſame Port, or to the Mayor, Bailiff, or other chief Governours of any City, Borough, or Town, where any ſuch Port ſhall be, upon pain of forfeiture of all his goods being within this Realm, and to have impriſonment of a year: ſaving to every ſuch Merchant, Victualler, and other ſtranger, his reaſonable coſts, with certain proviſions in the ſame, as by the ſame Act more at large doth appear: which Act was made to endure but onely from the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter, to the end of ſeven years then next enſuing, ſo that no gold and ſilver received by Merchants aliens and other Victuallers and ſtrangers, not being denizens, for merchandiſe brought into this Land, is not imployed upon the commodities of this Land, but conveyed and carried out of this Realm, to the great loſs of the King in his Cuſtom and Subſidy, and the impoveriſhing of this Realm: It is enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed by the King our Sovereign Lord that now is, by the advice of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the prayer of the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that the ſaid Act made in the ſaid xvij. year of the Reign of King Edward the Fourth, with all things compriſed in the ſame touching the premiſes, and every proviſion made in the ſame, be good, effectual, and endure for ever. Alſo it is enacted by the ſaid authority, that every Merchant of Ireland, Jernſey, or Garnſey, that bringeth any merchandiſes into this Realm, ſhall imploy the money received for the ſame merchandiſe (his reaſonable expences deducted) upon the commodities of this Land, or elſe without fraud put the ſame money in due payment within this Realm: the ſaid imployment or payment to be proved, as is aforeſaid, upon pain of forfeiture of the value of the merchandiſe ſo brought into this Land. And it is ordained by the ſaid authority, that every Cuſtomer or Comptroller ſhall take ſufficient ſurety of every of the ſaid Merchant, Victualler, or other ſtranger, to imploy the value of the ſaid merchandiſes, or to put the ſame mony for the merchandiſe received in due payment, his reaſonable expences always deducted, upon pain of forfeiture of the value of the ſaid merchandiſes; the one half of the ſaid forfeiture to the King, the other half to the party that will ſue for the ſame: This to begin and take effect at the Feaſt of Chriſtmas next coming.

The Statute of 17 Ed. 4. 1. made perpetual, touching Merchants aliens. Merchants aliens ſhall imploy the money by them received upon the merchandiſes of this Realm. St. 4 H. 4. 15. 27 H. 6. 3. 5 H. 4. 9.

CAP. IX.

Free-men of London may carry their Wares to any Fairs or Markets.

Citizens and free-men of London may carry their wares to any Fairs or Markets.

Item, It was ſhewed unto the King our Sovereign Lord, by a petition put unto him in his ſaid Parliament, That now of late time the Mayor and Aldermen and Citizens of the City of London have made an Ordinance within the ſame City, upon a great pain, that no man that is a free-man or Citizen of the ſaid City, ſhall go or come to any Fair or Market out of the ſame City of London with any manner of ware or merchandiſe, to ſell or to barter, to this intent, that all buyers and Merchants ſhould reſort to the ſaid City to buy their ware and merchandiſes of the ſaid Citizens and free-men of London aforeſaid, becauſe of their ſingular lucre and avail: The King our Sovereign Lord, in conſideration of the hurt likely to grow of and by the premiſſes, hath by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, ordained, ſtabliſhed, and enacted, That every free-man and Citizen of the ſaid City of London, that now is, or hereafter ſhall be, may lead, carry, and go with his or their victual, ware, or merchandiſe, whatſoever it be, at his or their liberty, to any Fair or Market that ſhall pleaſe him or them, within this Realm of England: Any Statute, Act or Ordinance made or to be made within the ſaid City of London to the contrary of the premiſſes notwithſtanding. And the ſaid Ordinance and Act made in the ſaid City ſhall be void and of none effect. And that no perſon of the ſaid City be hurt or prejudiced in loſing of his liberty and franchiſe within the ſaid City or otherwiſe, by reaſon or occaſion of adnulling of the ſaid Ordinance and Act, or for not obeying to the effect of the ſame. And if any perſon be prejudiced in any wiſe, by occaſion of the ſame, he that putteth or cauſeth any perſon to ſuch prejudice, ſhall loſe and forfeit to the King xl. l. as often as he ſo doth. And he that will ſue for ſuch forfeiture, ſhall have therefore an action of debt againſt ſuch offendor, the King to have execution of the one half, and he that ſueth the other half. And in ſuch action the defendant be not admitted to wage his Law.

CAP. X.

Coſts, &c. awarded to the Plaintiff, where the Defendant ſueth a Writ of Error.

Item, That where oftentimes plaintiff or demandant, plaintiffs or demandants, that have judgment to recover, be delayed of execution, for that the defendant or tenant, defendants or tenants, againſt whom judgment is given, or other that been bound by the ſaid judgment, ſueth a Writ or Writs of Error, to admul and reverſe the ſaid judgment, to the intent onely to delay execution of the ſaid judgment: It is enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed, by the advice of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the prayer of the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That if any ſuch defendant or tenant, defendants or tenants, or any other that ſhall be bound by the ſaid judgment, ſue afore execution had, any Writ of Error to reverſe any ſuch judgment, in delaying of execution: that then if the ſame judgment be affirmed good in the ſaid Writ of Error, and not erronious, or that the ſaid Writ of Error be diſcontinued in the default of the party, or that perſon or perſons that ſueth Writ or Writs of Error, be non-ſued in the ſame: that then the ſaid perſon or perſons, againſt whom the ſaid Writ of Error is ſued, ſhall recover his coſts and damage, for his delay and wrongful vexation in the ſame, by diſcretion of the Juſtice afore whom the ſaid Writ of Error is ſued. Coke pla. fo. 2. 24. 162. 292.

The plaintiff ſhall recover coſts and damages where the defendant ſueth a Writ of Error. St. 19 H. 7. 20.

CAP. XI.

No Cloth ſhall be tranſported until it be barbed, rowed, and ſhorn.

St. 7 Ed. 4. 3.

Item, Where in the ſaid Parliament it was ſhewed by Sheermen, Fullers, and other Artificers that ſhould live and obtain their needy ſuſtentation, by mean of Drapery made and draped within this Realm, as well throughout the ſame Realm, as within the City of London, that where in a Statute made the vij. year of the Reign of King Edward the Fourth, among other it is contained, that no perſon denizen ne ſtranger, ſhould carry, or do to be carried to any parts beyond the Sea, any woollen yarn or cloth unfulled, but the woollen yarn to be made in this Realm ſhould be woven in the ſame; and alſo all cloth in the ſame made ſhould be fulled and fully wrought within this Realm, before that any of the ſame ſhould be had or carried out of this Realm, upon pain of forfeiture of the very value of ſuch yarn not weaved, and cloth not fulled, had or carried out of this Realm, upon pain of forfeiture of the very value of ſuch yarn not weaved, and cloth not fulled, had or carried out of this Realm. The one half of the forfeiture to be levied to the uſe of the King, and the other half to him or them that ſhould eſpie or make proof of any ſuch yarn not woven, or cloth not fulled, carried to any place beyond the Sea.

And foraſmuch as in the ſaid Statute of King Edward there is no expreſs mention made, that the ſaid clothes ſhould be rowed and ſhorn afore that they be carried and conveyed out of this Realm, whereby the ſaid poor Commons of the crafts aforeſaid might be ſet in labour and occupation: therefore the ſaid clothes ever ſithence unto this day have been and yet daily are in great number carried out of this Realm, unrowed and unſhorn, into the parts beyond the Sea, as well by denizens as ſtrangers, whereby outlandiſh Nations, with the ſame Drapery, are ſet in labour and occupation, to their great enriching, and the poor Commons of the crafts abovesaid, through all this Realm, that of natural reaſon, as the Kings true liege men, ſhould have and obtain their needy ſuſtentation and living by means of the ſame Drapery, for lack of ſuch occupation daily fall in great number into idleneſs and poverty, to their uttermoſt deſtruction, if it ſhould any longer continue: The King our Sovereign Lord, by the advice of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the prayer of the Commons in this ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted, that no ſtranger nor denizen carry, or make to be carried out of this Realm any woollen clothes, but that they before be barbed, rowed, and ſhorn within the ſame Realm, for the relief and ſetting on work of the ſaid poor commons, upon the pain and forfeiture limited in the ſaid Statute of King Edward, made upon cloth carried out of this Land not fulled, to be divided in manner and form as in the ſame Statute it is contained. Provided alway, that clothes called Veſſes, Raies, Sailing clothes, and other clothes commonly ſold at fourty ſhillings and under, be not compriſed in this preſent Act. St. 27 H. 8. 13. 33 H. 8. 19. 8 El. 6.

No woollen cloth ſhall be tranſported, before it be barbed, rowed, and ſhorn. Veſſes, Rays, Sailing clothes, &c. except.

The Kings Officers or Tenants ſhall not be retained by Liveries with others. Rep. 3. Car. 4.

CAP. XIII.

No long Bow ſhall be ſold over the price of iij. s. iiij. d. Rep. 8 Eliz. 10. St. 33 H. 8. 9.

CAP. XIV.

Conſpiring to deſtroy the King, or any Lord Chancellor, or great Officer, ſhall be felony.

ITem, Foraſmuch as by quarrels made to ſuch as have been in great authority, office, and of council with Kings of this Realm, hath enſued the deſtruction of the Kings, and the undoing of this Realm: ſo as it hath appeared evidently, when compaſſing of the death of ſuch as were of the Kings true ſubjects was had, the deſtruction of the Prince was imagined thereby, and for the moſt part it hath grown and been occaſioned by envy and malice of the Kings own houſhold ſervants, as now of late ſuch a thing was likely to have enſued: and foraſmuch as by the Law of this Land, if actual deeds be not had, there is no remedy for ſuch falſe compaſſings, imaginations, and confederacies had againſt any Lord, or any of the Kings Council, or any of the Kings great Officers in his houſhold, as Steward, Treaſurer, and Comptroller, and ſo great inconveniencies might enſue if ſuch ungodly demeaning ſhould not be ſtraightly puniſhed before that actual deed were done: Therefore it is ordained by the King, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that from henceforward the Steward, Treaſurer, and Comptroller of the Kings houſe for the time being, or one of them, have full authority and power to enquire by xij. ſad men and diſcreet perſons of the Chequer roll of the Kings honourable houſhold, if any ſervant admitted to be his ſervant ſworn, and his name put into the Chequer roll of his houſhold, whatſoever he be, ſerving in any manner office or room reputed, had, and taken under the ſtate of a Lord, make any confederacies, compaſſing, conſpiracies, or imaginations, with any perſon or perſons, to deſtroy or murder the King, or any Lord of this Realm, or any other perſon ſworn to the Kings Council, Steward, Treaſurer, or Comptroller of the Kings houſe, that if it be found afore the ſaid Steward for the time being, by the ſaid xij. ſad men, that any ſuch of the Kings ſervants, as is abovesaid, hath confedered, compaſſed, conſpired, or imagined, as is abovesaid, that he ſo found by that inquiry, be put thereupon to anſwer. And the Steward, Treaſurer, and Comptroller, or two of them, have power to determine the ſame matter, according to the Law. And if he put him in trial, that then it be tried by other xij. ſad men of the ſame houſehold, and that ſuch miſdoers have no challenge, but for malice: And if ſuch miſdoers be found guilty by confeſſion or otherwiſe, that the ſaid offence be judged felony: and they to have judgment and execution as felons attainted ought for to have by the Common Law. Coke li. pla. fo. 482. & 174.

Conſpiring by any of the Kings ſervants ſworn to deſtroy the King, any Lord or Counſellor ſworn, ſhall be felony. Co. Inſt 3 p. 37.

The third Parliament holden in the fourth year of the Reign of K. Hen. 7.

TO the worſhip of God and holy Church, and for the common weal and profit of this Realm of England, our Sovereign Lord Henry by the Grace of God, King of England and France, and Lord of Ireland, the vij. after the Conqueſt, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the xiij. day of January, in the fourth year of his Reign, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath done to be made, ordained, and ſtabliſhed divers Statutes and Ordinances in form as followeth.

CAP. II.

Allaying of gold and ſilver, melting, ſelling, and marking the ſame.

ITem, Whereas it was of old time uſed and continued till now of late years, that there was for the avail of the King and the Realm, finors and parters of gold and ſilver, by fire and water, under a rule and order belonging unto the Mints of London, Calice, Canterbury, York, and Durham, and other places where Mints been holden, and at the Goldſmiths-Hall in London, to fine and part all gold and ſilver belonging and needful for the ſaid Mints and fellowſhip of Goldſmiths, for the amendment of money and plate of the Realm, that every thing might be reformed to the right Standard, as well in mony as plate, to the leaſt coſt, for the weal of the Kings Noblemen of the Land, and Common people. But ſo it is now, that ſuch finors and parters of gold and ſilver by fire and water dwell abroad in every place of this Realm, out of the rules aforeſaid, and buy gilt ſilver from the Mints, Changes, and Goldſmiths, and part and fine it as is aforeſaid, and for the moſt part the ſilver ſo fined they do allay in divers manners, and ſell it at their pleaſures to every man of what eſtate or degree ſoever he be, that will buy of them to make ſuch works as pleaſeth the buyers: therefore men can get no fine ſilver when they need it for their money, for the amendment of money and plate, as hath been in times paſt: wherefore it cauſeth money and plate in divers places of the Realm to be made worſe in fineneſs then it ſhould be, as it appeareth evidently in divers places, to the great hurt of the Kings noble men of the land, and common people: Wherefore the King our Sovereign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained, enacted, and eſtabliſhed, that no Finer of gold and ſilver, nor parter of the ſame by fire or water, from henceforth allay any fine ſilver or gold, ne none ſell in any other wiſe, ne to any perſon or perſons, but onely to the Officers of Mints, Changes and Goldſmiths within this Realm, for augmentation and amending of coin and plate as is aforeſaid: and that the Maſters of Mints, Changes and Goldſmiths, for all ſuch fine gold or ſilver coming to them, to anſwer the value as it is worth according as it is now and hath been in ancient time accuſtomed after the rate of fineneſs. Ne that no Finer nor Finers, parter nor parters, ſell to no perſon, neither to one nor to other, any manner of ſilver in maſs, molten and allayed, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame, the King thereof to have one half, and the finder that can prove and will ſue for it in the Kings Eſchequer, the other half. And if any Finer or Finers, parter or parters of gold and ſilver, either by fire or water, allay or ſell any manner fine gold or ſilver, otherwiſe then it is ordained in this laſt Act, he or they to loſe the value of the ſame gold or ſilver ſo allayed or ſold, the King to have the one half, and the finder that can prove and will ſue for it in the Kings Eſchequer, the other half. And all ſuch fine ſilver as ſhall be parted and fined, as is aforeſaid, that it be made ſo fine, that it may bear xij. peny weight of allay in a pound weight, and yet be as good as ſterling, and rather better then worſe. And that every Finer put his ſeveral mark upon ſuch fine ſilver, to bear witneſs of the ſame to be true, as is aforeſaid, upon the pain of the value found contrary to be forfeit, the King thereof to have the one half, and the finder that can prove it, and will ſue for it in the Eſchequer, the other half. And that no Goldſmith, nor Goldſmiths within this Realm, melt or allay any fine ſilver, to be for any works or other intent, but onely for making of amels, for divers works of Goldſmithry, and for amending of plate to make it as good as ſterling, or better, for the common weal of this Realm.

Allaying of gold and ſilver, and ſelling of the ſame.

Of what fineneſs ſilver ought to be.

A finer of gold and ſilver muſt put his mark upon it.
St. 37 Ed. 3. 7.
18 El. 15.

For what purpoſes ſilver may be melted.

Silver molten into maſs ſhall not be ſold.

Nor that they ſell no fine ſilver nor other ſilver allayed molten into maſs, to any perſon or perſons, whatſoever they be, nor one Goldſmith to another. This Ordinance to be kept by the Goldſmiths in every point upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame ſilver, or the value thereof. The King thereof to have the one half, and the finder that can prove it, and will ſue for it in the Kings Eſchequer, the other half.

A repeal of Statutes of Offices belonging to the Mint.

Alſo it is ordained by the ſame authority, that all Letters Patents, and grants of Offices belonging or pertaining to the Mint of our Sovereign Lord the King, exerciſed in the ſame with fees and wages thereto belonging, be from henceforth void, and of none effect.

CAP. III.

Butchers ſhall kill no beaſts within any walled Town, or Cambridge.

ITem, It was ſhewed by a petition put to the King our ſaid Sovereign Lord in the ſaid Parliament, by his ſubjects and Pariſhioners of the Pariſh of St. Faiths and St. Gregories in London, near adjoyning unto the Cathedral Church of Pauls, that whereas great concourſe of people, as well of his Royal Perſon, as of great Lords and States, with other his true ſubjects, oftentimes was had unto the ſaid Cathedral Church, and that moſt part throughout the Pariſh aforeſaid, the which oftentimes been greatly annoyed and diſtempered by corrupt airs engendred in the ſaid Pariſhes, by occaſion of blood and other fouler things, by reaſon of the ſlaughter of beaſts, and ſcalding of ſwine, had and done in the Butchery of S. Nicholas fleſh-ſhambles, whoſe corruption and foul ordure, by violence of unclean, corrupt, and putrified waters, is born down through the ſaid Pariſhes, and compaſſeth two parts of the Palace, where the Kings moſt Royal Perſon is wont to abide, when he cometh to the Cathedral Church for any act there to be done, to the jeopardous abiding of his moſt noble Perſon, and to over-great annoiance of the Pariſhioners there, and of other the Kings ſubjects and ſtrangers that paſs by the ſame: Complaint whereof at many and divers ſeaſons, alſo by the ſpace of xvj. years continually, as well by the Canons and pety Canons of the ſaid Cathedral Church, Landlords there, as alſo by many other of the Kings ſubjects of right honeſt behaviour hath been made unto divers Mayors and Aldermen of the City of London, and no remedy had ne found: That it pleaſe our ſaid Sovereign Lord of his abundant grace to provide for the conſervation as well of his moſt Royal perſon, as to ſuccour his poor ſubjects and ſuppliants in this behalf, conſidering that in few noble Cities and Towns, or none within Chriſtendom, whereas travelling men have laboured, the common ſlaughter-houſe of beaſts ſhould be kept in any ſpecial part within the walls of the ſame, leſt it might ingender ſickneſs, unto the deſtruction of the people: The King our Sovereign Lord, in conſideration of the premiſſes, hath by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, & the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, ordained and enacted, That no Butcher nor his ſervant ſlay no manner beaſt within the ſaid houſe called the ſcalding-houſe, or within the wall of London, upon pain to forfeit for every Ox xij. pence, and every Cow, & every other beaſt, viij. pence. The one half thereof to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other half to every of the Kings lieges that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, and no protection or eſſoin be allowed to any of the defendants, againſt whom any ſuch action ſhall be conceived: and that in the ſame action of debt ſuch proceſs be made, as in other actions of debt ſued at the Common Law. And over this it is ordained and enacted by the ſaid authority, that the ſaid Ordinance, Act, and Law, extend and be obſerved and kept in every City, Borough, and Town, Butchers ſhall kill no beaſts in London, any walled Town, or in Cambridge.

All Juſtices of Peace ſhall execute their Commiſſion, redreſs injuries, and maintain the Laws.

Co. Inſt. 4 p. 170.

Item, The King our Sovereign Lord conſidereth, that by the negligence, miſdemeaning, favour, and other inordinate cauſes of Juſtices of Peace in every Shire of this his Realm, the Laws and Ordinances made for the politique weal, peace, and good rule of the ſame, and for the profit, ſurety, and reſtful living of his ſubjects of the ſame, be not duly executed, according to the tenour and effect that they were made and ordained for: wherefore his ſubjects been grievouſly hurt, and out of ſurety of their bodies and goods, to his great diſpleaſure; for to him is nothing more joyous then to know his ſubjects to live peaceably under his Laws, and to increaſe in wealth and proſperity: And to avoid ſuch enormities and injuries, ſo that his ſaid ſubjects may live reſtfully under his peace, and Laws, to their increaſe; He will that it be ordained and enacted by authority of this ſaid Parliament, that every Juſtice of Peace within every Shire of this Realm, within the Shire where he is Juſtice of Peace, do cauſe openly and ſolemnly to be proclaimed yearly, four times a year, in four principal Seſſions, the tenour of this proclamation to this bill annexed: and that every Juſtice of Peace being preſent at any of the ſaid Seſſions, if they cauſe not the ſaid Proclamations for to be made in form aboveſaid, ſhall forfeit unto our Sovereign Lord at every time xx. ſhillings.

Every Juſtice of Peace ſhall cauſe this Proclamation to be made four times in the year.

Henricus Dei gratia, &c. The King our Sovereign Lord conſidereth, how daily within this Realm his coin is traiterouſly counterfeited, murders, robberies, felonies, been grievouſly committed and done, and alſo unlawful reteinours, idleneſs, unlawful plays, extortions, miſdemeanings of Sheriffs, Eſcheators, and many other enormities and unlawful demeanings daily grown more and more within this Realm, to the great diſpleaſure of God, hurt, and impoveriſhing of his ſubjects, and to the ſubverſion of the policy and good governance of this his Realm; for by theſe ſaid enormities and miſchiefs his peace is broken, his ſubjects troubled, inquieted, and impoveriſhed, the husbandry of this land decayed, whereby the Church of England is upholden, the ſervice of God continued, every man thereby hath his ſuſtenance, every inheritor his rent for his land: for repreſſing and avoiding of the ſaid miſchief, ſufficient Laws and Ordinances been made by authority of many & divers Parliaments, holden within this Realm, to the great coſt of the King, his Lords, and Commons of the ſame, and lacked nothing, but that the ſaid Laws be not put in due execution, which Laws ought to be put in due execution by the Juſtices of Peace of every Shire of this Realm, to whom his Grace hath put and given full authority ſo to do ſith the beginning of his Reign: and now it is come to his knowledge, that his ſubjects be little eaſed of the ſaid miſchiefs by the ſaid Juſtices, but by many of them rather hurt then helped:

helped: and if his ſubjects complain to theſe Juſtices of Peace, of any wrongs done to them, they have thereby no remedy, and the ſaid miſchiefs do increaſe, and be not ſubdued. And his Grace conſidereth, that a great part of the wealth and proſperity of this Land ſtandeth in that, that his ſubjects may live in ſurety under his peace in their bodies and goods, and that the huſbandry of this Land may encreaſe and be upholden, which muſt be had by due execution of the ſaid Laws and Ordinances: Chargeth and Commandeth the Juſtices of the Peace of this his Shire, to endeavour them to do & execute the tenour of their Commiſſion, and the ſaid Laws and Ordinances ordained for the ſubduing of the premiſſes, as they will ſtand in the love and favour of his Grace, and in avoiding of the pains that be ordained if they do the contrary. And moreover he chargeth and commandeth, that every man, what degree or condition that he be of, that let them in word or deed to execute their ſaid authority in any manner form abovesaid, that they ſhew it to his Grace. And if they do it not, and it come to his knowledge by other then by them, they ſhall not be in his favour, but taken as men out of credence, and be put out of Commiſſion for ever. And over this he chargeth and commandeth all manner of men, as well the poor as the rich (which be to him all one in due miniſtration of juſtice) that is hurt or grieved in any thing that the ſaid Juſtice of Peace may hear, determine, or execute in any wiſe, that he ſo grieved make his complaint to the Juſtice of the Peace that next dwelleth unto him, or to any of his fellows, and deſire a remedy: and if then he have no remedy, if it be nigh ſuch time as his Juſtices of Aſſiſes come into that Shire, that then he ſo grieved ſhew his complaint to the ſame Juſtices. And if then he have no remedy, or if the complaint be made long afore the coming of the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, then he ſo grieved come to the Kings Highneſs, or to his Chancellor for the time being, and ſhew his grief: and his ſaid Highneſs then ſhall ſend for the ſaid Juſtices, to know the cauſe why his ſaid ſubjects be not eaſed, and his Laws executed: whereupon if he find any of them in default of executing of his Laws, in the premiſſes, according to his Highneſs commandment, he ſhall do him ſo offending to be put out of the Commiſſion, and further to be puniſhed according to his demerits. And over that his ſaid Highneſs ſhall not let for any favour, affection, coſt, charge, nor other cauſe, but that he ſhall ſee his Laws to have plain and true execution, and his ſubjects to live in ſurety of their lands, bodies, and goods, according to his ſaid Laws, and the ſaid miſchiefs to be avoided, that his ſubjects may encreaſe in wealth and proſperity, to the pleaſure of God.

The Juſtices of Peace muſt execute their Commiſſion, and the Laws.

Hinderers of Juſtices of Peace to execute their authority.

Each perſon grieved ſhall make his complaint to the Juſtices of Peace, and if he hath no remedy, to the Juſtice of Aſſiſe, and then to the King or his Chancellor.

The puniſhment of the Juſtice of Peace omitting his duty.

CAP. XIII.

Clergy ſhall be allowed but once. A convict perſon ſhall be marked with the Letters M. or T. A proviſion for them which be within Orders.

ITem, Whereas upon truſt of the priviledge of the Church, divers perſons have been the more bold to commit murder, rape, robbery, theft, and all other miſchievous deeds, becauſe they have been continually admitted to the benefit of the Clergy, as oft as they did offend in any of the premiſſes. In avoiding of ſuch preſumptuous boldneſs, It is enacted, ordained, and ſtabliſhed by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that every perſon, not being within Orders, which once hath been admitted to the benefit of his Clergy, eftſoons arraigned of any ſuch offence, be not admitted to have the benefit or priviledge of the Clergy. And that every perſon ſo convicted for murder, to be marked with an M. upon the brawn of the left thumb. And if he be for any other felony, the ſame perſon to be marked with a T. in the ſame place of the thumb, and thoſe marks to be made by the Jaylor openly in the Court before the Judge, before that ſuch perſon be delivered to the Ordinary. Provided alway, if any perſon at the ſecond time of asking his Clergy, becauſe he is within Orders, hath not there ready his Letters of his Orders, or a Certificate of his Ordinary, witneſſing the ſame, that then the Juſtices, afore whom he is ſo arraigned, ſhall give him a day by their diſcretion to bring in his ſaid Letters or Certificate: and if he fail, and bring not in at ſuch a day his ſaid Letters, nor Certificate, then the ſame perſon to loſe the benefit of his Clergy, as he ſhall do that is without Orders.

The benefit of Clergy ſhall be but once allowed.

The penalty of taking more Farms then one in the Iſle of Wight.

Co. Inſt. 4 p. 287. The neceſſity of the preſervation of the Iſle of Wight.

ITem, For as much as it is to the King our Sovereign Lord great ſurety, and alſo the ſurety of this Realm of England, that the Iſle of Wight in the County of South. be well inhabited with Engliſh people, for the defence, as well of his ancient enemies of the Realm of France, as of other parties, the which Iſle is lately decayed of people, by reaſon that many Towns and Villages been beaten down, and the fields ditched and made paſtures for beaſts and cattels: and alſo many dwelling places, Ferms and Fermholds, have of late time been uſed to be taken in one mans hold & hands, that of old time were wont to be in many ſeveral perſons holds and hands, & many ſeveral houſholds kept in them, and thereby much people multiplied, and the ſame Iſle thereby well inhabited, the which now by the occaſion aforeſaid is deſolate, and not inhabited, but occupied with beaſts and cattel, ſo that if haſty remedy be not provided, that Iſle cannot be kept and defended, but will be open and ready to the hands of the Kings enemies, which God forbid. For remedy whereof it is ordained, enacted, and eſtabliſhed, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that from henceforth no manner of perſon, of what eſtate, degree, or condition he is, or ſhall be, take any ſeveral Ferms, mo then one, of any Manors, Lands, and Tenements, Parſonages or Tythes within the ſaid Iſle, whereof the Ferm of them altogether ſhall not exceed the ſum of x. Mark yearly; and if any ſeveral Leaſes afore this time have been made to any perſon or perſons of divers ſundry Fermholds, unto the yearly value of x. Mark: then the perſon or perſons, that now hold the ſame, to chuſe one or moe of the ſaid Fermholds at his pleaſure, ſo that the Ferm of them alſo choſen be not above the yearly value of x. Mark, to hold after the form of his Leaſe, and the remnant from the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord M.cccc.lxxxx. to ceaſe and be utterly void: and the occupier and fermer of them from thence be diſcharged againſt his leſſour of rent reſerved upon the ſame Leaſes: and if any perſon do hereafter the contrary of this Act, that then the Leſſee in that behalf ſhall forfeit to the King for every ſuch taking x. l. Provided always, that they which have paid any fines, or made any building, or done great reparation upon any ſuch Ferm, and be put from the ſaid Ferm by reaſon of this Act, ſhall be recompenced for ſuch building or reparation, as right and good conſcience require: that recompence to be adjudged by the diſcretion of the Captain of the ſaid Iſle for the time being, or his Lieutenant of the ſame in his abſence. ITem, Where by an Eſtatute made at Marlebridge, it was ordained, that when Tenants made Feoffments in fraud to make the Lords of the Fee to loſe their Wards, the Lords ſhould have Writs to recover their Wards againſt ſuch Feoffees, as in the ſaid Statute among other things appeareth more plainly at large. Sith the making of which Eſtatute many imaginations have been had and yet been uſed, as well by Feoffments, Fines, and Recoveries, as otherwiſe, to put Lords from their Wards of Lands holden of them by Knights Service: It is therefore ordained, ſtabliſhed, and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, that the ſaid Statute of Marlebridge be obſerved and kept in all manner of things after the form and effect thereof. And over that it is ordained and enacted by the ſaid authority, that if any perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree, or condition he or they be of, or hereafter ſhall be, ſeiſed in demean or reverſion of ſtate of inheritance, being tenant immediate to the Lords of any Caſtles, Manors, Lands, and Tenements, or other Hereditaments, holden by Knights ſervice in his or their Demean, as of Fee, to the uſe of any other perſon or perſons, and of his heirs onely, he to whoſe uſe he or they be ſo ſeiſed dieth, his heir being within age, no Will by him declared, nor made in his life touching the premiſſes or any of them: the Lord of whom ſuch Caſtles, Manors, Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments been holden immediately, ſhall have a Writ of Right, of Ward, as well for the body as for the land, as the Lord ſhould have had, if the ſame Anceſtor had been in poſſeſſion of that eſtate ſo being in uſe at that time of his death, and no ſuch eſtate to his uſe made. And if any ſuch heir be of full age at the death of his Anceſtor to pay relief, as his Anceſtor, whoſe heir he is, had been in poſſeſſion of that ſtate ſo being in uſe at time of his death, and no ſuch eſtate to his uſe made nor had. It is alſo ſtabliſhed and enacted by the ſaid authority, that ſuch heir or heirs, ſo being in Ward, ſhall have like action of Waſte againſt the ſaid Lords, or againſt them in whoſe Ward they ſo be, as they or any of them ſhould have had, and recover ſuch damages and ſuch penalties to be to the ſaid Lord and Guardians, as ſhould have been if their Anceſtor had died thereof ſeiſed. CAP. XX.

Actions popular proſecuted by colluſion, ſhall be no bar to thoſe which be purſued with good faith.

The enormities of colluſion practiſed in ſuing of Actions popular.

ITem, That where Actions popular in divers cauſes have been ordained by many good Acts and Statutes afore this time made, for the reformation of extortions, maintenance, oppreſſions, injuries, exactions, and wrongs, uſed and committed within this Realm, which actions been very penal to all miſdoers and offenders, in ſuch actions condemned, and much profitable as well to the King, as to every of his ſubjects, that them will ſue and maintain, if the ſame actions ſo ſued and commenced might be truly purſued without covin or colluſion. But now it is ſo commonly uſed within this Realm, that if any ſuch offenders, offending in cauſes where any of the ſaid actions lie, then the ſaid miſdoers or offenders, in eſchewing to leeſe the ſaid penalties, will cauſe an action popular to be commenced againſt them by covin of the plaintiff upon that caſe wherein they have ſo offended: or elſe if any ſuch action popular be commenced againſt any ſuch ſaid offender by good faith, then the ſame offender will delay the ſaid action, either by non-appearance, or by traverſe, and hanging the ſame action, the ſame offender will cauſe like action popular to be brought againſt him by covin, for the ſame cauſe and offence that the firſt action was ſued, and then by covin of the plaintiff in that ſecond action he will be condemned, either by confeſſion, feigned trial, or releaſe; which condemnation or releaſe ſo had by colluſion and covin pleaded by the ſaid offender, ſhall bar the plaintiff in the action ſued in good faith; and by theſe ſubtil means of colluſion and covin the ſaid good Acts and Statutes ſeldom been executed againſt ſuch offenders, which cauſeth them to be bolder to offend the King, as well in breaking of the ſaid Statutes, Laws, and Peace, as in robbing, murdering, exactions taking, quarrels maintaining, and the Kings poor ſubjects by extortion and many other unlawful means oppreſſing. Therefore the King our Sovereign Lord, in reforming of the premiſſes, by the advice of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons in this ſaid preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted, that if any perſon or perſons hereafter ſue with good faith any action popular, and the defendant or defendants in the ſame action plead any manner of recovery of action popular, in bar of the ſaid action, or elſe that the ſame defendant or defendants plead, that he or they before that time barred any ſuch plaintiff or plaintiffs, in any ſuch action popular, that then the plaintiff or plaintiffs in the action taken with good faith may aver, that the ſaid recovery in the ſaid action popular was had by covin, or elſe to aver, that the ſaid plaintiff or plaintiffs was or were barred in the ſaid action popular, by covin, that then if after the ſaid colluſion or covin ſo averred, be lawfully found, the plaintiff or plaintiffs in that action ſued with good faith, ſhall have recovery according to the nature of the action, and execution upon the ſame, in like wiſe and effect, as though no ſuch afore had been had. And moreover that it is enacted and ordained by the authority aforeſaid, that in every ſuch action popular, wherein the defendant or defendants ſhall be lawfully condemned or attainted of covin or colluſion, as is aforeſaid, that every of the ſame defendants have impriſonment of two years by Proceſs of Capias and Outlagary, to be ſued within the year after ſuch judgment had, or at any time after, till the ſaid defendant or defendants ſhall be had and impriſoned, as is aforeſaid, and that as well at the Kings ſuit, as of every other that will ſue in that behalf. And that no releaſe of any common perſon hereafter to be made to any ſuch party, whether before or after any action popular or indictment of the ſame had or commenced or made, hanging the ſame action, be in any wiſe available or effectual to let or ſurceaſe the ſaid Action, Indictment, Proceſs, or Execution. Provided alway, that no plaintiff or plaintiffs be in any wiſe received to aver any covin in any action popular, where the point of the ſame action, or elſe the covin or colluſion have been once tried or lawfully found with the plaintiff or plaintiffs, or againſt them, by trial of twelve men, and not otherwiſe.

Recovery in an action popular by covin, or a bar in the ſame, is no plea in an action ſued with good faith.

The puniſhment of the defendant attainted of colluſion.

No releaſe of a common perſon can diſcharge a popular action.

No colluſion averrable where the point of the action hath been tried by verdict.

Stat. 18 Ed. 1. Modus levandi fines.

Cok. l.7. f.36

ITem, Where it was ordained in the time of King Edward the Firſt, by the Statute de finibus, that notes and fines to be levied in the Kings Court afore his Juſtices ſhould be openly and ſolemnly read, and that pleas in the mean time ſhould ceaſe, and this to be done by two days in the week, after the diſcretion of the Juſtices, as in the ſaid Statute more plainly appeareth: The King our Sovereign Lord conſidereth, that fines ought to be of the greateſt ſtrength to avoid ſtrifes and debates, and to be a final end and concluſion: and of ſuch effect were taken afore a Statute made of non-claim, and now is uſed the contrary, to the univerſal trouble of the Kings ſubjects, will therefore it be ordained, by the advice of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that after the ingroſſing of every fine to be levied, after the Feaſt of Eaſter, that ſhall be in the year of our Lord, M. CCCC. lxxxx. in the Kings Court, afore his Juſtices of the Common place, of any lands, tenements, or any other hereditaments, the ſame fine be openly and ſolemnly read and proclaimed in the ſame Court the ſame term, and in three terms then next following the ſame ingroſſing in the ſame Court, at four ſeveral days in every term: and in the ſame time that it is ſo read and proclaimed, all pleas to ceaſe. And the ſaid Proclamations ſo had and made, the fine to be a final end, and conclude as well privies as ſtrangers to the ſame, except women covert, other then been parties to the ſaid fine, and every perſon then being within age of xxi. years, in priſon, or out of this Realm, or not of whole mind, at the time of the ſaid fine levied not parties to ſuch fine: And ſaving to every perſon or perſons, and to their heirs, other then the parties in the ſaid fine, ſuch right, claim and intereſt, as they have to, or in the ſaid Lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, the time of ſuch fine ingroſſed: ſo that they purſue their title, claim or intereſt by way of action, or lawful entrie, within five years next after the ſaid proclamations had and made. And alſo ſaving to all perſons ſuch action, right, title, claime and intereſt, in or to the ſaid lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, as firſt ſhall grow, remain, or deſcend, or come to them after the ſaid fine ingroſſed, and Proclamation made, by force of any gift in the taile, or by any other cauſe or matter had and made before the ſaid fine levied: So that they take their action, or purſue their ſaid right and title according to the law within five years next after ſuch action, right, claim, title, or intereſt to them accrued, deſcended, fallen, or come: And that the ſaid perſons, and their heirs, may have their ſaid action againſt the Pernour of the profits of the ſaid lands and tenements, and other hereditaments at the time of the ſaid action to be taken: and if the ſame perſons at the time of ſuch action, right, and title accrued, deſcended, remained, or come unto them, be covert de baron, or within age, in priſon, or out of this land, or not of whole mind, then it is ordained by the ſaid authority, that their action, right, and title, to be reſerved and ſaved to them and to their heirs, unto the time they come and be at their full age of xxi. years, out of priſon, within this land, uncovert, and of whole mind, ſo that they or their heirs take their ſaid actions, or their lawful entry according to their right and title, within five years next after that they come and be at their full age, out of priſon, within this land, uncovert, and of whole mind, and the ſame actions purſue, or other lawful entry take according to the Law. And alſo it is ordained by the authority aforeſaid, that all ſuch perſons as be covert de baron, not party to the fine, and every perſon being within age of xxi. years, in priſon, or out of this land, or not of whole mind, at the time of the ſaid fines levied and engroſſed, and by this ſaid Act afore except, having any right, or title, or cauſe of action to any of the ſaid lands and other hereditaments, that they or their heirs inheritable to the ſame take their ſaid actions of lawful entry according to their right and title, within five years next after they come and be of age of xxi. years, out of priſon, uncovert, within this land, and of whole mind, and the ſame actions ſue, or their lawful entry take and purſue according to the Law. And if they do not take their actions and entry as is aforeſaid, that they and every of them and their heirs, and the heirs of every of them be concluded by the ſaid times for ever, in like form as they be that be parties or privies to the ſaid fines. Saving to every perſon or perſons, not party nor privy to the ſaid fine, their exception to avoid the ſame fine, by that, that thoſe which were parties to the fine, nor any of them, nor no perſon or perſons to their uſe, ne to the uſe of them had nothing in the lands and tenements compriſed in the ſaid fine at the time of the ſaid fine levied. And it is ordained by the ſaid authority, that every fine that hereafter ſhall be levied in any of the Kings Courts, of any manors, lands, tenements, and other poſſeſſions, after the manner, uſe, and form, that fines have been levied afore the making of this Act, be of like force, effect and authority, as fines ſo levied, be or were afore the making of this Act, this Act or any other Act in this ſaid Parliament made or to be made notwithſtanding. And every perſon ſhall be at liberty, to levy any fine hereafter at his pleaſure, whether he will after the form contained and ordained in any by this Act, or after the manner and form afore time uſed. 32 H. 8. 36.

CAP. I.

The penalty of a Captain or Souldier retained to ſerve the King in his intended Wares, not doing their duties.

FOr as much as it is notoriouſly known, that the King to his great coſts and charges hath ſent his Ambaſſadors to Charles his Adverſary of France, to have had convenient peace with him, and to have his right without effuſion of Chriſtian blood, which was refuſed: Wherefore the King, by the grace of God, in whoſe hands and diſpoſition reſteth all victory, hath determined himſelf to paſs over the ſea, into his Realm of France, and reduce poſſeſſion thereof by the ſaid grace to him and to his heirs Kings of England, according to his rightful title, whereby he truſteth not only to bring this his Realm to the ancient form and honor, but alſo to inrich, and ſet in perfect peace and tranquility his ſubjects of the ſame, truſting that thereby the more part of all Chriſtian Realms ſhall be in more perfect peace and tranquility, and the better diſpoſed to ſerve God: which cannot be done by all likelihood without battle, as well on the ſea, as in other places beyond the Sea, wherein Almighty God muſt be judge, in whoſe defence, mercy and goodneſs, the King putteth his full truſt above all other things: howbeit many times by the inordinate covetiſe of Captains retained with Princes afore this time, great part of the number of Souldiere, for whom ſuch captains have endented with Princes, at time of need have lacked of their number of ſouldiers, whereby great jeopardies have enſued, and irrecuperable damages thereby may enſue, if remedy be not therefore foreſeen and had. Be it therefore ordained by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that if any Captain be retained, or hereafter ſhall be, to ſerve the King on the ſea or beyond the ſea in feat of war, which hath not his or their whole or perfect number of men and ſouldiers, according as he ſhall be retained with the King, or give not them their full wages without ſhorting, as he ſhall receive of the King for them, except for Jackets for them that receive land-wages, that is to ſay, vi.s. viii.d. for a yeoman, and xiii.s. iv. for a Gentleman for a whole year, he ſhall for ſuch default forfeit to the King all his goods and cattels, and their bodies to priſon.

The penalty of a Captain which ſhall not have the whole number of his Souldiers, or not pay them their wages. Stat. 3 H.8.5.

The Captain ſhall pay to his Souldiers their wages within vi. days after their receit thereof.

The penalty of a Souldier departing without licence ſhall be felony. Stat. 18 H. 6.19. 2 Ed.6.2.

And that every Captain, pety Captain, and all other having under them retinue of any ſouldier or ſouldiers at the Kings wages, ſhall upon the pain aforeſaid, pay to their retinue of ſouldier or ſouldiers, and every of the ſame, the wages rateably as is allowed unto them by the King our Soveraign Lord, or the Treaſurer of his Wars, without leſſening or withdrawing any part thereof: And for as long time as they ſhall receive wages for them, this paiment unto the ſaid retinues, and every ſouldier of the ſame, of their Captains and pety captains always ſhall be within ſix days next and immediatly after that the ſaid Captain, pety captain, or other ſhall have received their wages of the King, or of the Treaſurer of his Wars, or their Lords or Maſters. And if any ſouldier being no Captain, immediately retained with the King, which hereafter ſhall be in wages and retained, or take any preſt to ſerve the King upon the ſea, or upon the land beyond the Sea, depart out of the Kings ſervice without licence of his Captain, that ſuch departing be taken, deemed and adjudged felony, and that he ſo offending ſuffer for the ſaid offence puniſhment and execution of felony. And for as much as his offence ſtretcheth to the hurt and jeopardy of the King our Soveraign Lord, the Nobels of the Realm, and of all the Common weal thereof, that therefore he or they ſo offending enjoy not the benefit of his Clergy. And that it be ordained by the ſaid authority, that all the Juſtices in every Shire of England, whereas any ſuch offendors be taken, have power to inquire of the ſaid offences, and the ſame to hear and determine as they do and may do of felony, treſpaſſes, and of other offences expreſſed in the Kings Commiſſion to them made, as though the ſaid offences were done in the ſame Shire. And alſo that the ſaid departing of ſuch ſouldiers, and alſo their reteinors, if it be traverſed, be tried in the ſame Shire, where they be for ſuch cauſe arreſted & arraigned. Provided alway, that no manner of Captain be charged by this Act for lack of his number retained, as is aboveſaid, whoſe ſouldiers ſhall hap to die, or otherwiſe depart, not in the default of the Captain; ſo that the ſaid Captain, if he be at land-wages, ſhew the departing or lacking of his ſouldier within ten days after the lacking of the ſaid ſouldier, unto the Treaſurer of the wars: or if the Captain be at ſea-wages, he ſhew the departing or lacking of the ſaid ſouldier, ſo lacking, to the Admiral of the Navy where he is retained, at next meeting with the ſaid Admiral. Co. l. 6. f. 27.

Juſtices of Peace may enquire of, hear and determine the offences of Souldiers departing without licence.

The Captain ſhall not be charged for the ſouldiers offence.

CAP. II.

CAP. V.

Riens deins le gard ſhall be no challenge upon any Iſſue to be tried in London.

PRayen the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, that where of long time uſed in any iſſue to be tried within the City of London, a challenge commonly called, Riens deins le gard hath been admitted for a good challenge, ſo that no iſſue could be tried in any Ward, without that there were four ſufficient perſons of livelihood to the yearly value of x. s. above all charges within the ſame City, and dwelling or having any livelihood within the ſame Ward: and it is ſo now (the cauſe God knoweth why) that there is no Ward, or elſe but few, and in ſpecial in plea of land, that any plaintiff or demandant can have ſufficient trial in this matter, as evidently is known, for cauſe of ỷ challenge aforeſaid; for in the moſt part of Wards, as now, there be none ſufficient; and if any be, there are no officers ỷ dare ſummon them, or elſe if they be ſummoned, they will not appear, their honour is ſo great, and their amerciaments ſo little: That it pleaſe your moſt abundant grace, by the advice of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and by the authority of this preſent Parliament to ordain, and for the Common wealth of your true ſubjects, eſtabliſh and enact, that from henceforth the challenge commonly called Riens deins le gard, be no challenge but Anno undecimo Henrici ſeptimi.

THe King our Soveraign Lord, Henry the ſeventh after the Conqueſt, by the grace of God King of England and of France, and Lord of Ireland, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the thirteenth day of October, in the eleventh year of his Reign, to the honor of God and holy Church, and for the common profit of the Realm, by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame Parliament, hath done to be made certain Statutes and Ordinances in manner and form following.

CAP. I.

None that ſhall attend upon the King and do him true ſervice, ſhall be attainted, or forfeit any thing.

THe King our ſoveraign Lord calling to his remembrance the duty of allegiance of his ſubjects of this his Realm, and that they by reaſon of the ſame are bound to ſerve their Prince and Soveraign Lord, for the time being, in his wars, for the defence of him and the land, againſt every rebellion, power, and might reared againſt him, and with him to enter and abide in ſervice in battel, if caſe ſo require; and that for the ſame ſervice what fortune ever fall by chance in the ſame battel againſt the mind and will of the Prince (as in this land ſometime paſſed hath been ſeen) that it is not reaſonable, but againſt all laws, reaſon, and good conſcience, that the ſaid ſubjects going with their Soveraign Lord in wars, attending upon him in his perſon, or being in other places by his commandment within this land or without, any thing ſhould loſe or forfeit for doing their true duty and ſervice of allegiance: It be therefore ordained, enacted, and eſtabliſhed by the King our Soveraign Lord, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that from henceforth no nanner of perſon or perſons whatſoever he or they be, that attend upon the King and ſoveraign Lord of this land for the time being, in his perſon, and do him true and faithful ſervice of allegiance in the ſame, or be in other places by his commandment in his wars, within this land or without: that for the ſaid deed and true duty of allegiance he or they be in no wiſe convict or attaint of high treaſon, ne of other offences for that cauſe, by Act of Parliament, or otherwiſe by any proceſs of Law, whereby he or any of them ſhall loſe or forfeit life, lands, tenements, rents, poſſeſſions, hereditaments, goods, chattels, or any other things: but to be for that deed and ſervice utterly diſcharged of any vexation, trouble or loſs. And if any act or acts or other proceſs of the Law hereafter thereupon for the ſame happen to be made contrary to this ordinance, that then that act or acts or other Proceſs of the Law, whatſoever they ſhall be, ſtand and be utterly void. Provided alway, that no perſon or perſons ſhall take any benefit or advantage by this act, which ſhall hereafter decline from his or their ſaid allegiance.

No perſon that ſhall attend upon the King and do him true ſervice, ſhall be atainted therefore of Treaſon or any other Offence.

CAP. II.

Vagabonds, idle and ſuſpected perſons ſhall be ſet in the ſtocks iii. days and iii. nights, and have none other ſuſtenance but bread and water, and then ſhall be put out of the Town. And whoſoever ſhall give ſuch idle perſons more, ſhall forfeit xii. d. Every beggar not able to work, ſhall reſort to the hundred where he laſt dwelled, is beſt known, or was born, and there remain, upon the pain aforeſaid. Exp. 39 El. 4. No artificer, labourer, or ſervant ſhall play at any unlawful game, but in Chriſtenmas. Exp. 33 H. 8. 9. Two Juſtices of Peace may reject common ſelling of Ale, &c. Alt. 5 Ed. 6. 25. Rep. 21 Jac. 28.

CAP. III.

The Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their Seſſions, and the Juſtices of Peace in every county, upon information for the King, ſhall have authority to hear and determine all offences and contempts (ſaving Treaſon, Murder, or Felony) committed by any perſon againſt the effect of any Statute made, and not repealed. Exp. 1 H. 8. 6.

weights, and meaſures, marked according to the ſaid Eſtandard, all men ſhould buy and ſell, for the avoiding of all fraud and diſcord in that behalf to be uſed: which Acts, Statutes, and Ordinances have not been obſerved and kept, as now in this preſent Parliament it hath been openly, by divers perſons of divers parts of this Realm remembred, to the great hurt & vexation of divers & many of the Kings Subjects of this Realm: For remedy whereof, be it of the abundant grace of our moſt gratious Soveraign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lord Spiritual & Temporal, & by the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, & by authority of the ſame, enacted and eſtabliſhed, That unto the Knights and Citizens of every Shire, and City, aſſembled in this preſent Parliament, Barons of the Cinque Ports, and certain Burgeſſes of Burgh Towns, before they depart from this preſent Parliament, be delivered one of every weight and meaſure, which now our Soveraign Lord hath cauſed to be made of Braſs, for the common wealth of all his ſubjects and lieges within this his Realm of England, according to the King our Soveraign Lords Standard of his Exchequer of weights and meaſures, as they be in the Exchequer of our ſaid Soveraign Lord: and that the ſaid Knights, Citizens, and Burgeſſes, to whom the ſaid weights and meaſures ſhall be delivered, as is aforeſaid, ſurely convey or cauſe the ſame to be conveyed on this ſide the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, by the ſaid Citizens to their Cities, and by the ſaid Knights, unto ſuch Borough or town corporate, or Market town within the Shire, for which they be elected, as is ſpecified and contained in a ſchedule unto this preſent Bill annexed, there to remain for ever in the keeping of the Maior, Bailiff, or other head officer for the time being, of the ſame City, Borough, or Town, as the Kings Standard of weight and meaſure. And that the inhabitants of all Cities, Boroughs, and Market Towns within every of the ſaid Shires, ſhall on this ſide the Feaſt of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt next coming, make or cauſe to be made common meaſures and weights, according to the weight and meaſures abovesaid, to remain within the ſaid Cites, Boroughs, and Market Towns, and every of them: and the ſame weights and meaſures to be viewed, examined, printed, ſigned, and marked by the Maior, Bailiff, or other head officer, in whoſe poſſeſſion the aforeſaid Standard ſhall remain. And that every of the aforeſaid Maior, Bailiff, or head officer, having the ſaid weights and meaſures ſigned and printed under the ſigne and print for the ſame, with a letter H. crowned, have authority and power to make, ſigne, and print like weights and meaſures unto every the Kings lieges and ſubjects, duly requiring the ſame, taking for marking of every Buſhel i.d. And from the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of S. John Baptiſt, no Merchant, ne other perſon or perſons within any City or Market Town, buy ne ſell with any weight or meaſure, except it be marked, ſigned, or printed in manner and form aforeſaid, ne any other perſon or perſons out of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, and market Towns, except it be like and equal with the ſaid Eſtandard: and that every perſon, as well without Cities, Boroughs, and Market Towns, as within, buy and ſell with a Buſhel ſealed, ſigned, or marked after the form aforeſaid and no otherwiſe. And that all the Maiors, Bailiffs, and other head officers of every City, Borough, or Market town, ſhall cauſe twice in the year, or oftner, as they ſhall think neceſſary, all weights and meaſures within the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, and Market towns, to be brought afore them, and to be duly viewed and examined: and ſuch as they ſhall upon the ſaid examination find defective, immediately to be broken and burnt, and the party or parties which in that behalf hath offended and be found defective, ſhall forfeit for the firſt time vi. s. viii. d. the forfeiture thereof to be unto the ſaid Maior, Bailiff, or any other having juriſdiction and correction in that behalf: and at the ſecond time the ſaid offendor likewiſe to forfeit xiii. s. iiii. d. and at the third time likewiſe to forfeit xx. s. and for further puniſhment to be ſet upon the pillory, to the enſample of other. And two Juſtices of Peace, whereof one ſhall be of the Quorum, have authority, as well by examination as by enquiry, to hear and determine the defaults of the ſaid Maiors, Bailiffs, or other head Officers in that behalf, and alſo of all buyers and ſellers doing contrary to this preſent Act and Ordinance, and to ſet fine and amerciament upon the offenders by their diſcretion: and the ſaid weights and meaſures ſo found defective to be forfeited and burnt. Be it alſo enacted, that there be but only viii. buſhels raſed and ſtriken to the quarter of Corn, and xiv. li. to the ſtone of wooll, and xxvi. ſtone to the ſack. Be it alſo ordained by authority abovesaid, That the Juſtices of Peace abovesaid have authority to make like Proceſs againſt all perſons found as is abovesaid defective, and for ſuch fines and amerciaments as upon them ſhall be aſſeſſed, as if they were indicted afore them for breaking of the Kings peace. And where by other Statutes and Ordinances afore limited, it is ordained, That every City, Borough, and Town that hath a Conſtable, ſhould have common weights and meaſures ſealed, upon penalties in the ſame limited: that thoſe penalties in that behalf extend not to any Town, which is no City, Burgh, or Market Town. Provided alway, that this act ſhall not extend nor be prejudicial to any perſon ſelling or buying by water meaſure within the ſhip-board. And that it be by the authority aforeſaid enacted, the premiſſes or any other Ordinance afore made notwithſtanding, that the ſaid water meaſure within the ſhip-board ſhall only contain five pecks, after the ſaid ſtandard raſed and ſtricken. Provided alſo, that the examination of defaults abovesaid, and puniſhment to the offendors of every offence committed hereafter within any of the ſaid five Ports ſhall be had, done, and adminiſtred by the Lord Warden of the ſaid five Ports, or by his Lieutenant of the ſame for the time being, and none other, the premiſſes notwithſtanding. Provided alſo, that this Act of Weights and Meaſures extend not, nor be in no wiſe hurtful or prejudicial to the Prince within the Dutchie of Cornwal, or any weights appertaining to the Coynage of Tinne within the Counties of Cornwal and Devonſhire, but that all ſuch weights be uſed, ordered, demeaned, and corrected, as it hath been uſed and accuſtomed before this time, the ſame Act and Ordinance notwithſtanding. A mean to help and ſpeed poor perſons in their ſuits.

Prayen the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, that where the King our Soveraign Lord, of his moſt gracious diſpoſition willeth and intendeth indifferent juſtice to be had and miniſtred according to his common Laws, to all his true ſubjects, as well to the poor as rich, which poor ſubjects be not of hability ne power to ſue according to the laws of this Land for the redreſs of injuries and wrongs to them daily done, as well concerning their perſons and their inheritance, as other cauſes. For remedy whereof, in the behalf of the poor perſons of this Land not able to ſue for their remedy, after the courſe of the Common Law: be it ordained and enacted by your Highneſs, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Paliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that every poor perſon or perſons, which have or hereafter ſhall have cauſe of action or actions againſt any perſon or perſons within this Realm, ſhall have by the diſcretion of the Chancellor of this Realm for the time being, writ or writs original, and writs of Subpena, according to the nature of their cauſes, therefore nothing paying to your Highneſs for the ſeals of the ſame, nor to any perſon for the writing of the ſame writs to be hereafter ſued. And that the ſaid Chancellor for the time being ſhall aſſign ſuch of the Clerks, which ſhall do and uſe the making and writing of the ſame writs, to write the ſame ready to be ſealed, and and alſo learned Councel and Atturnies for the ſame, without any reward taking therefore: and after the ſaid writ or writs be returned, if it be afore the King in his Bench, the Juſtices there ſhall aſſign to the ſame poor perſon or perſons Councel learned by their diſcretions, which ſhall give their counſels, nothing taking for the ſame. And likewiſe the Juſtices ſhall appoint Atturnie and Atturnies for the ſame poor perſon or perſons, and all other officers requiſite and neceſſary to be had for the ſpeed of the ſaid ſuits to be had and made, which ſhall do their duties without any reward for their counſels, help and buſineſs in the ſame. And the ſame Law and order ſhall be obſerved and kept of all ſuch ſuits to be made afore the Kings Juſtice of his Common place, and Barons of his Exchequer, and all other Juſtices in the Courts of Record, where any ſuch ſuits ſhall be.

A mean to help and ſpeed poor perſons in there ſuits in every Court of record.

CAP. XIII.

Who only may carry a Horſe out of this Land without the Kings licence. The cuſtom, and price of a Mare to be tranſported.

Foraſmuch as many horſes and mares of the breed of this Land now of late have been carried and conveyed out of the ſame into the parts beyond the Sea, which cauſeth not only the ſmaller number of good horſes to be within this Realm for the defence thereof, but alſo the great and good plenty of the ſame to be in the ſaid parts beyond the ſea, that in time paſt were wont to be within this Land, and over that the price of every of them to be greatly enhaunced here to the loſs and noyance of all the Kings Subjects within the ſame. For remedy whereof, be it ordained, enacted and eſtabliſhed by the King our Soveraign Lord, by the advice of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that from henceforth no manner perſon, ne perſons carry or convey any horſe out of this Land, without the Kings ſpecial licence, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame, or any mare above the value of vi. s. viii. d. without the Kings ſpecial licence, upon the ſaid pain of forfeiture of the ſame mare, the owner thereof or his deputy receiving for the ſame mare vi. s. viii. d. at the time of the ſeiſure upon the ſaid forfeiture, or elſe it be no forfeit: and at the time of ſeiſure of the ſaid mare or mares they ſhall be priſed by the head officers of the Town where any ſuch mare is taken, and there openly to be ſold to the beſt price, and the half deal of the over-price of her, being above vi. s. viii. d. to be to the King, and the other half to him that ſeiſeth: and the Kings part thereof to be delivered to the cuſtomer of the ſaid Port. And that no manner perſon, ne perſons hereafter carry or convey any mare or mares out of this land, except every of the ſaid mares ſo carried be of the age of three years at the leaſt, and not over the price of vi. s. viii. d. paying to the King for every of them being not above the value of vi. s. viii. d. ſo to be carried or conveyed in the ſame Port, ſuch cuſtoms as hath been for mares before uſed. And that for every mare of more value hereafter by the Kings licence, after the form aforeſaid, conveyed or carried beyond the ſea, the owner thereof or his deputy aſſigned or ſervant ſhall pay vi. s. viii. d. for the cuſtom of the ſame, before it be ſhipped, under the pain of forfeiture of every mare ſo ſhipped, ere they be cuſtomed. And over that be it enacted, that if any perſon at the Port will give for any of the mares ſo to be carried, vii. s. that it be lawful to him ſo giving and paying the ſaid vii. s. to take the ſaid mare, if ſhe be not afore taken by the Kings officer, nor the Kings licence be not in that behalf aforeſaid, for the ſame mare to be carried, obtained. Provided alway, that it ſhall be lawful to every perſon or perſons being denizens, hereafter to carry a horſe beyond the ſea, the Kings licence in that behalf not obtained, for their own uſe,

No horſe ſhall be carried out of this Realm without the Kings licence. 22 H. 8. 7.

CAP. XV.

Entring of plaints in County Courts: Examining of Sheriffs: Execution of Precepts: Viewing of Eſtreats, and gathering of them.

Several miſdemeanors practiſed by Sheriffs, &c. by entring of plaints

Whereas great extortion is yearly uſed and had within divers Counties of this Realm of England by the ſubtilty and untrue demeanour of Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, Shire-Clerks, or any other Officers, holding and keeping the Counties in the name of the Sheriff, that is to ſay, if any man affirm a plaint before the ſheriffs in the counties, or before any other of the ſaid Officers, the ſaid Sheriff, Under-ſheriff, or his Shire-Clerk will enter or cauſe to be entred in their books in the ſame Plaintiffs name divers and many plaints both of debt, treſpaſs, and covenant, at their pleaſure, and unknowing to the ſame Plaintiff in whoſe name the ſaid plaints been affirmed, to the intent that if the Defendant appear not at every Shire-day or Court, hanging the ſaid plaint, he ſhall leeſe for this default made at every plaint, iv. d. where divers times by covin between the ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, and Shire-Clerk, and the other foreſaid Officers, the ſaid defendants being never attached, ſummoned, nor warned, according to the due form of the Common law, wherefore the ſame parties ſo put in ſuit, have no knowledge of any ſuch ſuit had againſt them; and over that the ſame Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs and Shire-clerks, will cauſe divers plaints to be taken in the names of ſuch perſons that are not in plain life, where the ſaid defendant ſhall have like loſs as is before rehearſed: ſo that the unlawful demeanour of the ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, Shire-clerks, for the time being, and the bailiffs of the hundreds for their default and negligence in their offices, and covin between the ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, Shire-clerks, and other of the foreſaid Officers, cauſeth the amerciaments that be in the one year after the books be ingroſſed, to amount to great and importable ſums of money, which ſums of money been yearly levied of the poor Commons in the ſaid Counties by the Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, and Shire-clerks, and other Deputies being of no ſubſtance, nor of behaviour, which Deputies take and levy more by extortion then is contained in their eſtreats, to the expreſs pillage and impoveriſhing of the ſaid Commons. Be it therefore enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed, by the King our Soveraign Lord, and by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that no Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, or Shire-clerks hereafter, neither any perſon in their names, nor by their commandment, ſhall take and enter any plaints into their books, in no mans name, unleſs the party plaintiff be in his proper perſon preſent in the Court, or elſe by ſufficient Atturny or Deputy, that is known to be of good name and diſpoſition: and that the ſame party plaintiff ſhall find pledges to purſue his ſaid plaint, ſuch perſons as are known there in the County: and that the party plaintiff ſhall have but one plaint for one treſpaſs or contract. And if the ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, Shire-clerks, take and enter, or cauſe to be entred any moe plaints then the plaintiff ſuppoſeth that he hath cauſe of action againſt the defendant, that then the ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, Shire-clerks, that do enter or cauſe to be entred any ſuch plaints, contrary to the ſaid proviſion and ordinance, ſhall forfeit for every default xl. s. the one half thereof to be had to the uſe of our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other part to him or them that will ſue and prove the ſame matter by action of debt or information in the Eſchequer. And over that the Juſtices of Peace in the ſame Counties and every of them, ſhall have authority upon complaint made by the party ſo unlawfully grieved, to examine the ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, or Shire-clerks and plaintiffs; and if the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or one of them, find by their examination default in the ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, or Shire-clerks in entring of the ſaid plaints deceitfully, for his or their advantage, as is before rehearſed, contrary to this preſent Act, that then the ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, & ſhire-clerks ſhall be convict and attaint of the ſame offence without further enquiry or examination, and that he ſhall forfeit upon the ſame examination xl. s. to the uſe of our Soveraign Lord the King, for every default: And the ſaid Juſtices of Peace that ſo ſhall take y^e^ examination, ſhall certifie the ſame examination within a quarter of a year into the Kings Eſchequer, upon pain of xl. s. And furthermore that the ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, and Shire-clerks,

No plaint ſhall be entred in the County Court, but where the plaintiff or his Atturny is preſent.

There ſhall be but one plaint entred for one cauſe.

A Juſtice of Peace may examine the offence and certifie it into the Exchequer.

Item, Foraſmuch as divers perſons having little ſubſtance to live upon, uſe many times as well by nets, ſnares, or other Engines to take and deſtroy Feſants, and Partridges, upon the Lordſhips Manors, Lands, and Tenements of divers Owners and Poſſeſſioners of the ſame, without licence, conſent, or agreement of the ſame Owners or Poſſeſſioners, by the which the ſame Owners and poſſeſſioners leeſe not only their pleaſure and diſport that they, their friends, and ſervants ſhould have about Hawking, Hunting, and taking of the ſame, but alſo they leeſe the profit and avail that by that occaſion ſhould grow to their houſhold, to the great hurt of all Lords and Gentlemen, and other having any great livelyhood within this Realm. Wherefore it is ordained and enacted, by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That it ſhall not be lawful to any perſon, of what condition he be, to take or cauſe to be taken any Feſants or Partridges by net, ſnares, or other Engines, out of his own Warren, upon the Freehold of any other perſon, without the aſſent, agreement, and ſpecial licence of the Owner or Poſſeſſioner of the ſame, upon pain of forfeiture of x. li. the one half thereof to the party that will ſue for the ſame by Action of debt, or by bill, or otherwiſe, and the other half thereof to the owner or Poſſeſſioner of the ſaid ground, upon the which the ſaid Feſants and Partridges be ſo taken. Alſo it is ordained by the ſaid authority, that no manner of perſon, of what condition or degree he be, take or cauſe to be taken, be it upon his own ground or any other mans, the eggs of any Falcon, Goſhawks, Laners, or Swans, out of the neſt, upon pain of impriſonment of a year and a day, and fine at the Kings will, the one half thereof to the King, and the other half to the Owner of the ground where the eggs were ſo taken: And that the Juſtices of the Peace have authority by this preſent Act, to hear and determime ſuch matter, as well by inquiſition as information and proofs. Alſo it is ordained by the ſaid authority, that no man from the Feaſt of Paſche next coming, bear any Hawk of the breed of England called a Nyeſſe, Goſhawk, Taſſel, Laner, Laneret, or Faulcon, upon pain of forfeiture of his Hawk to the King, and the ſaid Hawk to be at the Kings pleaſure. And that all ſuch perſons that bring any Nyeſſe, Hawk or Hawks, from any the parts beyond the ſea, bring a certificate under the cuſtomers ſeal of the Port where he firſt landed with the ſaid Hawk or Hawks: or if he come out of Scotland, then under the ſeal of the Warden or Lieutenant of that March that he cometh through, teſtifying that the ſame Hawk or Hawks be of the parts beyond the ſea, or of Scotland, upon the ſame pain. And that the perſon that bringeth any ſuch Hawk or Hawks to the King, ſhall have a reaſonable reward of the King, or elſe the ſame Hawk or Hawks for their labour. Alſo it is ordained by the ſame authority, That no man take any Ayrer, Faulcon, Goſhawk, Taſſel, or Laner, or Lanerets in their Warren or Woods, or in other place, nor purpoſely drive them out of their Coverts accuſtomed to breed in, to cauſe them to go to other Coverts to breed, nor ſlay them for any hurt by them done, but ſuffer them to paſs at their liberties, upon pain of x. li. the one half thereof to the party that will ſue for the ſame by Action of debt, by examination before the Juſtices of the Peace, information, or otherwiſe, and the other half to the King. Provided alway, that the moity of the forfeiture aboveſaid given to the owner of the ground for taking of Swans eggs, be unto the owner of the ſaid Swans, and not to the owner of the ground.

CAP. XVIII.

The forfeiture of him which goeth not in perſon with the King in his wars; when he is in perſon.

Where every Subject, by the duty of his allegiance, is bounden to ſerve and aſſiſt his Prince and Soveraign Lord at all ſeaſons when need ſhall require, and moſt ſpecially ſuch perſons as have by him promotion or advancement, as grants and gifts of Offices, Fees and Annuities, which owe and verily be bound of reaſon to give their attendance upon his Royal perſon, to defend the ſame, when he ſhall fortune to go in his perſon in wars for defence of the Realm, or againſt his rebells and enemies, for the ſubduing and repreſſing of them and their malicious purpoſe. Wherefore be it enacted and eſtabliſhed by the King our Soveraign Lord, by the advice of his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons, being within this Realm of England or Wales, having ſuch offices, fees or annuities, by any of his rehearſed gifts and grants, do not give their attendance upon him, when he ſhall fortune to go in wars in his perſon, in their ſaid perſons, as their duty bindeth them: that then they and every of them, making thereof default, (the Kings ſpecial licence not had, or elſe he have ſuch unfeined ſickneſs, letting, or diſeaſe, that he may not in his perſon come to do his perſonal attendance and ſervice after the form aforeſaid, and that duely proved) that then every ſuch perſon or perſons forfeit and loſe their ſaid Offices, Fees and annuities, and to ſtand void at the Kings pleaſure, any Act, Ordinance or Statute to the contrary afore this time had or made in any wiſe notwithſtanding. Provided, that this Act extend not to any ſpiritual perſon, Maſter of the Rolles, ne to any other officer and clerks of the Chancery, Juſtices of either Bench, Barons of the Kings Eſchequer, and other officers and clerks of the ſaid places, the Kings Atturnies and Sollicitor, and the Sergeants of the Law. Provided alway, that this Act ſhall not extend to any perſon having any ſuch offices of the Kings Highneſs, and being in his ſervice within his Towns and Fortilities of Berwick and Carlyle, ne to the Clerk of the Kings Council for the time being. What ſtuff Upholſters ſhall put in Bolſters, Feather-beds, and Pillows.

To the right worſhipful Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, ſheweth unto your diſcreet wiſdoms, the Wardens of the Fellowſhip of the Craft of Upholſters within the city of London, That whereas divers perſons within the Realm of England, out of the City, make and do to be made unlawful and falſe wares and merchandiſes, to the great rebuke and ſlander of the ſaid Craft, and alſo great jeopardy, loſs, and deceit to the Kings ſubjects, wherefore there is no ſufficient remedy purveyed, for ſo much as the ſame Wardens have no power nor authority to make due ſearch of ſuch falſe deceiveable wares & merchandiſes put to ſale out of the ſaid City, as they have power and authority within the ſame City, as in Fetherbeds, Bolſters and Pillows, made of two manner of corrupt ſtuffs, that is to ſay, of ſcalded fethers, and dry pulled fethers together, and of flocks and fethers together, which is contagious for mans body to lie on, and alſo in Quilts, Mattreſſes, and Cuſhions ſtuffed with Horſe-hair, Fenne-down, Neats-hair, and Goat-hair, which is wrought in Lime fats, and by the heat of mans body, the ſavour and taſte is ſo abominable & contagious, that many of the Kings ſubjects thereby been deſtroyed: which deceitful making of the foreſaid corrupt and unlawful ſtuff, is to the great loſs and impoveriſhing of the Kings liege people, & alſo to the great rebuke and ſlander to the ſaid Craft of Upholſters. Therefore it may pleaſe the Kings Highneſs, by the advice of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and his Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, to eſtabliſh and enact, That from henceforth no perſon ne perſons ſhall make, ordain, utter, ne put to ſale in Fairs, ne in Markets, within this his ſaid Realm, any Fetherbeds, Bolſters or Pillows, except they be ſtuffed with one manner of ſtuff, that is to ſay, with dry pulled fethers, or elſe with clean Down alone, and with no ſcalded fethers, nor Fenne down, nor none other unlawful corrupt ſtuffs, as is afore rehearſed, but utterly to be damned for ever. Except if any perſon or perſons for their own proper uſe in their houſes, make or do to be made any of the foreſaid corrupt and unlawful ſtuff and wares, ſo they been not offered to be ſold in Fairs and Markets, upon pain of forfeiture. And alſo in like wiſe, Quilts, Mattreſſes, and cuſhions, be ſtuffed with one manner of ſtuff, that is to ſay, with clean wooll, or clean flocks alone, and with no ſuch unlawful afore rehearſed, upon pain of loſs and forfeiture of all ſuch unlawful wares and merchandiſes. any other ſeiſed to their uſe, or to the uſe of either of them, after the form aforeſaid, that all ſuch recoveries, diſcontinuances, alienations, releaſes, confimations and warranteies, ſo had and made, and from henceforth to be had and made, be utterly void and of none effect. And that it ſhall be lawful to every perſon and perſons to whom the intereſt, title or inheritance, after the deceaſe of the ſaid women, of the ſaid Mannors lands, and tenements, or other hereditaments, being diſcontinued, aliened, and ſuffered to be recovered, after the firſt day of December next coming, in the form aforeſaid, ſhould appertain, to enter into all and every of the premiſſes, and peaceably to poſſeſs and enjoy the ſame, in ſuch manner and form, as he or they ſhould have done, if no ſuch diſcontinuance, warranty, nor recovery had been had nor made. And over this be it ordained and enacted by the ſaid authority, That if any of the ſaid husbands and women, or any other ſeiſed, or that ſhall be ſeiſed to the uſe of them of the eſtate before ſpecified, after the ſaid firſt day of December, do make or cauſe to be made, or ſuffer any ſuch diſcontinuance, alienations, warranties, or recoveries in form aforeſaid, that then it ſhall be lawful to the perſon or perſons, to whom the ſaid Mannors, lands, or tenements ſhould or ought to belong after the deceaſe of the ſaid women, to enter into the ſame, and them to poſſeſs and enjoy, according to ſuch title and intereſt as they ſhould have had in the ſame, if the ſame woman had been dead, no diſcontinuance, warranty, nor recovery had, as againſt the ſaid husband during his life, if the ſaid diſcontinuance, alienation, warranties, and recoveries be hereafter had, by or againſt the ſame husbands and women during the coverture and eſpouſal betwixt them. Provided alway, that the ſaid women, after the deceaſe of their ſaid husbands, may re-enter into the ſame Manors, lands, & tenements, & them to enjoy according to their firſt eſtate in the ſame. And over this be it ordained and enacted by the ſaid authority, That if the ſaid woman, at the time of ſuch dicontinuance, alienations, recoveries, warranties, after the ſaid firſt day of December, in form aforeſaid, to be had & made of any of the premiſſes, be ſole, that then ſhe ſhall be barred and excluded of her title and intereſt in the ſame from thenceforth: and that the perſon and perſons, to whom the title, intereſt, and poſſeſſion of the ſame ſhould belong, after the deceaſe of the ſaid woman, ſhall immediately after the ſaid diſcontinuances, alienations, warranties, and recoveries, enter into the ſame Manors, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, and them to poſſeſs, and enjoy, according to his or their title in the ſame. Provided alſo that this Act extend not to avoid any recovery, diſcontinuance, or warranty, after the form aforeſaid, afore this time had, made, and ſuffered, but only where the ſaid husband and woman, or either of them now being alive, or any other to their uſe, now have intereſt and title to the ſaid Manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, aliened, diſcontinued, or ſuffered to be recovered after the form aforeſaid, and thereof now taking the iſſues and profits, or any other perſon or perſons to their uſe. Provided alſo, that this Act extend not to any ſuch recovery, or diſcontinuance, to be had with the heirs next inheritable to the ſaid woman, or where he or they that next after the death of the ſame woman ſhould have eſtate of inheritance in the ſame Manors, lands, or tenements, be aſſenting or agreeable to the ſaid recoveries, where the ſame aſſent and agreement is of record, or enrolled. Provided alſo, that it ſhall be lawful to every ſuch woman, being ſole or married, after the death of her firſt husband, to give, ſell, or make diſcontinuance of any ſuch lands for term of her life only, after the courſe and uſe of the Common Law, before the making of the preſent Act.

Upon the recovery or alienation of the woman, he in the reverſion may enter.

CAP. XXI.

The ability of every man that ſhall be impanelled in any Enqueſt or Attaint in London.

Whereas perjury is much, and cuſtomably uſed within the city of London among ſuch perſons as paſſen and been impanelled upon Iſſues joyned between party and party in the Courts of the ſame City, to the great diſpleaſure of Almighty God, and alſo to the diſheritance and manifold wrongs of the Kings ſubjects, for as much as there is empanelled in the ſame Enqueſts perſons of little ſubſtance, diſcretion, and reputation: and alſo no Attaint, ne other ſufficient puniſhment is for ſuch perjured perſons before this time purveyed & ordained within the ſame City. Therefore it may pleaſe the Kings Highneſs by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, to eſtabliſh, ordain, and enact, That no perſon ne perſons hereafter be empanelled, ſummoned, or ſworn in any Jury or Enqueſt, in Courts within the ſame City, except he be of lands, tenements, or goods and cattels, to the value of xl. Marks: and that no perſon or perſons hereafter be empanelled, ſummoned, nor ſworn in any Jury or Enqueſt in any Court within the ſaid City, for lands or tenements, or action perſonal, wherein the debt or damages amounteth to the ſum of xl. Marks, or above, except he be in lands, tenements, goods or cattels to the value of C. Marks: and the ſame matter and cauſe alledged by any of the ſaid parties by way of challenge, and ſo founden ſhall be admitted and taken in every of the ſame courts as a principal challenge. And that every ſuch perſon hereafter to be empanelled or ſummoned to appear in any Jury or Enqueſt, before any of the ſaid Juſtices in the ſame City, making default, at the firſt ſummons loſe and forfeit in Iſſues xii. d. and at the ſecond default ii. s. and ſo at every ſuch default after that, the iſſues and penalties to be double: and all ſuch iſſues loſt in the Mayors Court, ſhall be forfeited, levied, and perceived to the uſe and behoof of the Mayor and Comminalty of the ſaid City, and all ſuch iſſues loſt in the Sheriffs Court or Courts ſhall be forfeited, levied, and perceived to the uſe of the Sheriffs of the ſame City for the time being, towards their feeferm. And alſo be it enacted by like authority, that the party grieved by any untrue or falſe verdict hereafter to be given in any of the courts of the ſaid city, ſhall and may have and ſue attaint by bill in the Huſtings of London, holden for common pleas before the Maior and Aldermen of the ſame City, for the time being, and thereupon a precept to be awarded and made by the ſame Maior to every Alderman of the ſaid City, or his deputy in his abſence, to preſent or certifie the names of iv. indifferent and diſcreet perſons of good fame, and every of them of ſubſtance of C.li. or more, citizens of the ſame city, dwelling in his ward, to the Maior and Aldermen of the ſaid city for the time being, at the Huſtings of common pleas within the ſame city then next enſuing to be holden: of which perſons ſo preſented and certified, the ſaid Maior and ſix Aldermen or mo, holding the ſame Court of Huſtings, ſhall take, name, and impanel xlviii. by their diſcretion thought moſt able, ſufficient and indifferent: and the Maior and his ſucceſſors, Maiors of the ſaid City, ſhall do to be ſummoned the ſaid xlviii. perſons, ſo by the ſaid Maior and Aldermen named and impanelled, and alſo the Jurors of the pety Jury, and the party or parties named as Tenants or Defendants in the ſaid bill of attaint to appear before the Maior and Aldermen of the ſame City at the Huſtings of common pleas, then next to be holden in the ſame city: and if the ſame attaint then, or any other time hap to remain untaken for or by default of Jurors, by challenge, or otherwiſe, that upon every tales granted, the ſaid Maior and Aldermen ſhall impanel the ſaid perſons which were certified by the ſaid Aldermen or their Deputies, and omitted out of the ſaid panel, or put therein other perſon or perſons being citizens of the ſaid City, of the ſubſtance of C.li. or more. And alſo that all the plea and pleas to be alledged or pleaded by, or for the Tenant or defendant, Tenants or defendants, or by any of the Jurors of the pety Jury in the ſame attaint, and tryable by any Jury or Enqueſt, ſhall be tryed within the ſame City, and by the Enqueſts of the ſame, and in none other place, ne County. And that none of the ſaid pety Jury, ne other parties named in any ſuch Bill of attaint, ſhall or may have any challenge to the array, or to any perſon or poll therein being impanelled for lack of ſufficiency of goods or of lands. Over that be it provided and enacted, that the judgment in any ſuch attaint ſhall not extend to any lands or tenements, ne to other puniſhment of the pety Jury, ne other proceſs to be in the ſame attaint then is limited and appointed in this preſent Act. And if the xxiv. perſons of the ſaid xlviii. perſons ſworn in the ſame attaint, find that the Jurors named in the pety Jury have made and given an untrue verdict, that then the judgment ſhall be againſt the party defendant in the ſame attaint, as is uſed in attaint ſued by writ at Common law: and furthermore the judgment in the ſame attaint ſhall be againſt the pety Jury, that every of the Jurors of the ſame pety Jury ſhall forfeit and loſe xx.li. or more, by the diſcretion of the Maior and Aldermen of the ſaid City, keeping the ſame Huſtings, or any other Huſtings of common pleas, to ſuch uſe and behoof as other iſſues and penalties been forfeited and loſt in any action or plaint commenced before the Maior and Aldermen of the ſame City, and his body to be impriſoned, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe vi. moneths or leſs, by the diſcretion of the Maior and Aldermen of the ſame City for the time being, and to be diſabled for ever to be ſworn in any Jury before any temporal Judge. And over that be it enacted by the ſame authority, that if it be found by the Grand Jury in the ſame Attaint, that the pety Jury have given a true Verdict, that then the Grand Jury ſhall have authority and power to enquire if any of the pety Jury took or perceived any ſum of money, or other reward, or promiſe of money, or other reward of them named Defendants, or Tenants in the ſame Attaint: or if any other perſon or perſons by the commandment, covin, or aſſent of any of them, to or for the intent of their verdict given, whereupon the ſame attaint is grounded, and after any ſuch corruption by the ſaid Grand Jury is founden, that then the Juror or Jurors of the ſaid pety Jury, that is found ſo defective in taking and perceiving any ſums of money, or other reward, or promiſe of reward, ſhall loſe, forfeit, and pay to the Plaintiff or Plaintiffs named in the ſame Attaint ten times the value of that ſum or other reward ſo taken, perceived or promiſed, in form abovesaid, and ſhall ſuffer impriſonment without bail or mainpriſe vi. moneths or leſs, by the diſcretion of the ſaid Maior, and Aldermen, and ſhall be diſabled for ever to be ſworn in any Jury before any Temporal Judge. And over that be it enacted, that ſuch Defendant or Tenant, defendants or tenants in the ſame Attaint, ſhall loſe, forfeit, and pay to ſuch uſe and behoof as other penalties been forfeited within the ſame City, ten times the value of that ſum of money, or other reward by him or them ſo given to any of the ſaid pety Jury: and the ſame Defendant or Tenant, Defendants or Tenants, ſhall be impriſoned, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe during vi. moneths or leſs by the diſcretion of the ſaid Maior and Aldermen. And if any debts, damages or coſts be recovered in any Action whereupon ſuch Ataint is grounded, and by the ſame Attaint it be found, that the pety Jury have given a falſe ſerement, that then for the recovery, and reſtitution of the ſame debt, damages, and coſts, the Plaintiff or Plaintiffs in every Attaint, ſhall and may ſue an action of debt againſt the ſame Defendant or Tenant, by Writ, Bill or plaint in every of the Kings Courts, wherein the ſame Defendant or Tenant, and every of them ſhall not be received to do his Law. And over that, be it enacted, that if any plaintiff or plaintiffs, in any ſuch Attaint commenced before the ſaid Maior and Aldermen upon any record remaining within the ſame City, therein be non-ſuit, or if the firſt ſerement therein be affirmed, that then he or they ſhall have impriſonment, and make fine by the diſcretion of the Maior and Aldermen of the ſaid City for the time being: and that fine to be and go to the Maior and Comminalty of the ſaid City. And if there be two or more plaintiffs in any ſuch Attaint ordained by this ſtatute, and if any of them die or be non-ſuit, the other by this Act ſhall be enabled to ſue for the proceeding in the ſame Attaint, and notwithſtanding the death of the Defendant or Tenant, Defendants or Tenants, or any of the pety Jury named in the ſame Attaint, ſo that there be two of the ſame pety Jury on live, the ſame Attaint ſhall not abate. And alſo be it ordained by the ſame authority, that if any of the Jurors of yͤ ſaid Grand Jury, impanelled & ſummoned in form aforeſaid, at the ſummons make default, ſo that the Attaint remaineth to be taken for default of Jurors, that then every of the ſaid Jurors ſo making default, loſe and forfeit, for the firſt default, xl.s. and at the ſecond default v.li. and at every default, after that, x.li. Where at a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the xxii. year of the Reign of King Edward the fourth, among other things it was enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed, that no Merchant ſtranger, nor denizen, after the feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel then next coming, ſhould ſell or put to ſale any Salmon by Butt, Barrel, half Barrel, or any other veſſel, after it ſhould be ſeen, except the ſame Butt ſhould hold and contain lxxxiv. gallons, the Barrel xlii. gallons, the half Barrel xxi. gallons, well and truely packed, upon pain of forfeiture for every Butt, Barrel, and half Barrel, ſo lacking their ſaid meaſure, vi.s. viii.d. And that no ſuch Merchant, being under the ſaid Kings obeyſance, after the Feaſt of S. Michael, ſhould ſell or put to ſale any manner of Salmon by Butt, Barrel, or other Veſſel, except it ſhould be well and truly packed, that is to ſay, the great Salmon by it ſelf, without medling of any Grilles, or broken bellied Salmon with the ſame: and that all ſmall fiſh, called Grilles, ſhould be packed by themſelves onely without any medling, upon pain of forfeiture and loſing vi.s. viii.d. for every Butt, Barrel, or half Barrel, contrary to the ſaid Act, medled, packed, and put to ſale: And that no ſuch Merchant nor other perſon ſhould put any Herring to ſale by Barrel, demy Barrel, or Firkin, except the ſame Barrel contain xxxii. gallons, the half Barrel, and Firkin after the ſame rate: and that the ſame Herring ſhould be well, truly, and juſtly layed and packed, and ſhould be of one time taking and ſalting, and that the ſame Herring ſhould be as good and as well packed in the middeſt and every part of the ſame Barrel and other Veſſels, as it ſhould be at any of the ends of the ſame Barrel and Veſſel, upon pain of forfeiting and loſing of iii.s. iv.d. for every Barrel, half Barrel and Firkin, ſo lacking their ſaid meaſure, and alſo upon pain of forfeiting and loſing of iii.s. iv.d. for every Barrel, half Barrel and Firkin of Herring, contrary to the ſaid Act, ſorted, layed, or packed. Alſo that no ſuch Merchant or pailing man ſhould ſell or put to ſale any Eeles by Barrel or Firkin, except the Barrel contain xlii. gallons, the half Barrel and Firkin after the ſame rate: nor that any ſuch Merchant nor pailing man ſhould meddle any galbytten, ſtorven, or pyled Eeles with good Eeles, but that the ſame good Eeles ſhould be well and juſtly packed, and ſo ſold by themſelves, nor ſhould meddle with the ſaid good Eeles, nor put to ſale any red Eeles, upon pain of forfeiture and loſing of x.s. for every Barrel, half Barrel and Firkin, ſo lacking their ſaid meaſure, and upon pain of loſing of x.s. for every Barrel, half Barrel and Firkin, ſo as is aforeſaid medled, and contrary to the ſaid Act packed or put to ſale. And that no Merchant after the ſaid Feaſt ſhould ſell nor put to ſale any barrelled fiſh, except the ſame fiſh ſhould well and truely be packed, that is to ſay, the taile fiſh by themſelves, and the ſmall fiſh called Guls by themſelves, without any medling of the ſaid ſmall fiſh with the great fiſh, and without medling and packing of Thokes and broken bellied fiſh, with the ſaid taile fiſh or ſmall fiſh: and that neither the taile fiſh nor ſmall fiſh ſhould be laid double in packing, and that every taile fiſh ſhould contain in length from the bone of the fin to the third joint of the taile xxvi. inches at the leaſt, and that the napes of all ſuch barrelled fiſh ſhould be no longer then the little bone that ſitteth upon the great fin, and that the bone of every ſuch ſalt fiſh ſhould be taken away unto the navel of the ſame fiſh, and that every ſuch fiſh ſhould be platted down to an handful of the taile, upon pain of forfeiture of loſing iii.s. iv.d. for every barrel of fiſh which from henceforth ſhould be found packed, ſorted & medled, naped, layed double, or not boned nor ſpletted according to the ſaid Act. And alſo in eſchewing of the common hurts and deceits above rehearſed, the ſaid late King ordained & enacted by the ſaid authority, that all Maiors, Bailiffs, Governors of Cities, Towns, Boroughs, Markets, and all other places of this Realm, for the time being, where they ſhould be Mayors, Bailiffs, and Governours, ſhould have power and authority to name, and chooſe a diſcreet and expert perſon or perſons, duely to ſearch and gauge all ſuch veſſels, as been above rehearſed, that they ſhould be truly packed, and keep their true meaſure and aſſiſe, according to the Ordinances aboveſaid, as in the foreſaid Act thereof made more plainly appeareth. And for as much as in the ſaid Act no certainty is appointed how much every ſuch Gauger, Packer, and Searcher, ſhould take for his labour in executing of their ſaid Office, they been their own judges, and at their pleaſures take for the ſame gauging, packing, and ſearching, by way of extortion, ſuch great ſums of money as them liketh, whereby the Kings true ſubjects are greatly impoveriſhed and wronged; That it might therefore pleaſe the Kings highneſs, by the advice of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, to confirm, ratifie, and eſtabliſh the ſaid Act, and every thing therein compriſed: and over that by the ſame authority do ordain and eſtabliſh, That every ſuch gauger, packer, and ſearcher, take no more for gauging of a barrel-Salmon, barrel-Herring, barrel-fiſh, barrel-Eels, half barrel and firkin, for every piece ſo gauged, but a farthing, and for his labour for ſearching and packing, if it be need, of a barrel Salmon from head to head, i. d. and for his labour for boning, naping, and packing of a barrel fiſh, if it be need, i. d. and for his labour in ſearching & packing of a barrel-Herring from head to head, if it be needful, ii. d. & for ſearching and packing of every barrel of Eels, ii. d. and for ſearching and packing of every half barrel of Herring from head to head, i. d. and for every half barrel Eels ſearching and packing, i. d. and for ſearching and packing of every firkin of Herring, if it be needful, ob. And over that, that all and every ſuch gauger, ſearcher, and packer that miſbehaven or offend in any thing concerning the ſaid Offices of gauger, ſearcher and packer, contrary to this Act, and ſo proved before any of the ſaid Mayors, Bailiffs, or Governours of any City, Town, Borough, Market, or any other place within this Realm, where he or they be ſo gaugers, packers, or ſearchers, gauger, packer or ſearcher, ſhall loſe and forfeit his ſaid Office, and the ſame from thenceforth no longer to enjoy, any leaſe, grant or grants thereof made notwithſtanding: And for further puniſhment, to have and ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of xl. days without bail or mainpriſe. Provided always, that the ſaid ſearcher and packer, or any of them, ſhall nothing receive of the ſaid fees by colour of their Office, but only for ſuch Buts, Barrels, half Barrels and Firkins, as by them ſhall hereafter be ſufficiently ſearched and packed, and be not afore ſufficiently packed. CAP. XXVII.

A remedy to avoid deceitful ſleights uſed upon Fuſtians.

PRayen the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That whereas Fuſtians brought from the parts beyond the ſea, unſhorn into this Realm, have been and ſhould be the moſt profitable cloth, for doublets and other wearing clothes, greatly uſed among the common people of this Realm, and longeſt have endured of any thing that have come into the ſame Realm, from the ſaid parts, to that intent, for that the cauſe hath been that ſuch Fuſtians afore this time have been truly wrought and ſhorn with the broad ſhere, and with no other inſtruments, or other deceitful mean occupied upon the ſame; Now ſo it is, that divers perſons, by ſubtilty and undue ſleights and means, have deceivably imagined and contrived inſtruments of iron, with the which irons, in the moſt higheſt and ſecret places of their houſes, they ſtrike and draw the ſaid irons on the ſaid Fuſtians unſhorn: by means whereof they pluck off both the nap and cotton of the ſame Fuſtians, and break commonly both the ground and threeds in ſunder, and after by crafty ſleeking they make the ſame Fuſtians to appear to the common people fine, whole and ſound: and alſo they raiſe up the cotton of ſuch Fuſtians, and then take a light candle and ſet it in the Fuſtian burning, which ſengeth and burneth away the cotton of the ſame Fuſtian, from the one end to the other, down to the hard threeds, in ſtead of ſhering, and after that put them in colour, and ſo ſubtilly dreſs them, that their falſe work cannot be eſpied, without it be by workmen-ſherers of ſuch Fuſtians, or by the wearers of the ſame: and ſo by ſuch ſubtilties, whereas Fuſtians made in doublets, or put to any other uſe, were wont and might endure the ſpace of two years and more, will not endure now whole by the ſpace of four moneths ſcarcely, to the great hurt of the poor commons and ſervingmen of this Realm, to the great damage, loſs and deceit of the Kings true ſubjects, buyers, and wearers of ſuch Fuſtian. For remedy whereof, be it Enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed, by the King our Soveraign Lord, and the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that no ſuch iron or inſtruments, nor any other untrue ſubtile mean or ſleight be from henceforth uſed upon any Fuſtian within this Realm, but only by the broad ſheres, upon forfeiture of xx. s. to be levied for every default of every ſuch perſon or perſons hereafter offending and uſing any ſuch deceivable inſtruments or ſleights as is aforeſaid: The one half of the forfeitures to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half to him or them that will ſue for the ſame forfeitures by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of the Kings Courts of Record, where the ſame may be determined after the courſe of the common Law: and that the defendant in ſuch behalf in no wiſe be admitted to wage his Law, nor that any protection or eſſoin be in the ſame allowable. And over this, be it ordained by the ſaid authority, That the Mayor and Wardens of Shermen of the City of London for the time being, have authority to enter and ſearch the workmanſhip of all manner perſons occupying the broad ſhere, as well Fuſtian as Cloth, and the execution of this preſent Act to be as well of denizens as of foreiners and ſtrangers.

The weight of an Engliſh peny, of an ounce, a pound, a Gallon, and a Buſhel.

WHereas afore this time the King our Soveraign Lord intending the common weal of his people, and to avoid the deceit of weights and meaſures, long time uſed within this his Realm contrary to the Statute of Magna Charta, and of other Statutes thereof made by divers of his noble Progenitors, at his great charge and coſt did to make weights and meaſures of braſs according to the old Standards thereof remaining within his Treaſury. And for that that one weight and one meaſure ſhould be uſed throughout all this his Realm, in avoiding of all fraud and diſcord in that behalf, it was at the laſt Parliament, holden the xiv. day of October, in the xi. year of our Soveraign Lords Reign, ordained, That the ſaid meaſures and weights ſhould be delivered to the Knights and Citizens of every Shires and Cities aſſembled in the ſame Parliament, Boroughs of the five Ports, and certain Burgeſſes of Borough Towns, ſurely by them to be conveyed to certain Boroughs and Towns ſpecified in a ſchedule unto the ſame Act annexed, there to remain for ever, to the intent in the ſame Act more largely declared: which weights and meaſures, upon more diligent examination had ſith the making of the ſaid Statute been approved defective, and not made according to the old Laws & Statutes thereof ordained within the ſaid Realm. Wherefore the King our Soveraign Lord, by the aſſent of his Lords ſpiritual

CAP. VI.

Every Engliſhman ſhall have free recourſe to certain foreign Marts, without exaction to be taken by any Engliſh Fraternity.

TO the diſcreet Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, ſhewed unto your diſcreet wiſdoms, the Merchant-adventurers inhabiting and dwelling in divers parts of this Realm of England out of the City of London, That where they have their paſſage, reſort, courſe and recourſe, with their goods, wares and merchandiſe in divers coaſts and parts beyond the Sea, as well into Spain, Portugal, Britain, Ireland, Normandy, France, Sivile, Venice, Danske, Eaſtland, Friſeland, and other divers and many places, Regions, and Countreys, being in league and amity with the King our Soveraign Lord, there to buy and ſell, and make their exchanges with their ſaid goods, wares, and merchandiſes, according to the law and cuſtom uſed in every of the ſaid regions and places: and there every perſon freely to uſe themſelves to his moſt advantage, without exaction, fine, impoſition, or contribution to be had or taken of them, or of any of them, to, for, or by any Engliſh perſon or perſons: and in ſemblable wiſe they before this time have had, uſed, and of right owen to have and uſe their free paſſage, reſort, and recourſe into the coaſts of Flanders, Holland, Zealand, Brabant, and other places thereto nigh adjoyning, under the obeiſance of the Archduke of Burgoin: In which places the univerſal Marts be commonly kept and holden four times in the year, to the which Marts all Engliſhmen, and divers other Nations in time paſt, have uſed to reſort, there to ſell and utter the commodities of their Countreys, and freely to buy again ſuch things as ſeemed them moſt neceſſary and expedient, for their profit, and the weal of their Countreys and parts that they be come from, till now of late, that by the fellowſhip of the Mercers and other Merchants and Adventurers dwelling and being free within the City of London, by confederacy made among themſelves, of their incharitable and inordinate covetiſe, for their ſingular profit and lucre, contrary to every Engliſhmans liberty, and to the liberty of the ſaid Mart there (which is, That every perſon, of what nation that he be, ſhould have their free liberty, there to buy and ſell, and make their commutations, with their wares, goods, and merchandiſes at their pleaſure) have contrary to all Law, reaſon, charity, right and conſcience, among themſelves, to the prejudice of all Engliſhmen, made an ordinanee and conſtitution, that is to ſay, That no Engliſhman, reſorting to the ſaid Mart, ſhall neither buy ne ſell any goods, wares, or merchandiſes there, except he firſt compound and make fine with the ſaid Fellowſhip of Merchants of London, and their confederates, at their pleaſure, upon pain of forfeiture to the ſaid Fellowſhip of Merchants of London, and to their confederates, of ſuch merchandiſes, goods, or wares, ſo by him bought or ſold there: which fine, impoſition, & exaction at the beginning, when it was firſt taken, was demanded by colour of the fraternity of Thomas Becket Biſhop of Canterbury, at which time the ſaid fine was but of the value of an old noble ſterling: and ſo by colour of ſuch fained holineſs it hath been ſuffered to be taken of a few years paſſed: and after it was increaſed to an C. s. Flemmiſh: and now it is ſo, that the ſaid Fellowſhip and Merchants of London take of every Engliſhman or young Merchant being there, at his firſt coming xl. li. ſterling for a fine, to ſuffer him to buy and ſell his own proper goods, wares and merchandiſes that he hath there: by occaſion whereof all Merchants not being of the ſaid Fellowſhip and Confederacy, withdraw themſelves from the ſaid Marts, whereby the woollen cloth of this Realm, which is one of the greateſt commodities of the ſame, by making whereof the Kings true ſubjects be put in occupation, and the poor people have moſt their living, and alſo other divers commodities of divers and ſeveral parts of this Realm, be not ſold ne uttered, as it was in times paſt; but for lack of utterance of the ſame in divers parts, where ſuch clothes be made, they be conveyed to London, where they be ſold far under the price that they be worth, and that they coſt the makers of the ſame, and at ſome times they be lent to long days, and the money thereof, at divers times, never paid: and over that, the commodities and merchandiſes of thoſe parts, which the ſaid Fellowſhip, Merchants of London and other their confederates bring into this land, is ſold to your ſaid complainants, and other the Kings true ſubjects, at ſo dear and high exceeding price, that the buyer of the ſame cannot live thereupon; by reaſon whereof all the Cities, Towns and Boroughs of this Realm in effect be fallen into great poverty, ruine and decay, and as now in maner without hope of comfort or relief, and the Kings Cuſtoms and Subſidies, and the Navy of the Land greatly decreaſed and miniſhed, and daily they be like more to decay, if due reformation be not had in this behalf. Be it therefore enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that every Engliſhman being the Kings true liege man, from henceforth have free paſſage, reſort, courſe and recourſe into the ſaid coaſts of Flanders, Holland, Zeland, Brabant, & other places thereto nigh adjoyning, under the obeiſance of the ſaid Archduke, to the Marts there, hereafter to be holden, with his or their merchandiſes, goods and wares, there to buy and ſell, & make their exchange freely, at his or their pleaſure, without exaction, fine, impoſition, extortion, or contribution, to be had, levied, taken, or perceived of them or any of them therefore, or by any Engliſh perſon or perſons, to his or their own uſe, or to the uſe of the ſaid Fraternity or Fellowſhip, of any other like (except only x. mark ſterling) and that no perſon Engliſh, as is afore rehearſed, hereafter take to his own uſe, or to the uſe of the ſaid Fraternity or Fellowſhip there, of any other Engliſh perſon, of what eſtate, degree or condition that he be of, ſo alway that he be the King our Soveraign Lords true liege man, any fine, exaction, impoſition, or contribution for his liberty of freedom to buy and ſell goods, wares or merchandiſes, in or at any of the ſaid Marts, more or above the ſaid ſum of x. mark ſterling only, upon pain of forfeiture to our Soveraign Lord for every time that he doth contrary to this Act, xx. li. and alſo to forfeit to the parties ſo grieved in this behalf, x. times ſo much as he contrary to this preſent Act taketh of him: and that the parties ſo grieved ſhall have in this behalf an action of debt for the ſaid forfeiture of ten times in any of the Kings Courts within this Realm, by writ, bill, plaint, or information, and ſuch proceſs to be made in the ſame, as is or ought to be made in or upon an action of debt at the common Law: and the tryal thereof to be had in ſuch Shire, City, or place where the ſaid action is commenced or ſued, and that the defendant in any action be not admitted to wage his Law, nor none eſſoin nor protection be for ſuch defendant admitted or allowed in that behalf.

CAP. VII.

No lay perſon that doth murder his Lord or Maſter, ſhall have his Clergie.

James Grame murdered Richard Tracy his maſter.

No lay perſon which doth purpoſely murder his maſter, or, &c. ſhall have his Clergy.

Where abominable and wilful prepenſed murders be by the Laws of God and natural reaſon forbidden, and are to be eſchewed; yet not the leſs, many & divers unreaſonable and deteſtable perſons, lacking grace, wilfully commit murder, to the high diſpleaſure of God, and contrary to all the Laws abovesaid, and moreover, againſt their natural and obliged duty, wilfully commit prepenſed murder, in ſlaying their Maſter, or their immediate Soveraign, under whom he or they be, or owe obedience, in truſt to eſchew the peril and execution of the Law by the benefit of their Clergy: In hope whereof, of late one James Grame, late of London Yeoman, wilfully aſſented and prepenſed the murder of one Richard Tracy Gentleman, then his maſter, by him and his prepenſed aſſent, the xix. day of February laſt paſt, at Brentwood in the County of Eſſex, murdered and ſlain, to the right perillous enſample of other evil diſpoſed: Wherefore in avoiding of like miſchiefs to enſue, by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, be it Enacted, That the ſaid James Grame, for the murder of the ſaid Richard Tracy his late maſter, be attainted of the ſaid murder as a Felon that hath offended in pety Treaſon, and that the ſame James for the ſame murder, ſhall be drawn and hanged in ſuch manner and form, as by the Law of this Land hath been uſed in ſuch caſes, as perſons being no Clerks, doing like murder, have, or ought to be puniſhed, any priviledge of his Clergy, or his demand of the ſame, notwithſtanding. Alſo be it ordained by the ſaid authority, that if any lay perſon hereafter prepenſedly murder their Lord, Maſter, or Soveraign immediate, that they hereafter be not admitted to their Clergy; and after conviction or attainder of any ſuch perſon ſo hereafter offending, had after the courſe of the Law, that the ſame perſon be put in execution, as though he were no Clerk. Anno decimo nono Henrici ſeptimi.

HENRICUS Dei gratia Rex Angliæ & Franciæ, & Dominus Hiberniæ, Vicecomiti Eſſex ſalutem. Præcipimus tibi firmiter injungentes, quod in ſingulis locis infra Ballivam tuam, tam intra libertates, quam extra, ubi magis expediens videris, publicas Proclamationes quorundam Statutorum & Ordinationum in ultimo Parliamento noſtro, auctoritate ejuſdem Parliamenti editorum, fieri facias in forma ſequenti.

THe King our Soveraign Lord Henry the ſeventh after the Conqueſt, by the grace of God King of England and of France, and Lord of Ireland, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the ſixteenth day of January, in the nineteenth year of his Reign, to the honour of God and holy Church, and for the common weal and profit of this his Realm, and by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame Parliament, hath done to be made certain Statutes and Ordinances in manner and form following.

CAP. I.

What he ſhall forfeit which doth not attend upon the King in his own perſon, when he is in perſon in Wars.

St.11 H.7.18.

WHere in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the xi. year of the King our Soveraign Lords Reign, for good and reaſonable conſiderations in an Act of the ſaid Parliament contained, it was ordained by the ſame, that every perſon and perſons being within this Realm of England or Wales, having offices, fees, or annuities of the Kings gifts and grants, and did not give their attendance upon the Kings Highneſs, when he ſhould fortune to go in Wars in his perſon, in their perſons, as their duty bindeth them in that behalf, that then they and every of them, making thereof default (the Kings ſpecial licence not had, or elſe the ſaid perſon or perſons having ſuch unfeined ſickneſs, letting, or diſeaſe, that he might not in his perſon come to do his perſonal attendance and ſervice after the form aforeſaid) that he or they after due proof of the ſame ſhould forfeit and leeſe their ſaid offices, fees and annuities, and the ſame to ſtand void at the Kings pleaſure, as in the ſame Act more at large it is contained. And foraſmuch as divers and many perſons, having of the Kings gifts and grants many Honours, Lordſhips, Caſtles, Manors, Lands, Tenements, and other Poſſeſſions and Hereditaments, by reaſon whereof they are more bound to give their attendance upon the Kings moſt Royal perſon in his ſaid wars, then other rehearſed perſons having but fees, offices, and annuities for term of life, as well for the defence of his moſt noble perſon, as for the defence of this his Realm, which was at that time by overſight omitted and left out of the ſaid Act. Be it therefore enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed, by the advice of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that every perſon or perſons having or occupying, or that hereafter ſhall have or occupy any Honours, Caſties, Lordſhips, Manors, Lands, Tenements, and other poſſeſſions and hereditaments, by reaſon and vertue of the Letters Patents of the King our Soveraign Lord that now is, now given, granted, and made, or hereafter to be given, or granted, or made by our ſaid Soveraign Lord, and give not their daily attendance in their perſons upon his Highneſs, when he ſhall fortune to go in wars, within this his Realm, or elſe for any urgent or any other reaſonable cauſes, in his perſon, for the honour or ſurety of the ſame his perſon, and the defence of this his Realm, and againſt his enemies and rebels within the ſame Realm or without, for the repreſſing and ſubduing of them and their malicious purpoſe, and well and truly according to the duty of their allegiance to ſerve the King in his ſaid journey and voyage, and to give their attendance upon his grace in the ſame, and not for to depart without his ſpecial licence in writing under the Kings ſign Manual or Signet, or under his great Seal, or privy Seal, or elſe until after the general Proclamation be made, that they ſhall depart, or elſe the ſaid perſon or perſons having ſuch unfeigned ſickneſſes, letting, or diſeaſe, that he or they may not in their perſons come to do their perſonal attendance and ſervice, and that duly proved, that then all ſuch Letters Patents, gifts and grants, and all things in them contained be utterly from henceforth adnulled, void, of none effect, and at the Kings pleaſure. Provided, that all ſuch perſons ſo giving attendance, ſhall have the Kings wages from the time of coming from their houſe toward the King, when they come to the King, and from the King home again at the time of their departing, after the rate of xx. miles for a day, and while they be with the Kings grace to have alſo the Kings wages. Provided alway, that this Act extend to no ſpiritual perſon, nor to the Maſter of the Rolls, nor to none other Officer, and Clerks of the Chancery, Juſtice of either Benches, Barons of the Kings Eſchequer, and other Officers and Clerks of the ſaid places, the Kings Atturneys and Solicitors, and the Sergeants at Law, nor to the Clerk of the Kings Council for the time being, nor to any perſon being within the age of xxi. years, nor to any Grant or Patent of any Ward, or Idiot, or cuſtody of the ſame, nor to any heirs females, inherited by reaſon of any ſuch Grants. Provided alſo that it extend not to any Patents, nor Lands, or Tenements compriſed in the ſame, the which Patents make mention, that any Grant is made by the King of ſuch Lands of retinue, ſum or ſums of money contained in the ſame Letters Patents. 4 El. Dyer f. 211.

Whoſoever doth not attend upon the King being in perſon in wars, ſhall loſe ſuch lands as he hath of the Kings gift.

From what time and until what time every ſuch attendant in wars ſhall be paid wages. To what perſons this Statute ſhall not extend.

CAP. II.

No cuſtom ſhall be paid for good Bowſtaves brought into this Realm, until the next Parliament. Exp.

CAP. III.

The Statute of 11 H. 7. 24. which giveth an Attaint in certain caes, continued until the next Parliament. Exp.

CAP. IV.

No man ſhall ſhoot in a Croſs-bow without the Kings Licence, except he be a Lord, or have two hundred mark land. 3 H. 8. 13. 6 H. 8. 13. 25 H. 8. 17. & 33 H. 8. 6.

CAP. V.

Gold or Silver ſhall not be carried into Ireland, nor any Iriſh money brought into England.

The King our Soveraign Lord ſeeing evidently that his coin, and ſpecially of ſilver, is ſore impaired, as well by clipping thereof, as by counterfeiting of the ſame, and by bringing into this his Realm of the coin of Ireland, by occaſion whereof great rumour and variance daily increaſeth among his ſubjects, for taking and refuſing of the ſame: for ceaſing and pacifying whereof, and for the univerſal wealth of this his Realm, by the advice and aſſent of his Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted, that all manner of gold of the coins of a Soveraign, half Soveraign, Ryal, half Ryal, and the fourth part of a Ryal, the Angel, half angel, and every of them, being Gold, whole and weight, ſhall go and be current in payment through all this his Realm for the ſum that they were coined for. And alſo as well all manner groats of Engliſh coin, and of the coin of other Lands now current in this Realm for groats, or for iv. d. being ſilver, and not clipped, miniſhed, or otherwiſe impaired, except reaſonable wearing (albeit they be cracked:) all manner of half groats, or pence of ii. d. of Engliſh coin, or of the coin of other Lands, now current in this Realm for half groats, or ii. d. not clipped, miniſhed, or otherwiſe impaired being ſilver (howbeit they be cracked) ſhall in like wiſe go and be current through all the ſame Realm, for the ſum as they were coined for. And over that, all manner of pence being ſilver, and having the print of the Kings coin, ſhall have courſe and be current for payment, as well to us in all our receipts, as to all our receivers, and to all other Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and all their receivers, and to all other within this our Realm, without any manner refuſe or contradiction, except only pence bearing divers ſpurs, or the mullet betwixt the bars of the croſs, and thoſe pence ſo bearing the print of the ſpur or the mullet, to have courſe for half d. and not above. And if any perſon hereafter refuſe any coin afore rehearſed, to take it in payment after effect of the tenor of this Act, he that ſo refuſeth it, ſhall be compelled by the Mayor, Sheriff, Bailiff, Conſtable, or chief Officer or Governour of the Town or place where any ſuch payment ſhall be refuſed, to accept and take the ſame payment, and furthermore to be impriſoned, or otherwiſe puniſhed by the diſcretion of the ſaid Mayor, Sheriff, Conſtable, or other chief Officer or Governour afore rehearſed. And if the ſaid Sheriff, Bailiff, Conſtable, or other chief Officer or Governour, refuſe to take any ſuch coin in payment as it is above rehearſed, that then he ſo refuſing the ſaid payment, to be compelled by the Juſtice of the peace of the ſame County, where ſuch payment ſhall be ſo refuſed, to accept and take the ſaid payment: and he ſo refuſing the ſame, to be further puniſhed for the ſaid refuſing, by the diſcretion of the ſame Juſtice. And alſo it is ordained by the ſaid authority, that all manner of groats, and half groats, or pence of ii. d. as well Engliſh coin, as coin of other lands, clipped, miniſhed, or otherwiſe impaired, except reaſonable wearing, ſhall not go nor be in any wiſe current for payment within this Realm, but utterly to be refuſed and forſaken in payment from henceforth: and that notwithſtanding it ſhall be lawful to any perſon, having any ſuch groats or pence of two pence clipped or miniſhed, to bring the ſame to the Kings Mint, there to be changed after the cuſtom of the ſame Mint, or convert the ſame into plate, bullion, or otherwiſe ſell or imploy it to his moſt profit and advantage within this Realm, any other Act or Acts to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And in eſchewing and avoiding of ſuch clipping in time to come, the King our Soveraign Lord, by the advice of his Council, hath cauſed to be made new coins of groats, and pence of two pence, and that every piece of the ſame coins ſhall have a circle about the utter part thereof. And alſo that all manner of gold hereafter to be coined within this his Realm, ſhall have the whole ſcripture about every piece of the ſame gold, without lacking of any part thereof, to the intent that his ſubjects hereafter may have perfect knowledge by the circle or ſcripture when the ſame coins be clipped or impaired. And alſo it is enacted by the ſaid authority, that if the Warden or Controller of the Kings Mint, hereafter duly execute not their office in ſearching the ſame coin, and ſee that it be made perfect in form as is aforeſaid before that it paſs from the Mint; that then the ſame Warden and Controller ſhall forfeit their ſaid Office, and make fine for the ſame at the Kings pleaſure. Moreover it is Enacted by the ſaid authority, that no manner perſon ſhall carry, nor convey, nor cauſe to be carried out of this Realm, any bullion, plate, or coin of gold and ſilver into Ireland, over and above the ſum of vi. s. iv. d. nor convey any ſuch bullion, plate, or coin into any ſhip, boat, or other veſſels, upon pain to forfeit the ſaid bullion, plate, or coin, and to have impriſonment, and make fine and ranſom at the Kinge will: and in like wiſe that no manner perſon bring nor convey, nor cauſe to be brought nor conveyed any manner of coin of gold or ſilver above the ſum of iii. s. iv. d. of the coin of Ireland into this Realm, upon pain of forfeiture of all the ſame coin above the ſaid ſum of iii. s. iv. d. of the coin of Ireland into this Realm, upon pain of forfeiture of all the ſame coin above the ſaid ſum of iii. s. iv. d. ſo brought into this Realm, and to have impriſonment, and make fine and ranſom at the Kings will: and that it ſhall be lawful for every of the Kings ſubjects to take and ſeiſe all ſuch money of the coin of Ireland, hereafter to be brought or conveyed into this Realm, over and above the ſaid ſum of iii. s. iv. d. and to bring it to the Kings Mint, there to leave the ſame to the Kings uſe; and every perſon that ſo ſhall bring any ſuch Iriſh money to the ſaid Mint, ſhall have the value of the one half of all ſuch Iriſh money by him ſo brought to the ſaid Mint, at the ſame time delivered to him to his own uſe, by the Maſter of the Mint for the time being.

The coins of gold and ſilver current within this Realm ſhall ſo continue for the ſums that they were coined for.

What pence ſhall be current within this Realm, what not.

The penalty of thoſe that refuſe to receive the coins in payment.

The penalty if a chief Officer refuſe to take any of the ſaid coins in payment.

Money clipped or diminiſhed, ſhall not be current in payment.

How any perſon may uſe money that is clipped or diminiſhed. St. 9 Ed. 3. 3. 17 R. 2. 1.

The whole ſcripture ſhall be coined about the gold coined.

No money, plate or bullion, ſhall be carried into Ireland above vi. s. viii. d. St. 9 Ed. 3. 1. 5 R. 2. 2. 2 H. 4. 5.

No Iriſh coin of gold or ſilver ſhall be brought into England.

CAP. VI.

Where Pewter and Braſs ſhall be ſold: The marking, weighing, and ſearching of them.

Humbly and lamentably ſhewen and complain unto your moſt abundant Grace, your humble ſubjects the Pewterers and Braſiers of your City of London and York, and of all other places of this your Realm: That where many ſimple and evil diſpoſed perſons of this your Realm of England, uſing the ſaid Crafts, daily go about this your Realm from village, from Town, and from houſe to houſe, as well in Woods and Forreſts, as in other places to buy Pewter and Braſs; and that knowing thieves and other pickers that ſteal as well Pewter and Braſs belonging to your Highneſs, and under your mark, and to the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, as to other your ſubjects of this your Realm, bring ſuch ſtollen veſſels unto them in ſuch hid places to ſell, and ſell it for little or nought, and about they bring it into privy places, or into corners of Cities or Towns, and there ſell much part of it to ſtrangers, which carry it over the ſea by ſtealth: Alſo the ſaid perſons ſo going about, and divers other uſing the ſaid crafts, uſe to make new veſſels, and to mix good mettal and bad together, and make it nought, and ſell it for good ſtuff, where indeed the ſtuff and mettal thereof is not worth the fourth part that it is ſold for, to the great hurt, deceit and loſs of your ſubjects. Alſo divers perſons uſing the ſaid crafts, have deceivable and untrue beams and ſcales, that one of them will ſtand even with twelve pound weight at one end, againſt a quarter of a pound at the other end, to the ſingular profit of themſelves, and to the great deceit and loſs of your ſubjects, buyers and ſellers with them. For reformation of the premiſes, it would pleaſe your Highneſs of your moſt abundant grace, with the advice of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, to enact and eſtabliſh, that no perſon or perſons uſing the ſaid crafts of Pewterers and Braſiers, from henceforth ſhall ſell, or change any Pewter or Braſs, new or old, at any place within your Realm, but only in open Fairs or Markets, or in their dwelling houſes, except they be deſired by the ſaid buyers of ſuch ware, upon pain of forfeiture to our Soveraign Lord the King for every ſuch default x.li. Alſo that by the ſame authority it may be enacted and eſtabliſhed, that no perſon, ne perſons of what condition or degree ſoever he or thsy be, from henceforth within the ſaid City of London and York, or without, either caſt or work any Pewter veſſel or Braſs in any place or places within this your Realm, but that it be as good fine mettal as the Pewter and Braſs caſt and wrought after the perfect goodneſs of the ſame within the City of London, and by the Statutes of the ſame ought to be, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch Pewter and Braſs ſo caſt and wrought, or worſe Pewter or Braſs then ought to be wrought in the ſame Cities: the one half of every ſuch forfeiture to be to the uſe of your Highneſs, and the other half to the uſe of the finders thereof. Provided alway, that this forfeiture in no wiſe ſtretch, ne extend to Braſs or Pewter, being in the poſſeſſion of any perſon other then the workers of the ſame, or ſuch as have the ſame to ſell, or being of the crafts or myſteries. Alſo that it may by the ſame authority be enacted and eſtabliſhed, that no manner perſon or perſons, of what degree or condition ſoever he or they be, from henceforth make no hollow wares of Pewter, that is to ſay, ſalts and pots that are made of Pewter called ley mettal, but that it may be after the aſſiſe of Pewter ley mettal, wrought within the City of London: And that the makers of ſuch wares ſhall mark the ſame wares with ſeveral marks of their own, to the intent that the makers of ſuch wares ſhall avow the ſame wares by them (as abovesaid) to be wrought: and that all and every ſuch wares, not ſufficiently made and wrought, and not marked in form aboveſaid, found in the poſſeſſion of the ſame maker or ſeller, to be forfeited: and if the ſame ware be ſold, the ſaid maker to forfeit the value of the ſame ware ſo unlawfully wrought and ſold: the one half of the ſaid wares, or the value thereof to be to the uſe of your Highneſs, and the other half to be to the uſe of the finder or finders, or ſearchers thereof. And that it may be by the ſame authority enacted and eſtabliſhed, that if any perſon or perſons hereafter uſing buying and ſelling of Pewter or Braſs, that hereafter occupy any deceivable or falſe beams or weights of the ſaid wares, and every ſuch perſon or perſons, uſing or occupying ſuch deceivable and untrue beams or weights, to forfeit xx. s. the one half to the King, and the other half to the party that therefore ſhall ſue by action of debt: And that in the ſaid action, no protection nor eſſoin ſhall be allowed, and alſo the ſaid party ſo offending ſhall forfeit his beams to him that ſhall ſeiſe it; and if the ſaid offender or offenders be not ſufficient to pay the ſaid ſum or ſums by them ſo forfeited, that then it ſhall be lawful to the Mayors, Bailiffs, or other head Officers of ſuch place or places, where any ſuch offender or offenders ſhall be found, to put them in the Stocks, and them ſo to keep till the next market day next adjoyning, and in the market place to put them on the Pillory all the market time. And furthermore, that it be lawful by the ſaid authority, that the Maſter and Wardens of the ſaid Craft of Pewterers, within every City and Borough of this Realm where ſuch Wardens are, and where no ſuch Wardens are, the head Officers and Governours of the ſame City or Borough, to appoint a certain perſon moſt expert in the knowledge of the ſame, to make ſearch within the ſaid Cities or Boroughs where they dwell. And over this the Juſtices of Peace within every Shire, at the general Seſſion holden at Michaelmas, ſhall aſſign and appoint two certain perſons, having experience therein, to make ſearch in the premiſſes in every part of that Shire, as well within Franchiſe as without, ſaving in Cities or Boroughs where ſearchers be appointed by yͤ heads & governours of yͤ ſame: & that of all ſuch unlawful pewter or braſs, as yͤ ſaid ſearchers ſhal find, yͤ one half ſhal be to yͤ uſe of your grace, & the other half to yͤ ſaid ſearchers: and yͤ in yͤ default of the ſaid Maſters & Wardens of the ſaid occupations, not ſearching in form as is aforeſaid, and whereby that any ſuch unlawful mettal is caſt or made, or unlawful weights uſed,

CAP. X.

The Sheriff ſhall have the keeping of the Common Gaol and the Priſoners therein.

BE it ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that every Sheriff within every County within this Realm of England, have the cuſtody, rule, keeping, and charge, from the quindecim Paſche next coming, of every of the Kings common Gaols, Priſons, and Priſoners in the ſame, in every of the ſaid Counties where he is Sheriff, during the time of his Office, except all Gaols, whereof any perſon or perſons ſpiritual or temporal, or body-corporate, have the keeping of eſtate of inheritance, or by ſucceſſion. And from the ſame quindecim of Paſche next coming, that all Letters Patents made to any perſon or perſons for term of life or lives, or for term of years, of the keeping of the ſaid Gaols, and of any Conſtableſhips of any Caſtle, wherein any ſuch common Gaol is by the King our Soveraign Lord, or any other Kings of this Land, and every thing in the ſaid Letters Patents contained, be from henceforth repealed, adnulled, void, and of no force, ne effect in the Law: And that every ſuch Sheriff, from the ſaid quindecim of Paſche be charged and chargeable with the ſaid Gaols, Priſons, and the priſoners remaining in the ſame. And over that where divers and many perſons, for Treaſon, Murder, Robberies, and other Felonies before this time have been taken, ſome for ſuſpection of the ſame deeds, and ſome upon inditements, and thereupon brought unto the ſame Gaols and Priſons, and ſometime remained in the keeping of the perſons that ſo arreſted them for the ſaid cauſes, and by colour of negligence, ſubtilly and craftily, and oftentimes for favour, mede, affection, or corruption, ſuffered the ſaid offenders to eſcape, as if it had been by negligence, to the overt and expreſs impediment of Juſtice, and execution of the Kings Law, ordered for the puniſhment of ſuch offenders: and when ſuch eſcapes have been found before Juſtices, having authority to enquire thereof, and thereupon the parties convicted, or yielded themſelves to make fine for the ſame, ſmall fines have been uſed to be ſet in thoſe cauſes, to the little dread and fear, & great imboldning of the ſaid offenders and miſdoers: by mean whereof great and errant Felons, and hainous Murderers, oftentimes have by negligence eſcaped, ſo that neither they nor the keepers of them from whom they eſcaped, hitherto have not been puniſhed according to their demerits. Be it therefore enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed by the ſaid authority of this preſent Parliament, that for every negligent eſcape hereafter from any Sheriff, having the keeping of any Gaol, or from any Conſtable of Caſtle, or other being keeper of any Gaols, where ſuch priſoners accuſtomably have been and ſhall be kept, of perſons indited of High Treaſon, being in their keeping, that no leſs fine be ſet or made for every ſuch eſcape, then C. mark, and more by the diſcretion of the Juſtices that ſhall aſſeſs ſuch fines: and for every eſcape of perſons eſcaping being in their keeping for ſuſpection of High Treaſon, no leſs fine to be ſet ne made then xl. li. and for every eſcape of perſons indited of Murder, or petit Treaſon, xx. li. at the leaſt, and more by the diſcretion of the Juſtices that ſo ſhall aſſeſs ſuch fines: and for every eſcape of perſons ſuſpected of Murder or petit Treaſon, x. li. or more, by the diſcretion of the Juſtices that ſo ſhall aſſeſs ſuch fines: and for every perſon eſcaping, being in their keeping, indicted of Felony, other then Murder or Treaſon, x. li. and for every perſon ſuſpected of felony, other then murder or treaſon, as is aforeſaid, to forfeit for every ſuch eſcape C. s. or more, by the diſcretion of the Juſtices, after the manner and quantity of their demerits, ſaving to every perſon or perſons, their heirs & their ſucceſſors, ſuch ſufficient & lawful right & title to any ſuch eſcapes & fines for the ſame, or to be quit of ſuch eſcapes, or of any other eſcapes, as they have or ought to have at ẏ time of making this Act: this Act or any clauſe contained in ẏ ſame in any thing notwithſtanding. And if any perſon hereafter have any priſoner in his keeping, arreſted for ſuſpection of felony, treaſon, or murder, & that perſon ẏ ſo is arreſted, eſcape by negligent keeping before ẏ he be brought to ẏ gaol, that perſon from whom he

he ſo eſcaped, ſhall forfeit for every perſon that ſo doth eſcape, ſuch fines as ſhall be ſet by diſcretion of the Juſtices that ſhall have authority to aſſeſs ſuch fines, as the cauſe will require, and the ſame forfeiture to go to them that be intituled to have ſuch forfeitures the time of making this Act. And moreover be it Enacted and ordained by the ſaid authority, that all Offices of Conſtables of Caſtles, Fortreſſes, or other places, and all other Offices within this Realm of England or Wales, not requiring actual exerciſe in any of the ſame Offices by them to whom ſuch grant of Offices is made or granted, or by their deputy or deputies, granted by the King our Soveraign Lord that now is, to any perſon or perſons for term of life or lives, and Letters Patents of the ſame, ſhall be from the Feaſt of Paſche next coming utterly repealed, adnulled, void, and of no force ne effect in the Law. And this Act as concerning the penalties aforeſaid, and every of them, to endure to the next Parliament and no longer. Provided alway, that neither the Sheriff of the County of Surrey for the time being, nor any other Sheriff have any rule, cuſtody or governance of the Gaols of the Kings Bench and Marſhalſey, or of either of them, by reaſon or by authority of the ſaid Act: but that Sir Thomas Brandon Knight, and Sir John Digby Knight, and every of them have and enjoy the cuſtody and keeping of the ſame Gaols, according unto their ſeveral grants to them made, this Act notwithſtanding. Provided alway, that the ſame Act of reſumption, or any articles therein contained, extend not, ne be in any wiſe hurtful or prejudicial to Edward Courtney Earl of Devonſhire, for the avoiding and repealing of any Letters Patents or grant to him made by the King our Soveraign Lord, of and for the Conſtableſhip of the Caſtle of Reſtermel, otherwiſe called Reſtormin, in the County of Cornwall; but that ſuch Letters Patents or grant of the ſame Office, be of as great force, ſtrength and effect, and to the ſaid Earl as available, as they ſhould or might have been, if the ſaid Act of reſumption had never been had ne made. Provided alway that this preſent Act of reſumption, or any other made or to be made in this preſent Parliament, extend not, ne in any wiſe be hurtful or prejudicial unto any manner of grant, made by the King our Soveraign Lord by his Letters Patents to John Morgan, of or for the Parkerſhip of yͤ Park of Carlion, with the profits of the ſame within the Lordſhip of Uſke of Southwales: but that the ſaid Letters Patents, and every thing in them contained, be from henceforth good and effectual to the ſaid John, according to the tenour and purport of the ſame, the foreſaid Act or Acts in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. XI.

The penalties for keeping of Buckſtalls, ſtalking and taking of Herons.

The penalty for keeping of Deer-hayes or Buckſtalls.

The penalty for ſtalking or cauſing another to ſtalk at a Deer without licence.

The penalty for taking of young Herons out of the neſt.

Two Juſtices of Peace may examine any perſons ſuſpected, and puniſh them.

Foraſmuch as it is well underſtood and known, that the greateſt deſtruction of red Deer and fallow within this Realm in time paſt, hath been and yet is with nets called Deer-hayes, and Buckſtals, and ſtalking with beaſts, to the great diſpleaſure of our Soveraign Lord the King, and of all the Lords and other Noblemen within this his Realm, having Forreſts, Chaſes or Parks in their poſſeſſion, rule or keeping, ſo that if the ſaid nets or ſtalking ſhould unlawfully be uſed and occupied in any time coming, as they have been in time paſt, the moſt part of the Forreſts, Chaſes, and Parks of this Realm ſhould be therewith deſtroyed. Be it therefore eſtabliſhed and enacted by the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that any perſon ſpiritual or temporal, having no Park, Chaſe nor Forreſt of their own, keep, nor cauſe for to be kept any Nets called Deer-hayes, or Buckſtalls, by the ſpace of a moneth next after the Proclamation of this Act made: upon pain of forfeiture for every moneth that he or they keep or cauſe to be kept the ſame Nets, Hayes or Buckſtalls, xl. li. And that no perſon from henceforth ſtalk, or cauſe any other perſon to ſtalk with any buſh or beaſts to any Deer, being in any Park, Chaſe, Forreſt, or without, but if it be within his own ground, Chaſe, Forreſt or Park, without licence of the owner, maſter of the game, or keeper of the ſame ground, Chaſe, Forreſt or Park, upon pain of forfeiture for every time that he or they ſo ſtalketh, x. li. And furthermore, that no perſon ne perſons without his own ground ſlea, take, or cauſe to be taken by mean of craft or engine, any Herons, without it be with hawking, or with long bow, upon pain of forfeiture for every Heron taken or ſlain vi. s. viii. d. and that no perſon or perſons without his or their own ground, take any young Herons out of the neſt without licence of the owner of the ground where the ſaid neſt is, upon pain of forfeiture for every Heron ſo taken out of the neſt x. s. and that every man that will, may and ſhall be admitted to ſue for any of the ſaid forfeitures by action of debt, and like proceſs to be had and made therein, as in other actions of debt at the making of this Act and that the defendant be not admitted to tender nor to do his law in any ſuch action, nor any eſſoin nor protection to be allowed for the defendant in the ſame: and that two Juſtices of Peace in their Seſſions ſhall have authority to call before them any perſon ſuſpected of the premiſes, and to their diſcretion to examine them in the premiſes. And if by their examination the party ſo examined be found in default contrary to the premiſes, that then he ſo found in default to be committed to priſon, till he have found ſurety for payment for the ſame forfeitures to the King. And that thoſe Juſtices that ſo examine them, ſhall have the tenth part of every ſuch forfeiture for their labour in that behalf.

CAP. XIII.

Iurors impanelled to inquire of Riots, and the Iſſues returned upon them. The puniſhment of Maintainers, whereby a Riot is not found.

Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the Tueſday the morrow next after All-Souls day, the xiii. year of the Reign of King Henry the fourth, among other things it was Enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed, that if any riot, aſſembly or rout of people againſt the Law, were made in any part of the Realm, that the Juſtices of the Peace, three or two of them at the leaſt, and the Sheriff or Underſheriff of the County where ſuch riot, aſſembly, or rout ſhould be done, after the ſame Statute, ſhould come with the power of the Shire (if need ſhould be) to arreſt them, and them ſhould arreſt, and the ſame Juſtices and Sheriff or Underſheriff, ſhould have power to record that which they ſhould find ſo done in their preſence againſt ye Law, and yt by the record of the ſame Juſtices & Sheriff, or Underſheriff the ſame treſpaſſers & miſdoers ſhould be convicted in manner & form as it is contained in the Statute of forcible entries: with divers other articles touching and concerning the premiſes, as in the ſame Statute made the ſaid xiii. year more plainly at large it appeareth, which Statute is thought good and neceſſary: wherefore by the advice and aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, Be it therefore ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted, that the ſaid Act made in the ſaid xiii. year of King Henry the fourth, concerning riots, aſſemblies, and routs of people, and all & every article and articles compriſed in the ſame, and alſo all other Statutes before this time made concerning the puniſhment of riotors, at the time of the making of this Act being in force, from henceforth ſtand in their force, and be duly put in execution, after the tenors and purports of the ſame. And foraſmuch as in the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid xiii. year, it is not expreſſed of what ſufficiency the Jurors impanelled ſhould be, or what iſſues they ſhould loſe if they appear not, nor no mention therein made of any puniſhment of the maintainers & embracers of the Jurors that ſo ſhall be impanelled, ſhould have for their miſdemeanors, if any be: It is therefore furthermore enacted by the ſaid authority in this preſent Parliament, that if any riot, rout, or unlawful aſſembly be committed and done at any time after the firſt day of May next coming, within this Realm of England, that the Sheriff having a precept directed to him, ſhall return xxiv. perſons dwelling within the Shire where ſuch riot, rout, or unlawful aſſembly ſhall be ſo committed and done, whereof every of them ſhall have lands and tenements within the ſame Shire to the yearly value of xx. s. of Charter land or freehold, or xxvi. s. viii. d. of copyhold, or of both, over and above all charges, for to inquire of the ſaid riot, rout, or unlawful aſſembly. And he ſhall return upon every perſon, ſo by him impanelled, in iſſues at the firſt day, xx. s. and at the ſecond day xl. s. if that they appear not, and be ſworn to inquire of the premiſes at the firſt day. And if default be found in the Sheriff or Underſheriff, for returning of other perſons, not being of the ſaid ſufficiency, or return not iſſues in form aforeſaid, that then the ſaid Sheriff ſhall forfeit to our Soveraign Lord the King for either xx. li. And if the ſaid riot, rout or unlawful aſſembly be not found by the ſaid Jury, by reaſon of any maintenance or embracery of the ſaid Jurors, that then the ſame Juſtices and the Sheriff or Underſheriff over and above all ſuch Certificate that they muſt, and be bound to make, according to the ſaid Statute made the ſaid xiii. year, ſhall in the ſame Certificate certifie the names of the maintainers and embracers in that behalf, if any be, with their miſdemeanors that they know, upon pain of every of the ſaid Juſtices and Sheriff or Underſheriff to forfeit xx. li. if the ſame Juſtices and Sheriff or Underſheriff have no reaſonable excuſe for non certifying of the ſame: which Certificate ſo made, ſhall be of like force and effect in the Law, as if the matter contained in the ſame were duly found by the verdict of xii. men. And every perſon duly proved to be a maintainer or embracer of the ſame, ſhall forfeit to our ſaid Soveraign Lord xx. li. and as well the ſame maintainers as the embracers ſhall be committed to ward, there to remain by the diſcretion of the Juſtices.

A Confirmation of part of the Statute of 11 H. 7. 7. 11. and a repeal of the reſidue.

The inconveniences which have enſued to the Shearmen of Norwich by the Statute of 11 H.7.11.

The ſeveral practiſes of the Wardens of worſted-ſhearers in Norwich.

PRayen the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, that whereas the City of Norwich is an ancient City, and in the ſame City without time of mind among other crafts hath been uſed a certain craft called Shearmans-craft, and the artificers of the ſame have alway uſed by the ſame time, to ſhear as well worſteds, ſtamins and fuſtians, as all other woollen cloth: and all apprentices of the ſame craft have been taken and bound to Shearmans-craft only, and by reaſon thereof they have had and enjoyed their liberties and freedom in their occupation by the name of the Shearmans-craft-general, and none otherwiſe; and there have every year uſed within the ſaid City to be choſen and ſworn two Wardens of the ſame craft, and all defaults by the ſaid Wardens in their craft found, to be preſented before the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, and the offendors in that behalf to be puniſhed according to the cuſtom of the ſame City; till now of late time divers perſons for their ſingular profit, contrary to the common weal of the ſaid City, feigning to have a craft of worſted ſhearing, ſeparate from the ſaid craft of ſhearmans-craft, ſurmitted a bill into the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the xiv. day of October, the xi. year of the Reign of our Soveraign Lord the King that now is, by force of which pretended bill, it was in the ſaid Parliament enacted and ordained, That from thenceforth no man ſhould take upon them to ſhear worſteds within the ſaid City, except he had been apprentice to the ſaid occupation of worſted-ſhearing, by the ſpace of ſeven years, or ſuch other as the maſters of the ſaid occupation within the ſaid City, for the time being, approving their cunning, with the advice of the Mayor for the time being in the ſaid City will admit. And furthermore in the end of the ſaid Act it was provided, That the ſaid occupation of worſted-ſhearing ſhall not make, nor do to be made, any ordinance concerning the ſaid occupation among themſelves, but ſuch as the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, with his brethren Aldermen, ſhall think neceſſary and profitable for the weal of the Kings ſubjects, as more plainly in the ſaid Act amongſt other things doth appear. It is ſo, that ſith the making of this Act, by colour of the ſame, the worſted-ſhearmen within the ſaid City within themſelves, without advice or conſent of the Mayor of the ſaid City, have choſen Wardens of worſted-ſhearing, and ſeparated the ſame pretended craft from the foreſaid craft called ſhear-mans craft; contrary to the liberties and good cuſtoms of the ſaid City in time paſſed, uſed and approved: and over that the ſaid pretended Wardens, with their Company to them confedered, divers and many times aſſembled and made Ordinances among themſelves, contrary to the common weal of the ſaid City, without any advice of the Mayor of the ſaid City, intending to bring the ſhearing of worſteds into few mens hands, and to inhance the price of ſhearing of worſted at their pleaſure, in ſo much that they will not admit to ſhearing of worſteds but certain perſons, where many other within the ſaid City be as perfect, and have as great cunning in the ſaid ſhearing of worſteds, as they the ſaid pretended Wardens daily do ſuffer to ſhear, have: and will not admit any man to the ſhear- of worſteds, though he have ſufficient cunning therein, without he will compound with them, and make great and importable fines: By force whereof, divers and many of the ſhearmen, lately inhabitants of the ſaid City, be departed out of the City into the Countrey, and ſo divers and many houſes with the ſaid City now be unoccupied and decayed, and daily more are like to be, to the great deſolation of the ſaid City, and alſo to the impoveriſhing of the merchants buyers of the ſaid worſteds within the ſaid

City, whereby the great weal and proſperity of the ſaid City ſtandeth, and the inhabitants of the ſame ſupported. In conſideration of all which premiſſes, it may pleaſe the King our Sovereign Lord, of his moſt abundant grace, and for the great zeal his Grace hath to the univerſal weal of his ſubjects in this his Realm, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, to ordain, eſtabliſh, and enact, that the ſaid Act made the xiiij. day of October, the xi. year aforeſaid, in every thing touching and concerning the ſaid Worſted-ſhearing, or the ſaid pretended craft of Worſted-ſhearing onely, be utterly void, repealed, adnulled, and of no force ne effect. Provided alway, that the reſidue of the foreſaid Act concerning the ſetting or putting, taking or receiving of Apprentices for all the Citizens and inhabitants within the ſaid City of Norwich, may ſtand in his full ſtrength and effect, in ſuch form as in the ſaid Act is expreſſed and contained, this preſent Act notwithſtanding.

So much of the Statute of 11 H. 7. 11. as concerneth the taking of Apprentices confirmed, and the reſidue touching Worſted-ſhearers repealed.

CAP. XVIII.

The penalty of thoſe which take impoſition of Boats upon Severn.

PRayen the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, that where time out of mind, Merchants, Victuallers, and all other your liege people of this your Realm, at their pleaſure have had and uſed free courſe and paſſage through and upon your River and Water of Severn, within this your Realm, with Ships, Trows, Boats, and all other their Veſſels, to carry and convey their merchandiſes, victuals, and other goods, from Town to Town, and from place to place, without interruption, trouble, vexation, let, or diſturbance, and without any thing therefore paying or giving, until of late times divers Merchants and others of this your Realm of England, were by divers and certain miſruled perſons inhabited in the Foreſt of Dean, and other places to the ſaid River adjoyning, wrongfully let, vexed, and interrupted: whereupon for the ſure and peaceable paſſage and courſe upon the ſame Water and River of all the Kings liege people to be had and continued, divers Acts and Laws were made and purveyed, and in eſpecial one in the ix. year of the Reign of the moſt bleſſed, and of famous memory, your Uncle King Henry the vi. by the which Act it was eſtabliſhed, ordained and provided, that all your liege people, and every of them, ſhould have their common and free paſſage upon your ſaid River and Water, with their Trows, Boats, and other Veſſels, from Briſtol, Glouceſter, Worceſter, and other places, without let, interruption, or denier: and if any of your liege people or ſubjects were of their ſaid courſe and paſſage letted or diſturbed, that they ſhould have actions of treſpaſs againſt the offendors in that behalf: and the premiſſes notwithſtanding, divers perſons late and now being your Officers of and in your City of Worceſter, and Town of Glouceſter, and other places adjoyning to your ſaid River and Water, will not ſuffer any Boat, Trow, or any other Veſſel to paſs through and upon your ſaid River and Water without divers impoſitions by them thereupon ſet, and by them levied, gathered, and reared upon the Merchants and Owners of the ſaid goods and merchandiſes, by the ſaid River and Water paſſing; in manifeſt contempt of your ſaid Laws, and breaking of the laudable cuſtom aforetime remembred. Pleaſe it therefore your Highneſs, the premiſſes conſidered, by the advice of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, to ordain, eſtabliſh, and enact, That whatſoever perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree, or condition he or they be, hereafter take any impoſition of any of the Kings liege people, for Trow, Boat, or any other Veſſel for any goods or merchandiſes carried or conveyed in and upon the ſaid River and Water of Severn, or do let, vex, or interrupt any Boats, Trows, or Veſſels ſo paſſing by the ſaid River and Water, for any ſuch impoſition or otherwiſe againſt your Laws, that every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo doing and offending, ſhall forfeit to the King our Sovereign Lord for every ſuch offence xx. l. and for every ſuch ſum or ſums ſo forfeit, the party grieved and other perſons that will ſue for the ſame forfeiture, ſhall have and ſue an action popular of debt, as well to and for the uſe of our Sovereign Lord the King, as to the uſe of him that ſhall ſo ſue for it in his own name, and that our Sovereign Lord the King have two parts of the ſaid ſum ſo forfeited, and the party that ſo ſhall ſue for the ſame have the third part thereof: and the party defendant in every ſuch action ſhall not be received to wage his Law, and alſo be outed of all delatories in the ſame action, as protections, eſſoin, and other. And if it fortune the parties in any ſuch action to defend or plead to an iſſue for any offences done or committed contrary to the premiſſes triable in the City of Worceſter, or the liberties of the ſame, then the ſame iſſue to be tried by xij. men within the County of Worceſter, not dwelling nor having any Lands within the ſame City, ne the ſuburbs of the ſame. And if the party aforeſaid in any ſuch action defend and plead to an iſſue for any ſuch offence done or committed contrary to the premiſſes, triable in the Shire of the Town of Glouceſter, or in the County of Glouceſter, then the ſame iſſue to be tried by xij. men of or in the County of Glouceſter, thereto adjoyning, not having any lands ne dwelling within the ſame Shire of the Town of Glouceſter. Provided alway, that this Act or any thing in the ſame contained or ſpecified, in any wiſe extend not nor be prejudicial or hurtful to any perſon or perſons, having any lands or meads adjoyning to the ſaid Stream or Water of Severn, to take of every perſon or perſons going upon his or their ſaid lands and meads, and haling and drawing any ſuch Trow, Boat, or Veſſel, reaſonable recompence or ſatisfaction for ſuch hurts and offences as he or they having ſuch lands or meads adjoyning to the ſaid Stream or Water ſhall ſuſtain by reaſon of any ſuch going or drawing of any ſuch Trow, Boat, or Veſſel. Provided alway, that if any perſon or perſons, Spiritual or Temporal, or any Body corporate, come before the Lords of the Kings honourable Council in the Star-chamber at Weſtminſter, at any time hereafter before the Feaſt of the Aſcenſion of our Lord, that ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, M. Here end the Statutes of King HENRY the Seventh.

Anno primo HENRICI Octavi.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter in the firſt year of the Reign of King Henry the Eighth, and in the year of our Lord 1509.

THe King our Sovereign Lord Henry the Eighth after the Conqueſt, by the Grace of God, King of England and of France, and Lord of Ireland, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the one and twentieth day of January, in the firſt year of his moſt noble Reign, after the Prorogation, to the honour of God and holy Church, and for the common weal and profit of this Realm, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath done to be ordained, made, and enacted, certain Statutes and Ordinances, in manner and form following.

CAP. V.

The penalty for cuſtoming of goods, whereby the King loſeth his duty.

WHere at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the third year of the Reign of the moſt Noble King Henry the vij. it was ordained and eſtabliſhed, by the authority of the ſame: That no manner of Merchant, denizen nor ſtranger, ſhould take upon him to enter, or cauſe to be entred in the books of any Cuſtomer of any Port within this Realm, any manner of merchandiſe coming into this ſaid Realm, or going out of the ſame, in any other Merchants name, ſaving onely the name of the Merchant owing the ſame, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch goods and merchandiſes ſo entred: and every of the ſaid Merchants which ſo ſhall take upon him to cauſe ſuch untrue entry to be made, to have impriſonment, and to make fine thereof at the Kings pleaſure: It is now by our Sovereign Lord the King, and his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, well conſidering that the intent and cauſe of the making of the ſaid Statute was onely for as much as by the ſubtil dealing of ſome Engliſhmen, colourably entring in their own names the goods of Merchant ſtrangers, the Kings Highneſs was deceived in his Cuſtoms, and that the ſaid Statute was made for none other cauſe; yet for as much as the words of the ſaid Statute were general, it was extended as well unto the goods of an Engliſhman, entred in the name of one other Engliſhman, as to the goods of a ſtranger entred in the name of an Engliſhman, to the great hurt, leſs, and damage of many, and divers of the Kings ſubjects, and contrary to the very intent and meaning of the ſaid Statute.

A repeal of part of the Statute of 3 H. 7. 7. touching Engliſhmen entring into Cuſtomers books the goods of Aliens.

It is therefore ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Act afore rehearſed, made the ſaid third year, and all things contained in the ſame, be from henceforth repealed, adnulled, and utterly void and of none effect.

One Engliſhman may cuſtom goods in another Engliſhmans name.

And further be it enacted, by our Sovereign Lord the King, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament, and by authority of the ſame, That it be lawful from henceforth, that every Engliſhman and all other the Kings ſubjects, may in every Port or Haven within this Realm of England, Ireland, and Wales, and the Marches of the ſame, and in the Town of Berwick, where it ſhall happen any merchandiſe to arrive, or to be charged and carried out, to cuſtom in his name all manner of goods and merchandiſe of another Engliſhman, or the Kings ſubject.

One Merchant ſtranger may cuſtom goods in anothers name.

And in like form, Every Merchant ſtranger to cuſtom in his name any goods or merchandiſe of any other Merchant ſtranger, ſo that the ſaid Merchant ſtranger that cuſtometh the goods of another Merchant ſtranger, and the very Owner or Proprietary of the goods ſo cuſtomed, be charged with like cuſtom, ſubſidy, and other things, ſo that the Kings Grace be not defrauded of his right.

The penalty of him which cuſtometh goods whereby the King loſeth his cuſtom.

And if any Merchant, ſtranger or denizen, or any other the Kings ſubject, cuſtom any goods or merchandiſes of another ſtranger or denizen, or any other the Kings ſubject, whereby the Kings Grace ſhould loſe his cuſtom, ſubſidy, or other his right or duty, that then the ſaid Merchant, ſtranger or denizen, or any other the Kings ſubjects that ſo taketh upon him or them, to forfeit to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, the goods or merchandiſes ſo cuſtomed: and over that to forfeit to the party or parties in this behalf grieved, as much mony as the goods or merchandiſes of the Merchant, ſtranger, denizen, or other the Kings ſubject (ſo cautelouſly cuſtomed) amounted unto.

The penalty for wrongful cuſtoming of Wines by him that is free of priſage, &c. St. 2 & 3 Ed. 6. 22.

And that no Citizen of London, or other the Kings ſubjects, inhabiting in the Cinque-Ports, or any other being free of Priſage, or Butlarage of Wines, by grant, cuſtom, or otherwiſe, cuſtom no Wines of any perſon or perſons, not being free of any Priſage, or Butlarage.

And if any perſon free of the ſaid Priſage, or Butlarage, ſo do, that then the ſaid perſon or perſons (that ſo do) forfeit to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the double value of the Priſage of the ſaid Wines ſo cuſtomed.

And further that it be lawful to any perſon or perſons grieved contrary to this Act, to have an action of debt againſt any perſon or perſons that ſo cuſtom the goods or merchandiſes in his name, and not in the Owners name, of the ſum of the value of the ſaid merchandiſes ſo cuſtomed and forfeited: in the which Action none eſſoin nor protection ſhall lie, nor the Defendant to wage his Law. A Repeal of a Statute made Anno 11 H. 7. 3. giving authority to Juſtices of Aſſiſe, and Juſtices of Peace in their Seſſions to hear and determine all offences and contempts committed againſt any Statute in force, ſaving Treaſon, Murder, or Felony.

CAP. VII.

No fee due to a Coroner where any perſon is ſlain by miſadventure.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 3 H. 7. 1. touching the fees of Coroners.

Whereas by a Statute made at Weſtminſter, the third year of King Henry the Seventh, it was enacted, that a Coroner ſhall have for his fee upon every inquiſition, taken upon view of the body ſlain and murdered xiij. s. iiij. d. of the goods and cattels of him that is the ſlayer or murderer; where by the Common Law a Coroner had not, nor ought not to have any thing for their office doing, as by the ſame Statute more plainly doth appear: Sith which Statute ſo made, the Coroners have uſed, that if any perſon hath happened to be ſlain by miſadventure, and by no mans hand, that they will not inquire upon the view of the body, ſo by miſadventure ſlain, except they have for their labour xiij. s. iv. d. which is contrary to the Common Law, and alſo to the Statute afore rehearſed; whereby great inconvenience doth daily grow to the Kings ſubjects, foraſmuch as oftentimes the perſon that is ſo by miſadventure ſlain, lieth long above the ground, unburied, to the great noiance of the Kings liege people: wherefore the King our Sovereign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, ordaineth, That upon a requeſt made to a Coroner to come and inquire upon the view of any perſon ſlain, drowned, or otherwiſe dead by miſadventure, the ſaid Coroner diligently ſhall do his office upon the view of the body of every ſuch perſon or perſons, without taking any thing therefore: upon pain to every Coroner that will not endeavour himſelf to do his Office, (as afore is ſaid) or that he taketh any thing for doing of his Office upon any perſon dead by miſadventure, for every time xl. s.

No fee ſhall be due to a Coroner where any perſon ſhall be ſlain by miſadventure. St. 3 Ed. 1. 10.

The Juſtices of Aſſiſe and Peace may inquire of and determine the faults of Coroners.

And that the Juſtices of Aſſiſes, and Juſtices of Peace within the County where any ſuch default of the Coroners be, have authority and power to inquire thereof, and determine the ſame as well by examination, as by preſentment.

CAP. VIII.

The ſeveral duties of an Eſcheator and Commiſſioners.

Inſt. p. 425.

For as much as divers of the Kings ſubjects now of late time have been ſore hurt, troubled, and wronged, and ſome diſherited by Eſcheators and Commiſſioners, cauſing untrue Offices to be found, and ſometime returning into the Courts of Record Offices and Inquiſitions that were never found: And ſometime changing the matter of the Offices that were truly found, to the great hurt, trouble, and diſheriſon of the Kings true ſubjects, that like before this time hath not been ſeen in this Realm: wherefore be it ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted in this preſent Parliament, and by authority of the ſame, That if any Eſcheator or Commiſſioner hereafter return or put into any of the Kings Courts, any Inquiſitions or Offices concerning Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments, not found nor preſented by the oaths of twelve men, and indented, and by them ſealed, that then the ſame Eſcheator or Commiſſioner forfeit for every ſuch Office or Inquiſition, ſo returned and put into any of the ſaid Courts, an C. li. to the party or parties grieved for any ſuch Inquiſition or Office: And that from henceforth no Eſcheator, ne no man ſit by vertue of any Commiſſion to inquire of lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, except he or other to his uſe have lands, tenements, or hereditaments of the yearly value of xl. marks, above all charges and repriſes, upon pain of xx. li. And that it ſhall be lawful for all perſons, that be not ſufficient of freehold in poſſeſſion or uſe, at the time of any ſuch Commiſſion to them delivered, to refuſe to ſit and inquire by vertue of the ſame Commiſſion.

Eſcheators former offences the cauſe of making of this Act.

No Office ſhall be returned into any of the Kings Courts but which is found by a Jury.

What land an Eſcheator or Commiſſioners muſt have.

And that they upon proceſs made againſt them out of the Kings Eſchequer, by vertue of the ſame Commiſſion, be charged upon their oaths, for their ſaid non-ſufficiency, without fine or fee.

And that every Eſcheator and Commiſſioner ſhall ſit in convenient and open places, according to the Statutes heretofore made. And that the ſaid Eſcheators and Commiſſioners ſhall ſuffer every perſon to give evidence openly in their preſence, to ſuch enqueſt as ſhall be taken before any of them, upon pain of xl. li.

The Eſcheator ſhall ſit in an open place, and ſuffer every perſon to give evidence.

And that no Sheriff, nor other perſon, which ſhall or ought to return Writs or Precepts, return before Eſcheators, or ſuch Commiſſioners, any perſon or perſons to inquire of any lands or tenements, except every of the ſame Jury ſo returned, or other to their uſe, have lands or tenements of the yearly value of xl. s. within the ſame Shire where the ſame inquiry ſhall be made, without fraud or colluſion, above all charges and repriſes, upon pain of forfeiture for every perſon ſo returned one C. s. And that the Jury that ſhall be ſworn before any Eſcheator or ſuch Commiſſioner to inquire of lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, ſhall receive the counterpane of the Office or Inquiſition, that by them ſhall be preſented, indented, and ſealed by the Eſcheator, or by ſuch Commiſſioner, and the ſame deliver and ſuffer to reſt in the poſſeſſion of the firſt perſon that ſhall be ſworn in the ſaid Jury, with him to remain, to the intent that the ſaid Commiſſioner or Eſcheator may not change nor imbeſil the ſaid Offices or Inquiſitions. And this to be done upon pain of every of the ſaid perſons that ſhall be ſworn xx. s. And that every Eſcheator and Commiſſioner (after a Jury or Enqueſt before any of them ſworn be ready to give their verdict or preſentment, and offer to preſent the ſame) that the ſame Eſcheator or Commiſſioners, or part of them, ſhall receive the ſame verdict without further delay upon pain of C. li. and deliver the counterpane of the Indenture to the Jury, in form above rehearſed upon like pain: And that if the Clerk of the Petit Bag of the Kings Chancery, for the time being, or his Deputy or Deputies, or any other Officer there, having authority to receive any ſuch Office or Inquiſition, to whoſe hands any ſuch Office or Inquiſition ſhall come, which ought to be returned into the ſaid Chancery, will not receive the ſame Office or Inquiſition, and put it on the Files to remain of Record, within three days after it be returned or offered to him to be received, he to forfeit for every ſuch default xl. li. And the Commiſſioners or Eſcheator before whom the ſame Office or Inquiſition is found, and (as is beforeſaid) offered to be delivered to the Chancery, to be diſcharged of the penalty of xl. l. limited by Statute for non-returning of the ſame Office or Inquiſition within the moneth. And that like law and penalty be to charge the Officer or Officers of the Kings Eſchequer, for the time being, which ought to receive Inquiſitions or Offices returnable into the ſame Eſchequer, for refuſing ſo to receive them. And that the Commiſſioners or Eſcheator, before whom the ſaid Inquiſitions or Offices be found, be diſcharged of the penalty of the Statute for non-returning of the ſame Inquiſitions, or Offices, ſo that then the ſaid Eſcheator or Commiſſioners at any time after the moneth of any ſuch Offices, before them or any of them taken, within another moneth then next enſuing return the ſaid Office into the Chancery or Eſchequer, as the cauſe ſhall require. CAP. X.

Lands let to ferm to him that offereth to traverſe an Office.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 8 H. 6. 16. touching letting to ferm lands ſeiſed into the Kings hands upon an enqueſt of Office.

Whereas by a Statute made the eighth year of the Reign of King Henry the ſixth, it is ordained among other things, That no lands and tenements ſeiſed into the Kings hands upon enqueſts taken afore the Eſcheator or Commiſſioners, ſhall in no wiſe be let or granted to ferm by the Chancellor of England, or any other Officer of the Kings, whatſoever he be, till the ſame enqueſts and verdicts be returned plainly into the Chancery, or into the Exchequer: but that all ſuch lands and tenements ſhall abide wholly and continually in the Kings hands, until the ſame enqueſts and verdicts be returned. But if it be ſo, that he or they that be grieved by the ſame enqueſts, or put out of their lands and tenements, come into the Chancery, and offer to travers the ſame enqueſts, and offer to take the ſame lands and tenements to ferm: and if they ſo do, then the ſame lands and tenements be committed unto them, if they ſhew good evidence, proving their travers to be true, and find ſurety after the form of the ſaid Statute, as in the ſame Statute more at large appeareth.

And notwithſtanding the ſaid Statute, divers Eſcheators and Commiſſioners which have taken ſuch enqueſts, after the death of the Kings ſubjects, of their covin, to the intent to put them that had cauſe of travers to the verdicts of the ſaid enqueſts from the ferm of the premiſſes, would in the time of vocation put into the Chancery, or into the Eſchequer, their ſaid Office by them taken, becauſe the moneth ſhould paſs before the beginning of the Term next enſuing, by reaſon whereof they that ſhould of right have the ferm upon their travers according to the true intent of the ſaid Statute, were put from the ſame ferms, contrary to right and good conſcience.

Lands ſeiſed into the Kings hands upon an enqueſt of Office ſhall be let to ferm to him that tendereth a travers to the ſame within three moneths.

For remedy whereof be it ordained, enacted, and eſtabliſhed by authority of this preſent Parliament, that from henceforth, after ſuch Office found afore any Eſcheator or Commiſſioner, put into the Chancery or the Eſchequer, if any perſon or perſons, which will tender a travers to the ſaid Office, and deſireth to have the lands contained in the ſame Office to ferm, and findeth ſurety, and ſheweth evidence to the Chancellor of England, (for the time being) according to the Statute afore rehearſed, come into the Chancery within three moneths next after the ſame Office ſo put into the Chancery or Eſchequer, that he be then by the ſaid Chancellor thereto admitted, and that then all other Patents or Grants hereafter to be made thereof within the ſaid three moneths ended, be void and of none effect, the ſaid Statute made the viij. year of the Reign of King Henry the ſixth, or any other Statute made to the contrary notwithſtanding. CAP. V.

The penalties of a Captain for abridging the number of Souldiers, or detaining their wages: and of a Souldier departing, &c.

Cok. l. 6. f. 27. Cro. Car. 7.

FOraſmuch as the King our Sovereign Lord intendeth, by the grace of God, to ſend over the Sea a great Army, truſting thereby not onely to preſerve this his Realm in its ancient fame and honour, but alſo to ſet in perfect peace and tranquility his ſubjects of the ſame, and the better to be diſpoſed to ſerve God. Howbeit many times by the inordinate covetouſneſs of Captains retained with Princes afore this time, great part of the number of Souldiers, for whom ſuch Captains have indented with Princes at time of need, have lacked of the number of Souldiers, whereby great jeopardy hath inſued, and irrecuperable damages may enſue, if remedy therefore be not ſeen and had. Be it therefore ordained by authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any Captain be retained, or hereafter ſhall be, to ſerve the King upon the Sea, or beyond the Sea in feat of War, which have not his, or their whole and perfect number of men, and Souldiers, according as he ſhall be retained with the King, or give not them their full wages, without abridgment, as he ſhall receive of the King for them: he ſhall for ſuch default forfeit to the King all his goods and cattels, and his body to priſon. And that every Captain, petit Captain, and all other having under them retinue of Souldier or Souldiers at the Kings wages, ſhall (upon the pain aforeſaid) pay to the retinue of Souldier or Souldiers, and every of the ſame, the wages rateably as is allowed unto them by the King our Sovereign Lord, or the Treaſurer of his Wars, without leſſening or withdrawing of any part thereof. And for as long time as they ſhall receive wages for them, this payment to be made to the ſaid retinues, every Souldier of the ſame, of their Captains, and petit Captains, always within ſix days next and immediately after that the ſaid Captain, petit Captain, or other, ſhall have received their wages of the King, or of the Treaſurer of his Wars, or of their Lords or Maſters.

The peril enſuing of Captains lacking their prefixed number of Souldiers.

A Captain ſhall have all his Souldiers, and pay them all their wages.

And if any Souldier, being no Captain, immediately retained with the King, which hereafter ſhall be in wages, and retained, or take any Preſt to ſerve the King upon the Sea, or upon the Land, or beyond the Sea, depart out of the Kings ſervice, without licenſe of the Kings Lieutenant there, that ſuch departing be taken, deemed, and adjudged Felony. And that he ſo offending ſuffer for the ſaid offence, puniſhment and execution of Felony.

It is felony for a Souldier to depart from his Captain without licenſe. St. H. 6. 19. 5 El. 5.

And foraſmuch as his offence ſtretcheth to the hurt and jeopardy of the King our Sovereign Lord, the Nobles of the Realm, and of all the Common weal thereof, that therefore he or they ſo offending (not being within Orders of holy Church) enjoy not the benefit of his Clergy. And that it be ordained by the ſaid authority, that the Juſtices of the Peace of every Shire of England, where any ſuch offenders be taken, have power to inquire of the ſaid offences, and the ſame hear and determine, as they do and may do of Felonies, Treſpaſſes, and other offences expreſſed in the Kings Commiſſion to them made, as though the ſaid offences were done in the ſame Shire. And alſo that the ſaid departing of ſuch Souldiers, and alſo their retainers, if it be traverſed, be tried in the ſame Shire, where they be for ſuch cauſes arreſted and arraigned.

Juſtices of Peace may enquire of, hear, and determine theſe offences.

Provided alway, that no Captain be charged by this Act for lack of his number retained,

The Captain ſhall be diſcharged if his ſouldiers die or depart from him.

as is aboveſaid, whoſe ſouldiers ſhall happen to die, or otherwiſe depart, not in the default of the Captain; ſo that the ſaid Captain, if he be at land wages, ſhew the departing or lacking of his ſouldier within ten days after the lacking of the ſaid ſouldier, unto the Kings Lieutenant there, and to the Treaſurer of the Wars. Or if the Captain be at the Sea-wages, if he ſhew the departing or lacking of the ſouldier ſo lacking, to the Admiral of the Navy, where he is retained, at the next meeting with the ſaid Admiral. Provided alway, that this Act extend not to any Captains or Souldiers, that now be, or hereafter ſhall be retained within the Towns of Calice, Hammes, and Guiſnes, Riſebank, Berwick, and Wales, or any of them, and the Marches of the ſame.

This doth not extend to the houſhold ſervants of a Captain.

Provided alway, that this Act be not prejudicial nor hurtful to the ſaid Captains, petit Captains, nor any other, having under them retinue of ſouldiers, nor any of them, for non-payment of the Kings wages to their houſhold ſervants and other, to whom they daily find and give meat and drink during the ſaid ſervice of War. CAP. VII.

A reſtraint of the tranſporting of woollen Cloth before it be Fulled, Rowed, Shorn, &c.

Where at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the ix. of November, the third year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord the King, Henry the vij. (whoſe ſoul God pardon) it was ſhewed by Shearmen, Fullers, and other Artificers, ẏ ſhould live & obtain their needy ſuſtentation by mean of Drapery, made & draped within this Realm, as well throughout the ſame Realm as within the City of London, that whereas in a Statute made the vij. year of the reign of King Edward the iv. amongſt other it was contained, that no perſon (denizen nor ſtranger) ſhould carry or do to be carried to any parts beyond the Sea, any woollen yarn nor cloth unfulled, but ẏ woollen yarn to be made in this Realm ſhould be woven in the ſame: and alſo all cloth within the ſame made ſhould be fulled and fully wrought within the ſame, before that any of the ſame ſhould be had or carried out of this Realm, upon pain of forfeiture of the very value of ſuch yarn not woven, & cloth not fulled, had or carried out of this Realm: The one half of the ſame forfeiture to be levied to the uſe of the King, and the other half to him or them ẏ ſhould eſpy or make proof of any ſuch yarn not woven, or cloth not fulled, carried to any place beyond the Sea. And foraſmuch as in the ſaid Statute of King Edward, there is no expreſs mention made, that the ſaid clothes ſhould be rowed and ſhorn before that they be carried & conveyed out of this Realm, whereby the ſaid poor Commons of the crafts aforeſaid might be ſet in labour and occupation: therefore the ſaid clothes then were, & yet been in great number and plenty carried and conveyed out of this Realm unrowed and unſhorn, into ẏ parts beyond the Sea, as well by denizens as by ſtrangers, whereby outlandiſh Nations with the ſame drapery been ſet to labour and occupation, to their great inriching, & the poor Commons of the crafts aforeſaid through all this Realm, which of natural reaſon (as the Kings true liege men) ſhould have and obtain their needy ſuſtentation and living by means of the ſame drapery, for lack of ſuch occupation, daily fall in great number into idleneſs, & poverty, to their utter deſtruction, if it ſhould then any longer continue: whereupon our ſaid Sovereign Lord King Henry the vij. by the advice of his Lords ſpiritual & temporal, and at the prayers of the Commons in his ſaid Parliament aſſembled, & by authority of the ſame, ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted, that no ſtranger nor denizen ſhould carry, or make to be carried out of this Realm any woollen clothes, but that they before be barbed, rowed, and ſhorn within the ſame Realm, for the relief and ſetting awork of the ſaid poor Commons of the crafts aforeſaid, upon pain of the forfeiture limited in the ſaid Statute of King Edward, made upon cloth carried out of this Realm not fulled, to be divided in manner and form as in the ſame Statute is contained. So that cloth called veſſes, raies, ſailing clothes, and all other clothes commonly ſold at xl. s. or under, be not compriſed in the ſaid Act, made the ſaid third year of the reign of our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Henry the vij. as by the ſame Act more plainly appeareth. And for lack of due execution of the ſaid Acts, little effect or profit hath followed or grown of the ſame to the ſame poor crafts-men, being natural ſubjects, which for lack of work and occupation daily fall into idleneſs and poverty.

The inconveniences enſuing by tranſporting of cloth unrowed and unſhorn.

A confirmation of the Statute of 7 Ed. 4 3. and 3 H. 7. 11. made to reſtrain the tranſporting of cloth, &c. before it be fulled, &c.

Be it therefore ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Acts and Ordinances may ſtand and continue in their full ſtrength and vertue. And that they from henceforth be duly put in execution, according to the tenor, purport, and effect of the ſame, and of either of them. And that every perſon that will ſue for the ſame forfeitures, be admitted to his action of debt, by bill or information in any of the Kings Courts of Record, where the ſame may be determined after the courſe of the Common Law, and that the defendant in ſuch behalf in no wiſe be admitted to wage his Law, nor that any protection nor eſſoin be in the ſame allowable. Nevertheleſs for that the draping and making of ſuch clothes called veſſes, raies, ſailing-clothes, and other clothes, which at the time of making of the Statute of King Henry the vij. were commonly ſold at xl. s. or under, the maker thereof and clothier of times paſſed, and now is, and hereafter is like to be at greater charge, about the draping and making of the ſame, and alſo of all other clothes; for the wooll is of far greater price, & alſo the coſts and charges for the workmanſhip of ſuch clothes is far more chargeable then it was at the time of making of the ſaid Statute: Be it therefore provided by the authority aforeſaid, that clothes called veſſes, raies, ſailing-clothes, and other clothes now commonly ſold at four marks or under, be not compriſed in this, or any of the ſaid Acts, but may be carried and conveyed out of this Realm into the parts beyond the Sea, not barbed, rowed, nor ſhorn; this or any the ſaid Acts notwithſtanding. Aſſeſſing of the priſes of Victuals, when a Victualler is chief Officer.

What clothes be not compriſed in this Act, but may be carried over. St. 5 H. 8. 7.

Where in the Parliament of King Edward, ſon of King Edward, holden at York, in the xij. year of his Reign, amongſt other things, it was accorded and enacted, that no Miniſter in City, or Borough, which by reaſon of his Office ought to keep aſſiſes of wines and victuals, as long as he ſhould be attendant to that Office, ſhould merchant wines and victuals in groſs, or at retail, upon a certain pain limited and expreſſed in the ſaid Statute, as in the ſame more plainly doth appear; Sithen the making of which Statute and Ordinance, many and the moſt part of all the Cities, Boroughs, and Towns Corporate within this Realm of England, be fallen in ruine and decay, and not inhabited with Merchants, and men of ſuch ſubſtance as they were at the time of the making of the foreſaid Statute and Ordinance: for at this day the dwellers, and inhabitants of the ſame Cities and Boroughs, be moſt commonly Bakers, Brewers, Vintners, Fiſhmongers, and other Victuallers, and few or no other perſons of ſubſtance be within many of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, and Towns Corporate, other then the foreſaid Victuallers, at this day, able and ſufficient to bear Office within the ſame, and to content, anſwer, and pay unto the Kings Grace his fee-ferm, wherewith they be charged. In conſideration whereof, and for the eaſe, comfort, and relief of the foreſaid poor Cities, Boroughs, and Towns Corporate, and of the inhabitants of the ſame: be it ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, by the advice of his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that whenſoever, and as often as any Victualler is choſen to bear any Office within any City, Borough, or Town Corporate, which for the time that he ſhall ſtand and be in ſuch Office, ſhould have the aſſiſing and correction for ſelling of victuals, that then two diſcreet and honeſt perſons of the ſame City, Borough, or Town Corporate, not being victuallers, ne any of them being a victualler, ſhall be choſen by the Comminalty of the ſame City, Borough, or Town Corporate, in like form as the ſaid Officer ſhall be choſen: which two perſons, with the ſaid Officer, ſhall be ſworn truly to ſeſs and ſet the priſes and aſſiſes of victual there, for the time that any ſuch victualler ſhall abide in the ſame Office. And that then it ſhall be lawful to all and every of the ſaid Officers, after the ſame victuals be ſet and ſeſſed by the ſame Officer and the ſaid two perſons, or one of the ſame two perſons, the other being abſent, to merchant and ſell wines, and all other victual in groſs, and at retail, during the time that he ſhall be in any ſuch Office, without any thing therefore to forfeit. By whom every Phyſician and Surgeon ſhall be allowed.

To the King our Sovereign Lord, and to all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled. Foraſmuch as the Science and cunning of Phyſick and Surgery (to the perfect knowledge whereof be requiſite both great learning and ripe experience) is daily within this Realm exerciſed by a great multitude of ignorant perſons, of whom the greater part have no manner of inſight in the ſame, nor in any other kind of learning: ſome alſo can no letters on the book, ſo far forth that common artificers, as Smiths, Weavers, and women boldly & accuſtomably take upon them great cures, and things of great difficulty: in the which they partly uſe ſorcery and witchcraft, partly apply ſuch medicines unto the diſeaſe, as be very noious, and nothing meet therefore, to the high diſpleaſure of God, great infamy to the faculty, and the grievous hurt, damage, and deſtruction of many of the Kings liege people; moſt eſpecially of them that cannot diſcern the uncunning from the cunning. The inconveniences enſuing by the Sheriffs returning of panels for the King without controlment of any.

Panels returned by the Sheriff to inquire for the King may be reformed by the Juſtices. St. 11 H. 7. 24.

Whereas great extortion and oppreſſions be, and have been within the more party of all the Counties and Shires within this Realm of England, by the ſubtilty, and untrue demeanour of Sheriffs, and their miniſters, committed and done unto many perſons in great number of the Kings ſubjects, by mean of making and returning at every Seſſions holden within the ſaid Counties and Shires, for the body of the Shire, the names of ſuch perſons, as for the ſingular advantage, benefit, and gain of the ſaid Sheriffs and their miniſters, will be wilfully forſworn and perjured, by the ſiniſter labour of the ſaid Sheriffs and their miniſters: by reaſon thereof many and divers ſubſtantial perſons (the Kings true ſubjects) contrary to good equity and right, have divers and many times wrongfully been indicted of divers murders, felonies, and other miſbehaviour, by their covin and falſhood, to the utter undoing of their lives, loſs of their goods and their lands: by reaſon whereof they and every of them, in avoiding the untrue trouble and vexation, which to them might come and enſue by reaſon and occaſion of the ſame falſe indictments; and alſo ſometime by labour of the ſaid Sheriffs, divers great felonies and murders have been concealed, and not preſented by the ſaid perſons by the ſaid Sheriffs and their miniſters partially returned, to the intent to compel the offendors to make fines and give rewards to the ſaid Sheriffs and their miniſters: Wherefore be it enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed by the King our Sovereign Lord, and by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That all Panels to be returned, which be not at the ſuit of any party, that ſhall be made, and put in by every Sheriff and their miniſters afore any Juſtice of Gaol-delivery, or Juſtice of Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum, in their open Seſſions to enquire for the King, ſhall be reformed by putting to, and taking out of the names of the perſons, which ſo be empanelled by every Sheriff and their miniſters, by the diſcretion of the ſame Juſtices, before whom ſuch panels ſhall be returned. And that the ſame Juſtice and Juſtices ſhall command every Sheriff and their miniſters in his abſence, to put other perſons in the ſaid panel by their diſcretions: and that the ſame panels ſo reformed by the ſaid Juſtices, be good and lawful. And that if any Sheriff, or any their miniſter, at any time do not return the ſame panels ſo reformed, that then every ſuch Sheriff or miniſter ſo offending, for every ſuch offence ſhall forfeit xx. li. ſterling mony of England: the one half thereof to our Sovereign Lord the King or his heirs, and the other half to him or them of his ſubjects that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt at the Common Law, or bill, or complaint, where it ſhall fortune any ſuch to fall and be: and that none eſſoin ne protection be allowed for the defendant or defendants in that action or plaint, nor that the ſaid defendant nor defendants therein be admitted to wage their Law. And that the Kings pardon ſhall be no bar againſt the party and parties in the ſame, that any ſuch action ſhall ſue.

CAP. XIV.

Searching for, and puniſhing ſuch as ſell falſe and mixt Oyls.

Who may ſearch Oyl in London, &c. and puniſh ſuch as ſell falſe Oyl.

Prayen your Highneſs, the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, that whereas divers manner of Oyls been brought into this Realm, as well into yͤ City of London, as to divers other places within the ſame Realm, which be daily uſed and miniſtred as well for mans ſuſtenance and comfort, as for neceſſaries for draping of woollen clothes, and for other divers neceſſaries, uſed for the weal of your ſubjects: and for lack of good overſight, ſearch and correction of ſuch Oyls, many ſimple perſons (buyers of the ſaid Oyls to ſell after) falſly and deceivably by crafty means do mix and alter the ſame Oyls from their former nature and goodneſs, to the great loſs, jeopardy, danger, and deceit of your ſubjects: Wherefore be it by your Highneſs, by the advice and aſſent of your Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of your Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame ordained, enacted, and eſtabliſhed, That the Mayor of the City of London for the time being, with the Maſter and Wardens of the myſtery or craft of Tallow-Chandlers of the ſame City for the time being, ſhall from henceforth have full power and authority to ſearch all manner of Oyls brought into the ſaid City of London to be ſold, in whoſe hands ſoever they be, or ſhall be found, and that as often as the caſe ſhall require. And that the ſaid Mayor, with the Maſter and Wardens of the ſaid myſtery or craft of Tallow-Chandlers, for the time being, ſhall truly ſearch and overſee, that the ſame Oyls to be put to ſale be not mixt nor altered from their right kinds, but that they be good and lawful as they ought to be. And that it ſhall be lawful to the ſaid Mayor, with the ſaid Maſter and Wardens for the time being, to damme, avoid, and utterly to caſt away, all ſuch Oyls as they ſhall find defective, or falſly or deceivably mixed, and altered from their right kinds, as is aforeſaid, without any let, or perturbance of any perſon or perſons, whatſoever they are, or ſhall be. And alſo the ſaid Mayor, Maſter and Wardens, to commit ſuch perſon or perſons, as ſhall be found defective for uſing ſuch deceit or craft, to ward, and to puniſh him, or them therefore by their diſcretions, according to the Laws and Cuſtoms within the ſaid City or Liberty of London uſed, had, and made, of and for other miſdoers, and offendors in the ſaid City. And be it further enacted by the ſaid authority, that the Mayor in every City, Borough, and Town within this Realm, where a Mayor is (for the time being) or the Governour or Governours, or Rulers of every other City, Borough, and Town Corporate within this Realm alſo for the time being, ſhall have within their juriſdiction, liberty and franchiſe, every of them like authority and power to make, and do like ſearch, order, direction, correction, puniſhment and execution of the ſame, of, for, and upon all Oyls being defective, or deceivably or falſly mixed and altered, by any perſon or perſons within their liberties and franchiſe, in manner and form as is afore rehearſed, as the ſaid Mayor, Maſter and Wardens of the ſaid City of London, by this preſent Act, have, or might have, of, for, or upon any Oyl ſold, or to be ſold within the ſaid City of London.

CAP. II.

The benefit of Clergy taken from ſuch as do commit certain offences.

Whereas robberies, murders, and felonies daily increaſe more and more, and been committed and done in more heinous, open, and deteſtable wiſe, then hath been oft ſeen in time paſt: And the perſons ſo offending little regard the puniſhment thereof, by the courſe of the Common Law, ne by reaſon of any Statute heretofore made, but bear them bold of their Clergy, and imagining and pleading of feigned and untrue foreign pleas, triable in foreign Counties, to the intent to be removed from place to place, by colourable and untrue ſuggeſtions, and for to be untruly acquit by favour, might, and corruption: ſo that they live in manner without fear, or dread. For reformation whereof, and for the common wealth of this Realm, and to put the ſaid murderers, felons, and offendors in more fear and dread ſo to offend: Be it ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all perſon or perſons, hereafter committing murder or felony, in any Church, Chappel, or hallowed place, or of and upon malice prepenſed, rob, or murder any perſon or perſons, in the Kings high-way, or elſe rob or murder any perſon in his houſe, the owner or dweller of the houſe, his wife, child, or ſervant then being therein, and put in fear or dread by the ſame, That ſuch perſons ſo offending, be not from henceforth admitted to his or their Clergy, (ſuch as been within holy Orders onely except.)

And over that be it enacted by the ſaid authority, that if any murderer or felon, upon his arraignment hereafter do alledge, that he had taken any Church, or Churchyard, for murder, felony, or other place priviledged for the ſame, in a foreign County, and againſt his will taken out thereof: that then the Kings Atturney, or any other perſon that will ſue or alledge for the King, that the ſaid murderer or felon ſo arraigned, was taken at large in the ſame Shire, where he is ſo arraigned; that then the ſame allegiance and iſſue ſhall be tried by the enqueſt that ſhall try the ſaid murder or felony within the ſame Shire, and before the ſame Juſtice, where the ſaid murderer or felon is arraigned, as though the ſaid foreign plea had not been pleaded by the ſaid felon. And if it be found by the ſame enqueſt, that the ſaid murderer or felon was taken within the ſame Shire (as is aforeſaid) that then he to have none advantage or benefit of the matter alledged by him for taking out of the Church or Churchyard, or other place priviledged, in any ſuch foreign Shire. And this Act to endure to the next Parliament.

A remedy to recover Iſſues forfeited by Jurors in London.

Where at a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the eleventh year of the Reign of King Henry the Seventh, for the good and due adminiſtration and expedition of Juſtices, it was ordained, and among other things enacted, That every perſon hereafter to be empanelled

St. 11 H. 7. 21.

empannelled or ſummoned to appear in any Jury or Enqueſt, in any Court within the City of London before any Judges of the ſame, making default at the firſt ſummons, ſhould loſe and forfeit xij. d. and at the ſecond default ij. s. and ſo at every ſuch default after that the iſſues and penalties to be doubled. And alſo ſuch iſſues loſt in the Mayors Court ſhould be forfeited, levied, and perceived to the uſe and behoof of the Mayor and the Commonalty of the ſaid City. And that all ſuch iſſues loſt in the Sheriffs Court or Courts, ſhould be forfeited, levied, and perceived to the uſe of the Sheriffs of the ſame City, for the time being, toward their fee-ferm, as by the ſame Act more plainly doth appear: in the which Act it is not expreſſed, how or by what means the foreſaid iſſues ſo loſt and forfeited, for non-appearance of the perſons ſo empannelled and ſummoned, ſhould be levied. The lack whereof is the cauſe, that ſuch perſons as have been impannelled and ſummoned, as well for the King, as between party and party (being ſubſtantial and indifferent) have made many times default, and would not appear. And ſo it remaineth in like miſchief as it was before the making of the foreſaid Act, to the great let of Juſtice, and the delay as well in the Kings cauſes, as in other cauſes between parties: Wherefore for the good execution of the ſaid Statute, and perfect remedy in this behalf to be had,

A remedy for the Mayor and Sheriffs of London to recover iſſues forfeited by Jurors. St. 11 H. 7. 21.

Be it eſtabliſhed, ordained, and enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That for all ſuch iſſues (in form aforeſaid) hereafter to be loſt or forfeited in the Mayors Court, it ſhall be lawful to the ſaid Mayor, and to his ſucceſſors, to diſtrain, and the ſame diſtreſs to retain till he or they be ſatisfied of the ſaid iſſues. And in like manner that it ſhall be lawful to the foreſaid Sheriffs and their ſucceſſors, to diſtrain for ſuch iſſues loſt in their Court or Courts, and the ſaid diſtreſs to retain till they be ſatisfied of the ſaid iſſues.

Item, Foraſmuch as after iſſues joyned in actions, and ſuits commenced, taken, or depending in the Kings Court before himſelf in his Bench, and before his Juſtices of the Common Bench, and alſo in his Eſchequer at the Kings ſuit, or at the ſuit of the parties triable in the ſaid City of London, as well the King as the parties have ſuffered great delay many times for default of apparance of the Jurors impanelled to try the ſaid iſſues, and many times for lack of Jurors not having lands and tenements of yearly value of xl. s.

The ability of the Jurors of London impanelled to try an iſſue in any of the Courts at Weſtminſter.

Be it ordained and enacted by the ſaid authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Sheriffs of London (for the time being) have full authority and power to return impanels, or arraies of all actions, and ſuits now depending, or that ſhall depend in any of the ſaid Courts, or Eſchequer, perſons being Citizens, having goods to the value of an C. mark, or above, to try the iſſues joyned, or to be joyned in every ſuch action or ſuit. And the perſon ſo returned (having goods to the value of C. mark, or above) ſhall be ſworn and do, in all ſuch Juries in like wiſe in every thing, as other perſons ſhould do having lands and tenements of the yearly value of xl. s. over all charges.

What iſſues ſhall be returned upon the Jurors in London. St. 5 H. 8. 5.

And over that be it ordained by the ſaid authority, that the Sheriffs of the ſaid City (for the time being) ſhall return upon the firſt diſtreſs in every ſuch action or ſuit upon every of the Jurors impanelled to try the iſſues thereof xx. d. And upon the ſecond diſtreſs, upon every of the ſame Jurors xl. d. And upon every diſtreſs after that, upon every of the ſame Jurors the double, till a full Jury in every ſuch action and ſuit ſhall appear and be ſworn to try the iſſues joyned in the ſame. And that the Sheriffs that ſhall make any return upon ſuch diſtreſs contrary to the form aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch default x. li. the one half thereof to be to the King, and the other half thereof to the party that will ſue therefore. And that the defendant in any ſuch action be not admitted to wage his Law, nor protection therein for him allowed.

CAP. VI.

None ſhall take any thing for ſealing of Cloth of Gold, Silver, Velvet, &c.

Where at a Parliament holden in the twelfth year of the Reign of King Edward the Fourth, amongſt other it was ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted, That the Collectors of the Subſidy and the Comptrollers ſhould at all times be ready when they ſhould be required, to ſeal any manner of Cloth of Gold, Silver, Baudekin, Velvet, Damask, Saten, Sarſenet, Tartron, Chamblet, and every other cloth of Silk, and every corſe of Silk and Gold, and every corſe of Silk of the making beyond the Sea, and the ſame merchandiſes ſhould ſeal at every time when they ſhould be required without delay, tarrying, or any thing for their ſealing, to take by any mean, upon the pain of forfeiture to the owner of ſuch merchandiſes xx. s. by every of the ſaid Collectors and Comptrollers at every time when they refuſe to ſeal any ſuch merchandiſes after ſuch requeſt made, or take any thing for ſealing of any ſuch merchandiſes, as by the ſame Act amongſt other things more plainly appeareth. Sithen the making of which Act the ſaid Collectors and Comptrollers, and their Clerks, not fearing the penalty limited in the ſame Act, have uſed, and daily uſe to take for ſealing of every piece of the ſame merchandiſes, above rehearſed, ij. d. to the great hurt and damage of the Merchants owners of the ſame. For the ſame Merchants at many times bring and convey in one Ship iij. or iiij. M. pieces of the ſame merchandiſes, which amounteth to xxx. or xl. li. after the rate of ij. d. a piece. And foraſmuch as the foreſaid penalty, expreſſed in the ſaid Statute, is but xx. s. therefore the ſaid Collectors, Comptrollers,

The cauſe why the Statute of 12 Ed. 4. 3. is not put in execution.

trollers, nor their Clerks fear not to run in jeopardy of the ſame: wherefore be it ordained and enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth the Collectors and Comptrollers of the ſaid Subſidy, nor their Clerks, nor any of them, take for the ſealing of any piece of the ſaid merchandiſes (above rehearſed) any thing upon pain of forfeiture at every time xx.ſ.

And alſo be it enacted by the ſame authority, that if, and as often as the ſame Collectors and Comptrollers, or any of them, unreaſonably delay, or tarry the ſaid Merchants, or any of them, for and about ſealing of the ſame merchandiſes; that then and ſo often the ſame Collectors and Comptrollers, and every of them, ſo unreaſonably delaying and tarrying the ſaid Merchants, or any of them, to forfeit for the ſame xl. s. the one moity of every of the ſaid penalties (ſo forfeited) to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other moity thereof to the Merchant ſo grieved, that will ſue for the ſame by way of information in the Kings Eſchequer, or by action or bill of debt, after the order of Common Law, as in other actions of debt is uſed: in which action the Defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his Law; nor protection, nor eſſoin to be to him allowed in the ſame ſuit, for the ſaid forfeiture,

No Collector or Comptroller of the Subſidy ſhall take any thing for ſealing of cloth of gold, &c.

The Collector &c. ſhall not delay the Merchant to ſeal his cloth of gold.

CAP. VII.

The goodneſs of Pewter and Braſs, and in what places it ſhall be ſold or changed.

Foraſmuch as a certain Act was made and eſtabliſhed, in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the nineteenth year of the Reign of the late moſt famous King your father, Henry the ſeventh (whom God pardon) concerning Pewterers and Braſiers, hawking and walking about the Countreys, and alſo concerning falſe beams, ſcales and weights, with a proviſion for caſting of fine mettal and of perfect goodneſs: which Act was made to endure to the next Parliament, the tenor whereof hereafter enſueth:

That where many ſimple and evil diſpoſed perſons of this your Realm of England (uſing the ſaid Crafts) daily go about this your Realm from village, from Town, and from houſe to houſe, as well in Woods and Forreſts, as other places to buy Pewter and Braſs, and that knowing thieves and other pickers, that ſteal as well Pewter and Braſs belonging to your Highneſs, and under your mark, and to the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, as to your ſubjects of this your Realm, bring ſuch ſtollen veſſels unto them in ſuch hid places to ſell, and ſell it for little or nought, and about they bring it to privy places, or into corners of Cities or Towns, and there ſell much part of it to ſtrangers, the which carry it over the ſea by ſtealth; Alſo the ſaid perſons (ſo going about) and divers other uſing the ſaid crafts, uſe to make new veſſels, and mix good mettal and bad together, and make it nought, and ſell it for good ſtuff, where indeed the ſtuff and mettal thereof is not worth the fourth part that it is ſold for, to the great hurt, deceit and loſs of your ſubjects: Alſo divers perſons uſing the ſaid crafts, have deceivable and untrue beams and ſcales, that one of them will ſtand even with twelve pound weight at the one end, againſt a quarter of a pound at the other end, to the ſingular advantage of themſelves, and to the great deceit and loſs of your ſubjects, buyers and ſellers with them. For reformation of the premiſes, it would pleaſe your Highneſs of your moſt abundant grace, with the advice of your Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, to enact and eſtabliſh, That no perſon or perſons uſing the ſaid crafts of Pewterers and Braſiers, from henceforth ſhall ſell, or change any Pewter or Braſs, new or old, at any place or places within this your Realm, but only in open Fairs or Markets, or in their own dwelling houſes, but if they be deſired by the ſaid buyers of ſuch wares, upon pain of forfeiture to our Soveraign Lord the King for every ſuch default x.ſ.

The tenour of the Stat. of 19 H.7.6. concerning Pewterers.

In what only places Pewter and Braſs ſhall be ſold or changed.

Alſo by the ſame authority it may be enacted and eſtabliſhed, that no perſon nor perſons, of what condition or degree ſoever he or they be, from henceforth within the City of London and York, or without, either caſt or work any Pewter veſſels or Braſs at any place or places within this your Realm, but that it be as good fine mettal as is the Pewter and Braſs caſt and wrought after the perfect goodneſs of the ſame within the City of London, and by the Statutes of the ſame ought to be, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch Pewter and Braſs ſo caſt and wrought, of worſe Pewter or Braſs then ought to be wrought in the ſame Cities: the one half of every ſuch forfeiture to be to the uſe of your Highneſs, and the other half to the uſe of the finders thereof.

Of what goodneſs Pewter and Braſs ought to be.

Provided alway, that this forfeiture in no wiſe ſtretch, ne extend to Braſs or Pewter being in the poſſeſſion of any perſon other then the workers of the ſame, of ſuch as have the ſame to ſell, and being of the craft or myſtery. Alſo that it may by the ſame authority be enacted and eſtabliſhed, that no manner of perſon or perſons, of what degree or condition ſoever he or they be, from henceforth make no hollow wares of Pewter, that is to ſay, ſalts and pots that is made of Pewter called ley mettal, but that it may be after the aſſiſe of Pewter ley mettal wrought within the City of London. And that the makers of ſuch wares ſhall mark the ſame with ſeveral marks of their own, to the intent that the makers of ſuch wares ſhall avow the ſame wares by them (as is abovesaid) to be wrought. And that all and every ſuch wares, not ſufficiently made and wrought, and not marked in form abovesaid, found in the poſſeſſion of the ſame maker or ſeller, to be forfeited: and if the ſame ware be ſold, the ſaid maker to forfeit the value of the ſame ſo unlawfully wrought and ſold, the one half of the ſaid wares, or the value thereof to be to the uſe of your Highneſs, and the other half to be to the uſe of the finder or ſearchers of the ſame.

Hollow wares made of Pewter ley mettal.

The makers of Pewter veſſels ſhall mark the ſame.

Alſo that it may by the ſaid authority be enacted and eſtabliſhed, that if any perſon or perſons hereafter uſing buying and ſelling of Pewter and Braſs, that hereafter occupy any deceivable or falſe beams or weights of the ſaid wares, that every ſuch perſon or perſons uſing or occupying ſuch deceivable and untrue beams or weights, to forfeit xx. s. the one half to the King, and the other half to the party that therefore ſhall ſue by action of debt, and that in the ſaid action no protection nor eſſoin ſhall be allowed. And alſo the ſaid party ſo offending ſhall forfeit his beam to him that ſhall ſeiſe it. And if the ſaid offender or offenders be not ſufficient to pay the ſaid ſum or ſums by them ſo forfeited, that then it ſhall be lawful to the Mayors, Bailiffs, or other head Officers of ſuch place or places where any ſuch offenders ſhall be found, to put them in the Stocks, and them ſo to keep till the next market day next adjoyning, and in the market place to put them on the Pillory all the market time.

Searchers ſhall be appointed of Pewter and Braſs.

And furthermore that it be lawful by the ſaid authority, that the Maſter and Wardens of the ſaid Craft of Pewterers within every City and Borough of this Realm where ſuch Wardens are, and where no ſuch Wardens are, the head Officers or Governours of the ſame City or Borough, to appoint certain perſons moſt expert in knowledge of the ſame, to make ſearch within the ſaid Cities or Boroughs where they dwell. And over this, the Juſtices of Peace within every Shire, at the general Seſſion holden at Michaelmas, ſhall aſſign and appoint two certain perſons, having experience therein, to make ſearch in the premiſſes, in every part of that Shire, as well within the Franchiſes as without, ſaving in Cities or Boroughs where ſearchers be appointed by the heads or governours of the ſame. And that all ſuch unlawful pewter or braſs, as the ſaid ſearchers ſhall find, the one half ſhall be to the uſe of your grace, and the other half to the ſaid ſearchers. And that in the default of the ſaid Maſters and Wardens of the ſaid occupations, not ſearching in form as is aforeſaid, and whereby that any ſuch unlawful mettals is caſt or made, or unlawful weights uſed: that then it ſhall be lawful to any perſon or perſons, having ſufficient cunning and knowledge in the ſaid occupations, by overſight of the Mayor, Bailiffs, or head Officers of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs and Towns, to ſearch all the ſaid places, and to put the ſaid authority and Act in execution in form aforeſaid. Pleaſeth it therefore your Grace and Wiſdoms, inſomuch as the ſaid Act is thought good and profitable, that it be ordained, enacted and eſtabliſhed by the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that the ſaid Act may endure for ever.

The Stat of 19 H.7.6. rehearſed, confirmed, and made perpetual.

And over that it be enacted by the ſaid authority, that if any untrue or deceivable mettal, or workmanſhip of Tin or Pewter, be founden either in Platters, Chargers, Diſhes, Saucers, Pottingers, Trenchers, Baſons, Flagons, Potties, Pots, Salters, Goblets, Spoons, Cruets, or Candleſticks, or any other ſuch wares of Tin or Pewter, whereſoever it be caſt, made, or wrought within this Realm or without, and brought to be ſold within the ſame Realm: that then it ſhall be lawful to the Mayor of the City of London, and the Maſter and Wardens of the craft of Pewterers (of the ſaid City for the time being) and their deputies, to have ſearch of the ſame within the City of London and the ſuburbs of the ſame: And that in all other Cities, Boroughs and Towns, where any Wardens be or ſhall be, the Mayors, Bailiffs, or head Officers and Wardens to have like authority. And where no Wardens be, then the head Officers or Governours of the ſame Cities, Boroughs, and Towns, to appoint certain perſons moſt expert and cunning in knowledge of the ſame, to make ſearch within the ſaid Cities, Boroughs and Towns where they dwell. And if any ſuch new wares wrought of Tin and Pewter, as is aforeſaid, be found defective, and being in the poſſeſſion of the ſeller, that then the ſame perſon or perſons that putteth any ſuch new wares of Pewter to ſale, ſhall forfeit the ſame wares, the one half to the uſe of our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other half to the ſearchers or finders of the ſame.

Searchers ſhall be appointed of Tin or Pewter veſſels.

This Act ſhall not be prejudicial to the Kings grants of Liberties.

Provided alway, that this Act concerning the forfeiture, be not prejudicial nor hurtful to any perſon or perſons, having grant of our Soveraign Lord the King, or of any of his noble progenitors by his Letters Patents of ſuch forfeiture, but that they and every of them ſhall and may enjoy the ſame according to their former grants and liberties. St. 25 H. 8.9. 33 H.8.4.

CAP. VIII.

All ſuits, condemnations, executions, charges, and impoſitions, put, or hereafter to be put upon Richard Strode, and every of his Complices that be of this Parliament, or any other hereafter, for any Bill, ſpeaking, or reaſoning of any thing concerning the Parliament to be communed and treated of, ſhall be void. CAP. II.
The true making of white Straits in Devonſhire.

PRayen the Commons and inhabitants (cloth-makers and buyers of the ſame) within the County of Devonſhire, that where divers and many clothes, called white ſtraits, be, and have been continually made within the ſaid County, to the great profit of the Kings ſubjects there, the which clothes were wont to be well and ſufficiently made, and bear their breadth yard broad half quarter raw, and xv. yards of length, and that no man in times paſt hath uſed to make them, but that the maker thereof hath ſet his ſpecial mark upon every of the ſaid clothes, ſo by him or them made, whereby every man may know their own clothes from other mens by reaſon of their ſaid ſeveral marks: ſo it is that now a days the ſaid clothes be not ſufficiently made, ne bear their length and breadth according as they ſhould do, ne marked with every mans own mark, whereof great inconvenience doth daily enſue and increaſe, to the impoveriſhing and hurting as well of the Kings ſubjects buyers and ſellers of the ſame, as Merchants ſtrangers: Wherefore the premiſes conſidered, that it may be therefore Enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that from the Feaſt of Penticoſt next coming, no perſon make ſuch clothes (called white ſtraits) to ſell, without that it be when it is raw, ready to be toked, of the breadth of a yard and half a quarter, and of length xv. yards. And that no perſon make ſuch clothes, except he ſet his ſpecial mark upon every of the ſaid clothes, ſo by him or them made. And that no perſon uſe no mark on his clothes, ſuch as any other perſon doth and hath uſed before him, upon pain of forfeiture of every of the ſaid clothes, the one half to the King, and the other half to him that ſeiſeth the ſaid clothes ſo made, or marked contrary to the form and effect afore expreſſed. And this Act to endure unto the next Parliament. St. 6 H.8.8. made perpetual. St. 5 Ed. 6. 6. 7 Ed. 6. 9. 27 El. 18.

The length and breadth of white ſtraits made in Devonſhire, and they ſhall be marked by the maker.

CAP. III.
What Clothes may be tranſported unſhorn.

St. 3 H.8.7.

WHere in this preſent Parliament (before the firſt prorogation thereof) it was ordained and enacted, that no woollen Cloth above the price of iv. marks ſhould be conveyed over the ſea unrowed, unbarbed, and unſhorn, upon certain penalties in the ſame Act expreſſed more at large; which Act put in execution, ſhall not only turn to the abatements of the Kings Cuſtoms, but alſo grow to the utter undoing of his ſubjects (Cloth-makers and Merchants) conveyers of the ſaid clothes, foraſmuch as wooll is riſen of a far greater price then it was at the making of the ſaid Act: for where a cloth was then commonly ſold at iv. marks, it is now ſold for v. Marks: and alſo by force of the ſaid Act the merchants ſhould be bound to dreſs every white cloth above the value of iv. marks on this ſide the ſea after they have bought them, which white cloth (ſo dreſſed) when they be brought into the parts beyond the ſea, and there by the buyers of them dyed and put in colours, then they muſt be newly dreſſed, barbed, ſhorn, and rowed, and ſo they ſhall be thereby the leſs in ſubſtance of themſelves, and the worſe to the ſale, and ſold for leſs price by x. or xii. s. a piece beyond the ſea, then they ſhould be if they were undreſſed: wherefore be it ordained and enacted by like authority, that every white woollen cloth ſold at v. marks and under, may be carried and conveyed into the prrts beyond the ſea, there to be ſold at the pleaſure of the buyers of the ſaid cloth, unbarbed, unſhorn, and unrowed, any Act or Acts to the contrary made notwithſtanding. And over this be it ordained and enacted by the ſaid authority, that if any perſon or perſons convey or cauſe to be conveyed into the parts beyond the ſea, any white woollen cloth unrowed, unbarbed, & unſhorn above the value of v. marks in other form then is aforeſaid, that then the perſon or perſons ſo offending ſhall forfeit the value of the ſaid cloth or clothes ſo carried or conveyed into the parts beyond the ſea, the one moity of the ſame forfeiture to be to our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, and the other moity to any perſon which will ſue for the ſame, and that the defendant in any plea upon any ſuch action be not admitted to wage his law, nor any protection or eſſoin for any ſuch defendant be allowed in the ſame. St. 27 H. 8. 13. 33 H. 8. 19. 7 Ed. 4. 3. 3 H. 7. 11.

None ſhall carry over the ſea white woollen clothes above the price of five marks unſhorn, unrowed or unbarbed.

CAP. IV.
Deceits in Worſteds avoided.

PRayen the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That whereas Worſteds which been truly made, ſhorn, died, and calandred, as of old time have been accuſtomed to be made, ſhorn, died, and calandred, have been one of the goodlieſt merchandiſe and greateſt commodities of this Realm, and not only worn within this Realm, but alſo much worn and uſed in other Realms. And ſo it is, that now of late divers ſtrangers beyond the ſea have taken upon them to dry Calander worſteds with gums, oyles, & preſſes, ſo ÿ a coarſe piece of Worſted, not being paſt the value of xxvi. s. viii. d. is and ſhall be made by their ſaid gumms, oyles, and preſſes, to ſhew like to the value of xl. s. or better. And if the ſame Worſted ſo dry calandred, taketh any wet, incontinent it will ſhew ſpotty, and foul, and ever after continue ſtill foul, and will not endure, to the great deceit and hurt of the wearers thereof, and loſs of the ſaid commodity: and for the ſaid deceit and falſeneſs, the ſaid calandring is ſcorned and abhorred in the parts beyond the ſea, ſo that no perſon do, ne ſhall uſe in thoſe parts any ſuch Worſteds to dry calander. And alſo now of late the ſaid ſtrangers (called dry calanders) are come into this Realm, and here within the ſame uſe the ſaid dry calandring of Worſted, to the great hurt of the ſaid common weal, and commodity of this Realm aforeſaid.

The deceit and loſs coming by dry calandring of Worſted.

Wherefore be it enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and Temporal, the Commons in this Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that no perſon ne perſons within this ſaid Realm, hereafter do take upon him or them to dry calander any Worſted within this ſaid Realm, upon pain to forfeit for every Worſted that is ſo dry calandred, one C. s. And over that, whereas the ſaid old calandring of Worſteds, called wet calandring, hath been uſed well and ſubſtantially in times paſt in the City of Norwich, and yet is by perſons having cunning in the ſame: Be it therefore furthermore enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, that no perſon ne perſons hereafter do take upon him, or them, to wet calander any Worſted, but only ſuch perſons as have been bound Apprenntices to other perſons of the ſame craft, or occupation of wet calandring of Worſteds, by the ſpace of vii. years, or be cunning in the ſame, and their cunning approved and admitted by the Maior of the ſaid City of Norwich (for the time being) and the two Maſters of the ſaid craft and occupation yearly to be choſen within the ſaid City of Norwich, or in the County of Norfolk of the craft of wet calandring, upon pain of every ſuch perſon or perſons which hereafter ſhall do the contrary, to forfeit for every piece ſo calandred againſt the ordinances and purveiances aforeſaid C. s. the one moity of which penalties or forfeitures (above ſpecified) and every of them, to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other moity thereof to be to the Maſters of the ſaid occupation of wet calandring (for the time being.) And that it ſhall be lawful to the Maſters of the ſaid occupation (for the time being) and their ſucceſſors, to ſue for the one moity of all ſuch penalties hereafter to be forfeited, againſt every ſuch perſon or perſons, as hereafter ſhall do contrary to the form and effect of this ſtatute, by action of debt, by writ at the common law, or by bill, or plaint, after the cuſtom of ſuch City, Port, or Town, where ſhall happen any ſuch forfeiture to be or fall, or by information in the Kings Exchequer. And that no protection, or eſſoin, ne no wager of law for the defendant in any ſuch action, plaint, or information, be allowed before any manner of Juſtices, where any ſuch ſuit or information ſhall be uſed for the ſaid forfeiture. And this act to endure to the next Parliament. St. 25 H. 8. 5. made perpetual

No perſon ſhall dry calander Worſteds. What perſons only ſhall wet calander Worſteds.

The forfeitures of the offendors, who ſhall have them, and by what means.

Jurors in London.

Where in this preſent Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the fourth day of February, in the third year of the reign of our Soveraign Lord the King, and prorogued unto the iv. day of November, in the fourth year of the reign of our ſoveraign Lord the King, and adjourned unto Weſtminſter aforeſaid; foraſmuch as after iſſues joyned in actions, and ſuits commenced, taken, or depending in the Kings Courts before himſelf in his Bench, and before his Juſtices of the common Bench, and alſo in his Eſchequer at the Kings ſuit, or at the ſuit of the party, triable in the City of London, as well the King as the parties ſuffered great delay many times, for default of apparance of the Juries empannelled to try the ſaid Iſſues, and many times for lack of Jurors, not having lands or tenements of the yearly value of xl. s. It was the ſaid fourth day of November ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that the Sheriffs of London, for the time being, ſhould have full authority and power to return in panels or araies of all actions & ſuits then depending, or that ſhould depend in any of the ſaid Courts, or Exchequer, perſons being Citizens, having goods to the value of C. marke or above, to try the Iſſue joyned in every ſuch action or ſuit. And that the perſons ſo returned, having goods to the value of C. marke or above, ſhould be ſworn, and do in all ſuch Juries, in like wiſe in every thing as other perſons ſhould do, having lands and tenements of the yearly value of xl. s. over all charges. And that the Sheriffs of the ſaid City (for the time being) ſhould return upon the firſt diſtreſs in every ſuch action or ſuit upon every of the Jurors impanelled to try the iſſues thereof, xx. d. and upon the ſecond diſtreſs upon every of the ſame Jurors xl. d. and upon every diſtreſs after that upon every of the ſame Jurors the double, till a full Jury in every ſuch action and ſuit ſhould appear, and be ſworn to try the Iſſue joyned in the ſame. And that the Sheriffs that ſhould make any return upon ſuch diſtreſſes contrary to the form aforeſaid, ſhould forfeit for every ſuch default x. li. the one half thereof to the King, and the other half to the party that will ſue therefore.

A rehearſal of the Stat. of 4 H.8.3. touching Juries in London.

And, that the defendant in any ſuch action ſhould not be admitted to wage his law, nor protection therein for him allowed; Which ſtatute was only made for the good expedition of Juſtice, for to have quick apparance of Jurors Citizens of London at S. Martins the grand, within the ſaid City, where all Juries were and been bounden only to appear and try the iſſues joyned of all things triable in London by proceſs of Niſi prius out of ẏ ſaid Courts, and in none other place, according to their ancient liberty, priviledge and cuſtom.

Wherefore, for more plain declaration of the ſame good ſtatute, be it ordained and eſtabliſhed by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that the ſaid Act be expounded, interpreted, and taken, that the Sheriffs for the time being be bounden to return at every firſt diſtreſs of Niſi prius, to be had at the ſaid S. Martins in every ſuch action or ſuit, upon every of the Jurors impanelled to try the iſſues thereof, xx. d. and upon the ſecond diſtreſs of Niſi prius, upon every of the ſame Jurors, xl. d. And upon every diſtreſs of Niſi prius after that, upon every of the ſame Jurors the double, till a full Jury in every ſuch action and ſuit ſhall appear and be ſworn to try the Iſſue joyned in the ſame. And that no Sheriff of the ſaid City, or other, any thing forfeit by force or colour of the ſaid ſtatute, for any return to be made, except only upon returns to be made contrary to the form, declaration, interpretation, and expoſition of this ſtatute, that is to ſay, upon writs of diſtreſſes before Juſtices or Juſtice of Niſi prius within the ſaid City, and that upon all other writs and proceſſes, that be and ſhall be awarded out of the ſaid Courts, or Eſchequer, it ſhall be lawful to the Sheriffs for the time being, to make their returns according to the order of the law, as the Sheriffs of London were wont to do before the making of the ſaid ſtatute, without any loſs or forfeiture.

Thexplanation of the Stat. of 4 H.8.3.

What iſſues the Sheriffs of London ſhall return upon Jurors.

CAP. VI.

Surgeons diſcharged of Enqueſts, &c.

Sheweth unto your diſcreet wiſdoms, your humble Orators the Wardens and Fellowſhip of the craft and myſtery of Surgeons enfranchiſed in the City of London, not paſſing in number xii. perſons, that whereas they and their predeceſſors, from the time that no mind is to the contrary, as well in this noble City of London, as in all other Cities and Boroughs within this Realm, or elſewhere, for the continual ſervice and attendance that they daily and nightly at all hours and times give to the Kings liege people, for the relief of the ſame according to their ſcience, have been exempt and diſcharged from all offices and buſineſs, wherein they ſhould uſe or bear any manner of armour, or weapon, and with ſuch priviledge have been intreated as Herralds of Arms, as well in battels and fields, as other places, there for to ſtand unharneſſed and unweaponed according to the law of Arms, becauſe they be perſons that never uſed feats of war nor ought to uſe, but only the buſineſs and exerciſe of their ſcience, to the help and comfort of the Kings liege people in the time of their need. And in the foreſaid City of London, from the time of their firſt incorporation, when they have been many mo in number then they be now, were never called nor charged to be of Enqueſt, Watch, nor other office, whereby they ſhould uſe, or occupy any armour, or defenceable attire of war, where-through they ſhould be unready, and letted to practiſe their cure of men being in peril: therefore for that there be ſo ſmall number of the ſaid fellowſhip of the craft and myſtery of Surgeons, in regard of the great multitude of Patients that be, and daily chance and infortune hapneth and increaſeth in the foreſaid City of London, and that many of the Kings liege people ſuddenly wounded and hurt for default of help in time to them to be ſhewed, periſh, and ſo divers have done, as evidently is known, by occaſion that your ſaid ſuppliants have been compelled to attend upon ſuch Conſtableſhip, Watches, and Juries, as is aforeſaid. Be it enacted and eſtabliſhed by the King our Soveraign Lord, and the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and by the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that from henceforth your ſaid ſuppliants be diſcharged and not chargeable of Conſtableſhip, Watch, and all manner of office, bearing any armour; and alſo all Enqueſts and Juries within the City of London. And alſo that this Act in all things do extend to all Barbers-Surgeons admitted and approved to exerciſe the ſaid myſtery of Surgeons, according to the form of the Statute lately made in that behalf, ſo that they exceed not, ne be at one time above the number of xii. perſons. St. 3 H. 8. 11. 32 H. 8. 42.

The cauſes why Surgeons have been exempt from bearing of armour, or other ſervices.

The Surgeons of London ſhall be exempt from being Conſtables, bearing of armour, or to be put in Watches or Enqueſts.

The ſeveral ſums that Watermen ſhall take for their fare from one place to another near to the City of London. And the Watermen refuſing to accept the ſaid fares or wages limited, ſhall forfeit the treble value thereof. ALT. 2 & 3 P. M. 16.

CAP. VIII.

The making of Woollen Clothes in Devonſhire.

Where at a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the xiv. day of January, after the laſt prorogation thereof, in the v. year of the Kings moſt noble Reign, the Commons and inhabitants (Clothmakers and Diers of the ſame) within the County of Devon, prayed and deſired, that where divers and many Clothes, called white Straits, be and have been continually made within the ſaid County, to the great profit of the Kings ſubjects there, the which clothes were wont to be well and ſufficiently made, and to bear their breadth, yard broad and half quarter raw, and xv. yards of length; And that no man in times paſt hath uſed to make them, but that the maker thereof hath ſet his ſpecial mark upon every of the ſaid clothes, ſo by him or them made, whereby every man may know their own clothes from other mens, by reaſon of their ſaid ſeveral marks: ſo at the ſaid Parliament it was ſhewed by the inhabitants (clothmakers & buyers of the ſame) in the County aforeſaid, that now adays the ſaid clothes be not ſufficiently made, ne bear their length and breadth according as they ſhould do, ne marked with every mans own mark, whereof great inconvenience doth daily enſue and increaſe, to the impoveriſhing and hurting as well of the Kings ſubjects, buyers and ſellers of the ſame, as merchants ſtrangers: whereof the premiſes conſidered, it was therefore enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in the ſame Parliament then aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that from the Feaſt of Penticoſt next after the making of the ſaid Act, no perſon ſhould make any ſuch cloth, called white ſtraits, to ſell, without that it or they be, when they be raw ready to be toked, of the breadth of a yard and half a quarter, and of length xv. yards. And that no perſon make any ſuch clothes, except he ſet his ſpecial mark upon every of the ſaid clothes, ſo by him or them made. And that no perſon uſe no mark on his clothes, ſuch as any other perſon doth, and hath uſed before him, upon pain of forfeiture of every of ẏ ſaid clothes, the one half thereof to be to the King, & the other half thereof to him that ſo ſeiſeth the ſaid clothes ſo made or marked contrary to the form & effect afore expreſſed: And this Act to endure unto the firſt day of this preſent Parliament. And foraſmach as the ſaid Act is thought to be very neceſſary and behoveable: Be it therefore ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, and the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that the ſaid Act concerning making of clothes (called white ſtraits) and every thing therein contained, ſtand and be in his full ſtrength, vertue and effect. And over that it is ordained by the ſaid authority, that no perſon or perſons from the Feaſt of S. John Baptiſt next coming, ſhall make any ſuch clothes (called white ſtraits) ne any cloth of that making of ruſſet colour (called ruſſet ſtraits) without that they and every of them (being raw) be of the breadth and length before rehearſed, and to be marked in manner and form before expreſſed, and ſo being raw, to weigh xiv. pound by true weight at leaſt, upon pain of forfeiture of every of the ſaid clothes made, and being leſs in length or elſe in breadth, or marked contrary to the form and effect before rehearſed, or elſe being of weight contrary to the form before expreſſed: the one half of the ſaid forfeiture to be to the King, and the other half to him that ſeiſeth the ſaid clothes ſo made, and being of weight contrary to the form and effect aforeſaid. And this Act to endure for ever. St. 7 Ed. 6. 9. 27 El. 18.

A rehearſal of the St. made 5 H. 8. 2. touching white ſtraits made in Devonſhire.

A confirmation of the St. of 5 H. 8. 2. touching white ſtraits made in Devonſhire.

Ruſſet ſtraits ſhall be of the like length and breadth, and ſhall weigh fourteen pound being raw.

CAP. IX.

Deceits in making woollen Clothes avoided.

For the deceitful draping, and making of woollen clothes, made and draped within this Realm, and alſo for meaſuring in the ſale of the ſame, our Soveraign Lord the King, by the advice of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame hath ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted divers ordinances and ſtatutes for the true making and draping of ſuch woollen clothes, and for meaſuring in ſale the true content of the ſame in manner and form following. Firſt, That the wool which ſhall be delivered for or by the Clothier to any perſon or perſons for breaking, kembing, carding, or ſpinning of the ſame, the delivery thereof therefore ſhall be by even, juſt and true poiſe and weight of Haverdepois, ſealed by authority, not exceeding in weight after the rate of xii. pound ſeimed wool above one quarter of a pound for the waſte of the ſame wool, and in none other manner. And that the Breaker or Kember to deliver again to the ſame Clothier the ſame wool ſo broken and kembed, and the Carder and Spinſter to deliver again to the ſaid Clothier yarn of the ſame wool by the ſame, even, juſt, and true poiſe and weight (the waſte thereof excepted) without any part thereof concealing, or any more oyl, water, or other thing put thereunto deciveably, upon the pain to forfeit to the Lord of the Leet, within the precinct whereof ſuch default is done, for every ſuch default xii. d. upon due proof of ſuch deceit afore, and by diſcretion of the Mayor, Bailiff, or other head Officer of the City, Borough, or Town where the deceit ſhall appear, the ſame Mayor, Bailiff or head Officer calling to him ſuch perſons as ſhall ſeem to him convenient for the proof of ſuch deceit.

The weight of wool delivered to break, kemb, card or ſpin.

The weight of wool and yarn redelivered to the Clothier.

Item, That the Weaver which ſhall have the weaving of any woollen yarn to be webbed into cloth, ſhall weave, work, and put into the web for cloth to be made thereof, as much and all the ſame yarn as the Clothier or any perſon for him ſhall deliver to the ſame weaver, with his uſed mark put to the ſame, without changing, or any parcel thereof leaving out of the ſame web, or that to reſtore to the ſame Clothier the ſurplus of the ſame yarn, if any ſhall be left not put into the ſame web, and without any more oyl, brenne, moyſture, duſt, ſand, or other thing deceivably putting, or caſting to the ſame web, upon pain to forfeit for every default iii. s. iv. d.

A weaver ſhall put all the yarn into the web, or reſtore it.

Buying of coloured wool in the market only.

Second Letters Patents making no mention of the firſt adnulled.

What ſhall be expreſſed in the Kings Letters Patents of lands, offices, &c. before granted to ſome other.

Dyer f.138. 339. 27 H.8 f.28.

THe Kings Highneſs of his goodneſs calling to his remembrance, that where his Grace hath granted to divers of his ſervants (for their ſervice to his Grace done) lands, tenements, fees, offices, and other things, to have to them, during his pleaſure, and after other perſons, by their ſundry ſuits have obtained of his Highneſs other letters patents of the ſame, not advertiſing his Grace of his former grants, whereby the ſaid former Patentees have been avoided, and put from the advantage of their ſaid former grants and Patents, contrary to the intent and grant of our Soveraign Lord: Wherefore be it ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted by our ſaid Soveraign Lord, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that if any perſon or perſons, from henceforth do make ſuit to the Kings Highneſs for any lands, tenements, offices, or any other things, ſo by his grace granted, or hereafter to be granted to any perſon or perſons, during his pleaſure, the ſaid firſt Patent then being in life, that he do expreſs in his ſaid bill of petition or Patent the tenour of the ſaid former Patent:

And that the King then hath determined his pleaſure againſt the ſaid firſt Patentee, or elſe the ſecond Letters Patents of any of the premiſes to any perſon hereafter to be granted, to be void and of none effect.

This Act to commence and take effect from the fourth day of April next coming, and not before.

CAP. XVI.

Knights nor Burgeſſes of the Parliament may not depart before the end thereof.

Foraſmuch as commonly in the end of every Parliament divers and many great and weighty matters, as well touching the pleaſure, weal, and ſurety of our Soveraign Lord the King, as ÿ common weal of this his Realm and ſubjects, are to be treated, communed of, and by authority of Parliament to be concluded; So it is that divers Knights of Shires, Citizens for Cities, Burgeſſes for Boroughs, and Barons for the cinque Ports, long time before the end of the Parliament, of their own authorities, depart, and go home into their Countreys, whereby the ſaid great and weighty matters are many times greatly delayed: In conſideration whereof, be it enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That from henceforth none of the ſaid Knights, Citizens, Burgeſſes, and Barons, nor any of them, that hereafter ſhall be elected to come or be in any Parliament, do depart from the ſame Parliament, nor abſent himſelf from the ſame, till the ſaid Parliament be fully finiſhed, ended or prorogued, except he or they ſo departing, have licence of the Speaker and Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and the ſame licence be entred of Record in the book of the Clerk of the Parliament, appointed, or to be appointed for the Commons houſe, upon pain to every of them ſo departing or abſenting themſelves in any other manner, to loſe all thoſe ſums of money, which he or they ſhould or ought to have had for his or their wages. And that all the Counties, Cities and Boroughs, whereof any ſuch perſon ſhall be elected, and the inhabitants of the ſame, ſhall be clearly diſcharged of the ſaid wages againſt the ſaid perſon and perſons, and their executors for evermore. 1.3.El.19.

No Knight, Citizens, &c. ſhall depart from the Parliament without licence.

CAP. IV.

How Rents and Services may be recovered by Avowry.

Whereas divers, as well Noblemen, as other the Kings ſubjects, have ſuffered recoveries againſt them of divers their Manors, Lordſhips, Lands and Tenements, for the performance of their wills, or for the ſurety of their wives jointures, or for the jointure of their ſons and heirs apparent, and their wives, or for any other perſon or perſons according to their covenants and agreements, and thoſe perſons that ſo have recovered the ſaid Manors by the courſe of the common Law, had no remedy, nor may have, to compel the Fermors, Freeholders, and Tenants, which held of the ſame Manors by the rents, ſervices, and cuſtoms, to attorn to them, nor could by the order of the Law attain to ÿ rents, ſervices or cuſtoms, (if they were denied) by diſtreſs or action, without they could once attain to the poſſeſſion of the ſame rents, ſervices and cuſtoms, by paying or doing the ſaid rents, ſervices, or cuſtoms, by the ſame Freeholders, Fermors, and Tenants, which to do, divers and many of them have oftentimes refuſed, and yet do, to the great offence and charge of their conſcience, not onely to the diſheritance of the ſaid Recoveries, but alſo in breaking of the laſt wills of them againſt whom ſuch Recovery is had, and alſo to the diſheritance of the ſaid husband, wives, and other, to whoſe uſe the ſame Recovery was ſo had. Inst. 104.

Recoverors have no remedy by the common Law to recover their Rents or Preſentations.

Alſo if there were any Advowſon appendant to any of the ſaid Manors, and the ſame Advowſon had fallen void, and a ſtranger had preſented, the ſaid recoverers, nor they to whoſe uſe the ſame recoveries were had, had no remedy for the ſame diſturbance, and ſometime thereby they have been diſinherited.

The recoverer may diſtrain for the rents and ſervices of the tenant, farmor, &c. and ſhall have a Quare impedit. Raſt. l. pl. f. 521.

Dyer f. 31. Bro. meſne 23.

Be it therefore enacted by this preſent Parliament, and by the authority of the ſame, that the recoverers in all ſuch recoveries, their heirs and all aſſigns, may from henceforth diſtrain for the foreſaid rents, ſervices and cuſtoms, ſo being due and unpaid, and make Avowry, or juſtifie the ſame, as thoſe perſons againſt whom the ſaid recovery is or ſhould have done if the ſaid recovery had not been had, and alſo have like remedy for the recovering of the ſaid rents, ſervices and cuſtoms by Avowry. And alſo Quare impedit for the ſaid Advowſon, if any diſturbance be made, as thoſe perſons againſt whom the ſaid recoveries were had, might or ſhould have had by the courſe of the common Law afore the ſaid recovery, if any ſuch rents, ſervices, or cuſtoms had been denied them, or any ſuch diſturbance had been had in their times.

The Avowant in Replegiari ſhall recover his damags & coſts of ſuit.

Dyer f. 141. 39. H. 8 f. 22. Bro. damages l.

And alſo that every Avowant, and every other perſon or perſons that make Avowry, coniſance, or knowledge, or juſtifie, as Baily to any other perſon or perſons, in any Replegiari, or ſecond deliverance, for any rent, cuſtom, or ſervice, if their Avowry, coniſance, or juſtification be found for them, or the plaintiffs in the ſaid actions otherwiſe barred, ſhall recover their damages and coſts that they have ſuſtained, as the plaintiff ſhould have done, if they had recovered in the ſaid Replevins.

Certain Labourers working in London may take ſuch wages as they did take before the Statute of 6 H. 8. 3. Rep. 5 El. 4.

CAP. VI.

A Repeal of the Statute made Anno 6 H. 8. 1. and of all other Statutes made for Apparel before it. What kind of Apparel Temporal men of all degrees and eſtates are allowable, and what prohibited to wear, and upon what penalties, and who ſhall have the forfeiture, and by what means they ſhall be recovered. Rep. 24 H. 8. 13. and 1 Jac. 25.

Anno xiv. & xv. Henrici octavi.

THe King our Soveraign Lord Henry the eighth after the Conqueſt, by the grace of God King of England, and of France, and Lord of Ireland, at his Parliament holden at London, the fifteenth day of April, in the fourteenth year of his moſt noble Reign, and from thence adjourned to Weſtminſter, the laſt day of July, the fifteenth year of his ſaid Reign, and there holden to the honour of Almighty God and holy Church, and for the weal and profit of this his Realm, by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath done to be ordained, made and enacted certain Statutes and Ordinances, in manner and form following.

CAP. I.

No perſon ſhall ſell to a Merchant ſtranger any broad white woollen Cloth made in England, unleſs he cannot ſell it to ſome Engliſh Merchant within eight days after he brought it to Blackwell-Hall, except the ſale be in Fairs, Ports, or Creeks. Exp.

CAP. II.

What Apprentices ſtrange Artificers ſhall take, &c.

No ſtranger ſhall take an apprentice, but one which was born under the Kings obeiſance. 5 El. 4.

BE it enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, and the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that no manner of ſtranger, born out of the Kings obeiſance, be he denizen, or not denizen, uſing any manner of handicraft within this Realm, ſhall take from henceforth any Apprentice, except the ſame Apprentice be born under the Kings obeiſance, upon pain to forfeit for every Apprentice that he ſhall take contrary to this Act, x. li. the one half thereof to be to our Soveraign Lord the King, the other half to him or them that ſhall ſue for it, be it by action of debt, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe: in which ſuit the defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his Law, ne any eſſoin, licence, or protection to be allowed.

No alien ſhall keep above two Journeymen, except they be born under the Kings obeiſance. 5 El. 4.

Be it alſo Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, and under like pain to be forfeited and recovered (as is aforeſaid) that no ſtranger, being alien born, and uſing any manner of handicraft within this Realm, from the Feaſt of all Saints next enſuing, ſhall in any manner of wiſe uſe, take, retain, or keep into his or their ſervices any manner of Journeyman, or covenant-ſervant, above the number of two at one time, except the ſame Journeyman, or covenant-ſervant be born under the Kings obeiſance.

All ſtrangers dwelling within two miles of London, ſhall be under the reformation of the Wardens of handicrafts within the City.

And over this be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all manner of perſons, being aliens born, uſing any manner of handicraft, be they denizens or not denizens, and inhabited within the City of London or Suburbs of the ſame, within the Town of Weſtminſter, the Pariſh of S. Martins in the fields, the Pariſh of our Lady of the Strand, S. Clement of Danes without Temple-Bar, S. Giles in the Fields, S. Andrews in Holborn, the Town and Borough of Southwark, Shoreditch, White-Chappel Pariſh, S. Johns Street, the Pariſh of Clerkenwell, S. Botolphs Pariſh without Aldgate, S. Katherins, Bermondſey Street, or within two miles compaſs of the ſaid City of London, or the Pariſhes aforeſaid, ſhall be under the ſearch and reformation of the Wardens and Fellowſhips of handicrafts within the ſaid City of London, with one ſubſtantial ſtranger, being an houſholder of the ſame craft, by the ſame Wardens to be choſen, that is to ſay, every ſuch ſtranger, occupying any myſtery or handicraft (as is aforeſaid) ſhall be under the ſearch and reformation of the Wardens, and one ſubſtantial ſtranger, being an houſholder, of that craft that they ſhall ſo occupy.

And that the Wardens of the ſaid City of every ſuch handicraft, with one ſtranger or houſholder (as is aforeſaid) of the ſame craft, have full power and authority, by this preſent Act, to limit and appoint to every ſtranger of the myſtery and handicraft that they be of, inhabiting within the ſaid City, Suburbs, places, or precinct, above remembred, a proper mark, without taking any thing therefore: by the which their wares, veſſels, and workmanſhips that they make, may be known.

The Wardens, &c. ſhall aſſign a proper mark for ſtrangers wares.

And that the Wardens of every ſuch handicraft and myſtery aforeſaid, calling to them one ſtranger of the myſtery and occupation that they be of, being an houſholder, ſhall have full power and authority to ſearch, view, and reform, as well within the ſaid City of London, as in all other places and limits beforeſaid, all manner of wares of workmanſhips, made by any manner of ſuch handicraftmen, being aliens born, as is aforeſaid.

Reformation of ſtrangers wares and workmanſhip.

And that no ſtranger born out of the Kings obeiſance, uſing any of the myſteries or occupations of ſmiths, joyners, or coopers, ſhall make any manner of wares or veſſels, concerning the ſame myſteries or occupations, except that they and every of them put ſuch marks to every of the ſame wares and veſſels, before they ſhall be put to ſale or uſe, as the Wardens of their occupations, crafts, or myſteries ſhall limit and appoint, without taking any thing therefore, upon pain of forfeiture of the double value of the ſame wares and veſſels: The one half of which forfeiture to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, the other half to the party that firſt will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in which the defendant ſhall not wage his Law, nor any eſſoin ſhall be caſt, or protection allowed.

Smiths, Joyners, Coopers, which be ſtrangers, muſt mark their wares.

And further, it is enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if upon any ſuch ſearch or view to be made, by the Wardens and one ſtranger, of any craft or myſtery beforeſaid, after the form of this eſtatute, in veſſels or wares to be found in the poſſeſſion of the workers or owners thereof, putting the ſame veſſels or wares to workmanſhip of any ſtranger falſly and deceitfully made, to the hurt of the Kings liege people, and ſo adjudged by the ſaid Wardens and one ſtranger, that then ſuch worker or owner, in whoſe poſſeſſion the ſame falſe and deceitful wares ſhall be found, ſhall forfeit the ſame wares: the one half thereof to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half thereof to the firſt finder thereof ſuing for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts by action of detinue, in which action the defendant nor defendants ſhall not be admitted to wage their Law, nor protection, ne eſſoin be to them herein allowable.

The forfeiture of wares deceitfully made by an alien.

Be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Wardens and Maſters of Fellowſhips of all and every ſuch handicrafts within any ſuch City, Borough or Town-Corporate within this Realm, where any ſuch Wardens happen to be; and in ſuch Boroughs and Towns-Corporate where no Wardens of handicrafts are, the Bailiffs or the Governour or Governours of the ſame Boroughs or Towns, ſo lacking Wardens, ſhall have like power and authority with the Bailiff or Bailiffs of the Liberties with them, where any ſuch Liberty ſhall be, being content ſo to do, to view, ſearch, and reform ſtrangers born out of the Kings obeiſance, inhabiting and uſing within any ſuch City, Borough, or Town-Corporate, any manner of handicraft, in as large and ample manner as the ſaid Wardens and Fellowſhips of the ſaid City of London may do, by vertue of this preſent Act. And that all ſtrangers uſing any of the ſaid handicrafts in any of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, or Towns-Corporate, be bounden to do and obey in every thing, according to the tenour of this preſent Act, upon like pains and forfeitures as is above remembred, to be had and recovered in form above rehearſed.

Wardens, Bailiffs, &c. of Towns-Corporate may ſearch, and reform ſtrangers.

Provided alway, That if the Wardens of any fellowſhip or Myſtery before ſaid, Bailiffs, Governour or Governours before ſaid, wrongfully will intreat any ſtranger, in executing of this Act, or any thing therein contained, that then the ſtranger ſo grieved may by authority of this Act, by bill or information, complain to the Lord Chancellor and Treaſurer of England, or the Juſtices of Aſſiſe in the County for the time being, which by their examinations ſhall have full power and authority to hear and determine the ſame complaint, and to award to the party complainant ſuch amends, as by their diſcretions ſhall be thought reaſonable.

Remedy for ſtrangers which be injured by Wardens, &c.

Provided alſo, that it ſhall be lawful for, and to every the ſaid ſtrangers, born out of the Kings obeiſance, being a houſholder, to have and receive as well all and every ſuch ſtrangers, born out of the Kings obeiſance, being the time of this Parliament with him retained as a Journeyman, as to have and retain every ſuch ſtranger, being born out of the Kings obeiſance, being apprentice with him the time of this Parliament, this Act notwithſtanding. This to endure to the laſt day of the next Parliament.

Provided alſo, that this Act extend not to the inhabitants, ſtrangers that now be, or hereafter ſhall be, in the Univerſities of Oxford or Cambridge, or within the Sanctuary of St. Martins le Grand within the ſaid City of London.

Strangers dwelling in Oxford, Cambridge, Saint Martins. The Wardens refuſing to mark the wares.

Provided always, That if the ſaid Wardens of the ſaid City of London, with a ſtranger, or Governour or Governours of any City, or Borough-Corporate within this Realm, refuſe to mark the wares of any ſtranger, after that they be required ſo to mark: that then it ſhall be lawful to the ſame eſtranger or eſtrangers, to whom ſuch refuſal ſhall be made, to ſell and put to ſale his ſaid wares, ſo required to be marked, and refuſed, this Act notwithſtanding.

Provided alſo, that this Act extend not to any other handicrafts, then to the crafts of Joyners, Pouchmakers, Coopers, and Blackſmiths, for or concerning the foreſaid articles of marking of wares of the ſame Eſtrangers.

To which only handicrafts this Statute doth extend.

Alſo that it ſhall be lawful to any Lord of the Parliament, and every other of the Kings ſubjects, having Lands and Tenements to the yearly value of one C. li. to take and retain Eſtrangers, Joyners, and Glaſiers, in their ſervice, from time to time, to and for the exerciſing with them their crafts, this Act notwithſtanding. Who may retain aliens.

CAP. III.

Touching Worſted Weavers of Yarmouth and Linn.

7 Ed.4.1.

BEcauſe it is diſcreetly conſidered in this preſent Parliament, that the true making and draping of Worſteds, Saies, and Stamins, is one of the moſt profitable occupations of this Realm; and that the ſame Worſteds, Saies and Stamins, truly and ſubſtantially made and wrought, been right acceptable and commodious merchandiſes, as well in this Realm of England, as in Foreign Regions and Countreys: For eſtabliſhment and good order whereof, divers good and laudable Statutes, Acts and Ordinances heretofore have been made and Enacted: and namely in a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the third day of June, in the ſeventh year of the Reign of the late King of famous memory, Edw. the fourth. Sithen which Parliament the making of the ſaid Worſteds, Saies, and Stamins, hath much increaſed, and been multiplied in the City of Norwich, and in divers Towns and places in the County of Norfolk: And becauſe the Towns of great Yarmouth and Linn, in the ſaid County, been Towns Corporated, and the inhabitants of the ſame Towns now daily practiſe, and uſe the making and draping of the ſaid Cloth of Worſteds, Saies and Stamins, more buſily and diligently then they have done in times paſt, to whom it is painful and coſtly to tranſport and convey their ſaid clothes to the ſaid City of Norwich, or to places within the ſaid County of Norfolk, which been far diſtant from either of the ſaid Towns, to be ſearched and ſealed by the Wardens of the Worſted Weavers of the ſame City of Norwich, or County, according to the ſaid Act of Parliament made the ſaid ſeventh year of King Edward the fourth:

Election of a Warden of Worſted Weavers in great Yarmouth in Norfolk.

It is therefore ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, and by the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That the craftſmen (called Worſted Weavers) inhabited in the ſaid Town of great Yarmouth, ſhall have power and authority by this preſent Act, from henceforth to elect and chuſe yearly for ever, in the Munday next after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt, one honeſt man of the ſame myſtery and occupation, being an houſholder within the ſaid Town of great Yarmouth, and having of his proper goods and chattels to the value of x.li. at the leaſt, or lands and tenements to his own uſe of the eſtate of freehold, at the leaſt to the clear yearly value of xx.s. to be Warden of the ſame craft and myſtery, for the year next enſuing; which man ſo elected and choſen, ſhall perſonaly appear before the Mayor of the ſaid City of Norwich for the time being, the Munday next after the Feaſt of Corpus Chriſti then next enſuing, then and there to be ſworn and charged by like oath, concerning the true and ſubſtantial making of the ſaid clothes within the ſaid Town of great Yarmouth, as the four Wardens of the ſaid City of Norwich, by vertue of the ſaid Act of Parliament made in the ſaid ſeventh year of King Edward the fourth, been charged and ſworn for the ſame City of Norwich.

The Warden of Yarmouths oath.

And if the ſaid Mayor happen to be abſent the Munday after Corpus Chriſti, or elſe then refuſeth to receive or take the ſaid oath: then the ſaid Warden ſo elect, within four days next after the ſame Munday, ſhall come before the Bailiffs of the ſaid Town of great Yarmouth for the time being, or before one of them, the other being abſent: and then and there receive a corporal oath for the true exerciſing of the ſame Office of Wardenſhip, after the tenour of the oath accuſtomably uſed to be given to the ſaid Wardens of the ſaid City of Norwich.

The Warden of Yarmouths authority.

And then the ſaid Warden of the ſaid Town of great Yarmouth for that time being, ſo elect and ſworn, may ordain and appoint a ſeal, with this letter Y. to be engraven in the ſame ſeal, and may have full power and authority to view, ſearch, ſeiſe, and ſeal in lead with the ſame ſeal, ſo to be appointed and engraven, and none other, all Worſteds, Saies, and Stamins within the ſaid Town of Yarmouth, and ſuburbs of the ſame, made or to be made, and not elſewhere, in as large and ample manner as the ſaid Wardens of the ſaid City of Norwich, and Wardens of the ſaid County of Norfolk, or any of them, hath or have within the ſaid City or County, or in any wiſe may do in that behalf, by authority or vertue of the before remembred Act, made in the ſaid ſeventh year of King Edward the fourth, any thing in the ſame Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Every perſon ſhall mark his Worſteds, Saies, &c. with his ſeveral mark.

And that no perſon inhabited within the ſaid Town of great Yarmouth, or Suburbs thereof, weave any Worſteds, Saies or Stamins within the ſame Town, except he be an Engliſhman born, and have been apprentice to the ſaid occupation, and without he weave there ſuch proper mark as ſhall be limited and appointed by the ſaid Warden of the ſaid Town for the time being, elect and ſworn as is aforeſaid, upon pain of forfeiture thereof to the King our Soveraign Lord: And that every Warden of the ſaid Town ſhall limit diſtinct and ſeveral marks to every of the ſaid Worſted Weavers of the ſame Town of great Yarmouth, and the ſame marks by the ſaid Warden to be regiſtred in a book.

Election of a Warden of Worſted Weavers in Linn in Norfolk.

And alſo be it Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that if, and whenſoever hereafter the ſaid Town of Linn ſhall be inhabited with ten ſundry houſholders, or more number of houſholders, exerciſing and uſing the ſaid craft or myſtery of Worſted weavers, then and from thenceforth, that is to ſay, as long as the ſame Town of Linn ſhall be inhabited with the number of ten ſuch houſholders at the leaſt, it ſhall be lawful to the ſame inhabitants of the ſaid Town of Linn yearly on the Munday next after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt, to elect and chooſe of themſelves one Warden of the ſaid craft and myſtery of Worſted Weavers, to be of the value in lands and goods, as is beforeſaid of the Warden of Yarmouth: which Warden ſo elect, ſhall yearly be ſworn and charged at the ſaid City of Norwich, in like manner, and at like day, as is before limited to the Wardens of Yarmouth: or in default of the ſaid Mayor of Norwich, then the ſaid Warden ſo to be elect for the ſaid Town of Linn, to take a corporal oath before the Mayor of the ſaid Town of Linn, within ſuch time, and after ſuch form, as is before limited unto the Warden of Yarmouth. And that the ſaid Warden of the ſaid Town of Linn for the time being, ſo elect and ſworn, by himſelf may

The Warden of Linnes ſeal and authority.

ordain and appoint, and ſeal with this letter L. to be graven in the ſame ſeal, and may have full power and authority to view, ſearch, ſeiſe, and ſeal in lead with the ſame ſeal, ſo to be engraven, and with none other, all Worſteds, Saies, and Stamins within the ſaid Town of Lin, and ſuburbs of the ſame, made or to be made, and not elſewhere, in as large and ample manner as the ſaid Warden of the ſaid City of Norwich, and Wardens of the ſaid County of Norfolk, or any of them hath, or have within the ſaid City or County, or otherwiſe may do by authority or vertue of the before remembred Act, made in the ſaid ſeventh year of King Edward the fourth, any thing contained in the ſame Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Every Worſted maker an Engliſhman born, and ſhall have his own mark.

And that no perſon inhabited within the ſaid Town of Linne, or ſuburbs thereof, make any Worſteds, Saies, or Stamins within the ſame Town, except he be an Engliſhman born, and have been apprentice to the ſame occupation, and without he weave therein ſuch proper mark as ſhall be limited and appointed by the ſaid Warden of the ſame Town of Lin, for the time being, upon pain and forfeiture thereof to the King our Soveraign Lord: And that every Warden of the ſaid Town ſhall limit diſtinct and ſeveral marks to every of the ſaid Worſted weavers of the ſame Town, and the ſame marks by the ſaid Warden to be regiſtred in a book.

A Warden of Norwich or Norfolk, ſhall come to Linne when there is no Warden there.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel next coming, unto ſuch time as the ſaid Town of Linne ſhall be inhabited with the ſaid number of ten houſholders of the ſaid craft of Worſted weavers, and always after, when that number of ten houſholders ſhall happen to fail, and not be inhabited in the ſaid Town of Linne, the ſaid Wardens of the ſaid City or Norwich, and their ſucceſſors, ſhall procure and cauſe one of themſelves, or one of the Wardens of the ſaid craft of the ſaid County of Norfolk, perſonally to come and be every xxviij. day from and after the ſaid Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, in and to the ſaid Town of Linne, or within ſix days next after every ſuch xxviij. day, and there to continue and abide by ſo long time as he may ſearch and ſeal all ſuch Worſteds, Saies, and Stamins, made in the ſame Town of Linne, as then ſhall be brought to him to be ſealed within the ſpace of one whole day. And the ſaid inhabitants of Worſted weavers, of the ſame Town of Linne being, ſhall content and pay the ſaid Warden of Norwich or Norfolk, which ſhall ſo come to Linne, in the ſaid xxviij. day, or within ſix days next after the ſaid xxviij. day, for his coſts and expences, for every time that he ſhall ſo come to Linne, between the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, and the Annunciation of our Lady St. Mary, iij. s. and for every time that he ſhall ſo come to the ſaid Town of Linne between the Feaſt of the Annunciation of our Lady, and the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, ij. s. And if the ſaid inhabitants of Worſted weavers of the ſaid Town of Linne, do not content and pay to the ſaid Warden coming to Linne, in form aforeſaid, for the ſaid coſts and charges, the ſaid iij. s. or ij. s. as is above limited, then the ſaid inhabitants ſhall forfeit and pay to the ſaid Warden, or to his executors, for every ſuch default of payment, xl. s. And if one of the ſaid Wardens of Norwich and Norfolk, come not to the ſaid Town of Linne, for the cauſe aforeſaid, in manner and form above remembred; then the ſaid Wardens of the ſaid City of Norwich, ſhall forfeit and pay to the ſaid inhabitants of Linne, of the ſaid myſtery of Worſted weavers, for every ſuch default xl. s. For recompence of which penalty, and forfeits, the ſaid Wardens of Norwich or Norfolk, being thereunto intitled by this preſent Act, by his proper name with this addition, that is to ſay, Unus Gardianorum, or nuper unus gardianorum artis ſive myſterii textorum panni lanei vocati Worſtedes in civitate Norwich, vel comitat. Norfolk, as the troth requireth, ſhall and may have action of debt by writ, bill, or plaint, in any competent or lawful Court of this Realm, againſt the ſaid inhabitants of Linne, of the ſaid myſtery for the time being, by their ſundry proper names. And the ſaid inhabitants by their ſaid names, with this addition, Textorum panni lanei voc. Worſtedes, inhabitantes villa de Linne, ſhall and may have like actions of debt againſt the ſaid Wardens of Norwich by the name of Gardiani artis ſive myſterii textorum pannorum laneorum voc. Worſtedes infra civitatem Norwic. com. Norfol, to be uſed in good congruities of Latine, and form of the Laws of this Realm. In which actions, or any of them, none eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be ſuffered or allowed. And that the particular bodies, or goods of any of the ſaid Wardens or inhabitants, being condemned in any of the ſaid actions, ſhall and may be put in execution, after ſuch manner and form as is uſed in actions of debt, by courſe of the common Law of this Realm.

The Wardens allowance by the day for his charges in coming to Linne.

By what names the parties grieved ſhall uſe their actions.

The particular bodies or goods of the Wardens or inhabitants put in execution.

Clothes marked by the Wardens of Linne and Yarmouth.

And moreover, be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that all clothes of Worſteds, Saies, and Stamins, made or to be made within any of the ſaid Towns of Linne and great Yarmouth, or ſuburbs of the ſame, or any of them, & marked with ſuch marks as ſhall be limited to the makers by any of the Wardens of the ſaid Town in manner & form aboveſaid, and viewed and ſealed by any of the Wardens of the ſaid Town of Linne and Yarmouth, in form above remembred: by force and vertue of this preſent Act, may be lawfully put to ſale by the owners and makers of the ſame, without any other marking or ſealing upon the ſaid clothes, or upon any of them to be had or made by any other Wardens, dwelling or abiding without the ſaid Town, and without any arreſt, ſeiſure, or forfeiture to be had or made of or upon any of the ſaid clothes, for lack of any other ſeals or marks: any thing contained in the ſaid former Act, made in the ſaid vij. year of King Edward the Fourth, to the contrary notwithſtanding.

What Apprentices Worſted weavers in Linne and great Yarmouth may take.
St. 5 El. 4.
26 H. 8. 16.

And over this, be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every crafts-man of the ſaid myſtery and occupation of Worſted making, dwelling within any of the ſaid Towns of Linne and great Yarmouth, and ſuburbs of the ſame, at their own free wills and liberties from henceforth for ever, may have or take apprentice or apprentices (being male) of the age of xiiij. years and upward, and being the Kings natural ſubjects, for the term of vij. years, and not under, ſo that none of them exceed the number of two at once, to learn, uſe, and exerciſe the ſaid craft within either of the ſaid Towns of Lin and great Yarmouth or ſuburbs of the ſame; Albeit the father of the ſame apprentices or apprentice, may not expend in lands and tenements to the yearly value of xx. s. any Act or Ordinance to the contrary notwithſtanding.

This Statute ſhall not be prejudicial to the Mayor of Norwich or the Wardens there.

Provided alway, that this preſent Act, nor any thing therein contained, be not in any wiſe hurtful or prejudicial to the Mayor of Norwich, or to his ſucceſſors, or to the Wardens of the ſaid City and County, or to their ſucceſſors, in any point, article, power, or authority, other then for weaving, ſearching, and ſealing of Worſteds, Saies, and Stamins, made or to be made onely within the ſaid Towns of Linne and Yarmouth, or ſuburbs of the ſame, or to any of them. And for limiting of marks to the makers of Worſteds, Saies, and Stamins, onely inhabited in either of the ſaid Towns or ſuburbs thereof, and taking of apprentices, in form above remembred; but that the ſaid Mayor of the ſaid City of Norwich, and Wardens of the ſaid City and County, and every of them may have and uſe all other points, articles, powers, and authorities contained and ſpecified in the above remembred Act, made in the ſeventh year of King Edward the Fourth, as well for the ſearch, ſealing, correction, and reformation of the ſaid Wardens newly to be elect by vertue of this preſent Act, and every of them, according, and after ſuch form as they may do or uſe, any of the ſaid Wardens of the ſaid City or County, by force of the ſaid Act, made in the ſaid ſeventh year of King Edward the Fourth, as all and every other inquiries, corrections, ſearches, ſealings, and reformations to be had, for the true making of Worſteds, Saies, and Stamins, in and upon any perſon or perſons, as well within the ſaid Towns of Linne and Yarmouth, as without, without trouble, let, or vexation of any of the inhabitants of the ſaid Towns, in as large and ample wiſe, as they might have done before the making of this preſent Act, any thing contained in the ſame preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

None in Linne or Yarmouth ſhall ſheer, die, or calendar, but in Norwich.

And alſo provided, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that the ſaid craftſmen of Worſted weavers inhabited, or hereafter to be inhabited within either of the ſaid Towns of Linne and Yarmouth, or ſuburbs of the ſame, and the Merchants, or any other perſon or perſons which ſhall happen to buy of the ſaid craftſmen, or of any of them, or of any other perſon, any of the ſaid clothes of Worſteds, Stamins, or Saies, made or to be made within either of the ſaid Towns of Linne and Yarmouth, and ſealed by the ſaid Wardens of the ſame Town to be elect and ſworn as is aforeſaid, and any of them ſhall not ſheer, die, or put in colour, or calandre, any Worſteds, Stamins, or Saies, made or to be made within either of the ſaid Towns of Linne and Yarmouth, or ſuburbs of the ſame, in any other place or places, but onely within the ſaid City of Norwich, or ſuburbs of the ſame, upon pain of forfeiture for every piece of Worſted, Saies, or Stamins, to be made within any of the ſaid Towns of Lin and Yarmouth, or ſuburbs of the ſame, or the value thereof, ſhorn, died, coloured, or calendred by any of the ſaid craftſmen, buyers, or merchants, in any other place or places then in the ſaid City of Norwich, or ſuburbs of the ſame: the one half thereof to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other half thereof to ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall ſeiſe the ſame, ſo that the ſaid Worſteds brought to the ſaid City of Norwich to be ſhorn, died, coloured, and calendred, without covin or craft of any of the ſaid inhabitants and merchants, may be ſhorn, died, coloured, and calandred, at, and by as convenient price or prices, and in as ready wiſe, as the ſaid inhabitants of either of the ſaid Towns of Linne and Yarmouth, and merchants buyers of the ſame Worſteds, or other of the ſaid City or County hath had in times paſt, or hereafter ſhall have.

No Worſteds ſhall be carried beyond the Sea, before they be ſhorn, &c.

And alſo that the ſame inhabitants and merchants, and every of them, ſo bringing their ſaid Worſteds to the ſame City for to be ſhorn, died, coloured, and calendred, be reaſonably and lawfully intreated, according to the ſaid Act made in the ſaid ſeventh year of King Edward the Fourth, and the Ordinances made and affirmed, or hereafter to be made and affirmed for the ſaid myſtery; without let or diſturbance, contrary to the ſame Act or Ordinances in that behalf.

And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that no perſon or perſons any time after convey or tranſport into any of the parts beyond the Sea, any manner of Clothes or Worſteds, before the ſame clothes be ſhorn, died, coloured, and calendred, upon pain of forfeiture the value thereof: the one half to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other half thereof to the party that will ſue therefore, by action or plaint of debt in any of the Kings Courts: In which action or ſuit, no protection or eſſoin ſhall be allowed, nor the offendor admitted to wage his Law. This Act to endure to the next Parliament. 26 H. 8. 16. made perpetual. St. 21 H. 8. 21.

CAP IV.

What Cuſtoms and Impoſitions Engliſhmen ſworn to forreign Princes ſhall pay.

PRayen the Commons in this preſent Parliament, that where many and divers perſons being the Kings ſubjects naturally born within this his Realm, have withdrawn themſelves out of the ſame Realm, and tranſported themſelves with their wives, children, and goods, into Holland, Zeland, Brabant, Flanders, and into other Countries of Forreign Princes, and there be ſworn to the obeiſance of the Princes and Lords of the Countries, where they be now inhabited, making there great buildings, and be contributaries to all manner of charges, as the ſubjects of thoſe Countries be: and thus they maintain, as much as in them is, the Cities, Boroughs, and Towns of thoſe Countries, and many more of the Kings ſubjects intend to do the ſame, if remedy therein be not provided: Which ſubjects born in England, notwithſtanding that they thus eſtrange themſelves from the Kings obeyſance, yet they occupy here in all the Ports, Havens, and Creeks, Cities, Boroughs, and Towns of England, as freely, and as free in Cuſtom and Subſidy, as the Kings ſubjects do occupy, and not onely for themſelves, but alſo colourably for other ſtrangers, their friends, and partners, and alſo make themſelves quit and exempt from all charges within this Realm, in prejudice and decay of the Cities, Towns, and Boroughs of England: and as for beyond the Sea, they will obey to none authority granted to the Engliſh Nation, by the Kings Highneſs and his noble Progenitors, under the great Seal of England, and by authority of Parliament, but they give themſelves over to the protection and defence of thoſe outward Princes, to whom they be ſworn ſubjects: And by theſe manner of perſons much coin is conveyed out of the Land:

Wherefore be it ordained and enacted, by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and every ſuch ſubjects born in England, and ſworn to be ſubjects to foreign Princes and Lords of outward parts, from henceforth, (as long as they ſhall ſo abide, and be as ſubjects to foreign Princes and Lords) that from henceforth, ſo long they and every of them ſhall pay ſuch Cuſtoms; Subſidy, Tolls, and other impoſitions within this Realm of England, as other ſtrangers of thoſe parts where the ſaid Engliſh men make their inhabitations, pay or uſe to pay within this ſaid Realm: And that the Knowledge of all and every ſuch perſon or perſons inhabitants, and ſworn in manner and form as is before rehearſed within the Archdukes Countries, that is to ſay, Holland, Zealand, Brabant, and Flanders onely, ſhall be had by certificate thereof made by the Governour of the Merchant Adventurers, and the Aſſiſtants there for the time being; and alſo for all other Realms and Countries of foreign Princes to be certified by the Kings moſt noble Embaſſadors, being at ſuch time there as they ſhall happen to be in the ſaid Countries upon the Kings affairs, ſhall likewiſe certifie, as is aforeſaid; under their ſeal, into the Chancery of our Sovereign Lord the King: and thereupon out of the ſaid Chancery Writs to be made and directed unto the Cuſtomers, Comptrollers, or other Officers of the Kings Cuſtom, in every Port, Haven, or Creek within this ſaid Realm, to perceive, levy, and take all manner of ſuch Cuſtoms, Subſidies, Tolls, and other impoſitions, as is before ſpecified, of all ſuch goods and merchandiſes, as ſhall belong unto any ſuch perſon or perſons inhabited and ſworn, in manner and form above written, as well inward as outward.

An Engliſhman ſworn ſubject to a foreign Prince ſhall pay ſuch impoſitions as aliens do.

Provided alway, That if hereafter it ſhall happen any ſuch perſon or perſons to return into the Realm, and here to tarry, and inhabit, that then he or they ſhall be reſtored to all ſuch liberties and freedoms in paying of Cuſtoms or Subſidies and other charges, as all other Engliſhmen do uſe to pay, and to have a Writ out of the Chancery for the ſame: this Act or any thing therein made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

An Engliſhman returning and dwelling again in the Realm.

CAP. V.

The Priviledges and authority of Phyſicians in London.

IN their moſt humble wiſe ſhew unto your Highneſs, your true and faithful ſubjects, and liege men, John Chambre, Thomas Linacre, Fernandus de Victoria, your Phyſicians, and Nicholas Halſewell, John Frances, and Robert Yaxley, and all other men of the ſame faculty within the City of London and ſeven miles about, that where your Highneſs (by your moſt gracious Letters Patents, bearing date at Weſtminſter the xxiij. day of September, the tenth year of your moſt noble Reign) for the common wealth of this your Realm, in due exerciſing and practiſing of the faculty of Phyſick, and good miniſtration of medicines to be had, hath incorporate and made of us, and of our company aforeſaid, one Body and perpetual Commonalty or Fellowſhip of the faculty of Phyſick, and to have perpetual ſucceſſion and common Seal, and to chuſe yearly a Preſident of the ſame Fellowſhip and Commonalty, to overſee, rule, and govern the ſaid Fellowſhip and Commonalty, and all men of the ſaid faculty, with divers other liberties and priviledges by your Highneſs to us granted, for the common wealth of this your Realm, as in your ſaid moſt gracious Letters Patents more at large is ſpecified and contained, the tenour whereof followeth in theſe words.

A body corporate of the faculty of Phyſick within London, and vij. miles compaſs. Anno 10 H.8.

HEnricus, Dei gratia, Rex Angliæ & Franciæ, & Dominus Hiberniæ, Omnibus ad quos præſentes literæ pervenerint, Salutem. AND foraſmuch that the making of the ſaid Corporation is meritorious, and very good for the common wealth of this your Realm, it is therefore expedient and neceſſary to provide, that no perſon of the ſaid politick Body and Commonalty aforeſaid, be ſuffered to exerciſe and practiſe Phyſick, but onely thoſe perſons that be profound, ſad, and diſcreet, groundedly learned, and deeply ſtudied in Phyſick.

The Kings Letters Patents and every Article therein confirmed.

In conſideration whereof, and for the further authoriſing of the ſame Letters Patents, and alſo enlarging of further Articles for the ſaid Common wealth to be had and made: Pleaſeth it your Highneſs, with the aſſent of your Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, to enact, ordain, and ſtabliſh, that the ſaid Corporation of the ſaid Commonalty and Fellowſhip of the faculty of Phyſick aforeſaid, and all and every Grant, Article, and other thing contained and ſpecified in the ſaid Letters Patents, be approved, granted, ratified, and confirmed in this preſent Parliament, and clearly authorized and admitted by the ſame, good, lawful, and available to your ſaid Body Corporate, and their ſucceſſors for ever, in as ample and large manner as may be taken, thought, and conſtrued by the ſame. And that it pleaſe your Highneſs, with the aſſent of your ſaid Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this your preſent Parliament aſſembled, further to enact, ordain, and eſtabliſh, That the ſix perſons beforeſaid, in your ſaid moſt gracious Letters Patents named as Principals, and firſt named of the ſaid Commonalty and Fellowſhip, chuſing to them two moe of the ſaid Commonalty from henceforward, be called & cleaped Elects. And that the ſame Elects yearly chuſe one of them to be Preſident of the ſaid Commonalty, and as oft as any of the rooms and places of the ſame Elects ſhall fortune to be void, by death or otherwiſe, then the ſupervivors of the ſame Elects (within thirty or fourty days next after the death of them or any of them) ſhall chuſe, name, and admit one or moe, as need ſhall require, of the moſt cunning & expert men, of and in the ſaid faculty in London, to ſupply the ſaid room and number of eight perſons. So that he or they that ſhall be ſo choſen, be firſt by the ſaid ſupervivors ſtrictly examined, after a form deviſed by the ſaid Elects, and alſo by the ſame ſupervivors approved.

There ſhall be eight Elects of the Phyſicians of London.

And where that in Dioceſſes of England out of London it is not light to find alway men able ſufficiently to examine (after the Statute) ſuch as ſhall be admitted to exerciſe Phyſick in them, that it may be enacted in this preſent Parliament, That no perſon from henceforth be ſuffered to exerciſe or practiſe in Phyſick through England, until ſuch time that he be examined at London by the ſaid Preſident, and three of the ſaid Elects: and to have from the ſaid Preſident or Elects Letters Teſtimonials of their approving and examination, except he be a Graduate of Oxford or Cambridge, which hath accompliſhed all things for his form, without any grace. St. 32 H. 8. 40. 1 M. 9. Coke l. 8. f. 114. Cro. Jac. 121. 159. Cro. Car. 256.

Phyſicians in other places muſt be examined by the Preſident and three of the Elects. 3 H. 8. 11.

CAP VI.

Altering of High-ways in the Weld of Kent.

In humble wiſe beſeecheth your Highneſs, your true and faithful ſubject, George Gilford Eſquire for your body, That where there is, and of time whereof mind of man is not to the contrary, hath been an old common way, or ſtreet for carriages, and all other paſſages and buſineſs for you and your Progenitors, and your and their people, in the Hundred of Cranebrook, in the Weld of your County of Kent, leading and extending between and among the lands of the Manor of Hempſted of the ſaid George in the ſaid Hundred of Cranebrook, from the Bridge called Hempſted Bridge, dividing the ſaid Hundred of Cranebrook and the Hundred of Rolvinden in the ſaid Weld of your ſaid County, to a Croſs called Totenden Croſs, ſtanding nigh to a great Oak, named Hempſted Oak, which is in length upon an hundred fourſcore and ten perches: which common way ſo uſed is in divers places thereof right deep, and noyous for the paſſage of your people, and alſo is not ſo directly leading between the ſaid Bridge and Croſs, neither ſo commodious for your people, as another way of like breadth in other places within and over the lands of the ſaid Manor might be made.

In conſideration whereof, it may pleaſe your Highneſs of your bleſſed diſpoſition, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, to enact and ordain, That it ſhall be lawful to your ſaid Beſeecher, his heirs and aſſigns, owners of the ſaid Manor of Hempſted, at his and their proper coſts and charges at any time before the xxvj. day of May, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God M. D. xxvij. by the overſight and aſſent of two Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid County of Kent, and xij. other diſcreet men, inhabitants within the ſaid Hundreds of Cranebrook and Rolvinden, to aſſign, limit, and lay out, over and through the lands of the ſaid Manor one other way for carriages and paſſages of your Grace, and of your people, and your and their heirs, and ſucceſſors, of as great largeneſs in breadth, or larger then the ſaid old way now being is, and as commodious for the ſaid carriages and paſſages, as the ſame way now being is, or better, extending and leading directly between the ſaid Bridge and Croſs; ſo that your Grace, and your people by the ſaid new way, ſo to be aſſigned and laid out, ſhall have the more eaſie carriage and paſſage then is, or of late time hath been, by the ſaid old way. And that after the ſaid new way ſo laid out and aſſigned, the ſaid carriages, paſſages, and other buſineſs there, may be as liberally, commonly, and freely from henceforth there uſed and had for ever, and every other thing there exerciſed and kept, as before this time hath been had, uſed, exerciſed, and kept in the ſaid old way, without let or interruption of the ſaid George, his heirs or aſſigns, or any other perſon, which hereafter ſhall have, hold, or poſſeſs the ſaid Manor. And that immediately after that the ſaid new way (as is aforeſaid) to be aſſigned and limited, ſhall be (as is aboveſaid) laid out and fully made, it ſhall be lawful to your ſaid Beſeecher, his heirs and aſſigns, owners of the ſaid Manor, to incloſe the ſaid old way, and every part thereof, and that from henceforth to hold in ſeveralty to them and to their heirs and aſſigns, to their own uſe and profit for ever, as parcel of the ſaid Manor, without any common way, or paſſage there from thenceforth to be had, or claimed, any preſcription, or uſe to the contrary heretofore had notwithſtanding.

Gilford may lay out a new way in the Manor of Hempſted, and then keep in ſeveral the old.

And in conſideration that many other common ways in the ſaid Weld of Kent be ſo deep and noyous, by wearing and courſe of water and other occaſions, that people cannot have their carriages or paſſages by horſes upon or by the ſame, but to their great pains, peril, and jeopardy: it may be by the ſaid authority enacted and eſtabliſhed, That if any other perſon or perſons, any time hereafter, in any place within the ſaid Weld of your ſaid County, of his good mind and diſpoſition, without any value of good by him or them to be received for the ſame, will for the common weal of your people, aſſign and lay out a more commodious way, in and over the lands thereunto adjoyning, whereof the perſon or other to his uſe ſhall be ſeiſed of fee in eſtate of inheritance, that the ſame new way ſo to be aſſigned and laid out, by overſight and aſſent of two Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid County, and xij. other diſcreet men, inhabiting within the Hundred, where any ſuch new way ſhall be limited and laid out, or inhabiting within the ſame Hundred, and other Hundreds to that Hundred next adjoyning, ſhall be from thenceforth holden, occupied, and uſed, in like manner as the old way there now is, or before hath been.

Any perſon may lay out a more commodious way in the Weld of Kent, by the aſſent of two Juſtices of Peace and xij. diſcreet men of that Hundred, and keep ſeveral the old.

And that alſo the ſame perſon or perſons ſo diſpoſed, willing and accompliſhing the ſame, ſhall and may for the ſaid new way ſo aſſigned and uſed, retain and hold in way of recompence for the ſame new way ſo to be given, the ſoil and ground of the old way in ſeveralty, as is aboveſaid, to him or them, and to their heirs for ever, in like manner as is aboveſaid of the ſaid new way to be aſſigned at Hempſted. And that the ſaid two Juſtices of Peace, and xij. other diſcreet perſons, by whoſe overſight and aſſent the ſaid new way at Hempſted, or any other way by vertue of this Act ſhall be hereafter aſſigned, limited, and laid out, ſhall within three months next after the aſſignment, limitation, and laying out of the ſame, make certificate into the Kings moſt honourable Court of Chancery under their ſeals, of the length and breadth of the ſame new way or ſtreet, and of other things adjoyning or concerning the ſame, as by their diſcretions ſhall be thought moſt expedient or requiſite for the common wealth of that County to be certified: And that certificate to be made from time to time as oft as any ſuch new way or ſtreet ſhall be aſſigned, limited, and laid out in form above written.

The Juſtices and xij. men ſhall make certificate of the new way into the Chancery.

Provided alway, that if any perſon or perſons, or body politick, have or ought to have, or hereafter ſhall have any Church-way, or other whatſoever way, or paſſage, over or through any manner lands adjoyning to any of the ſaid old ways or ſtreets, which ſhall be taken and uſed by force of this Act, as ſeveral ſoil and freehold, in recompence for any new way to be made and laid out in form aforeſaid, or have, or ought to have, or hereafter ſhall have any lands or tenements adjoyning to the ſaid old way: that they and every of them, their heirs and ſucceſſors, ſhall and may have and uſe their ſaid way or ways, out of, and into the ſaid new way over and through the land of the ſaid old way or ſtreet, into or over the ſaid land or tenement adjoyning to the ſame, and ſo to paſs, and repaſs, as ſhall appertain over the ſame old way, at ſuch convenient place or places thereof, as therefore ſhall be limited and aſſigned by the ſaid two Juſtices of Peace; and other xij. men, and by them to be certified into the Chancery among other things by them to be certified in form aforeſaid, any thing in this Act above written notwithſtanding. St. 26 H. 8. 7.

They which have any way through the old way may uſe it.

CAP. VIII.

The marriage of the Six Clerks allowed, &c.

IN moſt humble wiſe beſeecheth your moſt true and faithful ſubjects, and daily ſervants, the ſix Clerks of your high Court of Chancery, that whereas of old time accuſtomed hath been uſed in the ſaid Court, that all manner of Clerks and Miniſters of the ſame Court, writing to the Great Seal, ſhould be unmarried (except onely the Clerk of the Crown) ſo that as well the Courſetours and other Clerks, as the ſix Clerks of the ſaid Chancery, were by the ſame cuſtom reſtrained from marriage, whereby all thoſe that contrary to the ſame did marry, were no longer ſuffered to write in the ſaid Chancery, not onely to their great hinderance, loſing thereby the benefit of their long ſtudy, and tedious labours and pains in youth, taken in the ſaid Court, but alſo to the great decay of the true courſe of the ſaid Court.

By old cuſtom no Clerk of the Chancery might marry, but onely the Clerk of the Crown.

And foraſmuch as the ſaid cuſtom taketh no place nor uſage, but onely in the Office of the ſaid ſix Clerks, but that it is permitted and ſuffered for maintenance of the ſaid courſe, that as well the ſaid Courſetours as the other Clerks aforeſaid, may and do take wives, and marry at their liberty, after the Laws of holy Church, and of long time have ſo done, without interruption or let of any perſon: It may therefore pleaſe your Highneſs, of your moſt abundant grace, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, in conſideration of the premiſſes, and alſo for that the ſaid cuſtom is not grounded upon any Law, to ordain, enact, and eſtabliſh, that John Trevethen, Richard Welles, Oliver Leader, John Croke, William Jeſſon, and John Lemſey, now being in the Office of the ſix Clerks of the Chancery, and every of them, and all other which in time to come ſhall be in the ſame Office, and every of them, may and do take wives and marry at their liberty, after the Laws of holy Church. And that they, and every of them, ſo married, may have, hold, and enjoy their ſaid Office of ſix Clerks, in as ample, large, and like manner, as they did or ſhould do before the ſaid eſpouſals, or as if they had never been married, the ſaid cuſtom, or any other cuſtom or ordinance heretofore had or made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The ſix Clerks of the Chancery may marry wives, and enjoy their Offices.

Provided alway, that by any thing in this Act contained, the Maſter of the Rolls (for the time being) be not prejudiced either in the giving and diſpoſition of the ſaid Offices from time to time, as hath been heretofore accuſtomed, the forfeiture of that Office by reaſon of marriage onely except. And that the ſaid Officers, which now be and hereafter ſhall be, do give ſuch attendance unto the ſaid Maſter of the Rolls for the time being, as heretofore in the ſaid Offices hath been accuſtomed.

The penalty for unlawful hunting the Hare.

FOraſmuch as our Sovereign Lord the King, and other Noblemen of this Realm of England, before this time have uſed and exerciſed the game of hunting of the Hare, for their diſport and pleaſure, which game is now decayed, and almoſt utterly deſtroyed, for that divers perſons in divers parts of this Realm, by reaſon of the tracing in ſnow have killed and deſtroyed, and daily do kill and deſtroy the ſame Hares, by x. xij. or xvj. upon a day, to the diſpleaſure of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, and other Noblemen of this his Realm: Wherefore be it enacted by our ſaid Sovereign Lord, by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and by the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that no perſon or perſons of what eſtate, degree, or condition they be, from henceforth trace, deſtroy, and kill any Hare in the ſnow with any dog, bitch, nor otherwiſe. And that the Juſtices of the Peace within every Shire, at every Seſſions of the Peace, and Stewards of Leets ſhall have full authority and power to enquire of ſuch offenders. And after ſuch inquiſitions found, the ſaid Juſtices of the Peace and Stewards of Leets, for every Hare ſo killed, ſhall ceſs upon every ſuch offendor vj. s. viij. d. to be forfeited to our ſaid Sovereign Lord, that ſhall be ſo founden by the Juſtices of Peace in their Seſſions, and the forfeiture found in every Leet to be to the Lord of the Leet. St. 1 Jac. 27.

The penalty for killing of a Hare in the ſnow.

Juſtices of Peace and Stewards in Leets may enquire of, and puniſh the offendors.

CAP. XI.

Clothes made in Suffolk called Veſſes or Set clothes, ſhall not be forfeited for lack of length or breadth being wet.

Humbly ſhewen unto your Highneſs your true ſubjects, and Clothiers of your County of Suffolk, that where in the ſixth year of your moſt noble Reign, it was and is enacted amongſt other things, concerning making of cloth, that any perſon or perſons ſhall not put any cloth to ſale, which when it is full wet, ſhall ſhrink more then one yard in length, and one quarter of a yard in breadth, for the more part thereof: And clothes called Narrows or Streits after the rate, upon pain to forfeit for every cloth otherwiſe put to ſale, vj. s. viij. d. and beſide to deduct of his price for the ſame, to be rebated to the buyer thereof as much after the rate, as the ſame cloth ſo otherwiſe put to ſale (being full wet) ſhall be ſhrunk more then one yard of that it was in length at the time of the ſame ſale, and as it ſhall (being wet) lack of the breadth of one yard and three quarters of a yard: And in the ſame Act was and is a proviſo made after the form following.

St. 6 H. 8. 9.

Provided alway, that this Act extend not to woollen clothes, called Kendals, nor clothes called Carpenel whites, commonly made for lining of hoſen, nor to any clothes called Coſtocks, made in the County of Devonſhire, nor to any woollen clothes made in the County of Cornwal, nor for any Cottons or plain lining or Friſe, made or to be made in Wales, Lancaſhire, and Cheſhire, or any of them.

So it is, moſt gracious Sovereign Lord, that Veſſes, otherwiſe called Set-clothes, of divers colours, be made in your ſaid County of Suffolk, which be made to be worn, and be worn in far Countries and not in England, and be of ſmall priſes, not above xl. s. a cloth, that do not hold the length and breadth when they be wet, which the buyers do know well when they buy them, ſo that therein is do deceit; which clothes in the third year of the reign of your moſt noble Father King Henry the Seventh, were provided for; ſo that they might lawfully be ſold without any penalty or forfeiture, though they lacked in length or breadth when they were full wet, and ſo they have uſed to do time out of mind.

St. 3 H. 7. 11.

And in the proviſo made in the ſaid Act of the ſixth year of your moſt noble Reign, they were forgotten and not provided for, which ſhould be to the utter impoveriſhing of the Clothiers of your ſaid Comty, and all other that be wrought, by reaſon of cloth-making within the ſaid County of Suffolk, if no remedy ſhould be therefore provided.

Wherefore your humble ſubjects humbly beſeech your Highneſs, that it be enacted by all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and all the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, with your moſt Royal aſſent to the ſame, that all clothes called Veſſes, otherwiſe called Set-clothes, what colour ſoever they be of, not being above the value of xl. s. a cloth, ſhall not be forfeit, for that they lack in length and breadth when they be full wet after the ſale of them afore this time made or hereafter to be made; The ſaid Act made in the ſixth year of your moſt noble Reign, or any other Act heretofore made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Stat. of 6 H.8. 9. touching the ſhrinking of clothes, ſhall not extend to Veſſes or Set-clothes.

CAP. XII.

What coiners ſhall do that make money at any Mint within England.

Be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That all ſuch Coiners as ſhall coin and make any money at any Mint within this Realm of England, ſhall make and coin of every hundred pounds worth of gold, that they ſhall ſtrike into coin, xx. li. in the coin of half angels, commonly called pieces of gold of xl. d. And of every hundred pounds worth of bullion, plate, or ſilver, that they ſhall ſtrike into coin, as many groats as ſhall amount to the ſum of fifty pounds ſterling; as many half-groats, called pence of two pence, as ſhall amount to the ſum of xx. li. ſterling; as many pence as ſhall amount to the ſum of xx. li. as many half-pence as ſhall amount to the ſum of ten marks ſterling; and as many farthings as amount to the ſum of five marks ſterling. And that at any time that any coiners in any Mint within this Realm ſhall do contrary to this Act, the maſter and keeper of that Mint, for the time being, ſhall forfeit and loſe x. li. The one moity thereof to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, the other moity to the party that ſhall ſue for the ſame, by bill, information, action of debt, or otherwiſe: wherein the ſaid maſter ſhall not be admitted to do his Law, and no protection ne eſſoin to be allowed for the defendant.

Coiners that ſhall make mony at any Mint ſhall coin part thereof half Angels, groats, and ſmall mony.

And foraſmuch as at this preſent time farthings and half-pence be ſtriken all with one coin, ſo that the common people of the Realm many times take thoſe that be farthings for half-pence: Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all ſuch farthings

(that from henceforth ſhall be made within this Realm) ſhall have upon the one ſide the print of the Portcolice, and upon the other ſide thereof the print of the Roſe with a Croſs, upon like pain.

The tenth part of mony coined for any perſon ſhall be paid in ob. and farthings.

And furthermore, be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that all manner perſons reſorting to the ſaid Mint with any plate or Bullion, under the value abovesaid, to be coined, ſhall have and receive at the ſaid Mint the tenth part of all ſuch plate and bullion in halfpence and farthings.

The coiners in York, Dureſm, and Canterbury.

Provided alway, that this Act or any thing contained in the ſame, be not in any wiſe prejudicial to the Coiners and Mintmaſters of York, Dureſm, and Canterbury, ne to any of them, for any money to be coined there, other then heretofore hath been accuſtomed. This Act to begin to take effect at the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel next coming, and not before.

Plaintiffs in Aſſiſe may abridge their plaints.

The plaintiff in Aſſiſe may abridge his plaint of any part whereunto a bar is pleaded.

Dyer fo. 61. 65. 88. 132. 5 H. 7. f. 22. Fitz. plein. 47. 11. 19.

FOraſmuch as Aſſiſes which have been thought the moſt ſpeedy remedy, be now by occaſion of pleading of many bars to moities, and parts of the lands put in view and plaint, greatly delayed for difficulties and diviſion of pleading; And one cauſe thereof is, becauſe the plaintiffs in the Aſſiſe in ſuch pleas, to moities, and parties, cannot by the Law abridge their plaints: For remedy whereof be it enacted, that the plaintiff in every Aſſiſe from henceforth may at his pleaſure ſever, and abridge his plaint, of any part or parts, whereunto any bar is pleaded, in ſuch like manner, as he or they might do in caſe the pleas in bar had been made and divided to any certainty or number of Acres in the plaint; and that the plaint, for the reſidue of the part or parts of the Lands not abridged, ſhall be and ſtand good and effectual in the Law.

CAP. IV.

The ſale of Lands by part of the Executors lawful.

Land deviſed to be ſold by divers Executors, cannot by Common Law be ſold by part of them.

WHere divers ſundry perſons before this time, having other perſons ſeiſed to their uſes of and in Lands and other Hereditaments, to and for the declaration of their Wills, have by their laſt Wills and Teſtaments, willed and declared ſuch their Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments, to be ſold by their Executors, as well to and for the paiments of their debts, performance of their legacies, neceſſary and convenient finding of their wives, vertuous bringing up, and advancement of their children to marriage, as alſo for other charitable deeds to be done and executed by their Executors for the health of their ſouls: And notwithſtanding ſuch truſt and confidence ſo by them put in their ſaid Executors, it hath oft-times been ſeen, where ſuch laſt Wills and Teſtaments of ſuch Lands, Tenements, and other Hereditaments have been declared, and in the ſame divers Executors named and made, that after the deceaſe of ſuch Teſtators, ſome of the ſame Executors willing to accompliſh the truſt and confidence that they were put in by the ſaid Teſtator, have accepted and taken upon them the charge of the ſaid Teſtament, and have been ready to fulfill and perform all things contained in the ſame, and the reſidue of the ſame Executors, uncharitably, contrary to the truſt that they were put in, have refuſed to intermeddle in any wiſe with the execution of the ſaid Will and Teſtament, or with the ſale of ſuch Lands ſo willed to be ſold by the Teſtator. And foraſmuch as a bargain and ſale of ſuch Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments, ſo willed by any perſon to be ſold by his Executors after his deceaſe, after the opinion of divers perſons, can in no wiſe be good or effectual in the Law, unleſs the ſame bargain and ſale be made by the whole number of the Executors, named to and for the ſame: by reaſon whereof, as well the debts of ſuch Teſtators have reſted unpaid and unſatisfied, to the great danger and peril of the ſouls of ſuch Teſtators, and to the great hinderance, and many times to the utter undoing of their Creditors: As alſo the Legacies, and bequeſt made by the Teſtator to his wife, children, and for other charitable deeds to be done for the wealth of the ſoul of the ſame Teſtator, that made the ſame Teſtament, have been alſo unperformed, as well to the extreme miſery of the wife and children of the ſaid Teſtator, as alſo to the let of performance of other charitable deeds for the wealth of the ſoul of the ſaid Teſtator, to the diſpleaſure of Almighty God: For remedy whereof, Be it enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that where part of the Executors named in any ſuch Teſtament of any ſuch perſon ſo making, or declaring any ſuch Will of any lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, to be ſold by his Executors, after the death of any ſuch Teſtator, do refuſe to take upon him, or them, the adminiſtration and charge of the ſame Teſtament and laſt Will, wherein they be ſo named to be Executors, and the reſidue of the ſame Executors do accept and take upon them the cure and charge of the ſame Teſtament, and laſt Will: that then all bargains and ſales of ſuch lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, ſo willed to be ſold by the Executors of any ſuch Teſtator, as well heretofore made, as hereafter to be made by him or them, onely of the ſaid Executors that ſo doth accept, or that heretofore hath accepted, and taken upon him or them any ſuch cure or charge of adminiſtration of any ſuch Will or Teſtament, ſhall be as good, and as effectual in the Law, as if all the reſidue of the ſame Executors, named in the ſaid Teſtament, ſo refuſing the adminiſtration of the ſame Teſtament, had joyned with him or them in the making of the bargain, and ſale of ſuch lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, ſo willed to be ſold by the Executors of any ſuch Teſtators, which heretofore hath made or declared, or that hereafter ſhall make or declare any ſuch Will, of any ſuch lands, tenements, or other hereditaments after his deceaſe to be ſold by his Executors.

CAP. V.

What fees ought to be taken for probate of Teſtaments.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the xxxi. year of the Reign of the noble King of famous memory, Edward the Third, upon the complaint of his people for the outragious and grievous fines, & ſums of money, taken by the miniſters of Biſhops, and of other Ordinaries of holy Church, for the probate of Teſtaments, and for the acquittances by the ſaid Ordinaries to be made concerning the ſame, the ſaid noble King in the ſame Parliament openly charged and commanded the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and the other Biſhops for that time being, that amendment thereof ſhould be had: And if none amendment were thereof had, it was by the authority of the ſame Parliament accorded, that the King ſhould thereof make inquiry by his Juſtices, of ſuch oppreſſion and extortions: And that the ſame Juſtices ſhould hear and determine them as well at the ſuit of the King as of the party, as of old time hath been uſed, as by the ſame Statute plainly appeareth. And where at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the third year of the Reign of King Henry the Fifth, it was recited, that the Commons of the Realm had oftentimes complained them in divers Parliaments, for that divers Ordinaries do take for the probation of Teſtaments, and other things thereunto belonging, ſometime xl. s. ſometimes lx. s. and ſometimes more, againſt right and juſtice, where in the time of King Edward the Third, men were wont to pay for ſuch cauſes but ij. s. vj. d. or v. s at moſt, by which unlawful exactions the Teſtaments of the Teſtators might not be executed according to their laſt Wills: It was then enacted for the avoiding of ſuch oppreſſions, that no Ordinary from thenceforth ſhould take for the probation of any Teſtament and Inventory, or for any other thing to the ſame belonging, any more then was accuſtomed and uſed in the time of the ſaid Noble King Edward the Third, upon pain to yield to the party ſo grieved three times as much as the ſaid Ordinaries did ſo receive, which Act did endure but to the next Parliament following, by reaſon that the Ordinaries did then promiſe to reform and amend the ſaid oppreſſions and exactions: And for that the ſaid unlawful exactions of the ſaid Ordinaries, and their miniſters, be nothing reformed, nor amended, but greatly augmented and increaſed, againſt right and juſtice, & to the great impoveriſhing of the Kings ſubjects:

And when the goods of the Teſtator do amount over and above the clear value of C. s. and do not exceed the ſum of xl. li. ſterling: that then no Biſhop, Ordinary, nor other manner of perſon or perſons, whatſoever he or they be, now having or which hereafter ſhall have authority to take probation, or approbation of any Teſtament or Teſtaments, as is aforeſaid, by themſelves, nor any of their ſaid Regiſters, Scribes, Praiſers, Summoners, Apparators, nor any other their miniſters, for the probation, inſinuation, and approbation of any Teſtament or Teſtaments, or for the regiſtring, ſealing, writing, praiſing, making of Inventories, giving of acquittances, fines, or any other thing concerning the ſame, ſhall take or cauſe to be taken of any perſon or perſons but onely iij. s. vj. d. and not above, whereof to be to the ſaid Biſhop or Ordinary, or to other perſon or perſons, having power and authority to take the probation or approbation of any Teſtament or Teſtaments, for him and his miniſters, ij. s. vj. d. and not above, and xij. d. reſidue of the ſaid iij. s. vi. d. to be to the Scribe for the regiſtring of the ſame. And where the goods of the Teſtator, or perſon or perſons ſo dying, do amount over and above the clear value of xl. li. ſterling, that then the Biſhop nor Ordinary, nor other perſon or perſons, now having, or which hereafter ſhall have authority or power to take probate of Teſtaments, as is aforeſaid, by him or themſelves, nor any of his or their ſaid Regiſters, Scribes, Praiſers, Summoners, Apparators, or any other their miniſters, for the probation, inſinuation, and approbation of any Teſtament or Teſtaments, or for the regiſtring, ſealing, writing, praiſing, making of Inventories, fines, giving of acquittances, or any thing concerning the ſame probate of a Teſtament, ſhall from the firſt day of April, take or cauſe to be taken of any perſon or perſons, but onely v. s. and not above, whereof to be to the ſaid Biſhop, Ordinary, or other perſon having power to take the probation of ſuch Teſtament or Teſtaments, for him and his miniſters, ij. s. vj. d. and not above, and ij. s. vj. d. reſidue of the ſaid v. s. to be to the Scribe for regiſtring of the ſame, or elſe the ſame Scribe to be at his liberty to refuſe thoſe ij. s. vj. d. and to demand and have for writing of every ten lines of the ſame Teſtament, whereof every line to contain in length ten inches, j. d. And that every ſuch Biſhop or Ordinary, and other perſon or perſons, ſo having, or which hereafter ſhall have authority or power to take or receive the probation, or approbation of any Teſtament or Teſtaments, as is aboveſaid, their Regiſters, Scribes, and Miniſters, ſhall approve, inſinuate, ſeal, and regiſter, from time to time, the ſaid Teſtament, and deliver the ſame ſealed with the Seal of their Office, to the Executor or Executors named in any ſuch Teſtaments, for the ſaid ſum or ſums aboveſaid, and in manner and form as is above rehearſed, with convenient ſpeed, without any fruſtratory delay. And in caſe any perſon die inteſtate, or that the Executors named in any ſuch Teſtament refuſe to prove the ſaid Teſtament: then the ſaid Ordinary, or other perſon or perſons, having authority to take probate of Teſtaments, as is aboveſaid, ſhall grant the adminiſtration of the goods of the Teſtator, or perſon deceaſed, to the widow of the ſame perſon deceaſed, or to the next of his kin, or to both, as by the diſcretion of the ſame Ordinary ſhall be thought good, taking ſurety of him or them to whom ſhall be made ſuch commiſſion, for the true adminiſtration of the goods, cattels, and debts, which he or they ſhall be ſo authoriſed to miniſter. And in caſe where divers perſons claim the adminiſtration as next of kin, which be equal in degree of kindred to the Teſtator or perſon deceaſed, and where any perſon onely deſireth the adminiſtration as next of kin, where indeed divers perſons be in equality of kindred, as is aforeſaid, That in every ſuch caſe the Ordinary to be at his election and liberty, to accept any one, or moe, making requeſt, where divers do require the adminiſtration:

How much the Ordinary ſhall take for granting of adminiſtration.

The Teſtators Inventory by whom it ſhall be made, and to whom delivered.

Or where but one or more of them, and not all being in equality of degree, do make requeſt, then the Ordinary to admit the widow, and him or them onely making requeſt, or any one of them at his pleaſure, taking nothing for the ſame, unleſs the goods of the perſon ſo deceaſed amount above the value or ſum of C. s. And in caſe the goods of the perſon ſo deceaſed amount above the value of C. s. and not above the value or ſum of xl. li. then the ſaid Biſhop, Ordinary, or other perſon or perſons, ſo having authority to take probate of teſtaments, as is aforeſaid, their miniſters & officers, ſhall take onely ij. s. vj. d. ſterling, and not above. And that the Executor & Executors named by the Teſtator, or perſon ſo deceaſed, or ſuch other perſon or perſons, to whom ſuch adminiſtration ſhall be committed, where any perſon dieth inteſtate or by way of inteſtate, calling or taking to him or them ſuch perſon or perſons, two at the leaſt, to whom the ſaid perſon ſo dying was indebted, or made any Legacy, and upon their refuſal or abſence, two other honeſt perſons being next of kin to the perſon ſo dying, and in their default or abſence two other honeſt perſons, and in their preſence, and by their diſcretions, ſhall make or cauſe to be made a true and perfect inventory of all the goods, cattels, wares, merchandiſes, as well moveable as not moveable, whatſoever that were of the ſaid perſon ſo deceaſed, and the ſame ſhall cauſe to be indented, whereof the one part ſhall be by the ſaid Executor or Executors, Adminiſtrator or Adminiſtrators, upon his or their oath or oaths to be taken before the ſaid Biſhops, Ordinaries, their Officials, or Commiſſaries, or other perſons having power to take probate of Teſtaments, upon the holy Evangeliſt, to be good and true, and the ſame one part indented ſhall preſent and deliver into the keeping of the ſaid Biſhop, Ordinary, or Ordinaries, or other perſon having power to take probate of Teſtaments, and the other part thereof to remain with the ſaid Executor or Executors, Adminiſtrator or Adminiſtrators, and that no Biſhop, Ordinary, or other whatſoever perſon, having authority to take probate of Teſtament or Teſtaments, as is aboveſaid, upon the pain in this Eſtatute hereafter contained, refuſe to take any ſuch inventory or inventories to him or them preſented, or tendred to be delivered as is aforeſaid.

Dyer f. 151. 264. 310. Fitz.Exc.t. 37. 51.

The profits of the lands to be ſold ſhall not be accompted the Teſtators goods. The Teſtators ſeal ſhall be defaced.

Provided always, That if the perſon ſo deceaſed will by his Teſtament or laſt Will, any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, to be ſold, that the mony thereof coming, nor the profits of the ſaid lands, for any time to be taken, ſhall not be accounted as any of the goods or cattels of the ſaid perſon ſo deceaſed, and that the ſame Biſhop, Ordinary, or other perſon or perſons, having authority to take probate of Teſtament or Teſtaments, as is aforeſaid, upon the delivery of the ſeal and ſign of the Teſtator, do cauſe the ſame ſeal to be defaced, and thereupon incontinent deliver the ſame ſeal unto the ſaid Executor or Executors, without claim or challenge thereunto to be made. And in caſe any perſon or perſons at any time hereafter require a copy or copies of the ſaid Teſtament ſo proved, or of the ſaid Inventories ſo made, that then the ſaid Ordinary or Ordinaries, and the other perſons having authority to take probate of Teſtaments, or their miniſters, ſhall from time to time with convenient ſpeed, without any fruſtratory delay, deliver or cauſe to be delivered a true copy or copies of the ſame, to the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo demanding them, or any of them, taking for the ſearch and for the making of the copy of either of the ſaid Teſtament or Inventory, but onely ſuch fee as is before rehearſed for the regiſtring of the ſaid Teſtament; or elſe the Scribe or Regiſter to be at his election and liberty to demand, have, and take for every ten lines thereof, being of the proportion before rehearſed, i. d.

The fee for ſearch and copies of Teſtaments or Inventories.

Cuſtom to take leſs mony for probate then is aforeſaid.

Provided alway, that where any perſon or perſons having power or authority to take probate of Teſtaments, have uſed to take leſs ſums of money then is aboveſaid for the probate of Teſtaments, or Commiſſions of Adminiſtrations, or other cauſe concerning the ſame, ſhall take and receive ſuch ſum or ſums of money for the probate of Teſtaments and Commiſſions of the Adminiſtrations, and other cauſes concerning the ſame, as they before the making of this Act have uſed to take, and not above.

The forfeiture of the Ordinary and his Officers which ſhall do any thing contrary to this Stat. Co. pl. fol. 166. Raſt. pl. fo. 603.

And it is enacted, that every Biſhop, Ordinary, Archdeacon, Chancellor, Commiſſary, Official, and other perſon or perſons, having, or which hereafter ſhall have authority to take probate of Teſtaments, their Regiſters, Scribes, Praiſers, Summoners, Apparators, and all other their miniſters, whatſoever they be, that ſhall do or attempt, or cauſe to be done or attempted againſt this Act or Ordinance in any thing, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every time ſo offending to the party grieved in that behalf, ſo much money as any ſuch perſon aboveſaid ſhall take contrary to this preſent Act. And over that ſhall loſe and forfeit x. li. ſterling, whereof the one moity ſhall be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other moity to the party grieved in that behalf, that will ſue by action of debt, bill, information, or otherwiſe, in any of the Kings Courts, for the recovery of the ſame, in which action, no eſſoin, protection, nor wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed. And that every of the ſame Biſhops, and other perſons, which ſhall hereafter incur or fall into the danger of ſuch penalty or forfeiture, ſhall be charged onely for himſelf. And none of them to be chargeable to that penalty for others offence.

An Ordinary may convent Executors to probe the Teſtators Will, and to bring in his Inventory.

Provided alway, that this preſent Act be not prejudicial to any Ordinary, or other perſon, which now have, or hereafter ſhall have authority for probate of Teſtaments, but that every of them ſhall and may convent before them all and every perſon or perſons made and named executor or executors of any Teſtament, to the intent to prove, or refuſe the Teſtament or Teſtaments of their Teſtator or Teſtators, and to bring in Inventories, and to do every other thing concerning the ſame, as they might do before the making of this Act; ſo that always any ſuch Ordinary, or other perſon or perſons having ſuch authority by themſelves, their Commiſſaries, Scribes, Regiſters, or other miniſters aforeſaid, ſhall not in any wiſe take for the ſame above the fees limited by this Act, ne in any wiſe attempt any thing contrary to any part of the ſame Act. CAP. VI.

Where Mortuaries ought to be paid, for what perſons, and how much: And in what caſe none is due.

The cauſes of limiting in a certainty what ſhall be paid for Mortuaries.

Foraſmuch as queſtion, ambiguity, and doubt is chanced and riſen upon the order, manner, and form of demanding, receiving, and claiming of Mortuaries, otherwiſe called Corſe preſents, as well for the greatneſs and value of the ſame, which, as hath lately been taken, is thought over-exceſſive to the poor people and other perſons of this Realm, as alſo for that ſuch Mortuaries or Corſe preſents have been demanded and levied for ſuch as at the time of their death have had no property in any goods or cattels, And many times for travelling and way-faring men, in the places where they have fortuned to die; To the intent that all doubt, contention, and incertainty herein may be removed, and as well the generality of the Kings people therein remedied, as alſo of the Parſons, Vicars, Pariſh Prieſts, and other having intereſt in ſuch Mortuaries and Corſe preſents indifferently provided for:

Be it therefore enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that from the firſt day of April, in the year of our Lord God M.D.XXX. no Parſon, Vicar, Curate, nor Pariſh Prieſt, ne any other ſpiritual perſon, nor their Fermors, Bailiffs, nor Leſſees, ſhall take, receive, or demand of any perſon or perſons within this Realm, for any perſon or perſons dying within the ſame, any manner Mortuary or Corſe preſent, ne any ſum or ſums of money, ne any other thing for the ſame, more then is hereafter mentioned: Ne alſo ſhall convent or call any perſon or perſons before any

Judge

The penalty of him that conventeth any perſon to pay for a Mortuary more then is due.

Judge Spiritual for the recovery of any ſuch Mortuaries or Corſe preſents, or any other thing for the ſame, more then is hereafter mentioned, upon pain to forfeit for every time ſo demanding, receiving, taking, or conventing, or calling any ſuch perſon or perſons before any Spiritual Judge, ſo much in value as they ſhall take above the ſum limited by this Act: And over that xl. s. to the party grieved contrary to this Act; for the which forfeiture the party ſo grieved contrary this Act ſhall have an action of debt, by writ, bill, plaint, or information in any of the Kings Courts, wherein no wager of Law, eſſoin, nor protection ſhall be allowed.

No Mortuary where the goods be under x. marks. Coke pla.fo.164. No Mortuary but where Mortuaries have been. But one Mortuary for one perſon. The duty of the Parſon, &c. for all Mortuaries.

Firſt, it is ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted, That no manner of Mortuary ſhall be taken or demanded of any perſon, whatſoever he be, which at the time of his death hath in movable goods under the value of x. mark. Alſo that no Mortuary ſhall be given or demanded from henceforth of any manner perſon, but onely in ſuch place where heretofore Mortuaries have been uſed to be paid and given, and in thoſe places none otherwiſe but after the rate and form hereafter mentioned. Ne that any perſon pay Mortuaries in more places then one, that is to ſay, in the places of their moſt dwelling and habitation, and there but one mortuary. Nor no Parſon, Vicar, Curat, Pariſh Prieſt, or other, ſhall for any perſon dying, or dead, and being at the time of his death, of the value in moveable goods of x. marks, or more, clearly, above his debts paid, and under the ſum of xxx. li. take for a Mortuary above iij. s. iv. d. in the whole. And for a perſon dying or dead, being at the time of his death of the value of xxx. li. or above clearly, above his debts paid, in moveable goods, and under the value of xl. li. there ſhall no more be taken or demanded for a Mortuary, then vj. s. viij. d. in the whole: and for any perſon dying or dead, having at the time of his death, of the value in movable goods of xl. l. or above, to any ſum, whatſoever it be, clearly above his debts paid, there ſhall be no more taken, paid, or demanded for a Mortuary, then x. s. in the whole.

A woman covert, a child, or perſon keeping no houſe, ſhall pay no Mortuary. Way faring man, or that maketh no reſidence where he dieth.

Provided alway, that for no woman being covert baron, nor child, ne for any perſon not keeping houſe, any manner Mortuary be paid, ne that any Parſon, Vicar, Curat, Pariſh Prieſt, or other, ask, demand, or take for any ſuch woman, child, or for any perſon not keeping houſe, dying or dead, any manner thing or money, by way of Mortuary, ne alſo for any way-faring man, or other that dwelleth not, ne maketh reſidence in the place where they ſhall happen to die, but that the Mortuary of ſuch way-faring perſons be anſwerable in places where Mortuaries be accuſtomed to be paid, and in manner and form, and after the rate before mentioned, and none otherwiſe, in the place or places where ſuch way-faring perſons, at the time of their death, had their moſt habitation, houſe, and dwelling places, and no where elſe.

A legacy bequeathed to a Parſon, &c. or to the Altar.

Provided alway, that it ſhall be lawful to all manner Parſons, Vicars, Curates, Pariſh Prieſts, and other Spiritual perſons, to take and receive any manner ſum of money, or other thing, which by any perſon dying ſhall fortune to be diſpoſed, given, or bequeathed unto them, or any of them, or to the high Altar of the Church, This Act or any thing mentioned notwithſtanding.

No Mortuaries in Wales, Calice, or Berwick.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Mortuaries, nor Corſe preſents, ne any ſum or ſums of money, or other thing, for any Mortuary or Corſe preſent ſhall be demanded, taken, received, or had, in the parts of Wales, nor in the marches of the ſame, nor in the Towns of Calice, or Berwick, nor in the marches of the ſame, but onely in ſuch parts and places of Wales, marches, and Towns aforeſaid, where Mortuaries hath been accuſtomed to be taken and paid. And in thoſe parts and places no Mortuaries nor Corſe preſents, ne any other thing for Mortuary or Corſe preſent from henceforth ſhall be demanded, taken, received, or had, but onely after the form, order, and manner above ſpecified in this preſent Act, and none otherwiſe, ne of any other perſon or perſons, then is limited by this preſent Act, upon the pain contained in this preſent Act.

Mortuaries to be taken by the Biſhops of Bangor, St. David, St. Aſaph, &c. Places where Mortuaries have been taken of leſs value.

Provided alſo, that it ſhall be lawful to the Biſhops of Bangor, Landaff, St. Davids, and St. Aſaph, and likewiſe to the Archdeacon of Cheſter, to take ſuch Mortuaries of the Prieſts within their Dioceſs and Juriſdictions, as heretofore have been accuſtomed.

Provided alſo, that in ſuch places where Mortuaries have been accuſtomed to be taken of leſs value then is aforeſaid, that no perſon ſhall be compelled to pay in any ſuch place any other Mortuary, or more for any Mortuary then hath been accuſtomed, ne that any Mortuary in ſuch place ſhall be demanded, taken, received, or had, of any perſon or perſons exempt by this Act, nor in any wiſe contrary to this Act, upon the pain afore limited.

CAP. VII.

Servants imbeziling their Maſters goods to the value of fourty ſhillings, or above, ſhall be puniſhed as felony.

If a ſervant ſhall go away with any money, &c. of his Maſters to the value of xl. s. or above, it ſhall be felony.

Where before this time divers, as well Noblemen, as other the Kings ſubjects, have upon confidence and truſt delivered unto their ſervants their Caskets and other Jewels, money, goods, and cattels, ſafely to be kept to the uſe of their ſaid Maſters or Miſtreſſes, and after ſuch delivery the ſaid ſervants have withdrawn themſelves, and gone away from their ſaid Maſters or Miſtreſſes, with the ſaid caskets, jewels, money, goods, and cattels, or part thereof, to the intent to ſteal the ſame, and defraud their ſaid Maſters or Miſtreſſes thereof, and ſometime being with their ſaid Maſters and Miſtreſſes, have converted the ſaid jewels, money, and other cattels, or part thereof, to their own uſe; which miſbehaviour ſo done was doubtful in the Common Law, whether it were felony or not; And by reaſon thereof the foreſaid ſervants have been in great boldneſs to commit ſuch or like offences: Be it therefore enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed by the King our Sovereign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That all and ſingular ſuch ſervants, to whom any ſuch caskets, jewels, money, goods or cattels, by his or their maſters or miſtreſſes, ſhall from henceforth ſo be delivered to keep, that if any ſuch ſervant or ſervants withdraw him or them from their ſaid maſters and miſtreſſes, and go away with the ſaid caskets, jewels, money, goods or cattels, or any part thereof, to the intent to ſteal the ſame, and defraud his or their ſaid maſters or miſtreſſes thereof, contrary to the truſt and confidence to him or them put by his or their ſaid maſters or miſtreſſes, or elſe being in the ſervice of his ſaid maſter or miſtreſs, without aſſent or commandment of his maſter or miſtreſs, he imbezil the ſame caskets, jewels, money, goods or cattels, or any part thereof, or otherwiſe convert the ſame to his own uſe, with like purpoſe to ſteal it, that if the ſaid caskets, jewels, money, goods, or cattels that any ſuch ſervant ſhall ſo go away with, or which he ſhall imbezil with purpoſe to ſteal it, as is aforeſaid, be of the value of xl. s. or above, That then the ſame falſe, fraudulent, and untrue act and demeanor from henceforth ſhall be deemed and adjudged felony; And he or they ſo offending, to be puniſhed, as other felons be puniſhed for felonies committed, by the courſe of the common Law.

Dyer f. 5.

Provided alway, that this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend, or be prejudicial to any apprentice or apprentices, or any perſon within the age of xviii. years, going away with his or their maſters goods or jewels, or otherwiſe converting the ſame to his or their own uſes, during the time of their apprenticeſhip, or being within the age of xviii. years, but that every apprentice or apprentices, ſuch perſon or perſons, being within the ſaid age, doing or offending contrary to this preſent Act, ſhall be and ſtand in like caſe as they and every of them before the making of this Act. The ſame Act to continue and indure unto the next Parliament. St. 5 El. 10. made perpetual. St. 27 H. 8. 17. 28 H. 8. 2.

This Statute ſhall not extend to an apprentice, or one within xviii. years of age.

CAP. XI.

At what time reſtitution ſhall be made of goods ſtoln.

BE it enacted by this preſent Parliament, That if any felon or felons hereafter do rob or take away any money, goods or cattels, from any of the Kings ſubjects, from their perſon, or otherwiſe, within this Realm; and thereof the ſaid felon or felons be indicted, and after arraigned of the ſame felony, and found guilty thereof, or otherwiſe attainted by reaſon of evidence given by the party ſo robbed, or owner of the ſaid money, goods or cattels, or by any other by their procurement, ẏ then the party ſo robbed, or owner, ſhall be reſtored to his ſaid money, goods and cattels; and that aſwell the Juſtices of gaol-delivery, as other Juſtices, afore whom any ſuch felon or felons ſhall be found guilty, or otherwiſe attainted by reaſon of evidence given by the party ſo robbed, or owner, or by any other by their procurement, have power by this preſent Act to award from time to time Writs of reſtitution for the ſaid money, goods and cattels, in like manner as though any ſuch felon or felons were attainted at the ſuit of the party in appeal. Coke lib. 5. fol. 110.

Cro. El. 661.

There ſhall be reſtitution to the owner of ſtollen goods after the attainder of the felon.

CAP. XII.

Touching making of Cables, &c. in Burport.

MOſt humbly beſeeching your Highneſs, the Bailiffs, Burgeſſes, and other the inhabitants of your Town and Borough of Burport, within your County of Dorſet, that where they out of time that no mans mind is to the contrary, have uſed and exerciſed to make within the ſame, the moſt part of all the great cables, halſers, ropes, and all other tackling, as well for your Royal Ships and Navy, as for the moſt part of all other Ships within this Realm, by reaſon whereof your ſaid Town was right well maintained, and inhabited, your Highneſs and your ſubjects right well ſerved, until now of late, many divers and evil diſpoſed perſons intending the deſtruction of your ſaid Town, for their private lucre and advantage, have withdrawn themſelves into the Countrey in divers places, there taking ferms, and uſing husbandry out of the ſaid Town, and alſo daily reſort to your ſaid Town to buy and provide hemp, and thereof make cables, ropes, halſers, traces, halters, and other tackle, which cables, ropes, halſers, traces, halters and other tackle, been by the ſaid perſons ſlightly and deceiveably made, by reaſon whereof not only the buyers of the ſame been continually thereby deceived, but alſo the prices of the ſaid cables, halſers, traces, halters, and other tackle thereby greatly inhaunſed, and your ſaid Town or Borough by means thereof is like utterly to be decayed, ruined and deſolated, if ſpeedy remedy be not by your Highneſs in that caſe provided.

The cauſe of the former maintenance of the Town of Burport & of the late decay thereof.

Be it therefore enacted by your Highneſs, by the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no manner perſon or perſons dwelling or inhabiting within the diſtance of five miles from the ſaid Town or Borough of Burport, ſhall from henceforth ſell or cauſe to be ſold out of the market, holden and to be holden within the ſame Town or Borough of Burport, to any perſon or perſons, any hemp, which ſhall happen to grow within the ſaid five miles in diſtance from the ſaid Town or Borough, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſaid hemp ſo ſold, or to be ſold in any place or places within the diſtance of the ſaid five miles out of the ſaid Town, Borough or Market, contrary to the form and effect of this Statute.

Hemp growing within five miles of Burport, ſhall be ſold there.

Cables, halſers, & tackles of hemp ſhall be made at Burport.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, other then ſuch as ſhall dwell and be inhabitants within the ſaid Town, ſhall make, after the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, out of the ſaid Town, any cables, halſers, ropes, traces, halters, or any other tackle, made of hemp, in any other place or places within the ſaid diſtance of v. miles from the ſaid Town, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſaid cables, halſers, ropes, traces, halters, and other tackle, made and to be made contrary to the form and effect of this Statute; the one half of every ſuch forfeitures, as well of the hemp ſo ſold or to be ſold out of the ſaid Town, Borough and Market, contrary to the form aforeſaid, as alſo the ſaid cables, halſers, ropes, traces, halters, or other tackle made out of the ſaid Town contrary to this Statute, to be to the uſe of our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other half to him that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, bill, or information, wherein neither wager of Law, eſſoin, nor protection ſhall be allowed.

xx. pound weight a ſtone of hemp.

Provided always, That twenty pounds weight ſhall be accounted to the ſtone.

The worker making of it to his own uſe.

Provided alſo, That every perſon dwelling within the ſaid diſtance, may make cables, halſers, ropes, traces, halters, and other tackle, for their own uſe and occupations, but in no wiſe againſt this Act. This Act to endure to the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XIII.

Spiritual perſons abridged from having pluralities of livings, and from taking of ferms, &c.

The ſeveral benefits enſuing the performance of this Statute.

No ſpiritual perſon ſhall take any lands to ferm.

For the more quiet and vertuous increaſe and maintenance of divine ſervice, the preaching and teaching the word of God, with godly and good example giving, the better diſcharge of Curates, the maintenance of hoſpitality, the relief of poor people, the increaſe of devotion, and good opinion of the lay fee toward the ſpiritual perſons: Be it enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the King our Soveraign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That no ſpiritual perſons, ſecular or regular, of what degree ſoever he or they be, ſhall from henceforth take to ferm to himſelf, or to any perſon or perſons to his uſe of the leaſe or grant of the King our Soveraign Lord, nor of any other perſon or perſons, by letters patents, indentures, writings, by word or otherwiſe, by any manner of means, any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments for term of life, for term of years, or at will, upon pain to forfeit ten pound for every moneth that he, or any other to his uſe, ſhall occupy any ferm, by reaſon of any ſuch leaſe or grant hereafter to be made. The one half of which forfeiture to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half thereof to every ſuch perſon that will ſue for the ſame by original writ, bill, or plaint of debt, or by any information in any of the Kings Courts: in which action and ſuit no wager of Law ſhall be admitted for the defendant, nor any eſſoin, or protection allowed.

The ſpiritual perſon which hath any ferm or profit out of ferm, ſhall alien it forthwith.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every ſuch ſpiritual perſon or perſons which now have, or occupy in ferm by themſelves, or by any other to their uſe, any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, of the leaſe, or grant of the King our Soveraign Lord, or any other perſon or perſons, for term of life, or for years, or at will, by any writing or otherwiſe, or that now have any annual rents, or other annual advantage or profit, by occaſion or colour of any ſuch leaſe or ferm, ſhall clearly bargain, ſell, give, or grant away on this ſide the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, to any ſuch lay perſon or perſons, as they will at their own nominations and appointment, all ſuch leaſe, term, intereſt, and profit as any ſuch ſpiritual perſon, or any other to his uſe now hath or have, in or by reaſon of any ſuch ferm: ſo that in no wiſe any ſuch ſpiritual perſon or perſons at any time after the ſame Feaſt, by themſelves, or any other to their uſe, by any manner of means, fraud or male engine, ſhall have, uſe or occupy in ferm any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, of the demiſe, leaſe or grant of any perſon or perſons heretofore made, or hereafter to be made, to themſelves, or to any other to their uſes: Nor from the ſaid Feaſt ſhall take any annual rent, or other annual advantage or profit, by occaſion or colour of any ſuch leaſe or ferm by any manner of means, upon pain to forfeit for every moneth ſo occupying any ſuch ferm, at any time after the ſaid Feaſt contrary to this preſent Act, ten pound, and upon pain to forfeit ten times as much as any ſuch ſpiritual perſon, or any to his uſe, ſhall take in any annual rent, advantage or profit, by occaſion or colour of any ſuch leaſe, at any time after the ſaid Feaſt. The one half of which forfeitures to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half to him that will ſue for the ſame by original writ, bill, or plaint of debt, or by information in any of the Kings Courts, in which action or ſuit no wager of law ſhall be admitted for ẏ defendant, nor any eſſoin or protection allowed.

Dyer f. 351.

27 H.8.f.13.

Leaſes made to ſpiritual perſons or to others to their uſe, ſhall be void.

And be it alſo enacted, That all ſuch leaſes made, or hereafter to be made unto any ſuch ſpiritual perſon or perſons, or to any other to their uſe, for term of life, term of years, or at will, of any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, whereof they or any of them ſhall take any profit or medling by themſelves, or by any to their uſe, after the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Michael, by colour of any ſuch leaſe or grant, and not by them bargained, granted and ſold away before the ſaid Feaſt, as is before limited, ſhall from henceforth be utterly void and of none effect, as well againſt the leaſor or leaſors, grantor or grantors, their heirs and aſſigns, and againſt every of them, as againſt the leaſee or leaſees, and their executors and aſſigns, and every of them.

In ſome caſes a ſpiritual perſon may take to ferm the temporalities of a Biſhop, &c.

Provided alway, That this preſent Act ſhall not extend to any ſpiritual perſon or perſons, in and for taking to ferm any temporalities, during the time of vacations of any the Archbiſhopricks, Biſhopricks, Abbeys, Priories, or other Collegiate Cathedral, or Conventual Churches; nor to any ſpiritual perſon or perſons, that ſhall tender or make any traverſe upon any offices or office, concerning his or their freehold.

No ſpiritual perſon ſhal buy to ſell again any merchandiſe, corn, cattel, &c.

And be it alſo Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no ſpiritual perſon or perſons, ſecular or regular, of what eſtate or degree ſoever they be, ſhall from henceforth by himſelf, nor by any other for him, nor to his uſe or bargain, and buy to ſell again for any lucre, gain or profit, in any markets, fairs, and other places, any manner of cattel, corn, lead, tin, hides, leather, tallow, fiſh, wool, wood, or any manner of victual or merchandiſe, what kind ſoever they be of, upon pain to forfeit treble the value of every thing, by them or by any to their uſe, bargained and bought to ſell again, contrary to this Act. And that every ſuch bargain and contract hereafter to be made by them, or by any to their uſe, contrary to this Act, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect. And the one half of every ſuch forfeiture to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half to him that will ſue for the ſame by original writ of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of the Kings Courts. In which action or ſuit no wager of law for the defendant ſhall be admitted; nor any eſſoin nor protection allowed.

In what caſes a ſpiritual perſon may ſell again the things which he hath bought.

Provided alway, That if any ſuch ſpiritual perſon or perſons ſhall happen hereafter without fraud or covin to buy any horſes, mares, or mules, to the only intent to occupy for himſelf or his ſervants, to ride to and fro upon his neceſſary buſineſs, or any other cattels or goods, to the only intent and purpoſe at the buying thereof to be imployed and put, in and about his neceſſary apparel of his own houſe, or of his perſon and ſervants, or in, for, and about the only occupying, manuring, or tillage of his own glebe or demean lands annexed to his Church, or for the neceſſary expences of his own houſhold-keeping; and after the buying of any ſuch horſes, cattels, or goods, or exerciſe of them, or any of them, hapneth to miſlike any of them that they ſhould not be good, profitable, nor convenient for any of the purpoſes aboveſaid, for the which they were bought; that then every ſuch ſpiritual perſon or perſons may lawfully bargain and put away ſuch things ſo by him bought, without fraud or covin, for any of the purpoſes aboveſaid, at his pleaſure and advantage, this Act or any thing therein contained notwithſtanding.

Certain houſes of religion may keep Demeſne lands in their hands for the maintenance of their houſes.

Provided alway, That all Abbots, Priors, Abbeſſes, Prioreſſes, Provoſts, Preſidents, Maſters of Colledges and Hoſpitals, and all other ſpiritual Governours and Governeſſes of any ſpiritual Monaſteries, or houſes of Religion, by what name or names ſoever they be called, having manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, and other yearly profits in the right of their Monaſteries or houſes, of the yearly value of viii. C. marks, or under, and not above, may uſe and occupy as much and as many of their demean lands, fee-ferms, and ferms, to their moſt advantage, commodity and profit, to and for the only maintenance of their houſes and hoſpitalities, in as ample and large manner as they or any of them or their predeceſſors, or the predeceſſors of any of them, at any time by the ſpace of one hundred years laſt paſt, before the making of this Act, have done, uſed and occupied; Any thing in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Spiritual perſons may take in ferm for the maintenance of their houſes

Provided alſo, That every other ſpiritual perſon or perſons, not having ſufficient glebe, or demean lands in their own hands, in the right of their Churches, Monaſteries and houſes for paſturage of Cattels, or for increaſe of corn, to and for the only expences of their houſholds, or for their carriages or journeys, may take in ferm other lands, and buy and ſell corn and cattel for the only manurance, tillage and paſturage of ſuch ferms, ſo that the increaſe thereof be alway imployed and put to, and for the only expences in their houſholds and hoſpitalities, and not in any wiſe to buy and ſell again, for any other commodity, lucre or advantage, any corn or cattel, renewing, coming or growing in and upon any ſuch ferm, or otherwiſe, but only the remain and overplus above their expences of their houſholds, if any ſuch ſhall happen to the breed and increaſe thereof, without fraud or covin: Any thing in the Law to this preſent Act to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

Any Diſpenſation contrary to this Statute ſhall be void. St. 1 & 2 P.& M. 8. St. 1 El. 5.

And that every ſuch Licence, Union, or diſpenſation had, or hereafter to be obtained contrary to this preſent Act, of what name or names, quality or qualities ſoever they be, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect.

And if any perſon or perſons at any time after the firſt day of April, in the year of our Lord God, M. D. and XXX. contrary to this preſent Act, procure and obtain at the Court of Rome, or elſewhere, any Licence or Licences, Union, Toleration, or Diſpenſation, to receive and take any mo benefices with cure then is above limited, or elſe at any time after the ſaid day put in execution any ſuch Licence, Toleration or Diſpenſation, before that obtained contrary to this Act, that then every ſuch perſon or perſons, ſo after the ſaid day ſuing for himſelf, or receiving, and taking ſuch benefice by force of ſuch Licence or Licences, Union, Toleration or Diſpenſation, that is to ſay, the ſame perſon or perſons only, and none other, ſhall for every ſuch default incur the danger, pain, and penalty of xx. li. ſterling; and alſo loſe the whole profits of every ſuch benefice or benefices as he receiveth or taketh by force of any ſuch Licence or Licences, Union, Toleration or Diſpenſation. The one half of which forfeiture to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half thereof to him that will ſue for the ſame by original writ, bill, plaint of debt, or information in any of the Kings Courts; in which action and ſuit, no wager of Law, eſſoin or protection for the defendant, ſhall be admitted or allowed.

Dyer f. 347.

They may keep their benefices which were thereof poſſeſſed An 1530. except they have above four.

Provided always, That this Act concerning the not keeping of mo benefices with cure of ſouls then one, extend, ne be prejudicial to any perſon or perſons, which at any time before the ſaid firſt day of April, in the year of our Lord God, M. D. & xxx. ſhall be really intituled or poſſeſſed of any ſuch benefices with cure of ſoul, as concerning or touching any of the ſame benefices, whereof they ſhall then be already really intituled or poſſeſſed before the ſaid day, to or under the number of four, and not above. And if any ſuch ſpiritual perſon or perſons ſo being intituled or poſſeſſed of mo benefices with cure of ſoul then four, do not by the ſaid firſt day of April clearly, and without yearly penſion, reſign, or otherwiſe give up all and every ſuch benefices and benefice as he ſhall be ſo intituled and poſſeſſed of, above the ſaid number, that then it ſhall be lawful for every Patron, having the advowſon of any ſuch benefice, over the number aforeſaid, to preſent another, and the Preſentee to have the benefit of the ſame in like manner and form as though it had been void by death, or reſignation of the Incumbent, any Licence, Union, or other diſpenſation to the contrary hereof obtained notwithſtanding. And this clauſe of preſentation to be taken and underſtood of ſuch benefices with cure of ſoul, as were given to any ſuch ſpiritual perſon, after the ſaid number of four benefices with cure furniſhed and fulfilled.

Dyer f. 312. Cro. El. 424.

These perſons may purchaſe Licences, and have mo benefices with cure of ſoul then one.

Provided alſo, That all ſpiritual men now being, or which hereafter ſhall be of the Kings Council, may purchaſe Licence or diſpenſation, and take, receive, and keep three Parſonages or benefices with cure of ſoul; and that all other being the Kings Chaplains, and not ſworn of his Council, the Chaplains of the Queen, Prince, or Princeſs, or any of the Kings children, brethren, ſiſters, uncles or aunts, may ſemblably purchaſe Licence or diſpenſation, and receive and keep two Parſonages and Benefices with cure of ſoul.

And in like wiſe that every Archbiſhop and Duke may have ſix Chaplains, whereof every one may purchaſe Licence or diſpenſation, and take, receive, and keep two Parſonages or Benefices, with cure of ſoul.

And that every Marqueſs and Earl may have five Chaplains, whereof every one may purchaſe Licence or Diſpenſation, and take, receive, and keep two Parſonages or Benefices with cure of ſoul.

And that every Viſcount and other Biſhop may have four Chaplains, whereof every one may purchaſe Licence, and receive, have, and keep two Parſonages or Benefices with cure of ſoul, as is aforeſaid.

Co. l. 4. f. 90. 119.

And that the Chancellor of England for the time being, and every Baron, and Knight of the Garter may have three Chaplains, whereof every one ſhall now purchaſe Licence or diſpenſation, and receive, have and keep two Parſonages or Benefices, with cure of ſoul.

Co. pl. 203. 513.

Cro. El. 713.

And that every Dutcheſs, Marchioneſs, Counteſs, and Baroneſs, being widows, may have two Chaplains, whereof every one of them may purchaſe Licence or diſpenſation, to receive, have, and keep two Benefices with cure of ſoul.

Co. l. 4. f. 73. 89. 117.

And that the Treaſurer and Controller of the Kings houſe, the Kings Secretary, and Dean of his Chappel, the Kings Amner, and Maſter of the Rolls, may have every of them two Chaplains; and the chief Juſtice of the Kings Bench one Chaplain; and the Warden of the five Ports for the time being, one Chaplain, whereof every one may purchaſe Licence, and receive, have, and keep two Parſonages or Benefices with cure of ſoul.

And that the brethren, and ſons of all temporal Lords, which are born in Wedlock, may every of them purchaſe Licence or diſpenſation, to receive, have and keep as many Parſonages or Benefices with cure, as the Chaplains of a Duke or an Archbiſhop.

And likewiſe the brethren and ſons born in Wedlock of every Knight, may every of them purchaſe Licence or Diſpenſation, and receive, take, and keep two Parſonages or Benefices with cure of ſoul.

The Chaplains ſhall ſhew the Letters of their Lords or Maſters.

Provided always, That the ſaid Chaplains ſo purchaſing, taking, receiving, and keeping Benefices with cure of ſoul, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be bound to have and exhibit, where need ſhall be, Letters under the ſign and ſeal of the King, or other their Lord and Maſter, teſtifying whoſe Chaplains they be, and elſe not to enjoy any ſuch plurality of benefices by being ſuch Chaplain, any thing in this Act notwithſtanding.

Doctors and Batchelers of Divinity and Law may by diſpenſation have two Benefices with cure.

No diſpenſation can licence any to have above two Benefices.

Be it alſo provided, That all Doctors and Batchelers of Divinity, Doctors of Law, and Batchelers of Law Canon, and every of them, which ſhall be admitted to any the ſaid degrees by any of the Univerſities of this Realm, and not by grace only, may purchaſe Licence, and take, have and keep two Parſonages or Benefices with cure of ſoul; ſo that always the ſaid liberty by any of the proviſions aforeſaid given to any of the ſaid Counſellors, Chaplains, and other perſons before ſpecified, to purchaſe licence or diſpenſation, and take, receive and keep mo benefices then one, after the manner and form aforeſaid, be taken and underſtood to extend in number to no mo benefices with cure of ſoul, then is above limited, accompting in the ſame, and as parcel thereof, ſuch benefices with cure of ſoul, as any the ſaid perſons ſhall have in real title, or in their poſſeſſion, at the ſaid firſt day of April, in the year of our Lord, M. D. & xxx.

Every Archbiſhop may have viii. Chaplains, and every Biſhop vi.

Dyer f. 312.

Provided alſo, That every Archbiſhop, becauſe he muſt occupy eight Chaplains at Conſecrations of Biſhops, and every Biſhop, becauſe he muſt occupy ſix Chaplains at giving of Orders, and conſecration of Churches, may every of them have two Chaplains over and above the number above limited unto them, whereof every one may purchaſe licence or diſpenſation, and take, receive and keep as many Parſonages and Benefices with cure of ſoul, as is before aſſigned to ſuch Chaplains.

Advancement to more Benefices then be appointed by this Act.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, to whom any number of Chaplains, or any Chaplain by any of the proviſions aforeſaid is limited, ſhall in any wiſe by colour of any of the ſame proviſions, advance any ſpiritual perſon or perſons, above the number of them appointed, to receive or keep any mo Benefices with cure of ſoul, then is above limited by this Act, any thing ſpecified in the ſaid proviſions notwithſtanding: and if they do, then every ſuch ſpiritual perſon and perſons, ſo advanced above the ſaid number, to incur the pain and penalty contained in this Act.

Coke pl.f.515.

Rast.pl.f.599. What ſhall be adjudged non-reſidence, and the penalty thereof.

Be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That as well every ſpiritual perſon now being promoted to any Archdeaconry, Deanry, or dignity in any Monaſtery, or Cathedral Church, or other Church conventual or collegiat, or being beneficed with any Parſonage or Vicarage, as all and every ſpiritual perſon and perſons, which hereafter ſhall be promoted to any of the ſaid dignities or benefices, with any Parſonage or Vicarage, from the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel next coming, ſhall be perſonally reſident, and abiding in, at, and upon his ſaid dignity, Prebend or Benefice, or at one of them at the leaſt. And in caſe that any ſuch ſpiritual perſon at any time after the ſaid Feaſt, keep not reſidence at one of his ſaid dignities, Prebends or Benefices, as is aforeſaid, but abſent himſelf wilfully by the ſpace of one moneth together, or by the ſpace of two moneths, to be accompted at ſeveral times in any one year, and make his reſidence and abiding in any other places, by ſuch time, that then he ſhall forfeit for every ſuch default x. li. ſterling; the one half thereof to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half to the party that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts by original writ of debt, bill, plaint, or information: In which action and ſuit, the defendant ſhall not wage his law, nor have any eſſoin or protection allowed.

The Kings licence of non-reſidence.

Provided alſo, That it ſhall be lawful to every ſpiritual perſon or perſons, being Chaplains to the King our Soveraign Lord, to whom it ſhall pleaſe his Highneſs to give any Benefices or Promotions ſpiritual, to what number ſoever it be, to accept and take the ſame, without incurring the danger, penalty, and forfeiture in this Eſtatute compriſed, and that alſo it ſhall be lawful to the Kings Highneſs to give licence to every of his own Chaplains for non-reſidence upon their Benefices; Any thing in this preſent Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

No ſpiritual perſon beneficed with cure ſhall take in ferm any Parſonage or Vicarage.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no ſpiritual perſon, ſecular or regular, beneficed with cure, as is afore rehearſed, from the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, by authority of any manner licence, diſpenſation, or otherwiſe, ſhall take any particular ſtipend or ſalary to ſing for any ſoul, nor have, nor occupy by himſelf, or by any other to his uſe, any Parſonage or Vicarage in ferm, of the leaſe or grant of any perſon or perſons, nor take any profit or rent out of any ſuch term, upon pain to forfeit xl. s. for every ſuch week that he, or any to his uſe ſhall occupy, or have any ſuch ſtipend or ferm contrary to this preſent Act, and upon pain to loſe ten times the value of ſuch profit or rent as he ſhall take out of any ſuch ferm after the ſaid Feaſt. The one half of which forfeitures to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other moity to him that will ſue for the ſame by original writ, bill, plaint of debt, or by information in any of the Kings Courts, in which ſuit and action no wager of Law ſhall be admitted for the defendant, nor any eſſoin, or protection allowed.

These promotions be not accompted benefices with cure.

Provided alway, That no Deanry, Archdeaconry, Chancellorſhip, Treaſurerſhip, Chanterſhip, or Prebend in any Cathedral or Collegiate Church, nor Parſonage that hath a Vicar indued, nor any benefice perpetually appropriate, be taken or comprehended under the name of benefice having cure of ſoul in any article afore ſpecified.

No ſpiritual perſon ſhall keep a Tan-houſe or Brew-houſe.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no ſpiritual perſon or perſons, regular or ſecular, of what eſtate, degree or condition ſoever he or they be, from the firſt day of April next coming, have, uſe, or keep, by him or themſelves, or by any perſon or perſons, to his or their uſe or commodity, any manner of Tan-houſe, or Tan-houſes, to be uſed or occupied to his or their own uſe, commodity or behoof, nor from the ſaid firſt day of April next coming, ſhall have, uſe or keep, any manner of Brew-houſe, or Brew-houſes, to any other uſe, intent, or behoof, then only to be ſpent and occupied in his or their own houſes, upon pain to forfeit for every moneth ſo uſing and occupying any of the ſaid myſteries or occupations, x.li. The one moity thereof to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other moity to him that will ſue for the ſame by original writ, bill, plaint of debt, or information, in any of the Kings Courts, in which action and ſuit, no wager of Law ſhall be admitted for the defendant, ne any eſſoin or protection allowed.

The Chaplains of a Dutcheſs, &c. which have taken husbands.

Provided always, That every Dutcheſs, Marqueſs, Counteſs, Baroneſs, Widows, which have taken, or that hereafter ſhall take any husbands under the degree of a Baron, may take ſuch number of Chaplains, as is above limited to them being widows; and that every ſuch Chaplain may purchaſe licence, to have and take ſuch number of benefices with cure of ſoul, and have like liberty of non-reſidence, in manner and form as they might have done if their ſaid Ladies and Miſtreſſes had kept themſelves widows: Any thing in this preſent Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Spiritual perſons may keep ſufficient of their own land to maintain their houſes.

Provided always, That every ſpiritual perſon or perſons, having Lands, Tenements, or other poſſeſſions in the right of their houſes, above the yearly value of eight hundred marks, may keep and retain in their occupation and manurance, as much of their ſaid Lands and Tenements, and other poſſeſſions, as ſhall be neceſſary and ſufficient for paſturage of their cattel, and for tillage of corns to be imployed and ſpent for the only maintenance, ſuſtentation, and keeping of his or their houſholds and hoſpitalities, without fraud or covin: Any thing in this preſent Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

A ſpiritual perſon may take a dwelling houſe with an Orchard or Garden for his dwelling.

Provided alway, That it may be lawful to every ſpiritual perſon or perſons to take in ferm any meſſes, manſions, or dwelling houſes, having but only orchards or gardens, in any City, Borough, and Town, for their own habitation or dwelling: Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding. So that no perſon ſpiritual, other then be above provided for, for their non-reſidence, have any liberty of non-reſidence by colour of this Proviſo. St. 25 H. 8. 21.

Fermors ſhall enjoy their Leaſes againſt Recoveries by feigned titles, &c.

Where afore this time, divers perſons have made Leaſes of their Manors, Lands, Tenements, and other Hereditaments, ſometime by their Indentures, and ſometime without writings, to other perſons for term of years, taking of them great fines for the incomes of the ſame leaſes, and after the ſame leaſors, their heirs or aſſigns have cauſed and ſuffered recoveries to be had againſt them in the Court of our Soveraign Lord the King, and in other Lords Courts upon feigned and untrue titles, by craft and covin to put the ſame fermors from their ſaid terms. And after ſuch recoveries had, the ſame recoverers, by reaſon of ſuch recoveries and judgments have entred into the ſame manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments ſo to ferm letten, and thereof have expulſed the ſaid fermers, contrary to their ſaid leaſes, covenants and agreements. And becauſe it was doubted to ſome perſons, whether the ſaid termers might falſifie ſuch recoveries or not.

25 H.8.f.2. Coke l.11.f.33.

Be it therefore enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that all ſuch termers ſhall and may falſifie for his term only, ſuch recoveries, as well heretofore had, as hereafter to be had, in ſuch wiſe and form as a tenant of a freehold, ſhall and may do by the courſe of the common Law, where ſuch tenant of freehold was neither privie, nor party to the ſame recovery.

No ſtatute or execution by elegit ſhall be avoided by a feigned recovery.

CAP. XVI.

Touching Artificers ſtrangers what they may do as concerning retaining Apprentices, Journeymen, &c.

PRayen the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, that where in the xv. day of February, in the xx. year of the Reign of our now moſt gracious Soveraign Lord the King, Henry the eighth, by our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, his moſt honourable Council iu his Star Chamber at Weſtminſter, for the common wealth of his natural ſubjects born within this his Realm, by great and deliberate advice it was deemed, adjudged, and decreed, that no ſtranger artificer, born out of our ſaid Soveraign Lord his obeiſance, inhabiting within auy City, Borough, or any other place within this his Realm of England, from henceforth ſhould keep in his or their houſe or houſes, any manner ſtrangers ſervants, born out of his obeiſance, but only two ſervauts ſtrangers, and no mo at one time.

No ſtranger artificer inhabiting within any City or other place, ſhall keep in his houſe but two ſtrangers born. Rep. 6. l. 4.

And alſo all and ſingular ſtrangers, that then were, or after the making of the ſaid decree ſhould be made denizens, that at the time, or after the making thereof, would inhabit within the City of London, ſuburbs, or within ii. miles compaſs of the ſame, and keep or would keep houſes, or occupy their craft, ſhould be contributories to and with our ſaid Soveraign Lord his ſubject artificers within the ſaid City of London, paying, bearing and ſuſtaining ſuch charges as hereafter ſhall be expreſſed, that is to ſay, that all other ſtrangers, artificers, denizens, or no denizens, of every handicraft or myſtery, inhabiting as well within the City of London, as in any other City, Town, Borough, or Village, within this his Realm, ſhould pay, bear, and ſuſtain all ſuch and like charges, as our ſaid Soveraign Lord his ſubjects of like craft and myſtery do always uſe to pay.

Aliens houſekeepers ſhall bear ſuch charges as the Kings ſubjects do.

And if any of them refuſed, or denied the ſame or any part thereof, then he, or they ſo denying or refuſing ſo to do, ſhould not any longer occupy any handicraft, upon the pains, damages, and perils ſpecified, as well in the Acts or Statutes made in the xiv. and xv. years of the Reign of our now Soveraign Lord, as in one Statute made in the firſt year of the Reign of King Richard the iii.

St. 14 H. 8. 2. 1 Ric. 3. 9.

And that the ſame ſtrangers, denizens or no denizens, houſholders, which would remain and abide within our ſaid Soveraign Lord his Realm, ſhould upon lawful warning to them given, by the Maſter and Wardens of divers and ſundry myſteries, mentioned and ſpecified in the ſaid decree, within the ſaid Cities and Towns, preſent themſelves in the common Hall, or meeting place of the ſaid crafts, and there to receive and take their oath, and be ſworn upon the holy Evangeliſts before the Maſter and Wardens of their ſaid craft, to be faithful and true to the King our Soveraign Lord, and his heirs, Kings of England, and to be obedient to him or them, and his and their Laws.

Aliens ſhall be ſworn to be true to the King, to obey him and his Laws. St. 32 H. 8. 10.

Alſo that no ſtranger artificer or handicraftſman, born out of our ſaid Soveraign Lord his obeiſance, not being denizen, which was not a houſholder, the xv. day of February aboveſaid, ſhould not ſet up, ne keep any houſe, ſhop or ſhops, or chamber, wherein they ſhould exerciſe or occupy any handicraft or myſtery within this our ſaid Soveraign Lord his Realm, upon pain to incur and run into ſuch penalties as be contained in the Statutes before this time made and enacted, as is aforeſaid.

And that none of the ſtrangers artificers or handicraftſmen, born out of our Soveraign Lord his obeiſance, as well denizens as no denizens, ſhould aſſemble in any company, fellowſhip, congregation, or conventicle, but only in the common hall of their crafts, with our ſaid Soveraign Lord his ſubjects which be of the companies of their ſaid craft or crafts, at ſuch time as they ſhould be commanded and warned by the ſaid Maſter and Wardens of their ſaid craft or crafts, and at none other place and time, or in any other manner, upon the pain afore expreſſed, as by the ſaid decree ſhewed and exemplified, and hereunto annexed, under our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King his great ſeal, more plainly and at large may and doth appear.

Aliens ſhall not aſſemble in conventicles, but in their Halls. St. 1 R. 3. 9.

That for the common wealth aboveſaid, it may be enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that the ſaid order and decree, had, given, and made by our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, his moſt honourable Council, and all and every thing therein contained, ſpecified, and declared, be holden and obſerved firm and ſtable, and duly to be put in execution in every point and article, in manner and form as is above rehearſed, according to the purport, effect, and true meaning of the ſame.

The foreſaid decree made by the Lords in the Star Chamber confirmed.

Be it furthermore enacted by the authority aboveſaid, That the Act made in the Parliament begun at London the xv. day of April, in the xiv. year of the Reign of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King that now is, and from London adjourned to Weſtminſter the laſt day of July, in the xv. year of the Reign of our ſaid Soveraign Lord, concerning ſtrangers artificers, for taking of Apprentices, Journeymen, and covenant ſervants, and every article and proviſion contained in the ſame Act, ſhall be from henceforth put in due execution, according to the true intent, meaning, and purport of the ſame, as well within the City of London, as in all other Boroughs, and Towns-corporate within this Realm, and the ſame to endure perpetually, any thing contained in the ſaid Act or Decree to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The St. made 14 H. 8. 2. touching ſtrangers artificers taking of apprentices made perpetual.

Provided always, That no artificer, alien or ſtranger, born out of the Kings obeiſance, being a houſholder, or inhabiting within any of the Univerſities of Oxford and Cambridge, or within the Sanctuary of Saint Martin le grand, within the City of London, ſhall from henceforth have or retain in their ſervice, journeymen or apprentices, being aliens, or ſtrangers born above the number of x. perſons at one time, upon pain of the penalty contained in the ſaid Act, made in the ſaid xiv. and xv. year of our ſaid Soveraign Lord: The proviſion contained or ſpecified in the ſame Act notwithſtanding. St. 22 H. 8. 13.

No alien dwelling in Oxford, Cambridge, or great St. Martins, ſhall have above x. perſons aliens in his houſe.

The ſupplication and complaint made by artificers of London to the King of ſeveral wrongs and oppreſſions done to them by ſtrangers born.
St. 1 R.3.9.
St. 1 H.72.
St. 14 H.8.2.

Where of late our true and faithful Subjects, artificers and handie-crafts men, born under our obeiſance, inhabiting within our City of London, and the Suburbs of the ſame, exhibited unto us a lamentable bill of complaint, conteining, that notwithſtanding many good and neceſſary ſtatutes and acts of Parliament have been publiſhed, ordeined, and made, and eſpecially one in the firſt year of King Richard the third, and the other being made in the firſt year of the reign of our deareſt Father of noble memory Henry the vii. late King of this Realm, and in the xiv. and xv. year of our reign, concerning Strangers artificers and handicrafts men, born out of our obeiſance, uſing and exerciſing handicrafts, within this our Realm of England, as well for the reſtraining of the exceſſive number and unreaſonable behaviour of the ſame ſtrangers artificers, born out of our obeiſance, which by continual reſort and repair into this our ſaid Realm, daily increaſed, to the great detriment of our own natural ſubjects, artificers of the ſame handicrafts and myſteries, and of other ſundry inconveniences, by occaſion that divers of the ſaid Subjects for lack of occupation fall into idleneſs: as alſo for the reformation of ſundry deceits and falſhoods, practiſed by the ſaid ſtrangers artificers in their ſaid handicrafts, to the great damage and loſs of us, and of all our ſaid natural Subjects; The ſaid ſtrangers artificers nothing pondering or dreading the ſaid Statutes, ne the penalties in the ſame contained and expreſſed, ceaſe not contemptuouſly, as well to abuſe the ſaid Statutes, and moſt part intirely to infringe and break the ſame; And to accumulate from time to time more offences and enormities, as well againſt our prerogative, as to the detriment of the common wealth of this our Realm, and our loving Subjects of the ſame. For when any ſearch ſhall be made in every handicraft within any City, Town, or Borough-corporate, within our ſaid Realm, by our Subjects the ſaid Wardens and others ordained by the ſaid laſt Act of handicraftſmen within any City, Town, or Borough-corporate, and one houſholder ſtranger born out of our obeiſance, inhabiting within our ſaid City, Town, or Borough-corporate, uſing any handicraft, be he denizen or not denizen, the ſaid ſtranger being a houſholder, as before is ſaid, being lawfully warned and required thereunto, according to the ſaid Act, either will refuſe to do his duty therein, or elſe he will give ſecret warning thereof to his brethren of the ſaid crafts, whereby they have not only conveyed and hid all their unlawful, untrue, ſubtile, and deceitful wares, which they untruly, ſubtilly, unſubſtantially and deceitfully have made, and daily make and utter to our Subjects at exceſſive and unreaſonable prices, to the great detriment and damages of our ſaid Subjects, but alſo their ſervants and prentices they have hid from the knowledge of the ſaid Warden, when any ſuch ſearch hath happened to be made, and ſo they defraud the ſame good and honourable Statute and Act; So that thereof no lawful pnniſhment could, can, might, or may enſue, according to the tenour, purport, and effect of the ſaid Statute, but they contemn, deſpiſe, and ſet at naught the ſame, whereby and by the other unlawful means aforeſaid, and others, as ſubtilly ſending and conveying over the ſea, Bacon, Cheeſe, poudered Beefs, Muttons, and other commodities within this our Realm, not only within and out of the ſaid Cities, Towns and Boroughs-corporate, but alſo within and out of other places throughout our Realm, by them the ſaid ſtrangers practiſed and executed, whereby they daily increaſe in great riches, and in great multitude in numbers, of ſtrangers handicraftſmen, born out of our obeiſance. And when they have gathered much riches and money, they againſt our Laws convey the ſame money over the ſea. And then they alſo go over the ſea into their Countreys, and there purchaſe them lands and tenements with part thereof, and with the reſidue of the ſame they live thereby, and ſometime they convert part thereof to the uſe of our enemies in thoſe parts. And ſo as well our poor ſubjects Cordwainers, and all our ſubjects handicraftſmen, born within our obeiſance, by the means aforeſaid, be ſore impoveriſhed, miniſhed, and almoſt utterly decayed and deſtroyed, and many of them, for lack of occupation in the ſaid handicrafts, be conſtrained to live in idleneſs, by occaſion whereof they do continually fall to theft, murder, and other great offences, and conſequently in great numbers be put to death by our Laws, as we be informed: And alſo the great ſcarcity of grain, and victual at this preſent time throughout our Realm, to be the more enforced, and cauſed by reaſon of the great multitude and continual recourſe of the ſaid ſtrangers handicraftſmen, which conſume a great portion of corn and victual, grown and bred within this our Realm: The premiſſes conſidered, to the intent to be thereof more perfectly and truely inſtructed, for the charitable Zeale that we have to the common weale of our Realm,

The manifold and ſeveral wrongs which ſtrangers do to this whole Realm, and to many members thereof.

Realm, & our ſaid ſubjects of the ſame, & for yͤ quietneſs of the ſaid ſtrangers, we have aſſigned & given in commandment to our Lords & others of our Council, indifferently to examine the premiſes, and as well to hear the ſaid complainants as yͤ ſaid defendants, & their allegations and ſayings, of, in, and to the premiſes, and to every part thereof, and yͤ the ſame by them heard, examined, & by good deliberate advice underſtood, to ordain & adjudge, & decree the ſame, after their wiſdoms and learning. Whereupon as well the ſaid bill of complaint, the anſwer of the ſaid defendants thereunto made, the replication of yͤ ſaid complainants to the ſaid anſwer alſo made, and all other allegations, and ſayings of both yͤ ſaid parties, by mature and deliberate advice, by our ſaid Council ripely examined, heard, and underſtood:

It is ordained, adjudged and decreed, the xx. day of February, in this preſent term of S. Hillary, in the xx. year of our Reign, in our Star-chamber, by the moſt reverend Father in God, Thomas Lord Cardinal, Legat de latere of the Apoſtlike See, Archbiſhop of York, Primate and Chancellor of England, and by our Nobles, and other of our ſaid Council, and by the mutual aſſents of the complainants and defendants then there being, in manner and form following, That is to ſay, That according to the Act of Parliament made the ſaid xiv. and xv. year of our Reign, that no ſtranger artificer born out of our obeiſance, inhabiting within any City, Town or Borough, or any other place within this our Realm of England, from thenceforth ſhall keep in his or their houſe or houſes, any manner of ſervants ſtrangers, born out of our obeiſance, but only two ſtrangers ſervants, and no more at one time. And that as many of the ſtrangers artificers now inhabiting within any City, Town, or Borough-corporate, or in any other place within our ſaid Realm, that will be apprentices or ſervants to or with any of our ſubjects artificers born within our obeiſance, exerciſing new or old ſtuff, inhabiting within our ſaid Realm, ſhall be ſuffered ſo to abide and dwell with them, without interruption, as long as they will ſo continue and abide with them, and can agree together.

The decree made by the Lords of the Kings Council in the Star-Chamber touching ſtrangers Artificers.

A ſtranger artificer ſhall keep but two ſtrangers born in his houſe.
5 El. 4.

And furthermore it is decreed, that it ſhall be lawful to all and every of the ſaid ſtrangers artificers, now being houſholders within our ſaid Realm, to take as many of our ſubjects born within our obeiſance, to be their ſervants and apprentices, in the craft that they do exerciſe, as they can lawfully get. And that all the ſtrangers artificers, now being houſholders within our ſaid City of London, ſuburbs, pariſhes, or compaſs thereof expreſſed in the ſaid Statutes, or within two miles compaſs of the ſaid Pariſhes.

Strangers artificers may take Engliſhmen to be their prentices.
5 El. 4.

And alſo all and ſingular ſtrangers that now be, or hereafter ſhall be made denizens, that do or hereafter will inhabit within our ſaid City of London, ſuburbs, or pariſhes aforeſaid, or within two miles compaſs of the ſame, and keep houſes, and occupy their craft, ſhall be contributory to, and with our ſubjects artificers within our City of London; paying, bearing and ſuſtaining ſuch charges as hereafter ſhall be expreſſed, That is to ſay, as well of every of the ſaid ſtrangers, being of the craft and myſtery of Cordwainers, houſholders, as denizens that now be, or hereafter ſhall be made denizens, and ſhall inhabit within our ſaid City, ſuburbs, pariſhes, or two miles compaſs of the ſame, ſhall quarterly pay to the ſaid Maſter, Wardens, and commonalty of the ſaid craft of Cordwainers within our ſaid City of London for the time being, vi. d. And every ſervant ſtranger of the ſaid occupation of the ſaid Cordwainers within the ſaid City, ſuburbs, and precinct, not being denizen, ſhall quarterly pay to the ſaid Maſters, Wardens, and commonalty iii. d. And that all other ſtrangers artificers and denizens, of every handicraft and myſtery, inhabiting as well within our ſaid City of London as in any other City or Town within this our Realm, ſhall pay, bear, and ſuſtain, all ſuch and like charges, as our ſubjects of like craft and myſtery born out of our obeiſance, inhabiting within the City, Borough or Town of their habitation at this time, do now bear and ſuſtain.

What charges ſtrangers ſhall be contributory unto with the Engliſh artificers.

And alſo all ſtrangers artificers and denizens, exerciſing the craft and myſtery of Cordwainers, dwelling out of our City of London, in any other City or Town within this our Realm, ſhall pay, bear and ſuſtain, ſcot, taxes, tallages, ſubſidies, preſts, and all other reaſonable exactions from time to time, according as the ſaid Maſters, Wardens, and Companies of the ſaid crafts, for the time being, ſhall be bounden to pay, bear and ſuſtain, when any ſubſidy, tax, tallage, or preſt, or other reaſonable charges, ſhall be by the Mayor and Aldermen of our ſaid City of London, and the Mayors and Aldermen of our ſaid other Cities and Towns, or by the common Council of the ſaid City, Cities and Towns, of and for any charges of payments of money, to be paid by the companies of the ſaid crafts, Citizens of any City, for any payment to be made unto the Kings Highneſs, or his heirs, or elſe to be paid for any cauſe concerning the common wealth of any our ſaid Cities or Towns, or common wealth of the ſaid artificers, the ſaid ſtrangers ſhall pay all the ſame that they ſhall be aſſeſſed or taxed to pay, as contributories with the ſaid companies, being our ſubjects, as our ſaid ſubjects ſhall be aſſeſſed and taxed to pay. And if any of them deny or refuſe the ſame, or any part thereof, then he or they denying and refuſing ſo to do, ſhall not only loſe the benefit of this decree, but alſo ſhall not any longer occupy any handicraft, upon the pains, dangers, & perils ſpecified in the above remembred Acts & Statutes.

The penalty of a ſtranger refuſing to be contributory to lawful charges with his company.

And that as well all and every of the ſaid houſholders ſtrangers aforeſaid, as all other ſtrangers artificers, made or to be made denizens, that ſhall be houſholders, and inhabit and occupy any craft within our ſaid City, ſuburbs, or ii. miles compaſs of the ſame; as long as they ſhall remain and abide within the ſaid City, ſuburbs, and two miles compaſs of the ſame, being reaſonably required and warned by the Wardens and other perſons, Governours in any City, Town, or Borough-corporate of the ſaid crafts, within any of our ſaid Cities or Towns-corporate, or by any of them for the time being, or by their lawful Deputies or Deputy, ſhall go with the ſaid Wardens or other Governours, there as no Wardens be, to make ſearch according to the above remembred

Strangers artificers ſhall go with the Wardens of the ſame company to make ſearch.

Acts of Parliament made in the xiv. and xv. year of our reign: which if they refuſe to do, and that proved before the Chancellour of England, or before the Maior of London, and in other Cities, before the chief perſons of the ſaid Cities and Townes, for the time being; That then the ſame houſholders, or houſholder ſo offending, denying, or refuſing the ſame, ſhall no longer the ſame his occupation exerciſe, or uſe, within this our Realm, upon pain, peril, and danger expreſſed in the afore remembred Acts and Statutes.

And that the ſame ſtrangers Artificers, Denizens, or not Denizens, houſholders, which will remain and abide within our ſaid Realm, ſhall upon lawful notice to them given by the Maſter or Wardens of their Craft, or one of them, perſonally preſent themſelves in the Common Hall, or meeting place of their ſaid Crafts, within our ſaid Cities, and Towns, there as they be inhabiting, and then or there every of them to receive and take their Oathes, and be ſworn upon the holy Evangeliſt, before the ſaid Maſter and Wardens of their ſaid Craft and Myſtery within our ſaid Cities and Towns corporate, to be faithful and true to us and to our heirs Kings of England, and to be obedient to us and them, and to our and their Laws, and to all Acts, Ordinances, and Decrees, made and confirmed by us and our Councel, or by our Councel, and duly and truly at all times, when they ſhal be appointed by the Wardens of their Fellowſhip, Craft, or Myſterie, for the time being, or by Deputies, to make ſearch with them, according to the purport, tenour, or effect of an Eſtatute and Act of Parliament made in the xiv. and xv. year of our reign, and have warning & monition thereof by yͤ Wardens, or any of them, or any other their ſufficient deputy or deputies, in that behalf to them given and made, and that they ſhall be ready to go with the ſaid Wardens to make yͤ ſame ſearch, and that they ſhall not give notice to any ſtranger of the ſaid ſearch, until they with the ſaid Wardens come together to make the ſaid ſearch, and that they ſhall well, indifferently and truly behave them in the ſame, ſetting all affection, favour, malice, and dread of any creature, and all fraud and deceit apart, ſo help them God and all Saints, and by the holy evangeliſt. And their oath ſo received in form aforeſaid, the ſaid ſtrangers ſhall pay for their commiſſion, according as our ſaid ſubjects have always uſed to pay.

The oath of all ſtrangers to be true to the King, and obedient to his laws, and to make ſearches, &c.

It is alſo further decreed, That no ſtranger artificer, or handicrafts man, born out of our obeyſance, not being denizen, which at the day of the making of this decree, is not a houſholder within this our Realm, or keepeth any ſhop or ſhops within the ſaid City and ſuburbs, or any other City, Town or Borough within this our Realm, ſhall from that day forward ſet up or keep any houſe, ſhop, or chamber within our City of London, ſuburbs, or Pariſhes before rehearſed, or within any other City, Town, Borough, or Village within this our Realm, wherein he ſhall exerciſe and practiſe any handicraft or myſtery, upon pain to incur and run in ſuch penalties as be contained in the Statutes before this time made and enacted. And that none of the ſaid ſtrangers, artificers, or handicrafts men, born out of our obeyſance, as well denizens as other, ſhall aſſemble in any company, fellowſhip, congregation, or conventicle, but only in the common Hall of their crafts, with our ſubjects, which be of the company of their ſaid craft or crafts, at ſuch time as they ſhall be commanded and warned by the Maſter and Wardens of their craft or crafts, and at none other place or time, and in any other manner, upon pain afore expreſſed.

No ſtrangers but denizens ſhall keep houſe or ſhop.

Strangers ſhall not aſſemble but in the common Halls of their myſteries.

Provided alway, that this decree, and every part thereof, concerning the craft and myſtery of Cordwainers, ſhall extend as well to them that work old ſtuff, as new, within our City of London, the ſuburbs of the ſame, or in any other City, Town, Borough, or Village within this our Realm of England.

Provided alſo that notwithſtanding any words compriſed in this decree, the ſtrangers artificers, denizens, or not denizens, inhabiting in the Univerſities of Oxford and Cambridge, and within the Sanctuary of Saint Martins le grand, within the City of London, ſhall enjoy all the benefits and advantages reſerved unto them by reaſon of any proviſion made by Act of Parliament expreſſed in the Statute made in the xiv. & xv. year of our Reign. So that the ſaid ſtrangers, denizens or not denizens, inhabiting within the ſaid Sanctuary of St. Martins le Grand, be conformable to ſuch direction and order, as ſhall be taken by the reverend Father in God, Cuthbert Biſhop of London, Sir Richard Brook Knight chief Baron of our Eſchequer, John More Knight, one of the Juſtices of our Bench, Sir John Dauncy and Sir John Alein Knights, to whom we have of late directed our Letters patents, and by the ſame given them power and authority, and commanding them, and every of them, to cauſe the houſe of every ſtranger and denizen, artificer, inhabiting and dwelling within the ſaid Sanctuary, to be ſearched and viewed, how many ſervants he or they keep born out of our obeiſance; and they being all viewed and ſeen, then to appoint to every City of the ſaid ſtrangers houſholders, inhabiting within the ſaid Sanctuary, by them in form aforeſaid ſo tried, to be within the bounds and limits of the ſaid Sanctuary, ſuch number of ſervants ſtrangers born out of our obeiſance, as they by their diſcretions ſhall think convenient and ſufficient, and not to be any detriment unto our ſubjects inhabitants within our ſaid City.

A Commiſſion granted to certain perſons to aſſign how how many ſervants a ſtranger ſhall keep within great S. Martins. 5 El. 4.

Alſo commanding in our name, all and every of the ſaid ſtrangers, denizens, houſholders, that they from henceforth do not keep within their houſes, nor any other houſe, ſhop, or chamber within our ſaid City of London, or the ſuburbs of the ſame, any mo ſervants, being born out of our obeiſance, then ſhall be to them at that time appointed, as they will avoid the danger and penalty of our laws; and what they have done in the premiſes, that they do certifie to us and our Council, in our Star-Chamber at Weſtminſter, at the xv. day of Eaſter next coming. In witneſs whereof we will as well the ſaid decree, as all other the premiſes, ſhall be exemplified under our ſeal.

CAP. XIX.

Avowries ſhall be made by the Lord upon the Land without naming his Tenant.

The reaſon and cauſe of making of this Stat.

Where as well the Noblemen of this Realm, as divers other perſons, by fines, recoveries, grants, and ſecret feoffments, and leaſes, made by their Tenants to perſons unknown, of the lands and tenements holden of them, have been put from the knowledge of their Tenants, upon whom they ſhould by order of the law make their avowries for their rents, cuſtoms, and ſervices, to their great loſſes and hindrances:

An avowry may be made by the Lord upon the land holden of him without naming his tenant.

Avowry in ſecond deliverance.

Be it therefore enacted, eſtabliſhed and ordained by authority of this preſent Parliament, That whereſoever any manner lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, be holden by any manner perſon or perſons, by rents, cuſtoms, or ſervices, that if the Lord of whom any ſuch manner lands, tenements or hereditaments be ſo holden, diſtrain upon the ſame manors, lands, or tenements, for any ſuch rents, cuſtoms, or ſervices, and Replevin thereof be ſued, that the Lord of whom the ſame lands, tenements, or hereditaments be ſo holden, may avow, or his Bailiff, or ſervant make coniſance, or juſtifie for taking of the ſaid diſtreſſes, upon the ſame lands, tenements or hereditaments ſo holden, as in lands or tenements within his fee or ſigniory, alleadging in the ſaid avowry, coniſance and juſtification, the ſame manors, lands and tenements to be holden of him without naming of any perſon certain to be tenant of the ſame, and without making any avowry, juſtification, or coniſance, upon any perſon certain. And likewiſe the Lord, Baily, or ſervant, to make avowry, juſtification, or coniſance, in like manner and form upon every writ ſued of ſecond deliverance.

The avowant ſhall recover damages and coſts of ſuit.

And alſo be it enacted by the ſaid authority, That every avowant, and every other perſon and perſons that make any ſuch avowry, juſtification, or coniſance, as baily or ſervant to any perſon or perſons in any Replegiare, or ſecond deliverance, for rents, cuſtoms, ſervices, or for damage feſant, or other rent or rents, upon any diſtreſs taken in any lands or tenements: if the ſame avowry, coniſance, or juſtification be found for them, or the plaintiffs in the ſame be nonſuit, or otherwiſe barred, that then they ſhall recover their damages and coſts againſt the ſaid plaintiff, as the ſame plaintiffs ſhould have done or had, if they had recovered in the Replegiare, or ſecond deliverance found againſt the ſaid defendants.

Like pleas and aide prayers as at the common law.

And be it alſo ordained, That the ſaid plaintiffs and defendants in the ſaid writs of Replegiare, or writs of ſecond deliverance, and in every of them, ſhall have like pleas and like aid prayers in all ſuch avowries, coniſances, and juſtifications (pleas of diſclaime only except) as they might have had before the making of this Act, and as though the ſaid avowry, coniſance, or juſtification had been made after the due order of the common law.

Like joinder in aide as at the common law.

And it is further enacted by the ſaid authority, That all ſuch perſons as by order of the common law may lawfully joyn to the plaintiffs or defendants in the ſaid writs of Replegiare, or ſecond deliverance, as well without proceſs, as by proceſs, ſhall from henceforth joyn unto the ſaid plaintiffs or defendants, as well without proceſs, as by proceſs, and to have like pleas, and like advantages in all things (diſclaim only except) as they might have done by the order of the common law before the making of this Act.

CAP. XX.

The Preſident ſhall be aſſociate with the Chancellor, &c. in examination and puniſhing of Riots, &c.

Where at a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the third year of the Reign of our late moſt dread Soveraign Lord Henry the ſeventh, foraſmuch as by the unlawful maintenances, giving of liberties, ſigns, tokens and retaindors, by indentures, promiſes, oaths, writings, or otherwiſe, embraceries of his ſubjects, untrue demeaning of Sheriffs in making of panels, and other untrue returns, by taking of money by Juries, and great Riots and unlawful aſſemblies, the politie and good rule of this Realm was almoſt ſubdued: And for the puniſhment of theſe inconveniences by the occaſion of the premiſes, nothing or little might be found by enquiry, whereby the laws of the land in execution might take little effect, which was to the increaſe of murders, robberies, perjuries, and unſureties of all men living, and loſſes of their lands and goods, to the great diſpleaſure of Almighty God: For reformation of which premiſes, it was ordained and enacted by the authority of the ſaid Parliament, amongſt other things, that the Chancellor and Treaſurer of England for the time being, and the keeper of the Kings privy ſeal, or two of them, calling to them a Biſhop and a temporal Lord of the Kings moſt honourable Council, and the two chief Juſtices of the Kings Bench, and the common place for the time being, or other two Juſtices in their abſences, upon bill or information put to the ſaid Chancellour for the King, or any other, againſt any perſon for any miſbehaving afore rehearſed, ſhould have authority to call before them by writ or by privy ſeal the ſaid miſdoers: And they and other by their diſcretion, by whom the truth might be known, to examine. And ſuch as they ſhould find defective, to puniſh them after their demerits, after the form and effect of Statutes thereof made, in like manner and form as they ſhould and ought to be puniſhed, if they were thereof convict after the due order of the law, as by the ſame Statute among other things more plainly doth appear. Nevertheleſs in the ſame good and profitable Statute, the Preſident of the Kings moſt honourable Council for the time being, attending upon his moſt Noble and Royal perſon, is omitted, and not named in the ſaid former Statute, made in the third year of the Reign of King Henry the ſeventh, to be one of the ſaid perſons, that ſhould have authority to call before them ſuch miſdoers ſo offending the Kings Laws in any of the premiſſes, as is before rehearſed.

Co.Inſt.4.p.55. The Preſident of the Kings Council ſhall be aſſociate with the Lord Chancellor, &c. for the examination and puniſhment of Riots, &c.

Be it therefore now by the authority of this preſent Parliament ordained and enacted, That from henceforth the Chancellor, Treaſurer of England, and the Preſident of the Kings moſt honourable Council, attending upon his moſt honourable perſon, for the time being, and keeper of the Kings privy ſeal, or two of them, calling unto them one Biſhop, and one temporal Lord of the Kings moſt honourable Council, and the two chief Juſtices of the Kings Bench and the Common place for the time being, or other two of the Kings Juſtices in their abſence, upon any bill or information hereafter to be put in, the Chancellor of England, Treaſurer, Preſident of the Kings ſaid moſt honourable Council, or keeper of the Kings privy ſeal for the time being, for any miſbehaving before rehearſed, from henceforth have full power and authority to call before them, by writ or privy ſeal, ſuch miſdoers, and them, and other by their diſcretion, by whom the truth may be known, to examine. And ſuch as they ſhall find defective, to puniſh them after their demerits, after the form and effect of the ſaid former Statute, and of all other Statutes thereof heretofore made, and not repealed, or expired, in like manner and form as they ſhould and ought to be puniſhed, if they were thereof convicted after the due order of the Kings Laws.

In what other cauſes the Preſident of the Kings Council ſhall be aſſociate with the Chancellor, &c.

And alſo be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Preſident of the Kings ſaid moſt honourable Council for the time being, if he be then preſent, may be at all times hereafter aſſociate with the Chancellor, Treaſurer of England, and keeper of the Kings privy ſeal for the time being, as well at the naming of Sheriffs, and ſetting of prices of wines, as at all other acts limited and appointed by any Statute to be done by the ſaid Chancellor and Treaſurer, or keeper of the Kings privy ſeal for the time being: Any Act, Statute, or uſe heretofore made or uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. II.

Trial of Forrein Pleas pleaded by Felons.

The inconveniences enſuing the allowance of a Felon to plead a plea triable in a Foreign County. 4 H. 8. ca. 2.

WHere among other things it was conſidered by the whole Court of Parliament of our moſt excellent Soveraign Lord the King, holden in the fourth year of his noble Reign, That Murderers and Felons, lawfully arraigned of their deteſtable offences, bare them bold upon imagining, and pleading of feigned and untrue Forrein pleas triable in Forrein Counties, to the intent to be removed from place to place by colourable and untrue ſuggeſtions, and for to be untruly acquit by favour, might, or corruption, ſo that they lived in manner without fear or dread. For reformation whereof, and for the common wealth of this Realm, it was enacted by authority of the ſaid Parliament, That if any Murderer or Felon, upon his Arraignment from thence did alledge, that he had taken any Church or Churchyard, for Murder, or Felony, or other place priviledged for the ſame in a Foreign County, and againſt his will was taken out thereof: That then the Kings Atturney, or any other perſon that would ſhew or alledge for the King, that the ſaid Murderer, or Felon ſo arraigned, was taken at large in the ſame Shire where he is ſo arraigned, ed, then that the ſame allegeance and iſſue ſhould be tried by the Inqueſt that ſhould try the ſaid murder or felony, within the ſame Shire, and before the ſame Juſtices where the ſaid murderer or felon is arraigned, as though the ſaid forreign plea had not been pleaded by the ſaid felon. And that if it were found by the ſame Inqueſt, that the ſaid murderer or felon was taken within the ſame Shire, as is aforeſaid, that then he to have no advantage or benefit of the matter alledged by him for taking out of the Church or Church-yard, or other place priviledged in any ſuch forreign Shire, and that the ſaid Act ſhould endure to the next Parliament from that time enſuing, as by the ſame Act made in the ſaid fourth year manifeſtly appeareth. And foraſmuch as ſith the time of expiration of the ſaid Act made in the ſaid fourth year, many abominable murders, as well of Prieſts, as of other perſons, robberies of Church, and robberies of perſons in their houſes, as well by day as by night, and other deteſtable murders and felonies, have been committed, and done within this Realm; and the moe, and more often, becauſe that the ſaid Statute hath been expired, and ended, from, and ſince the beginning of the Parliament of our ſaid Sovereign Lord, holden in the ſixth year of his moſt noble Reign:

It is ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that the ſaid Act made in the ſaid fourth year, and every thing therein contained, concerning the ſaid forreign pleas, and replications thereunto to be made, and trials thereof, ſhall now be revived, and ſhall ſtand in full force and effect, and ſhall continue and endure from henceforth for ever, as if the ſame Act had been originally made perpetual and not determinable.

So much of the Statute of 4 H. 8. 2. as touching the plea pleaded by a felon that he was taken in a forreign County out of Sanctuary, made perpetual.

CAP. III.

How, Ceſſes, Scots, and Taxes made for recovery or defence of Plumſted Marſh, may be obtained.

Whereas the Marſhes of Plumſted and Leſeves, with the outragiouſneſs of the River of Thames, hath been, & yet be drowned by the occaſion of the breaches in the Marſh walls of Plumſted, Leſeves, and Erith: And where the breach in Plumſted Marſh aforeſaid hath been and is made; for inning of which breach of Plumſted and maintenance and defence of the Marſh walls about the ſame breach, as well for the making of a new croſs wall to be made from the Thames unto the upland for inning of the ſaid Marſh of Plumſted, as alſo for the inning of certain number of acres in the level and marſhes of Leveſes to be incloſed, inned, and defended by the ſaid croſs wall from the water of Thames, coming in at Erith breach, and drowning and overflowing the ſaid marſh and level, and for draining of the ſame, and for the maintenance of the old marſh walls from the Thames ſide from the ſaid new croſs wall nigh unto Woolwich, divers and ſundry Ceſſes, Scots, and Taxes have been made, ceſſed, ſcotted, ſet and taxed by vertue of Commiſſion, and the day of paiments thereof in the Pariſh Church of Plumſted, according as heretofore for Ceſſes of Plumſted marſh hath been accuſtomed, hath been declared and proclaimed: which Ceſſes, Scots, and Taxes, divers poſſeſſioners, owners, landlords, tenants, and profit-takers of the ſaid lands within the ſaid marſhes and level, at the day mentioned and appointed by proclamation, have not paid, nor yet do pay, contrary to the laws of Plumſted marſh heretofore made, by which laws for non-paiment of ſuch Ceſſes, Scots, and Taxes, they ought to pay them and their doubles: In default of which paiment, the ſaid Bailiff of the ſaid marſh and level now being, and other by his aſſignment, to their great hinderance, have been conſtrained to pay divers of the ſaid Scots, Ceſſes, and Taxes, for the inning of the ſaid marſh, maintenance, and defence of the ſame, or elſe the ſame marſhes and level had been utterly loſt without remedy.

The Law of Plumſted marſh, concerning the paiment of Ceſſes, Scots, and Taxes.

For the recovery of which Ceſſes, Scots, and Taxes ſo by the Bailiff, and his aſſigns paid, and of other ſcots and ceſſes now due, by the occaſion of the ſaid outragious drowning of the ſaid marſhes, the ſaid Bailiff and his aſſigns have no remedy or mean to levy the ſame: So that for non-paiment of the ſaid Ceſſes, Scots, and Taxes, not onely the ſaid work is like to periſh, and not to be finiſhed, unleſs ſpeedy remedy may be had for the levying thereof: but alſo all ſuch ſums of money as before this time have been imployed for the inning, defence, and maintenance of the ſame, are like to be loſt, to the utter deſtruction of the ſaid marſh and level, and to the extreme ruine and decay of the Countrey thereunto adjoyning, and to the great decay of the River of Thames aforeſaid, and to the diſheriſon as well of our Sovereign Lord the King, as of other owners, poſſeſſioners, and tenants that have, do, and will pay ſuch Ceſſes, Scots, and Taxes, as before this time, or in time to come hath, or ſhall be ceſſed, ſet, and taxed for the ſame. In conſideration whereof, be it enacted by our Sovereign Lord the King, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the Bailiff of the ſaid marſhes and level now being, or his aſſigns, ſhall and may by force of this Act, make proclamation on any Sunday hereafter enſuing, in the Pariſh Church of Plumſted aforeſaid, as well of this Act, as alſo that all ſuch Ceſſes, Scots, and Taxes, at the time of the ſaid Proclamation made, being behind, and unpaid, ſhall be paid at a certain place in the ſaid Proclamation to be limited, within twenty days next enſuing after the day of the ſame Proclamation. And he that ſo payeth ſhall be diſcharged of any doubles due heretofore for non-paiment of the ſame. And if the ſaid Ceſſes, Scots, and Taxes be not paid by the end of the ſaid twenty days after ſuch Proclamation, to the ſaid Bailiff, his executors or aſſigns, that then every perſon or perſons, which ought to pay the ſame Ceſſes, Scots, and Taxes, ſhall forfeit the doubles of the ſame Ceſſes, Scots, and Taxes; and that then if the ſaid Ceſſes, Scots, and Taxes, and their doubles, be not paid by the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel now next coming, unto the ſaid Bailiff, his executors or aſſigns, that then it ſhall be lawful to every owner, poſſeſſioner, landlord, tenant, and profit-taker of lands and tenements, and other profits within the ſaid marſhes and level, or any other perſon or perſons which hath, doth, and will pay to the ſaid Bailiff, his executors, or aſſigns, ſuch Ceſſes, Scots, and Taxes, or any of them ſo due, and unpaid by any other owner, poſſeſſioner, landlord, tenant, profit-taker of lands and tenements within the ſame level, to enter into all the ſaid lands and tenements, and other profits, within the ſaid marſhes and level, ſo ceſſed, ſcotted, and taxed, and the ſame from thenceforth to have, hold, perceive, and occupy, to him, or them, his or their heirs, ſucceſſors, or aſſigns for ever, by vertue of this preſent Act, without let or interruption of any of the ſame owners, poſſeſſioners, landlords, tenants, takers of profits, fermers, or any other perſon or perſons which have, or ſhall have any eſtate, title, intereſt, uſe, or term, in any of thoſe lands and tenements, and other profits ſo ceſſed, ſcotted, and taxed, by reaſon of any intail, gift, grant, or other title whatſoever it be.

The Bailiff of Plumſted marſh ſhall make Proclamation that each perſon ſhall pay his Ceſſes, Scots, &c. within xx. days.

The forfeiture of the double, if the Ceſſes, &c. be not paid within xx. days.

The forfeiture if the Ceſſes and their doubles be not paid by Michaelmas.

Taxes, Ceſſes, and Scots, hereafter to be made.

Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that the ſame Law ſhall be had and executed for any Scot, Tax, or Ceſs hereafter to be had and made before the Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt now next coming, by vertue of any Commiſſion within any of the ſaid marſhes and level, any act or uſe to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The land forfeited may be redeemed within three years.

Provided alway, this Act notwithſtanding, That ſuch perſon or perſons, their heirs and aſſigns, whoſoever ſhall ſo run in the doubles and loſs of his or their Lands, may at any time within three years next following the time limited for the loſs of the ſaid land, bring in, and pay the ſaid ceſſes, taxes, and his or their doubles to him or them that ſhall have the ſaid lands by the authority of this Act, or to his heirs or aſſigns, and ſo to enjoy his or their lands again, from the day of the payment of his or their ſaid money for the ſaid ceſſes, taxes, and doubles, or elſe they and every of them, their heirs and aſſigns to be from thenceforth excluded and barred from all title, right, uſe, poſſeſſion, action, and entry to be had, of or to the ſaid lands, or any parcel thereof for ever.

The particular tenant charged with more then the land is worth, may retain the ſame land after his eſtate is expired.

Provided alway, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any man having any lands in poſſeſſion, or in uſe, in the right of his wife, tenant by the courteſie, tenant in dower, tenant for term of life, term of years, tenant by Elegit, tenant by Statute Merchant, gardein in ſocage, gardein in chivalry, or any other having any particular intereſt under eſtate of inheritance in any lands, tenements, or any other yearly profits chargeable to the ſaid ceſſes, ſcots, taxes, and doubles, now rated, taxed, or ſet, or hereafter to be rated, taxed, and ſet, which have before this time paid, or at any time hereafter ſhall pay during his or their ſaid intereſt in or to the ſame, any ſum or ſums of money for the defence, inning, and maintenance of the ſaid marſhes and level, over and above all ſuch ſum or ſums as he or they have, and ſhall receive and take of the ſame lands or other yearly profits: that from henceforth it ſhall be lawful unto every ſuch particular tenant, occupier, or other profit-taker, their executors or aſſigns, by force and vertue of this preſent Act, to hold, keep, poſſeſs, and retain the ſame lands, or other yearly profits, to his, or their own uſe, againſt all and every ſuch perſon or perſons, to whom the ſame lands, tenements, or other yearly profits ſhould, and ought to deſcend, remain, or revert after all and every ſuch particular eſtate expired and determined, until he or they have fully received, taken, and had of, and upon the ſame, all ſuch ſums of money, as they or any of them have beſtowed, imployed, expended, and paid in, and for the defence, inning, and maintenance of the ſame.

CAP. IV.

What exactions ſhall be levied on Apprentices by Maſters, Wardens, &c.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 19 H. 7. 7. and how it is abuſed.

The fees of Wardens of Companies, for the entry of an Apprentice or Free-man into their Company.

AT the prayer of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, reciting that where it was eſtabliſhed, and enacted in the xix. year of our late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Seventh, that no Maſter, Wardens, and Fellowſhip of Crafts, or any of them, nor any Rulers of Guilds or Fraternities, take upon them to make any Acts or Ordinances, ne to execute any Acts or Ordinances by them heretofore made, or hereafter to be made in diſ-inheritance, or diminution of the prerogative of the King, nor of other, nor againſt the common profit of the people, except the ſame Act, or Ordinances be examined or approved by the Chancellor, Treaſurer of England, or chief Juſtice of either Bench, or three of them, or before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their circuit or progreſs, in the Shire where ſuch Acts or Ordinances be made, upon pain of forfeiture of xl. li. for every time that they do the contrary, as more plainly in the ſaid Act doth appear. Sith which time divers Wardens and Fellowſhips have made Acts and Ordinances, that every Prentice ſhall pay at his firſt entry in their common Hall to the Wardens of the ſame Fellowſhip, ſome of them xl. s. ſome xxx. s. ſome xx. s. ſome xiij. s. iv. d. ſome vj. s. viij. d. ſome iij. s. iv. d. after their own ſiniſter mind and pleaſure, contrary to the meaning of the Act aforeſaid, and to the great hurt of the Kings true ſubjects putting their child to be prentice. It is therefore now ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, by the advice of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that no Maſter, Wardens, or Fellowſhip of Crafts, or Myſteries, or any of them, nor any Rulers of Fraternities, take from henceforth of any Apprentice, or any other perſon or perſons, for the entry of any Prentice into their ſaid Fellowſhip, above the ſum of ij. s. vj. d. nor for his entry when his years and term is expired and ended, above iij. s. iv. d. upon pain of forfeiture of xl. li. for every time that they do to the contrary: the one half to the King our Sovereign Lord, the other half to the party that therefore ſhall ſue by action of debt, information, or otherwiſe; and that in the action aforeſaid no protection or eſſoin ſhall be allowed. CAP. V.

A remedy to repair decayed Bridges in high-ways; and by whom.

Co. Inſt 2 p. 700. Juſtices of Peace may award proceſs againſt them who ought to repair Bridges.

BE it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that the Juſtices of Peace in every Shire of this Realm, Franchiſe, City, or Borough, or four of them at the leaſt, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall have power and authority to enquire, hear, and determine in the Kings general Seſſions of Peace, of all manner of annoiances of Bridges broken in the high-ways to the damage of the Kings liege people, and to make ſuch proceſs and pains upon every preſentment afore them for the reformation of the ſame, againſt ſuch as owen to be charged for the making or amending of ſuch Bridges, as the Kings Juſtices of his Bench uſe commonly to do, or as it ſhall ſeem by their diſcretions to be neceſſary and convenient for the ſpeedy amendment of ſuch Bridges.

And where in many parts of this Realm it cannot be known and proved what Hundred, Riding, Wapentake, City Borough, Town, or Pariſh, nor what perſon certain, or body politick, ought of right to make ſuch Bridges decayed, by reaſon whereof ſuch decayed Bridges for lack of knowledge of ſuch as owen to make them, for the moſt part lie long without any amendment, to the great annoiance of the Kings ſubjects:

A remedy where it is not known who ought to repair a Bridge.

For the remedy thereof, be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That in every ſuch caſe the ſaid Bridges, if they be without City or Town Corporate, ſhall be made by the inhabitants of the Shire or Riding within the which the ſaid Bridge decaied ſhall happen to be: And if it be within any City or Town Corporate, then by the inhabitants of every ſuch City or Town Corporate, wherein ſuch Bridges ſhall happen to be. And if part of any ſuch Bridges ſo decayed happen to be in one Shire, Riding, City, or Town Corporate, and the other part thereof in another Shire, Riding, City, or Town Corporate, or if part be within the limits of any City or Town Corporate, and part without, or part within one Riding, and part within another: that then in every ſuch caſe the inhabitants of the Shires, Ridings, Cities, or Towns Corporate ſhall be charged, and chargeable to amend, make, and repair ſuch part and portion of ſuch Bridges ſo decaied, as ſhall lie and be within the limits of the Shire, Riding, City, or Town Corporate, wherein they be inhabited at the time of the ſame decays.

And be it further enacted, That in every ſuch caſe, where it cannot be known and proved, what perſons, lands, tenements, and bodies politick own to make and repair ſuch Bridges, that for ſpeedy reformation and amending of ſuch Bridges, the Juſtices of Peace within the Shires or Ridings wherein ſuch decayed Bridges been out of Cities and Towns Corporate, and if it be within Cities or Towns Corporate, then the Juſtices of Peace within every ſuch City or Town Corporate, or four of the ſaid Juſtices at the leaſt, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall have power and authority within the limits of their ſeveral commiſſions and authorities, to call before them the Conſtables of every Town and Pariſh, being within the Shire, Riding, City, or Town Corporate, as well within liberty as without, wherein ſuch Bridges or any parcel thereof ſhall happen to be, or elſe two of the moſt honeſt inhabitants within every ſuch Town or Pariſh in the ſaid Shire, Riding, City, or Town Corporate, by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or four of them at the leaſt, whereof one to be of the Quorum: And at, and upon the appearances of ſuch Conſtables or inhabitants, the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or four of them, whereof one to be of the Quorum, with the aſſent of the ſaid Conſtables or inhabitants, ſhall have power and authority to tax, and ſet every inhabitant in any ſuch City, Town, or Pariſh within the limits of their Commiſſions and authorities, to ſuch reaſonable aid and ſum of money, as they ſhall think by their diſcretions convenient and ſufficient for the repairing, re-edifying, and amendment of ſuch Bridges, and after ſuch taxation made, the ſaid Juſtices ſhall cauſe the names & ſums of every particular perſon ſo by them taxed, to be written in a roll indented. And ſhall alſo have power & authority to make two Collectors of every Hundred, for collection of all ſuch ſums of money, by them ſet and taxed, which Collectors receiving the one part of the ſaid roll indented under the ſeals of the ſaid Juſtices, ſhall have power and authority to collect and receive all the particular ſums of money therein contained, & to diſtrain every ſuch inhabitant, as ſhall be taxed, and refuſe paiment thereof, in his lands, goods, and cattels, and to ſell ſuch diſtreſs, and of the ſale thereof retain and perceive all the money taxed, and the reſidue (if the diſtreſs be better) to deliver to the owner thereof. And that the ſame Juſtices, or four of them, within the limits of their commiſſions and authorities, ſhall alſo have power and authority to name and appoint two Surveyors, which ſhall ſee every ſuch decaied Bridge repaired, & amended from time to time, as often as need ſhall require, to whoſe hands the ſaid Collectors ſhall pay the ſaid ſums of money taxed, and by them received: And that the Collectors and Surveyors, & every of them, and their executors and adminiſtrators, and the executors & adminiſtrators of them, and every of them, from time to time ſhall make a true declaration & accompt to the Juſtices of Peace, of the Shire, Riding, City, or Town Corporate, wherein they ſhall be appointed Collectors or Surveyors, or to four of yͤ ſame Juſtices, whereof one to be of the Quorum, of the receipts, paiments, & expences of the ſaid ſums of money: And if they, or any of them, refuſe that to do, that then the ſame Juſtices of Peace, or four of them, from time to time by their diſcretions, ſhall have power & authority to make proceſs againſt the ſaid Collectors and Surveyors, and every of them, their executors and adminiſtrators, and the executors and adminiſtrators of every of them, by attachments under their ſeals, returnable at the general Seſſions of Peace: And if they appear, then to compel them to accompt as is aforeſaid; or elſe if they, or any of them, refuſe that to do, then to commit ſuch of them as ſhall refuſe, to ward, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe till the ſaid declaration and accompt be truly made.

The Juſtices may tax the inhabitants with the aſſent of the Conſtables.

Two Collectors of every Hundred.

The Juſtices ſhall appoint two who ſhall repair the Bridge.

The Collectors and Surveyors ſhall accompt to the Juſtices.

And where any Bridge or Bridges lien in one Shire or Riding, and ſuch perſons inhabitants, bodies politick, lands or tenements, which owen to be charged to the making and amending of ſuch Bridges, lien and abiden in another Shire or Riding, or where ſuch Bridges been within any City, or Town Corporate, and the perſons inhabitants, bodies politick, lands or tenements, that owen to make or repair any ſuch Bridges, lien and been out of the ſaid Cities, and Towns Corporate: Be it enacted, That in every ſuch caſe, the Juſtices of Peace of the Shire, City, or Town Corporate, within the which ſuch decayed Bridges, or any part thereof, ſhall happen to be, ſhall have power to enquire, hear, and determine all ſuch annoiances, being within the limits of their commiſſions or authorities. And if the annoiance be preſented, then to make proceſs into every Shire within this Realm, againſt ſuch as owen to make, or amend any ſuch Bridges ſo preſented before them to be decayed, to the annoiance and let of the paſſage of the Kings ſubjects, and to do further in every behalf in every ſuch caſe, as they might do by authority of this Act, in caſe that the perſons or bodies politick, lands or tenements, which owen to be charged to the amending or making of ſuch Bridges, or any part thereof, were in the ſame Shire, Riding, City, or Town Corporate, where ſuch annoiance ſhall happen to be. And that all Sheriffs & Bailiffs of liberties and franchiſes, ſhall truly ſerve and execute ſuch proceſs as ſhall come to their hands from the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, afore whom any preſentment ſhall be had for any ſuch annoiance, according to the tenour and effect of the ſaid proceſs to them directed, without favour, affection, or corruption, upon pain to make ſuch fine as ſhall be ſet upon them, or any of them, by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices.

The Juſtices may make proceſs into every Shire againſt offendors.

Sheriffs, &c. ſhall ſerve proceſs upon the offendors.

The five Ports excepted.

Provided alway, That this Act nor any thing therein contained, be not prejudicial to the liberties of the five Ports, or members of the ſame. And for reformation of annoiance of Bridges within the ſaid ports and members:

Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Warden, Mayors, and Bailiffs elected, and Jurates of the ſame Ports, and every of them, have power and authority to enquire, hear, and determine all manner of common annoiances of Bridges within the ſame ports and members, and to make ſuch proceſs, pains, taxations, and all other things within the ſame ports and members, as the Juſtices of Peace may do in other Shires or places out of the ſame ports, by vertue and authority of this preſent Act in every behalf.

Allowance made to the Surveyors and Collectors.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Peace, or four of them, ſhall have full power and authority to allow ſuch reaſonable coſts and charges to the ſaid Surveyors and Collectors, as by their diſcretions ſhall be thought convenient.

An order for the amending of the ways at the ends of Bridges.

For as much that albeit Bridges decayed were amended and repaired, according to the tenour of this Act, yet nevertheleſs if ſpeedy remedy for the amendment of the ways next adjoyning to every of the ends of ſuch Bridges ſhould not be had and made, the Kings ſubjects ſhould take little or none avail or commodity in any parts of this Realm by the making of the Bridges: In conſideration whereof, be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That ſuch part and portion of the high ways in every part of this Realm, as well within Franchiſe as without, as lie next adjoyning to any ends of any Bridges within this Realm, diſtant from any of the ſaid ends, by the ſpace of three hundred foot, be made, repaired, and amended as often as need ſhall require. And that the Juſtices of Peace in every Shire of this Realm, Franchiſe, City, or Borough, or four of them at the leaſt, whereof one to be of the Quorum, within the limits of their commiſſions and authorities, ſhall have power and authority to enquire, hear, and determine in the Kings general Seſſions of Peace, all manner of annoiances of and in ſuch high ways, ſo being and lying next adjoyning to any ends of Bridges within this Realm, diſtant from any of the ends of ſuch Bridges, three hundred foot, and to do in every thing and things concerning the making, repairing, and amending of ſuch high ways and every of them, in as large and ample manner, as they might and may do, to, and for the making, repairing, and amending of Bridges, by vertue and authority of this preſent Act.

CAP. VIII.

Denizens ſhall pay like Cuſtoms as they did before they were Denizens.

PRayen the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That where in a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the ſeventh day of November, in the firſt year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord of famous memory King Henry the Seventh (whoſe ſoul God pardon) it was ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted by authority of the ſaid Parliament, That every perſon made, or after the making of the ſaid Act, to be made denizen, ſhould pay of his merchandiſes like Cuſtom and Subſidy, as he ought or ſhould pay afore that he were made denizen, any Letters Patents, or other Ordinances by Parliament, or otherwiſe, to the contrary notwithſtanding, which Statute and Ordinance was onely made for Cuſtom and Subſidy, to be paid to the ſaid late King, and to our now Sovereign Lord: Sithen which time divers grants have been made to divers, as well Merchant ſtrangers, as other Aliens born out of this Realm, to be denizens, whereby they have and enjoy ſuch freedoms and liberties, as do denizens born within this Realm, being our ſaid Sovereign Lord the Kings natural born ſubjects, whereof there is no ſmall number, and every day encreaſe more and more, by the which the ſaid Aliens to their lucre and avail been increaſed to great and notable ſubſtance and riches, and the natural ſubjects of our ſaid Sovereign Lord, and his Realm greatly impoveriſhed: And after they be inriched, for the moſt part convey themſelves with their ſaid goods to their own Countrey, wherein they be naturally born, to the great detriment of the common weal of this Realm of England and the ſubjects of the ſame: It may therefore pleaſe your Highneſs of your moſt good and loving diſpoſition that ye bear and owe to the common wealth of this your Realm, by the advice of your Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, to ordain, enact, and eſtabliſh, That every perſon or perſons, whatſoever they be, born out of this Realm of England out of the Kings obeiſance, made, or hereafter to be made denizen, do pay to your Grace, and to your Heirs, and to all and every other perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree, or condition he or they be, and to all and ſingular Officers and Miniſters of Cities, Boroughs, and Towns, within this Realm of England, and to every of them, all ſuch Subſidies, Cuſtoms, Tolls, Duties, and other ſums of money, for their wares, merchandiſes, and other whatſoever goods by whatſoever names or name the ſaid Subſidies, Cuſtoms, Tolls, Duties, and other ſums of money, or any of them be named or called, as they ſhould or ought to have paid before they were denizens, any grant or grants to them made, or hereafter to be made, or any Act or Acts, Statute, or Ordinance to the contrary made, or had notwithſtanding.

Aliens born made denizens ſhall pay all ſuch cuſtoms and other duties as they did before. St. 1 H. 7. 2. 11 H. 7. 14.

Provided alway, that all and ſingular Officers and Miniſters of every City, Borough, or Town, wherein any ſuch Cuſtom, Tolls, Duties, or ſums of money ſhall be demanded, as is aboveſaid, on this ſide the Feaſt of Pentecoſt next coming, ſhall ſet up, or cauſe to be ſet up, in open place or places, of every ſuch City, Borough, or Town, a table or tables, by which the certainty and very duty of every ſuch Cuſtom, Toll, and Duty, or ſum of money, of ſuch wares and merchandiſes, to be demanded or required, as is above rehearſed, ſhall and may plainly appear, and be declared, to the intent that nothing be exacted otherwiſe then in old time hath been uſed and accuſtomed, upon pain of every City not doing the ſame to loſe v. li. and every Town Corporate to loſe xl. s, for every moneth that the ſame table ſhall fail to be ſet up after the ſame Feaſt; the moity of which forfeiture to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other moity to the party that will ſue for the ſame, by writ, bill, plaint, or information: In which action the defendant ſhall have no eſſoin, wager of Law, ne protection allowed.

A table of Cuſtoms, Tolls, and Duties ſhall be ſet up in every City, Borough, or Town.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, ne any other Act or Acts made, or to be made in this preſent Parliament, concerning the premiſſes, be not in any wiſe prejudicial or hurtful unto the Merchants of the houſe of Almaign, nor to any of them, having the houſe within the City of London, commonly called Guild-hall Theutonicorum, otherwiſe called the Merchants of the Stilyard, in London, nor to their goods or merchandiſes, by whatſoever name or names they, or any of them be called, but that they and every of them, ſhall have and enjoy all ſuch liberties, franchiſes, cuſtoms, and priviledges, as they had the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, any thing, or things, ſpecified in this Act, or in any other Acts or Act, made, or to be made in this preſent Parliament, notwithſtanding.

The Merchants of the Stilyard.

Provided alway, That the tables ſo to be ſet up in the City of London, touching Scavage within the ſame, ſhall firſt be viewed, examined, and approved, by the Chancellor and Treaſurer of England, the Preſident of the Kings Council, the Lord Privy Seal, the Lord Steward of the Kings moſt honourable houſhold, and the two chief Juſtices of the Kings Bench, and Common place, for the time being, or by four of them at the leaſt, and by them ſubſcribed.

Stilyard. The table of Scavage to be ſet up in London ſhall be examined, &c.

CAP. IX.

Wilful poiſoning ſhall be adjudged high Treaſon, and the offendor therein ſhall be boiled to death. Rep. 1 Ed. 6. 12. 1 M. 1.

CAP. X.

If any calling themſelves Egyptians, do come into this Realm, they ſhall forfeit all their goods: And being commanded, ſhall depart the Realm within fifteen days, upon pain of impriſonment. Alt. 1 & 2 P. & M. 4 & 5 El. 20.

CAP. XI.

It ſhall be felony to break up or cut down Powdike in Marſhland.

Wheretofore this time divers evil diſpoſed perſons of their perverſe and evil diſpoſition, malitiouſly at divers and ſundry times, have cut, caſt down, and broken up divers parts of the dike, called the new Powdike, in Marſhland, in the County of Norfolk, and the broken dike, otherwiſe called Oldfeld-dike by Marſhland, in the Iſle of Ely, in the County of Cambridge; by reaſon whereof, as well by the great abundance of the ſalt water, as alſo by the courſe of the freſh water, entring and coming in to and by the ſaid parts of the ſaid ditches ſo broken and caſt down, the ground and paſtures within the Country of Marſhland in the Counties aforeſaid, hath been divers and many times drowned, and ſurrounded with the waters aforeſaid, ſo that no profit thereof might be taken by the owners and occupiers of the ſaid ground and paſtures, within Marſhland aforeſaid. For the drowning whereof, the ſaid owners and occupiers of the ſaid ground, and the inhabitants within the ſaid Marſhland and the level of the ſame, at many and ſundry times have been not onely put to important charges, and expences, to their extreme damages and coſts, but alſo to their great undoing, have loſt much of their cattel and beaſts, then being, and paſturing upon, and within Marſhland aforeſaid, to their great damage and loſs, and to the great decay of the common weal of the Countries adjoyning to the ſame; And alſo by reaſon of the ſame waters, much people have been drowned in their beds within their houſes, and have loſt the moſt part of their goods being within the ſame.

It ſhall be felony to break up or cut down Powdike in Marſhland, or Oldfeld-dike by Marſhland.

For the reformation whereof, be it ordained, enacted, and eſtabliſhed, by the King our Sovereign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That every ſuch perverſe, and malitious cutting down, and breaking up of any part or parts of the ſaid dikes, or of any other bank, being parcel of the rind and uttermoſt part of the ſaid Countrey of Marſhland aforeſaid, made for the defence and ſalvation of the ſame Countrey of Marſhland, at every time and times from henceforth, by any perſon or perſons committed and done, otherwiſe then in working upon the ſaid banks or dikes, for the repairing, fortifying, and amending of the ſame, be taken, reputed, and adjudged felony. And that the offendors and doers of the ſame, and every of them, be adjudged and reputed felons.

Juſtices of Peace may enquire of, and determine this offence.

And that the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſaid Counties of Norfolk, and Cambridge, within the ſaid Iſle, at every of their Seſſions within the ſame Iſle, and Counties, to be kept by the authority aforeſaid, have full power to cauſe enquiry to be made of every ſuch offence ſo at any time in form aforeſaid hereafter to be committed and done, and to award like proceſs againſt every of the ſaid offendors, with like judgment and execution of the ſame (if they or any of them be thereof found guilty by verdict or otherwiſe) as the ſaid Juſtices have uſed, and accuſtomed to do upon other felonies being felony at the Common Law. St. 2 & 3 P. & M. 19.

CAP. XII.

The Juſtices of every County, dividing themſelves into ſeveral limits, ſhall give licence under their ſeals, to ſuch poor, aged, and impotent perſons to beg within a certain precinct as they ſhall think to have moſt need. And if any do beg without ſuch licence, or without his precinct, he ſhall be whipped, or elſe be ſet in the ſtocks three days and three nights with bread and water onely. And a vagabond taken begging ſhall be whipped, and then ſworn to return to the place where he was born, or laſt dwelt by the ſpace of three years, and there to put himſelf to labour. Rep. 21 Jac. 28. CAP. XIII.

What perſons ſhall not be accounted handicraftſmen.

St. 1 R. 3. 9. 14 H. 8. 2. 21 H. 8. 16.

Where divers Statutes penal heretofore have been made againſt ſtrangers artificers, for exerciſing of handicrafts within this Realm, and for keeping of houſes, apprentices, and ſervants eſtrangers, as by the ſaid ſeveral Statutes more plainly is rehearſed. Sithen the making whereof, Beer-brewers, and Bakers, which been common Vituallers, and alſo Chirurgeons and Scriveners being ſtrangers, inhabited and dwelling within this Realm, have been put to trouble, and great vexation by occaſion of informations brought againſt them upon the ſaid Statutes, ſuppoſing that ſtrangers uſing Baking, Brewing, Surgery, or Writing, ſhould be handicraftſmen: upon the which information great doubts and ambiguities have riſen, whether ſtrangers uſing any of the ſaid Myſteries, or Sciences, ſhould be underſtood ſuch handicraftſmen as were intended by any of the ſaid Statutes; For plain declaration whereof, it is enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons ſtrangers, being a common Baker, Brewer, Chirurgeon, or Scrivener, ſhall be interpreted or expounded handicraftſmen, in, for, or by reaſon of uſing any of the ſaid Myſteries or Sciences of Baking, Brewing, Surgery, or Writing: And that all informations, ſuits, actions, and proceſs had, taken, or hereafter to be taken upon any of the ſaid Statutes, againſt any ſuch ſtranger, or ſtrangers, being Bakers, Brewers, Chirurgeons, or Scriveners, ſhall be by authority of this preſent Act void and of none effect.

No ſtranger being a common Baker, Brewer, Chirurgeon, or Scrivener, ſhall be accompted a handicraftſman.

CAP. XIV.

In what manner perſons committing petty Treaſon ſhall abjure.

By how many means abjurations of offendors out of this Realm hath been prejudicial to the Realm.

The King our Sovereign Lord conſidering, that many of his ſubjects heretofore for their offences and merits, have been put to execution of death by the Laws of this Realm, and many other committing the like offences, for tuition of their lives, have fled, and reſorted to Churches, and other hallowed places within this Realm, and there being have abjured the Realm before the Kings Coroners of the ſame; divers of which men (ſo abjuring) have been known to be very expert Mariners, and many other have been ſeen to be very able and apt men for the wars, and defence of this Realm, ſo that by the one mean, and the other, the ſtrength and power of this Realm is greatly miniſhed. And divers of the ſaid perſons, which heretofore have abjured this Realm, being by reaſon of their abjurations in outward Realms and Countries, have not onely procured many men of the ſame to the exerciſe and practiſe of Archery, and have inſtructed them in the feat and knowledge thereof, to the great increaſe and fortifications of the ſame outward Realms and Countries, but alſo the ſame abjured perſons have diſcloſed their knowledges of the commodities and ſecrets of this Realm, to the no little damage and prejudice of the ſame: The Kings Highneſs therefore daily ſtudying and deviſing to provide for the ſafeguard of this his Realm, and of his ſubjects, albeit they be tranſgreſſors of his Laws, ſo that the incommodities inſuing upon ſuch abjurations to be preſerved to the beſt effect as far as ſhall pleaſe God to give them grace, Hath ordained and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon hereafter flie or reſort to any Pariſh Church, Cemitory, or other like hallowed place, for tuition of his life, by occaſion of any murder, robbery, very, or other felony by the ſame perſon committed, and thereupon confeſs any murder, felony, or other offence before the Coroner, wherefore the ſame perſon by the Laws of this Realm heretofore uſed ſhould abjure and paſs out of the ſame; The ſame perſon thereupon ſhall abjure from all his liberty of this Realm, and from his liberal and free habitations, reſorts, and paſſages to and fro the univerſal places of this Realm, which appertain to the liberty of the Kings ſubjects undefamed, and ſhall forthwith be directed by the Coroner, taking and recording ſuch abjuration, to any one Sanctuary being within this Realm, which the ſame perſon will elect and chuſe, there to remain as a Sanctuary-perſon abjured during his natural life, and to be ſworn afore the Coroner upon his abjuration ſo to do, and to be burned in the hand according to the Statute in that caſe provided. And every perſon ſo abjured ſhall be directed and conveyed to the ſame Sanctuary by him choſen, by the Conſtables and other Officers, and in every behalf ordained after the like manner and form, as he ſhould have been in caſe he ſhould have abjured this Realm for any murder or felony after the Laws of the land. And if after ſuch abjuration any perſon ſo abjured come out of the ſame Sanctuary to the which he was aſſigned, and be taken without the ſame Sanctuary, not having the Kings ſpecial pardon or licenſe ſo to do: then every ſuch perſon abjured, and after abjuration taken without Sanctuary whereunto he was aſſigned, ſhall ſuffer ſuch like pain of death, and after like manner be ordered, as he ſhould have done, and been, in caſe he had abjured this Realm for murder or felony, and after ſuch abjuration had returned again into this Realm contrary to the Laws of this land.

The oath of him which abjureth.

St. 21 H. 8. 2.

Every abjured perſon ſhall be conveyed to the Sanctuary that he doth chuſe. Rep. 1. Jac. 25. & 21 Jac. 28.

And furthermore it is enacted, That if any ſuch Sanctuary-perſon ſo abjured, or any other perſon or perſons, which now be, or is, or hereafter ſhall happen to be in any Sanctuary of this Realm, for doing any petty treaſon, murder, or felony, or for being acceſſary to any ſuch offences: or if any perſon or perſons, which at any time hereafter ſhall take any Sanctuary of this Realm, for doing any petty treaſon, murder, or felony, or for being acceſſary to any ſuch offences, or upon abjuration, and ſo being in Sanctuary, for, or upon any ſuch cauſe, matter, or offence, afterward commit or do any petty treaſon, murder, or felony within the ſame Sanctuary, or be acceſſary to any ſuch offences, or go out of the ſame Sanctuary, and commit any petty treaſon, murder, or felony, or be acceſſary to any ſuch offences, and after come again to the ſame Sanctuary, or take any other Sanctuary for the ſame, every ſuch perſon and perſons being indicted for any of the ſaid cauſes or offences, ſhall loſe the priviledge of the ſame Sanctuary by him taken, and of every other Sanctuary within this Realm for any ſuch cauſe of petty treaſon, murder, felony, or abjuration, and for any acceſſary to any ſuch offences. And that it ſhall be lawful to all and ſingular Juſtices of the Peace, and the high Sheriff of the County, or other place where the Sanctuary is, and to all and ſingular Mayors, Sheriffs, and Bailiffs of Cities and Towns Corporate, where ſuch Sanctuary is, and to every of them, and to the ſervants, miniſters, and officers, or any, or every of the ſame Juſtices of Peace, Sheriffs, Mayors, and Bailiffs, in their preſence to take out of the ſame Sanctuary or Sanctuaries, all and every ſuch Sanctuary-perſon or perſons ſo offending as is aforeſaid, and being indicted of the ſame, and to commit or put him, or them, into the Kings Gaol within the Shire or Liberty where any ſuch indictment is found againſt any ſuch perſon, ſafely to be kept till they ſhall be of the ſame petty treaſon, murder, or felony, or of the acceſſary to any ſuch offences, whereof they ſhall happen to be indicted, convicted, attainted, or diſcharged by the Law. And if any perſon or perſons, which ſhall be indicted of any petty treaſon, murder, or felony, or of any acceſſary to any ſuch offence, happen hereafter to be taken out of any Sanctuary for the ſame by authority of this Statute, and upon his or their arraignment plead Sanctuary, according to the order of the Law: then it is enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That as well the Kings Atturney, as every other perſon for the King, ſhall be admitted to object and alledge, that the perſon ſo arraigned afore the doing of the offence or offences, whereof he then is arraigned, did take priviledge of Sanctuary in the ſame Sanctuary, whereof he alledgeth him to be taken out, or in any other place priviledged within this Realm, upon any abjuration, or for any other petty treaſon, murder, or felony, then whereof he is arraigned, and that he there had and enjoyed priviledge of Sanctuary for the ſame, and that he ſo having once priviledge of Sanctuary in the ſame, did commit the offence of petty treaſon, murder, or felony, whereof he then is arraigned: or that he went out of the ſaid Sanctuary, and committed the ſame offence whereof he is indicted and arraigned, and pray that ſuch perſons ſo arraigned may be excluded of reſtitution to the Sanctuary by him demanded. And in caſe the ſaid plea and objection, ſo alledged, be denied by the perſon ſo arraigned, then it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that it ſhall be forthwith tried afore the ſame Juſtices, where ſuch perſon is ſo arraigned, and by the ſame Jurors of the ſame County, that ſhall try the petty treaſon, murder, or felony, whereof he is arraigned, without further delay, in whatſoever County or Counties, place or places of this Realm, the ſame other taking of Sanctuary ſhall be alledged or objected to be done or had. And if the plea ſo objected againſt the ſaid perſon arraigned, be tried againſt him by verdict of twelve men, or by his own confeſſion, and alſo it be found by verdict of twelve men, or by his own confeſſion, according to the order of the Law, that he is guilty of the petty treaſon, murder, felony, or of any acceſſary to any ſuch offence, whereof he is ſo arraigned, that then like judgment and execution ſhall be given and done upon every ſuch perſon as though he had been no Sanctuary-perſon, nor had claimed, or required the priviledge of the ſame. And if any ſuch perſon be lawfully acquitted of the petty treaſon, murder, or felony, whereof he ſhall be ſo indicted and arraigned, then he ſhall be reſtored to the ſame Sanctuary, out of the which he was taken, there to have the priviledge of the ſame, in like manner as he had before.

If a Sanctuary-perſon do commit any felony, he loſeth the priviledge of Sanctuary.

In what caſe an offendor may be taken out of Sanctuary and committed to the Gaol.

Trial in one County of a foreign plea pleaded in another.

Provided alway, That if any perſon being, or abiding in any Sanctuary as a Sanctuary-perſon hereafter, ſhall happen to be indicted for any manner of felony ſuppoſed to be committed

In what caſe a Sanctuary-perſon indited of felony ſuppoſed to be committed whilſt he was in Sanctuary ſhall be taken out.

mitted by him or her going out of the ſame, or any other Sanctuary, and committing the ſame felony whiles that he or ſhe ſo was a Sanctuary-perſon, he or ſhe being indited of any ſuch felony ſuppoſed to be done without the Sanctuary, ſhall not be taken out of the Sanctuary, wherein the ſame perſon ſhall then be reſident, before that he or ſhe be examined thereof by two of the Kings moſt honourable Council, or by four Juſtices of Peace of the Shire, where the Sanctuary is, wherein the perſon ſo indited is reſident. And if the ſame perſon ſo indited within four days after the firſt examination do make ſuch proof as the ſame examiners by their diſcretions ſhall think ſufficient, that the ſame perſon was in the Sanctuary at the time of the ſaid felony committed: then he or ſhe making ſuch proof ſhall be ſuffered to remain and be in the ſame Sanctuary, without any extraction from the ſame, the ſaid inditement or any thing in this Act above written notwithſtanding.

In what caſe one may have the priviledge of Sanctuary twice.

Provided alſo, That if any perſon, which was at any time a Sanctuary-perſon for any petit treaſon, murder, or felony, obtain and have the Kings pardon, and thereby, or otherwiſe, be at large and out of Sanctuary diſcharged, or purged of that offence, or cauſe, wherefore the ſame perſon took Sanctuary, and afterward do commit other petit treaſon, felony, or man-ſlaughter by chance-medly, and not murder of malice prepenſed, and thereupon again take Sanctuary for any ſuch petit treaſon, felony, or man-ſlaughter by chance-medley: the ſame perſon ſhall have and enjoy the priviledge of Sanctuary for that his or her other offence of petit treaſon, felony, or man-ſlaughter by chance-medley, as the ſame perſon might have had before the making of this Act, any thing in the ſame Act contained notwithſtanding.

Trial of Foreign pleas. St. 34 H. 8. 3.

And over this, for more ſpeedy trials of murders and felonies, be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all manner of foreign pleas triable by the Countrey, hereafter to be pleaded by any perſon or perſons arraigned upon any indictment for any petit treaſon, murder, or felony, ſhall be forthwith tried before the ſame Juſtices afore whom ſuch perſon ſhall be arraigned, and by the ſame Jurors of the ſame County that ſhall try the petit treaſon, murder, or felony, whereof he ſhall be ſo arraigned without any further reſpit or delay, in whatſoever County or Counties, place or places of this Realm, the matter of the ſame pleas be ſuppoſed or alledged.

And that no perſon arraigned for any petit treaſon, murder, or felony, be from henceforth admitted to any peremptory challenge above the number of xx. This Act to endure to the end of the next Parliament.

Bro. chaleng 217.

No perſon arraigned may challenge above xx. St. 32 H 8. made perpetual.

Provided always, That no perſon or perſons be hereafter excluded, or in any wiſe hurted, to have and enjoy any priviledge of Sanctuary for any offence or offences, being of any higher nature in the Law then the offences and cauſes ſpecified in this Act be: but that every perſon and perſons for ſuch offences of higher nature may have and enjoy priviledge of Sanctuary, in as free and liberal manner, and after ſuch form, as they might have done by the Laws and Cuſtoms of the Realm afore the making of this Act, any thing in this Act to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding. 28 H. 8. 1. continued, and 32 H. 8. 3. made perpetual: But ſo much of this Statute as concerneth abjured perſons and Sanctuaries, or ordering or governing of perſons abjured, and in Sanctuary, is repealed. 1 Jac. 25. & 21 Jac. 28.

CAP. XV.

The Kings general Pardon to his Spiritual ſubjects, of all offences committed againſt the Statutes of Proviſors, Proviſions, and Premunire, and all other penalties, forfeitures, pains, Except treaſon, murder, robbery, &c. Exp.

CAP. XVI.

The Kings Pardon to his Temporal ſubjects, of all offences committed againſt the Statute of Proviſors, Proviſions, and Premunire. Exp.

Anno viceſimo tertio Henrici Octavi.

THe King our Sovereign Lord Henry the Eight, by the Grace of God, King of England and of France, defender of the faith, and Lord of Ireland, at the Seſſion of his high Court of Parliament, after divers prorogations, holden at Weſtminſter, the fifteenth day of January, in the xxiij. year of his noble Reign, to the honour of Almighty God, and holy Church, and for the common weal and profit of this his Realm, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted certain good Statutes, Laws, and Ordinances, in manner and form following.

CAP. I.

Clergy not allowed to any perſon under a Sub-deacon committing petit Treaſon.

St. 3 Ed. 1. 28.

WHere at a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the third year of King Edward the firſt, the ſame King moved the Prelates of the Realm, and them enjoyned upon their faith that they owed to him, that in no wiſe they ſhould deliver thoſe Clerks which were indicted for felony, without due purgation, ſo that the ſaid King ſhould have no need to put other remedy in that behalf. And that notwithſtanding, after that monition, divers and many Clerks convict were accuſtomally delivered and ſuffered to make their purgation, to the great courage of evil doers.

St. 4 H. 4. 3.

By occaſion whereof, afterward at another Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the fourth year of King Henry the Fourth, upon the complaint of the Commons, the ſame King Henry the Fourth then advertiſed the Prelates of the Realm of the premiſſes, intending then to have provided remedy, by authority of the ſaid Parliament, as appertained to his Prerogative Royal, for ỹ conſervation of the peace of the Crown: At which time the Archbiſhop biſhop of Canterbury, for himſelf and all other Biſhops of his Province, then openly promiſed to the ſame King Henry the iv. that if any perſon from thenceforth were convict of any treaſon, which touched not the King nor his Royal Majeſty, and ſuch as were notoriouſly known and reputed for thieves, and for ſuch cauſe delivered to any Ordinary as a Clerk convict, that the Ordinary to whom ſuch perſon or perſons were delivered, ſhould ſafely keep them after the effect of a conſtitution provincial to be made by the ſaid Archbiſhop and Biſhops after the effect of the Letters of Simon, then afore that time Archbiſhop of Canterbury, bearing date the xij. Calends of March, the year of our Lord God, M. CCC. L. and that no ſuch traitor, nor felon, ſhould make his purgation againſt the ſaid conſtitution, which conſtitution the ſaid Archbiſhop then promiſed to deliver to the ſame King before his next Parliament, to the intent that if it ſhould ſeem to the ſaid King that the ſame conſtitution were not ſufficient remedy for the premiſſes, that then the ſaid King might provide ſuch remedy as ſhould appertain in that behalf. Sithen which time the ſame conſtitution was never notified ne ſhewed by the Prelates of this Realm, but continually ſithen that time, manifeſt theeves and murderers indited, and found guilty of their miſdeeds, by good and ſubſtantial Inqueſts, upon plain and proveable evidence before the Kings Juſtices, and afterwards by the uſages of the Common Laws of the Land delivered to the Ordinaries as Clerks convict, be ſpeedily and haſtily delivered and ſet at large by the miniſters of the ſaid Ordinaries for corruption and lucre; or elſe becauſe the Ordinaries claiming ſuch offendors by the liberties of the Church, will in no wiſe take the charges in ſafe keeping of them, but little regarding the trial and conviction of the ſaid offenders by the due and plain courſe of the Common Laws of the Land, do ſuffer them to make their purgations by ſuch as nothing know of their miſdeeds: and by ſuch fraud, adnul and make void all the good and proveable trial that is uſed againſt ſuch offenders by the Kings Laws, to the great ſlander of ſuch as purſue ſuch miſdoers, and to the pernicious example, increaſe, and courage of ſuch offendors, if the Kings Highneſs by his authority Royal put not ſpeedy remedy in the premiſſes, as appertaineth.

The promiſe of the Clergy to the King for the ſafe keeping of notorious offenders convict without purgation.

The Ordinaries abuſe in ſuffering notorious felons to make purgation.

Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That no perſon nor perſons, which hereafter ſhall happen to be found guilty after the Laws of this land for any matter of petit treaſon, or for any wilful murder of malice prepenſed, or for robbing any Churches, Chappels, or other holy places, or for robbing any perſon or perſons, in their dwelling houſes, or dwelling place, the owner or dweller of the ſame houſe, his wife, his children, or ſervants then being within, and put in fear and dread by the ſame, or for robbing of any perſon or perſons in or near the high ways, or for wilful burning of any dwelling houſes or barns, wherein any grain, or corn, ſhall happen to be, nor any perſon or perſons being found guilty of any abetment, procurement, helping, maintaining, or counſelling of, or to any ſuch petit treaſons, murders, or felonies, ſhall from henceforth be admitted to the benefit of his or their Clergy, but utterly to be excluded thereof, and ſuffer death in ſuch manner and form as they ſhould have done for any the cauſes or offences abovesaid, if they were no Clerks; Such as be within holy Orders, that is to ſay, of the Orders of Subdeacon, or above, onely except.

Dyer f. 224. Cok.l.11.f.29.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That every ſuch perſon or perſons within ſuch Orders of Subdeacon or above, which at any time hereafter be found guilty of any petit treaſon, or of any murder or malice prepenſed, or of any of the felonies above rehearſed, or of an acceſſary to petit treaſon, wilful murder, or to any other the felonies above ſpecified, and admitted to his or their Clergy, and delivered to the Ordinary for the ſame, ſhall not in any wiſe from henceforth be ſuffered to any purgation, nor be ſet at liberty, but remain and abide in perpetual priſon under the keeping of the Ordinary, to whom he ſhall be committed, and his ſucceſſors, without any manner purgation during the natural life of every ſuch convict, except onely ſuch perſon or perſons ſo being within ſuch holy Orders, and convict of, or for any of the offences aforeſaid, and delivered to the Ordinary for the ſame, do find two ſufficient ſureties by recogniſance before two of the Kings Juſtices of his Peace within the ſame Shire where the petit treaſon, murder, or felony, whereof he was convicted, was committed and done, whereof one of them to be of the Quorum, that ſuch convict ſhall be of good abearing againſt the King our Sovereign Lord, his laws and ſubjects, every ſuch convict to be bound in the ſum of xl. li. and every his ſureties in xx. li. And that no ſurety be taken, unleſs ſuch as may diſpend in lands, tenements, or hereditaments yearly above all charges of eſtate of inheritance of charterhold, xxvj.s.viij.d. or elſe be worth xx. li. in moveable ſubſtance at the time of the taking of ſuch recogniſance. And that two Juſtices of Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum, by authority aforeſaid, have power & authority to take ſuch recogniſance. And that the ſaid Juſtices, afore whom any ſuch recogniſance ſhall be taken, ſhall certifie the ſame into the Kings Bench within four moneths next after the taking thereof, upon pain to loſe and forfeit C. s. for every default thereof.

None within holy Orders convict of murder, &c. ſhall make purgation, unleſs he become bound with ſureties for his good abearing. St. 26 H. 8. 10.

CAP. II.

Where and after what manner Gaôls ſhall be made.

The neceſſity of common Gaols, and the places where they ſhall be builded. Vide 5 El. 24. Exp. 13 El. 25. Co. Inſt. 2 p. 705.

For as much as it is neceſſary, and commendable, that common Gaols and Priſons, whereunto evil doers ſhall be committed for their offences, ſhould be ſurely and ſubſtantially edified, in ſuch Towns in every Shire within this Realm, as ſhall be moſt indifferent for conveyance of priſoners from every part of the Shire wherein ſuch Gaols ſhall be, and in eſpecial in thoſe Towns, where moſt commonly the Aſſiſes and Seſſions been uſually kept, and where there is moſt reſort and repair of people, to the intent that by the mean thereof fewer ſhall eſcape, and alſo the rather and oftner relief and charity of the people ſhall be to the priſoners miniſtred: It may therefore pleaſe the Kings Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, to enact that the Juſtices of Peace of every of the Shires of Eſſex, Suffolk, Dorſ. Suſſex, Surrey, Notingham, Glouc. Bedford, Buck. Huntingdon. Wiltſ. Kent, Warwick, Stafford, Oxon. Barkſ. Leiceſter, Rutl. Lincoln, Hereford, North. Salop. Norf. and Cornwal, or the moſt part of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace in every of the ſaid Shires within the limits of their Commiſſion, ſhall have full power and authority to limit and appoint at any time within the term of one year from the end of this preſent Parliament, the Towns and places wherein they ſhall think moſt neceſſary to have a common Gaol newly edified and made. And that alſo the ſaid Juſtices of Peace in every of the ſaid Shires, or the moſt part of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace within the limits of their Commiſſion, ſhall have full power and authority to call before them at times and places by them to be appointed, all the High Conſtables, Tythingmen, or Boroughholders of every Hundred, Lath, or Wapentake in the Shire whereof they be Juſtices, and in their preſence, and by their aſſents and agreements, or in the preſence, and by the aſſent of the moſt part of them ſhall conclude and agree upon ſuch convenient and certain ſums of mony, as ſhall be thought by their diſcretions, and by examination of workmen to ſuffice, for the making and perfect finiſhing of a new Gaol in the Shire whereof they be Juſtices of Peace, and thereupon ſhall forthwith by their aſſents, agreements, and diſcretions, tax and ſet every ſuch perſon and perſons, as then ſhall be reſiant in the ſame Shire, as well within liberties as without, having lands, tenements, rents, or annuities of eſtate or inheritance, or for term of life, to the clear yearly value of xl. s. or above, or being worth in moveable ſubſtance the clear value of xx. li. or above, to ſuch reaſonable aid and ſums of money as ſhall be thought convenient by their diſcretions, to, and for the full building, making, and furniſhing of the ſaid common Gaol of the Shire, where ſuch aſſeſſment ſhall be made. And after ſuch taxations, to name and appoint ſuch number of Collectors for the levying thereof, as ſhall ſeem beſt by their diſcretions. And that the ſaid Collectors, and every of them, ſhall have power and authority to diſtrein every ſuch perſon as ſhall be ſet or taxed by the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, as is aforeſaid, in their lands or goods, as well within liberties as without, and to ſell the diſtreſſes by them taken, by the appraiſment of four honeſt perſons for the paiment of the ſaid ſums to be taxed, if the perſon or perſons taxed refuſe to pay the ſame within ten days next after ſuch diſtreſs taken, taking upon every ſuch ſale but onely the money taxed, with reaſonable coſts for taking of the diſtreſs, and the overplus of ſuch ſales to be delivered to the owner of the ſaid diſtreſs.

The Juſtices ſhall tax the inhabitants of the County for and towards the building of the Gaol.

Collectors for the gathering of the money taxed, and their authority.

The Juſtices ſhall appoint two Surveyors to ſee the Gaol builded.

And that alſo the ſaid Juſtices of Peace in every of the ſaid Shires, or the moſt part of them, within the limits of their Commiſſion, ſhall have power and authority to name and appoint two honeſt perſons inhabited in the ſaid Shire wherein they be Juſtices, which two perſons ſhall ſurvey, ſee, and provide, that the ſaid Gaols ſhall be ſurely and ſubſtantially made, and finiſhed; to whoſe hands the ſaid Collectors ſhall pay, and deliver the money by them collected of the Kings ſubjects, by the appointment and aſſignment of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or ſix of them at the leaſt. And that as well every of the ſaid Collectors, as every of the ſaid two perſons to be named, their heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, ſhall declare a true and a juſt accompt to the ſaid Juſtices of Peace in every of the ſaid Shires, or to ſix of them at the leaſt from time to time when they ſhall be required. And in caſe any of them refuſe to make accompt, or refuſe to pay and imploy ſuch ſums of money as ſhall come to their hands, in ſuch wiſe as ſhall be limited and appointed by the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or ſix of them, (as is aforeſaid) that then the ſame Juſtices of Peace, or ſix of them in every Shire, where ſuch Gaols ſhall be new made, ſhall have full power and authority, if the ſaid offendors be preſent, to commit them to ward; and if they be abſent, to make attachments under their ſeals by their diſcretions againſt every ſuch Collector and perſon, to whoſe hands any of the ſaid ſums of money taxed ſhall happen to come, their heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, and every of them, into every Shire and part of this Realm, as well within liberty as without, to

to be returnable afore the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, at ſuch day and place as by them ſhall be appointed, and to be directed to the Sheriff or Sheriffs of the Shire, wherein the party or parties, againſt whom ſuch attachment ſhall be directed, ſhall be reſident and abiding, if it be within the Bayliwick of the Sheriff, and if it be without, then to be directed to the Bailiff of the liberty, wherein ſuch parties ſhall abide. And that every Sheriff and Bailiff of liberty, to whoſe hands ſuch attachments ſhall come, without favour or corruption ſhall attach the ſaid offendors, and perſonally bring them before the ſaid Juſtices according to the tenour of the attachment to them directed, or elſe declare by his return of the ſaid attachment ſome reaſonable cauſe why he cannot ſo do, upon pain for every default by them or any of them committed contrary to this Act, to loſe and forfeit C. s. to the King our Sovereign Lord: and upon the appearance of every ſuch perſon ſo attached, the ſaid Juſtices or ſix of them ſhall have full power and authority to commit them to priſon, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, till they have truly accompted, and paid all ſuch ſums of money as came to their hands by the aſſignment of the ſaid Juſtices by authority of this Act. And in caſe there happen to remain any overplus of money after the Gaols fully and wholly finiſhed, then it is ordered, that the ſome overplus ſhall be imployed and beſtowed in alms to the priſoners to be committed to the ſaid Gaol by the diſcretions of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace; or the more part of them, as long as it will laſt.

How the overplus ſhall be beſtowed, the Gaol being finiſhed.

Provided alway, that this Act extend not to charge any perſons inhabited within any Cities, Towns, or Boroughs corporate, which have common Gaols for felons taken in the ſame, and have Juſtices of Peace for deliverance of ſuch felons, for any taxes, or lots to the making of the ſaid common Gaols of any the Shires above named, but that every ſuch inhabitant in any ſuch City, Town, or Borough corporate, ſhall be utterly diſcharged thereof.

Corporate Towns which have Gaols within themſelves.

And be it further enacted, that ſeveral Commiſſions under the Kings great Seal, with this preſent Act thereto affiled, ſhall be directed to the Juſtices of Peace of the Shires afore named, authoriſing them to accompliſh and execute this preſent Act according to the tenour thereof in every behalf. And that the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, in every of the Shires afore named, have power and authority to limit to every of the ſaid Collectors, and perſons by them to be named, that ſhall take pains for levying of the money taxed, or for the ſurveying of the making of the ſaid Gaols, ſuch reaſonable ſums for their pains and labours for the collection of the ſaid money, and ſurveying the making of the ſaid Gaols.

The Collectors and Surveyors allowance for their pains.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that all murderers and felons ſhall be impriſoned in the ſaid common Gaols, and not elſewhere. And that the Sheriffs ſhall have the keeping and charge of the ſame new Gaols: and that every Sheriff be allowed upon his accompt in the Eſchequer, for all and every ſuch ſums of money as he ſhall hereafter happen to expend in and about the neceſſary reparations and amendments of the ſaid Gaols, after they be once made from time to time as often as need ſhall require: and that the Barons of the Kings Eſchequer have power to allow every Sheriff in every ſuch caſe by their diſcretions, without any bill or warrant to be ſhewed from the Kings Highneſs in that behalf.

Felons ſhall be impriſoned in the ſaid common Gaols. Sheriffs ſhall have the keeping of the Gaols, and allowance for the repair of them.

Provided always, that this Act be not in any wiſe hurtful or prejudicial to any perſon or perſons, having any common Gaols by inheritance, for term of life, or for years, but that they ſhall have and enjoy their ſaid Gaols, and the profits, fees, and commodities of the ſame, as they had or might lawfully have had before the making of this Act, and as if this Act had never been had, ne made.

A proviſo for them which have any eſtate in Gaols.

Be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, that like proviſion in every behalf be had for a new Gaol to be made within the County of Derby, in like form as is provided for other Shires aforeſaid. Exp. St. 1 M. 14. 5 El. 24. 13 El. 25.

CAP. III.

How perjury and untrue verdicts ſhall be puniſhed.

The King our Sovereign Lord of his moſt godly and gracious diſpoſition, calling to his remembrance, how that perjury in this Land is in manifold cauſes by unreaſonable means deteſtably uſed, to the diſheritance, and great damage of many, and great number of his ſubjects, well diſpoſed, and to the moſt high diſpleaſure of Almighty God: The good Statutes againſt all Officers having return of Writs, & their deputies making panels partially for rewards to them given, againſt unlawful Maintainors, Embraceors, and Jurors, and againſt Jurors untruly giving their verdict notwithſtanding: For reformation whereof, and foraſmuch as the late noble King Henry the Seventh, provided remedy for the ſame by a Statute made in the eleventh year of his Reign, which Statute is now expired:

Be it therefore now enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That upon every untrue verdict hereafter given betwixt party and party, in any ſuit, plaint, or demand, before any Juſtices and Judges of Record, where the thing in demand, and verdict thereupon given, extendeth to the value of xl. li. and concerneth not the jeopardy of mans life, the party grieved by the ſame verdict ſhall have a writ of attaint againſt every perſon hereafter ſo giving an untrue verdict, and every of them, and againſt the party which ſhall have judgment upon the ſame verdict. And that in the ſame attaint, there ſhall be awarded againſt the petit Jury, the party, and the grand Jury, Somons, Reſom, and diſtreſs infinite, which grand Jury ſhall be of like number as the grand Jury is now in attaint, and every of them, that ſhall paſs in the ſame, ſhall have lands and tenements to the value of twenty marks by the year of freehold, out of the ancient demean. And upon the diſtreſs which ſhall be delivered of Record upon the ſame, open

CAP. IV.

No Brewer ſhall be a Cooper, &c.

Where the Ale-brewers and Beer-brewers of this Realm of England have uſed, and daily do uſe for their own ſingular lucre, profit and gain, to make in their own houſes their barrels, kilderkins, and firkins, of much leſs quantity, content, rate, and aſſiſe, than they ought to be, to the great hurt, prejudice, and damage of the Kings liege people, and contrary to divers Acts, Statutes, ancient laws and cuſtoms heretofore made, had, and uſed, and to the deſtruction of the poor craft or myſtery of Coopers: For reformation whereof, be it enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That no Beer-brewer, nor Ale-brewer, that ſhall brew to ſale beer or ale, ſhall from henceforth occupy by himſelf, nor by any other to his uſe, in his houſe, nor elſewhere, the myſtery or craft of Coopers, nor make any barrels, kilderkins, firkins, or other veſſels by himſelf, nor by his or their own ſervants, whereby they ſhall put their beer or ale to ſale: but that all ſuch barrels, kilderkins, and other veſſels of wood, wherewith they ſhall put their beer or ale to ſale, ſhall from henceforth be made and marked according as hereafter ſhall be expreſſed by the common artificers of Coopers, exerciſed and practiſed in the ſaid occupation, upon pain to forfeit and pay for every ſuch barrel, kilderkin, firkin, or other veſſel, hereafter to be made contrary to the tenor of this Act, three ſhillings four pence.

No brewer of ale or beer to ſell, ſhall uſe the myſtery of a cooper, nor make any barrels, &c.

And be it alſo enacted, That every artificer of the craft or myſtery of Coopers, that will exerciſe or practiſe to make any of the ſaid veſſels for beer or ale to be put to ſale, ſhall make the ſame veſſels, and every of them, of good and ſeaſonable wood, and put his proper mark upon every of them: And that every barrel for beer ſhall contain xxxvi. gallons, every kilderkin for beer xviii. gallons, and every firkin for beer nine gallons of the Kings ſtandard gallon. And that every barrel of ale ſhall contain xxxii. gallons, every kilderkin for ale xvi. gallons, and every firkin for ale viii. gallons of the Kings ſtandard gallon. So that they ſhall be of good and juſt meaſure, or elſe above, and not under. And that no Cooper ſhall make any other veſſel for beer or ale, to be ſold within this Realm, of any greater or leſſer number of gallons then is aboveſaid, unleſs he ſhall cauſe to be marked upon every ſuch veſſel that he ſhall ſo make of greater or leſſer number of gallons, the true and certain number of as many gallons as every ſuch other veſſel ſhall contain, to the intent that every perſon may know the content thereof.

Veſſels for ale and beer ſhall be made of ſeaſonable wood, and marked.
The contents of barrels, kilderkins, &c.

And that no ſuch artificer of Coopers ſhall inhance the prices of any ſuch barrels, kilderkins, firkins, or other veſſels, in the ſale of them to any ale-brewer, or beer-brewer, or other perſon, but keep the rates of ſuch prices as hereafter enſueth, and not above, upon pain to forfeit for every barrel, kilderkin, and firkin defective, or inhanced in price, in any point contrary to this Act, iii. s. iv. d. That is to ſay, for every beer-barrel nine pence, for every beer-kilderkin v. d. and for every beer-firkin iii. d. and the ale-barrel xvi. d. and the ale-kilderkin ix. d. and the ale-firkin v. d.

Prices of barrels, kilderkins, firkins. Rep. 8 El. 9. 35 H. 8. 8.

And be it further enacted by the ſaid authority, That no beer-brewer, nor ale-brewer, at any time after the Feaſt of Lammas now next coming, ſhall put their beer or ale to ſale to any perſon or perſons, to be ſpent, and occupied within this Realm, in any other barrels, kilderkins, firkins, or other veſſels of wood, other then ſhall be made and marked by an artificer of Coopers aboveſaid, whereof every barrel for beer ſhall contain and hold thirty ſix gallons, every half barrel or kilderkin xviii. gallons, and every firkin ix. gallons: and every barrel for ale ſhall contain xxii. gallons, every kilderkin xvi. gallons, and every firkin viii. gallons of full and juſt meaſure or above, and not under that meaſure.

Veſſels of ale and beer to be marked by a cooper.

And that every beer-brewer and ale-brewer ſhall not take over and above for every ſuch barrel, kilderkin, or firkin of ale and beer, but after ſuch prices and rates as ſhall be thought convenient and ſufficient by diſcretions of the Juſtices of peace within every Shire where ſuch beer-brewer and ale-brewer ſhall dwell, without any City, Borough, or Town-corporate, where no head-officers, as Mayors, Bailiffs, Sheriffs, and other head-officers have none authority or rule: And in every City, Borough, and Town, where there be Majors, Sheriffs, or other head-officers, the ſame rates and prices to be named and ceſſed by them, and every of them, by their diſcretions. And that the ſaid ale-brewers or beer-brewers at any time hereafter ſhall not ſell their beer nor ale at any higher rates or prices, then ſhall be to them aſſigned after the form above rehearſed, upon pain to loſe and forfeit for every barrel ſo put to ſale contrary to this eſtatute, vi. s. for every half barrel, or kilderkin, iii. s. iv. d. and for every firkin ii. s. and for every veſſel containing greater number of gallons x. s. and for every veſſel containing leſſer number of gallons, xii. d. Be it alſo further enacted by the ſaid authority, that all manner of Sope-makers within this Realm of England, which ſhall put to ſale any ſope by barrel, half barrel, firkin, or other veſſel, ſhall from Lammas now next coming, make, or cauſe to be made their barrels, half barrels, firkins, and other veſſels, according to the rates, contents, weights and aſſiſes of old time uſed and accuſtomed, that is to ſay, every empty barrel to hold and contain xxxii. gallons or above, and to be in weight xxvi. pounds and not above, of full and juſt meaſure, and every half barrel empty to be in weight xiii. pound and not above, and to hold and contain xvi. gallons or above: and every firkin empty to weigh vi. pounds and an half, and not above, and to hold and contain viii. gallons or above, upon pain of forfeiture for every ſuch barrel, half barrel, firkin, or other veſſel hereafter to be made, had, or uſed contrary to this Act, iii. ſhillings three pence.

The content and weight of Sope barrels.

Wardens of Coopers ſhall ſearch in London.

And alſo be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that the Wardens of the occupation, or myſtery of Coopers within the City of London, from henceforth at all times hereafter, when they ſhall think convenient and expedient, taking with them an Officer of the Mayors, ſhall have full power and authority by vertue of this Act, to ſearch, view, and gage all manner of ſuch barrels, kilderkins, firkins, and other veſſels to be made or occupied, for ale, beer, and ſope, to be put to ſale within the City of London, and ſuburbs of the ſame, and within two miles compaſs without the ſame ſuburbs, to view and ſee that the ſame barrels, kilderkins, firkins, and other veſſels; as well within Liberties as without, be made and marked well and ſufficiently, and bear and contain their true contents, rates and meaſures, according to the effect of this Eſtatute: And alſo to mark every ſuch barrel, kilderkin, firkin, and other veſſel by them ſo viewed and gaged, bearing and containing their true contents, with the ſign and token of Saint Authonies Croſs. The ſame Wardens to have for the ſearch and gaging of every ſuch barrel, kilderkin, firkin, and other veſſel by them ſo ſearched, viewed, gaged, and marked, one farthing, and not above, of the owners, or makers of the ſaid veſſels: And ſhall and may have authority by vertue of this Act, to retain every ſuch veſſel as they ſhall ſo gage, ſearch, and mark, until ſuch time as they ſhall be ſatisfied thereof: And in caſe they ſhall find any of the ſaid veſſels defective, not bearing their true contents, that then by authority of this Act they may ſeiſe, take, and retain every ſuch veſſel, and cauſe the ſame to be marked or amended according to the true content, or elſe cauſe the ſame to be burned.

And alſo the party, owner of ſuch veſſel, to loſe and forfeit for every ſuch veſſel not being of the full contents after the rate above expreſſed, xii. pence, to be recovered and imployed, as is aboveſaid.

Search of Coopers in other Cities, Boroughs, or Towns.

And be it further enacted by the ſaid authority, That in all other Cities, Boroughs, and Towns, wherein no ſuch Wardens of Coopers be, that the Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, Conſtables, or other head Officers in ſuch Cities, Boroughs, and Towns, ſhall have power and authority to ſearch, view, and gage all ſuch barrels, kilderkins, firkins, and other veſſels to be made hereafter in any ſuch City, Borough, or Town, and to have and take all ſuch advantage thereby, and in like manner and form, as the Wardens of Coopers within the City of London, or other perſons by this Act ſhould or may have or take on every behalf.

A Beer-brewer may keep a Cooper to hoop and amend his barrels.

Provided always, That every Beer-brewer may keep in his houſe one or two ſervants of the myſtery or craft of Coopers, to hoop and amend his barrels, kilderkins, firkins, and other veſſels, wherein they ſhall put their beer to ſale from time to time, this Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The penalty for veſſels diminiſhed.

And be it further enacted by the ſaid authority, That if any perſon at any time after the ſaid Feaſt of Lammas next coming, do miniſh or cauſe to be miniſhed, any manner of barrel, kilderkin, or firkin, to the deceit of any of the Kings ſubjects, by reaſon of taking out the head of any ſuch veſſel, or taking out of any ſtaff, out, or from any ſuch veſſel, that then every ſuch veſſel to be burnt, and the offender to forfeit for every ſuch offence iii. s. iv. pence, the one moity thereof to be to the King our Soverign Lord, and the other moity there of to him or them of the Kings ſubjects that will ſue for the ſame, to be recovered in manner and form above rehearſed. And the party ſo offending to be further puniſhed by the diſcretion of the Head-Officer or Officers before whom ſuch default ſhall be preſented.

An ale-brewer may keep a Cooper.

It is enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that notwithſtanding any thing contained in this Act of Brewers and Coopers, whereunto this ſchedule is annexed, it ſhall be lawful to every Ale-brewer mentioned in the ſame Act, to have and retain in his ſervice one perſon of the myſtery or craft of Coopers, to exerciſe in his ſervice the craft of a Cooper only in binding, hooping and pinning his Maſters ale-veſſels, recited by the ſaid Act, and in none otherwiſe to uſe or exerciſe any making of veſſels concerning the craft or myſtery of a Cooper, whiles that he is in the ſervice of any ale-brewer.

Every Cooper ſhall mark his veſſel with his own mark.
St. 51 H. 3.

Alſo it is ſnacted, That every Cooper which hereafter ſhall make any ale-veſſel ſpecified in the ſaid Act, ſhall from the Feaſt of Pentecoſt next coming, make every ſuch veſſel according to the aſſiſe ſpecified in the Treatiſe called Compoſitio menſurarum, that is to ſay, every barrel for ale contain xxxii. gallons of the ſaid aſſiſe or above, of the which viii. gallons make the common buſhel to be uſed in this Realm of England, every kilderkin for ale xvi. gallons of the ſaid aſſiſe or above, and every firkin viii. gallons of aſſiſe or above, upon pain of forfeiture of iii. s. iv. d. for every of the ſame veſſels by him untruly made contrary to this Act: the one half of the ſame forfeiture to be to the King, and the other to him that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint, writ, or otherwiſe; In which action no eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

And be it alſo enacted, That every Cooper mark his veſſel with his own mark, upon pain of iii.s. iv.d. to be levied and recovered after like manner and form as is abovesaid: And that no manner of perſon in the ſearch-making for the true gaging of any veſſels, ſhall put out the ale of any ſuch veſſel, whereby the ſame ale ſhall be the worſe. And that it ſhall be lawful to every ale-brewer to bring, carry, and cauſe to be brought, and carried, their ale to the houſholds of our Soveraign Lord the King, the Queen, the Princes; and to every Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Dukes, Marqueſſes, Earls, Barons, or other honourable mens houſes, in Tuns, Buts, Pipes, Hogſheads, or other veſſels of greater or larger quantity then is expreſſed in this preſent Act, as beforetime hath been uſed in that behalf: And alſo it ſhall be lawful to the ſaid ale-brewers to bring, carry, or cauſe to be brought, conveyed, or carried their ale to every mans houſe in barrels, kilderkins, and firkins, bearing and holding their true contents according to the purport and effect of this preſent Act, any thing contained in the ſame Act to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding. St. 31 El. 8.

CAP. V.

How far the Commiſſion of Sewers ſhall extend.

Co. Inſt. 4. p. 275.

OUr Soveraign Lord the King, like a vertuous and moſt gracious Prince, nothing earthly ſo highly weighing, as the advancing of the common profit, wealth, and commodity of this his Realm, conſidering the daily great damages and loſſes which have hapned in many and divers parts of this his ſaid Realm, as well by the reaſon of the outragious flowing, ſurges, and courſe of the ſea, in and upon Marſh grounds, and other low places heretofore through politick wiſdom won and made profitable for the great common wealth of this Realm, as alſo by occaſion of land-waters, and other outragious ſprings, in and upon meadows, paſtures, and other low grounds adjoyning to rivers, floods, and other water-courſes: And over that by and through mills, mill-dams, wears, fiſhgarths, kedels, gores, gotes, floodgates, locks, and other impediments, in and upon the ſame rivers and other water-courſes, to the ineſtimable damages of the common wealth of this Realm, which daily is likely more and more to increaſe, unleſs ſpeedy redreſs and remedy be in this behalf ſhortly provided: wherein albeit that divers and many proviſions have been before this time made and ordained, yet none of them are ſufficient remedy for reformation of the premiſes, hath heretofore by deliberate advice, aſſent of his Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and alſo his loving Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted, That Commiſſions of Sewers, and other premiſes, ſhall be directed in all parts within this Realm from time to time, where and when need ſhall require, according to the manner, form, tenour, and effect hereafter enſuing, to ſuch ſubſtantial and indifferent perſons as ſhall be named by the Lord Chancellor, and Lord Treaſurer of England, and the two chief Juſtices for the time being, or by three of them, whereof the Lord Chancellor to be one.

The form of the Commiſſion of Sewers

Henry the eighth, &c. Know ye, That foraſmuch as the walls, ditches, banks, gutters, Sewers, gotes, calcies, bridges, ſtreams, and other defences by the coaſts of the ſea, and marſh ground, being and lying within the limits of A. B. or C. in the County or Counties of   or in the borders or confines of the ſame, by rage of the ſea, flowing and reflowing, and by mean of the trenches of freſh waters, deſcending and having courſe by divers ways to the ſea, be ſo dirupt, lacerate and broken: And alſo the common paſſages of ſhips, balengers, and boats, in the rivers, ſtreams, and other floods, within the limits of A. B. or C. in the County or Counties of   or in the borders or confines of the ſame, by mean of ſetting up, erecting and making of ſtreams, mills, bridges, ponds, fiſh-garths, mill-dams, locks, hebbing-wears, hecks, floodgates, or other like ſets, impediments, or annoyances, be letted, or interrupted, ſo that great and ineſtimable damage for default of reparation of the ſaid walls, ditches, banks, fences, ſewers, gotes, gutters, calcies, bridges and ſtreams; and alſo by mean of ſetting up, erecting, making, and enlarging of the ſaid fiſhgarths, mill-dams, locks, hebbing-wears, hecks, flood-gates, and other like annoyances in times paſt hath hapned, and yet is to be feared, that far greater hurt, loſs and damage is like to enſue, unleſs that ſpeedy remedy be provided in ÿ behalf.

The ſeveral cauſes of awarding the Commiſſion of Sewers.

We therefore, for that by reaſon of our dignity, and prerogative royal, we be bound to provide for the ſafety and preſervation of our Realm of England, willing that ſpeedy remedy be had in the premiſes, have aſſigned you, and ſix of you, of the which we will that A. B. and C. ſhall be three, to be our Juſtices, to ſurvey the ſaid walls, ſtreams, ditches, banks, gutters, ſewers, gotes, calcies, bridges, trenches, mills, mill-dams, floudgates, ponds, locks, hebbing-wears, and other impediments, lets and annoyances aforeſaid, and the ſame cauſe to be made, corrected, repaired, amended, put down or reformed, as caſe ſhall require, after your wiſdoms and diſcretions. And therein as well to ordain and do, after the form, tenour, and effect of all and ſingular the Statutes and Ordinances made before the firſt day of March, in the three and twentieth year of our Reign, touching the premiſes, or any of them, as alſo to enquire by the oaths of the honeſt and lawful men of the ſaid Shire or Shires, place or places, where ſuch defaults or annoyances be, as well within the liberties as without (by whom the truth may the rather be known) through whoſe default the ſaid hurts and damages have hapned, and who hath, or holdeth any lands or tenements, or common of paſture, or profit of fiſhing, or hath or may have any hurt, loſs, or diſadvantage by any manner of means in the ſaid places, as well near to the ſaid dangers, lets and impediments, as inhabiting or dwelling thereabouts, by the ſaid walls, ditches, banks, gutters, gotes, ſewers, trenches, and other the ſaid impediments, and annoyances; And all thoſe perſons, and every of them, to tax, aſſeſs, charge, diſtrain and puniſh as well within ÿ metes, limits & bounds of old time accuſtomed, or otherwiſe, or elſewhere within our realm of England, after the quantity of their lands, tenements, and rents, by the number of acres and perches, after the rate of every perſons portion, tenure, or profit, or after the quantity Inquiry by whoſe defaults the annoyances come.

Aſſeſſing the perſon to be contributory to the charge.

Appointing of Bailiffs, Collectors, Surveyors, and other inferior officers.

Diſtraining for the arrearages of the money aſſeſſed.

Taking of Labourers, workmen, and carriages, timber, and other neceſſaries.

To make Statutes and Ordinances.

Awarding of writs and precepts of Sheriffs, Bailiffs, and others.

To compel others to obey their orders.

of their common of paſture, or profit of fiſhing, or other commodities there, by ſuch ways and means, and in ſuch manner and form, as you, or ſix of you, whereof A. B. & C. to be three, ſhall ſeem moſt convenient to be ordained and done for redreſs and reformation to be had in the premiſes: And alſo to reform, repair, and amend the ſaid walls, ditches, banks, gutters, ſewers, gotes, calcies, bridges, ſtreams, and other the premiſes, in all places needful: and the ſame, as often, and where need ſhall be, to make new; And to cleanſe and purge the trenches, ſewers, and ditches, in all places neceſſary; and further, to reform, amend, proſtrate, and overthrow all ſuch mills, ſtreams, ponds, locks, fiſhgarths, hebbing-wears, and other impediments and annoyances aforeſaid, as ſhall be found by inquiſition, or by your ſurveying and diſcretions, to be exceſſive or hurtful. And alſo to depute and aſſign diligent, faithful, and true keepers, bailiffs, ſurveyors, collectors, expenditors, and other miniſters and officers, for the ſafety, conſervation, reparation, reformation, and making of the premiſes, and every of them, and to hear the accompt of the collectors and other miniſters of and for the receipt and laying out of the money that ſhall be levied and paid in and about the making, repairing, reforming, and amending of the ſaid walls, ditches, banks, gutters, gotes, ſewers, calcies, bridges, ſtreams, trenches, mills, ponds, locks, fiſhgarths, floudgates, and other impediments and annoyances aforeſaid: And to diſtrain for the arrearages of every ſuch collection, tax, and aſſeſs, as often as ſhall be expedient, or otherwiſe to puniſh the debtors and detainers of the ſame by fines, amerciaments, pains, or other like means after your good diſcretions: And alſo to arreſt and take as many carts, horſes, oxen, beaſts, and other inſtruments neceſſary, and as many workmen and labourers as for the ſaid works and reparation ſhall ſuffice, paying for the ſame competent wages, ſalary, and ſtipend in that behalf: And alſo take ſuch, and as many trees, woods, underwoods, and timber, and other neceſſaries, as for the ſame works and reparations ſhall be ſufficient, at a reaſonable price by you, or ſix of you, of the which we will that A. B. and C. ſhall be three, to be aſſeſſed, or limited, as well within the limits and bounds aforeſaid, as in any other place within the ſaid County or Counties, near unto the ſaid places: And to make and ordain Statutes, Ordinances, and proviſions, from time to time, as the caſe ſhall require, for the ſafeguard, conſervation, redreſs, correction, and reformation of the premiſes, and of every of them, and the parts lying to the ſame neceſſary and behoofull, after the laws and cuſtoms of Rumney-marſh, in the County of Kent, or otherwiſe, by any ways or means, after your own wiſdoms and diſcretions. And to hear and determine all and ſingular the premiſes, as well at our ſuit, as at the ſuit of any other whatſoever, complaining before you, or ſix of you, whereof A. B. and C. ſhall be three, after the laws and cuſtoms aforeſaid, or otherwiſe, by any other ways and means after your diſcretions. And alſo to make and direct all writs, precepts, warrants, or other commandments by vertue of theſe preſents, to all Sheriffs, Bailiffs, and all other miniſters, officers, and other perſons, as well within liberties as without, before you, or ſix of you, whereof the ſaid A. B. and C. to be three, at certain days, terms, and places to be prefixed, to be returned and received. And further to continue the proceſs of the ſame, and finally to do all and every thing and things, as ſhall be requiſite for the due execution of the premiſes, by all ways and means after your diſcretions: And therefore we command you, that at certain days and places, when, and where, ye, or ſix of you, whereof the ſaid A. B. and C. to be three, ſhall think expedient, ye do ſurvey the ſaid walls, fences, ditches, banks, gutters, gotes, ſewers, calcies, ponds, bridges, rivers, ſtreams, water-courſes, mills, locks, trenches, fiſhgarths, floudgates, and other lets, impediments, and annoyances aforeſaid, and accompliſh, fulfil, hear and determine, all and ſingular the premiſes, in due form, and to the effect aforeſaid, after your good diſcretions: And all ſuch as ye ſhall find negligent, gainſaying, or rebelling, in the ſaid works, reparations, or reformations of the premiſes, or negligent in the due execution of this our Commiſſion, that ye do compell them by diſtreſs, fines, and amerciaments, or by other puniſhments, ways or means, which to you, or ſix of you, whereof the ſaid A. B. and C. ſhall be three, ſhall ſeem moſt expedient for the ſpeedy remedy, redreſs, and reformation of the premiſes, and due execution of the ſame: And all ſuch things as by you ſhall be made and ordained in this behalf, as well within liberties as without, that ye do cauſe the ſame firmly to be obſerved, doing therein as to your Juſtices appertaineth, after the Laws and Statutes of this our Realm, and according to your wiſdoms and diſcretions.

A commandment to all Sheriffs to return before the Commiſſioners ſuch Jurors as ſhall be expedient for inquiry.

All other officers ſhall be attendant unto the Commiſſioners.

The Commiſſioners ſhall take an oath. 35 H. 8. 10.

Saved always to us ſuch fines and amerciaments as to us thereof ſhall belong. And we alſo command our Sheriff, or Sheriffs, of our ſaid County or Counties of that they ſhall cauſe to come before you, or ſix of you, of the which A. B. and C. ſhall be three, at ſuch days and places as ye ſhall appoint to them, ſuch and as many honeſt men of his or their Bailiwick, as well within the liberties as without, by whom the truth may beſt be known, to enquire of the premiſes; commanding alſo all other miniſters and officers, as well within Liberties as without, that they and every of them ſhall be attendant to you in and about the due execution of this our Commiſſion. In witneſs whereof we have cauſed theſe our Letters Patents to be made. Witneſs our ſelf at Weſtminſter, the day of in the year of our Reign.

And it is alſo enacted, That every ſuch perſon as ſhall be named Commiſſioner in the ſaid Commiſſion, after he hath knowledge thereof, ſhall effectually put his diligence & attendance in and about the execution of the ſaid Commiſſion. And before he ſhall take upon him the execution of the ſaid Commiſſion, he ſhall take a corporal oath before ẏ Lord Chancellor, or before ſuch to whom the ſaid Lord Chancellor ſhall direct the Kings writ of Dedimus poteſtatem, to take the ſame, or before the Juſtices of the Peace in the Quarter Seſſions holden in the Shire where ſuch Commiſſions ſhall be directed: the tenor of which oath hereafter enſueth:

Ye ſhall ſwear, That you to your cunning, wit and power, ſhall truly and indifferently execute

The form of the oath.

execute the authority to you given by this Commiſſion of Sewers, without any favour, affection, corruption, dread or malice to be born to any manner of perſon or perſons: And as the caſe ſhall require, ye ſhall conſent, and endeavour your ſelf for your part to the beſt of your knowledge and power, to the making of ſuch wholſom, juſt, equal, and indifferent Laws and Ordinances, as ſhall be made and deviſed by the moſt diſcreet and indifferent number of your fellows being in Commiſſion with you, for the due redreſs, reformation and amendment of all and every ſuch things as are contained & ſpecified in the ſaid Commiſſion, and the ſame laws and ordinances to your cunning, wit and power, cauſe to be put in due execution, without favor, meed, dread, malice or affection, as God you help and all ſaints.

A confirmation of other Statutes.

And it is alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Statute, Act and Ordinance heretofore made concerning the premiſes, or any of them, as well in the time of our Soveraign Lord the King that now is, as in the time of any of his progenitors Kings of this Realm of England, not being contrary to this preſent Act, nor heretofore repelled, from henceforth ſhall ſtand and be good and effectual for ever, and to be put in due execution according to the true meaning and purport of the ſame.

The authority of the Commiſſioners.

St. 1 M. 11. 13. El. 5.

And over that it be enacted, That the Commiſſioners hereafter to be named in any of the ſaid Commiſſions, according to the purport and effect of the ſame Commiſſions, have full power and authority to make, conſtitute and ordain Laws, Ordinances and Decrees, and further to do all and every thing mentioned in the ſaid Commiſſion, according to the purport, effect, words and true meaning of the ſame. And the ſame Laws and Ordinances ſo made, to reform, repell and amend, and make new from time to time, as the caſes neceſſary ſhall require in that behalf.

The ordinances of Commiſſioners upon thoſe which refuſe.

St. 13 El. 9.

Provided alway, and it is enacted, that if any perſon or perſons being aſſeſſed or taxed to any lot or charge for any lands, tenements or hereditaments within the limits of any commiſſion hereafter to be directed, do not pay the ſaid lot and charge according to the ordinance and aſſignment of the Commiſſioners, having power of the execution of the ſaid commiſſion: by reaſon whereof it ſhall happen, the ſaid Commiſſioners having power of execution of ſuch commiſſion, for lack of payment of ſuch lot and charge, to decree and ordain the ſame lands, tenements and hereditaments from the owner or owners thereof, and their heirs, and the heirs of every of them, to any perſon or perſons for term of years, term of life, in fee ſimple, or in tail, for payment of the ſame lot and charge; That then every ſuch decree and ordinance ſo by them made and engroſſed in parchment, and certified under their ſeals into the Kings Court of Chancery, with the Kings royal aſſent had to the ſame, ſhall bind all and every perſon and perſons that at the making of the ſame decree had any intereſt in ſuch lands, tenements, or hereditaments, in uſe, poſſeſſion, reverſion, or remainder, their heirs and feoffees, and every of them, and not to be in any wiſe reformed, unleſs it be by authority of Parliament hereafter to be ſummoned and holden within this Realm.

The Commiſſioners decree ſhall bind the Kings and all mens lands.

St. 3 Ed. 6. 8.

And alſo it is provided by authority aforeſaid, that the ſame Laws, Ordinances and Decrees to be made and ordained by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or ſix of them, by authority of the ſaid commiſſion, ſhall bind as well the lands, tenements and hereditaments of the King our Soveraign Lord, as all and every other perſon and perſons, and their heirs, for ſuch their intereſt as they ſhall fortune to have, or may have in any lands, tenements or hereditaments, or other caſual profit, advantage or commodity whatſoever they be, whereunto the ſaid Laws, Ordinances and decrees ſhall in any wiſe extend, according to the true purport, meaning and intent of the ſame Laws.

No man may ſit being unſworn.

What land each Commiſſioner ſhall have.

St. 13 El. 9.

St. 25 H. 8. 9. 10.

And it is furthermore by the authority aforeſaid eſtabliſhed and enacted, that if any manner of perſon or perſons, of what eſtate or degree ſoever he or they be of, that from henceforth do take upon him or them to ſit by vertue of any of the ſaid Commiſſions, not being before ſworn in form as is aforeſaid, and according to the tenor of the oath before ſpecified: Or if any perſon ſo named and ſworn, do ſit as is aforeſaid, not having lands, tenements or other hereditaments in fee ſimple, fee tail, or for term of life, to the clear yearly value of xl. marks above all charges to his own uſe, except he be reſiant and free of any City, Borough or Town-corporate, and have moveable ſubſtance of the clear value of one hundred pounds, or elſe be learned in the Laws of this Realm, in, and concerning the ſame, that is to ſay, admitted in one of the four principal Inns of Court for an utter Barreſter, ſhall forfeit xl. li. for every time that he ſhall attempt ſo to do, the one half thereof to be to our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other half thereof to the uſe of him or them that will ſue therefore by action of debt, bill, plaint or information in any of the Kings Courts; in which action or ſuit, no wager of Law ſhall be admitted, nor any eſſoin or protection ſhall be allowed.

Avowry or juſtification of a diſtreſs taken by reaſon of the Commiſſion of Sewers.

Coke pl. f. 293.

And if any action or treſpaſs, or other ſuit ſhall happen to be attempted againſt any perſon or perſons for taking any diſtreſs, or any other act doing, by authority of the Commiſſion, or by authority of any Laws or Ordinances made by vertue of the ſaid Commiſſion, the defendant, or defendants in any ſuch action ſhall and may make avowry, coniſance or juſtification for the taking of the ſame diſtreſs, or other act doing, touching the premiſes, or of any of them, alledging in ſuch avowry, coniſance or juſtification, that the ſaid diſtreſs, treſpaſs, or other act, whereof the plaintiff complaineth, was done by the authoriry of the Commiſſion of Sewers for lot or tax aſſeſſed by the ſaid Commiſſion, or for ſuch other act or cauſe, as the ſaid defendant did by authority of the ſame Commiſſion, and according to the tenor, purport and effect of this preſent Act made the three and twentieth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord King Henry the eighth, without any expreſſing or rehearſal of any other matter or circumſtance contained in this preſent Act, or any commiſſion, laws, ſtatutes or ordinances thereupon to be made; whereupon the plaintiff ſhall be admitted to reply, that the defendant did take the ſaid diſtreſs, or did any other act or treſpaſs ſuppoſed in his declaration of his own wrong, without any ſuch cauſe alleadged by the ſaid defendant; whereupon the iſſue in every ſuch action, ſhall be joyned to be tryed by verdict of twelve men, and not otherwiſe, as is accuſtomed in other perſonal actions: And upon the trial of that iſſue, the whole matter to be given on both parties in evidence according to the very truth of the ſame.

Where the defendant ſhall repay damages with his coſts of ſuit.

And after ſuch iſſue tried for the defendant, or nonſuit of the plaintiff after appearance, the ſame defendant to recover treble damages, by reaſon of his wrongful vexation in that behalf, with his coſts allo in that part ſuſtained, and that to be aſſeſſed by the ſame Jury, or writ to enquire of damages, as the cauſe ſhall require.

The wages & fees of Commiſſioners, Clerks, Collectors, &c.

And it is alſo enacted, that every of the ſaid Commiſſioners ſhall have and perceive four ſhillings for every day that they ſhall take pain in the execution of this Commiſſion of Sewers, and one Clerk by them to be aſſigned, ii.s. for every day, of the rates, taxes, lots, and wayns that ſhall be aſſeſſed or loſt by the authority of the ſaid Commiſſion, and to be levied and paid by their diſcretions. And that the ſaid Commiſſioners, or ſix of them ſhall have power and authority to limit, and aſſign of the ſame rates, taxes, lots, and wains by their diſcretions, ſuch reaſonable ſums of money to the ſaid Clerk, for writing of books and proceſs concerning the premiſes, and to the Collectors, Expenditors, and ſuch other as ſhall take pain in due execution of the ſaid Commiſſion, as by the diſcretions of the ſaid Commiſſioners, or ſix of them, ſhall be thought reaſonable.

Commiſſions within the liberty of the Dutchy.

Provided alway that whenſoever, and as often as ſuch Commiſſion, as is afore limited, ſhall be made and directed to any perſon or perſons, for the reformation and amendment of, or in any of the premiſes ſpecified in the ſaid Commiſſion within the fees, liberties, or poſſeſſion of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, that then ſuch Commiſſioners as ſhall execute any ſuch Commiſſion, ſhall be always named and appointed by the diſcretion of the Lord Chancellor, and Lord Treaſurer of England, and the ſaid two chief Juſtices of either Bench, and the Chancellor of the ſaid Dutchy for the time being, or three of them, whereof the ſaid Lord Chancellor aud the Chancellor of the Dutchy to be two. And that in every ſuch caſe two Commiſſioners ſhall be awarded and made according to the tenor of the Commiſſion above expreſſed, one thereof under the great ſeal of England, and the other under the ſeal of the ſame Dutchy, as beforetime hath been accuſtomed, any thing afore rehearſed in this preſent Act to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

The charge of the Commiſſions.
3 Ed.6.8.

And it is further enacted, That the ſaid Commiſſions from time to time, as the caſe ſhall require, ſhall be had and obtained without any money, or other charge to be paid for the ſeals, or writing of the ſame, unleſs it be to the King, ii.s.vi.d. for the ſeal of every Commiſſion, as hath been accuſtomed: and for the writing and enrolling of any one Commiſſion, five ſhillings, and not above.

A Commiſſion of Sewers ſhall endure three years.
13 Eliz.9.

And it is further enacted, That every Commiſſion to be made by authority of this Act ſhall endure, and continue for the term of three years, next after the Teſte of the Commiſſion. Nevertheleſs, after any Commiſſion made and delivered out of the Kings Court of Chancery, the Kings Highneſs ſhall always at his pleaſure by his writ of Superſedeas out of his ſaid Court of Chancery, at any time diſcharge as well every ſuch Commiſſion, as every Commiſſioner that ſhall be made or named by authority of this Act. After which diſcharge the ſaid Commiſſioners ſhall have no power nor authority to proceed in the execution of their Commiſſion, nor in any thing by authority of this Act.

A Commiſſion or Commiſſioner diſcharged by Superſedeas.

How long the Commiſſioners decree ſhall endure.

ALT. 13 El.9.

Provided always, That ſuch Laws, Acts, Decrees and Ordinances as ſhall happen to be made by the ſaid Commiſſioners according to the tenor of their Commiſſion, or by authority of this Act, ſhall ſtand good and effectual, and be put in due execution ſo long time as their Commiſſion endureth, and no longer: except the ſaid Laws and Ordinances be made and ingroſſed in Parchment, and certified under the ſeals of the ſaid Commiſſioners into the Kings Court of Chancery, and then the Kings Royal aſſent be had to the ſame: any thing contained in this preſent Act to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

Commiſſions into a County Palatine.

Provided alſo, That whenſoever and as often as ſuch Commiſſion as is afore limited, ſhall be made and directed to any perſon or perſons for the reformation and amendment of, or in any of the premiſes ſpecified in the ſaid Commiſſion within the fees, liberties, and poſſeſſions of the Principality of Wales, the County Palatine of Cheſter, or within the fees, liberties, and poſſeſſions of any other place, where there is liberty and juriſdiction of County Palatine, that in every ſuch caſe two Commiſſions ſhall be awarded and made according to the tenor of the Commiſſion above expreſſed, one thereof under the great ſeal of England, and the other the uſual ſeal of the County Palatine, in manner and form as is above provided for the Dutchy of Lancaſter, any thing afore rehearſed in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Kings Royal aſſent ſhall be certified into the Chancery.
ALT. 13 El.9.

And it is provided, and alſo enacted, That the Royal aſſent limited to be had unto the Laws and Ordinances to be made by the ſaid Commiſſioners, as is aboveſaid, ſhall be certified into the ſaid Court of Chancery under the Kings privy ſeal. And that there ſhall not any ſum of money be paid for the ſame privy ſeal: but for the writing of the ſame Certificate under the ſaid privy ſeal, ſhall be paid to the writer thereof ii.s. and not above, nor no other nor greater ſum for any thing touching or concerning the ſame Certificate under the ſame privy ſeal.

Commiſſions in Wales, and Counties Palatine.

Provided alway, That the Chancellors, and ſuch other as ſhall have the cuſtody of the ſeals of the ſaid Principality of Wales, or the County Palatine of Cheſter, or within the fees, liberties and poſſeſſions of any other place, where there is liberty and juriſdiction of County Palatine, upon reaſonable requeſt, and upon ſight of the Commiſſion under the Kings great ſeal of his Chancery, ſhall without delay make out another Commiſſion under the ſeal of the ſaid County Palatine, according to the tenor of the Kings Commiſſion to them ſhewed under his great ſeal. And to thoſe Commiſſioners as ſhall be named by the Lord Chancellor, Lord Treaſurer, and the two Chief Juſtices, or by three of them, whereof the Lord Chancellor to be one, except it be within the fees and liberties of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, within which fees and liberties, the Commiſſioners ſhall be named, and Commiſſions made, as is afore ordained by this Act, any thing contained in the ſaid Act, or in any proviſo thereunto added and annexed to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. This Act to endure for xx. years. Stat. 3 Ed.6.8. made perpetual. Stat. 3 Jac.14. Regiſt. f.127.

CAP. VI.

Before whom Recogniſances of debt ſhall be made, and the form, &c.

Foraſmuch as the Mayors of the Staple in divers places of this Realm, where any Staple is kept, in the preſence of the Conſtables of the ſame Staple before this time, have and might lawfully take recogniſance, or knowledge of debts, only concerning and touching the merchandiſe of the ſame Staple, betwixt Merchant and Merchant of the ſame Staple, according to divers laudable Statutes and proviſions before this time had, ordained and made. Which Mayors and Conſtables many and ſundry times ſince the making of the ſame Statute, have taken divers recogniſances and knowledges of divers of the Kings ſubjects for debts, ſurmiſing the ſame knowledge or recogniſance to be made for ſurety of payment of ſums of money for ſuch wares as were or have been bought in the ſame Staple: where of troth the ſame recogniſance did not in any wiſe touch or concern the merchandiſe of the ſame, ne alſo the parties, that is to ſay, the cogniſor, ne the cogniſee, that did knowledge, and take the ſame recogniſances, were Merchants of the ſame Staple: which recogniſances, and knowledges taken in form aforeſaid, are not only clear contrary to the true meaning and intent of the ſame former eſtatutes, but alſo thereby divers great and ſundry inconveniences, damages and deceits do daily ariſe, and grow to divers of the ſubjects of our Soveraign Lord the King, by reaſon of the miſuſing of the ſame. And for as much as the Kings Highneſs of his moſt high wiſdom perceiveth the miſuſing and execution of the ſame to be contrary to the form of the ſaid former eſtatutes: Therefore his pleaſure is, that ſome true, lawful and reaſonable bond, for ſurety of payment of the ſaid debts of his ſubjects ſhall be made and deviſed by true and juſt means, which in it ſelf may, and ſhall purport right and equity, and be alſo conſonant to reaſon.

Statutes of the Staple were deviſed only for Merchandiſes of the Staple, and between Merchant and Merchant.

Co.Inſt.289.b

In conſideration whereof, by the aſſent of the Kings Highneſs, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and his Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, it is enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed, That from the firſt day of April next coming, the chief Juſtice of the Kings Bench, and the Chief Juſtice of the Common Pleas, which now be, or at any time hereafter ſhall be, and every of them by himſelf, and in their abſence out of the term, the Mayor of the Staple at Weſtminſter, and the Recorder of the City of London for the time being, jointly together by his or their diſcretions, ſhall have full power and authority to take recogniſances, or knowledges of every of the Kings ſubjects for the payment of debts, according to ſuch form as hereafter enſueth.

Who may take a Recogniſance in the nature of a Statute Staple. Coke pl.f.12.

Noverint univerſi per præſent. me A.B.& D.C.armig. teneri & firmiter obligari Johanni a Style in C. li. ſterling. ſolvend. eidem Johanni aut ſuo cert. attornat. hoc ſcriptum oſtend. hered. vel execut. ſuis in tal. feſt. &c. proxi. futur. poſt dat. præſentium. Dat. tal' die Anno regni regis, &c.

The form of the Recogniſance.

And that every obligation that ſhall be made, as is aforeſaid, and knowledged before any of the ſaid chief Juſtices, or the ſaid Mayor and Recorder according to this Act, ſhall be ſealed with the ſeal of the party or parties, that ſhall recogniſe, or knowledge the ſame, and alſo with ſuch ſeal as the Kings Highneſs ſhall ordain and appoint for the ſame, and with the ſeal of one ſuch of the ſaid Juſtices, or with the ſeals of the ſaid Mayor and Recorder, and with his or their name or names ſubſcribed, that ſo ſhall take the ſame recogniſance or knowledge. And that every of the ſaid two Juſtices, and the ſaid Mayor and Recorder, ſhall have the cuſtody of one ſuch ſeal by the Kings Highneſs to be appointed, with one like print, ſcripture, or faſhion, which ſhall ſeverally remain with them to the intent above rehearſed.

By what ſeals the ſame obligation ſhall be ſealed.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that ſuch an honeſt and diſcreet perſon as ſhall be aſſigned by the Kings Highneſs, or the ſufficient deputy or deputies of the ſame perſons ſo to be aſſigned, ſhall make and write all ſuch obligations as ſhall be acknowledged and recogniſed by authority of this Act, and ſhall cauſe the ſame obligations recogniſed and knowledged in form as is abovesaid, to be enrolled in two ſeveral rolls indented, whereof one ſhall remain with ſuch of the ſaid Juſtices, or with the ſaid Mayor and Recorder, that ſo ſhall take the ſame recogniſance in form aforeſaid, and the other roll with the writer thereof, appointed for the ſame. And that the ſaid perſon by the Kings Highneſs to be appointed for making, writing, and enrolling ſuch obligations, or his ſufficient deputy or deputies, ſhall be dwelling or abiding in the ſaid City of London, upon pain to forfeit for every time that he and his deputy ſhall be abſent by the ſpace of two days, ten pounds.

The Clerk of the Recogniſances ſhall inroll them, and ſhall dwell in London.

And further it is enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid perſon ſo to be aſſigned by the Kings Highneſs to write, make, and enroll ſuch obligations, or his ſufficient deputy or deputies, at the requeſt of the Creditors, their Executors or Aminiſtrators, ſhall certifie ſuch obligations as ſhall be taken and recogniſed by authority of this Act, into the Kings Court of Chancery, under the ſeal of the ſaid perſon ſo to be appointed for writing, making, and enrolling ſuch obligations.

Certificate of the Recogniſance in the Chancery.

And that every perſon and perſons, to whom any ſuch obligation ſhall be made, knowledged, and enrolled (as is aforeſaid) their Executors and Adminiſtrators, and the Executors

Execution upon a recogniſance acknowledged according to this Statute.

Co.Inſt. 232. 2.

and Adminiſtrators of every of them, for default of payment of the debts contained in ſuch obligations, ſhall have in every point, degree and condition, againſt the ſaid recogniſor and recogniſors, and every of them, their heirs, executors and adminiſtrators, and the heirs, executors and adminiſtrators of every of them, like proceſs, execution, commodity and advantage in every behalf, as hath been uſed and accuſtomed before this time to be had, done, or made of and upon any obligation of the ſtatute of the ſtaple, and under ſuch manner and form as is for the ſame ſtatute of the ſtaple provided, paying for ſuch proceſs and execution to be had, ſuch like fees, as is accuſtomed for proceſs and execution to be had upon obligations of the ſame ſtatute of the ſtaple, and not above.

Bro.dm.13.

And that every ſuch perſon and perſons that ſhall be bounden, or otherwiſe grieved by vertue of any obligation to be made by authority of this Act, ſhall have their like remedy by Audita Querela, and all other remedies in the Law, that they might have had in caſe they had been bounden by obligation of the Statute of the Staple.

The K. ſhall have ob. in the pound upon execution ſued.

And that every ſuch perſon and perſons that ſhall have proceſs for execution to be had by reaſon of any ſuch obligation to be made and knowledged according to this Act, ſhall pay to the Kings Highneſs, his heirs or ſucceſſors, at the time of enſealing of the proceſs for execution to be had, one halfpeny for every pound that ſhall be contained in the obligation, whereof execution ſhall be required, and not above.

The remedy for tenant by recogniſance being diſſeiſed.

And that every ſuch perſon and perſons that ſhall happen to have any execution of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, by reaſon of any ſuch obligations to be made and knowledged (as is abovesaid) their executors, adminiſtrators, or aſſigns, and the executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns of every of them, if they, or any of them, being put out or diſſeiſed, ſhall have like remedy in every point and condition, as perſons having execution in and upon any Statute of the Staple, after execution to them had, may, or might have, by vertue of the ſaid writing obligatory of the Statute of the Staple, and execution of the ſame.

The Juſtices & Clerks fee upon every recogniſance.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that every of the ſaid Juſtices, and the ſaid Mayor and Recorder, before whom any ſuch obligations ſhall be recogniſed, ſhall take for every knowledge of every one ſuch recogniſance iii.s. iv.d. and not above: and the Clerk that ſhall write, make, and enroll the ſame obligations, iii.s. iv.d. And for the certificate of every one ſuch obligation, xx.d. And if any of the ſaid Juſtices, Mayor, Recorder, or Clerk take of any of the Kings ſubjects above the ſum or ſums to them limited by this Eſtatute, that then the ſaid Juſtices, Mayor, Recorder, or Clerk, that ſo ſhall take contrary to the form aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit for every time ſo offending xl.li.

In what caſes recogniſances of Stat. Staple may be taken by the Mayor and Conſtable of the Staple, & in what not.

And further it is enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that from the ſaid firſt day of April, no Mayor or Conſtable of the Staple, for the payment of any ſum or ſums of money, take any knowledge or recogniſance of the ſaid Statute of the Staple, of any of the Kings ſubjects, upon pain to forfeit for every time ſo offending xl.li. The one moyety of all and ſingular the ſaid penalties to be to the Kings Highneſs, and the other moyety to the party that will ſue for the ſame. For the recovery whereof, the party that will purſue, ſhall have his remedy by information, action of debt, bill, or plaint, in any of the Kings Courts: in which no eſſoin, protection, nor wager of Law ſhall be admitted. Provided alway, that this Act, nor any thing therein contained, be in any wiſe prejudicial or hurtful to any Mayor and Conſtables of the ſtaple for any bond or writing of the Statute of the Staple to be taken, or received between Merchants being free of the ſame Staple, for Merchandiſe of the ſame Staple between them lawfully bought and ſold.

Recogniſances taken before the Statute.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all recogniſances before this time taken before the Mayor and Conſtables of any of the ſaid Staples, whereof the ſums now be not paid, nor otherwiſe contented, lawfully avoided, or diſcharged by the Law, ſhall be as good and effectual as though they had been verily made for merchandiſe of the ſame Staple, and between Merchant and Merchant of the ſame Staple, and as they ſhould have been, if this Act had never been had ne made. CAP. VIII.

How certain Havens in Cornwall and Devonſhire may be amended.

St. 27 H.8.29.

The great eaſe and benefit which this Realm and others received by the Havens of Plimouth, Dartmouth, &c.

Piteouſly ſheweth, and complaineth, unto the King our Soveraign Lord, and to the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, the inhabitants of the Towns and Ports of Plimouth, Dartmouth and Teingmouth in the County of Devonſhire, Falmouth and Foway in the County of Cornwal, that where the ſaid Ports have been in time paſt the principal, and moſt commodious Havens and Ports within this Realm, for the rode, ſurety, and preſervation of ſhips reſorting from all places of the world, as well in peril of ſtorms, as otherwiſe. For where before this time all maner of ſhips being under the Portage of eight hundred tuns, reſorting unto any of the ſaid Ports or Havens, might at the low water eaſily enter into the ſame, and there lie in ſurety, what wind or tempeſt ſoever did blow. By reaſon whereof not only a great multitude of ſhips, as well of this Realm, as of other Regions and Countreys, before this time had been preſerved and ſaved, but alſo in time of war, the ſaid Havens and Ports, have been the greateſt fortification and defence of that part of this Realm, and the ſpecial preſervation of the great part of the Navy of the ſame: which ſaid Ports and Havens been at this preſent time in manner utterly decayed and deſtroyed by mean of certain Tin-works, called Stream-works, uſed by cetain perſons within the ſaid Counties, which perſons more regarding their own private lucre, then the common wealth and ſurety of this Realm, have by working of the ſaid Stream-works, digging, ſearching and waſhing of the ſame near unto the freſh rivers, waters, and low places, deſcending and coming out of the lands, towards, and into the ſaid Ports and Havens to the ſea, conveyed by the force of the ſaid freſh rivers a marvelous great quantity of ſand, gravel, ſtone, robel, earth, ſlime, and filth in the ſaid Ports and Havens, and have ſo filled and choked the ſame, that where before this time a ſhip of the portage of eight hundred as is aforeſaid, might have eaſily entred at a low water into the ſame, now a ſhip of a hundred can ſcantly enter at the half floud, to the decay and utter deſtruction of the ſaid Havens and Ports, and alſo to the ruine and utter undoing of all the good Towns within the ſaid County of Devonſhire and Cornwall, if remedy be not in that caſe ſpeedily provided. For reformation whereof, be it enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that no perſon nor perſons hereafter ſhall labour or work, or cauſe to be laboured or wrought in any manner of Tin-works, called Stream-works within the ſaid Counties of Devonſhire or Cornwall, nigh to any of the ſaid freſh waters, rivers, or low places deſcending or having courſe unto the ſaid Havens or Ports, or any of them, nor ſhall labour, dig, or waſh any Tin in any of the ſaid Tin-works, called Stream-works, unleſs the ſaid digger, owner, or waſher, ſhall make, or cauſe to be made ſufficient hatches, and ties in the end of their buddles, and cords, and therein put and lay, or cauſe to be put and laid, all the ſand, ſtones, gravel, and robel digged about the inſearching, finding, and waſhing of the ſaid Tin, there to be wholly and ſurely kept, by the ſaid hatches and ties, out and from the ſaid freſh rivers and water-courſes, or any of them, ſo that the ſaid ſand, ſtones, gravel, and robel, ne any part thereof, be for lack of ſuch hatches or ties, conveyed into the ſaid Ports and Havens, or any of them, upon pain to forfeit for every time that any owner or tinner ſhall dig or waſh, or cauſe to be digged or waſhed, any Tin contrary to the form aforeſaid, x.li. The one half thereof to be to the uſe of our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other half thereof to be to any of the inhabitants of the ſaid Ports, Towns, or Havens, that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts, by original writ, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe, wherein the defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his Law, ne any protection or eſſoin ſhall be allowable.

The decay of the Havens of Plimouth, &c. and the cauſe thereof.

A mean to maintain the Havens of Plimouth, Dartmouth, &c. in the Counties of Devon and Cornwall.

Who ſhall have the forf. and by what means they ſhall recover it.

ALT.27 H,8.23.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, that if any perſon or perſons ſhall happen to be ſued, accuſed, indited, impriſoned, amerced, condemned, or otherwiſe vexed, or troubled in his perſon, lands, tin-works, goods or cattels, by any of the miniſters or officers of any of the Kings Court of Stannery, or by any other perſon or perſons, for purſuing or attempting any ſuit or action, according to this Eſtatute, againſt ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhal offend contrary to the form aforeſaid, that then all ſuch ſuits, accuſements, enditements, impriſonments, actions, condemnations, fines, amerciaments, and every other act or acts to be done in any of the ſaid Courts of Stannery, or elſewhere, by any perſon or perſons, againſt any perſon or perſons, for ſuing or attempting any ſuits or actions by vertue of this Eſtatute, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect in the Law. And that the parties ſued, endited, accuſed, impriſoned, or otherwiſe grieved or moleſted for purſuing againſt any perſon or perſons offending againſt this Eſtatute, ſhall have his action and remedy grounded upon this Eſtatute, by original writ, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe in any of the Kings Courts, againſt ſuch as ſhall procure, or attempt to vex, trouble, or otherwiſe moleſt any ſuch perſon or perſons, for ſuing or purſuing, for the forfeitures aforeſaid, and ſhall recover treble damages in that behalf; and the party defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his law, ne any protection, eſſoin nor priviledge ſhall be to him allowable. And if it ſhall happen any perſon or perſons, for purſuing any ſuit, or action upon this Eſtatute, or by occaſion of the ſame, hereafter to be impriſoned by any manner of perſon or perſons, being officers or miniſters of the Stannery, their deputies or ſubſtitutes, that then every of the Juſtices of peace within any of the Counties aforeſaid, wherein the ſaid priſoner ſhall happen to be committed to priſon, upon credible information thereof, taking ſurety by his diſcretion for appearance of ſuch priſoner at the next general Seſſions of Peace, ſhall have power and authority as well to direct his Warrant to the gaoler or keeper of the priſon, as to any other perſon or perſons, to whom the ſaid priſoner ſhall be committed unto, commanding him or them, upon pain of forfeiture of xl.li. to deliver and put at large the ſaid priſoner or priſoners: which if he refuſe ſo to do, then every ſuch offender ſhall loſe and forfeit the ſaid xl.li. the one half of which forfeiture to be to the uſe of our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other half to him that is grieved by reaſon of ſuch impriſonment, to be recovered in manner and form aforeſaid: And the defendant in any action or ſuit for the ſame, ſhall not wage his law, ne have any eſſoin or protection allowed. And if it ſhall appear, upon the appearance of ſuch priſoner at the quarter Seſſions by examining of the Juſtices of Peace there being, that he was impriſoned contrary to the form of this Eſtatute, that then he ſhall be forthwith diſmiſſed, and thereby diſcharged. And if he were lawfully impriſoned, for any other juſt cauſe, then to be remaunded to priſon by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices.

The remedy if any perſon be troubled in the Stannery for proſecuting ſuit according to this Statute.

The forf. of the offender, and the mean to recover it.

Provided alway, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, be not in any wiſe prejudicial, or hurtful to any of the officers of the Stannery, ne to any of their lawful liberties, priviledges, uſages, laws or cuſtoms, ſaving only in the caſes, and proviſions

This Act ſhall not be prejudicial to the officers or liberties of the Stannery.

ſions contained and limited within this preſent Act, which ſhall alway be put in execution according to the tenour of this Act, any uſage, cuſtom, priviledge, ordinance, or liberty to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

And it is enacted, That this Act ſhall begin to take effect from the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, and not before.

CAP. IX.

No perſon ſhall be cited out of the Dioceſs but in certain caſes.

The inconvenience of citations to inforce men to appear out of the Dioceſs where they dwell.

WHere great number of the Kings ſubjects, as well men, wives, ſervants, as other the Kings ſubjects dwelling in divers Dioceſes of this Realm of England, and of Wales, heretofore have been at any times called by citations, and other proceſſes compulſarie, to appear in the Arches audience, and other high Courts of the Archbiſhops of this Realm, far from, and out of the Dioceſs, where ſuch men, wives, ſervants, and other the Kings ſubjects been inhabitant and dwelling, and many times to anſwer to ſurmiſed and feigned cauſes, and ſuits of defamation, withholding of Tythes, and ſuch other like cauſes and matters, which have been ſued more for malice, and for vexation, then for any juſt cauſe of ſuit.

No perſon ſhall be cited to appear out of the Dioceſs where he dwelleth, but in certain caſes. Co.pl.f.363.448.

Cro.Jac. 311.493. Cro.Car. 97.339.

And where certificate hath been made by the ſummoner, apparator, or any ſuch light literate perſon, that the party againſt whom any ſuch citation hath been awarded, hath been cited or ſummoned, and thereupon the ſame party ſo certified to be cited or ſummoned, hath not appeared according to the certificate, the ſame party thereof hath been excommunicated, or at the leaſt ſuſpended from all divine ſervice: and thereupon before that he or ſhe could be abſolved, hath been compelled not only to pay the fees of the Court, whereunto he or ſhe was ſo called by citation or other proceſs, amounting to the ſum of ii. s. or xx. d. at the leaſt: but alſo to pay to the ſummoner, apparator, or other light literate perſon, by whom he or ſhe was ſo certified to be ſummoned, for every mile being diſtant from the place where he or ſhe then dwelled, unto the ſame Court, whereunto he or ſhe was ſo cited or ſummoned to appear, ii. d. to the great occaſion of impoveriſhment of the Kings ſubjects, and to the great occaſion of miſbehaviour and miſliving of wives, women, and ſervants, and to the great impairment and diminution of their good names and honeſties. Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That no manner perſon ſhall be from henceforth cited or ſummoned, or otherwiſe called to appear by himſelf or herſelf, or by any procurator, before any Ordinary, Archdeacon, Commiſſary, Official, or any other Judge ſpiritual, out of the Dioceſs, or peculiar juriſdiction, where the perſon which ſhall be cited, ſummoned, or otherwiſe (as is abovesaid) called, ſhall be inhabiting and dwelling, at the time of awarding, or going forth of the ſame citation or ſummons: except that it ſhall be for, in, or upon any of the caſes or cauſes hereafter written: that is to ſay, for any ſpiritual offence or cauſe committed or done, or omitted, followed or neglected to be done contrary to right or duty by the Biſhop, Archdeacon, Commiſſary, Official, or other perſon having ſpiritual juriſdiction, or being a ſpiritual Judge, or by any other perſon or perſons within the Dioceſs, or other juriſdiction, whereunto he or ſhe ſhall be cited, or otherwiſe lawfully called to appear and anſwer.

The forfeit of an Ordinary offending againſt the purport of this Statute.

And except alſo it ſhall be, by or upon matter or cauſe of appeal, or for other lawful cauſe, wherein any party ſhall find himſelf or herſelf grieved or wronged by the Ordinary, Judge, or Judges of the Dioceſs or Juriſdiction, or by any of his ſubſtitutes, officers or miniſters, after the matter or cauſe there firſt commenced and begun to be ſhewed unto the Archbiſhop or Biſhop, or any other having peculiar juriſdiction, within whoſe Province the Dioceſs or place peculiar is: or in caſe that the Biſhop or other immediate Judge or Ordinary, dare not, nor will not convent the party to be ſued before him: or in caſe that the Biſhop of the Dioceſs, or the Judge of the place, within whoſe juriſdiction, or before whom the ſuit by this Act ſhall be commenced and proſecuted, be party directly or indirectly to the matter or cauſe of the ſame ſuit: or in caſe that any Biſhop, or any inferior Judge, having under him juriſdiction in his own right and title, or by commiſſion, make requeſt, or inſtance to the Archbiſhop, Biſhop, or other ſuperior Ordinary or Judge, to take, treat, examine, or determine the matter before him or his ſubſtitutes, and that to be done in caſes only where the Law Civil or Canon doth affirm execution of ſuch requeſt or inſtance of juriſdiction to be lawful or tolerable, upon pain of forfeiture to every perſon by any Ordinary, Commiſſary, Official, or Subſtitute by vertue of his Office, or at the ſuit of any perſon to be cited, or otherwiſe ſummoned, or called contrary to this Act of double damages and coſts for the vexation in that behalf ſuſtained, to be recovered againſt any ſuch Ordinary, Commiſſary, Archdeacon, Official or other Judge, as ſhall award, or make proceſs, or otherwiſe attempt, or procure to do any thing contrary to this Act, by action of debt, or action upon the caſe, according to the courſe of the common Law of this Realm in any of the Kings high Courts, or in any other competent temporal Court of Record, by original writ of debt, bill, or complaint: In which action, no protection other then ſuch ſhall be made under the Kings great ſeal, and ſigned with his ſign manual, ſhall be allowed, neither any wager of law nor eſſoin ſhall be admitted. And upon pain of forfeiture for every perſon ſo ſummoned, cited, or otherwiſe called (as is abovesaid) to anſwer before any ſpiritual Judge, out of the Dioceſs, or other juriſdiction where the ſaid perſon ſo dwelleth, or is reſident or abiding, x. li. ſterling. The one half thereof to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other half to any perſon that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings ſaid Courts, or in any other the ſaid temporal Courts, by writ, information, bill or plaint. In which action no protection ſhall be allowed, nor wager of Law or eſſoin ſhall be admitted.

Provided always that it ſhall be lawful to every Archbiſhop of this Realm, to call, cite, and ſummon any perſon or perſons inhabiting or dwelling in any Biſhops Dioceſs within his Province for cauſes of hereſie, if the Biſhop or other Ordinary immediate thereunto conſent, or if that the ſame Biſhop, or other immediate Ordinary or Judge do not his duty in puniſhment of the ſame.

Any Archbiſhop may cite for hereſie in another Biſhops Dioceſs.

Provided alſo that this Act may not extend in any wiſe to the prerogative of the moſt reverend Father in God, the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, or any of his ſucceſſors, of, or calling any perſon or perſons out of the Dioceſs where he or they be inhabiting, dwelling, or reſident, for probate of any teſtament or teſtaments, any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Citation by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury for probate of Teſtaments.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That no Archbiſhop nor Biſhop, Ordinary, Official, Commiſſary, or any other Subſtitute or Miniſter of any of the ſaid Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Archdeacons, or other having any ſpiritual juriſdiction, at any time from the feaſt of Eaſter next coming, ſhall aſk, demand, take, or receive of any of the Kings ſubjects, any ſum or ſums of money for the ſeal of any citation, after the ſaid Feaſt to be awarded or obtained then only iii. d. ſterling, upon the pains and penalties before limited, contained and expreſſed in this preſent Act, to be in like form recovered, as is aforeſaid.

The fees for the ſeal of a citation.

Provided always, That this Act be not in any wiſe hurtful or prejudicial to the Archbiſhop of York, nor to his ſucceſſors, of, for, or concerning probate of teſtaments within his Province and Juriſdiction, by reaſon of any prerogative, any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. Rep. 1. and 2 P. and M. 8. Rep: 1 Eliz. 1.

CAP. X.

Feoffments of Lands to the uſe of a Church ſhall be void.

Where by reaſon of Feoffments, Fines, Recoveries, and other eſtates and aſſurances, made of truſt, of manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, to the uſe of Pariſh-Churches, Chappels, Churchwardens, Guilds, Fraternities, Comminalties, Companies, or Brotherheads erected and made of devotion, or by common aſſent of the people without any Corporation, and alſo by reaſon of Feoffments, Fines, Recoveries, Wills, and other acts made to any uſes aforeſaid, or to the uſes and intents, to have obites perpetual, or a continual ſervice of a Prieſt for ever, or for threeſcore or fourſcore years, founden of the iſſues and profits of the manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, whereof ſuch feoffments, fines, recoveries, wills, and other acts been made, or that the feoffees, conſees, recoverers, or other perſons and their heirs thereof ſeiſed, ſhall take, levy, receive, and perceive, or cauſe, or ſuffer to be taken, levied, and perceived the iſſues, revenues, and profits thereof, and the ſame to diſpoſe, pay, convert, or otherwiſe imploy or ſuffer, or cauſe to be diſpoſed, paid, converted, or imployed to any ſuch uſes, intents or purpoſes, as been above ſpecified, or to any other like uſes or intents: there groweth and iſſueth to the King our Soveraign Lord, and to other Lords and ſubjects of the Realm, the ſame like loſſes and inconveniences, and is as much prejudicial to them, as doth, and is in caſe where lands be aliened to mortmain.

Aſſurances of lands to Churches, Comminalties, &c. as prejudicial to the Lords, as if they were aliened in Mortmain.

Be it therefore enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame: That all and every ſuch uſes, intents and purpoſes, of what name, nature, or quality they ſhall be called, that ſhall be deviſed, covenanted, made, declared, or in any wiſe ordained, after the firſt day of March, in the three and twentieth year of the Reign of our Soveraign Lord King Henry the eighth, by any feoffee, recoverer, or cogniſee, or by any other perſon or perſons, to whoſe uſe any ſuch feoffee, recoverer, or cogniſee ſhall be ſeiſed, of any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or of the iſſues, revenues and profits of them, or any of them, ſhall be utterly void and of no ſtrength, vertue, nor effect in the Law.

Cro. El. 188. Coke l. ſ. 22. 26. 18 [illegible]

Aſſurances of Lands to Churches, Chappels, &c. ſhall be void.

Provided alway, that it ſhall be lawful to every perſon being ſeiſed of any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, to his own proper uſe, or having feoffees, recoverers, or coniſees to his uſe, to make, or ordain, or deviſe, or cauſe to be made, ordained, or deviſed any of the uſes, intents, or purpoſes above ſpecified, in ſuch manner as they might have done before the making of this Act, and as if this Act had never been had ne made: So that no ſuch uſes, intents or purpoſes to be made, ordained or deviſed after the ſaid firſt day of March, be not in any wiſe made, ordained, deviſed, or appointed to endure, continue, or abide by any craft, colour, terms, ſentences, clauſes, words, or other means, above the term of xx. years, next after the firſt making and beginning of any ſuch uſes, intents or purpoſes.

Aſſurances of Lands to Churches, &c. for twenty years.

And it is further enacted, That if any perſon or perſons in defraud of this Statute, bind, or ordain any their heirs or ſucceſſors, or any other perſon or perſons, that they ſhall ſuffer ſuch uſes, intents or purpoſes to endure and continue, contrary to this Act, upon pains or penalties of loſſes of any other lands, tenements, hereditaments, or of any other thing or things: or do attempt or deviſe by any colour, craft, or means any thing or things, to make any ſuch uſes, intents or purpoſes to be declared, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, to continue or abide for any longer time or ſeaſon, then is above limited for the ſame, that then every ſuch pain, penalty, craft, colour, and every other thing and things, of what kind, nature, or quality ſoever it be, that ſhall be ſo made, ordained, or deviſed in defraud of this Act, ſhall be utterly void in the law to all intents. And that this Statute ſhall be alway interpreted and expounded as beneficially as may be, to the deſtruction and utter avoiding of ſuch uſes, intents and purpoſes herein above remembred, and of all other like uſes and intents, otherwiſe then only after ſuch manner as is afore by this preſent Act provided.

Collateral aſſurances in defrauding of the Statute, ſhall be void.

Provided alway, that in ſuch Cities & Towns-corporate, where by their ancient cuſtoms they have good and lawful authorities, to deviſe into mortmain the lands, tenements, & hereditaments within the ſame Cities or Towns-corporate, that this Act ſhall not be in any wiſe prejudicial or hurtful to any ſuch cuſtom.

Cuſtom in Cities or Towns to deviſe lands in Mortmain.

Devices made by the executors of Jannis and Terry of the City of Norwich.

Provided alway, That this Act, ne any thing therein contained, ſhall extend or be in any wiſe prejudicial, to hinder or impair any ſuch ordinances, devices, or declarations of uſes as ſhall hereafter be made and declared in writing by the executors of the Teſtaments, and laſt Wills of Robert Jannis and John Terry, late Aldermen of the City of Norwich, now deceaſed, or by the executors, or the ſurvivor of the executor of either of them, of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, not amounting in the whole above the clear yearly value of fourty pound, to be imployed and converted to, and for the diſcharge of Tolls and Cuſtoms within the ſaid City, and at the gates of the ſame, for the diſcharge of the poor people within the ſame City, of Taxes, and Tallages hereafter to be aſſeſſed and levied, and for the cleanſing of the ſtreets of the ſame City, or for any of the ſaid good purpoſes, according to the true intents and meanings of the ſaid laſt Wills and Teſtaments, and either of them: ſo that the ſame ordinances, devices, and declarations be had, made, and certified in writing into the Kings Court of Chancery, within two years next enſuing the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming.

CAP. XI.

Breaking of Priſon by a Clerk convict, is Felony.

Where divers perſons being convict of murder, or felony, having the priviledge of their Clergy, and delivered to the Ordinaries, afterwards wilfully break the priſons of the Ordinaries, and eſcape their ways, doing and committing great, horrible, and deteſtable offences: and as hitherto for ſuch wilful breaking of priſons of Ordinaries by Clerks convict, hath not been provided any great penalty, whereby they ſhould ſtand in dread of doing of the ſame. Be it therefore enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any Clerk convict being in priſon of any Ordinary, wilfully break the ſaid priſon, & eſcape his way out of yͤ ſame, that then every ſuch breaking of priſon & eſcape, ſhall be from henceforth deemed and adjudged felony, and the offender therein ſhall have and ſuffer ſuch pain of death and penalty, and loſs of his lands and goods, as for other felonies is accuſtomed by the Laws of this Realm, and ſhall not in any wiſe be admitted to have the priviledge or benefit of his Clergy, nor enjoy any ſanctuary for the ſame.

It is felony for a Clerk convict being in the Ordinaries priſon to break the ſame. REP. Ed. 6. 12.

They which be within holy Orders ſhall be delivered to the Ordinary. Alt. 28 H. 8. 1.

Provided alway, That if any ſuch offender be within holy Orders, that is to ſay, of the orders of Subdeacon, Deacon, or Prieſthood, that then after he is convict of the premiſes, he ſhall be delivered to the Ordinary, there to remain without any purgation.

The Ordinary may diſgrade a Clerk convict, and ſend him to the K. Bench. St. 23 H. 8. 1.

And it is enacted, That it ſhall be at the liberty of the Ordinary to diſgrade any ſuch offender, after he is found guilty, and delivered to him, as a Clerk convict, and ſend him before the King in his bench, with letters witneſſing the ſaid diſgrading; and thereupon the Juſtices of the Kings bench, having the record of his conviction, ſhall have power and authority to give judgment againſt every ſuch offender, being convict and diſgraded, that he ſhall ſuffer death, like as they might do in caſe the ſame offender had been a lay man, and arraigned and found guilty afore them of the ſaid offence, the delivering of ſuch offender afore to the Ordinary notwithſtanding.

CAP. XII.

The Penalty for hindering of Paſſengers upon the bank of the River of Severn.

An old uſe to have a path on both ſides the River of Severn.

Where the Kings ſubjects paſſing upon the River and water of Severn, have uſed time out of mind to have, and uſe a certain path a foot and a half broad on every ſide of the ſaid River, for drawing up by lines or ropes, their Troughs, Barges, Boats, and other veſſels, paſſing or repaſſing on the ſaid River of Severn with Wine, or any other merchandiſe, without any impoſition, tax, or toll to be demanded of them that ſo ſhould carry Wine in any of the ſaid veſſels, for the ſaid paſſing and drawing in the ſaid paths accuſtomed, till now of late certain covetous perſons have perturbed, and interrupted many of the Kings ſubjects, haling and drawing up their veſſels in the ſaid paths, taking of them fines, and draughts, and bottles of Wine, and yet daily uſe to take, to the diſturbance and loſs to many of the Kings ſubjects.

The penalty for hindering paſſengers upon the bank of the river of Severn, or for demanding of Toll.

Be it therefore enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, and the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled; That no perſon or perſons interrupt by any obſtacle, let, or otherwiſe, any perſon or perſons paſſing or repaſſing, on and upon every of the ſaid paths accuſtomed, nor alſo ask, take, or demand, any toll called a draught, or bottle of wine, or any other tax, or impoſition of any of the Kings ſubjects there going, in the ſaid paths accuſtomed, upon every ſide of the River of Severn, there haling or drawing their boats, troughs, or veſſels, upon pain to forfeit for every time that he or they ſo ſhall interrupt any of the Kings ſubjects, or ask or take any ſuch impoſition, by what name ſoever it be called, fourty ſhillings. The one half thereof to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half to the party grieved, that will ſue for the ſame by bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe, in the which ſuit no eſſoin, wager of Law, nor protection ſhall be allowed. St. 9 H. 6. 5. 19 H. 7. 18.

CAP. XIII.

What men in Corporate Towns ſhall paſs in Trial of Murders.

Trial of Felons in Corporate Towns may be by men worth xl. li. in goods.

Foraſmuch as trial in murders and felonies in Cities, Boroughs, and Towns-corporate within this Realm, having authority to proceed in the deliverance of ſuch offenders, been oftentimes deferred and delayed, by reaſon of challenge of ſuch offenders, for lack of ſufficiency of freehold, to the great hinderance of Juſtice. It may therefore be enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That every perſon & perſons being the Kings natural ſubject born, which either by the name of a Citizen, or of a Freeman, or any other name, doth enjoy and uſe the liberties and priviledges of any City, Borough, or Town corporate, where he dwelleth, and maketh his abode, being worth in moveable goods, and ſubſtance to the cleer value of fourty pounds, be from henceforth admitted in trial of murders, and felonies, in every Seſſions, and Goal-delivery to be kept and holden in and for the liberty of ſuch Cities, Boroughs, and Towns corporate, albeit they have no freehold; any Act, Statute, uſe, cuſtom, or ordinance to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

Provided alway, that this Act do not extend in any maner of wiſe to any Knight, or Eſquire, dwelling, abiding, or reſorting, in, or to any ſuch City, or Borough corporate, any thing in the ſame Act mentioned or declared to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

CAP. XIV.

Like proceſs ſhall be had in every Writ of annuity and Covenant as in an action of debt.

FOr as much as there is great delays in actions of treſpaſs brought upon the Statute of King Richard the ſecond, made in the fifth year of his reign, againſt them that make entrees into any lands or tenements, where their entree is not given by the law, and alſo in actions of annuity and actions of covenant, becauſe there lieth no proceſs of Outlary in ſuch nature of actions. For reformation whereof, it may pleaſe the Kings Highneſs, by the advice of his Lords Spiritual, and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, to ordain and enact, that like proceſs be had hereafter in every action from henceforth to be brought upon the ſaid Statute of anno Quinto, as in a common action of treſpaſs at the common law, and that alſo like proceſs be had in every writ of annuity, and covenant hereafter to be ſued, as is in an action of debt. Br. Exigent. 22.53.63. Br. Proces. 12.125.

What proceſs ſhall be had in treſpaſs upon the Stat. of 5 R.2.7. Writs of annuity and covenant.

CAP. XV.

Where the Plaintiff is nonſuit, &c. the defendant ſhall recover coſts.

BE it enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Teniporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons at any time after the Feaſt of the Purification of our Lady in the xxiii. year of the reign of our Soveraign Lord King Henry the eight, commence or ſue in any Court of Record, or elſewhere in any other Court, any action, bill, or plaint of treſpaſs upon the ſtatute of King Richard the ſecond, made in the fifth year of his reign, for entrees into lands and tenements, where none entre is given by law, or any action, bill, or plaint of debt, or covenant upon any eſpecialty, made to the plaintiff or plaintiffs, or upon any contract ſuppoſed to be made between the plaintiff or plaintiffs, & any perſon or perſons, or any action, bill, or plaint of Detinue, of any goods or cattels, whereof the plaintiff or plaintiffs ſhall ſuppoſe that the property belongeth to them, or to any of them, or any action, bill or plaint of accompt, in the which the plaintiff or plaintiffs ſuppoſe the defendant or defendants to be their Bailiff or Bailiffs, receivor or receivors of their maner, meſe, money, or goods to yield accompt, or any action, bill, or plaint upon the caſe, or upon any ſtatute, for any offence or wrong perſonal immediately ſuppoſed to be done to yͤ plaintiff or plaintiffs: & the plaintiff or plaintiffs in any ſuch kind of action, bill or plaint, after appearance of the defendant or defendants be nonſuited, or that any verdict happen to paſs by lawful trial againſt yͤ plaintiff or plaintiffs in any ſuch action, bill or plaint: that then the defendant or defendants in every ſuch action, bill or plaint, ſhall have judgment to recover his coſts againſt every ſuch plaintiff or plaintiffs. And that to be aſſeſſed and taxed by the diſcretion of the Judge, or Judges of the Court, where any ſuch action, bill, or plaint ſhall be commenced, ſued, or taken. And alſo that every defendant in ſuch action, bill, or plaint ſhall have ſuch proceſs and execution, for the recovery, and having of his coſts, againſt the plaintiff or plaintiffs, as the ſame plaintiff or plaintiffs, ſhould or might have had againſt the defendant or defendants, in caſe that judgment had been given for the hurt of the ſaid plaintiff or plaintiffs, in ſuch action, bill, or plaint. Dyer f.32.371. Bro. Coſts 23.

The defendant ſhall recover his coſts in certain actions, if the plaintiff be nonſuit, or the verdict paſs againſt him. St. 8 El. 2. 4 Jac. 3. Co. pl. f. 29. Co. Inſt. 2 part. 651. Cro. El. 177. 308. 465. 503.

Provided alway, that all and every ſuch poor perſon or perſons being plaintiff or plaintiffs in any of the ſaid actions, bills, or plaints, which at the commencement of the ſuits, or actions, be admitted by diſcretion of the Judge or Judges, where ſuch ſuits or actions ſhall be purſued or taken, to have their proceſs and counſel of charity without any money or fee paying for the ſame, ſhall not be compelled to pay any coſts by vertue and force of this ſtatute, but ſhall ſuffer other puniſhment, as by the diſcretion of the Juſtices or Judge, afore whom ſuch ſuits ſhall depend, ſhall be thought reaſonable, any thing afore rehearſed to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

He that ſueth in Forma Pauperis ſhall be otherwiſe puniſhed.

CAP. XVI.

It ſhall be felony to ſell, exchange, or deliver to any Scottiſhman, or within Scotland any horſe, gelding, &c. Rep. 4 Jac. 1. 1 Ed. 6. 12. 1 Ed. 6. 5. 1 El. 7.

CAP. XVII.

How and in what manner Woolls ſhall be wound.

BE it enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual, and Temporal, with the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that from henceforth no manner of perſon ne perſons ſhall wind, or cauſe to be wound any fleece of Wooll being not ſufficiently rivered, or waſhed, ne wind nor cauſe to be wound within any fleece, clay, lead, ſtones, ſand tails, deceitful locks, cot, cals, comber, lambs wooll, or any other thing, whereby the fleece may be the more weighty, to the deceit and loſs of the buyer, upon pain the ſeller of any ſuch deceitful woolls, to forfeit for every ſuch fleece vi. d. the one moyety to the King, the other to the finder and prover of the ſame deceipt, by action of debt, by original writ, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe in any of the Kings Courts, in which action no wager of Law, Eſſoin, or protection ſhall be allowed for the defendant.

No wooll ſhall be wound, that is not ſufficiently waſhed, no deceitful thing ſhall be put in the fleece. St. 8 H. 6. 22.

Counties where wooll is not waſhed or where fleeces be ſold by tale.

Provided alway that this Act concerning rivering, and waſhing of any wooll, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to any ſhire or ſhires, the inhabitants whereof have not cuſtomably uſed before this time to river, or waſh their ſheep afore they be ſhorn, nor ſhall in any wiſe be hurtful or prejudicial to any perſon or perſons, that have uſed cuſtomably to ſell their wolls by tale or number of the fleece or fleeces, and not by the weight. Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding. This Act to endure to the next Parliament. St. 13 Eliz. 25. made perpetual.

CAP. XVIII.

Fiſhgarthes in the rivers of Ouſe and Humber ſhall be pulled down.

The inconveniences inſuing the ſetting of fiſhgarths, ſtakes, piles, in Ouſe and Humber.

The Maior, Sheriffs, and Comminalty of the City of York, and other the Kings true ſubjects inhabiting and dwelling nigh unto the river of Ouſe, and the water of Humber, and all other occupiers of the ſame river and water, lamentably complaining, ſhewen unto our Soveraign Lord the King, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, that where the ſaid City, being one of the moſt ancient Cities of this Realm, hath been much relieved, maintained, and ſupported by the ſaid river of Ouſe, and water of Humber, which be the common and direct paſſage, and way from Hull unto York aforeſaid, by reaſon that many ſhips, keyles, cogs, and boats, and other veſſels have heretofore had their frank paſſages, without let, impediment or interruption, in and upon the ſaid river and water of Ouſe and Humber, from divers parts of this Realm unto the ſaid City, whereby the ſaid City hath hitherto moſt chiefly been advanced: And now of late certain perſons ſtudying only for their own private lucre, not regarding the common weal, but daily imagining the utter deſtruction, ruine, and decay of the ſaid City, and the countries adjoyning upon the ſaid river of Ouſe and water of Humber, and occupiers thereof, have, and daily doe keep, preſerve and maintain certain engines for taking of fiſh in the ſaid river and water of Ouſe and Humber, commonly called fiſhgarthes, and ſet in the ſaid river and water, in ſuch places of the ſame, where ſhips ſhould have their liberal and direct paſſage in the mids of the ſtreams of the ſaid river of Ouſe and water of Humber, ſtakes, piles, and other things in and upon the common paſſage for ſhips, keyles, cogs, boats, and other veſſels, at divers and many places in the ſaid river of Ouſe and water of Humber: by reaſon whereof not only the ſaid ſhips, keyles cogs, boats, and other veſſels are daily in jeopardy, and men, children, goods, and merchandiſes in the ſame of late have been, and daily be like more to increaſe to be drowned, ſlain, and deſtroyed, but alſo brood and fry of fiſh in the ſaid river and water of Ouſe and Humber be commonly there by deſtroyed, and putrified, to the utter impoveriſhment, and deſtruction of the ſaid City, unleſs ſpeedy remedy be in this behalf ſhortly provided.

A Commiſſion ſhall be directed to viii. perſons to cauſe ſuch fiſhgarths, piles, &c. ſet in the rivers of Ouſe and Humber to be pulled down.

Wherefore it may pleaſe our ſaid Soveraign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That the Lord Chancellor of England, for the time being, by the Kings Commiſſion under his great Seal, afore the firſt day of May now next coming, ſhall by his diſcretion appoint viii. ſad and diſcreet perſons, whereof four of them to be of the Citizens of the ſaid City of York, and Burgeſſes of the ſaid Town of Hull, and the other four to be two of them Juſtices of the Peace of the Weſt riding of the County of York, and the other two Juſtices of the Peace of the Eaſt riding of the ſame County, that they viii. vii. vi. v. or iv. of them, whereof two of them to be of the ſaid Citizens and Burgeſſes of the ſaid city and town, and other two to be, one of them Juſtice of the Peace of the Weſt riding, and the other of the Eaſt riding of the ſaid county, on this ſide the firſt day of June now next enſuing, ſhall have power and authority to ſurvey, and ſee the ſaid fiſhgarthes, wears, piles, ſtakes, and other engines ſet and made in the ſaid river and water of Ouſe and Humber: which ſaid perſons ſo aſſigned ſhall have power and authority by vertue of this act, to appoint and aſſign by their diſcretions the owners of the ſaid fiſhgarthes, ſtakes, piles and other engins to avoid and pull up, or cauſe to be avoided, and pulled up within forty days after ſuch ſurveyance made, and monition given to the ſaid owners, every ſuch, and as much of the ſaid fiſhgarths, piles, ſtakes, Heckes, and other engines, which then by their diſcretions ſhall be thought expedient, meet, and convenient to be avoided, and pulled up, that the ſaid ſhips, keyles, cogs, boats, and other veſſels, paſſing and repaſſing on the ſaid river, and water of Ouſe and Humber, to or from the ſaid City of York, and Town of Hull, may have direct, liberal, and frank paſſage, in, thorow, or upon the ſaid river of Ouſe, and water of Humber, without any perturbance, impediment, let, or danger by reaſon of any of the ſaid fiſhgarths, piles, ſtakes, or other engins, then left erected, and ſtanding, in the ſaid river, and water of Ouſe and Humber: And that the ſaid owners on every ſide of the ſaid fiſhgarths, and other engins, next to the middle of the ſaid water ſtream, and paſſage of the ſaid veſſels there, to ſet or cauſe to be ſet within the ſaid fourty days before limited, two piles of the length of one yard over and above the high water mark at the full ſea of the ſaid river and water of the Spring tide, there to be and remain, and to be kept and repaired by the ſaid owners, when keyles, cogs, and other veſſels in the ſame waters, may have perfect knowledge, and ſight of the direct way, and paſſage in the ſaid waters, thorow the ſaid fiſhgarths and engins for the ſaid ſhips, keyles, boats, and other veſſels.

Two piles for water-marks ſhall be ſet in the River.

The Lord Chancellor may upon requeſt grant the like Commiſſion at all times.

And be it enacted by the ſaid authority, That the Lord Chancellor of England, for the time being, at all times after the ſaid firſt ſurveiance, upon requeſt to him to be made by the Maior and Comminalty of the ſaid City and Town, or by any other Citizen and Burgeſs of the ſaid City and Town for the time being, or other perſon by them under the common Seals of the ſaid City and Town authoriſed, ſhall have power and authority by his diſcretion, to make and direct like commiſſion unto eight ſad and diſcreet perſons, whereof four of them to be the citizens and inhabitants of the ſaid City and Town, and the other four to be Juſtices of the Peace, whereof two to be of the Weſt-riding, and the other two of the Eaſt-riding of the County of York, not of fee nor retained with the ſaid City nor Town, that they viii. vii. vi. v. or iv. of them, whereof two of them ſhall be of the ſaid City and Town, and the other two Juſtices of Peace the one of the Eaſt-riding, and the other of the Weſt-riding of the ſaid County, by vertue of the ſaid commiſſion, ſhall and may the ſaid owners aſſign and appoint to pull up and redreſs, or cauſe to be pulled up and redreſſed within xxx. days after monition given to the ſaid owners by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or by ſuch of them taking the charge of the execution of the ſaid commiſſion, ſuch and as much of the ſaid fiſh-garths and other impediments to be made in the ſaid waters, to the let, diſturbance, damage or jeopardy of any ſhips, keyls, boats, or any other veſſels, paſſing, or repaſſing to or from the ſaid City of York, to the ſaid Town of Hull, as by them ſhall be thought meet and convenient.

No fiſh-garths or other engins ſhall be ſet in Ouſe and Humber. With what nets men ſhall fiſh.

And further be it enacted by the ſaid authority, that no manner of perſon or perſons within the ſaid river and water of Ouſe and Humber, ſhall ſet fiſh-garths, or any other engins, to take fiſh withall, within the waters aforeſaid, but only with ſuch nets, and other engins as ſhall be of aſſize and meaſure, according to the ſtandard, and ancient and laudable cuſtoms uſed in the ſaid river and water of Ouſe and Humber, and alſo to uſe the fiſhing within the ſaid waters all ſuch times as within the ſame hath of old been accuſtomed, and at no other time.

The forfeiture of the offendors, and who ſhall have it.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that every of the ſaid owners and occupiers of ſuch fiſh-garths, for every moneth offending contrary to this Act, ſhall forfeit xl. l. And every other perſon in fiſhing contrary to this Act offending, ſhall forfeit x. l. the one half of which penalty and penalties, to be to our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other half to the Maior and comminalty of the ſaid City of York, and their ſucceſſors, and the ſame to be recovered againſt every perſon and perſons ſo offending, as well by Bill, Information, or otherwiſe at the Kings ſuit, as by original writ of Debt, at the ſuit of the ſaid Maior and comminalty and their ſucceſſors, in which Action the party defendant ſhall not wage his law, nor have any protection or eſſoin allowed.

In what caſe the defendant ſhall not recover coſts.

There ſhall be no coſts of ſuit awarded to the defendant where any action is ſued to the Kings uſe.

BEcauſe as well many Recogniſances, Obligations, Indentures and other ſpecialties, as alſo many contracts heretofore have been taken, and made, between divers perſons being of the Kings moſt honourable Councel, and other his Subjects, and by and between other perſons, to the uſe and behoof of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King for great ſums of money, then being to his Grace due, and for his proviſion and other cauſes. For which debts, actions by the laws of this Realm be to be commenced, ſued, and proſecuted to the Kings uſe, by and in the name and names of the perſon or perſons, to whom the ſaid Recogniſances, Obligations, and other ſpecialties were made, or by thoſe, to whom the ſaid contracts were made. Be it therefore ordained and enacted, by authority of this preſent Parliament, That albeit that the plaintiff or plaintiffs, be or ſhall be nonſuited in any whatſoever action, ſuit, bill, or plaint commenced, or to be commenced, ſued, or to be ſued, to the uſe of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors, Kings of England, or that it ſhall happen any verdict to paſs againſt any ſuch plaintiff or plaintiffs, in any action, ſuit, bill, or plaint ſued or to be ſued, to the Kings uſe: the defendant or defendants ſhall not recover any coſts againſt any ſuch plaintiff or plaintiffs, any Act, or Statute made in this preſent Parliament, or any other thing to the contrary being in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. X.

Choughs, Crows, and Rooks, ſhall be deſtroyed.

The great inconveniences ſuffered, by reaſon of Choughs, Crows, and Rooks.

FOraſmuch as innumerable number of Rooks, Crows, and Choughs do daily breed, and increaſe throughout this Realm, which Rooks, Crows, and Choughs, do yearly devour and conſume a wonderful and marvelous great quantity of corn and grain of all kinds, that is to wit, as well in the ſowing of the ſame Corn and grain, as alſo in the ripening and kernelling of the ſame, and over that a marvellous deſtruction, and decay of the covertures of thatched houſes, barns, reeks, ſtacks, and other ſuch like: ſo that if the ſaid Crows, Rooks, and Choughs ſhould be ſuffered to breed and continue, as they have been in certain years paſt, they will undoubtedly be the cauſe of the great deſtructon, and conſumption of a great part of the Corn and Grain, which hereafter ſhall be ſown throughout this Realm, to the great prejudice, damage, and undoing of the great number of the Tillers, husbands, and Sowers of the Earth within the ſame.

Every man ſhall do his beſt to deſtroy Crows, &c. upon pain of amerciament, being preſented at Leets, Sheriffs turns, Seſſions, &c.

For remedy whereof be it enacted by the Authority of this preſent Parliament, that every perſon and perſons, as well Spiritual as Temporal, having, keeping, holding, and Inhabiting in any manors, Meaſes, lands, or tenements in their own manurance, and occupation of any eſtate of inheritance, or for term of life, or for years, or at will, or by copy of Court Roll, or otherwiſe in poſſeſſion or uſe, ſhall hereafter do or cauſe to be done, as much as in him or them reaſonably ſhall or may be, to kill and utterly deſtroy all manner of Choughs, Crows, Rooks, coming, abiding, breeding, or haunting within or upon any the ſaid Manors, Meaſes, lands, or tenements which he or they ſhall inhabit and dwell upon, and have in their manurance, and occupation, as is aforeſaid, upon pain of a grievous amerciament, to be ſet and aſſeſſed, as hereafter ſhall be expreſſed: that is to ſay, that if any offence be done contrary to this Statute, by any perſon or perſons, inhabited within the limits of the leets, lawdays, rapes or Court Barons of any Lords, having ſuch Courts, that then upon a preſentment thereof made before the Steward of ſuch Leets, lawdays, rapes, or Courts, the Stewards with two of the Preſenters, (by the Steward and Preſenters to be named) ſhall aſſeſs and ſet for every default preſented to be done contrary to this Act, ſuch amerciament as to them ſhall ſeem reaſonable and convenient, after the quantity of the offence, the ſaid amerciaments to be to the uſe of the Lord, or Lords of the leets, lawdays, rapes, or courts, where the ſaid offence ſhall be done and preſented, to be levied by diſtreſs of the goods and cattels of the offender or offenders, like as other amerciaments for common annoyances (preſented in leets) have been accuſtomed to be levied.

And if the offence be done contrary to this Statute by any perſon or perſons, which ſhall dwell and have the manurance of and in ſuch manors, meaſes, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, whereunto ſuch leets, lawdays, rapes, and Courts do not belong, or by reaſon whereof any ſuch Courts be not holden: that then upon a preſentment thereof had before the Sheriffs in the Turnes, or Juſtices of Peace in their Seſſions, the Steward of the Turnes with two of the preſenters, to be choſen as is aforeſaid, if the preſentment be within the turne, and the Juſtices of Peace, or two of them at the leaſt, if the preſentment be before them in their Seſſions, ſhall aſſeſs and ſet the amerciament, after the quantity of the offence, by their diſcretions, to be had and levied to the uſe of our Soveraign Lord the King by diſtreſs, like as other amerciaments be levied upon preſentments of common annoyances.

And further be it enacted, by the authority aforeſaid, That in every Pariſh, Townſhip, Hamlet, Borough, or village whithin this Realm, wherein is at leaſt ten houſholds inhabited, the tenants and inhabitants thereof ſhall before the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next, and ſo during ten years next enſuing the ſaid Feaſt, at their own proper coſts, charges, and expences, provide, make, or cauſe to be made one net commonly called a net to take Choughs, Crows, and Rooks, with all things requiſite, or belonging to the ſame, and the ſaid net ſo made or cauſed to be made, ſhall keep, preſerve and renue, as often as ſhall need: And with and after a Shrap made with Chaff, and other things meet for that purpoſe, ſhall lay, or cauſe to be laid, at ſuch time or times in the year, as are convenient for deſtruction of ſuch Choughs, Rooks, and Crows, and in ſuch place and places as ſhall be thought expedient to take the ſaid Choughs, Crows, and Rooks, upon pain to forfeit ten ſhillings, the one moyety thereof to be to our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other moyety to the Lord or Lords of the ſame Courts, Leets, Lawdays, or Rapes, where any ſuch net ſhall be lacking, and not made, and put in execution according to this Act, to be levied of the tenants of the ſaid Pariſh, Townſhip, Hamlet, Borough, or Village, where any ſuch net ſhall be lacking, and not put in ure and execution as is aforeſaid. And that every ſuch net with all things requiſite thereunto, ſhall one time in the year, at the leaſt, be preſented in the Court Baron, Leet, Rape, or Lawday, before the Steward of the ſame Court, Leet, Rape, or Lawday, whereunto the ſaid Tenants, and Inhabitants ſhall be bounden to ſue, and appear, to be viewed, whether the ſame be ſufficiently repaired or not, for the foreſaid purpoſe: So that by the advice of the Steward, Tenants, and Inhabitants of the ſaid Court Baron, Leet, Rape, or Lawday, where any ſuch net ſhall be neceſſary to be uſed, a ſure way and ordinance may be deviſed for the reparation, continuance, and putting in execution of the ſaid net at times and places convenient, as is aforeſaid. And that ſuch ordinances, as ſhall be deviſed and made by the Steward, tenants and Inhabitants of, and within the ſaid Leets, Lawdays, Rapes, and Courts, or by the moſt part of them, to and for the deſtruction of the ſaid Rooks, Crows, and Choughs, ſhall ſtand good and effectual, and be put in due execution, according to the tenor thereof.

Every Town, Hamle, &c. ſhall provide and maintain Crow nets during ten years. Exp.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That as well ſuch perſon and perſons, as ſhall inhabit, and have in his manurance and occupation, any Manors, Meaſes, Lands, Tenements, or other hereditaments, whereunto any ſuch Leets, Lawdays, Rapes, or Courts appertain, or by reaſon whereof any ſuch Courts be holden, as the Tenants, and Farmers inhabiting, and having in their manurance and occupation, any meaſes, Lands, Tenements, or hereditaments holding of ſuch manors, meaſes, or other hereditameuts, whereunto ſuch Courts as is aforeſaid, do belong, ſhall yearly during the ſaid ten years, at ſuch days, places, and times, as by the Steward of ſuch Leets, Lawdays, Rapes, or Courts ſhall be appointed, aſſemble themſelves together to view, viſit, and ſurvey all the ſaid manors, meaſes, lands, tenements, & hereditaments, where they or any of them ſhall happen to dwell or inhabit, and be reſident, and thereupon ſhall agree and conclude, how and by what means it ſhall be beſt poſſible to deſtroy all the young breed of the ſaid Choughs, Crows, and Rooks, for that year; and the ſame aſſembly, view, and viſitation ſhall make yearly, during the ſaid ten years, at moſt convenient and apt times for the ſame, and ſhall put the ſame in due execution, ſo as the ſaid young breed of Choughs, Crows, and Rooks may be utterly deſtroyed upon pain to forfeit for every year omitting ſuch aſſembly, endeavour, and view making according to this Act, twenty ſhillings, after preſentment of ſuch default had before the Kings Juſtices of Peace: the one half of which forfeiture to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half to be to the preſenters of the ſaid offence, to be levied by diſtreſs, like as amerciaments for common annoyances, have been accuſtomed to be levied.

The Inhabitants ſhall during ten years; aſſemble and take order to deſtroy Crows, Rooks, &c. Exp.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that as well the Juſtices of Peace in their Seſſions, and Sheriffs in their turns, as Stewards, Maiors, and Bailiffs elected in their Leets, Lawdays, Rapes, and Court Barons, to be hereafter holden before them, or any of them, ſhall give any charge to the tenants and inhabitants, and all other appearing before any of them, that they ſhall duly inquire, and put in execution the effect of the premiſes in due time, ſo that this Act may be fully and truly executed, and the Choughs, Crows, and Rooks thereby deſtroyed in all places of this Realm, according to the meaning and true intent of this Statute.

The defaults ſhall be given in charge in Leets, &c.

And over this it is enacted that it ſhall be lawful to every perſon and perſons, only minding and willing to take and deſtroy the ſaid Crows, Rooks, or Choughs, after requeſt thereof made to the owner, or occupier of the ſame ground, where ſuch Crows, Rooks, or Choughs, haunt or breed, to enter, take and carry away all ſuch Rooks, or Choughs, and Crows, as he ſhall take that ſame day, in which ſuch requeſt ſhall be made from time to time, without let, impediment, or impeachment by any manner mean of the ſaid owner or occupier of the ſame.

Any man with licence of the owner of the ground may take Crows, &c.

And it is further enacted, that every farmer or owner, having in his own manurance, and occupation any Manors, Meaſes, Lands, Tenements, or other hereditaments, whereof the yearly value, or rent amounteth to v. pounds, ſhall pay, and give to every ſuch perſon, which by his diligence, labour and induſtry at his own proper coſts doth take any old Crows,

The taker of Crows, &c. ſhall have after the rate of two pence the dozen.

Rooks, or Choughs, within and upon the ſaid Manors, Lands, or grounds of the yearly value aforeſaid, two pence for every twelve old Crows, Rooks, or Choughs, that any ſuch perſon ſhall take, bring, and offer to any ſuch farmer or owner; and for every ſix old Crows, Rooks, or Choughs, a peny; and for every three, an half peny: And if any ſuch owner, or farmer refuſe to pay the ſaid money accordingly, as is aforeſaid, then upon complaint, and proof thereof made to any of the Juſtices of Peace, or high Conſtable, the ſaid Juſtice of Peace or high Conſtable ſhall cauſe the ſaid money to be levied by diſtreſs of the goods and cattels of every farmer or occupier refuſing to pay the ſame according to the tenor and effect of this Act.

None under pretence of this Act ſhall kill pigeons.

Provided always, That no perſon or perſons, by colour or authority of this Act, ſhall take or kill any Doves, or Pigeons, upon the pains limited by the Laws, and cuſtoms of this Realm heretofore for ſuch offences uſed, and accuſtomed. Stat. 8 El. 15.

CAP. XI.

The Street-way between Charing Croſs and Strond Croſs, ſhall be ſufficiently paved at the charge of the owners of the lands. And the pavement being made, it ſhall be maintained by the owners of the land adjoyning to the ſame, upon pain of forfeiture to the King of vi. d. for every yard ſquare not paved or repaired. PR.

CAP. XII.

No appeals ſhall be uſed but within this Realm.

The power, preeminence, and authority of the King of England.

Where by divers ſundry old, authentick Hiſtories, and Chronicles, it is manifeſtly declared and expreſſed, that this Realm of England is an Empire, and ſo hath been accepted in the world, governed by one ſupreme head and King, having the dignity and royal eſtate of the Imperial Crown of the ſame: Unto whom a body politick, compact of all ſorts and degrees of people, divided in terms, and by names of Spiritualty and Temporalty, been bounden and owen to bear next to God, a natural and humble obedience: He being alſo inſtitute and furniſhed by the goodneſs and ſufferance of Almighty God, with plenary, whole, and entire power, preeminence, authority, prerogative and juriſdiction, to render and yield Juſtice, and final determination to all manner of folk reſiants, or ſubjects within this his Realm, in all cauſes, matters, debates, and contentions, happening to occur, inſurge, or begin within the limits thereof, without reſtraint, or provocation to any forrain Princes, or Potentates of the world;

The power, learning and wiſdom of the body ſpiritual.

The body ſpiritual whereof having power, when any cauſe of the Law divine happened to come in queſtion, or of ſpiritual learning, that it was declared, interpreted and ſhewed by that part of the ſaid body politick, called the Spiritualty, now being uſually called the Engliſh Church, which always hath been reputed, and alſo found of that ſort, that both for knowledge, integrity and ſufficiency of number, it hath been always thought, and is alſo at this hour, ſufficient and meet of it ſelf, without the intermedling of any exterior perſon or perſons, to declare and determine all ſuch doubts, and to adminiſter all ſuch offices and duties, as to their rooms ſpiritual doth appertain. For the due adminiſtration whereof, and to keep them from corruption, and ſiniſter affection, the Kings moſt Noble progenitors, and the anteceſſors of the nobles of this Realm, have ſufficiently endowed the ſaid Church, both with honour and poſſeſſions.

The form and manner of governament of the eſtate temporal.

And the laws Temporal, for trial of property of lands and goods, and for the conſervation of the people of this Realm in unity and peace, without rapine or ſpoil, was and yet is adminiſtred, adjudged, and executed by ſundry Judges, and miniſters of the other part of the ſaid body politick, called the Temporalty: And both their authorities and juriſdictions do conjoyn together in the due adminiſtration of Juſtice, the one to help the other.

And whereas the King his moſt noble progenitors, and the Nobility and Commons of this ſaid Realm, at divers and ſundry Parliaments, as well in the time of King Edward the firſt, Edward the third, Richard the ſecond, Henry the fourth, and other noble Kings of this Realm, made ſundry Ordinances, Laws, Statutes, and proviſions for the entire and ſure conſervation of the prerogatives, liberties, and preeminences of the ſaid Imperial Crown of this Realm, and of the juriſdiction Spiritual and Temporal of the ſame, to keep it from the annoyance as well of the See of Rome, as from the authority of other forreign Potentates attempting the diminution or violation thereof, as often, and from time to time, as any ſuch annoyance or attempt might be known or eſpied. And notwithſtanding the ſaid good ſtatutes, and ordinances made in the time of the Kings moſt noble progenitors, in preſervation of the authority and prerogative of the ſaid imperial Crown, as is aforeſaid: yet nevertheleſs ſithen the making of the ſaid good ſtatutes and ordinances, divers and ſundry inconveniences, and dangers, not provided for plainly by the ſaid former acts, ſtatutes, and ordinances, have riſen, and ſprung, by reaſon of appeals ſued out of this Realm to the See of Rome, in cauſes teſtamentary, cauſes of matrimony, and divorces, right of tithes, oblations, and obventions, not only to the great inquietation, vexation, trouble, coſts and charges of the Kings Highneſs, and many of his ſubjects, and reſiants of this his Realm, but alſo to the great delay, and let, to the true and ſpeedy determination of the ſaid cauſes, for ſo much as the parties, appealing to the ſaid Court of Rome, moſt commonly do the ſame for the delay of Juſtice. And for as much as the great diſtance of way is ſo far out of this Realm, ſo that the neceſſary proofs nor the true knowledge of the cauſe, can neither there be ſo well known, ne the witneſſes there ſo well examined, as within this Realm, ſo that the parties grieved by means of the ſaid appeals, be moſt times without remedy. In conſideration whereof, the Kings Highneſs, his Nobles and Commons conſidering the great enormities, dangers, long delays and hurts, that as well to his Highneſs, as to his ſaid Nobles, ſubjects, Commons, and reſiants of this his Realm, in the ſaid cauſes teſtamentary, cauſes of matrimony, and divorces, tithes, oblations, and obventions, do daily enſue, enſue, Doth therefore by his royal aſſent, and by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, enact, eſtabliſh, and ordain, that all cauſes teſtamentary, cauſes of matrimony, and divorces, rights of tithes, oblations and obventions (the knowledge whereof by the goodneſs of Princes of this Realm, and by the laws and cuſtoms of the ſame appertaineth to the ſpiritual juriſdiction of this Realm) already commenced, moved, depending, being, happening, or hereafter coming in contention, debate, or queſtion within this Realm, or within any the Kings Dominions or marches of the ſame, or elſewhere, whether they concern the King our Soveraign Lord, his heirs or ſucceſſors, or any other ſubjects or reſiants within the ſame, of what degree ſoever they be, ſhall be from henceforth, heard, examined, diſcuſſed, cleerly finally, and definitively, adjudged and determined within the Kings juriſdicton and authority, and not elſewhere, in ſuch Courts Spiritual and Temporal of the ſame, as the natures, conditions, and qualities of the caſes and matters aforeſaid in contention, or hereafter happening in contention, ſhall require, without having any reſpect to any cuſtom, uſe, or ſufferance, in hinderance, let, or prejudice of the ſame, or to any other thing uſed, or ſuffered to the contrary thereof by any other manner of perſon or perſons in any manner of wiſe: Any forein inhibitions, appeals, ſentences, ſummons, citations, ſuſpenſions, interdictions, excommunications, reſtraints, judgments, or any other proceſs, or impediments, of what natures, names, qualities, or conditions ſoever they be, from the See of Rome, or any other forein Courts or Potentates of the world, or from and out of this Realm, or any other the Kings Dominions, or marches of the ſame, to the See of Rome, or to any other forreign Courts, or Potentates, to the let or impediment thereof, in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And that it ſhall be lawful to the King our Soveraign Lord, and to his Heirs and Succeſſors, and to all other Subjects, or reſiants within this Realm, or within any of the Kings Dominions, or Marches of the ſame, notwithſtanding that hereafter it ſhould happen any excommengement, excommunications, interdictions, citations, or any other cenſures, or forreign proceſs out of any outward parts, to be fulminate, promulged, declared, or put in execution within this ſaid Realm, or any other place or places, for any of the cauſes before rehearſed, in prejudice, derogation, or contempt of this ſaid Act, and the very true meaning and execution thereof, may and ſhall nevertheleſs as well purſue, execute, have, and enjoy the effects, profits, benefits, and commodities of all ſuch proceſſes, ſentences, judgments, and determinations, done, or hereafter to be done in any of the ſaid Courts Spiritual or Temporal, as the Dominions, and Marches of the ſame: and thoſe only, and none other to take place, and to be firmly obſerved, and obeyed within the ſame. As alſo that all the ſpiritual Prelates, Paſtors, Miniſters, and Curates within this Realm and Dominions of the ſame, ſhall and may uſe, miniſter, execute, and doe, or cauſe to be uſed, miniſtred, executed and done, all Sacraments, ſacramentals, divine ſervices, and all otherthiugs within the ſaid Realm and Dominions, unto all the Subjects of the ſame as Catholick and Chriſten men owen to doe, any forrain citations, proceſſes, inhibitions, ſuſpenſions, interdictions, excommunications, or appeals, for or touching any of the cauſes aforeſaid, from, or to the See of Rome, or any other forrain Prince, or forrain Courts, to the let, or contrary thereof, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The ſeveral inconveniences in ſuing of appeals to Rome.

All cauſes determinable by any ſpiritual juriſdiction ſhall be adjudged within the Kings authority.

The Prelates of this Realm may execute all Sacraments and divine Service unto the ſubjects of this Realm.

And if any of the ſaid ſpiritual perſons, by the occaſion of the ſaid fulminations of any of the ſame interdictions, cenſures, inhibitions, excommunications, appeals, ſuſpenſions, ſummons, or other forrain citations, for the cauſes beforeſaid, or for any of them, doe at any time hereafter refuſe to miniſter, or to cauſe to be miniſtred the ſaid Sacraments and ſacramentals, and other divine ſervices, in form as is aforeſaid, then he or they ſhall for every ſuch time, or times that they, or any of them, do refuſe ſo to do, or to cauſe to be done, have one years impriſonment, and to make fine and ranſom at the Kings pleaſure.

The penalty of them who do omit to do their duty.

And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that if any perſon or perſons inhabiting, or reſiant within this Realm, or within any the Kings Dominions, or Marches of the ſame, or any other perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, condition, or degree ſoever he or they be, at any time hereafter, for or in any the cauſes aforeſaid, do attempt, move, purchaſe or procure, from or to the See of Rome, or from, or to any other forrain Court, or Courts, out of this Realm, any manner forrain proceſs, inhibitions, appeals, ſentences, ſummons, citations, ſuſpenſions, interdictions, excommunications, reſtraints, or judgments, of what nature, kind, or quality ſoever they be, or execute any of the ſame proceſs, or do any Act or Acts, to the let, impediment, hinderance, or derogation of any proceſs, ſentence, judgment, or determination, had made, done, or herafter to be had, done, or made in any Courts of this Realm, or the Kings ſaid Dominions or Marches of the ſame, for any of the cauſes aforeſaid, contrary to the true meaning of this preſent Act, and the execution of the ſame: that then every ſuch perſon or perſons, ſo doing, and their fauters, comforters, abetters, procurers, executors, and counſellers, and every of them, being convict of the ſame, for every ſuch default ſhall incur, and run in the ſame pains, penalties, and forfeitures, ordained and provided by the ſtatute of proviſion and premunire, made in the ſixteenth year of the reign of the right noble Prince, King Richard the ſecond, againſt ſuch as attempt, procure or make proviſion to the See of Rome, or elſewhere, for any thing or things, to the Derogation, or contrary to the Prerogative or Juriſdiction of the Crown and dignity of this Realm.

Whoſoever procureth from the See of Rome, or, &c. any Appeals, Proceſs, Sentences, &c. ſhall incur the forfeiture of premunire.

And furthermore in eſchewing the ſaid great enormities, enquietations, delays, charges, and expenſes hereafter to be ſuſtained in purſuing of ſuch appeals, and forrain proceſs, for and concerning the cauſes aforeſaid, or any of them, do therefore by authority aforeſaid, ordain and enact, That in ſuch caſes, where heretofore any of the Kings ſubjects and reſiants have uſed to purſue, provoke or procure any appeal to the See of Rome, and in all other caſes of appeals, in or for any of the cauſes aforeſaid, they may, and ſhall from henceforth take, have, and uſe their appeals within this Realm, and not elſewhere, in manner and form as hereafter enſueth, and not otherwiſe, that is to ſay, Firſt from the Archdeacon or his Official, if the matter or cauſe be there begun, to the Biſhop Dioceſan of the ſaid See, if in caſe any of the parties be grieved.

Dyer 229, 242.

Before whom and in what Courts appeals ſhall be ſued within this Realm.

And in like wiſe if it be commenced before the Biſhop Dioceſan, or his Commiſſary, from the Biſhop Dioceſan, or his Commiſſary, within fifteen days next enſuing the judgment or ſentence thereof there given, to the Archbiſhops of the Province of Canturbury, if it be within his Province, and if it be within the Province of York, then to the Archbiſhop of York, and ſo likewiſe to all other Archbiſhops in other the Kings Dominions, as the caſe by the order of juſtice ſhall require, and there to be definitively and finally ordered, decreed, and adjudged, according to juſtice, without any other appellation or provocation to any other perſon or perſons, Court or Courts.

Appeals ought to be within 15 days.

And if the matter or contention for any of the cauſes aforeſaid, be or ſhall be commenced by any of the Kings ſubjects or reſiants, before the Archdeacon of any Biſhop or his Commiſſary, then the party grieved, ſhall or may take his appeal within fifteen days next after judgement or ſentence there given to the Court of the Arches or audience of the ſame Archbiſhop or Biſhops, and from the ſaid Court of the Arches or audience within fifteen days then next enſuing, after judgment or ſentence there given, to the Archbiſhop of the ſame Province, there to be definitively and finally determined, without any other or further proceſs appeal thereupon to be had or uſed.

Suits commenced before an Archbiſhop ſhall be determined by him without any further appeal. ALT. 25 H. 8. 19. Co. Inſt. 4 p. 339. The prerogative of the Archbiſhop of Canterbury ſaved.

And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every matter, cauſe, and contention now depending, or that hereafter ſhall be commenced by any of the Kings ſubjects or reſiants, for any of the cauſes aforeſaid, before any of the ſaid Archbiſhops, that then the ſame matter or matters, contention or contentions, ſhall be before the ſame Archbiſhop, where the ſaid matter, cauſe, or proceſs ſhall be ſo commenced, definitively determined, decreed, or adjudged without any other appeal, provocation, or any other foreign proceſs out of this Realm, to be ſued to the let or derogation of the ſaid judgment, ſentence, or decree, otherwiſe then is by this Act limited and appointed, ſaving always the prerogative of the Archbiſhop, and Church of Canterbury, in all the foreſaid cauſes of Appeals, to him and his ſucceſſors to be ſued within this Realm, in ſuch, and likewiſe as they have been accuſtomed, and uſed to have heretofore.

Before whom an appeal ſhall be uſed in any cauſe touching the King.

And in caſe any cauſe, matter, or contention, now depending for the cauſes before rehearſed, or any of them, or that hereafter ſhall come in contention, for any of the ſame cauſes, in any of the foreſaid Courts, which hath, doth, ſhall, or may touch the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, Kings of this Realm: that in all and every ſuch caſe or caſes, the party grieved, as before is ſaid, ſhall or may appeal from any of the ſaid Courts of this Realm, where the ſaid matter now being in contention, or hereafter ſhall come in contention, touching the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors (as is aforeſaid) ſhall happen to be ventilate, commenced, or begun, to the Spiritual Prelates, and other Abbots and Priors of the Upper Houſe, aſſembled and convocate by the Kings Writ in the Convocation being or next enſuing, within the Province or Provinces where the ſame matter of contention is or ſhall be begun. So that every ſuch appeal be taken by the party grieved, within fifteen days next after the judgment or ſentence thereupon given or to be given. And that whatſoever be done or ſhall be done and affirmed, determined, decreed, and adjudged by the foreſaid Prelates, Abbots, and Priors of the Upper Houſe of the ſaid Convocation, as is aforeſaid, appertaining, concerning, or belonging to the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, in any of the foreſaid cauſes of appeals, ſhall ſtand and be taken for a final decree, ſentence, judgment, definition, and determination, and the ſame matter ſo determined, never after to come in queſtion and debate, to be examined in other Court or Courts.

And if it ſhall happen any perſon or perſons, hereafter to purſue or provoke any appeal contrary to the effect of this Act, or refuſe to obey, execute, and obſerve all things compriſed within the ſame, concerning the ſaid appeals, provocations, and other foreign proceſſes to be ſued out of this Realm, for any the cauſes aforeſaid, that then every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo doing, refuſing, or offending, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, their procurers, fautors, advocates, counſellers, and abettors, and every of them ſhall incur into the pains, forfeitures, and penalties, ordained and provided in the ſaid Statute, made in the ſaid ſixteenth year of King Richard the Second, and with like proceſs to be made againſt the ſaid offenders, as in the ſame Statute made the ſaid ſixteenth year more plainly appeareth. CAP. I.

Governours of the Cities and market Towns, upon complaint to them made of any Butcher refuſing to ſell victual by weight according to the Statute of 24 H. 8. 3. may commit the offender to ward until he hath paid all penalties limited by the ſaid Statute, and may ſell or cauſe to be ſold by weight all ſuch viſtual for ready money to be delivered to the owner: And if any Graſier, Fermer, Breeder, Drover, &c. refuſe to ſell his fat Cattel to a Butcher upon ſuch reaſonable price as he may retail it at the price aſſeſſed by the Statute, the Juſtices of Peace, Mayors or Governours, ſhall cauſe indifferent perſons to ſet the prices of the ſame, which if the owner refuſe to accept, then the ſame Juſtices, &c. ſhall bind him to appear the next Term in the Star-Chamber to be puniſhed, as the Kings Councel ſhall think good. Exp. 33 H. 8. 11. St. 27 H. 8. 9.

CAP. II.

By whom the prices of victuals ſhall be aſſeſſed.

For as much as dearth, ſcarcity, good cheap and plenty, of cheeſe, butter, capons, hens, chickens and other victuals, neceſſary for mens ſuſtenance, happeneth, riſeth and chanceth, of ſo many and divers occaſions, that it is very hard and difficult to put any certain prices to any ſuch things. And yet nevertheleſs the prices of ſuch victuals be many times inhaunſed and raiſed, by the greedy covetouſneſs and appetites of the owners of ſuch victuals, by occaſion of ingroſſing and regrating the ſame, more than upon any reaſonable or juſt ground, or cauſe, to the great damage and empoveriſhing of the Kings ſubjects. For remedy whereof, be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That upon every complaint made of any inhaunſing of prices of ſuch victuals, without ground or cauſe reaſonable in any part of this Realm, or in any other the Kings Dominions, the Lord Chancellor of England, the Lord Treaſurer, the Lord Preſident of the Kings moſts honourable Councel, the Lord Privy-ſeal, the Lord Steward, the Lord Chamberlain, and all other Lords of the Kings Councel, the Treaſurer and Comtroller of the Kings moſt honourable houſe, the Chancellor of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, the Kings Juſtices of either Bench, the Chancellor, Chamberlains, Under-treaſurer, and the Barons of the Kings Exchequer, or ſeven of them at the leaſt, whereof the Lord Chancellor, the Lord Treaſurer, the Lord Preſident of the Kings Councel, or the Lord Privy-ſeal, to be one, ſhall have power and authority from time to time, as the caſe ſhall require, to ſet and tax reaſonable prices of all ſuch kinds of victuals above ſpecified, how they ſhall be ſold in groſs, or by retail for relief of the Kings ſubjects. And that after ſuch prices ſet and taxed, in form aforeſaid, proclamation ſhall be made in the Kings name, under the great ſeal, of the ſaid prices, in ſuch parts of this Realm, as ſhall be convenient for the ſame.

The prices of victuals ſhall be aſſeſſed by the Kings Councellors Juſtices and Officers.

And be it enacted, That all Fermors, Owners, Broggers, and all other Victuallers whatſoever, having or keeping any of the kinds of victuals afore rehearſed, to the intent to ſell, ſhall ſell the ſame to ſuch of the Kings ſubjects as will by them, at ſuch prices as ſhall be ſet and taxed by the ſaid Proclamation, upon the pains to be expreſſed and limited in the ſaid Proclamation, to be loſt, forfeited, and levied to the Kings uſe, in ſuch wiſe, as by the ſame Proclamation ſhall be declared.

They which have victual muſt ſell them at the prices aſſeſſed.

Provided always that this act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not be hurtful to to Maiors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, or other Officers of Cities, Boroughs, or Towns corporate, or to any perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, having authority to ſet prices of ſuch victuals, or of any of them, but that they and every of them may ſet prices thereof as if this Act had never been had nor made.

Head Officers of corporate Towns may ſet the prices of victuals. St. 23 Ed. 3. 6. 12 Ed. 4. 8.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, unleſs it be by licence under the Kings great Seal, from henceforth ſhall carry or convey, or cauſe to be carried and conveyed, any corn, beefs, muttons, veals, porks, or and other of the abodeſaid victuals, to any the parties beyond the ſea, Except only for the victualling of the Town of Callis, Guiſnes, Hammes, and the Marches of the ſame, And except for victualling of Maſters, Mariners, and Merchants of ſhips paſſing the ſeas, and alſo except barrelled butter, and meal to be carried to the parties of Iſlands, and hath been accuſtomed, upon pain of forfeiting of the value of the thing conveyed and carried into the parties beyond the ſea, contrary to this Act: The one half thereof to the uſe of the ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, and the other half to the party that will ſue for the ſame, by bill, plaint, writ, or information in any of the Kings Courts. In which ſuits the defendant ſhall not wage his law, nor any protection or eſſoin for him ſhall be allowed.

No victual ſhall be tranſported without licence. 1 & 2 P. & M. 5. 5 El. 5. 13 El. 13.

CAP. III.

Clergy not allowed to thoſe who ſtand mute, or who do make peremptory challenge.

Where at your Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the three and twentieth year of your moſt noble reign, among other things it was ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted, That no perſon nor perſons, which thereafter ſhould happen to be found guilty after the laws of this Land for any manner of petit treaſon, or for any wilful murder of malice prepenſed, or for robbing any Churchs, Chappels, or other holy places, or for robbing of any perſon or perſons in their dwelling houſes, or dwelling place, the owner or dweller in the ſame houſe, his wife, his children, or ſervants then being within, and put in fear and dread by the ſame, or for robbing of any perſon or perſons in or near about the high-way, or for wilful burning of any dwelling houſes or barnes, wherein any grain or corn ſhall happen to be: nor any perſon or perſons, being found guilty of any abetment, procurement, helping, maintaining, or counſelling of or to any ſuch petit treaſon, murders, or felonies, ſhould from thencethenceforth be admitted to the benefit of his or their clergy, but utterly be excluded thereof, and ſuffer death in ſuch manner and form as they ſhould have done for any the cauſes or offenſes aboveſaid, if they were no Clerks. Such as be within holy orders, that is to ſay, of the orders of Subdeacon, or above all, only except, as more at large appeareth by the ſaid Act. And for as much as the ſaid Act extendeth only to ſuch perſons as be found guilty after the due courſe of the Laws of this land, divers and many great arrant robbers, murderers, burglaries, and felons that do offend and commit divers and many petit treaſons, robberies, burglaries, and felonies, contrary to the tenour of the ſaid Act, perceiving and cleerly underſtanding by the words of the ſame Statute and Act, that they ſhall not loſe the benefit and advantage of their Clergy, unleſs they be found guilty after the due courſe of the law, upon their arraignment of and upon the ſaid felonies, robberies, and other offences before ſaid, ſo by them done and committed, by reaſon whereof, divers and many of the ſame robbers, and felons, upon their arraignment of the ſame robberies and felonies, upon their inditements againſt them, ſtand mute, and ſometimes challenge peremptory over the number of twenty, or elſe will not directly anſwer to the ſame inditements, whereupon they be ſo arraigned, according to the order of the Law. And for that theſe eſpecial caſes be not expreſly compriſed and contained within the letter of the ſame ſtatute, it is neceſſary and expedient, that the ſame cauſe be clearly and definitively expounded, and declared by authority of this preſent Parliament. And where alſo as divers and many felons and robbers, that commit and do divers and many great heinous robberies, and burglaries in one ſhire, and convey the ſpoil and robbery into any other ſhire, and there be taken, indited, and arraigned upon felony and felonious ſtealing of the ſame good, in the ſame other ſhire, then there where the ſame robberies or burglaries were done and committed, and not upon the ſame robbery nor burglary, for that it was not done nor committed in the ſame ſhire, where they be ſo indited and arraigned, and by reaſon thereof, the ſame miſdemeanors, felons, robbers and burglaries have and enjoy the priviledg and advantage of their Clergy, to the great hurt and loſs of the Kings prerogative, and great boldneſs of ſuch offenders.

Certain defects in the Stat. of 23 H.8 1.

No man ſhall have his Clergy which is indited of murder, &c. and upon his arraignment doth ſtand mute or challenge above xx. perſons, or will not anſwer directly.

In conſideration whereof, be it enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that every perſon and perſons, that is or hereafter ſhall be indited of petit treaſon, wilful burning of houſes, murder, robbery or burglary, or other felony, according to the tenour and meaning of the ſame ſtatute, and thereupon araigned, and do ſtand mute of malice or froward mind, or challenge peremptory above the number of twenty, or elſe will not, or do not anſwer directly to the ſame inditement and felony, whereupon he is ſo araigned, ſhall from henceforth loſe the benefit and priviledge of his or their Clergy, in like manner and form as if he had directly pleaded to the ſame petit Treaſon, Murder, Robbery, Burglary or other felony whereupon he is ſo araigned, not guilty, and thereupon had been found guilty, after the laws of the land.

A Man attainted where the goods were carried which were ſtolen in another County.

And by the ſame authority be it further enacted, that if any perſon or perſons hereafter be indited of felony for ſtealing of any goods or cattels, in any County within this Realm of England, and thereupon arraigned and be found guilty, or ſtand mute of malice, or challenge peremptory above the number of twenty perſons, as is aforeſaid: or will not upon his ſaid arraignment directly anſwer to the ſame felony, that then the ſame perſon and perſons ſo arraigned and found guilty, or ſtand mute of malice, or challenge peremptory above the number of twenty perſons, or will not directly anſwer to the law, ſhall loſe and be put from the benefit of their Clergy, in like manner and form as they ſhould have been if they had been indited and arraigned and found guilty in the ſame county, where the ſame robbery or burglary was done or committed, if it ſhall appear to the Juſtices, before whom any ſuch felons or robbers be arraigned by evidence given before them, or by examination, that the ſame felonies whereupon they be ſo arraigned, had been ſuch robberies or burglaries, in the ſame Shire, where ſuch robberies or burglaries were comitted or done, by reaſon whereof they ſhould have loſt the benefit of their Clergy by force of the ſaid ſtatute, in caſe they had been found guilty thereof in the ſame Shire, where ſuch robberies or burglaries were ſo committed and done. CAP. IV.

Only ſuch perſons as be Merchants adventurers to Iſland for Saltfiſh, Stockfiſh, Ling, Haberdine, or Lobfiſh, or that be Doggermen, or ſuch as be fiſhermen, that actually labour for the taking of the ſaid fiſh in the Eaſt ſea ſide, or Eaſt ſea coaſt, ſhall buy any of the kinds of the ſame fiſh, at or upon the Stone, or at the ſaid Eaſt ſea ſide, or Eaſt ſea coaſt, to ſell the ſame again at any of the fairs of Sturbridge, S. Ives, or Elie. Rep. 35 H.8.7.

CAP. V.

In what manner the Callendring of Worſted is prohibited.

Whereas at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the xxiii. day of January in the ii. year of our Soveraign Lords Reign the King that now is, there was an Act made, provided and eſtabliſhed for the avoiding of deceits and falſeneſs in Worſteds, as well by reaſon of dry Callendring thereof with gums, oyles, and preſſes, as alſo by wet Callendring by perſons having no cunning in ordering of the ſame, which Act was made to endure but only to the Parliament then next following. And for as much as it is evidently known, that the ſame Act and Statute aforeſaid is very good and neceſſary to the Common wealth of this Realm: Wherefore the King our Soveraign Lord by the advice and conſent of his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, hath ordained, enacted, and eſtabliſhed, that the ſaid act and Statute, made in the v. year of his moſt noble Reign aforeſaid, and every thing therein contained, ſhall from the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, continue and be good and effectual in every point and article of the ſame for ever.

The St. of 5 H.8.4. touching calendring of Worſteds made perpetual.

And furthermore be it enacted and eſtabliſhed, by the authority aforeſaid, for the Commonwealth of the City of Norwich, and maintenance, ſupportation, and upholding of the houſes, tenements, and habitations of the ſame, That no manner of perſon uſing the Craft or Myſtery of Dying of Worſteds, Stamins or Sayes, or any of them, neither by themſelves, or any ſervant, factor, deputy, or any other by his commandment or aſſignment, from the Feaſt of Chriſtmas now next enſuing, ſhall uſe to Callender any Worſteds, Stamins, or Sayes, or any other commodities made of Worſted Yarn, during all ſuch time as the ſame perſon ſhall uſe the Myſtery or Craft of Dying aforeſaid, upon pain to forfeit for every piece ſo died and Callendred by colour, covin, fraud, or contrary to the true meaning and intent of this preſent act, xl.s. and to be divided in three equal parts, the one part thereof to the King our Soveraign Lord, and another part to the Maior for the time being, and the third part to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by bill, action of debt, plaint, information, or otherwiſe in any of the Kings Courts, wherein no eſſoin, delay, or protection ſhall be allowed.

No perſon which dieth Worſteds ſhall Calender them.

CAP. VI.

The puniſhment of Buggery.

Co. 3.12.36.

For as much as there is not yet ſufficient, and condign puniſhment appointed, and limited by the due courſe of the Laws of this Realm, for the deteſtable and abominable Vice of Buggery commited with mankind or beaſt: It may therefore pleaſe the Kings Highneſs, with the aſſent of his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, that it may be enacted by authority of the ſame, That the ſame offence be from henceforth adjudged felony, and ſuch order and form of proceſs therein to be uſed againſt the offenders, as in caſes of felony at the Common Law. And that the offenders being hereof convict by Verdict, Confeſſion, or Outlawry, ſhall ſuffer ſuch pains of death, and loſſes, and penalties of their goods, cattels, debts, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, as felons be accuſtomed to do according to the Order of the Common Laws of this Realm. And that no perſon offending in any ſuch offence, ſhall be admitted to his Clergy. And that Juſtices of Peace ſhall have power and authority within the limits of their commiſſions and juriſdiction, to hear and determine the ſaid offence, as they do uſe to do in caſes of other felonies. This Act to endure till the laſt day of the next Parliament. St. 32 H.8.3. 2 Ed.6.29. St. 5 El.17. revived and made perpetual.

He that committeth Buggery with mankind or beaſt ſhall be adjudged a felon. Co. p.f.35.

The high ſtreet in Holborn, between Holborn bridge, and the bars at the Weſt end of the ſaid ſtreet, ſhall be paved on both ſides with paving ſtone, at the Charges of the Tenant in Fee-ſimple, Fee-tail, or for life, of the lands thereunto adjoyning, their heirs and ſucceſſors, and they ſhall from time to time maintain the ſame paved. And if the Leſſees do it, they may defaulk ſo much of their rent. And the Mayor and Aldermen of London may enquire every quarter of a year by the oathes of xii. men, of the offendors. The like order ſhall be obſerved for the paving of the Streets in Southwark. And he that doth not from time to time, maintain the pavement ſufficiently againſt his own ground, ſhall forfeit to the King for every yard ſquare not repaired, vi. pence. PR.

CAP. IX.

How Pewterers ſhall uſe their trade.

In their moſt lamentable wiſe ſheweth, and piteouſly complaining unto the Kings moſt Royal Majeſty, and to this his moſt high Court of Parliament, the Kings moſt humble, poor, and obedient Subjects, the Maſter, Wardens, and poor fellowſhip of the Craft and Myſtery of the Pewterers, as well of the City of London, as of all other places within this Realm of England, that where the ſaid craft or myſtery before this time hath been one of the beſt handicrafts within this Realm, which hath only grown and continued by mean of divers good Acts and Statutes, made for the true exerciſe of the ſame, whereof one was made in the xix. year of the reign of the Kings moſt renowned Father (whoſe ſoul God pardon) and one other was made in the fourth year of the Kings moſt victorious reign, concerning the crafts of Pewterers and Braſiers, of and for the true making, mixing, and ſelling of good and true Pewter, and Brazen veſſels, and alſo for exerciſing and uſing of true weights, & beams, to be occupied by the ſellers of any ſuch Pewter or Brazen veſſels within this Realm, ſo that none of the Kings Subjects, nor any other perſon ſhould by any ſale of any falſe, mixed, Brazen and Pewter veſſel, or any untrue weights be deceived, as by the ſaid Statutes more plainly doth appear. Which good Statutes duly put in execution, hath cauſed the ſaid Craft to encreaſe and multiply to the great profit and utility of a great number of the Kings Subjects, and the commodity of Pewter veſſel much to be had in reputation in all ſtrange Regions and Countreys; until now of late divers evil diſpoſed perſons, being the Kings Subjects born, which have been Apprentices and brought up in the exerciſe of the ſaid Craft of Pewterers, have now of late for their ſingular lucre repaired into ſtrange Regions and Countries, and there do exerciſe the ſaid craft of Pewterers, teaching ſtrangers not only the Cunning of mixing and forging of all manner of Pewter veſſel, but alſo do teach all things belonging to the ſaid Craft of Pewterers, by mean whereof

St. 19 H.7.5. St. 4 H.8.7.

The cauſe why the trade of Pewterers did increaſe, and now doth decay in this Realm.

No perſon ſhall buy any wares made of Tin out of the Realm.

whereof there is not only brought daily into this Realm out of ſtrange Regions to be ſold, great number of things made of Pewter, untruly mixed and made of Tin, wherewith the Kings Subjects be daily deceived, and the people of ſtrange Countries greatly inſtructed in the cunning of the ſaid Craft of Pewterers, ſo that thereby not only a great number and quantity of Pewter veſſel and other things of Pewter, made in divers ſorts and faſhions, amounting to a great value, which was daily and continually wont to be carried aud conveyed out of this Realm by Merchants into ſtrange Regions and Countries, there to be ſold and vented: Whereby the commodity of Tin made into Pewter veſſel, which hath been had in great eſtimation, as things very neceſſary and Commodious, and the Kings cuſtoms thereby much advanced, is now like utterly to ceaſe and decay, and not to be eſteemed, as heretofore hath been, but alſo the ſaid Craft of Pewterers, which at this day ſetteth and keepeth in work and occupation, a great number of people, ſhall be utterly undone, and a great multitude of the Kings natural Subjects thereby fall into idleneſs, to the great impoveriſhment of this Realm, if ſpeedy remedy for the redreſs of the premiſes be not provided. In tender conſideration whereof, and for reformation of the premiſes, it may pleaſe the Kings Highneſs, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual, and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame to ordain and enact, That no perſon nor perſons hereafter at any time now inhabiting, or which hereafter ſhall inhabit within this Realm, ſhall buy, or otherwiſe take by exchange for other Wares, any manner wares made, or hereafter to be made out of this Realm, of Tin, or mixt with Tin, as Platters, Diſhes, Saucers, Pots, Baſons, Ewers, Flagons, Goblets, Salts, Saltſellers, Spoons, or any other thing made of Tin or Pewter, as is aforeſaid, whatſoever it be, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame Ware, in whoſe hands ſoever it may be found or taken, and alſo lawful money currant in this Realm, to the full value thereof. The one half of the ſame forfeiture to be to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs, the other half to be to the uſe of the finders of the ſame.

Officers may ſearch and ſeiſe Wares brought into this Realm contrary to this Statute. St. 33 H.8.4.

And furthermore be it enacted, That it ſhall be lawful to the Maſter and Wardens of the ſaid Craft of Pewterers, as well within the City of London, as within every other City, Borough, and Town of this Realm, where ſuch Wardens be, and where no ſuch Wardens be, to the head Officer or governor, head Officers or Governors of the ſame City, Borough or Town for the time being, to appoint divers perſons moſt expert in knowledge of the ſame, to make ſearch and ſeiſure, and to take into their hands and poſſeſſions all ſuch wares, as hereafter ſhall be brought contrary to the true intent and effect of this preſent Act, in whoſe ſoever hands or poſſeſſion any ſuch ſhall be found.

No Pewterer ſhall take a ſtranger born to be Apprentice or Journeyman. REP. 5 El. 4.

No ſtranger born ſhall work any Pewter or Tin.

And alſo be it enacted by the authority aboveſaid, that no perſon or perſons, occupying the ſaid Craft or occupation of Pewterers within this Realm, ſhall ſet on work or retain in his or their ſervice any perſon or perſons to be his or their Apprentice or Journeyman, being ſtranger born out of this Realm, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch Apprentice and Journeyman, x.li. ſterling. And that no ſtranger born out of this Realm, ſhall occupy, exerciſe or uſe from the Feaſt of Penticoſt next coming, the ſaid Craft of Pewterers, ne work any manner of veſſel or other ware aforeſaid to be made of Tin or Pewter, within any place or places of this Realm, upon pain of forfeiture of Ten pound ſterling, and alſo upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame Pewter or Tin ſo wrought, in whoſe hands ſoever it may be found or taken.

No Pewterer ſhall teach his trade in a foreign County.

And alſo be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons being born within this Realm, occupying or exerciſing the ſaid Craft of Pewterers, ſhall at any time hereafter reſort into any ſtrange Regions or Countreys, there to uſe, teach, or exerciſe the ſaid Craft of Pewterers, upon pain to loſe the priviledge and benefit of an Engliſh man.

And if in caſe any of the Kings Subjects, at this preſent time being, dwelling in any ſtrange Country or Region, and there occupying the ſame Craft of Pewterers, do not repair into this Realm within three months next after requeſt and warning to him to be given, by writing, ſealed with the Common ſeal of the Wardens of the ſaid Craft within the ſaid City of London, and here in this Realm continually from henceforth dwell and inhabit, that then and from thenceforth he ſhall be reputed and taken for no Engliſh man, but ſhall ſtand and be from thenceforth out of the Kings protection.

Licences and Placards made to haukers for Pewter ſhall be void.

And foraſmuch as ſundry evil diſpoſed perſons, which commonly been called haukers, by authority of the Kings Letters Patents, or placard, do not only go about from place to place within this Realm, uſing buying and ſelling of Braſs and Pewter, and by colour and pretence of the ſams licences or placards, uſe unlawful and deceivable weights and beams, but alſo do uſe to ſell both Braſs and Pewter, which is not good, nor truly, nor lawfully mixt nor wrought, to the great deceit of the Kings true Liege people, contrary to the form and effect of the ſaid good Act and Statute, made in the ſaid iv. year of the Kings moſt Noble Reign. Be it therefore enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, that all ſuch Licences and placards, heretofore had, made, or granted, to any ſuch perſon or perſons, contrary to the true meaning, form, and effect of this Statute, ſhall be from henceforth by authority of this preſent Parliament, cleerly void, and of none effect. And whereas in the ſaid Act of Parliament concerning the Craft of Pewterers and Braſiers, made in the ſaid iv. year, for divers cauſes and conſiderations in the ſame Act contained, amongſt other things it is expreſſed, That no other perſon or perſons, uſing the ſaid Craft of Pewterers or Braſiers, ſhould from thenceforth ſell or change any Pewter or Braſs, new or old, at any place or places within this Realm, but only in open Fair or Markets, or in their own dwelling houſes, unleſs they were deſired by the buyers of ſuch wares, upon pain of forfeiture for every ſuch default, x.li. Foraſmuch as the ſame forfeiture is to the only uſe of the Kings Highneſs, and that any party ſearching or finding the ſame, is not intituled to have any benefit thereby, it hath not been known that any perſon or perſons have taken any pain to ſearch or make any enquiry thereof; by reaſon whereof divers and many evil diſpoſed perſons, uſing buying and ſelling both of braſs and pewter, and not regarding the ſaid good Act, neither the ſaid penalty, daily go about from village to village, town to town, and from houſe to houſe, to ſell ſuch pewter and braſs which is not good, and alſo uſe deceivable weights and beams, as they did before the making of the ſaid Act, to the great hurt and deceit of the Kings true liege people and ſubjects. Wherefore be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that as well the moity of the ſaid forfeiture of ten pound, limited in the ſaid Statute, made in the ſaid fourth year, as alſo the moity of all other forfeitures before expreſſed, and every of them be, and ſhall be to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors, and the other moity of the ſame forfeitures and every of them, to the uſe of him or them that ſhall ſeiſe, find, or preſent the ſaid forfeitures or any of them, or that ſhall ſue for the ſame in any competent Court or Courts within this Realm, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, wherein the defendant ſhall in no wiſe be admitted to wage his Law, nor any protection, or eſſoin to any perſon or perſons, which ſhall be impeached to have offended contrary to the form and effect of this Eſtatute, ſhall be allowable. This Act to endure to the laſt day of the next Parliament. 33 H. 8. 4. made perpetual.

Pewter ſhall be ſold in Fairs and Markets and in the owners houſes, and not elſewhere.

Who ſhall have the forfeitures, and by what means they ſhall be recovered.

CAP. X.

Commiſſioners of Sewers refuſing to take Oath ſhall be puniſhed.

BE it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Act late made for Sewers, and the Commiſſion therein recited, ſhall be extended, uſed, and put in execution in the Town and Marches of Caleis, according to the tenour of the ſame Commiſſion, in like effect as it is enacted to be put in execution within this Realm: and that no perſon ſhall be compelled to be ſworn, or otherwiſe bound to ſit or travel in execution of any Commiſſion of Sewers within this Realm, unleſs that he be dwelling within the County, whereof he is, or ſhall be aſſigned to be Commiſſioner: and for Caleis, and the ſaid Marches thereof, unleſs that he be dwelling within the ſame Town of Caleis, or Marches.

Stat. 23 H. 8. 5. Every Commiſſioner of Sewers ſhall be dwelling in the ſame County.

And becauſe that divers perſons heretofore aſſigned to be Commiſſioners have refuſed to be ſworn, according to the ſaid former Act, whereby divers Commiſſions, heretofore made, remain hitherto without effectual execution: Be it therefore enacted, That if any perſon aſſigned, or to be aſſigned, to be ſuch Commiſſioner of Sewers, being required hereafter by ſuch perſon or perſons as have, or ſhall have authority by the Kings Writ, or otherwiſe to receive or accept the oath compriſed in the ſaid former Act, every perſon that ſo refuſeth to take the ſame oath, or upon that requeſt made, doth not receive the ſame oath, and that refuſal or contempt done in the Chancery, or returned into the Chancery with the ſaid Writ, ſhall loſe and forfeit for the ſame contempt to the King our Sovereign Lord, five marks, and ſo to loſe from time to time five marks for every ſuch contempt, as ſhall be done or returned into the ſaid Chancery againſt any ſuch perſons, unleſs that he in the ſame Chancery do ſhew and alledge in the ſaid Term, wherein ſuch return ſhall be made againſt him, ſufficient and reaſonable matter and cauſe to be allowed by the Lord Chancellor for his excuſe, and diſcharge in that behalf.

The forfeiture of a Commiſſioner of Sewers that refuſeth to take the oath aſſigned by the Statute of 23 H. 8. 5.

CAP. XI.

How deſtroyers of Wild-fowl ſhall be puniſhed.

WHere before this time there hath been within this Realm great plenty of Wild-fowl, as Ducks, Mallards, Wigeons, Teals, wild Geeſe, and divers other kinds of Wild-fowl, whereby not onely the Kings moſt honourable houſhold, and all the houſes of the Noble men and Prelates of this Realm, have been furniſhed for the neceſſary expenſes of the ſame houſes at convenient prices, but alſo all the Markets of the ſame Realm were ſufficiently furniſhed with Wildfowl there to be ſold in ſuch wiſe, that ſuch as were meet to make proviſion of the ſame for their houſes, might at reaſonable prices, at the ſame markets be thereof provided. Nevertheleſs divers perſons next inhabiting in the Countries and places within this Realm, where the ſubſtance of the ſame Wild-fowl hath been accuſtomed to breed, have in the Summer ſeaſon, at ſuch time as the old fowl be moulted, and not repleniſhed with feathers to flie, nor the young fowl fully feathered perfectly to flie, have by certain nets and other engines and policies yearly taken in great number of the ſame fowl, in ſuch wiſe, that the brood of Wild-fowl is almoſt thereby waſted and conſumed, and daily is like more and more to waſte and conſume, if remedy be not therefore provided.

The cauſe of the decay of Wild-fowl.

Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That it ſhall not be lawful to any perſon or perſons hereafter, between the laſt day of May, and the laſt day of Auguſt, to take, or cauſe to be taken any ſuch Wild-fowl, with nets or any other engines, upon pain of one years impriſonment, and to forfeit for every fowl ſo taken iiij. d. the one half thereof to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other half to him that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt in any of the Kings Courts, and in the which action none eſſoin, nor protection ſhall be allowed, nor wager of Law received.

Wild-fowl ſhall not be taken between the laſt day of May and the laſt day of Auguſt.

And be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all Juſtices of Peace, within the limits of their Commiſſions, ſhall have power and authority to inquire, hear, and determine the offences aforeſaid, like as they commonly uſe and do in caſes of treſpaſs.

Juſtices of Peace may enquire of, hear and determine theſe offences.

Provided always, That it ſhall be lawful to any Gentleman, or any other that may diſpend fourty ſhillings by the year, of freehold, to hunt and take ſuch Wild-fowl with their

No perſon ſhall deſtroy or take away the the eggs of any wild-fowl.

Provided always, and be it enacted by the ſame authority, That from the firſt day of March, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, MDXXXIIII. unto the laſt day of June then next enſuing, and ſo yearly from thenceforth, no manner of perſon or perſons ſhall preſume by day or by night, willingly to withdraw, purloin, take, deſtroy, or convey any manner of eggs of any kind of Wild-fowl, from, or in any neſt, place or places, where they ſhall chance to be laid by any kind of the ſame Wild-fowl, upon pain of impriſonment for one year, and to loſe and forfeit for every egge of any Crane or Buſtard, ſo deſtroyed, purloined, withdrawn, conveyed, or taken from any neſt or place, xx. pence, and for every egge of every Bittour, Heron, or Shovelard, viij. pence, and for every egge of every Mallard, Teal, or other Wild-fowl, one peny. The one moity thereof to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other half to him that will ſue for the ſame, in form aforeſaid, wherein no wager of Law, eſſoin, or protection ſhall be allowed. And that all Juſtices of Peace, within the limits of their Commiſſion, ſhall have full power and authority to enquire, hear, and determine the ſame in form before rehearſed.

Deſtroying of Crows, Choughs, &c.

Provided always, that this Act extend not, nor be hurtful at any time hereafter to any perſon or perſons, that will deſtroy any Crows, Choughs, Ravens, and Boſards, or their eggs, or to any other fowl or their eggs, not comeſtible, nor uſed to be eaten.

CAP. XII.

Treaſon C. 8. Inſt. 4 part 39.

Elizabeth Barton of Kent, and others attainted of high Treaſon, for that under colour of hypocriſie, revelations, and falſe miracles, practiſed by the ſaid Elizabeth, they conſpired to impugn and ſlander the divorce between the King and Queen Katherine his firſt wife, and the laſt marriage between him and Queen Anne his ſecond wife, to deſtroy the King, and to deprive him of his Crown. CAP. XIII.

What number of Sheep men may keep.

Foraſmuch as divers and ſundry perſons of the Kings ſubjects of this Realm, to whom God of his goodneſs hath diſpoſed great plenty of moveable ſubſtance, now of late within few years, have daily ſtudied, practiſed, and invented ways and means how they might accumulate, and gather together into few hands, as well great multitudes of Farms, as great plenty of Cattel, and in eſpecial Sheep, putting ſuch lands as they can get to paſture, and not to tillage: whereby they have not onely pulled down Churches and Towns, and inhaunſed the old rates of the Rents of the poſſeſſions of this Realm, or elſe brought it to ſuch exceſſive fines, that no poor man is able to meddle with it, but alſo have raiſed and enhaunſed the prices of all manner of Corn, Cattel, Wool, Pigs, Geeſe, Hens, Chickens, Eggs, and ſuch other, almoſt double above the prices which have been accuſtomed: By reaſon whereof a marvellous multitude and number of the people of this Realm be not able to provide meat, drink, and clothes neceſſary for themſelves, their wives and children, but be ſo diſcouraged with miſery, and poverty, that they fall daily to theft, robbery, and other inconveniences, or pitifully die for hunger and cold. And as it is thought by the Kings moſt humble and loving ſubjects, one of the greateſt occaſions, that moveth and provoketh thoſe greedy and covetous people ſo to accumulate and keep in their hands, ſuch great portions and parts of the grounds and lands of this Realm, from the occupying of the poor husbandmen, and ſo to uſe it in paſture, and not in tillage, is onely the great profit that cometh of Sheep, which now be come in a few perſons hands of this Realm, in reſpect of the whole number of the Kings ſubjects, that ſome have four and twenty thouſand, ſome twenty thouſand, ſome ten thouſand, ſome ſix thouſand, ſome five thouſand, and ſome more, and ſome leſs; by the which a good ſheep for victual, that was accuſtomed to be ſold for two ſhillings four pence, or three ſhillings at the moſt, is now ſold for ſix ſhillings, or five, or four ſhillings at the leaſt: And a ſtone of clothing wooll, that in ſome Shires of this Realm was accuſtomed to be ſold for eighteen pence, or twenty pence, is now ſold for four ſhillings, or three ſhillings four pence at the leaſt: in ſome Countries, where it hath been ſold for two ſhillings four pence, or two ſhillings eight pence, or three ſhillings at the moſt, it is now ſold for five ſhillings, or four ſhillings eight pence the leaſt, and ſo are raiſed in every part of this Realm. Which things thus uſed, be principally to the high diſpleaſure of Almighty God, to the decay of the hoſpitality of this Realm, to the diminiſhing of the Kings people, and to the let of the Cloth-making, whereby many poor people have been accuſtomed to be ſet on work, and in concluſion, if remedy be not found, it may turn to the utter deſtruction and deſolation of this Realm, which God defend. It may therefore pleaſe the Kings Highneſs, of his moſt gracious and godly diſpoſition, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal of their goodneſs and charity, with the aſſent of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, to ordain and enact, by the authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons from the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God 1535. ſhall keep, occupy, or have in his poſſeſſion, in his own proper lands, nor in the poſſeſſion, lands, nor grounds of any other, which he ſhall have have or occupy in farm, nor otherwiſe, have of his own proper cattel, in uſe, poſſeſſion, or property by any manner of means, fraud, craft, or covin, above the number of two thouſand ſheep at one time, within any part of this Realm, of all ſorts and kinds, upon pain to loſe and forfeit, for every ſheep that any perſon or perſons ſhall have or keep above the number limited by this Act, iii. s. iv. d. the one half to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other half to ſuch perſon as will ſue for the ſame, by original writ of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any Court of Record, in which ſuit, the defendant ſhall not wage his Law, nor have any eſſoin or protection allowed.

The ſeveral enormities that do enſue by the greedy deſire of having many ſheep.

No man ſhall have above two thouſand ſheep.

Provided alway, That Lambs ſhall not be accounted of the number of the ſheep prohibited by this Act, ſo long as they be under the age of a year and not above.

Lambs under the age of one year ſhall not be accounted ſheep.

Provided alway, That if any perſon, having ſheep of his own, happen to be made executor, or to be adminiſtrator to any perſon, which had ſheep at his death, or happen to be married to any perſon, which ſhall happen to have ſheep at the time of the marriage, by reaſon whereof the perſon ſo being executor or adminiſtrator, or being ſo married, ſhall happen by ſuch means to be advanced, and have above the ſaid number of two thouſand, That then in every ſuch caſe, the perſon ſo advanced to loſe no penalty, for having above the number of two thouſand ſheep by ſuch means, ſo that within one year next after ſuch advancement, the perſon ſo advanced from time to time, as often as any ſuch caſe ſhall happen, do put to ſale, or otherwiſe diſpoſe ſo many of the ſaid ſheep, ſo to him advanced, or elſe of his own ſheep, that he had before, ſo that above one year he ſhall not keep, have, or occupy by any ſuch means, or otherwiſe by any fraud or covin, any more number of them, then is before limited by this Act, upon the pain before rehearſed.

Sheep coming by executorſhip or marriage.

Provided alſo, That if any perſon by his laſt Will and Teſtament, give to any child within age, any number of ſheep, and appoint them by his ſaid Will to be kept by his executors, or by any other perſon, until ſuch time as the ſaid child ſhall come to a certain age limited by his Will, that then in every ſuch caſe, after the death of the Teſtator, the ſaid ſheep ſo being in the poſſeſſion and occupation of the executors, or of any other perſon, to the uſe of any ſuch child within age, for that time onely that the ſaid child ſhall be within the age that he ſhall be limited to have the ſaid ſheep by the Will of the Teſtator, ſhall not be accounted againſt the ſaid executors, nor any perſon ſo having the ſaid ſheep, for the intent aforeſaid, any of the number of the ſheep prohibited by this Act: any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Sheep bequeathed by Will to a child within age.

And it is further enacted, That the Juſtices of the Peace of every Shire ſhall have power and authority to enquire of the offendors of this Act, as well by the oaths of twelve men, as by information of any of the Kings ſubjects, and to make ſuch like proceſs upon every preſentment, or information concerning this Act, as they uſe commonly to do upon preſentments before them of treſpaſs: And that no perſon being convict by confeſſion or otherwiſe, that he hath done or attempted contrary to this Act, ſhall be put to any leſs fine then after the rates of forfeitures afore limited by this Act.

Juſtices of Peace ſhall inquire of the offenders of this Act.

Provided always, That no perſon ſhall be put to any anſwer or loſs of any forfeiture by vertue of this Act, at the ſuit of any the Kings ſubjects, by any original writ of debt, bill, plaint, or information, except the ſuit be commenced within one year next after the offence done or committed contrary to this Act. Nor that any perſon ſhall be put to anſwer, nor to any loſs of any forfeiture by vertue of this Act, by reaſon of any preſentment, action, or information at the Kings ſuit, except the ſaid preſentment, action, or information be had and made for the King within three years next after the offence done or committed.

Within what time the ſuit ſhall be commenced againſt an offender.
St. 31 El. 5.

Provided alway, That all and every perſon and perſons, being the Kings Temporal ſubjects of this Realm, and born under his obeyſance, which at this preſent time, or at any time hereafter ſhall have and be ſeiſed of inheritance in poſſeſſion or in uſe, or that now hath, or hereafter ſhall have juncture in uſe or poſſeſſion, or be or ſhall be tenant in dower, or by the curteſie of England, of or in any manors, lands, tenements, paſtures, feedings, or liberties or foldage within any part of this Realm of England, Wales, or the marches of the ſame, that every ſuch perſon and perſons, having any ſuch poſſeſſion to his own uſe, and every ſuch perſon and perſons, to whoſe uſe any other perſon and perſons now is, or be, or hereafter ſhall be ſeiſed of any ſuch eſtate, as is before rehearſed, may at all times hereafter have, enjoy, keep, and maintain upon the ſame their own demein lands, and all other their paſtures, feedings, and fold-courſes, which they ſo have, as many their own ſheep and lambs in number to their proper uſe, profit, and behove, as they or any of them of right had, or lawfully might have had and kept upon the ſame, or upon any part thereof, at any time before the making of this preſent Act, this Act, or any thing therein contained or ſpecified to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Every perſon temporal may keep upon his inheritance, &c. as many ſheep as he will.

And over that be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in caſe any ſuch perſon or perſons having any ſuch eſtate in uſe or in poſſeſſion, of or in in any manner lands, tenements, paſtures, feedings, or liberties of fold-courſes, as is before expreſſed, have or do keep upon the ſame their poſſeſſions the number of two thouſand ſheep or above, the ſame perſon or perſons ſo having the number of two thouſand ſheep or above, ſhall not in any wiſe keep, ſuſtain, or have any ſheep above, or beſide the ſaid number of two thouſand, upon any lands, paſtures, or feedings, which the ſame perſon or perſons have, or hereafter ſhall have, or take in ferm, or otherwiſe, upon ſuch like pains and forfeitures for the ſame as be limited in the ſaid Act, that is to ſay, for every ſheep over and above the ſaid number of two thouſand, three ſhillings four pence. And in caſe the ſaid demeſn lands, tenements, paſtures, feedings, and liberties of fold-courſes of any perſon or perſons before rehearſed, ſuffice not for the feeding, paſturing, and keeping of two thouſand ſheep, as is aforeſaid, that then every ſuch perſon ſhall and may have, ſuſtain, or feed upon his ſaid demeſn lands, and upon his ferm-holds, which he lawfully may have, to the ſaid number of two thouſand ſheep and not above, upon pain of forfeiture for every ſheep above that number, iij. s. iv. d.

Two thouſand ſheep may be kept by any perſon upon demeſns and ferms.

Provided alway and be it enacted, That it ſhall be lawful to every perſon or perſons within this Realm, keeping a houſhold, to have from time to time ſuch convenient number of ſheep, over and above the number expreſſed in this Act, as ſhall be neceſſary for the onely expences of his houſhold, to be provided, kept, and fed, in and upon his own lands or other lands, ſuch as he can, or lawfully may have, or provide for, in ferm or otherwiſe: Any thing in this preſent Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding. So that the ſame houſholder at no one time ſhall have or keep for the expences of his houſhold, or by colour of the ſame, over and above the number to him limited by this Act, any number of ſheep more then ſhall ſuffice for the onely expences of his houſhold for one year, without fraud or covin, any thing in this preſent Act mentioned or expreſſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

How fold-courſes in Norfolk ſhall be uſed, and quillets of land.

Be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner perſon or perſons of what degree ſoever he or they be, being Lord or Lords, owner or owners, fermor or fermors, of or in any liberty of fold-courſes, within any town, tything, village, or hamlet, within any of the Counties of Norfolk and Suffolk, from and after the Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord God next coming, ſhall take in farm for term of years, or otherwiſe, any quillets of lands, or paſtures, that is to ſay, any number of acres of land or paſture, appertaining to any other perſon or perſons, lying and being within the limit, extent, or precinct of the ſaid liberty of the ſaid fold-courſes: but that they ſhall permit and ſuffer the ſaid perſons, having, or being for time owner or owners, leſſee or leſſees of the ſaid quillets, to manure and paſture the ſaid quillets: And alſo to ſuffer the ſheep of the ſaid owner or owners, farmer or farmers of the ſaid quillets, after the rate of the ſame quillets to go with the flock of the owner, farmer, or occupier of the ſaid liberty or liberties of the ſaid fold-courſes, paying the cuſtomary charges for the keeping and feeding of the ſame, after the rate and uſe of the countrey there commonly uſed, without any interruption therein to be made by the ſaid owner or owners, farmer or farmers, or occupiers of the ſaid liberties, upon pain of forfeiture for every time that any ſuch perſon, having any ſuch quillet that ſhall be ſo letted or diſturbed of feeding, keeping, or paſturing any of his ſheep ſo to be fed and kept after the rate of the ſaid quillet, for every ſuch ſheep iij. s. iiij. d.

To which ſort of quillets this Statute doth extend, and to which not.

Provided alway, That this Act or branch concerning quillets, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe be available to any tenant, owner or occupier of any ſuch quillet or quillets, to claim, have, or uſe hereafter any ſuch paſture or feeding of his ſheep, in, or with any ſuch fold-courſes, but onely where the tenants, owners, and occupiers of any ſuch quillets have had, or might have had heretofore of right and duty, uſed to have paſture and feeding in the ſaid fold-courſes, by reaſon of their tenures and occupations of the ſame quillet and quillets, and none otherwiſe. And where they have not uſed, ne ought to have any ſheep fed, or kept within any ſuch fold-courſes, by reaſon of the ſaid tenures, That the owners or occupiers of ſuch fold-courſes may take ſuch quillets, lying within their fold-courſes, in ferm, agreeing with the owners or occupiers of the ſaid quillet for the ſame.

Sixſcore ſheep ſhall be accompted an hundred.

And foraſmuch as the number of the C. of ſheep in every Countrey be not like, in ſome Countrey the great C. where vi. ſcore is accompted for the C. and ſome Countrey but onely v. ſcore, it is eſt declared by this preſent Act, that the number of two thouſand ſheep, limited to every perſon by this Act, ſhall be accompted x. C. for every thouſand, after the number of the great hundred, and not after the leſs hundred, ſo that every thouſand ſhall contain xij. hundred after the leſs number of the hundred.

When lambs ſhall be taken for ſheep.

It is alſo further provided by the authority aforeſaid, That Lambs under the ages of one whole year, and as much as ſhall be from the time of the falling of them unto the Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt in any year to come, ſhall not be adjudged, ne taken for ſheep, prohibited in this eſtatute: any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

No man ſhall take above two farms. 32 H. 8. 28.

It is alſo further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That no manner perſon after the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord, ſhall receive or take in farm for term of life, years, or at will, by Indenture, Copy of Court-Roll, or otherwiſe, any more houſes and tenements of husbandry, whereunto any lands are belonging, in town, village, hamlet, or tithing within this Realm, above the number of two ſuch holds or tenements. And that no manner perſon ſhall have or occupy any ſuch holds, ſo newly taken to the number of two, as is before expreſſed, except he or they be dwelling within the ſame Pariſhes where ſuch holds be, upon pain of forfeiture for every week that he or they ſhall have, occupy, or take any profits of ſuch holds contrary to this Act, iij. s. iiij. d. The one moity of which forfeiture to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other moity to the party that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts, by bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe, within one year next after ſuch contempt and offence committed and done, in the which none eſſoin, protection, ne wager of Law be admitted or allowed.

St. 4 H. 7. 19. St. 7 H. 8. 1.

It is alſo further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the Statutes made the fourth year of the noble Prince King Henry the Seventh, and the ſeventh year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, concerning the decay of Towns, and maintenance of tillage and husbandry, ſhall be good and effectual in every thing according to the true purport and intent of the ſame, any thing in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Spiritual perſons.

Provided alſo, That it may be lawful to all Spiritual perſons and every of them, to keep ſuch and as many ſheep upon their own lands, and after ſuch form and manner and none otherwiſe, as they might have done afore the making of this Act: any thing mentioned in the ſame to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. XIV.

Co. Inſt. 2 par. 658.

Co. lib. 12. 58,

A repeal of the Statute of 2 H. 4. 15. And a confirmation of the Statutes of 5 R. 2. 5. & 2 H. 5. 7. touching the puniſhment of Hereticks. Sheriffs in their Turns, and Stewards in their Leets, Rapes, and Wapentakes, ſhall have authority to enquire of Hereticks: And every ſuch preſentment made in any Turn, Leet, &c. concerning Hereticks ſhall be certified to the Ordinary. Every perſon preſented or indited of any Hereſie, or duely accuſed by two lawful witneſſes, may be cited, arreſted, or taken by an Ordinary, or other of the Kings ſubjects, and committed to the Ordinary to anſwer in open Court, and being convict ſhall abjure his hereſies, and refuſing ſo to do, or falling into relapſe, ſhall be burned in an open place for example of others. Rep. 1 Ed. 6. 12.

CAP. XV.

How and of whom Printers and Book-binders ſhall print and ſell their Books.

Whereas by the proviſion of a Statute made in the firſt year of the Reign of King Richard the Third, it was provided in the ſame Act, that all ſtrangers repairing into this Realm might lawfully bring into the ſaid Realm printed and written Books to ſell at their liberty and pleaſure. By force of which proviſion there hath come into this Realm ſithen the making of the ſame, a marvellous number of printed books, and daily doth. And the cauſe of the making of the ſame proviſion ſeemeth to be, for that there were but few books and few Printers within this Realm at that time, which could well exerciſe and occupy the ſaid ſcience and craft of Printing: Nevertheleſs, ſithen the making of the ſaid proviſion, many of this Realm, being the Kings natural ſubjects, have given them ſo diligently to learn and exerciſe the ſaid craft of Printing, that at this day there be within this Realm a great number cunning and expert in the ſaid ſcience or craft of Printing, as able to exerciſe the ſaid craft in all points, as any ſtranger in any other Realm or Countrey. And furthermore where there be a great number of the Kings ſubjects within this Realm, which live by the craft and myſtery of Binding of books, and that there be a great multitude well expert in the ſame; yet all this notwithſtanding, there are divers perſons that bring from beyond the Sea great plenty of printed books, not onely in the Latine tongue, but alſo in our maternal Engliſh tongue, ſome bound in boards, ſome in leather, and ſome in parchment, and them ſell by retail, whereby many of the Kings ſubjects, being Binders of books, and having no other faculty wherewith to get their living, be deſtitute of work, and like to be undone, except ſome reformation herein be had. Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Proviſo, made the firſt year of the ſaid King Richard the third, from the Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord God next coming, ſhall be void and of none effect.

In the time of K. Richard 3. this Realm did lack Printers and Binders of books, which is now ſupplied by Engliſhmen.

A repeal of the Stat. of 1 R. 3. 9. touching bringing into this Realm and binding of books.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, reſiant, or inhabitant within this Realm, after the ſaid Feaſt of Chriſtmas next coming, ſhall buy to ſell again any printed books, brought from any parts out of the Kings obeyſance, ready bound in boards, leather, or parchment, upon pain to loſe and forfeit for every book bound out of the ſaid Kings obeyſance, and brought into this Realm, and bought by any perſon or perſons within the ſame to ſell again contrary to this Act, ſix ſhillings eight pence.

No man ſhall buy books which be brought from beyond Sea to ſell again if they be bound.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons inhabitant, or reſiant within this Realm, after the ſaid Feaſt of Chriſtmas, ſhall buy within this Realm, of any ſtranger born out of the Kings obedience, other then of denizens, any manner of printed books brought from any the parties beyond the Sea, except onely by engroſs, and not by retail: upon pain of forfeiture vj. s. viij. d. for every book ſo bought by retail, contrary to the form and effect of this eſtatute, the ſaid forfeitures to be always levied of the buyers of any ſuch books, contrary to this Act: The one half of all the ſaid forfeitures to be to the uſe of our Sovereign Lord the King, and the other moity to be to the party that will ſeiſe or ſue for the ſame, in any of the Kings Courts, be it by bill, plaint, or information, wherein the defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his Law, nor no protection, ne eſſoin ſhall be unto him allowed.

No man ſhall buy books by retail brought from beyond the Seas.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority before ſaid, That if any of the ſaid Printers, or ſellers of printed books, inhabited within this Realm, at any time hereafter happen in ſuch wiſe to enhaunce and increaſe the prices of any ſuch printed books in ſale or binding, at too high and unreaſonable prices, in ſuch wiſe as complaint be made thereof unto the Kings Highneſs, or unto the Lord Chancellor, Lord Treaſurer, or any of the Chief Juſtices of the one Bench or of the other: That then the ſame Lord Chancellor, Lord Treaſurer, and two chief Juſtices, or any two of them, ſhall have power and authority to enquire thereof, as well by the oaths of twelve honeſt and diſcreet perſons, as otherwiſe by due examination by their diſcretions. And after the ſame inhaunſing and increaſing of the ſaid prices of the ſaid books and binding ſhall be ſo found by the ſaid twelve men, or otherwiſe by examination of the ſaid Lord Chancellor, Lord Treaſurer, and Juſtices, or two of them: That then the ſame Lord Chancellor, Lord Treaſurer, and Juſtices, or two of them at the leaſt, from time to time, ſhall have power and authority to reform, and redreſs ſuch inhaunſing of the prices of printed books, from time to time by their diſcretions, and to limit prices as well of the books, as for the binding of them: and over that the offendor or offendors thereof, being convict by the examination of the ſame Lord Chancellor, Lord Treaſurer, and two Juſtices, or two of them, or otherwiſe, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every book by them ſold, whereof the price ſhall be inhaunſed, for the book or binding thereof, three ſhillings four pence, the one half thereof ſhall be to the Kings Highneſs, and the other half thereof to the parties grieved, that will complain upon the ſame, in manner and form before rehearſed.

The prices of books increaſed to unmeaſurable rates ſhall be qualified by the Kings great Officers.

CAP. XVI.

What perſons may have a Chaplain beneficed with Cure.

St. 21 H. 8. 13

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the xxj. year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eight, it was among other things ordained and provided, That certain Honourable perſons, as well Spiritual as Temporal, ſhall have Chaplains beneficed with Cure, to ſerve them in their Honourable Houſes, which Chaplains ſhall not incur the danger of any penalty or forfeiture, made or declared in the ſame Parliament, for non-reſidence upon their ſaid Benefices, or for obtaining licences or diſpenſations of pluralities. In the which no proviſion was made for any of the Kings Judges of his high Courts, commonly called the Kings Bench and the Common place, except onely for the chief Judge of the Kings Bench, nor for the Chancellor, nor the chief Baron of the Kings Exchequer, nor for any other inferiour perſons, being of the Kings moſt honorable Council, as by the ſaid Act may appear.

Every of the Judges of the K. Bench and Common place, &c. may have one Chaplain having one Benefice with cure of ſouls.

Wherefore it is ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That as well every Judge of the ſaid high Courts, and every of the Chancellor and chief Baron of the ſaid Eſchequer, the Kings general Attorney, and general Soliciter, which for the time is, be, or ſhall be, ſhall and may from henceforth at his liberty, retain, and have ſingularly to every of them in his houſe, or attendant to his perſon, one Chaplain, having one Benefice with cure of ſouls, which may be abſent from his ſaid Benefice, and not reſident upon the ſame: The ſaid Statute made in the ſaid one and twentieth year, or any other Statute, Act, or Ordinance made to the contrary, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. XVII.

Whoſoever ſhall ſhoot in any Hand-gun, or Croſs-bow, or keep any in his houſe, except he hath lands, annuities, or offices to the yearly value of an hundred pounds, ſhall forfeit ten pounds for every offence. And a Juſtice of Peace may commit the offendor to the Gaol, until he hath paid the ſame forfeiture. All former Placards made to ſhoot in either of them ſhall be void. Rep. 33 H. 8. 6. CAP. XVIII.

In what places within the County of Worceſter clothes ſhall be made to be ſold.

Sheweth unto the King our Sovereign Lord, and to the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and to the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, the Citizens, Burgeſſes, and Inhabitants of the City of Worceſter, and of the Towns of Eveſham, Droitwich, Kederminſter, and Bromiſgrove within the County of Worceſter, That where the ſaid City, Boroughs, and Towns have been in times paſt well and ſubſtantially inhabited, occupied, maintained, and upholden by reaſon of making of woollen clothes, called long clothes, ſhort clothes, and other clothes, as well Whites, Blews, and Brown blews, and the poor people of the ſame City, Boroughs, and Towns, and of the Countrey adjoyning to them, daily ſet a work, as in ſpinning, carding, breaking, and ſorting of wools, and the handicrafts there inhabiting, as Weavers, Fullers, Sheremen, and Diers, have been well ſet a work, and had ſufficient living by the ſame; until now within few years paſſed, that divers perſons inhabiting and dwelling in the Hamlets, Thorps, and Villages, adjoyning to the ſaid City, Boroughs, and Towns, within the ſaid Shire, for their private wealths, ſingular advantages, and commodities, nothing regarding the maintenance, and upholding of the ſaid City, Boroughs, and Towns, ne the common wealth of the ſaid handicrafts, inhabiting and dwelling within the ſaid City, Boroughs, and Towns, ne the poor people, which had living by the ſame, have not onely ingroſſed and taken into their hands divers and ſundry Farms, and become Farmers, Graſiers, and Husbandmen, but alſo do exerciſe, uſe, and occupy the myſteries of Cloth-making, Weaving, Fulling, and Sheering within their ſaid houſes, and do make all manner of Clothes, as well Broad-clothes, as Whites and Plain clothes, within their ſaid houſes, in the Countries abroad, to the great decay, depopulation, and ruine of the ſaid City, Towns, and Boroughs.

The inhabitants in theſe Towns onely in the County of Worceſter, ſhall make cloth.

For remedy whereof, and for the amendment, and good advancement of the ſaid City, Boroughs, and Towns, be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That after the laſt day of September, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God 1536. no manner of perſon ne perſons, of what degree or condition ſoever he or they be of, ſhall make or cauſe to be made within the ſaid Shire of Worceſter, any manner of woollen clothes to be ſold, except onely ſuch perſon or perſons, as after the ſaid laſt day of September, ſhall be dwelling and inhabiting within the ſaid City of Worceſter, the Boroughs and Towns of Eveſham, Droitwich, Kederminſter, and Bromiſgrove within the ſaid County of Worceſter, or in any one of them, upon pain of forfeiture, for every ſuch Broad-cloth made after the ſaid day by any perſon or perſons, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, xl. s.

Houſes in thoſe Towns ſhall be let for ſuch rents as they had wont to be.
Rep. 21 Jac. 28.

And further it is provided by the authority aforeſaid, That the Lords and owners of the meaſes, tenements, or cottages within the ſaid City, or any of the Towns and Boroughs aforeſaid, ſhall at no time hereafter dimit, ſet, or let any meaſe, tenement, or cottage ſufficiently repaired within the ſaid City, Boroughs, or Towns before limited, to any perſon or perſons, that hereafter ſhall inhabit in the ſaid City, Boroughs, or Towns, and exerciſing any of the ſaid myſteries or crafts, at any higher rent, impoſition, or charge, then was given for the ſame at any time within xx. years next before the making of this Act onely except.

Cloth made for the owners wearing.

Provided alway, That this Act be not hurtful, ne prejudicial, to any perſon or perſons, for making any clothes for their own wearing, their children or ſervants wearing.

Cloth ſhall be ſearched and ſealed in the foreſaid Towns.
St. 27 H. 8. 12.
Rep. 5 Ed. 6. 6.

Alſo provided, That in the ſaid City, and every Town and Borough aforeſaid, there ſhall be due ſearch made of every ſuch cloth beforeſaid, there made, and that they be meted both length and breadth, being wet from the Mill, and before they be ſet upon the rack and dried: and that they ſhall be ſealed with the Seal of the Searcher of the ſame City, Town, or Borough, which Seal ſhall have a ſtamp containing the true numbers for the length and breadth of the ſame cloth being wet, in pain of forfeiting for every cloth put to ſale, not having the ſaid Seal of the Searcher, xx. s. And the Sealer to forfeit for every cloth by him ſearched, and ſealed contrary to the true meaning of this Act, vj. s. viij. d. The one half of the ſaid forfeits to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other half to the party that ſhall ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts, by writ of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in which actions, or action, the defendants or defendant ſhall not wage their law, ſaw, ne any eſſoin or protection ſhall be allowed: And the Searcher ſhall have for the ſearching and ſealing of every cloth a peny, and not above.

CAP. XIX.

The Clergy in their Convocation ſhall enact no Conſtitutions without the Kings aſſent.

Where the Kings humble and obedient ſubjects, the Clergy of this Realm of England, have not onely knowledged according to truth, that the Convocations of the ſame Clergy, is, always hath been, and ought to be aſſembled onely by the Kings Writ, but alſo ſubmitting themſelves to the Kings Majeſty, have promiſed in verbo Sacerdotii, that they will never from henceforth preſume to attempt, alledge, claim, or put in ure, enact, promulge, or execute any new Canons, Conſtitutions, Ordinance Provincial, or other, or by whatſoever other name they ſhall be called in the Convocation, unleſs the Kings moſt Royal aſſent and licence may to them be had, to make, promulge, and execute the ſame: and that his Majeſty do give his moſt Royal aſſent and authority in that behalf. And where divers Conſtitutions, Ordinances, and Canons Provincial, or Synodal, which heretofore have been enacted, and be thought not onely to be much prejudicial to the Kings Prerogative Royal, and repugnant to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, but alſo over much onerous to his Highneſs and his ſubjects: the ſaid Clergy hath moſt humbly beſought the Kings Highneſs, that the ſaid Conſtitutions and Canons may be committed to the examination and judgment of his Highneſs, and of two and thirty perſons of the Kings ſubjects, whereof ſixteen to be of the upper and nether Houſe of the Parliament, of the Temporalty, and other ſixteen to be of the Clergy of this Realm. And all the ſaid two and thirty perſons to be choſen and appointed by the Kings Majeſty. And that ſuch of the ſaid Conſtitutions and Canons as ſhall be thought and determined by the ſaid two and thirty perſons, or the more part of them, worthy to be abrogated and adnulled, ſhall be abolite and made of no value accordingly. And ſuch other of the ſame Conſtitutions and Canons, as by the ſaid two and thirty, or the more part of them, ſhall be approved to ſtand with the Laws of God, and conſonant to the Laws of this Realm, ſhall ſtand in their full ſtrength and power, the Kings moſt Royal aſſent firſt had and obtained to the ſame. Be it therefore now enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, according to the ſaid ſubmiſſion and petition of the ſaid Clergy, that they, ne any of them, from henceforth ſhall preſume to attempt, alleage, claim, or put in ure any Conſtitutions, or Ordinances, Provincial or Synodals, or any other Canons: Nor ſhall enact, promulge, or execute any ſuch Canons, Conſtitutions, or Ordinances Provincial, by whatſoever name or names they may be called, in their Convocations in time coming, (which alway ſhall be aſſembled by authority of the Kings writ) unleſs the ſame Clergy may have the Kings moſt Royal aſſent and licence to make, promulge, and execute ſuch Canons, Conſtitutions, and Ordinances Provincial or Synodal, upon pain of every one of the ſaid Clergy, doing contrary to this Act, and being thereof convict, to ſuffer impriſonment, and make fine at the Kings will.

Several Canons have been prejudicial to the Kings Prerogative, and to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm.

The Clergy ſhall not enact any Conſtitutions or Ordinances without the Kings aſſent. St. 1 El. 1.

The Convocation ſhall be aſſembled by the Kings writ.

And foraſmuch as ſuch Canons, Conſtitutions, and Ordinances, as heretofore have been made by the Clergy of this Realm, cannot now at the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, by reaſon of ſhortneſs of time, be viewed, examined, and determined by the Kings Highneſs, and xxxij. perſons to be choſen and appointed, according to the petition of the ſaid Clergy, in form above rehearſed: Be it therefore enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the Kings Highneſs ſhall have power and authority to nominate and aſſign at his pleaſure the ſaid two and thirty perſons, of his ſubjects, whereof ſixteen to be of the Clergy, and ſixteen to be of the Temporalty of the upper and nether houſe of the Parliament. And if any of the ſaid two and thirty perſons ſo choſen, ſhall happen to die before their full determination: then his Highneſs to nominate other from time to time, of the ſaid two Houſes of the Parliament, to ſupply the number of the ſaid two and thirty. And that the ſame two and thirty by his Highneſs ſo to be named, ſhall have power and authority to view, ſearch, and examine the ſaid Canons, Conſtitutions, and Ordinances Provincial and Synodal heretofore made, and ſuch of them, as the Kings Highneſs and the ſaid two and thirty, or the more part of them, ſhall deem and adjudge worthy to be continued, kept, and obeyed, ſhall be from henceforth kept, obeyed, and executed within this Realm, ſo that the Kings moſt Royal aſſent, under his Great Seal, be firſt had to the ſame. And the reſidue of the ſaid Canons, Conſtitutions, and Ordinances Provincial, which the Kings Highneſs, and the ſaid two and thirty perſons, or the more part of them, ſhall not approve, or deem and judge worthy to be abolite, abrogate, and made fruſtrate, ſhall from thenceforth be void and of none effect, and never be put in execution within this Realm. Provided alway that no Canons, Conſtitutions, or Ordinance, ſhall be made or put in execution within this Realm, by authority of the Convocation of the Clergy, which ſhall be contrariant or repugnant to the Kings Prerogative Royal, or the Cuſtoms, Laws, or Statutes of this Realm, Any thing contained in this Act to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

The King may aſſign two and thirty perſons to examine the Canons, and to continue ſuch as they think worthy, and to abridge the reſidue. Exp. St. 20 H. 8. 15. 3 E. 6. 11. 35 H. 8. 16.

No Canons ſhall be executed which be contrary to the Kings Prerogative, or to the Laws.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That from the Feaſt of Eaſter which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, M. D. XXXIV. no manner of appeals ſhall be had, provoked, or made out of this Realm, or out of any the Kings Dominions, to the Biſhop of Rome, nor to the See of Rome in any cauſes or matters happening to be in contention, and having their commencement and beginning in any of the Courts within this Realm, or within any the Kings Dominions, of what nature, condition, or quality ſoever they be of: but that all manner of appeals, of what nature or condition ſoever they be of, or what cauſe or matter ſoever they concern, ſhall be made and had by the parties grieved, or having cauſe of appeal, after ſuch manner, form, and condition, as is limited for appeals to be had and proſecuted within this Realm in cauſes of matrimony, tythes, oblations, and obventions, by a Statute thereof made and eſtabliſhed ſithen the beginning of this preſent Parliament,

There ſhall be no appeals to Rome, but appeals ſhall be according to the Statute made. 24 H. 8. 15.

Parliament, and according to the form and effect of the ſaid Eſtatute, any uſage, cuſtom, preſcription, or any thing or things to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

Appeals from the Archbiſhops Court into the Chancery.

And for lack of Juſtice at or in any the Courts of the Archbiſhops of this Realm, or in any the Kings Dominions: it ſhall be lawful to the party grieved, to appeal to the Kings Majeſty, in the Kings Court of Chancery. And that upon every ſuch appeal, a Commiſſion ſhall be directed under the Great Seal, to ſuch perſons as ſhall be named by the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, like as in caſe of appeal from the Admirals Court, to hear, and definitively determine ſuch [a] appeals, and the cauſes concerning the ſame. Which Commiſſioners ſo by the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, to be named or appointed, ſhall have full power and authority to hear, and definitively determine every ſuch appeal, with the cauſes and all circumſtances concerning the ſame: and that ſuch judgment, and ſentence, as the ſaid Commiſſioners ſhall make and decree, in, and upon any ſuch appeal, ſhall be good and effectual, and alſo definitive: and no further appeals to be had, or made from the ſaid Commiſſioners for the ſame.

Premunire for ſuing of appeal to Rome, or execute any Proceſs from thence. ALT 13 El. 2.

And if any perſon or perſons, at any time after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter, provoke or ſue any manner of appeals, of what nature or condition ſoever they be of, to the ſaid Biſhops of Rome, or to the See of Rome, or do procure or execute any manner of Proceſs from the See of Rome, or by authority thereof, to the derogation, or let of the due execution of this Act, or contrary to the ſame: that then every ſuch perſon or perſons (ſo doing) their aiders, counſellers, and abetters, ſhall incur, and run into the dangers, pains, and penalties contained, and limited in the Act of Proviſion and Premunire, made in the fifteenth year of the Kings moſt noble Progenitor, King Richard the Second, againſt ſuch as ſue to the Court of Rome, againſt the Kings Crown and Prerogative Royal.

Appeals from places exempt, which were to the See of Rome, ſhall now be into the Chancery.

Provided always, That all manner of provocations, and appeals hereafter to be had, made, or taken from the juriſdiction of any Abbots, Priors, or other heads and governours of Monaſteries, Abbeys, Priories, and other houſes and places exempt, in ſuch caſes as they were wont, or might afore the making of this Act, by reaſon of grants or liberties of ſuch places exempt to have or make immediately any appeal, or provocation to the Biſhop of Rome, otherwiſe called the Pope, or to the See of Rome, that in all theſe caſes every perſon and perſons, having cauſe to appeal or provocation, ſhall and may take, and make their appeals and provocations immediately to the Kings Majeſty of this Realm, in the Court of Chancery, in like manner and form as they uſed afore to do to the See of Rome: Which appeals and provocations ſo made, ſhall be definitively determined by authority of the Kings Commiſſion: in ſuch manner and form as in this Act is above mentioned. So that no Archbiſhop or Biſhop of this Realm, ſhall intermit or meddle with any ſuch appeals, otherwiſe, or in any other manner, then they might have done afore the making of this Act: any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Canons and Conſtitutions already made.

Provided alſo, That ſuch Canons, Conſtitutions, Ordinances, and Synodals Provincial, being already made, which be not contrariant, nor repugnant to the Laws, Statutes, and Cuſtoms of this Realm, nor to the damage or hurt of the Kings Prerogative Royal, ſhall now ſtill be uſed and executed as they were afore the making of this Act, till ſuch time as they be viewed, ſearched, or otherwiſe ordered and determined by the ſaid two and thirty perſons, or the more part of them, according to the tenour, form, and effect of this preſent Act. Rep. 1 & 2 P. & M. 8. and revived 1 El. 1.

CAP. XX.

No Firſt-fruits ſhall be paid to the Biſhop of Rome: And within what time a Biſhop ſhall be choſen, inveſted, and conſecrated.

The payment of Firſt-fruits, and all contributions to the See of Rome by any Biſhops ſhall ceaſe.

Where ſithen the beginning of this preſent Parliament for repreſs of the exaction of Annates and Firſt-fruits of Archbiſhopricks and Biſhopricks of this Realm, wrongfully taken by the Biſhop of Rome, otherwiſe called the Pope, and See of Rome, it is ordained and eſtabliſhed by an Act among other things, that the payments of the Annates or Firſt-fruits, and all manner contributions for the ſame, for any ſuch Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick, or for any Bulls to be obtained from the See of Rome, to, or for the ſaid purpoſe or intent, ſhould utterly ceaſe, and no ſuch to be paid for any Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick within this Realm, otherwiſe then in the ſame Act is expreſſed. And that no manner of perſon or perſons to be named, elected, preſented, or poſtulated to any Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick within this Realm, ſhould pay the ſaid Annates or Firſt-fruits, nor any other manner of ſum or ſums of money, penſions or annuities for the ſame, or for any other like exaction or cauſe, upon pain to forfeit to our Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, all manner his goods and cattels for ever, and all the Temporal lands and poſſeſſions of the ſaid Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick, during the time that he or they that ſhould offend contrary to the ſaid Act, ſhould, have, poſſeſs, and enjoy the ſaid Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick. And it was further enacted, That if any perſon named or preſented to the See of Rome by the Kings Highneſs, or his Heirs or Succeſſors, to be Biſhop of any See or Dioceſs within this Realm, ſhould happen to be letted, delayed, or deferred at the See of Rome from any Biſhoprick, whereunto he ſhould be ſo preſented, by mean of reſtraint of Bulls of the ſaid Biſhop of Rome, otherwiſe called the Pope, and other things requiſite to the ſame, or ſhould be denied at the See of Rome, upon convenient ſuit made for any Bulls requiſite for any ſuch cauſe: that then every perſon ſo preſented, might or ſhould be conſecrated in England by the Archbiſhop, in whoſe Province the ſaid Biſhoprick ſhall be: ſo always that the ſame perſon ſhould be named, and preſented by the King for the time being to the ſaid Archbiſhop. And if any perſon being named, and preſented (as is beforeſaid) to any Archbiſhoprick of this Realm, making convenient ſuit, as is aforeſaid, ſhould happen to be letted, delayed, deferred, or otherwiſe diſturbed from the ſaid Archbiſhoprick, for lack of Pall, Bulls, or other things to him requiſite to be obtained at the See of Rome: that then every ſuch perſon ſo named and preſented to be Archbiſhop, might and ſhould be conſecrated and inveſted after preſentation made, as is aforeſaid, by any other two Biſhops within this Realm, whom the Kings Highneſs, , or any his Heirs or Succeſſors, Kings of England, would appoint and aſſign for the ſame, according and after like manner, as divers Archbiſhops and Biſhops have been heretofore in antient time by ſundry the Kings moſt noble Progenitors made, conſecrated, and inveſted within this Realm. And it was further enacted by the ſaid Act, That every Archbiſhop and Biſhop, being named and preſented by the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, Kings of England, and being conſecrated and inveſted, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be inſtalled accordingly, and ſhould be accepted, taken, and reputed, uſed and obeyed, as an Archbiſhop or Biſhop, of the dignity, See, or place whereunto he ſhall be ſo named, preſented, and conſecrated, and as other like Prelates of that Province, See, or Dioceſs have been uſed, accepted, taken, and obeyed, which have had and obtained compleatly their Bulls and other things requiſite in that behalf from the See of Rome, and alſo ſhould fully and entirely have and enjoy all the Spiritualties and Temporalties of the ſaid Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick, in as large, ample, and beneficial manner, as any of his or their Predeceſſors had or enjoyed in the ſaid Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick, ſatiſfying and yielding unto the Kings Highneſs, and to his Heirs and Succeſſors, all ſuch duties, rights, and inveſts, as heretofore hath been accuſtomed to be paid for any ſuch Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick, according to the antient laws and cuſtoms of this Realm, and the Kings Prerogative Royal, as in the ſaid Act amongſt other things is more at large mentioned.

One preſented to the See of Rome to an Archbiſhoprick, and there letted, may be conſecrated by two Biſhops of England.

The Kings Royal conſent to the foreſaid Statute.

And albeit the ſaid Biſhop of Rome, otherwiſe called the Pope, hath been informed, and certified of the effectual contents of the ſaid Act, to the intent that by ſome gentle ways the ſaid exactions might have been redreſſed and reformed: yet nevertheleſs the ſaid Biſhop of Rome hitherto hath made none anſwer of his mind therein to the Kings Highneſs, nor deviſed or required any reaſonable ways to and with our ſaid Sovereign Lord for the ſame. Wherefore his moſt Royal Majeſty, of his excellent goodneſs, for the wealth and profit of this his Realm and ſubjects of the ſame, hath not onely put his moſt gracious and Royal aſſent to the foreſaid Act, but alſo hath ratified and confirmed the ſame, and every clauſe and article therein contained, as by his Letters Patents under his Great Seal enrolled in the Parliament Roll of this preſent Parliament more at large is contained.

No man ſhall be preſented to the See of Rome for the dignity of an Archbiſhop or Biſhop, nor Annates or Firſt-fruits ſhall be paid to the ſame See.

And foraſmuch as in the ſaid Act it is not plainly and certainly expreſſed, in what manner and faſhion Archbiſhops and Biſhops ſhall be elected, preſented, inveſted, and conſecrated within this Realm, and in all other the Kings Dominions: Be it now therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Act, and every thing therein contained, ſhall be and ſtand in ſtrength, vertue, and effect, Except onely that no perſon or perſons hereafter ſhall be preſented and nominated, or commended to the ſaid Biſhop of Rome, otherwiſe called the Pope, or to the See of Rome, to or for the dignity or office of any Archbiſhop or Biſhop within this Realm, or in any other the Kings Dominions, nor ſhall ſend nor procure there for any manner of Bulls, Breeves, Palls, or other things requiſite for an Archbiſhop or Biſhop, nor ſhall pay any ſums of money for Annates, Firſt-fruits, nor otherwiſe for expedition of any ſuch Bulls, Breeves, or Palls: but that by the authority of this Act, ſuch preſenting, nominating, or commending to the ſaid Biſhop of Rome, or to the See of Rome, and ſuch Bulls, Breeves, Palls, Annates, Firſt-fruits, and every other ſums of money heretofore limited, accuſtomed, or uſe to be paid at the ſaid See of Rome, for procuration or expedition of any ſuch Bulls, Breeves, or Palls, or other thing concerning the ſame, ſhall utterly ceaſe, and no longer be uſed within this Realm, or within any the Kings Dominions, any thing contained in the ſaid Act afore mentioned, or any uſe, cuſtom, or preſcription to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The manner of electing an Archbiſhop or Biſhop.

And furthermore be it ordained and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That at every avoidance of any Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick within this Realm, or in any other the Kings Dominions, the King our Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, may grant to the Prior and Covent, or the Dean and Chapiter of the Cathedral Churches or Monaſteries, where the See of ſuch Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick ſhall happen to be void, a licence under the great Seal as of old time hath been accuſtomed, to proceed to election of an Archbiſhop or Biſhop of the See ſo being void, with a letter miſſive, containing the name of the perſon, which they ſhall elect and chuſe. By vertue of which licenſe, the ſaid Dean and Chapiter, or Prior and Covent, to whom any ſuch licenſe and letters miſſives ſhall be directed, ſhall with all ſpeed and celerity, in due form elect and chuſe the ſaid perſon named in the ſaid letters miſſive, to the dignity and office of the Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick, ſo being void, and none other. And if they do defer or delay their election above twelve days next after ſuch licence, and letters miſſives to them delivered, That then for every ſuch default, the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, at their liberty and pleaſure, ſhall nominate and preſent by their Letters Patents under their Great Seal, ſuch a perſon to the ſaid office and dignity, ſo being void, as they ſhall think able and convenient for the ſame. And that every ſuch nomination, and preſentment, to be made by the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, if it be to the office and dignity of Biſhop, ſhall be made to the Archbiſhop and Metropolitane of the Province, where the See of the ſame Biſhoprick is void, if the See of the ſaid Archbiſhop be then full and not void: and if it be void, then to be made to ſuch Archbiſhop or Metropolitane within this Realm, or in any the Kings Dominions, as ſhall pleaſe the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors. And if any ſuch nomination, and preſentment ſhall happen to be made for default of ſuch

For default of election by the Dean and Chapiter the King ſhall nominate a Biſhop by his Letters Patents.

election to the dignity or office of any Archbiſhop; then the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, by his Letters Patents under his Great Seal, ſhall nominate and preſent ſuch perſon as they will diſpoſe to have the ſaid office and dignity of Archbiſhoprick being void, to one ſuch Archbiſhop, and two ſuch Biſhops, or elſe to four ſuch Biſhops in this Realm, or in any of the Kings Dominions, as ſhall be aſſigned by our ſaid Sovereign Lord, his Heirs or Succeſſors.

Conſecration of a Biſhop.

The name of a Biſhop newly choſen, viz. a Lord elect.

The Kings ſignification of a Biſhop or Archbiſhop elect.

And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That whenſoever any ſuch preſentment or nomination ſhall be made by the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, by vertue and authority of this Act, and according to the tenour of the ſame: That then every Archbiſhop and Biſhop, to whoſe hands any ſuch preſentment and nomination ſhall be directed, ſhall with all ſpeed and celerity, inveſt and conſecrate the perſon nominate and preſented by the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, to the office and dignity that ſuch perſon ſhall be ſo preſented unto, and give and uſe to him Pall, and all other benedictions, ceremonies, and things requiſite for the ſame, without ſuing, procuring, or obtaining hereafter any Bulls, or other things at the See of Rome for any ſuch office or dignity in that behalf. And if the ſaid Dean and Chapiter, or Prior and Covent, after ſuch licence and letters miſſive to them directed within the ſaid twelve days, do elect and chuſe the ſaid perſon mentioned in the ſaid letters miſſive, according to the requeſt of the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, thereof to be made by the ſaid letters miſſive in that behalf: then their election ſhall ſtand good and effectual to all intents; and that the perſon ſo elected, after certification made of the ſame election, under the Common and Covent Seal of the Electors, to the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhall be reputed and taken by the name of Lord elected of the ſaid dignity and office, that he ſhall be elected unto: And then making ſuch oath and fealty duely to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, as ſhall be appointed for the ſame, the Kings Highneſs by his Letters Patents under his Great Seal, ſhall ſignifie the ſaid election, if it be to the dignity of a Biſhop, to the Archbiſhop and Metropolitan of the Province where the See of the ſaid Biſhoprick was void, if the See of the ſaid Archbiſhop be full and not void. And if it be void, then to any other Archbiſhop within this Realm, or in any other the Kings Dominions, requiring and commanding ſuch Archbiſhop, to whom any ſuch ſignification ſhall be made, to confirm the ſaid election, and to inveſt and conſecrate the ſaid perſon ſo elected to the office and dignity that he is elected unto, and to give and uſe to him all ſuch benedictions, ceremonies, and other things requiſite for the ſame, without any ſuing, procuring, or obtaining any Bulls, Letters, or other things from the See of Rome for the ſame in any behalf. And if the perſon ſo elected to the office and dignity of an Archbiſhop, according to the tenour of this Act, then after ſuch election certified to the Kings Highneſs, in form aforeſaid, the ſame perſon ſo elected to the office and dignity of an Archbiſhop, ſhall be reputed and taken Lord elect to the ſaid office and dignity of an Archbiſhop, whereunto he ſhall be ſo elect: And then after he hath made ſuch oath and fealty onely to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, as ſhall be limited for the ſame, the Kings Highneſs, by his Letters Patents under his Great Seal, ſhall ſignifie the ſaid election to one Archbiſhop, and two other Biſhops, or elſe to four Biſhops within this Realm, or within any other the Kings Dominions, to be aſſigned to the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, requiring and commanding the ſaid Archbiſhop and Biſhops with all ſpeed and celerity, to confirm the ſaid election, and to inveſt and conſecrate the ſaid perſon, ſo elected to the office and dignity that he is elected unto, and to give and uſe to him ſuch Pall, benedictions, ceremonies, and all other things requiſite for the ſame, without ſuing, procuring, or obtaining any Bulls, Briefs, or other things at the ſaid See of Rome, or by the authority thereof in any behalf.

This election of a Biſhop ſhall be lawful. St. 8 El. 1.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That every perſon and perſons being hereafter choſen, elected, nominate, preſented, inveſted, and conſecrated to the dignity or office of any Archbiſhop or Biſhop within this Realm, or within any other the Kings Dominions, according to the form, tenour, and effect of this preſent Act, and ſuing their Temporalties out of the Kings hands, his Heirs or Succeſſors, as hath been accuſtomed, and making a corporal oath to the Kings Highneſs, and to none other, in form as is afore rehearſed, ſhall and may from henceforth be trononiſed, or inſtalled, as the caſe ſhall require, and ſhall have and take their onely reſtitution, out of the Kings hands, of all the poſſeſſions and profits Spiritual and Temporal belonging to the ſaid Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick, whereunto they ſhall be ſo elected or preſented, and ſhall be obeyed in all manner of things, according to the name, title, degree, and dignity, that they ſhall be ſo choſen or preſented unto, and do and execute in every thing and things, touching the ſame, as any Archbiſhop or Biſhop of this Realm, without offending of the Prerogative Royal of the Crown, and the Laws and Cuſtoms of this Realm, might at any time hereafter do.

The penalty for not electing or not conſecrating a Biſhop named.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the Prior and Covent of any Monaſtery, or Dean and Chapiter of any Cathedral Church, where the See of an Archbiſhop or Biſhop is within any the Kings Dominions, after ſuch licence, as is afore rehearſed ſhall be delivered to them, proceed not to election, & ſignifie the ſame according to the tenour of this Act, within the ſpace of twenty days next after ſuch licence ſhall come to their hands: or elſe if any Archbiſhop or Biſhop within any the Kings Dominions, after any ſuch election, nomination, or preſentation ſhall be ſignified unto them by the Kings Letters Patents, ſhall refuſe, and do not confirm, inveſt, and conſecrate, with all due circumſtance as is aforeſaid, every ſuch perſon as ſhall be ſo elected, nominate, or preſented, and to them ſignified, as is above mentioned, within twenty days next after the Kings Letters Patents of ſuch ſignification, or preſentation ſhall come to their hands, or elſe if any of them, or any other perſon or perſons, admit, maintain, allow, obey, do, or execute any Cenſures, Excommunications, Interdictions, Inhibitions, or any other Proceſs or Act, of what nature, name, or quality ſoever it be, to the contrary, or let of due execution of this Act, that then every Prior and particular perſon of his Covent, and every Dean, and particular perſon of the Chapter, and every Archbiſhop and Biſhop, and all other perſons ſo offending and doing contrary to this Act, or any part thereof, and their aiders, counſellers, abetters, ſhall run in the dangers, pains, and penalties of the eſtatute of proviſion and Premunire, made in the five and twentieth year of the Reign of King Edward the Third, and in the ſixteenth year of King Richard the Second. CAP. XXI.

No Impoſition ſhall be paid to the Biſhop of Rome.

Sums of money which have been paid for ſeveral cauſes to the Biſhop and See of Rome.

MOſt humbly beſeeching your moſt Royal Majeſty your obedient and faithful ſubjects, the Commons of this your preſent Parliament, aſſembled by your moſt dread commandment, That where your ſubjects of this your Realm, and of other Countries and Dominions, being under your obeyſance, by many years paſt have been, and yet be greatly decayed and impoveriſhed, by intolerable exactions of great ſums of money, as have been claimed and taken, and yet continually be claimed to be taken out of this your Realm, and other your ſaid Countries and Dominions, by the Biſhop of Rome, called the Pope, and the See of Rome, as well in Penſions, Cenſes, Peter pence, Procurations, Fruits, Suits for Proviſions, and expeditions of Bulls, for Archbiſhopricks and Biſhopricks, and for Delegacies and Reſcripts in cauſes of contentions and appeals, Juriſdictions Legantine, and alſo for Diſpenſations, Licences, Faculties, Grants, Relaxations, Writs called Perinde valere, Rehabilitations, Abolitions, and other infinite ſorts of Bulls, Breves, and Inſtruments of ſundry natures, names, and kinds, in great numbers heretofore practiſed and obtained, otherwiſe then by the Laws, laudable uſes, and cuſtoms of this Realm ſhould be permitted, the ſpecialties whereof been over long, large in number, and tedious here particularly to be inſerted. Wherein the Biſhop of Rome aforeſaid, hath not been, not onely to be blamed, for his uſurpation in the premiſes, but alſo for his abuſing and beguiling your ſubjects, pretending and perſwading them, that he hath power to diſpence with all humane Laws, Uſes, and Cuſtoms of all Realms, in all cauſes which be called Spiritual. Which matter hath been uſurped and practiſed by him and his Predeceſſors by many years, in great derogation of your Imperial Crown and Authority Royal, contrary to right and conſcience. For where this your Graces Realm recogniſing no Superiour under God, but onely your Grace, hath been, and is free from ſubjection to any mans Laws, but onely to ſuch as have been deviſed, made, and obtained within this Realm for the wealth of the ſame, or to ſuch other, as by ſufferance of your Grace and your Progenitors, the people of this your Realm, have taken at their free liberty by their own conſent to be uſed amongſt them, and have bound themſelves by long uſe and cuſtom to the obſervance of the ſame, not as to the obſervance of the Laws of any foreign Prince, Potentate, or Prelate, but as to the cuſtomed and antient Laws of this Realm, originally eſtabliſhed, as Laws of the ſame, by the ſaid ſufferance, contents, and cuſtom, and none otherwiſe. It ſtandeth therefore with natural equity and good reaſon, that in all and every ſuch Laws humane, made within this Realm, or induced into this Realm by the ſaid ſufferance, conſents, and cuſtom, your Royal Majeſty, and your Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons repreſenting the whole ſtate of your Realm, in this your moſt high Court of Parliament, have full power and authority, not onely to diſpence, but alſo to authorize ſome elect perſon or perſons, to diſpenſe with thoſe and all other humane Laws of this your Realm, and with every one of them, as the quality of the perſons and matter ſhall require. And alſo the ſaid Laws and every of them to abrogate, adnul, amplifie, or diminiſh, as it ſhall be ſeen unto your Majeſty, and the Nobles and Commons of your Realm, preſent in your Parliament, meet and convenient for the wealth of your Realm, as by divers good and wholeſome Acts of Parliaments, made and eſtabliſhed, as well in your time, as in the time of your moſt noble Progenitors, it may plainly and evidently appear. And becauſe that it is now in theſe days preſent ſeen, that the ſtate, dignity, ſuperiority, reputation, and authority of the ſaid Imperial Crown of this Realm, by the long ſufferance of the ſaid unreaſonable and uncharitable uſurpations and exactions, practiſed in the times of your moſt noble Progenitors, is much and ſore decayed, and diminiſhed, and the people of this Realm thereby impoveriſhed, and ſo or worſe be like to continue, if remedy be not therefore ſhortly provided:

This Realm is free from any Laws of man but ſuch as have been deviſed within the ſame.

The Parliament hath authority to diſpence, and to elect ſome perſons to diſpence with all the humane Laws of this Realm, and to amplifie and admit them.

It may therefore pleaſe your moſt noble Majeſty, for the honour of Almighty God, and for the tender love, zeal, and affection, that ye bear, and always have born to the wealth of this your Realm, and ſubjects of the ſame, for as much as your Majeſty is ſupreme Head of the Church of England, as the Prelates and Clergy of your Realm, repreſenting the ſaid Church, in their Synods and Convocations have recogniſed, in whom conſiſteth full power and authority upon all ſuch Laws as have been made and uſed within this Realm, to ordain and enact by the aſſent of your Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons of this your Realm, or of any other your Dominions, ſhall from henceforth pay any Penſions, Cenſes, Portions, Peter-pence, or any other Impoſitions to the uſe of the ſaid Biſhop, or of the See of Rome, like as heretofore they have uſed, by uſurpation of the ſaid Biſhop of Rome, and his Predeceſſors, and ſufferance of your Highneſs, and your moſt noble Progenitors to do, but that all ſuch Penſions, Cenſes, Portions, and Peterpence, which the ſaid Biſhop of Rome, otherwiſe called the Pope, hath heretofore taken and perceived, or cauſed to be taken and perceived to his uſe and his Chambers, which he called Apoſtolick, by uſurpation and ſufferance, as is abovesaid, within this your Realm, or any other your Dominions, ſhall from henceforth clearly ſurceaſe, and never more be levied, levied, taken, perceived, nor paid to any perſon or perſons in any manner of wiſe, any conſtitution, uſe, preſcription, or cuſtom to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

No Impoſitions ſhall be paid to the Biſhop or See of Rome.

No perſon ſhall ſue for any diſpenſation or licenſe to the Biſhop of Rome.
a Coke pla. fol. 204. 471.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That neither your Highneſs, your Heirs nor Succeſſors, Kings of this Realm, nor any your ſubjects of this Realm, nor of any other your Dominions, ſhall from henceforth ſue to the ſaid Biſhop of Rome, called the Pope, or to the See of Rome, or to any perſon or perſons, having or pretending any authority by the ſame, for Licences, Diſpenſations, [a] Impoſitions, Faculties, Grants, Reſcripts, Delegacies, or any other Inſtruments or Writings, of what kind, name, nature, or quality ſoever they be of, for any cauſe or matter, for the which any Licence, Diſpenſation, Compoſition, Faculty, Grant, Reſcript, Delegacy, Inſtrument, or other writing heretofore hath been uſed and accuſtomed to be had and obtained at the See of Rome, or by authority thereof, or of any Prelates of this Realm: nor for any manner of other Licences, Diſpenſations, Compoſitions, Faculties, Grants, Reſcripts, Delegacies, or any other Inſtruments or Writings, that in cauſes of neceſſity may lawfully be granted without offending the holy Scriptures and Laws of God: But that from henceforth every ſuch Licence, Diſpenſation, Compoſition, Faculty, Grant, Reſcript, Delegacy, Inſtrument, and other writing afore named and mentioned, neceſſary for your Highneſs, your Heirs and Succeſſors, and your and their people and ſubjects, upon the due examinations of the cauſes and qualities of the perſons procuring ſuch Diſpenſations, Licences, Compoſitions, Faculties, Grants, Reſcripts, Delegacies, Inſtruments, or other writings, ſhall be granted, had, and obtained from time to time, within this your Realm, and other your Dominions, and not elſewhere, in manner and form following, and none otherwiſe: That is to ſay, The Archbiſhop of Canterbury, for the time being, and his ſucceſſors ſhall have power and authority from time to time, by their diſcretions, to give, grant, and diſpoſe by an inſtrument, under the Seal of the ſaid Archbiſhop, unto your Majeſty, and to your Heirs and Succeſſors, Kings of this Realm, as well all manner ſuch Licences, Diſpenſations, Compoſitions, Faculties, Grants, Reſcripts, Delegacies, Inſtruments, and all other writings, for cauſes not being contrary, or repugnant to the holy Scriptures, and Laws of God, as heretofore hath been uſed, and accuſtomed to be had and obtained by your Highneſs, or any your moſt noble Progenitors, or any of your or their ſubjects, at the See of Rome, or of any perſon or perſons by authority of the ſame: and all other Licences, Diſpenſations, Faculties, Compoſitions, Grants, Reſcripts, Delegacies, Inſtruments, and other writings, in, for, and upon all ſuch cauſes and matters, as ſhall be convenient and neceſſary to be had, for the honour and ſurety of your Highneſs, your Heirs and Succeſſors, and the wealth and profit of this your Realm: So that the ſaid Archbiſhop, or any of his ſucceſſors, in no manner wiſe ſhall grant any Diſpenſation, Licence, Reſcript, or any other writing afore rehearſed, for any cauſe or matter repugnant to the Law of Almighty God.

The Archbiſhop of Canterbury may grant diſpenſations to the King.
Co. Inſt. 4 p. 337.

The Biſhop of Canterbury may grant licenſes of things wonted to be licenſed. a Cok. pla. f. 512.

Be it alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Archbiſhop and his ſucceſſors, after good and due examination by them had, of the cauſes and qualities of the perſons procuring for Licences, Diſpenſations, Compoſitions, Faculties, Delegacies, Reſcripts, Inſtruments, or other writings, ſhall have full power and authority by themſelves, or by their ſufficient and ſubſtantial [a] Commiſſary or Deputy, by their diſcretions from time to time, to grant and diſpoſe by an inſtrument under the name and ſeal of the ſaid Archbiſhop, as well to any of your ſubjects, as to the ſubjects of your Heirs and Succeſſors, all manner Licences, Diſpenſations, Faculties, Compoſitions, Delegacies, Reſcripts, Inſtruments, or other writings for any ſuch cauſe or matter, whereof heretofore ſuch Licences, Diſpenſations, Compoſitions, Faculties, Delegacies, Reſcripts, Inſtruments, or writings have been accuſtomed to be had at the See of Rome, or by the authority thereof, or of any Prelats of this Realm.

Diſpenſations to cauſes unwonted to be licenſed ſhall not be granted without the approbation of the King or his Council.

And that the ſaid Archbiſhop and his Commiſſary ſhall not grant any other Licence, Diſpenſation, Compoſition, Faculty, Writing, or Inſtrument in cauſes unwont, and not accuſtomed to be had or obtained at the Court of Rome, nor by authority thereof, nor by any Prelate of this Realm, until your Grace, your Heirs or Succeſſors, or your or their Council ſhall firſt be advertiſed thereof, and determine whether ſuch Licences, Diſpenſations, Compoſitions, Faculties, or other writings in ſuch cauſes unwont and not accuſtomed to be diſpenſed withall, or obtained, ſhall commonly paſs as other Diſpenſations, Faculties, or other writings ſhall, or no, upon pain that the grantors of every ſuch Licence, Diſpenſation, or Writing in ſuch cauſes, unwont, contrary to this Act, ſhall make fine at the will and pleaſure of your Grace, your Heirs and Succeſſors. And if it be thought and determined by your Grace, your Heirs or Succeſſors, or your or their Council, that Diſpenſations, Faculties, Licences, or other writings in any ſuch cauſe unwont, ſhall paſs, then the ſaid Archbiſhop or his Commiſſary, having licence of your Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors for the ſame, by your or their bill aſſigned, ſhall diſpence with them accordingly.

Licence of things whereof the tax extends to iiij. li. ſhall be confirmed by the Kings Great Seal.

Provided always, That [a] no manner Diſpenſations, Licences, Faculties, or other Reſcripts or Writings, hereafter to be granted to any perſon or perſons by vertue or authority of this Act by the ſaid Archbiſhop, or his Commiſſary, being of ſuch importance, that the tax for the expedition thereof at Rome, extended to the ſum of four pounds or above, ſhall in any wiſe be put in execution, till the ſame Licence, Diſpenſation, Faculty, Reſcript, or other writing, of what name or nature ſoever it be of, be firſt confirmed by your Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors, Kings of this Realm, under the Great Seal, and enrolled in your Chancery in a Roll by a Clerk to be appointed for the ſame. And that this Act ſhall be a ſufficient warrant to the Chancellor of England for the time being, or to him whom your Grace, your Heirs or Succeſſors ſhall depute to be Keeper of the Great Seal, to confirm in your name, your heirs or ſucceſſors, the foreſaid writings paſſed under the ſaid Archbiſhops ſeal by letters Patents in due form thereof to be made under your great Seal, remitting as well the ſaid writing under the Archbiſhops Seal, as the ſaid confirmation under the great Seal, to the parties from time to time procuring for the ſame. And that all ſuch licences, diſpenſations, faculties, and other reſcripts and writings, for the expedition of the which the ſaid taxes to be paid at Rome, was under iv. li. which be matters of no great importance, ſhall paſs only by the Archbiſhops ſeal, and ſhall not of any neceſſity be confirmed by the great Seal, unleſs the procurers of ſuch licence, faculty, or diſpenſation, deſire to have them confirmed; in which caſe they ſhall pay for the ſaid great Seal, to the uſe of your Highneſs, your heirs and ſucceſſors, v. s. ſterling, and not above, over and above ſuch tax as ſhall be hereafter limited for the making, writing, regiſtring, confirming, and inrolling of ſuch licences, confirmations, and writings under the ſaid tax of iv. li.

What diſpenſations may be granted by the Archbiſhop without the Kings confirmation.

And that every ſuch licence, diſpenſation, compoſition, faculty, reſcript, and writing of what name or nature ſoever it be, for ſuch cauſes as the tax was wont to be iv. li. or above, ſo granted by the Archbiſhop, and confirmed under the great Seal, and all other licences, diſpenſations, faculties, reſcripts, and writings hereafter to be granted by the Archbiſhop by vertue and authority of this Act, whereunto the great Seal is not limited of neceſſity to be put to, by reaſon that the tax of them is under iv. li. ſhall be accepted, approved, allowed, and admitted good and effectual in the law, in all places, Courts, and Juriſdictions, as well ſpiritual as temporal, within this Realm, as elſewhere within your Dominions, and as beneficial to the perſons obtaining the ſame, as they ſhould have been, if they had been obtained with all things requiſite, of the See of Rome, or of any other perſon by authority thereof, without any revocation, or repeal hereafter to be had of any ſuch licences, diſpenſations, faculties, reſcripts, or writings, of what nature ſoever they be.

All acts done by vertue of any of the aforeſaid Licences, ſhall be good and of force in Law.

And that all children procreated after ſolemnization of any marriages to be had or done by vertue of ſuch licences or diſpenſations, ſhall be admitted reputed, and taken legitimate in all Courts, as well Spiritual as Temporal, and in all other places, and inherit the inheritance of their parents and anceſtors within this your Realm, and all other your dominions, according to the Laws and Cuſtoms of the ſame; and all acts to be done, had, or executed according to the tenour of ſuch licences, diſpenſations, faculties, writings, or other inſtruments to be made or granted by authority of this Act, ſhall be firm, permanent, and remain in force, any foreign Laws, Conſtitutions, Decrees, Canons, Decretals, Inhibitions, Uſe, Cuſtom, Preſcription, or any other thing had, or hereafter to be made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Licences to marry, and children born after the ſame marriages.

And be it further enacted, That the ſaid Archbiſhop and his ſucceſſors ſhall have power and authority to ordain, make and conſtitute a Clerk, which ſhall write, and regiſter every ſuch licence, diſpenſation, faculty, writing, or other inſtrument to be granted by the ſaid Archbiſhop, and ſhall find parchment, wax, and ſilken laces convenient for the ſame, and ſhall take for his pains ſuch ſums of money as ſhall be hereafter in this preſent Act to him limited in that behalf for the ſame. And that likewiſe your Grace, your heirs and ſucceſſors, ſhall by your Letters Patents under your great Seal, ordain, depute and conſtitute one ſufficient Clerk, being learned in the courſe of Chancery, which always ſhall be attendant upon the Lord Chancellor, or the Lord Keeper of the ᵈ great Seal, for the time being, and ſhall make, write, and enroll the confirmations of all ſuch licences, diſpenſations, inſtruments or other writings, as ſhall be thither brought under the Archbiſhops ſeal, there to be confirmed and enrolled: and ſhall alſo intitle in his books, and inroll of record ſuch other writings, as thither ſhall be brought under the Archbiſhops ſeal, not to be confirmed, taking for his pains ſuch reaſonable ſums of money as hereafter by this Act to him ſhall be limited for the ſame; and that as well the ſaid Clerk appointed by the ſaid Archbiſhop, as the ſaid Clerk to be appointed by your Highneſs, your heirs or ſucceſſors, ſhall ſubſcribe their names to every ſuch licence, diſpenſation, faculty, or other writing that ſhall come to their hands to be written, made, granted, ſealed, confirmed, regiſtred, and enrolled by authority of this Act, in form as is before rehearſed.

A clerk to regiſter diſpenſations appointed by the Archbiſhop.

A Clerk aſſigned by the King to write confirmations.

And foraſmuch as the charges of obtaining the ſaid Licences, Diſpenſations, Faculties, and other Reſcripts or Writings afore named, at the Court of Rome, by the loſſes and exchanges, and in conducting of Currours, and waging of Solicitors to ſue for any ſuch Licences, Diſpenſations, Faculties, Inſtruments, and other Reſcripts or Writings, have been grievous and exceſſive to your people, and many times greater ſums have been demanded for the ſpeedy expedition in the Court of Rome, than be expreſſed in the old tax, limited to be paid for the ſaid expeditions, whereby your people hath been brought to an incertainty upon the payment for expeditions of ſuch things, and by reaſon thereof have been conſtrained to pay more then they were wont to do, to the great impoveriſhing of this Realm, as is aforeſaid. And ſometimes the ſpeeding of ſuch Diſpenſations, Faculties, Licences, and other Writings at Rome, hath been ſo long deferred, that the parties labouring for the ſame, have ſuffered great incommodities, and loſs for lack of quick ſpeed, which hereafter may be had within this your Realm, to the great commodity of your people, whereby the charges of making exchanges, conducting of Currours, and Solicitors for the ſaid Diſpenſations ſhall be abated, and your people ſo much relieved and eaſed, to the intent that all ambiguity, and incertainty of payments for Diſpenſations, Faculties, Licences, and other Reſcripts and Writings may be taken away, that no fraud or exaction ſhall be exerciſed upon your people, by ſuch officers as ſhall be appointed by this Act, to take pains in ſpeeding ſuch Diſpenſations, Faculties, and Licences: but that your people may be ſure and certain what they be appointed to pay for the ſame.

The charges qualified which had wont to be ſpent in obtaining diſpenſations and licences from Rome.

Be it enacted by this preſent Parliament, and by the authority of the ſame, That there ſhall be two books drawn and made of one tenor: in which ſhall be contained the taxes of all cuſtom-

Two books ſhall be made, wherein the taxes of diſpenſations ſhall be written.

cuſtomable diſpenſations, faculties, licences, and other writings, wont to be ſped at Rome, which book, and every leaf of thoſe Books, and both ſides of every leaf, ſhall be ſubſcribed by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, the Lord Chancellor of England, the Lord Treaſurer of England, and the two chief Juſtices of both Benches for the time being: to the which books all ſuters for diſpenſations, faculties, licences, and other writings afore rehearſed, ſhall have recourſe if they require it. And one of the ſaid books ſhall remain in the hands of him which ſhall be appointed to be Regiſter, and Scribe of the ſaid diſpenſations, faculties and licences, under the ſaid Archbiſhop of Canterbury, in form as is before ſaid: and the other books ſhall remain with the Clerk of the Chancery, which by your Grace, your heirs or ſucceſſors ſhall be appointed, as is before rehearſed. Which Clerk of the Chancery ſhall alſo intitle and note particularly and daily in his Book ordained for that purpoſe, the number and qualities of the diſpenſations, faculties, licences, and other reſcripts and writings, which ſhall be ſealed onely with the ſeal of the ſaid Archbiſhop: and alſo which ſhall be ſealed with the ſaid ſeal, and confirmed with the great Seal, in form as is before ſaid, that all fraud and concealment in this behalf may be avoided.

The fees of diſpenſations, faculties, licences, &c.

And be it enacted by this preſent Parliament, and by the authority of the ſame, That no man ſuing for Diſpenſations, Faculties, licences, or other reſcripts or writings, which were wont to be ſped at Rome, ſhall pay any more for their diſpenſations, licences, or reſcripts, then ſhall be contained, taxed and limited in the ſaid duplicate books of taxes, onely compoſitions excepted, of which being arbitrary, no tax can be made: wherefore the tax thereof ſhall be ſet and limited by the diſcretion of the ſaid Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and the Lord Chancellor of England, or the Lord Keeper of the great Seal for the time being. And that ſuch as ſhall exact or receive of any ſuiter more for any diſpenſation, faculty, or licence then ſhall be contained in the ſaid books of taxes, ſhall forfeit ten times ſo much as he ſhall ſo extortiouſly exact and receive, the one half of the which forfeiture to be to the uſe of your Grace, your heirs or ſucceſſors, and the other half thereof to be to ſuch of your ſubjects as will ſue for the ſame by action, bill, or plaint, in any of your Graces Courts, wherein the defendant ſhall have none eſſoin, nor protection allowed, neither ſhall be admitted to wage his Law.

The penalty of extortion in officers.

Be it alſo enacted by this Parliament, and authority of the ſame, That the tax or ſum appointed to be paid for every ſuch diſpenſation, licence, faculty, inſtrument, reſcript, or other writing to be granted by authority of this Act, ſhall be employed and ordered, as hereafter enſueth: that is to ſay, if the tax extend to iv. li. or above, by reaſon whereof the diſpenſation, licence, faculty, reſcript, or writing, which ſhall paſs by the ſaid Archbiſhops ſeal, muſt be confirmed by the appenſion of the great Seal: then the ſaid tax ſo extending to iv. li. or above, ſhall be divided into three parts, whereof two ſhall be perceived by the ſaid Clerk of the Chancery to be appointed (as is aforeſaid) to the uſe of your Highneſs, your heirs and ſucceſſors, and to the uſe of the Lord Chancellor, or the Keeper of the great Seal, for the time being, and to the uſe of the ſaid Clerk, in ſuch wiſe as ſhall hereafter be declared. And the third part ſhall be taken by the ſaid Clerk of the Archbiſhop, to the uſe of the ſame Archbiſhop and his Commiſſary, and his ſaid Clerk and Regiſter, in ſuch wiſe as ſhall hereafter be ordered and limited by this Act: That is to ſay, the ſaid two parts ſhall be divided in four parts, of which three parts ſhall be taken to the only uſe of your Highneſs, your heirs and ſucceſſors: and the fourth part ſhall be divided in three parts, whereof the Chancellor of England, or Lord Keeper of the great Seal for the time being, ſhall have two parts, and the ſaid Clerk of the Chancery the third part for his pains, travail and labours, ẏ he is limited to write and do by vertue of this Act. And the ſaid third part of ẏ whole tax appointed to the ſaid Archbiſhop and his officers (as is aforeſaid) ſhall be divided into three parts, whereof the Archbiſhop ſhall have to his uſe two parts, and his officers ſhall have the third part thereof: of which third part to be divided into two parts, the ſaid Clerk or Regiſter which ſhall find parchment, wax, and ſilk, and ſhall deviſe and write the ſaid diſpenſations, licences, faculties, reſcripts, or other writings, and regiſter the ſame, ſhall have for his ſaid labour, and for receiving and repaying of the ſums of money, that ſhall come to his hands for diſpenſations, faculties, licences, and other reſcripts aforeſaid, the one moyety thereof, and the Commiſſary, appointed to ſeal the ſaid diſpenſations, faculties, licences, and other reſcripts, ſhall have the other part.

How the tax for every diſpenſation, faculty, or other writing ſhall be divided.

If the tax be under iv. li. and not under xl. s.

And if the tax be under iv. li. and not under xl. s. then the ſaid tax ſhall be divided into three parts, as is aforeſaid, whereof the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors ſhall have two parts thereof, abating iii. s. iv. d. which ſhall be to the ſaid Clerk of the Chancery for ſubſcribing, entituling, and enrolling the ſaid diſpenſations, licences, faculties, reſcripts, and other writings aforeſaid, and receiving of the Kings money ſo taxed: And the Archbiſhop and his officers ſhall have the third part, which third part ſhall be divided into two parts, whereof the Archbiſhop ſhall have the one entirely to himſelf, his Scribe and Commiſſary ſhall have the other part thereof, equally to be divided amongſt them for their coſts and pains in that behalf: And if the tax be under fourty ſhillings, and not under ſix and twenty ſhillings eight pence, the ſame tax ſhall be divided into two parts, whereof the one part ſhall be to your Grace, your heirs and ſucceſſors, deducting thereof two ſhillings for the Clerk of the Chancery, for his pains, as is aforeſaid: and the other part ſhall be to the ſaid Archbiſhop and his officers, which other part ſhall be divided into two parts, whereof the Archbiſhop ſhall have the one, and his commiſſary and ſcribe ſhall have the other, equally divided amongſt them. And if the tax be under ſix and twenty ſhillings eight pence, and not under twenty ſhillings, the ſame ſhall be divided into two parts, whereof your Grace, your heirs and ſucceſſors ſhall have the one part entirely, abating two ſhillings thereof to the ſaid Clerk of the Chancery: and the Archbiſhop and his Officers ſhall have the other part, and the ſame other part ſhall be divided into three parts, whereof the Archbiſhop ſhall have

If the tax be under xl. s. and not under xxvi. s. viii. d.

If the tax be under xxvi. s. viii. d. and not under xx. s.

one, his Commiſſary the ſecond, and his Scribe or Regiſter the third. And in caſe the tax be under twenty ſhillings, the ſame ſhall be perceived to the uſe of the ſaid Commiſſary, Clerk of yͤ ſaid Archbiſhop, and Clerk of yͤ Chancery, to be equally divided amongſt them for their pains and labours by them to be ſuſtained by authority of this Act, as is aforeſaid.

Diſpenſations by other Prelates.

Provided always, That this Act ſhall not be prejudicial to the Archbiſhop of York, or to any Biſhop or Prelate of this Realm: but that they may lawfully (notwithſtanding this Act) diſpence in all caſes, in which they were wont to diſpence by the common law or cuſtom of this Realm afore the making of this Act.

Diſpenſation by the Guardian of the ſpiritualties.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if it happen the See of the Archbiſhoprick of Canterbury to be void, that then ſuch manner licences, diſpenſations, faculties, inſtruments, reſcripts, and other writings, which may be granted by vertue and authority of this Act, ſhall (during the vacation of the ſame See) be had, done, and granted under the name and ſeal of the Guardian of the Spiritualties of the ſaid Archbiſhoprick for the time being, according to the tenor and form of this Act, and ſhall be of like force, value and effect, as if they had been granted under the name and ſeal of the Archbiſhop for the time being.

A remedy where the Archbiſhop or Guardian of the ſpiritualties deny to grant diſpenſations, licences, &c.

And be it further enacted, That if the foreſaid Archbiſhop of Canterbury (for the time being) or the ſaid Guardian of the Spiritualties, for the time being, hereafter refuſe or deny to grant any licences, diſpenſations, faculties, inſtruments, or other writings, which they be authorized to do by vertue and authority of this Act, in ſuch manner and form as is afore remembred to any perſon or perſons, that ought upon a good, juſt, and reaſonable cauſe to have the ſame, by reaſon whereof, this preſent Act by their wilfulneſs, negligence, or default, ſhould take none effect: then the Chancellor of England, or the Lord Keeper of the great Seal for the time being, upon any complaint thereof made, ſhall direct the Kings Writ to the ſaid Archbiſhop or Guardian, denying or refuſing to grant ſuch licences, diſpenſations, faculties, or other writings, enjoyning him by the ſaid Writ, upon a certain pain therein to be limited by the diſcretion of the ſaid Chancellor or Keeper of the great Seal, that he ſhall in due form grant ſuch licence, diſpenſation, faculty, or other writing, according to the requeſt of the procurers of the ſame: or elſe ſignifie unto your Highneſs, your heirs or ſucceſſors, in the Court of Chancery at a certain day, for what occaſion or cauſe he refuſed and denied to grant ſuch licences, faculties, or diſpenſations: And if it ſhall appear to the ſaid Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the great Seal, upon ſuch certificate, that the cauſe of refuſal or denial of granting ſuch licences, faculty, or diſpenſation, was reaſonable, juſt and good: that then it ſo being proved by due ſearch, and examination of the ſaid Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the great Seal, to be admitted and allowed. And if it ſhall appear upon the ſaid Certificates, that the ſaid Archbiſhop or Guardian of the Spiritualties for the time being, of wilfulneſs, in contemning the due execution of this Act, without a juſt and reaſonable cauſe, refuſed or denied to grant ſuch licence, faculty, or diſpenſation: that then your Highneſs, your heirs or ſucceſſors being thereof informed, after due examination had, that ſuch licences, faculties, or diſpenſations may be granted, without offending the holy Scriptures, and Laws of God, ſhall have power and authority in every ſuch caſe, for the default, negligence, and wilfulneſs of the ſaid Archbiſhop, or Guardian, to ſend your Writ of Injunction under your great Seal, out of your ſaid Court of Chancery, commanding the Archbiſhop or Guardian, that ſo ſhall deny or refuſe to grant ſuch licence, faculty, or diſpenſation, to make ſufficient grant thereof, according to the tenor and effect of this Act, by a certain day, under a certain pain in the ſaid Writ to be contained, and to be limited by your Highneſs, your heirs or ſucceſſors, Kings of this Realm. And if the ſaid Archbiſhop or Guardian after the receipt of the ſaid Writ, refuſe or deny to grant ſuch licences, faculties, or diſpenſations, as ſhall be enjoyned him by vertue of the ſaid Writ, and ſhew and prove before your Majeſty, your heirs or ſucceſſors, no juſt or reaſonable cauſe why he ſhould do ſo, then the ſaid Archbiſhop or Guardian that ſo ſhall refuſe to put this Act in execution, according to the ſaid Writ of Injunction, ſhall ſuffer, loſe, and forfeit to your Highneſs, your heirs and ſucceſſors, ſuch pain and penalty as ſhall be limited and expreſſed in the ſaid Writ of Injunction. And over that it ſhall be lafwul to your Highneſs, your heirs and ſucceſſors for every ſuch default and wilfulneſs of the ſaid Archbiſhop, or Guardian for the time being, to give power and authority by Commiſſion under your great Seal, to ſuch two ſpiritual Prelates, or perſons to be named by your Highneſs, your heirs or ſucceſſors, as will do and grant ſuch licences, faculties, and diſpenſations, refuſed or denied to be granted by the ſaid Archbiſhop or Guardian, in contempt of this Act.

Diſpenſations granted by other ſpiritual Prelates.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid two ſpiritual Prelates or perſons, to whom in ſuch caſes, any ſuch Commiſſion ſhall be directed, ſhall have power and authority to grant every ſuch licence, faculty, diſpenſation, inſtrument, and other writings ſo refuſed to be granted by the ſaid Archbiſhop or Guardian for the time being, by an inſtrument under their ſeals, taking like fees and charges for the ſame, as is before rehearſed, and not above, under the pains afore remembred. And that every ſuch licence, faculty, and diſpenſation ſo granted for any caſes or matters, whereunto any confirmation under the Kings great Seal is appointed by this Act, to be had in manner and form above declared, ſhall be had and obtained accordingly. And ſuch licences and confirmation ſhall be had for like fees and charges, as they are above ſpecified, and not above, under the pains above mentioned. And that every ſuch licence, faculty, or diſpenſation, or other writing to be granted by the ſaid Prelates, or perſons to be aſſigned by the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be of as good value, ſtrength, and effect, and as beneficial and profitable to the perſons procuring the ſame, as if they had been made, granted, and obtained under the name and ſeal of the ſaid Archbiſhop.

The King and the Realm do not mean to vary from the articles of the Catholick faith of Chriſtendom.

Provided always, that this Act, nor any thing or things therein contained, ſhall be hereafter interpreted or expounded, that your Grace, your Nobles, and Subjects, intend by the ſame to decline, or vary from the congregation of Chriſts Church, in any things concerning the very articles of the Chriſtian Catholick faith of Chriſtendom, or in any other things declared by holy Scripture and the word of God, neceſſary for your and their ſalvations, but only to make an ordinance by policies neceſſary and convenient to repreſs vice, and for good conſervation of this Realm, in peace, unity, and tranquility, from ravine and ſpoil, inſuing much the old ancient cuſtoms of this Realm in that behalf. Not minding to ſeek for any relief, ſuccours, or remedies for any worldly things, and humane laws, in any cauſe of neceſſity, but within this Realm, at the hands of your Highneſs, your heirs and ſucceſſors, Kings of this Realm, which have and ought to have an Imperial power and authority in the ſame, and not obliged in any worldly cauſes to any other ſuperiour.

The King by Commiſſion may viſit Colledges, hoſpitals, and places exempt, and not the Archbiſhop of Canterbury.

Provided alway, That the ſaid Archbiſhop of Canterbury, or any other perſon or perſons, ſhall have no power or authority by reaſon of this Act, to viſit or vex any Monaſteries, Abbeys, Priories, Colledges, Hoſpitals, houſes, or other places religious, which be or were exempt before the making of this Act, any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding, but that redreſs, viſitation, and confirmation ſhall be had by the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors, by Commiſſion under the great Seal to be directed to ſuch perſons as ſhall be appointed requiſite for the ſame, in ſuch Monaſteries, Colledges, Hoſpitals, Priories, houſes and places religious exempt. So that no viſitation nor confirmation ſhall from henceforth be had nor made, in or at any ſuch Monaſteries, Colledges, Hoſpitals, Priories, houſes and places religious exempt by the ſaid Biſhop of Rome, nor by any of his authority, nor by any out of the Kings Dominions, nor that any perſon religious, or other reſiant in any the Kings Dominions, ſhall from henceforth depart out of the Kings Dominions, to or for any viſitation, congregation, or aſſembly for religion, but that all ſuch viſitations, congregations and aſſemblies ſhall be within the Kings Dominions.

None ſhall go forth of England to general Councels.

The Act ſhall not derogate the Stat. of 28 H. 8. 13. touching pluralities of benefices, or non-reſidence.

Provided alſo, That this preſent Act, or any thing therein contained, or any licence or diſpenſation hereafter to be made by vertue and authority thereof, ſhall not extend to the repeal, or derogation of the late Act made ſith the beginning of this preſent Parliament, for reformation of pluralities of Benefices, and for non-reſidences of ſpiritual perſons upon their dignities or benefices, nor to any things contained or mentioned in ẏ ſaid Act, nor ẏ this Act, nor any thing to be done by authority thereof, ſhal not be taken, expounded, nor interpreted to give licence to any perſon or perſons, to have any more number of benefices than is limited in the ſaid Act. Nor that this Act, nor any thing to be done by authority thereof, ſhall not be taken, expounded, nor interpreted to give licence to any perſon or perſons, to have any more number of benefices then is limited in the ſaid Act. And that the ſame Act for pluralities and non-reſidences of benefices, and every thing therein contained, ſhall ſtand good and effectual in all intents, according to the true meaning thereof, any thing in this preſent Act, or any licence or diſpenſation to be had by authority thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The penalty for ſuing to the ſee of Rome for any licence, diſpenſation, &c. or for obeying any proceſs from thence. Alt. 13 El. 2.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, ſubject or reſiant within this Realm, or within any of the Kings dominions, at any time hereafter ſue to the Court of Rome, or the See of Rome, or to any perſon claiming to have his authority by the ſame, for any licence, faculty, diſpenſation, or other thing or things contrary to this Act, or put in execution any licence, faculty, or diſpenſation, or any other thing or things hereafter to be obtained from Rome, or the See of Rome, or from any claiming authority by the ſame, for any of the cauſes above mentioned in this Act, or for any other cauſes that may be granted by authority of this Act, or attempt or do any thing or things contrary to this Act: or maintain, allow, admit, or obey any manner of cenſures, excommunications, interdictions, or any other proceſs from Rome, of what name or nature ſoever it be, to the derogation or let of the execution of this Act, or of any thing or things to be done by reaſon of the ſaid Act, that then every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo doing, offending, and being thereof convict, their aidors, counſellors and abettors, ſhall incur and run into the pain, loſs, and penalty compriſed and ſpecified in the Act of Proviſion and Premunire, made in the ſixteenth year of your moſt noble Progenitor, King Richard the ſecond, againſt ſuch as ſue to the Court of Rome, againſt your Crown and dignity Royal.

Grants and confirmations of liberties obtained at the See of Rome to any Abbeys or houſes, ſhall be of the ſame effect as they were before.

Provided alway, that this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not hereafter be taken, nor expounded to the derogation or taking away of any grants or confirmations of any Liberties, Priviledges, or Juriſdiction of any Monaſteries, Abbeys, Priories, or other houſes or places exempt, which heretofore the making of this Act, hath been obtained at the See of Rome, or by authority thereof, but that every ſuch grant and confirmation ſhall be of the ſame value, force and effect, as they were afore the making of this Act, and as if this Act had never been made. Provided always, that the Abbots, Priors, and other chief rulers and governours of ſuch Monaſteries, Abbeys, Priories, and other houſes, and places exempt, ſhall not hereafter pay any penſion, portion, or other cenſe to the See of Rome; nor admit, or accept any viſitation, nor any confirmation, from or by the ſaid See of Rome, or by authority thereof, of, or for any perſon to be elected, named, or preſented, to be heads of any ſuch Monaſteries, Abbeys, Priories, places, or houſes exempt: nor ſhall make any corporal oath to the Biſhop of Rome, otherwiſe called the Pope, upon the pains limited in this Act. But that every ſuch viſitation and confirmation of ſuch heads elect in any ſuch Monaſteries, Abbeys, Priories, houſes, or places exempt, where after their election they were bounden to have and obtain any confirmation of their election, or of the perſon named, preſented, or elect, ſhall be from henceforth had, made & done within this Realm, at, and within every ſuch Abbeys, Monaſteries, Priories, & other houſes & places exempt, by ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall be appointed by authority of ẏ Kings Commiſſion from time to time, as the caſe ſhall require, and not by ẏ See of Rome nor by authority thereof, any thing in this next proviſo above ſpecified to ẏ contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Abbeys ſhall pay no penſions to ẏ See of Rome, nor accept any viſitation or confirmation from thence, nor ſhal make an oath to the Biſhop thereof.

Provided always, That in ſuch Monaſteries, Abbeys, Priories, and houſes exempt, where after election, preſentation, or nomination of their heads, no ſuch confirmation is requiſite to be had, nor hath been uſed to be taken by reaſon of ſuch priviledges, as they have concerning the ſame, that in every ſuch Monaſteries, Abbeys, Priories, and places exempt, they ſhall not be bounden to obtain, have, or take any confirmation for the ſame within this Realm, by authority of this Act, but uſe their priviledges therein, as they have done before the making of this Act, any thing in this Act, or any the Proviſoes next above rehearſed, to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Monaſteries, houſes, &c. where no confirmation is requiſite.

Provided alſo and be it enacted, that this Act, or any thing or things, word or words therein, or in the preamble thereof mentioned or contained, is not intended or meant, nor ſhall be expounded nor interpreted, that any diſpenſations, licences, or confirmations for marriages, granted to any the Kings ſubjects, born under his obeyſance, at any time before the xii. day of March, in the year of our Lord God 1533. ſhall be appaired or of any leſs value, ſtrength, force or effect then they were at the ſaid xii. day of March. Nor that this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to the derogation, appairing, or adnulling of any licences, diſpenſations, confirmation, faculties, or indulgences at any time before the ſaid xii. day of March, in the year of our Lord God, 1533. had or obtained at the See of Rome, or by authority thereof to or for any ſubjects born in this Realm, or in any the Kings Dominions, or to or for the Hoſpital of the Prior of Saint Johns of Jeruſalem in England, or any Commandries, or members thereof, or to or for any other Cathedral Churches, Hoſpitals, Monaſteries, Abbeys, Priories, Colledges, Conventual Churches, Parochial Churches, Chappels, Fraternities, Brotherheads, or Bodies politick within this Realm, or in any other the Kings Dominions: But that every ſuch licence, diſpenſation, confirmation, faculty, and indulgence, granted before the ſaid xii. day of March, to any ſuch ſubject, or to the ſaid Hoſpital of the Prior of Saint Johns of Jeruſalem in England, and Commandries or members thereof, or to any other Cathedral Church, Hoſpital, Monaſtery, Abbey, Priory, Colledge, Church Conventual, Parochial Church, Chappel, Fraternity, Brotherhead, or Body politick, or to their predeceſſors, or anceſtors within this Realm, or in any other the Kings Dominions, ſhall be of the ſame force, ſtrength, value, and effect, and may be from time to time put in execution at all times hereafter, by, and to them that will uſe and have the ſame, as they might have been afore the making of this act, and as if this Act had never been had ne made, any thing in the ſaid Act to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

Licences and diſpenſations obtained at the See of Rome, before the xii. of March Ann. Dom. 1533. ſhall be of the ſame force that they were before.

Provided always, That ſuch licences, diſpenſations, confirmations, or faculties heretofore obtained at the See of Rome, or by authority thereof contrary to the expreſs proviſions of the laws and ſtatutes of this Realm heretofore made, ſhall not at any time hereafter be uſed or put in execution in any caſe, to the derogation or contrary to the ſaid laws and ſtatutes of this Realm, and the proviſions of the ſame: any thing in this proviſo to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The King with the advice of his Councel, may reform the manner of Indulgences.

And be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the King our Soveraign Lord, by the advice of his honourable Council, ſhall have power and authority from time to time, for the ordering, redreſs, and reformation of all manner of indulgences and priviledges thereof within this Realm, or within any the Kings Dominions heretofore obtained at the See of Rome, or by authority thereof, and of the abuſes of ſuch indulgences and priviledges thereof, as ſhall ſeem good, wholſom and reaſonable for the honour of God, and weal of his people: and that ſuch order and redreſs as ſhall be taken by his Highneſs in that behalf, ſhall be obſerved and firmly kept upon the pains limited in this Act, for the offending of the contents of the ſame. St. 1 & 2 P. & M. 8. 1 El. 1.

CAP. XXII.

The Succeſſion of the Kings Majeſty in the Imperial Crown.

IN their moſt humble wiſe ſhewn unto your Majeſty your moſt humble and obedient ſubjects, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That ſince it is the natural inclination of every man, gladly and willingly to provide for the ſurety of both his title and ſucceſſion, although it touch his only private cauſe. We therefore, moſt rightful and dreadful Soveraign Lord, reckon our ſelves much more bounden to beſeech and inſtant your Highneſs (although we doubt not of your Princely heart and wiſdom, mixt with a natural affection to the ſame) to foreſee and provide for the perfect ſurety of both you and of your moſt lawful ſucceſſion and heirs, upon which dependeth all our joy and wealth: in whom alſo is united and knit, the only meet true inheritance and title of this Realm, without any contradiction. Wherefore we your ſaid moſt humble and obedient ſubjects, in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, calling to our remembrance the great diviſions, which in times paſt have been in this Realm, by reaſon of ſeveral titles pretended to the Imperial Crown of the ſame, which ſometimes, and for the moſt part enſued by occaſion of ambiguity and doubts, then not ſo perfectly declared, but that men might upon froward intents expound them to every mans ſiniſter appetite and affection, after their ſence, contrary to the right legality of the ſucceſſion and poſterity of the lawful Kings and Emperours of this Realm: whereof hath enſued great effuſion and deſtruction of mans bloud, as well of a great number of the Nobles, as of other the ſubjects, and eſpecially Inheritors in the ſame. And the greateſt occaſion thereof hath been becauſe no perfect & ſubſtantial proviſion by law hath been made within this Realm of it ſelf, when doubts and queſtions have been moved and propoſed of the certainty and legality of the ſucceſſion and poſterity of the Crown. By reaſon whereof the Biſhop of Rome and See Apoſtolick, contrary to the great and inviolable grants of juriſdictions by GOD immediately to Emperors, Kings and Princes, in ſucceſſion to their heirs, hath preſumed in times paſt to inveſt, who ſhould pleaſe them to inherit in other mens Kingdoms and Dominions: which thing we your moſt humble ſubjects, both ſpiritual and temporal, do moſt abhor and deteſt. And ſometimes other foreign Princes and Potentates of ſundry degrees, minding rather diſſention and diſcord to continue in the Realm, to the utter deſolation thereof, then charity, equity, or unity, have many times ſupported wrong titles, whereby they might the more eaſily and facily aſpire to the ſuperiority of the ſame. The continuance and ſufferance whereof, deeply conſidered and pondered, were too dangerous and perilous to be ſuffered any longer within this Realm, and too much contrary to the unity, peace, and tranquility of the ſame, being greatly reproachable and diſhonourable to the whole Realm.

The ambiguity of the ſeveral titles to the Crown of this Realm, and the not eſtabliſhing of the ſucceſſion thereof, hath been the cauſes of much trouble.

In conſideration whereof, your ſaid moſt humble and obedient ſubjects, the Nobles and Commons of this Realm, calling further to their remembrance, that the good unity, peace, and wealth of this Realm, and the ſucceſſion of the ſubjects of the ſame moſt eſpecially and principally above all worldly things, conſiſteth and reſteth in the certainty and ſurety of the procreation and poſterity of your Highneſs, in whoſe moſt Royal perſon at this preſent time is no manner of doubt nor queſtion, do therefore moſt humbly beſeech your Highneſs, that it may pleaſe your Majeſty, that it may be enacted by your Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the marriage heretofore ſolemnized between your Highneſs, and the Lady Katherine, being before the lawful wife to Prince Arthur, your elder brother, which by him was carnally known, as doth duly appear by ſufficient proof in a lawful proceſs had and made before Thomas, by the ſufferance of God, now Archbiſhop of Canterbury and Metropolitan and Primate of all this Realm, ſhall be by authority of this preſent Parliament definitively, clearly and abſolutely declared, deemed, and adjudged to be againſt the Laws of Almighty God, and alſo accepted, reputed, and taken of no value nor effect, but utterly void and adnihiled, and the ſeparation thereof made by the ſaid Archbiſhop, ſhall be good and effectual to all intents and purpoſes: any licence, diſpenſation, or any other Act or Acts going afore, or inſuing the ſame, or to the contrary thereof, in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And that every ſuch licence, diſpenſation, act or acts, thing or things heretofore had, made, done or to be done to the contrary thereof, ſhall be void and of none effect. And that the ſaid Lady Katherine ſhall be from henceforth called and reputed onely Dowager to Prince Arthur, and not Queen of this Realm. And that the lawful matrimony had and ſolemnized between your Highneſs, and your moſt dear and entirely beloved wife Queen Anne ſhall be eſtabliſhed, and taken for undoubtful, true, ſincere and perfect ever hereafter, according to the juſt judgment of the ſaid Thomas Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Metropolitane, and Primate of all this Realm, whoſe grounds of judgment have been confirmed as well by the whole Clergy of this Realm, in both the Convocations, and by both the Univerſities thereof, as by the Univerſities of Bonony, Padua, Paris, Orleance, Tolouſe, Angiewe, and divers others: and alſo by the private writings of many right excellent well learned men. Which grounds ſo confirmed, and judgment of the ſaid Archbiſhop enſuing the ſame, together with your marriage ſolemnized between your Highneſs, and your ſaid lawful wife Queen Anne, We your ſaid ſubjects both ſpiritual and temporal, do purely, plainly, conſtantly and firmly accept, approve and ratifie for good and conſonant to the Laws of Almighty God, without errour or default: moſt humbly beſeeching your Majeſty, that it may be ſo eſtabliſhed for ever by your moſt gracious and royal aſſent.

The marriage between the K. & the Lady Katherine ſhall be adjudged void, and the ſeparation good.

The Lady Katherine ſhall be called dowager to Prince Arthur, and not Queen.

The marriage between the K. and his wife Q. Anne ſhall be taken for good and conſonant to Gods Law. Alt. 28 H.8.7.

Marriage within the degrees prohibited by Gods Law. St. 32 H.8.38.

And furthermore ſince many inconveniences have fallen as well within this Realm, as in others, by reaſon of marrying within the degrees of marriage prohibited by Gods laws, that is to ſay, The ſon to marry the mother, or the ſtepmother, The brother the ſiſter, The father his ſons daughter, or his daughters daughter, or the ſon to marry the daughter of his father, procreate and born by his ſtepmother, or the ſon to marry his aunt, being his fathers or mothers ſiſter, or to marry his uncles wife, or the father to marry his ſons wife, or the brother to marry his brothers wife, or any man to marry his wives daughter, or his wives ſons daughter, or his wives daughters daughter, or his wives ſiſter. Which marriages albeit they be plainly prohibited and deteſted by the Laws of God, yet nevertheleſs at ſome times they have proceeded under colours of diſpenſations by mans power, which is but uſurped, and of right ought not to be granted, admitted nor allowed. For no man, of what eſtate, degree or condition ſoever he be, hath power to diſpenſe with Gods Laws, as all the Clergy of this Realm in the ſaid Convocations, and the moſt part of all the famous Univerſities of Chriſtendom, and we alſo do affirm and think.

No man hath power to diſpence with Gods Law.

Be it therefore enacted by authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, ſubjects or reſiants of this Realm, or in any your dominions, of what eſtate, degree or dignity ſoever they be, ſhall from henceforth marry within the ſaid degrees afore rehearſed, what pretence ſoever ſhall be made to the contrary thereof. And in caſe any perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, dignity, degree or condition ſoever he be, hath been heretofore married within this Realm, or in any the Kings Dominions, within any the degrees above expreſſed, and by any the Archbiſhops, Biſhops or Miniſters of the Church of England, be ſeparate from the bonds of ſuch unlawful marriage, That then every ſuch ſeparation ſhall be good, lawful, firm, and permanent for ever: and not by any power, authority, or means to be revoked or undone hereafter: and that the children proceeding or procreate under ſuch unlawful marriage, ſhall not be lawful ne legitimate: Any foreign laws, licences, diſpenſations, other thing or things to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The perſons which be heretofore married within the degrees aforeſaid ſhall be ſeparated by the Ordinaries ſentence.

And in caſe there be any perſon or perſons within this Realm, or in any the Kings Dominions, already married within any the ſaid degrees above ſpecified, and not yet ſeparate from the bonds of ſuch unlawful marriage, That then every ſuch perſon ſo unlawfully married ſhall be ſeparate from the definitive ſentence and judgments of Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and other Miniſters of the Church of England, and in other your Dominions within the limits of their juriſdictions and authorities, and by none other power or authority. And that all ſentences and judgments, given and to be given, by any Archbiſhop, Biſhop, or other Miniſter of the Church of England, or in other the Kings Dominions, within the limits of their juriſdictions and authorities, ſhall be definitive, firm, good and effectual to all intents, and be obſerved and obeyed without ſuing any provocations, appeals, prohibitions, or other proceſs from the Court of Rome, to the derogation thereof, or contrary to the Act made ſince the beginning of this preſent Parliament, for reſtraint of ſuch provocations, appeals, prohibitions, and other proceſſes.

St. 24. H.8.12.

And alſo be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all the iſſue had and procreate, or hereafter to be had and procreate between your Highneſs, and your ſaid moſt dear and entirely beloved wife Queen Anne, ſhall be your lawful children, and be inheritable, and inherit according to the courſe of inheritance and laws of this Realm, the Imperial Crown of the ſame, with all dignities, honours, preheminences, prerogatives, authorities and juriſdictions to the ſame annexed or belonging, in as large and ample manner, as your Highneſs at this preſent time hath the ſame as King of this Realm, the inheritance thereof to be and remain to your ſaid children and right heirs in manner and form as hereafter ſhall be declared.

All the iſſue procreate between the King and Queen Anne his wife ſhall be his lawful children.
ALT. 28 H.8.7.

That is to ſay, firſt the ſaid Imperial Crown, and other the premiſes ſhall be to your Majeſty, and to your heirs of your body lawfully begotten; that is to ſay, to the firſt ſon of your body, between your Highneſs, and your ſaid lawful wife Queen Anne, begotten, and to the heirs of the body of the ſame firſt ſon lawfully begotten. And for default of ſuch heirs, then to the ſecond ſon of your body, and of the body of the ſaid Queen Anne, begotten, and to the heirs of ÿ body of ÿ ſaid ſecond ſon lawfully begotten. And ſo to every ſon of your body and of the body of the ſaid Queen Anne begotten, & to the heirs of the body of every ſuch ſon begotten, according to the courſe of inheritance in that behalf: And if it ſhall happen your ſaid dear and entirely beloved wife Queen Anne to deceaſe without iſſue male of the body of your Highneſs to be begotten (which God defend) then the ſame Imperial Crown, and all other the premiſes, to be to your Majeſty as is aforeſaid, and to the ſon and heir male of your body lawfully begotten, and to the heirs of the body of the ſame ſon and heir male lawfully begotten, and for default of ſuch iſſue, then to your ſecond ſon of your body lawfully begotten, and to the heirs of the body of the ſame ſecond ſon lawfully begotten: and ſo from ſon and heir male, to ſon and heir male, and to the heirs of the ſeveral bodies of every ſuch ſon and heir male to be begotten, according to the courſe of inheritance, in like manner and form as is abovesaid. And for default of ſuch ſons of your bodies begotten, and of the heirs of the ſeveral bodies of every ſuch ſons lawfully begotten, that then the ſaid Imperial Crown, and other the premiſes, ſhall be to the iſſue female between your Majeſty and your ſaid moſt dear and entirely beloved wife Q. Anne begotten, that is to ſay, firſt to the eldeſt iſſue female, which is the Lady Elizabeth, now Princeſs, and to the heirs of her body lawfully begotten; and for default of ſuch iſſue, then to the ſecond iſſue female, and to the heirs of her body lawfully begotten, and ſo from iſſue female to iſſue female, and to the heirs of their bodies one after another, by courſe of inheritance, according to their ages, as the Crown of England hath been accuſtomed and ought to go, in caſes when there be heirs females to the ſame, and for default of ſuch iſſue, then the ſaid Imperial Crown, and all other the premiſes, ſhall be in the right heirs of your Highneſs for ever.

The Imperial Crown of England, &c. intailed.

The Lady Elizabeth the firſt iſſue female of the King and Queen Anne his wife.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That on this ſide the firſt day of May next coming, Proclamations ſhall be made in all Shires within this Realm of the tenour and contents of this Act: And if any perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, dignity, or condition ſoever they be, ſubject or reſiant within this Realm, or elſewhere, within any the Kings Dominions, after the firſt day of May, by writing or printing, or by any exterior act or deed, maliciouſly procure or do, or cauſe to be procured or done, any thing or things to the peril of your moſt Royal perſon, or maliciouſly give occaſion by writing, print, deed, or act, whereby your Highneſs might be diſturbed, or interrupted for the Crown of this Realm: or by writing, print, deed, or act, procure or do, or cauſe to be procured or done, any thing or things to the prejudice, ſlander, diſturbance, or derogation of the ſaid lawful matrimony ſolemnized between your Majeſty and the ſaid Queen Anne, or to the peril, ſlander, or diſheriſon of any the iſſues and heirs of your Highneſs, being limited by this Act, to inherit and to be inheritable to the Crown of this Realm, in ſuch form as is aforeſaid: whereby any ſuch iſſues, or heirs of your Highneſs might be deſtroyed, diſturbed, or interrupted in body, or title of inheritance to the Crown of this Realm, as to them is limited in this Act, in form above rehearſed: That then every ſuch perſon and perſons, of what eſtate, degree, or condition they be of, ſubject or reſiant within this Realm, and their aidors, counſellors, maintainers, and abettors, and every of them, for every ſuch offence ſhall be adjudged high Traitors, and every ſuch offence ſhall be adjudged high Treaſon, and the offendors and their aidors, counſellors, maintainers, and abettors, and every of them being lawfully convict of ſuch offence by preſentment, verdict, confeſſion, or proceſs, according to the cuſtoms and laws of this Realm, ſhall ſuffer pains of death, as in caſes of high Treaſon. And that alſo every ſuch offendor, being convict, as is aforeſaid, ſhall loſe and forfeit to your Highneſs, and to your heirs, Kings of this Realm, all ſuch manors, lands, tenements, rents, annuities, and hereditaments, which they had in poſſeſſion, as owners, or were ſole ſeiſed of, by, or in any right, title, or means, or any other perſon or perſons had to their uſe, of any eſtate of inheritance, at the day of ſuch treaſons and offences by them committed and done. And ſhall alſo loſe and forfeit to your Highneſs and to your ſaid heirs, as well all manner of eſtates of freehold and intereſts for years, of lands and rents, and all their goods, cattels, and debts, which they had at the time of conviction or attainder of any ſuch

This Act ſhall be proclaimed in all the Shires of England.

The penalty for hurting the Kings perſon, diſturbing his title to the Crown, or ſlandering his marriage.

The rights of all others ſaving the offendors ſaved.

The rights of all others ſaving the offendors ſaved.

ſuch offence. Saving always to every perſon and perſons, and bodies politick, to their heirs, aſſigns, and ſucceſſors, and every of them, other then ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall be ſo convict, and their heirs and ſucceſſors, and all other claiming to their uſes, all ſuch right, title, intereſt, poſſeſſion, condition, rents, fees, offices, annuities and commons, which they or any of them ſhall happen to have in, to, or upon any ſuch manors, lands, tenements, rents, annuities, or hereditaments, that ſhall ſo happen to be loſt and forfeit by reaſon of attainder, for any the treaſons and offences above rehearſed, at any time before the ſaid Treaſons and offences committed.

The penalty for publiſhing any thing to the peril of the King, or the ſlander of his marriage, or to the diſheritance of his iſſue.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons after the ſaid firſt day of May, by any words, without writing, or any exterior deed or act, maliciouſly and obſtinately ſhall publiſh, divulge, or utter any thing or things, to the peril of your Highneſs, or the ſlander or prejudice of the matrimony, ſolemnized between your Highneſs, and the ſaid Queen Anne, or to the ſlander or diſheriſon of the iſſues and heirs of your body begotten, and to be begotten of the ſaid Queen Anne, or any other your lawful heirs, which ſhall be inheritable to the Crown of this Realm, as is afore limited by this Act: That then every ſuch offence ſhall be taken and adjudged for miſpriſion of Treaſon. And that every perſon and perſons of what eſtate, degree or condition ſoever they be, ſubject or reſiant within this Realm, or in any the Kings Dominions, ſo doing and offending, and being thereof lawfully convict by preſentment, verdict, proceſs, or confeſſion, ſhall ſuffer impriſonment of their bodies at the Kings will, and ſhall loſe as well all their goods, cattels, and debts, as all ſuch intereſſes, and eſtates of freehold, or for years, which any ſuch offender ſhall have, of, or in any lands, rents, or hereditaments whatſoever, at the time of conviction, and attainder of ſuch offence.

An offendor ſhall not have the priviledge of ſanctuary.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon nor perſons offending in any Treaſons, and miſpriſions contained and limited by this Act, ſhall in any wiſe have or enjoy the priviledge and immunity of any manner of ſanctuaries within this Realm, or elſewhere within any the Kings Dominions, but ſhall utterly loſe and be excluded of the ſame: any uſe, cuſtom, grant, preſcription, confirmation, or any other thing or things to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Who ſhall have the government of the Kings iſſue and heir during the minority.

And be it alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if your Majeſty ſhould happen to deceaſe before any ſuch your iſſue and heir male, which ſhould inherit the Crown of this Realm, ſhall be of his age of eighteen years, or before ſuch your iſſue and heir-female, which ſhould inherit the Crown of this Realm, ſhall be married, or be of the age of ſixteen years (which Almighty God defend) that then your ſaid iſſue, and heir-male to the Crown ſo being within the ſaid age of eighteen years, or your ſaid iſſue and heir-female to the Crown, being unmarried, or within the ſaid age of ſixteen years, ſhall be and remain unto ſuch time as ſuch iſſues and heirs ſhall come to their ſaid ſeveral ages afore limited, at and in the governance of their natural mother, ſhe living, with ſuch other Counſellors of your Realm, as your Majeſty in your life-time ſhall depute and aſſign by your will, or otherwiſe for the ſame, without contradiction of any perſon or perſons to the contrary thereof.

And if any perſon or perſons by writing or exterior deed or act, procure, or do, cauſe to be procured or done, any thing or things to the let or diſturbance of the ſame: That then every ſuch offence ſhall be high Treaſon, and the offenders being thereof convict, ſhall ſuffer ſuch pains of death, and loſſes of inheritance, freeholds, intereſts of years, goods, cattels, and debts, in ſuch manner and form as is above ſpecified in caſes of Treaſon afore mentioned.

All perſons ſhall be ſworn to perform the contents of this Act. St. 26 H.8.2.

And for the more ſure eſtabliſhment of the ſucceſſion of your moſt Royal Majeſty, according to the tenor and form of this Act: Be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That as well all the Nobles of your Realm ſpiritual and temporal, as all other your ſubjects now living and being, or that hereafter ſhall be at their full ages, by the commandment of your Majeſty, or of your heirs at all times hereafter from time to time, when it ſhall pleaſe your Highneſs, or your heirs to appoint, ſhall make a corporal oath in the preſence of your Highneſs, or your heirs, or before ſuch other, as your Majeſty, or your heirs will depute for the ſame: that they ſhall truly, firmly, and conſtantly, without fraud or guile, obſerve, fulfil, maintain, defend, and keep, to their cunning, wit, and uttermoſt of their powers, the whole effects and contents of this preſent Act. And that all manner your ſubjects, as well ſpiritual as temporal, ſuing livery, reſtitutions, or Ouſter le main out of the hands of your Highneſs, or of your heirs, or doing any fealty to your Highneſs, or to your heirs, by reaſon of tenure of their lands, ſhall ſwear a like corporal oath; that they, and every of them without fraud or guile, to their cunning, wit, and uttermoſt of their powers, ſhall truly, firmly and conſtantly, obſerve, fulfil, maintain, defend, and keep the effects and contents contained and ſpecified in this Act, or in any part thereof. And that they, nor any of them, ſhall hereafter have any liveries, Ouſter le main, or reſtitution out of your hands, nor out of the hands of your heirs, till they have made the ſaid corporal oath, in form above rehearſed. And if any perſon or perſons, being commanded by authority of this Act, to make the ſaid oath afore limited, obſtinately refuſe that to do, in contempt of this Act: That then every ſuch perſon (ſo doing) to be taken and accepted for offendor in miſpriſion of high Treaſon: and that every ſuch refuſal ſhall be deemed and adjudged miſpriſion of high Treaſon: and the offendor therein to ſuffer ſuch pains and impriſonment, loſſes, and forfeitures, and alſo loſe priviledges of Sanctuaries, in like manner and form, as is above mentioned for the miſpriſion of Treaſons afore limited by this Act.

The penalty of them which refuſe to take the ſame oath.

Marriage with carnal knowledge.

Provided always, That the article in this Act contained concerning prohibitions of marriages within the degrees afore mentioned in this Act, ſhall always be taken, interpreted and expounded of ſuch marriages, where marriages were ſolemnized, and carnal knowledge was had. St. 28 H. 8. 7. 35 H. 8. 1. 1 M. 1.

Marriage with carnal knowledge.

Anno viceſimo ſexto Henrici octavi.

ACts made in the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, holden upon Prorogation at Weſtminſter the third day of February, in the ſix and twentieth year of the Reign of our moſt dread Soveraign Lord King Henry the eighth, and there continued and kept till the eighthteenth day of December next enſuing, to the honour of God, and for the Common weal and profit of this his Realm.

CAP. I.

The King ſhall be reputed ſupream head of the Church of England.

ALbeit the Kings Majeſty juſtly and rightfully is, and ought to be the ſupream head of the Church of England, and ſo is recogniſed by the Clergy of this Realm in their Convocations, yet neverthelesſ for corporation and confirmation thereof, and for increaſe of vertue in Chriſts religion within this Realm of England, and to repreſs and extirp all errours, hereſies, and other enormities and abuſes heretofore uſed in the ſame: Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, that the King our Soveraign Lord, his heirs and ſucceſſors, Kings of this Realm, ſhall be taken, accepted and reputed the only ſupream head in earth of the Church of England, called Anglicana Eccleſia. And ſhall have and enjoy, annexed and united to the Imperial Crown of this Realm, as well the title and ſtile thereof, as all honours, dignities, preheminences, juriſdictions, priviledges, authorities, immunities, profits and commodities to the ſaid dignity of ſupream head of the ſame Church belonging and appertaining. And that our ſaid Soveraign Lord, his heirs and ſucceſſors, Kings of this Realm, ſhall have full power and authority from time to time, to viſit, repreſs, redreſs, reform, order, correct, reſtrain, and amend all ſuch errours, hereſies, abuſes, offences, contempts, and enormities, whatſoever they be, which by any manner ſpiritual authority or juriſdiction, ought, or may lawfully be reformed, repreſſed, ordered, redreſſed, corrected, reſtrained or amended, moſt to the pleaſure of Almighty God, the increaſe of vertue in Chriſts Religion, and for the conſervation of the peace, unity, and tranquility of this Realm, any uſage, cuſtom, foreign laws, foreign authority, preſcription, or any thing or things to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding. Rep. 1 & 2 P. & M. 8. St. 8 El. 1.

The King ſhall be ſupream head in earth of the Church of England, and correct all hereſies and offences. Co. Inſt. par. 4.

CAP. II.

Oath taken by all the Kings Subjects for the ſurety of the Succeſſion of the Crown of England.

WHere at the laſt Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, in the Act then made for the eſtabliſhment of the ſucceſſion of the heirs of the Kings Highneſs in the Imperial Crown of this Realm, it is contained amongſt other things, that all and ſingular the Kings ſubjects, as well the Nobles ſpiritual and temporal, as other, ſhould make and take a corporal oath, whenſoever it ſhall pleaſe the Kings Majeſty or his heirs to appoint, that they ſhould truly, firmly and conſtantly, without fraud or guile, obſerve, fulfil, maintain, defend and keep, to their cunning, wit, and uttermoſt of their powers, the whole effects and contents of the ſaid Act, as in the ſame Act amongſt other things more plainly appeareth. And at the day of the laſt prorogation of this preſent Parliament, as well the Nobles ſpiritual and temporal, as other the Commons of this preſent Parliament then aſſembled in the high houſe of the Parliament, moſt lovingly accepted and took ſuch oath as then was deviſed in writing for maintenance and defence of the ſaid Act, and meant and intended at that time, that every other the Kings ſubjects ſhould be bound to accept and take the ſame, upon the pains contained in the ſaid Act. The tenour of which oath hereafter enſueth.

St. 25 H. 8. 12.

Ye ſhall ſwear to bear faith, truth and obedience all onely to the Kings Majeſty, and to his heirs of his body of his moſt dear and entirely beloved lawful wife Queen Anne begotten and to be begotten. And further to the heirs of our ſaid Soveraign Lord, according to the limitation in the Statute made for ſurety of his ſucceſſion in the Crown of this Realm mentioned and contained, and not to any other within this Realm, nor foreign authority or potentate. And in caſe any oath be made, or hath been made by you to any perſon or perſons, that then ye to repute the ſame as vain and adnihilate. And that to your cunning, wit, and uttermoſt of your power, without guile, fraud, or other undue mean, ye ſhall obſerve, keep, maintain and defend the ſaid Act of Succeſſion, and all the whole effects and contents thereof, and all other Acts and Statutes made in confirmation, or for execution of the ſame, or for any thing therein contained. And this ye ſhall do againſt all manner of perſons, of what eſtate, dignity, degree, or condition ſoever they be. And in no wiſe do or attempt, nor to your power ſuffer to be done or attempted directly or indirectly any thing or things, privately or appertly, to the let, hinderance, damage or derogation thereof, or of any part of the ſame, by any manner of means, or for any manner of pretence: ſo help you God, and all Saints, and the holy Evangeliſts.

The oath of obedience to the King and the heirs of his body begotten of Queen Anne.

A former oath made ſhall be reputed vain by the maker.

And foraſmuch as it is convenient for the ſure maintenance and defence of the ſame Act, that the ſaid oath ſhould not only be authorized by the authority of Parliament, but alſo be interpreted and expounded by the whole aſſent of this preſent Parliament, that it was meant and intended by the Kings Majeſty, the Lords and Commons of the Parliament, at the ſaid day of the ſaid laſt prorogation, that every ſubject ſhould be bounden to take the ſame oath according to the tenor and effect thereof, upon the pains and penalties contained in the ſaid Act: Therefore be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid oath above rehearſed, ſhall be interpreted, expounded, reputed, accepted and adjudged, The expoſition of the oath, and who have and ſhall be bound to take it.

the very Oath that the Kings Highneſs, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament, meant and intended, that every ſubject of this Realm ſhould be obliged and bounden to take and accept for maintenance and defence of the ſame Act, upon the pains contained in the ſaid Act, and that every the Kings ſubjects, upon the ſaid pains ſhall be obliged to accept and take the ſaid oath.

Certificate ſhall be made into the Kings Bench of the refuſors of the oath.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the Commiſſioners that hereafter ſhall be appointed to receive ſuch oath of the Kings ſubjects, or two of them at the leaſt, ſhall have power and authority to certifie into the Kings Bench by writing under their ſeals, every refuſal that hereafter ſhall be made afore them of the ſame oath by any perſon or perſons coming afore them to take the ſame oath. And that every ſuch certificate to be made by ſuch Commiſſioners, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be taken as ſtrong and as available in the law, as an inditement of twelve men lawfully founden of the ſaid refuſal. So that the perſon and perſons againſt whom any ſuch certificate ſhal be made, ſhal be compellen to anſwer thereunto, as if they were indited. And that ſuch proceſs, judgment, execution, and every other thing ſhall be had, uſed, and miniſtred of and upon every ſuch certificate againſt the offenders, as if they had been lawfully indited of ſuch offences by the due courſe and order of the common Laws of this Realm. Rep. 28 H. 8. 7. 1 M. 1.

CAP. III.

First-fruits of all dignities ſpiritual ſhall be paid to the King, &c.

FOraſmuch as it is, and of very duty ought to be the natural inclination of all good people, like moſt faithful, loving, and obedient ſubjects, ſincerely and willingly to deſire to provide, not only for the publick weal of their native Countrey, but alſo for the ſupportation, maintenance, and defence of the Royal eſtate of their moſt dread, benign, and gracious Soveraign Lord, upon whom, and in whom dependeth all their joy and wealth: in whom alſo is united and knit ſo Princely a heart and courage, mixed with mercy, wiſdom, and juſtice, and alſo a natural affection joyned to the ſame: as by the great, ineſtimable, and benevolent arguments thereof being moſt bountifully, largely, and many times ſhewed, miniſtred, and approved towards his loving and obedient ſubjects, hath well appeared: which requireth a like correſpondence of gratitude to be conſidered, according to their moſt bounden duties. Wherefore his ſaid humble and obedient ſubjects, as well the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, as the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, calling to their remembrance, not only the manifold and innumerable benefits daily adminiſtred by his Highneſs to them all, and to all other the reſidue of his ſubjects of this Realm: but alſo how long time his Majeſty hath moſt victoriouſly, by his high wiſdom and policy, protected, defended and governed this his Realm, and maintained his people and ſubjects of the ſame in tranquility, peace, unity, quietneſs, and wealth. And alſo conſidering what great, exceſſive, and ineſtimable charges his Highneſs hath heretofore been at, and ſuſtained by the ſpace of five and twenty whole years, and alſo daily ſuſtaineth for the maintenance, tuition, and defence of this his Realm, and his loving ſubjects of the ſame, which cannot be ſuſtained and born without ſome honourable proviſion and remedy may be made, found, provided and ordained for maintenance thereof: do therefore deſire and moſt humbly pray, that for the more ſurety of continuance and augmentation of his Highneſs royal eſtate, being not only now recogniſed (as he always indeed hath heretofore been) the only ſupream head in earth, next and immediately under God, of the Church of England, but alſo their moſt aſſured and undoubted natural Soveraign Liege Lord and King, having the whole governance, tuition, defence and maintenance of this his Realm, and moſt loving obedient ſubjects of the ſame. It may therefore be ordained and enacted by his Highneſs, and the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, in manner and form following.

The firſt-fruits and profits for one year of every ſpiritual living is granted to the King.

That is to ſay, That the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors Kings of this Realm, ſhall have and enjoy from time to time to endure for ever, of every ſuch perſon and perſons, which at any time after the firſt day of January next coming, ſhall be nominated, elected, prefected, preſented, collated, or by any other means appointed, to have any Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Priory, Colledge, Hoſpital, Archdeaconry, Deanary, Provoſtſhip, Prebend, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chauntry, Free-chappel, or other dignity, benefice, office, or promotion ſpiritual within this Realm, or elſewhere within any of the Kings Dominions, of what name, nature, or quality ſoever they be, or to whoſe foundation, patronage or gifts ſoever they belong, the firſt-fruits, revenues and profits for one year of every ſuch Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbey, Monaſtery, Priory, Colledge, Hoſpital, Archdeaconry, Deanry, Provoſtſhip, Prebend, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chauntry, Free-chappel, or other dignity, benefice, office, or promotion ſpiritual afore named, whereunto any ſuch perſon or perſons after the ſaid firſt day of January, be nominated, elected, prefected, preſented, collated, or by any other means appointed. And that every ſuch perſon and perſons, before any actual or real poſſeſſion or medling with the profits of any ſuch Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Colledge, Hoſpital, Deanry, Provoſtſhip, Prebend, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chauntry, Free-chappel, Priory, or other dignity, benefice, office, or promotion ſpiritual, ſhall ſatisfie, content and pay, or compound or agree to pay to the Kings uſe at reaſonable days, upon good ſureties, the ſaid firſt-fruits and profits for one year.

Every ſpiritual perſon ſhall be bound for his firſt-fruits before his actual poſſeſſion of his benefice.

Commiſſioners to ſearch for the value of benefices, and to compound for firſt-fruits.

And be it alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the Chancellor of England, and Maſter of the Rolls for the time being, joyntly and ſeverally, or ſuch other perſon and perſons, as ſhall pleaſe the Kings Highneſs, his heirs or ſucceſſors from time to time, at his or their pleaſure, to name and depute by Commiſſion or Commiſſions under the great Seal, ſhall have power and authority as well to examine and ſearch for the juſt and true value of the ſaid firſt-fruits and profits, by all ways and means that they can, as to compound and agree for the rate of the ſaid firſt-fruits and profits, as to ſtall and limit reaſonable days of payment thereof upon good and ſufficient ſurety or ſureties, by writings obligatory by their diſcretions. And if compoſition or agreement be had or made for the ſaid firſt-fruits before the ſaid Lord Chancellor, or Maſter of the Rolls, that then the writings obligatory, or money taken for the ſame, ſhall reſt, remain and abide in the Hanaper of the Kings Chancery, there ſafely to be kept to the Kings uſe, and the money to be due of ſuch writings obligatory, or to be received in hand by reaſon of any ſuch compoſition, ſhall be paid in the ſaid Hanaper, to the Clerk of the Hanaper for the time being. And that the ſaid Clerk of the Hanaper ſhall make a true and a juſt account thereof, like as he is bound to do of the money received of the profits of the Kings great Seal. And if compoſition or agreement be had or made for the ſaid firſt-fruits, afore any other perſon or perſons to be deputed to the Kings Highneſs, his heirs or ſucceſſors by Commiſſion under his great Seal, that then the writings obligatory, and money taken for the ſame, ſhall be delivered to the Treaſurer of the Kings moſt honourable Chamber for the time being, or elſewhere, to whom it ſhall pleaſe the Kings Highneſs, his heirs or ſucceſſors, to give authority by Commiſſion under the great Seal, to receive the ſame.

The money taken for firſt-fruits ſhall be delivered to the Treaſurer of the Chamber.

And it is alſo ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That every writing of acquittance ſubſcribed with ẏ hand & name of ẏ Clerk of ẏ Hanaper, & Treaſurer of ẏ Chamber, or other Commiſſioners aforeſaid, or any of them, witneſſing the receit of the ſaid firſt-fruits, or any part thereof, ſhall be as good and effectual againſt the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors, to every perſon and perſons having the ſame, for ſo much money as ſhall be mentioned to be received and contained in every ſuch acquittance, as if ſuch acquittance were, or had been lawfully had and obtained in the Kings name under the Kings great Seal, and ſo ſhall be admitted, accepted, allowed, and taken in every of the Kings courts. And that all writings obligatory to be taken for payment of the ſaid firſt-fruits, by, and afore the ſaid Lord Chancellor, or Maſter of the Rolls, or by and afore any other perſon or perſons, to be deputed to compound and agree for the ſaid firſt-fruits, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be of the ſame ſtrength, force, vertue, quality, and effect to all intents and purpoſes, as writings obligatory heretofore made by any lay perſon by authority of the Statute of the Staple been. And that upon certificate hereafter to be made into the Kings Chancery of any ſuch writings obligatory to be taken for payment of ſuch firſt-fruits, like proceſs and execution ſhall be thereupon made and had againſt any perſon ſpiritual and temporal, as hath been accuſtomed to be made againſt any lay perſon upon certificate of writings obligatory of the ſaid Statute of the Staple. And that no perſon ſhall be compelled to pay for any writing obligatory to be made for the ſaid payment of the ſaid firſt-fruits, above viii. d. nor for any acquittance to be made for receipt of ſuch firſt-fruits above iv. d. And that ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall be deputed by the Kings Highneſs by Commiſſion under the great Seal, to compound and agree for the ſaid firſt-fruits, ſhall at the end of every ſix moneths next after the date of their Commiſſion, and ſo from ſix moneths to ſix moneths, deliver or cauſe to be delivered unto the Treaſurer of the Chamber for the time being, or elſewhere, to ſuch Commiſſioners as ſhall be appointed, as is aforeſaid to receive the ſame, as well all ſuch money, as all ſuch ſpecialties and bonds, as they ſhall have taken for the payment of the ſaid firſt-fruits by Indenture to be made between them and the ſaid Treaſurer, or other Commiſſioners as is aforeſaid, containing the certainty and number of the ſums of money, and ſpecialties and bonds by them taken and received. And if any perſon or perſons to whom any deputation ſhall be made by Commiſſion, to compound and agree for the payment of the ſaid firſt-fruits, their heirs, executors, or adminiſtrators, conceal or imbezile any of the ſaid ſpecialties or bonds taken for the ſure payment of the ſaid firſt-fruits, and do not deliver them according to the tenor of this Act, that then every ſuch offender ſhall forfeit that office of deputation, and over that make fine and ranſom at the Kings own pleaſure and will.

Whoſe acquittance ſhall be ſufficient diſcharge for the firſt-fruits.

An obligation for the firſt-fruits, ſhall be of the ſame ſtrength that the Statute of the Staple is.

The penalty of Commiſſioners, concealing bonds taken for the payment of firſt-fruits.

And it is alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, that if any perſon or perſons which at any time after ẏ ſaid firſt day of January, ſhall be nominated, elected, prefected, preſented, collated, or by any other means appointed to any of the dignities, offices, benefices, or other promotions ſpiritual before mentioned, do enter into the actual and real poſſeſſion thereof, or meddle with the profits thereof, before they ſhall have truly ſatisfied and paid to the Kings uſe the firſt-fruits and profits thereof for one year, or elſe ſhall have agreed or compounded for payment of the ſame at reaſonable days upon good ſureties, in manner and form as by this Act is above ſpecified, that then every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo doing and offending, and being thereof convict by preſentment, verdict, confeſſion, or witneſs before the ſaid Lord Chancellor, or ſuch other as ſhall have authority by commiſſion, to compound for the ſaid firſt-fruits and profits as is aforeſaid, ſhall be accepted and taken an intruder upon the Kings poſſeſſion. And that they, their executors or adminiſtrators ſhall pay to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs for every ſuch offence, ſo much ſums of money, as ſhall amount to the double value of the ſaid firſt-fruits and profits of ſuch dignities, benefices, or other ſpiritual promotions wherein they ſhall ſo enter and intrude before the payment of the ſaid firſt-fruits and profits for one year thereof, or before due agreement made for the ſame in manner and form as is above rehearſed.

Whoſo entreth upon his ſpiritual living before compoſition, ſhall forfeit double the value of the firſt-fruits.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the firſt-fruits of benefices heretofore accuſtomed to be paid to the Biſhop of Norwich within his Dioceſs, and to the Archdeacon of Richmond within his Archdeaconry, or to any other perſon or perſons within this Realm, or any other the Kings Dominions, ſhall from the ſaid firſt day of January, ceaſe and be extinct, and no longer be paid, but only to the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors in ſuch form as is above mentioned in this Act.

All firſt-fruits payable to other perſons ſhall ceaſe and be paid to the King.

Pro-

The Biſhops may give inſtitution and induction.

Provided always, That Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and all other having juriſdiction ordinary, may give and deliver Letters of Inſtitution and Induction, as they might do before the making of this Act, without any offence of any article contained in this Act, any thing in this Act contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Priors removeable ſhall pay no firſt-fruits.

Provided alſo, That where there be divers Cels appertaining to Monaſteries and Priories, and that the Priors of ſuch Cels be named, and removeable from time to time, at the only wills and pleaſures of their Maſters and Soveraigns of the Monaſteries and Priories, whereunto ſuch Cels belong: that the Priors of ſuch Cels ſhall not be compelled to pay any firſt-fruits, by vertue or authority of this Act, any thing in this Act contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding: but that the firſt-fruits and profits of every ſuch Cell ſhall be paid to the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors, whenſoever, and as often as any perſon ſhall be nominated, elected, prefected, or collated to the Monaſtery, or Priory, whereunto ſuch Cels belongen.

Yearly tenth of all ſpiritual livings given to the King. St. 32 H.8.45.

And over this be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors Kings of this Realm, for more augmentation and maintenance of the Royal eſtate of his Imperial Crown and Dignity of Supream Head of the Church of England, ſhall yearly have, take, enjoy, and receive united and knit to his Imperial Crown for ever, one yearly Rent, or Penſion, amounting to the value of the tenth part of all the Revenues, Rents, Farms, Tithes, offerings, Emoluments, and all other Profits, as well called Spiritual as Temporal, now appertaining or belonging, or that hereafter ſhall belong to any Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Priory, Archdeaconry, Deanry, Hoſpital, Colledge, houſe Collegiate, Prebend, Cathedral Church, Collegiate Church, Conventual Church, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chauntry, Free Chappel, or other Benefice or Promotion Spiritual, of what name, nature, or quality ſoever they be, within any Dioceſs of this Realm, or in Wales, the ſaid Penſion or annual Rent to be yearly paid for ever to our ſaid Soveraign Lord, to his heirs and ſucceſſors Kings of this Realm, at the Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord God, and the firſt payment thereof to begin at the Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord God, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, MDXXXV. And to be paid yearly by ſuch as ſhall be appointed to have the collection thereof by this Act, in ſuch manner and form as ſhell hereafter be limited by this Act, before the firſt day of April yearly next following, after the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord.

The tenth muſt be paid at Chriſtmas.

Commiſſions ſhall be awarded into every Dioceſs to enquire of the value of every ſpiritual living.

And it is ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid yearly Rent and Penſion ſhall be taxed, rated, levied, perceived, and paid to the Kings uſe, his heirs and ſucceſſors, in manner and form hereafter to be declared by this Act, That is to ſay, that the Chancellor of England for the time being, ſhall have power and authority to direct into every Dioceſs in this Realm, and in Wales ſeveral Commiſſions in the Kings name, under his great Seal, as well to the Archbiſhop or Biſhop of every ſuch Dioceſs, as to ſuch other perſon or perſons as the Kings Highneſs ſhall name and appoint, commanding and authorizing the ſaid Commiſſioners to be named in every ſuch Commiſſion, or three of them at the leaſt, to examine, ſearch and enquire by all the ways aud means that they can by their diſcretions, of and for the true and juſt, whole and entire yearly values of all the Manors, Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, Rents, Tithes, Offerings, Emoluments, and all other Profits, as well Spiritual as Temporal, appertaining or belonging to any Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Priory, Archdeaconry, Deanry, Hoſpital, Colledge, houſe Colegiate, Prebend, Cathedral Church, Collegiate Church, Conventual Church, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chauntry, free Chappel, or of any other Benefice or Promotion Spiritual within the limits of their Commiſſion, with a clauſe to be contained in every ſuch Commiſſion, that the ſaid Commiſſioners, or three of them at the leaſt, ſhall deduct and allow in the making and rating of the ſaid yearly values of the premiſes, theſe deductions following and none other: that is to ſay, the Rents reſolute to the chief Lords, and all other annual and perpetual Rents and Charges, which any ſpiritual perſon or perſons been bounden yearly to pay to any perſon or perſons, to their heirs and ſucceſſors for ever, or to give yearly in alms by reaſon of any foundation or ordinance, and all fees for Stewards, Receivers, Bailiffs, and Auditors, and Synods, and Proxies, with another clauſe to be alſo contained in every ſuch Commiſſion, that the ſaid Commiſſioners, or three of them at the leaſt, ſhall certifie under their ſeals at ſuch days as ſhall be limited by the ſaid Commiſſions, as well the whole and entire value, as the deductions aforeſaid of every Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Priory, Archdeaconry, Deanry, Hoſpital, Colledge, Houſe Collegiate, Prebend, Cathedral Church, Collegiate Church, Conventual Church, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chauntery, free Chappel, and of all other benefits and promotions ſpiritual.

Deductions to be defalked out of ſpiritual livings.

The Commiſſioners certificate of the truth of every ſpiritual living.

The Commiſſioners ſhall be ſworn indifferently to execute their Commiſſion.

And it is ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Commiſſioners that ſhall be ſo appointed, or three of them at the leaſt, ſhall have full power and authority to do, accompliſh, and execute the effects and contents of their ſaid Commiſſions in every behalf: and that every the ſaid Commiſſioners, before they ſhall execute the ſaid Commiſſion, ſhall receive and take a corporal Oath before the Lord Chancellor, or before ſuch other as ſhall be appointed by the ſaid Chancellor, by the Kings Writ of Dedimus poteſtatem, that they ſhall diligently and truly, without favour, affection, fraud, covin, meed, dread, or corruption, do, fulfil, and execute the whole effects and contents expreſſed in every ſuch Commiſſion within the limits thereof, to the cunning, wits, and uttermoſt of their powers.

And it is ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That after ſuch Certificate made by the ſaid Commiſſioners, the ſaid yearly Rent and Penſion of the tenth part ſhall be ſet, taxed, rated, and taken juſtly and truly, and indifferently by the Treaſurer, Chancellor, Chamberlain, and Barons of the Kings Exchequer, of and out of the clear yearly value of the premiſes, that ſhall be above the deductions aforementioned, and none otherwiſe.

And that every Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Priory, Archdeaconry, Deanry, Hoſpital, Colledge, Houſe Collegiate, Prebend, Cathedral Church, Collegiate Church, Conventual Church, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chauntry, Free Chappel, or other Benefice or Promotion Spiritual, ſhall be ſeverally and diſtinctly taxed, charged, and chargeable in the proper Dioceſs where they been, for the paiment of ſuch portion of the ſaid tenth part, as ſhall be taxed and ſet upon them by authority of this Act. That is to ſay, every of them by and for themſelves, ſhall be taxed, charged, and chargeable in the proper Dioceſs, where they been, for the tenth part of the yearly value of their poſſeſſions and profits to them belonging, whereſoever their ſaid poſſeſſions and profits ſhall happen to be, or lie in any part of this Realm, or elſewhere, in any of the Kings Dominions, and that none of them ſhall be charged or chargeable for the paiment of the others charge or portion.

Every Spiritual perſon ſhall be charged for his Tenths in the Dioceſs where they be, though their poſſeſſions lie in other Dioceſſes.

And it is alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That after ſuch Certificate made into the Kings Exchequer, and tax ſet of the tenth part, in form above remembred, every Archbiſhop and Biſhop now being, and that hereafter ſhall be, ſhall be charged or chargeable, to levy, collect, and receive within their proper Dioceſs, as well in places exempt, as not exempt, all ſuch ſums of money, wherewith the Dignities, Benefices, and other Promotions Spiritual afore mentioned within their Dioceſs, chargeable by this Act, ſhall be ſet, taxed, and charged towards the paiment of the ſaid yearly penſion, and ſhall pay and content the ſaid ſums of money yearly before the ſaid firſt day of April, to the Treaſurer of the Kings Chamber, for the time being, or to any other perſon or perſons, whom it ſhall pleaſe the Kings Highneſs to appoint to receive the ſame. And that every of the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops, their Executors and Adminiſtrators, and the poſſeſſions of dignities and Churches, ſhall ſtand charged and chargeable, for the ſure and true paiment of ſuch ſums of money, as they ſhall collect and receive of the ſaid yearly rent and penſion.

Biſhops ſhall be charged to the collection of their Tenths in their Dioceſſes.
St. 32 H. 8. 47.
34 H. 8. 17.

And that the Treaſurer, Chancellor, Chamberlain, and Barons of the Kings Exchequer, ſhall yearly cauſe Proceſs to be made by their diſcretions for non-paiment of the ſaid penſion or yearly rent, or any parcel thereof, againſt every Archbiſhop and Biſhop of this Realm, that is to ſay, againſt every Archbiſhop and Biſhop for ſo much part and portion of the ſaid penſion and yearly rent, wherewith the Dignities, Benefices, and other Promotions Spiritual aforementioned within the Dioceſs, ſhall be taxed and charged, ſo that every of the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops ſhall be charged and chargeable, for the rate and portion of the ſaid yearly rent and penſion ſet and taxed within his own peculiar Dioceſs, and none otherwiſe.

Proceſs againſt a Biſhop for the payment of all Tenths within his Dioceſs.

And be it alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That every Archbiſhop and Biſhop ſhall have power and authority to levy, take, and perceive by authority of Cenſures of the Church, or by diſtreſs, or otherwiſe by their diſcretion, all ſuch ſums of money as ſhall be rated, taxed, and ſet to go out of the lands, tenements, hereditaments, profits, and emoluments of any Dignity, Office, Benefice, or other place or promotion Spiritual within their Dioceſs, towards the paiment of the ſaid yearly rent and penſion: and that no Replevin, Prohibition, nor Superſedeas, upon any excommunication, nor any other Writ or impediment ſhall be ſued, allowed, or obeyed for any perſon or perſons making default of paiment of ſuch part and portion as they ſhall be rated and taxed unto by authority of this Act, till ſuch time as they have truly ſatisfied their ſaid part and portion to them allotted of the ſaid yearly rent and penſion.

By what means the Biſhop ſhall levy the Tenths of every Spiritual Promotion.
St. 2 Ed. 6. 20.

And it is alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That whenſoever, and as often as any of the Archbiſhopricks or Biſhopricks happen to be void, that then the Dean and Chapiter of the Cathedral Church, or the Prior and Convent, or Chapiter, or Convent of the Monaſtery or Cathedral Church, where the See of ſuch Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick, being void, ſhall happen to be, during the time of the vacation thereof, and their executors, adminiſtrators, and poſſeſſions ſhall be charged and chargeable to do, and cauſe to be done, all and every thing and things, for the due execution of this Act, within the Dioceſs of ſuch Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick being void, as the ſame Archbiſhop or Biſhop of the See, being void, ſhould have done, according as it is limited and appointed by this Act, or by any thing therein contained.

Who ſhall be Collectors in time of vacation of a Biſhoprick.

And it is ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any ſum of money being once due by any Incumbent of any the Dignities, Benefices, or Promotions Spiritual afore ſpecified, charged to the payment of the ſaid yearly penſion and annual rent, be reaſonably demanded and required any time after the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord, at their Dignities, [a] Monaſteries, Priories, Hoſpitalls, Colledges, Churches, Chanteries, or Houſes, by the [b] Archbiſhop or Biſhop, or ſuch as ſhall be charged with the collection of any part of the ſaid penſion, or by any other their miniſters, ſervants, or officers, to pay ſuch portion of the ſaid penſion and yearly rent, as they ſhall be taxed and aſſeſſed, be not truly contented and paid unto ſuch Archbiſhop or Biſhop, or their miniſters and officers, and to ſuch other perſon or perſons, or their miniſters or ſervants, as ſhall have the charge of collection thereof, every year yearly at the time of ſuch requeſt and demand thereof, or elſe within forty days next after every ſuch requeſt at the furtheſt, that then every Incumbent making ſuch default of payment, after ſuch default thereof certified into the Kings Exchequer in writing under the Seals of any Archbiſhop or Biſhop, or of ſuch as be limited and charged to the collection of the ſaid penſion by this Act, ſhall be adjudged, deprived ipſo facto, of all ſuch Dignities, Benefices, Penſions, and Promotions Spiritual, as any ſuch Incumbent making ſuch default, ſhall have at the time of ſuch Certificate to be made, or at any time after. And that all ſuch Dignities, Benefices, Penſion, and Promotion Spiritual, which any ſuch Incumbent making ſuch default of paiment, ſhall have at the time of ſuch Certificate to be made, or at any time after, ſhall be clearly void and deſtitute of Incumbent in the Law, to all intents and purpoſes, as if ſuch Incumbent making ſuch default of paiment were dead indeed.

The Biſhop making a certificate of any Incumbent omitting to pay his Tenths, ſhall be diſcharged thereof.
Stat. 7 Ed. 6. 4.
Stat. 32 H. 8. 22.

And it is ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any Archbiſhop or Biſhop, or any other limited and charged by this Act, to the collection and paiment of the ſaid penſion and annual rent, do make a Certificate unto the Kings Exchequer before the ſaid firſt day of April, or at any time within four and twenty days next after the ſaid firſt day of April, that they according to this Act, have reaſonably required and demanded any Incumbent of any Dignity, Benefice, or Promotion Spiritual, chargeable by this Act to pay ſuch part and portion of the ſaid penſion and annual rent, as they ſhall happen to be aſſeſſed unto, and that ſuch Incumbent, ſo being required, hath not paid his ſaid part and portion, according to the form and effect of this Act, that then every ſuch Archbiſhop and Biſhop, and every other perſon having the charge by this Act for collection and paiment of the ſaid penſion and annual rent, upon every ſuch Certificate, ſhall be diſcharged and acquitted for ever againſt the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, of and for all ſuch ſums of money, as any ſuch Incumbent againſt whom ſuch Certificate ſhall be made, ſhould or ought to have paid by this Act. And that then in every ſuch caſe, the Treaſurer, Chancellor, Chamberlain, and Barons of the Kings Exchequer, ſhall deviſe and direct upon every ſuch Certificate, ſuch Proceſs out of the Kings Exchequer, againſt every ſuch Incumbent, againſt whom any ſuch Certificate ſhall be made, and their Executors and Adminiſtrators, or for inſufficiency of them, againſt the ſucceſſors of every ſuch Incumbent, whereby the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall and may be truly anſwered, paid, and contented of ſuch portion and part as the Incumbent, againſt whom ſuch Certificate ſhall be made, was taxed and aſſeſſed for his Dignities, Benefices, or Promotion Spiritual, chargeable by this Act.

Proceſs ſhall be awarded againſt the refuſers to pay their Tenths.

Whoſe acquittances ſhall be a diſcharge for the payment of the Tenths.

And it is alſo ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all manner of Acquittances made by the Treaſurer of the Kings Chamber, or by any other ſuch Commiſſioners as ſhall be appointed, as is aforeſaid, to receive the ſaid penſion, or any part thereof, and ſubſcribed with the name of the ſaid Treaſurer, or any other ſuch Commiſſioner for the paiment of the ſaid penſion or annual rent, or any part thereof, to any ſuch perſon or perſons as be limited and charged with the collection thereof, ſhall be of as good ſtrength, force, vertue, and effect to the parties having the ſame, as if they were made in the Kings Name under his Great Seal, and ſo ſhall be allowed, admitted, and accepted in all Courts of this Realm: And that the Treaſurer, Chancellor, Chamberlain, and Barons of the Kings Exchequer, ſhall by vertue and authority of this Act, as well admit and allow ſuch Acquittances, as all ſuch Certificates as ſhall be made againſt any ſuch Incumbent for default of paiment as is above ſaid, upon the account of every Archbiſhop and Biſhop, and of every other perſon limited and charged by this Act, for the collection and paiment of the ſaid penſion and annual rent, without any Writ, Bill, or Warrant to be ſued in or for that behalf.

Nothing ſhall be taken in the Exchequer of a Biſhop or his Collector for his Account, or Quietus eſt.

And that no manner of Officer of the Kings Exchequer ſhall take of any Archbiſhop or Biſhop, or of any other perſons having charge with the collection and paiment of the ſaid penſion or annual rent, any manner reward, or thing for making their account or Quietus eſt, in the ſame Exchequer, or for any manner of thing appertaining to the ſame, concerning the ſaid penſion and annual rent, upon pain of every Officer doing contrary to this Act, to loſe and forfeit his Office, and make fine to the King at his will and pleaſure.

They which pay penſions to others out of their ſpiritual living, may retain the tenth part thereof.

And foraſmuch as every Incumbent of the Dignities, Benefices, and Promotions Spiritual afore mentioned, ſhall be charged by this Act to the paiment of the tenth part of the value of their Dignities, Benefices, and Promotions Spiritual, without any deduction or allowance of ſuch penſion or penſions, wherewith ſome of them been charged to pay their predeceſſors, during their lives, or to other perſons to the uſe of ſuch their predeceſſors during their lives, It is therefore ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, that it ſhall be lawful to every Incumbent charged with any ſuch penſion, payable to any his predeceſſors, or to any to his uſe, to retain and keep in his hand the tenth part of every ſuch penſion: And that every ſuch Incumbent and his ſureties, ſhall from henceforth be acquitted and diſcharged of the ſaid tenth part of every ſuch penſion, by vertue and authority of this preſent Act, any Decree, Ordinance, or Aſſignment of any ſuch Ordinary, or any collateral writing, or ſurety made for ſuch penſion to any Spiritual perſon or perſons, or to any to their uſes for term of their lives, in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And that as well every Incumbent, as ſuch perſons as ſtand bound for him, for paiment of any ſuch penſions, ſhall plead this Act in every of the Kings Courts, for the clear extinguiſhment and diſcharge of the tenth part of every ſuch penſion.

No penſion ſhall be reſerved upon the reſignation of a Benefice above the value of the third part.
Stat. 13 El. 20.

And be it alſo ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That no penſion ſhall hereafter be aſſigned by the Ordinary, or by any other manner of agreement by collateral ſurety, or otherwiſe, upon any reſignation of any Dignity, Benefice, or Promotion Spiritual, above the value of the third part of the Dignity, Benefice, or Promotion Spiritual reſigned: And if any penſion, amounting above the value of the third part of the Dignity, Benefice, or Promotion Spiritual heretofore reſigned, be already limited and made ſure, to any Spiritual perſon or perſons, by decree of the Ordinary, or otherwiſe by any collateral ſurety, or hereafter ſhall happen to be aſſigned, and made ſure to any perſon or perſons Spiritual, or to any other to their uſe, by decree of the Ordinary, or by any other collateral ſurety, upon any reſignation thereof; yet nevertheleſs the Incumbent charged with ſuch penſion, nor his ſureties collateral, ſhall not be compelled to pay any more penſion, then the value of the third part of his Dignity, Benefice, or Promotion Spiritual, ſo reſigned, ſhall mount unto: but ſhall by authority of this Act, be clearly acquitted and diſcharged of ſo much of the ſaid penſion, as ſhall amount above the value of the third part of the Dignity or Benefice reſigned: any decree or aſſignment of the Ordinary, or any collateral writings, or ſureties heretofore made, or hereafter to be had or made for the ſame, to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

And foraſmuch as divers Abbots and Priors been charged to pay great penſions to ſundry their predeceſſors yet living, to the great decay of their hoſpitalities and houſe-keeping: Be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That every ſuch Predeceſſors of ſuch Abbots or Priors, having any penſion made ſure unto them, or to any to their uſe during their lives, amounting above the yearly value of fourty pound, ſhall from henceforth be defaulked and abated of the moity and half deal of every ſuch penſion. And that every Abbot, and all other perſons charged for the paiment of ſuch penſion above the ſaid yearly value of fourty pound, ſhall be clearly acquitted and diſcharged by authority of this Act, of the moiety and half deal thereof for ever. Any decree or aſſignment thereof by the Ordinary, or any writing, or ſurety collateral, had or made for the ſurety thereof notwithſtanding.

Abbots or Priors paying penſions to their predeceſſors.

And foraſmuch as the Lord Prior of Saint Johns of Hieruſalem in England, and his Brethren, be not ſpecially named and expreſſed in this Act, whereby ambiguity might ariſe, whether they ſhould be compriſed within the limits of this Act: it is therefore for plain declaration thereof enacted by authority aforeſaid, That every perſon and perſons which after the ſaid firſt day of January ſhall happen to be nominated, elected, collated, or by any other means appointed to the dignity of the ſaid Prior of St. Johns of Hieruſalem in England, or to any commandry appertaining unto the ſame, ſhall before their actual and real entry into the ſame dignity or commandry, or medling with the profits thereof, ſatisfie and pay to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, the Firſt-fruits and profits thereof for one whole year, or agree or compound for the ſame, at reaſonable days, in like manner and form, and upon like pain in every behalf, as Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and other Spiritual perſons be bound to by vertue and authority of this Act. And that alſo the Prior of St. Johns now being, and his ſucceſſors, and every of his Brethren having any commandry, and their ſucceſſors, ſhall contribute and pay yearly to the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, one yearly rent and penſion amounting to the tenth part of all their poſſeſſions and profits, as well Spiritual as Temporal; and ſhall be charged, rated, taxed, and ſet to the contribution and paiment of the ſaid tenth part. And that alſo the ſaid tenth part ſhall be levied, collected, and paid in ſuch like manner and form, to all intents and purpoſes, as the tenth part of other Dignities and Benefices Spiritual ſhall be charged, taxed, ſet, levied, collected, and paid by authority of this Act.

The Prior of St. John of Hieruſalem ſhall pay Firſt-fruits and Tenths.

And foraſmuch as in ſundry and many Cathedral Churches, Colledges, and Hoſpitals of this Realm, there is, and time out of mind hath been certain Ordinances inſtituted, and made, whereby the Dean, Provoſt, Maſter, or other chief Governour of ſuch Churches, Colledges, and Hoſpitals, hath a certain part and portion of the poſſeſſions and profits belonging to ſuch Churches, Colledges, and Hoſpitals, all onely limited and belonging to their Offices and Dignities: And every Prebendary, Brother, Vicar, Fellow, petty Canon, and other Miniſters Spiritual in ſuch Churches, Colledges, and Hoſpitals, hath another portion, all onely and diſtinctly limited, appertaining and belonging to their Dignities and Offices in ſuch Churches, Hoſpitals, and Colledges: It is therefore provided and ordained by authority aforeſaid, that ſuch perſon and perſons which at any time after the ſaid firſt day of January, ſhall be nominated, elected, preſented, prefected, collated, or by other means appointed to be Dean, Provoſt, Maſter, or other chief Governour of ſuch Cathedral Churches, Colledges, or Hoſpitals, ſhall be rated, compound, and pay for their Firſt-fruits but onely after the rate of the yearly value of the poſſeſſion and profits, limited and belonging to their Office and Dignity.

They which in one Corporation have ſeveral poſſeſſions belonging to their dignities, ſhall pay for their own poſſeſſions and not for others.

And that every other perſon and perſons, that after the ſaid firſt day of January ſhall be nominated, elected, preſented, prefected, collated, or by any other means appointed to have any Prebend, Brotherſhip, Fellowſhip, or to be any Vicar, or petty Canon, or to have any other Dignity, or Office Spiritual, in any ſuch Cathedral Churches, Colledges, or Hoſpitals, ſhall be rated, compound, and pay for their Firſt-fruits after the rate of the yearly value of the poſſeſſions and profits, limited and belonging to their Dignities and Offices, in ſuch Churches, Colledges, and Hoſpitals, and none otherwiſe. Any thing in this Act to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Provided always, That ſuch perſon or perſons, that after the ſaid firſt day of January ſhall be preſented and collated to any Parſonage or Vicarage, whereof the yearly value ſhall not exceed viij. marks, ſhall not be compelled to pay any Firſt-fruits for any ſuch Parſonage, or Vicarage, whereunto they ſhall be preſented or collated, not being above the ſaid yearly value of viij. marks: Except that the Incumbent preſented or collated to ſuch Parſonage or Vicarage, whereof the yearly value ſhall not exceed viij. marks, do live iij. years, next and immediately following after his inſtitution, induction, or collation to ſuch Parſonage or Vicarage; and if ſuch Incumbent do live after the ſaid three years, then he or his executors or adminiſtrators ſhall pay at days to be limited after the ſaid three years upon ſureties (as is aforeſaid) the Firſt-fruits of every ſuch Parſonage and Vicarage. And that in every Obligation to be made by any Incumbent of ſuch Parſonage or Vicarage, and his ſureties, for payment of the Firſt-fruits of ſuch Parſonage or Vicarage, there ſhall be contained a Proviſo, that if the ſaid Incumbent die within three years next after the date of the inſtitution, induction, or collation of the ſaid Parſonage or Vicarage, that then the Obligation ſhall be void and of none effect, any thing in this Act to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

No Firſt-fruits ſhall be paid for a Benefice being not above the yearly value of eight marks, except, &c. Stat. 1 El. 4.

A Proviſo in the Obligation if the Incumbent die within three years.

And over this, where the Clergy of the Province of Canterbury in their Convocation have granted unto the Kings Highneſs one hundred thouſand pounds, and the Clergy of the Province of York xviij. thouſand eight hundred fourty pound, x. v. to be paid by even portions in v. years, and that which could not be levied thereof in the ſame v. years, to be paid in the ſixth year, as by the tenour of their ſeveral grants thereof made in their ſeveral Convocations more plainly appeareth: It may pleaſe the Kings Majeſty of his excellent goodneſs, in conſideration that the ſaid yearly penſion and annual rent ſhall be yearly from henceforth duely paid and ſatisfied to his Highneſs, and to his Heirs and Succeſſors according to the tenour, form, purport, and effect of this preſent Act: that it may be enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, that the Clergy of the ſaid Province of Canterbury, and every of them, ſhall be diſcharged and acquitted againſt our ſaid Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, of, and for the twenty thouſand pound, parcel of the ſaid C. M. li. which ſhould be paid in the v. year of paiment, limited by their grant: And that the Clergy of the ſaid Province of York ſhall likewiſe be diſcharged and acquitted of and for all ſuch ſums of money, parcel of the ſaid xviij. M. DCCC. xl. li. x. d. which ſhould be paid in the v. year of paiment limited by their grant: any thing in their ſaid ſeveral grants thereof made in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Provided always, That all the reſidue of ſums of money, which be yet to be paid, and not releaſed nor diſcharged by this Act, ſhall be truly paid and ſatisfied to our ſaid Sovereign Lord, his Heirs or Succeſſors, according to the tenour, form, and effect of their ſaid ſeveral grants.

Fees which any Prelate is bound to pay for Temporal Juſtice.

Provided alſo, That all ſuch fees, which any Archbiſhop, Biſhop, Abbot, Prior, or other Prelate of the Church is bounden yearly to pay to any Chancellor, Maſter of the Rolls, Juſtices, Sheriffs, or other Officers or Miniſters of Record, for Temporal Juſtice to be done or miniſtred within their Dioceſs or Juriſdictions, ſhall be allowed and deducted by the Commiſſioners aforeſaid, in and upon the valuation of the Dignities, Monaſteries, Priories, or Churches chargeable with ſuch fees: Any thing in this Act to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding. CAP. IV.

How perjury in Jurors in Wales ſhall be puniſhed.

Where for lack of diligent and ſure cuſtody of Jurors ſworn for trials of murders, felons, and acceſſaries of felonies and murders in Wales, and the marches of the ſame, divers adherents, friends, and kinsfolks to ſuch offendors have reſorted to the ſame Jurors, and have ſuborned them to acquit divers murderers, felons, and acceſſaries, openly and notoriouſly known, contrary to equity and juſtice: It is therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That forthwith upon the charge given to any inqueſt hereafter to be taken and ſworn before any Juſticer, Steward, Lieutenant, or other Officer within Wales, or the Marches of the ſame, of, for, and upon any travers againſt the King, or the trial of any Recogniſance broken, or any other forfeiture forfeited to the King, of, for, and upon trial of any murderer, felon, or acceſſary of felony or murder, one Officer or other perſon ſhall be deputed and ſworn in the preſence of the ſaid Juſticer, or other Officer, for the true and diligent keeping of the ſame Jurors: And that the ſame Officer, or other perſon ſo ſworn, without the ſpecial commandment of the ſaid Juſticer, or other Officer, ſhall not do or ſuffer to be miniſtred to the ſame Jurors, any bread, drink, meat, fire, or light, nor ſhall ſuffer the ſame Jurors to ſpeak to any perſon or perſons: nor the ſame Officer, or other perſon ſworn, without the commandment aforeſaid, ſhall not ſpeak to the ſaid Jurors, but onely to demand of them of their agreement, unto ſuch time as the ſame Jurors ſhall have given their verdict, any uſage or cuſtom heretofore uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding: And if the ſame Officer, or other perſon ſo ſworn in form aforeſaid, do not execute and accompliſh the premiſſes in the oath before rehearſed, in every point and article, then the ſame Officer, or other perſon ſo ſworn, ſhall be puniſhed and impriſoned, and make fine and ranſome to the Kings Highneſs, by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſticer, Steward, Lieutenant, or other Officer.

How an Officer ſworn for the keeping of Jurors in Wales ſhall demean himſelf.

The penalty of Jurors in Wales which do commit perjury, or otherwiſe miſdemean themſelves.

And alſo be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the ſame Jurors do acquit any ſuch felon, murderer, or acceſſary, upon whoſe trial they ſhall be charged, or give any untrue verdict againſt the King, upon the trial of any travers, recognizance, or other forfeiture, contrary to good and pregnant evidence miniſtred to them by perſons ſworn before the ſaid Juſticer, Steward, Lieutenant, or other Officer, or that the ſaid Jurors or any of them do eat, drink, or ſpeak to, or with any other perſon or perſons, then to ſuch as be ſworn with them, or otherwiſe miſdemean themſelves after they be ſworn, and before they have given their verdict, that then the Lord Preſident, and other of the Councel of the Marches for the time being, upon notice or complaint thereof to them made, ſhall not onely have power and authority by this preſent Act to call ſuch Jurors before them: but alſo the ſame Juſticer, Steward, or other Officer, afore whom any ſuch acquittal, untrue verdict, or miſdemeanor ſhall happen to be made, ſhall have full power and authority to compel ſuch Jurors and every of them, upon pain of impriſonment, to be bounden by recognizance in a certain ſum of money, by their diſcretion to be limited, that the ſame Jurors and every of them ſhall perſonally appear at a certain day, by the ſame Juſticer, Steward, or other Officer to be limited, before the Lord Preſident, and other of the Council aforeſaid for the time being: then and there to abide, and ſtand to ſuch direction and order as the ſame Council ſhall make, ordain, and decree, of, in, and upon the ſame. And that the ſame Council ſhall thereupon have authority and power, by examination or otherwiſe, to hear and determine all and every ſuch cauſe, and ſhall have like authority to commit every of the ſame Jurors to priſon, or other puniſhment, as ſhall be thought moſt meet by the diſcretion of the ſaid Council, or otherwiſe aſſeſs or tax every ſuch Juror to his fine or ranſome by the ſame diſcretion, to be paid and levied of their lands, goods, and cattels, to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs.

CAP. V.

No paſſage upon Severn at unlawful times.

Foraſmuch as daily divers felonies, robberies, and murders, been many times committed and done in the Counties of Glouceſter and Somerſet, in the parts next adjoyning unto the water, called the water of Severn, between England and South-Wales, and after ſuch murders and felonies done, the ſaid robbers, felons, and murderers,, with the ſaid goods ſo robbed and ſtolen, make their conveyance with the ſaid goods ſo ſtolen by night at divers paſſages, or Ferries, over the ſaid River, or water, as the paſſages of Auſte, Fremeland, Pyrton, Arlingham, Nowenham, Portſedes, Poynte, and all ſuch other like paſſages over the ſaid River into South-Wales, or into the Forreſt called the Forreſt of Dean, alſo adjoyning to the ſame water; And when they be over the ſaid water, then the goods ſo ſtolen, by divers priviledges there kept, albeit the owner and owners have true and perfect knowledge thereof, yet they ſo robbed and ſpoiled be without remedy for to obtain their ſaid goods ſo ſtolen; ſo that the ſecret and ſudden conveyance by night of the ſaid goods over the ſaid Ferries and paſſages, doth not onely greatly encourage divers perſons to come out of the parts of South-Wales to ſteal, rob, and murder divers perſons in their houſes in the ſaid Counties joyning upon the ſaid borders of Wales, but alſo cauſeth many robberies and felonies in ſundry ways to be committed and done upon the ſaid border near adjoyning to the ſame River, to the great damage and hurt of the Kings ſubjects inhabiting there, unleſs ſome remedy therefore be provided. It may therefore pleaſe the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, by the authority of the ſame, to enact, That every perſon or perſons, taking upon him or them to have and keep any of the ſaid paſſages, or any other paſſages upon Severn aforeſaid, from henceforth do not convey, neither carry with any manner barge, boat, or other veſſel, any perſon or perſons with horſes, mares, oxen, kine, or any other cattel, nor no other perſon or perſons before the time of the Sun riſing in the morning, and after the time of the Sun being gone down at night, upon pain of impriſonment and fine to be ſet on him that ſhall ſo convey or carry over any of the ſaid paſſages of the ſaid River of Severn out of England into Wales, or the Forreſt of Dean, or out of Wales, or the ſaid Forreſt of Dean into England, unleſs the ſaid paſſengers and every of them have good knowledge of ſuch perſon and perſons, and of their dwelling places, and upon requeſt to them made by any perſon or perſons to diſcloſe the name, and the dwelling place of every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo by them conveyed over the ſaid water, to any ſuch perſon or perſons requiring the ſame, if ſuit be made for, and after them upon any outcry, huy, or freſh ſuit, of or for any felony, robbery, murder, and man-ſlaughter, committed and done from henceforth.

The penalty for tranſporting offendors into or forth of Wales, at unlawful times.

And that the Kings Juſtices of the Peace within every the ſaid Counties of Glouceſter and Somerſet, at their quarter Seſſions, ſhall have full power and authority to call before them all ſuch perſons, which hereafter ſhall keep any of the ſaid paſſages, or any othhr Ferry or paſſage over the ſaid water into Wales, or the ſaid Forreſt, or out of Wales or the ſaid Forreſt into England, and to bind them with ſufficient ſureties with them in recognizance, in ſuch ſums of money as it ſhall ſeem to the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, that they and every of them being paſſengers and keepers of Ferries & paſſages, as is aforeſaid, from henceforth ſhall not after the ſaid times before limited and appointed, convey and carry, or cauſe to be conveyed or carried any manner of perſon or perſons, or any kind of cattel, but ſuch perſons as they do know and will anſwer for, and know where their abidings, dwellings, and habitations be, and upon requeſt made to them or any of them, as is abovesaid, ſhall from time to time diſcloſe, as well the ſame perſon or perſons, as the goods and cattels ſo paſſing the ſaid paſſages upon freſh ſuit made, or hereafter to be made upon any felony, murder, or robbery committed and done in the borders of the Counties aforeſaid, or in any other place within this Realm or South-Wales.

Keepers of Ferries ſhall be bound to tranſport no offendors at unlawful times.

CAP. VI.

Murders and felonies committed in Wales ſhall be enquired of in the Shires next adjoyning, &c.

t.331. Foraſmuch as the people of Wales, and the marches of the ſame, not dreading the good and wholeſome Laws and Statutes of this Realm, have of long time continued, and perſevered in perpetration, and commiſſion of divers and manifold thefts, murders, rebellions, wilful burning of houſes, and other ſcelerous deeds and abominable malefacts, to the high diſpleaſure of God, inquietation of the Kings well diſpoſed ſubjects, and diſturbance of the publick weal; which malefacts and ſcelerous deeds be ſo rooted and fixed in the ſame people, that they be not like to ceaſe, unleſs ſome ſharp correction and puniſhment for redreſs, and amputation of the premiſſes be provided, according to the demerits of the offendors. Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That all and ſingular perſon and perſons, dwelling or reſiant within Wales, or in the Lordſhips marchers of the ſame, from time to time, and at all times hereafter, upon ſuch monition or warning given for the Court to be kept in Wales, or in any of the Lordſhips marchers aforeſaid, as before this time hath been uſed, ſhall perſonally repair, reſort, and appear before the Juſtice, Steward, Lieutenant, or other Officer, at all and every Seſſions, Court and Courts to be holden before the ſame Juſtice, Steward, or other Officer in any whatſoever Caſtle, Fortreſs, or other place within Wales, or within the precincts, limits, and juriſdictions of every of the Lordſhips marchers, or Seigniorities aforeſaid, or to the marches of the ſame, as by the ſaid Juſtice, Steward, or other Officer ſhall be appointed: And then and there ſhall give his or their perſonal attendance, to do, execute,

The long perſeverance in wickedneſs of ſome lewd people in Wales, and the marches thereof.

All perſons ſhall upon ſummons given appear before the Juſtices, and in Courts in Wales.

and accompliſh all and every thing and things, which to him and them ſhall affere and appertain, upon pain of ſuch fines, forfeitures, and amerciaments, as ſhall be affered, aſſeſſed, and taxed by the Juſtice, Steward, or other Officer to the Kings uſe, if it be within any of the Kings Lordſhips marchers. And if it be within any other Lordſhips marchers, then to the uſe of the Lord of the ſaid Lordſhip marcher, for the time being: The ſaid forfeitures and amerciaments to be levied, perceived, and taken by way of diſtreſs of the goods and cattels of every perſon not appearing at the ſaid Court or Courts, or not doing, executing, or accompliſhing his duty as is aboveſaid.

Wrongs done by Officers in Lordſhips marchers.

Untrue ſurmiſes fained againſt them which appear to impriſon them.

And foraſmuch as the Officers in the Lordſhips marchers in Wales, have often and ſundry times heretofore, unlawfully exacted of the Kings ſubjects within ſuch Lordſhips, where they have had rule or authority, by many and ſundry ways and means, and alſo committed them to ſtraight dureſs and impriſonment for ſmall and light fained cauſes, and extortiouſly compelled them thereby to pay unto them fines for their redemptions, contrary to the Law. Therefore be it further enacted, That if any Steward, Lieutenant, or any other Officer of any Lordſhip marcher, do fain, procure, or imagine any untrue ſurmiſe againſt any perſon or perſons, that ſhall give their perſonal attendance before them at ſuch Court or Courts, and upon the ſame untrue ſurmiſe commit them to any dureſs or impriſonment, contrary to the Law, or contrary to the true and laudable cuſtom of that Lordſhip: that then upon ſuit made unto the Kings Commiſſioners, or Council of the marches, for the time being, by any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo impriſoned, or by any of their friends, that then the ſame Commiſſioners or Council ſhall have full power and authority to ſend for ſuch Steward, Lieutenant, or Officer, and alſo for the perſon or perſons ſo impriſoned: And if the ſame perſon or perſons ſo impriſoned, can evidently prove before the ſaid Council, by good and ſubſtantial witneſs, or otherwiſe, that his impriſonment was upon any feigned ſurmiſe, without cauſe reaſonable or lawful, that then the ſame Commiſſioners ſhall have full power and authority to aſſeſs the ſaid Officer to pay to the ſaid perſon or perſons wrongfully impriſoned, vj. s. viij. d. for every day of their impriſonment, or more, by the diſcretions of the ſaid Commiſſioners, according to the hurts and behaviour of the perſon or perſons impriſoned.

The parties remedy againſt the Officer which doth impriſon him upon fained ſurmiſes.

And that the ſame Commiſſioners ſhall ſet further fine upon the ſaid Officer to be paid to the Kings uſe, as by their diſcretions ſhall be thought convenient. And in caſe the ſame Officers do refuſe to appear before the ſame Commiſſioners incontinent after any commandment to them directed and delivered, after any ſuch complaint made to the ſame Commiſſioners, ÿ then the ſame Commiſſioners ſhall have full power and authority upon every default made by any Officer or Officers, to aſſeſs and ſet upon every ſuch Officer or Officers making default, ſuch fine or fines, to be levied to ÿ Kings uſe, as by their diſcretions ſhall be thought convenient. And that the ſame Commiſſioners ſhall have full power and authority, to compel the ſaid Officer or Officers by way of impriſonment, as well to pay ſuch fine as ſhall be ſet, and taxed upon them, to the Kings uſe, as to pay unto every perſon or perſons ſo impriſoned ſuch ſums of money, as they ſhall be ceſſed to pay for their wrong impriſonment.

No weapon ſhall be brought to Courts, Fairs, or Churches in Wales. St. 4 H. 4. 27. & 29.

And alſo be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons dwelling or reſiant within Wales, or the Lordſhips marchers of the ſame, of what eſtate, degree, or condition ſoever he or they be of, coming, reſorting, or repairing unto any Seſſions or Court, to be holden within Wales, or any Lordſhips marchers of the ſame, ſhall bring or bear, or cauſe to be brought or born to the ſame Seſſions or Court, or to any place within the diſtance of two miles from the ſame Seſſions or Court, nor to any Town, Church, Fair, Market, or other Congregation, except it be upon a hue, or outcry, made of any felony or robbery done or perpetrated, nor in the high ways in affray of the Kings peace, or the Kings liege people, any bill, long bow, croſs-bow, hand-gun, ſword, ſtaff, dagger, halberd, moreſpike, ſpear, or any other manner of weapon, privy coat, or armour defenſive, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame weapon, privy coat, or armour, and to ſuffer impriſonment, and make fine and ranſome to the Kings Highneſs by the diſcretion of the Kings Commiſſioners of his marches for the time being, except it be by the commandment, licences, or aſſent of the ſaid Juſtices, Steward, or other Officer, or of the Commiſſioners or Council of the marches for the time being.

No man ſhall levy any exactions, or Commorths, or Collection, or games in Wales.

No Arthel ſhall be caſt into any Court.

And that no perſon nor perſons from henceforth, without licenſe of the ſaid Commiſſioners in writing, ſhall within Wales or the marches of the ſame, or in any Shires adjoyning to the ſame, require, procure, gather, or levy any Commorth, Bydalle, tenants ale, or other collections or exactions of goods, cattels, money, or any other thing, under colour of marriage, or ſuffering of their children ſaying or ſinging the firſt Maſſes, or Goſpels, or any Prieſts or Clerks, or for redemption of any murder, or any other felony, or for any other manner of cauſe, by what name or names ſoever they ſhall be called: nor ſhall make, or procure to be made, any games of running, wraſtling, leaping, or any other games (the game of ſhooting onely excepted and forepriſed) upon pain of one whole years impriſonment of every perſon or perſons, as ſhall gather, or procure to be gathered, any ſuch collection or exaction, or ſhall make or procure to be made any games, as is aforeſaid. And further they and every of them ſhall make ſuch fine, as by the diſcretion of the Kings Commiſſioners of his marches ſhall be thought convenient. And further the ſaid Commiſſioners, by this preſent Act, ſhall have power and authority to hear and determine the ſaid offences by their examination. And that no perſon or perſons ſhall hereafter at any time caſt any thing into any Court within VVales, or in the Lordſhips marchers of the ſame, by the mean or name of an Arthel, by reaſon whereof the Court may be letted, diſturbed, or diſcontinued for that time, upon pain of one whole years impriſonment of any ſuch perſon or perſons, as ſhall caſt, or cauſe to be caſt any ſuch Arthel into any Court or Courts hereafter to be holden within VVales, or the Lordſhips marchers of the ſame. Any cuſtom before this time uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

And that all Seſſions and Courts hereafter to be holden within Wales, or the Lordſhips marchers of the ſame, ſhall be kept within the moſt ſureſt & peacable place within the ſame Lordſhip marcher, where the ſaid Juſtice, Steward, or other Officer ſhall appoint. And for the puniſhment and ſpeedy trials, as well of the counterfeiters of any coin currant within this Realm waſhing, clipping, or miniſhing of the ſame, as of all and ſingular felonies, murthers, wilful burning of houſes, manſlaughters, robberies, burglaries, rapes, & acceſſaries of the ſame, & other offences, feloniouſly done, perpetrated, and committed, or hereafter to be done, perpetrated, and committed within any Lordſhip marcher of Wales: Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of the Gaol-delivery, and of the Peace, and every of them for the time being in the Shire or Shires of England, where the Kings writ runneth next adjoyning to the ſame Lordſhip marcher, or other places in Wales, where ſuch counterfeiting, waſhing, clipping, or miniſhing of any coin currant within this Realm, or murther hath been, or hereafter ſhall be committed or done, where any other felonies or acceſſaries ſhall be hereafter committed, perpetrated, or done, ſhall have from henceforth full power & authority, at their Seſſions & Gaol-delivery, to enquire by verdict of twelve men of the ſame Shire or Shires next adjoyning within England, where the Kings writ runneth, there to cauſe all ſuch counterfeiters, waſhers, clippers of money, felons, murderers, & acceſſaries to the ſame, to be indicted according to the Laws of this Land, in like manner and form, as if the ſame petty treaſons, murders, felonies, and acceſſaries to the ſame, had been done, committed, or perpetrated within any of the ſaid Shires, within the ſaid Realm: and alſo to hear, determine, and judge the ſame according to the Laws of the Realm.

All Courts ſhall be kept within moſt ſure places.

Endictment in the next County for a felony committed within any Lordſhip marcher.
St. 34 H. 8. 26.
St. 27 H. 8. 26.

And that all foreign pleas, pleaded by any of the ſaid malefactors, and offendors, ſhall be tried and determined in the ſaid Shire or Shires: and that the acquittal or fine making for any of the cauſes aforeſaid, in any of the Lordſhips marchers, ſhall be no barre for any perſon or perſons, being indicted in the ſaid Shire or Shires, within two years next after any ſuch murder or felony done.

Acquittal in Lordſhips marchers no barre.

And further it is enacted, That the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, and Gaol-delivery, and every of them, ſhall have full power and authority to award all manner of proceſs, as well of outlawry, as otherwiſe, againſt all and every ſuch offendor and offendors, ſo indicted in manner and form, and according to the cuſtoms and laws uſed and accuſtomed within this Realm of England. And that the ſaid Juſtices, or two of them, afore whom any ſuch offendor ſhall happen to be outlawed, or attainted by outlagary, ſhall immediately upon the ſame outlagary, or attainder, direct and ſend unto the Kings Officers of his Lordſhips marchers, or to their deputies, or unto the Lord or Lords marchers of the ſame Lordſhip marcher, or his or their Officer or Officers, or to their deputies, wherein ſuch offence, murder, or felony ſhall happen to be done, or where any ſuch offendor, murderer, or felon ſhall happen to be reſiant, a certificate under the ſeals of them, or two of them, of any ſuch outlagary, or attainder, commanding them and every of them by the ſame, under pain of forfeiture of a hundred pound to the King, to be levied and perceived as well of the goods, cattels, lands and tenements of the ſame Lord or Lords marchers, as of the goods and cattels, lands and tenements of the Kings Officer there to apprehend and attach, or cauſe to be apprehended and attached, the body or bodies of the ſame offendor or offendors, ſo outlawed or attainted, and ſafely to keep, or cauſe to be kept the ſame offendor or offendors, till ſuch convenient time before the next Seſſions of the Kings Juſtices of the Gaol-delivery, of the Shire where ſuch offendor or offendors ſhall happen to be outlawed or attainted, as to the Kings Officers of his Lordſhips marchers, or to their deputies, or unto the Lord marcher, or Lords marchers of the ſame Lordſhip marcher, or his or their Officer or Officers, or their deputies, where ſuch offendor or offendors ſhall be apprehended, attached, detained, and kept, ſhall be thought expedient for the conveyance and conducting of the ſame offendor or offendors, in manner and form following to be delivered from the Kings Officers or their deputies, or the Lord marcher or the Lords marchers, or his or their Officer or Officers, to other perſons aſſigned by this Act, to receive and convey ſuch offendor or offendors, by indenture to be made between the deliverer or deliverers, and the receiver or the receivers: That is to ſay, that the Kings Officers of his Lordſhip marcher or their deputies, or the Lord or Lords marchers of the Lordſhip marcher, or his or their Officer or Officers, or their deputies, where ſuch offendor or offendors ſhall be apprehended, attached, detained, & kept, ſhall ſafely and ſurely conduct & convey, or cauſe to be conducted & conveyed, the ſame offendor or offendors, to the next Lordſhip marcher toward the Shire, where the ſame offendor or offendors ſhall happen to be outlawed or attainted. And that the Kings Officers of the ſame Lordſhip marcher, or their deputies, or the Lord or Lords marchers of the ſame Lordſhip marcher, or his or their Officer or Officers, ſhall receive, and ſafely and ſurely conduct, and convey the ſame offendor or offendors to the next Lordſhip marcher. And ſo the Kings Officers of every Lordſhip marcher or their deputies, or the Lord or Lords marchers of the ſame Lordſhip, or his or their Officer or Officers, or their deputies, to receive, conduct, and convey ſafely and ſurely every ſuch offendor or offendors, from one Lordſhip marcher to another Lordſhip marcher, by indenture, as is aforeſaid, unto the time that ſuch offendor or offendors ſhall be ſafely delivered before the ſaid Juſtices of the Gaol-delivery, upon pain of forfeiture by every of the Kings Officer, or Lord marcher by whoſe default the ſame offendor or offendors ſhall, ne may not appear before the ſame Juſtices at their ſaid Seſſions, there to ſtand and abide the order of the Kings Laws, C. li. to be levied and perceived of the goods and cattels, lands and tenements of the ſame Officer or Lord to the Kings uſe.

Juſtices may award proceſs unto Lordſhips marchers.

A Certificate of an Outlawry to a Lord marcher, &c.

By what means an offendor ſhall be conveyed from one Lordſhip marcher to another.

And that all and every Officer or Officers, Lord and Lords, or other perſons to whom any certificate ſhall be directed, as is aboveſaid, ſhall at the next Seſſions and Gaol-delivery to be holden after the apprehenſion, or attachment of ſuch offendor or offendors, return the ſame certificate in due form, and what he or they have done in that behalf, upon the pain aforeſaid.

The Officer ſhall return his precept.

All advantages ſaved to the offendors.

ſaid. Saving alway to all and every offendor and offendors, all and ſingular traverſes, challenges, exceptions, advantages, and all other plees, to, of, and upon the outlawry pronounced, or promulged againſt the ſame offendor or offendors, in manner and form as is and hath been uſed and accuſtomed by the Laws of this Realm for any the Kings ſubjects dwelling within the ſame Realm.

An offendor attainted of any felony, upon ſurety found of his good behaviour may be diſcharged. ALT. 34 H. 8. 26.

Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons which ſhall happen hereafter to be indicted, outlawed, arraigned, convicted, or attainted by force of this Act, do find ſuch ſufficient ſureties before the Kings Juſtices of the Gaol-delivery, as by their diſcretion ſhall be thought convenient, that the ſame perſon or perſons ſhall not from thenceforth commit nor do any felony, murder, or felonious offence, nor be acceſſary to any felony, murder, or felonious offence, but at all times from henceforth ſhall be of good behaviour againſt the King our Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, his and their Laws and Subjects, that then the ſame Juſtices of Gaol-delivery for the time being, with and by the aſſent, conſent, and agreement of the Lord Preſident, and two of the Kings Commiſſioners, or Council of the Marches for the time being, or three of them at the leaſt, whereof the Lord Preſident or one of the ſaid Council to be one, ſhall and may by their diſcretions for one time onely, admit any ſuch offendor to a certain fine, or ſum of money on him by them to be aſſeſſed and taxed, to be ſurely paid to the Kings uſe, and ſhall have full power and authority by this preſent Act to diſcharge any ſuch offendor or offendors, ſo arraigned, outlawed, convicted, and attainted, of all and every ſuch felony, murder, or felonious offence, and acceſſaries of the ſame, and of all executions and puniſhments of death, which the ſame offendor or offendors ſhould ſuffer by the common Laws of this Realm, ſo that the ſame offendor or offendors ſtand not appealed of the ſaid felony, murder, or felonious offence, or acceſſary of the ſame offences, at the time of his ſaid diſcharge. And that every ſuch offendor ſo diſcharged, as is aboveſaid, ſhall be for the ſame offence, or offences done within any of the Kings Lordſhips marchers, or any other Lordſhips marchers, diſcharged as well againſt the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, as againſt all other Lords marchers for one time onely.

No liberties of any Lord marcher ſhall be abridged.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this preſent Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend, ne take place to abridge, deprive, or minorate any liberties, priviledge, or authority of any Lord marcher, heretofore granted to the ſame Lord, or lawfully uſed or accuſtomed by the ſaid Lord, or any of his anceſtors, unleſs the foreſaid offendors happen to be endicted, outlawed, arraigned, convicted, or attainted by force of this Act, as is aboveſaid, within two years next after ſuch murder, or other felonious offence perpetrated, done, or committed within the ſaid Lordſhips marchers, or any of them: Any thing in this preſent Act before rehearſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Where felonies committed in Merioneth in Wales ſhall be inquired of, heard, and determined.

And furthermore be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all murders, robberies, felonies, and acceſſaries of the ſame, which ſhall happen hereafter to be done, perpetrated, or committed within the Shire of Merioneth in Wales, ſhall and may be from henceforth enquired, heard, and determined in the Counties of Carnervan or Angleſee, before the Kings Juſtices of North-Wales, or his Deputy for the time being, by the verdict or enqueſt to be taken by the inhabitants of the ſame Shires of Carnervan and Angleſee, or otherwiſe, if by the diſcretion of the Juſtice there, or his deputy, ſhall be thought convenient. And that the ſame Juſtice, or his deputy, for the time being, ſhall have full power and authority by his diſcretion, by force of this preſent Act, to hear and determine all and every the aforeſaid murders, felonies, robberies, and acceſſaries, in form aforeſaid.

And where heretofore upon divers murders, robberies, and felonies, perpetrated and done, as well within the Lordſhips marchers of Wales, as in other places of Wales without the ſame Lordſhips, the offendors divers times flee, and eſcape from the ſame Lordſhip or other place where ſuch offence was committed, and have repaired and reſorted into another Lordſhip marcher, and there by the aid, comfort, and favour of the Lord of the ſame Lordſhip, or his Officer or Officers, have been abiding and reſiant, into the which Lordſhip the ſame Lords marchers have and do pretend a cuſtom and priviledge, that none of the Kings miniſters or ſubjects may enter, to purſue, apprehend, and attach any ſuch offendor, thereunto repaired, as is aforeſaid, by reaſon whereof the ſame offendors went unpuniſhed, to the animation and encouraging of other evil diſpoſed people. It is therefore enacted by the authority aboveſaid, That every Officer and Officers, and their deputies, upon commandment given by the Commiſſioners or Council of the Marches for the time being, ſhall bring, ſend, or deliver every ſuch offendor to the Officer of the Lordſhip marcher, or other place, where any ſuch offence is, or ſhall be committed or done, upon the metes and bounds of the ſaid Lordſhips, or to the ſaid Commiſſioners or Council, according as the ſaid Officers by them ſhall be commanded under pain of fourty pounds, the ſame commandment or Commiſſion to be directed to any ſuch Officer to be ſent, conveyed, and delivered by a Sergeant at Arms, or a Purſevant, attendant on the ſaid Council in the Marches, for the time being. 34 & 35 H. 8. 26.

Where and to whom any offendor taken in Wales ſhall be delivered. St. 27 H. 8. 26.

CAP. VII.

High ways in Suſſex ſhall be amended.

St. 14 H. 8. 6.

Where it is ordained and enacted by authority of Parliament heretofore holden at London the fifteenth day of April, in the fourteenth year of the Kings moſt noble Reign, and from thence adjourned to Weſtminſter the laſt day of July, the fifteenth year of his Reign, and there holden: in conſideration that many common ways in the Weld of Kent be ſo deep and noyous by wearing, and courſe of water, and other occaſions, that people cannot have their paſſages and carriages by horſes upon, or by the ſame, but to their great pains, perils, and jeopardy: that if any perſon or perſons from that time in any place within the ſaid weld of the ſaid County, of his good mind and diſpoſition, without any value of good by him or by them to be received for the ſame, will for the common weal of the Kings people, aſſign and lay out a more commodious way, in and over the lands thereunto adjoyning, whereof the perſon or perſons, or other to his uſe ſhall be ſeiſed of fee in eſtate of inheritance, that the ſame new way ſo to be aſſigned and laied out, by overſight and aſſent of two Juſtices of the Peace of the ſaid County, and twelve other diſcreet men within the ſame Hundred inhabiting, where any ſuch new way ſhall be limited and layed out, or inhabiting within the ſame Hundred and other Hundreds to the ſaid Hundred next adjoyning, ſhall be from thenceforth holden, occupied and uſed in like manner as the ſaid old way there now is or before hath been. And that alſo the ſame perſon or perſons ſo diſpoſed, willing and accompliſhing, ſhall and may for the ſaid new way ſo aſſigned and uſed, receive and hold in way of recompence for the ſame new way ſo to be given, the ſoil and ground of the old way in ſeveralty, to them, their heirs and aſſignes, to their own uſe and profit for ever, without any common way or paſſage there from thenceforth to be had or claimed, any preſcription or uſe to the contrary notwithſtanding, in like manner and form as is limited by the ſaid Act of a certain new way granted by the ſame Act to be made by George Gildford Squire, at Hempſtead in the ſaid Weld of Kent. And that the two ſaid Juſtices of Peace, and twelve other diſcreet men, by whoſe overſight and aſſent, the ſaid new way by vertue of the ſaid Act, ſhall be aſſigned, limited, and laid out, ſhall within three months next after the aſſignment, limitation, and laying out of the ſame, make certificate into the Kings moſt honourable Court of Chancery under their ſeals, of the length and breadth of the ſaid new way or ſtreet, and of other things adjoyning or concerning the ſame, as by their diſcretions ſhall be then thought moſt expedient or requiſite for the Commonwealth of that Country to be certified, and that certificate to be made from time to time, as oft as any ſuch new way or ſtreet ſhall be aſſigned, limited, and laid out in form above written.

Any perſon may lay out a new way in his own ground in the Weld of Kent, by the conſent of two Juſtices of Peace, &c. and keep ſeveral the old.

Certificate ſhall be made into the Chancery of the new way.

Provided alway, that if any perſon or perſons, or body politick, have or ought to have, or hereafter ſhall have any Church way, or other whatſoever way, or paſſage over or thorow any manner lands adjoyning to any of the ſaid old ways or ſtreets, which ſhall be taken and uſed by force of that act as ſeveral ſoil and freehold, in recompence for any new way to be made and laid out in form aforeſaid, or have or ought to have, or hereafter ſhall have any lands or tenements adjoyning to the old way, they and every of them, their heirs and ſucceſſors may have and uſe their ſaid way or ways, out of, and in the ſaid new way over and thorow the land of the ſaid old way or ſtreet, into or over the ſaid lands or tenements adjoyning to the ſame, and ſo to paſs and repaſs as ſhall appertain over the ſame old way, at ſuch convenient place or places thereof, as therefore ſhall be limited and aſſigned by the ſaid two Juſtices of Peace, and other twelve men, and by them to be certified in the Chancery, among other things by them to be certified in form aforeſaid, any thing in the ſaid act above written notwithſtanding, as by the ſame act manifeſtly appeareth.

They which have any way through the old way may uſe it.

And foraſmuch as in many places within the County of Suſſex, like Act for the alteration of common ways and ſtreets there being much annoyous, is much neceſſary and expedient for the common wealth and commodity of the Kings ſubjects of the ſaid County of Suſſex to be had and made. In conſideration whereof, be it ordained and enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Act above rehearſed and recited, ſhall and may from henceforth extend, take effect, and be put in execution in every place convenient, or neceſſary within the ſaid County of Suſſex, where ways and ſtreets be noyous to the Kings ſaid ſubjects of the ſame County of Suſſex, in like form and manner, and in all points and conditions, and with like promiſe to be had, done, and executed, as it is contained and expreſſed in the above recited Act concerning the change of the ways and ſtreets in the ſaid County of Kent, any preſcription, uſe, cuſtom, or other thing to the contrary being in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Statute of 14 H. 8. 6. touching altering ways in the Weld of Kent, ſhall be put in execution in the County of Suſſex.

CAP. VIII.

Void grounds in Norwich, by whom they muſt be re-edified.

Where by infortunate chance of fire, a great number of houſes of habitation within the City of Norwich, about ſix and twenty years paſt, were burned, and utterly conſumed, to the great heavineſs, diſcomfort, loſs, and hinderance of the inhabitants of the ſame City. By reaſon of which burning, divers and many void grounds, whereupon, before the ſame fire, good and ſubſtantial houſes of habitation were ſtanding, remaining now at this day unre-edified, and not onely unre-edified, but alſo to lie as deſolate and vacant grounds, many of them nigh adjoyning to the high ſtreets, repleniſhed with much uncleanneſs and filth, to the great annuzance of the ſaid inhabitants, and other the Kings ſubjects paſſing by the ſame: and to the intent that a reformation may be had in that behalf,

Be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual & Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, & by authority of the ſame, That if the owner or owners of ſuch vacant ground or grounds, ſo lying within the precinct of the ſaid City, within two years next after proclamation made by the commandment of the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, within and upon ſuch vacant ground and grounds of the tenour and effect of this preſent Act, do not ſufficiently re-edifie, or elſe with walls of morter and ſtone ſufficiently incloſe the ſame vacant ground or grounds whereupon ſuch proclamation ſhall be made, that then it ſhall be lawful to the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens, and Comminalty of the ſame City, and their ſucceſſors for the time being, immediately after the

The owners of void ground within Norwich ſhall re-edifie them, or incloſe them with walls within two years after Proclamation.

the ſaid two years expired, to enter into every ſuch ground and grounds ſo vacant, as is aforeſaid, whereupon ſuch proclamation, as is before remembred, ſhall be ſo made, and the ſame ground and grounds to hold and retain without interruption to them and their ſucceſſors for ever, clearly diſcharged of all rents, as well againſt the Lords of fees thereof, as of all other, ſo that always the ſame Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens, and Comminalty, or their ſucceſſors, do well and ſufficiently re-edifie, or elſe with walls of morter and ſtone, as is aforeſaid, ſufficiently do incloſe the ſame ground and grounds wherein they ſhall ſo enter, within two years next after ſuch entry by them to be made, as is aforeſaid.

The forfeiture of the Mayor, &c. if they do not re-edifie the ſame within two years.

And in caſe the ſame Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens, and Comminalty, or their ſucceſſors, do not ſufficiently re-edifie or incloſe, or cauſe to be re-edified or incloſed the ſame ground and grounds, in form aforeſaid, within the ſame term of two years next after they ſhall ſo enter into the ſame, that then it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid owner and owners of all ſuch ground and grounds, their heirs or ſucceſſors immediately after the ſame two years ſo expired, to re-enter into the ſame ground and grounds, and the ſame to retain and enjoy again to them, their heirs and ſucceſſors, as in their former eſtate and intereſt: any thing in this Act contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Where the chief Lord of the fee may enter.

Provided always, That if the owners of ſuch vacant ground or grounds, ſpecified in this Act, do not repair and amend the ſame, according to the tenour of this Act, within two years limited by this Act: that then it ſhall be lawful to the chief Lords, of whom ſuch vacant grounds been or ſhall be holden, to enter and to have the ſame grounds to them, their heirs and ſucceſſors for ever, ſo that every ſuch chief Lord do repair and amend the ſaid vacant grounds according to the tenour and effect of this Act, within one year next after that ſuch chief Lord may enter by authority of this Act. And if ſuch chief Lord as may enter by this Act, do not repair and amend the ſame vacant grounds within one year next after they may enter by this Act: that then for every ſuch default, the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens, and Comminalty ſhall lawfully enter into the ſaid grounds, according to the tenour, form, effect, and condition above expreſſed in this Act: any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The forfeiture of the chief Lord not repairing within one year.

CAP. IX.

By whom, and by what time void grounds in Linne ſhall be re-edified.

If the owners of decayed meſſuages in Linne do not repair them, or incloſe them within one year, then the chief Lord of the fee may enter.

HUmbly beſeech your good and gracious Highneſs, your obedient ſubjects, the Mayor and Burgeſſes of the Town of Linne Biſhop, in your County of Norfolk, that where at this preſent time, divers and many meſſuages, and tenements of old time builded within the ſaid Town, are, and by a long time have been in great decay and deſolation, whereby the floud and rage of the Sea, coming to the ſaid Town, and inſurging upon ſuch decayed tenements in times of tempeſt, doth fret and marvellouſly wear in divers places of the ſaid Town, to the great hurt and damage as well of the ſaid Town, as of divers perſons having grounds adjoyning to ſuch places ſo in decay, and that the owners of ſuch decayed grounds will not re-edifie and maintain the ſaid meſſuages and tenements ſo decayed, for the maintenance and defence of the water, and rage of the Sea, whereby the ſaid Town is likely to fall into more decay, ruine, and deſolation, if remedy therefore be not provided. In conſideration whereof, it may pleaſe your Highneſs, that it may be enacted by your Majeſty, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if the owner or owners of ſuch meſſuages and tenements ſo decayed, ſet, lying, or being within the precinct of the ſaid Town, within one year next after proclamation made by the commandment of the Mayor of the ſaid Town for the time being, within and upon ſuch decayed meſſuages or tenements, do not ſufficiently re-edifie, or elſe with walls of morter and ſtone ſufficiently incloſe the ſame meſſuages and tenements, and grounds to them belonging, ſo being in decay, for defence of the rage of the water: that then it ſhall be lawful for the chief Lords, of whom ſuch meſſuages or tenements ſo decayed ſhall be holden, to enter into the ſaid meſſuages and tenements ſo decayed, and the ſame hold, have, and retain to them and their heirs for ever: ſo that every ſuch Lord, which ſhall enter into any meſſuages or tenements ſo decayed, by authority of this Act, do ſufficiently re-edifie, or elſe with walls of morter and ſtone ſufficiently encloſe the ſaid meſſuages and tenements ſo decayed, in form as is abovesaid, within one year next after that ſuch chief Lord may enter into the ſame by authority of this Act.

And if ſuch chief Lord, which may enter by authority of this Act into the ſaid meſſuages or tenements decayed, do not re-edifie the ſaid meſſuages and tenements decayed, or elſe with walls of morter and ſtone ſufficiently encloſe the ſame, in form as is aforeſaid, within one year next after ſuch chief Lord might enter into the ſame by authority of this Act: that then it ſhall be lawful for the Mayor and Comminalty of the ſaid Town for every ſuch default to enter into any ſuch meſſuages or tenements ſo decayed, and the ſame to have and retain to them and their ſucceſſors for ever, without interruption, clearly diſcharged of all rents, as well againſt the Lords of fees thereof, as of all other.

If the chief Lord fail to repair them, the Mayor and Commonalty may do it.

So that alwaies the ſame Mayor and Comminalty, or their ſucceſſors, do well and ſufficiently re-edifie, or elſe with walls of morter and ſtone as is aforeſaid, ſufficiently do encloſe the ſame meſſuages and tenements, or grounds appertaining to the ſame, wherein they ſhall ſo enter by authority of this Act, within two years next after ſuch entry by them ſo to be made, as is aforeſaid. And in caſe the ſame Mayor & Comminalty, or their ſucceſſors, do not ſufficiently re-edifie or encloſe, or cauſe to be re-edified or incloſed, the ſame meſſuages and tenements, or grounds to the ſame belonging, in form aforeſaid, within the ſame term of two years next after they ſhall ſo enter into the ſame: that then it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid firſt owner and owners of all ſuch meſſuages, tenements, and grounds, their heirs or ſucceſſors, immediately after the ſame two years ſo expired, to enter into the ſame meſſuages, tenements, and grounds, and the ſame to retain and enjoy again to them, their heirs and ſucceſſors, as in their former eſtate and intereſt, Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Whoſoever dwelling in Wales or the Marches thereof, ſhall aſſault, beat, or hurt any perſon of the County of Glouceſter, Salop, or Hereford, and ſhall be indicted, and convict thereof, ſhall be one year impriſoned. Exp. Stat. 33 H. 8. 17.

CAP. XII.

Clerks convict in Wales ſhall find ſurety for the good abearing.

WHere the Parliament ſummoned and holden at London, the third day of November, in the one and twentieth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, and from thence adjourned unto Weſtminſter in the County of Middleſex, and after divers Prorogations, there alſo holden the fifteenth day of January, the three and twentieth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth;

It was enacted among other, That no perſon or perſons, which from thenceforth ſhould happen to be found guilty after the Laws of this Land, for any manner of petty treaſon, or for any wilful murder of malice prepenſed, or for robbing of any Churches, Chappels, or other holy places, or for robbing of any perſon or perſons in their dwelling houſes, or dwelling place, the owner or dweller in the ſame houſe, his, wife, his children, or ſervants then being within, and put in fear and dread by the ſame, and for robbing of any perſon or perſons, in or near about the high ways, or for wilful burning of any dwelling houſes or barns, wherein any grain of corns ſhould happen to be: nor any perſon or perſons being found guilty of any abetment, procurement, helping, maintaining, or counſelling of, or to any ſuch petty treaſons, murders, or felonies, ſhould from thenceforth be admitted to the benefit of his or their Clergy, but utterly be excluded thereof, and ſuffer death in ſuch manner and form, as they ſhould have done for any the cauſes or offences aboveſaid, if they were no Clerks (ſuch as be within holy Orders, that is to ſay, of the orders of Subdeacon or above, onely except.) And alſo it was then and there, by authority aforeſaid, further enacted, That every ſuch perſon and perſons within ſuch orders of Subdeacon or above, which at any time from thenceforth ſhould be found guilty of any petty treaſon, or of any murder of malice prepenſed, or of any of the felonies above rehearſed, or of any acceſſary to petty treaſon, wilful murder, or to any other the felonies above ſpecified, and admitted to his or their Clergy, and delivered to the Ordinary for the ſame, ſhould not in any wiſe from thenceforth be ſuffered to any purgation, nor be ſet at liberty, but remain and abide in perpetual priſon, under the keeping of the Ordinary to whom he ſhould be committed, and his ſucceſſors, without any manner of purgation, during the natural life of every ſuch convict: except onely ſuch perſon and perſons ſo being within ſuch holy Orders, and convict of, or for any of the offences aforeſaid, and delivered to the Ordinary for the ſame, do find two ſufficient ſureties by recogniſance before two of the Kings Juſtices of his Peace within the ſame Shire, where the petty treaſon, murder, or felony, whereof he was convicted, was committed or done, whereof one of them to be of the Quorum, that ſuch convict ſhall be of good abearing againſt the King our Sovereign Lord, his laws and ſubjects, every ſuch convict to be bounden in the ſum of fourty pounds, and every his ſureties in twenty pounds, and that no ſurety to be taken, unleſs ſuch as may diſpend in lands, tenements, or hereditaments, yearly above all charges of eſtate of inheritance of charter-hold, ſix and twenty ſhillings and eight pence, or elſe be worth twenty pounds in moveable ſubſtance, at the time of the taking of ſuch recognizance. And that two Juſtices of the Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum, by authority aforeſaid, have power and authority to take ſuch recognizance. And that the ſaid Juſtices, afore whom any ſuch recognizance ſhall be taken, ſhall certifie the ſame into the Kings Bench, within four moneths next after the making thereof, upon pain to loſe and forfeit an hundred ſhillings for every default thereof.

Stat. 23 H. 8. 1.

The benefit of Clergy taken from offendors in ſeveral felonies unleſs they be within holy Orders. Stat. 31 H. 8. 3. 1 Ed. 6. 12. 5 Ed. 6. 9. ALT. 28 H. 8. 1.

He within holy Orders which is convict of felony before his purgation ſhall find ſureties of his good abearing.

And foraſmuch as there be no Juſtices of Peace, ne, of the Quorum within Wales, nor in divers other places, Cities, Honours, Lordſhips, and Manors within the Kings Dominion, whereas a Lord Marcher, Steward, Lieutenant, Deputy, or other Officer of any ſuch place, City, Honour, Lordſhip, or Manor, have authority or power, by cuſtom or otherwiſe, to arraign afore him or them any ſuch perſon or perſons, being within ſuch holy Orders of Subdeacon or above, for committing or doing any of the ſaid petty treaſons, murders, felonies, or any other of the ſaid offences.

And if it happen the ſame perſon ſo being thereof arraigned to be found guilty, for to admit him to his Clergy, if he pray the ſame before Judgment, and further to do and execute againſt any ſuch offendor, being ſo arraigned before them, in like manner and form as Juſtices of the Gaol-delivery within the Shire-ground have uſed to do by vertue of the Kings Commiſſion unto them directed: by reaſon whereof, every ſuch perſon or perſons, within ſuch Orders of Subdeacon or above, being convict of any of the ſaid petit treaſons, murders, felonies, or any other the ſaid offences, before any Lord Marcher, Steward, Lieutenant, Deputy, or other Officer within Wales, or within any other place, City, Honour, Lordſhip, or Manor within the Kings Dominions, where no Juſtice of Peace be, and thereupon committed unto the Ordinary as Clerk convict, ſhall there remain during the natural life of any ſuch convict: The ſaid former Act and Statute notwithſtanding.

For that there be no Juſtices of the Peace, ne of the Quorum there, as the ſaid petty treaſon, murder, or felony, whereof he is ſo convicted, was committed and done, to take ſurety by recognizance for the good abearing of every ſuch convict, in manner and form, as in the ſaid former Act is rehearſed.

A remedy where there be no Juſtices of Peace in that County in Wales, where the Clerk convict doth remain in priſon.

Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That every ſuch perſon and perſons within ſuch Orders of Subdeacon or above, being convict of any petty treaſon, or of any murder of malice prepenſed, or of any of the ſaid felonies above rehearſed, or of any acceſſary to petty treaſon, wilful murder, or to any other the ſaid felonies above ſpecified, before any Lord Marcher, Steward, Lieutenant, Deputy, or other Juſtice or Officer within Wales, or within any other place, City, Town, Honour, Lordſhip, or Manor within the Kings Dominion, where no Juſtices of the Peace and of the Quorum be, and thereupon the ſame convict admitted unto his Clergy, that the ſame perſon or perſons ſo being within ſuch holy Orders, and convict before any ſuch Lord Marcher, Steward, Lieutenant, Deputy, or other Juſtice or Officer in Wales, or within any ſuch place, City, Town, Honour, Lordſhip, or Manor within any the Kings Dominion, where be no Juſtices of Peace, and of the Quorum, of or for any of the offences aforeſaid, and delivered unto the Ordinary as Clerk convict for the ſame, ſhall or may find two ſureties by recogniſance for his good abearing before two of the Kings Juſtices of the Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum, in the Shire where the ſaid convict is or ſhall be kept, in the Ordinaries priſon, if the ſame priſon be within the Shire-ground where Juſtices of the Peace and of the Quorum be, or elſe before two of the Kings Juſtices of the Peace, whereof the one to be of the Quorum, in the next Shire adjoyning unto the ſame priſon: and that the ſame two Juſtices of the Peace, whereof the one to be of the Quorum, to have power and authority to take ſuch recogniſance, and to certifie the ſame in like manner and form, and upon like pain as it ſhould or ought to have been done by vertue of the ſaid former Act, if the ſame petty treaſon, murder, felony, or other offence, of, or for which any ſuch convict was or ſhall be ſo convict and admitted unto his Clergy, as is aforeſaid, had been committed and done within the Shire-ground, where Juſtices of the Peace and of the Quorum be. Stat. 27 H. 8. 26.

CAP. XIII.

Co. Inſt. 4 p. 422

It ſhall be high Treaſon to wiſh or deſire by words or writing, or to imagine, invent, or attempt any bodily harm to be done to the King, the Queen, or their heirs apparent, or to deprive any of them of the dignity, ſtyle, or name of their Royal Eſtates; or to publiſh that the King is an Heretick, Schiſmatick, Infidel, or Uſurper; or to detain from the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, any of his or their Caſtles or Holds, or any of his or their Ships, or Munitions of War. Rep. 1 M. 1. Stat. 1 Ed. 6. 12.

No offendor in high Treaſon ſhall have the benefit of ſanctuary.

And to the intent that all Treaſons ſhould be the more dread, hated, and deteſted to be done by any perſon or perſons, and alſo becauſe it is a great boldneſs, and an occaſion to ill-diſpoſed perſons to adventure and embrace their malicious intents and enterpriſes, which all true ſubjects ought to ſtudy to eſchew, Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That none offendor in any kinds of high Treaſons, whatſoever they be, their aiders, conſentors, counſellors, nor abettors, ſhall be admitted to have the benefit or priviledge of any manner of Sanctuary, conſidering that matters of Treaſons toucheth ſo nigh both the ſurety of the King our Sovereign Lords Perſon, and his Heirs and Succeſſors.

Treaſon committed out of the Realm, ſhall be inquired of in ſuch County and before ſuch perſons as the King ſhall appoint by Commiſſion. St. 25 H. 8. 2.

And over that be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any of the Kings ſubjects, denizons or other, do commit or practiſe out of the limits of this Realm, in any outward parties, any ſuch offences, which by this Act are made, or heretofore have been made Treaſon, that then ſuch Treaſons whatſoever they be, or whereſoever they ſhall happen to be done or committed, ſhall be inquired and preſented by the oaths of twelve good and lawful men, upon good and probable evidence and witneſs, in ſuch Shire and County of this Realm, and before ſuch perſons as it ſhall pleaſe the Kings Highneſs to appoint by Commiſſion under his Great Seal, in like manner and form as Treaſons committed within this Realm have been uſed to be inquired of and preſented; and that upon every indictment and preſentment found and made of any ſuch Treaſons, and certified into the Kings [a] Bench, like proceſs and other circumſtance ſhall be there had and made againſt the offendors, as if the ſame Treaſons ſo preſented had been lawfully found to be done and committed within the limits of this Realm. And that all proceſs of outlawry hereafter to be had and made within this Realm, againſt any offendors in Treaſon, being reſiant, or inhabited out of the limits of this Realm, or in any of the parties beyond the Sea at the time of the outlawry pronounced againſt them, ſhall be as good and as effectual in the Law to all intents and purpoſes, as if ſuch offendors had [b] been reſident and dwelling within this Realm, at the time of ſuch proceſs awarded, and outlawry pronounced.

Proceſs of outlawry awarded againſt any Traitor remaining beyond the Sea. St. 5 Ed. 6. 11.

What an offendor in treaſon ſhall forfeit. Cok. pla. f. 422.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That every offendor and offendors, being hereafter lawfully convict of any manner of high Treaſons by preſentment, confeſſion, verdict, or proceſs of outlawry, according to the due courſe and cuſtom of the Common Laws of this Realm, ſhall loſe and forfeit to the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, all ſuch lands, tenements, and hereditaments which any ſuch offendor or offendors ſhall have of any eſtate of [c] inheritance in uſe or poſſeſſion, by any right, title, or means, within this Realm of England, or elſewhere within any of the Kings Dominions at the time of any ſuch Treaſon committed, or any time after. Saving to every perſon and perſons, their heirs and ſucceſſors (other then the offendors in any Treaſons, their heirs and ſucceſſors, and ſuch perſon and perſons as claim to any their uſes) all ſuch [d] rights, titles, intereſts, poſſeſſions, leaſes, rents, offices, and other profits which they ſhall have at the day of committing ſuch Treaſons, or at any time afore, in as large and ample manner, as if this Act had never been had nor made.

A ſaving of the right of others.

CAP. XIV.

By whom Suffragans ſhall be nominated and elected.

ALbeit that ſithen the beginning of this preſent Parliament, good and honourable Ordinances and Statutes have been made and eſtabliſhed for elections, preſentations, conſecrations, and inveſting of Archbiſhops and Biſhops of this Realm, and in all other the Kings Dominions, with all ceremonies appertaining unto the ſame, as by ſundry Statutes thereof made more at large is ſpecified: yet nevertheleſs no proviſion hitherto hath been made for Suffragans, which have been accuſtomed to be had within this Realm, for the more ſpeedy adminiſtration of the Sacraments, and other good, wholſome and devout things, and laudable ceremonies, to the increaſe of Gods honour, and for the commodity of good and devout people. Be it therefore enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Towns of Thetford, Ipſwich, Colcheſter, Dover, Gilford, Southampton, Taunton, Shaftsbury, Molton, Marlborough, Bedford, Leiceſter, Gloceſter, Shrewsbury, Briſtow, Penreth, Bridgwater, Nottingham, Grantham, Hull, Huntingdon, Cambridge, and the Towns of Pereth, and Barwick, S. Germains in Cornwal, and the Iſle of Wight, ſhall be taken and accepted for Sees of Biſhops Suffragans to be made in this Realm, and in Wales, and the Biſhops of ſuch Sees ſhall be called Suffragans of this Realm. And that every Archbiſhop and Biſhop of this Realm, and of Wales, and elſewhere within the Kings Dominions, being diſpoſed to have any Suffragan, ſhall and may at their liberties name and elect, that is to ſay, every of them for their peculiar Dioceſs, two honeſt and diſcreet ſpiritual perſons, being learned, and of good converſation, and thoſe two perſons ſo by them to be named, ſhall preſent to the Kings Highneſs by their writing under their ſeals, making humble requeſt to his Majeſty, to give to one ſuch of the ſaid two perſons as ſhall pleaſe his Majeſty, ſuch title, name, ſtile and dignity of Biſhop of ſuch of the Sees above ſpecified, as the Kings Highneſs ſhall think moſt convenient for the ſame. And that the Kings Majeſty, upon every ſuch preſentation ſhall have full power and authority to give to one of thoſe two perſons, ſo to his Highneſs to be preſented, the ſtile, title, and name of a Biſhop of ſuch of the Sees aforeſaid, as to his Majeſty ſhall be thought moſt convenient and expedient, ſo it be within the ſame Province whereof the Biſhop that doth name him is.

St. 25 H.8.20.

Sees for the Suffragans of Biſhops.

The Biſhop ſhall preſent to the King two perſons for his Suffragans.

The Kings allowance of a Suffragan.

And that every ſuch perſon, to whom the Kings Highneſs ſhall give any ſuch ſtile and title of any of the Sees afore named, ſhall be called Biſhop Suffragan of the ſame See whereunto he ſhall be named.

And after ſuch title, ſtile, and name ſo given, as is aforeſaid, the Kings Majeſty ſhall preſent every ſuch perſon by his Letters Patents under his great Seal, to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, if the Town whereof he hath his title, be within the Province of Canterbury, and likewiſe to the Archbiſhop of York, if the Town whereof he hath his title, be within the Province of York, ſignifying and declaring by the ſame Letters Patents, the name of the perſon preſented, and the ſtile and title of dignity of Biſhoprick whereunto he ſhall be nominated; requiring the ſame Archbiſhop to whom ſuch Letters Patents ſhall be directed, to conſecrate the ſaid perſon ſo nominate and preſented, to the ſame name, title, ſtile and dignity of Biſhop, that he ſhall be nominate and preſented unto; and to give him all ſuch conſecrations, benedictions, and ceremonies, as to the degree and office of a Biſhop Suffragan ſhall be requiſite.

The King preſenteth the Suffragan to the Archbiſhop

And be it alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all and every ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall be nominated, elected, preſented, and conſecrated, as is afore rehearſed, ſhall be taken, accepted and reputed, in all degrees and places, according to the ſtile, title, name and dignity that he ſhall be ſo preſented unto, and have ſuch capacity, power and authority, honour, preeminence and reputation, in as large and ample manner, in and concerning the execution of ſuch Commiſſion, as by any of the ſaid Archbiſhops or Biſhops within their Dioceſs ſhall be given to the ſaid Suffragans, as to Suffragans of this Realm heretofore hath been and accuſtomed.

Within what time after the Kings preſentation, the Archbiſhop ſhall conſecrate a Suffragan.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That every Archbiſhop of this Realm, to whom any the Kings Letters Patents, in the caſes afore rehearſed, ſhall be directed, having no lawful impediment, ſhall perform and accompliſh the effects and contents of this Act within the time of three moneths next after ſuch Letters Patents ſhall come to their hands, any uſage, cuſtoms, foreign laws, priviledges, preſcriptions, or other thing or things heretofore uſed, had, or done to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

Provided always, That no ſuch Suffragans, which ſhall be made and conſecrate by vertue and authority of this Act, ſhall take or perceive any manner of profits of the places and Sees whereof they ſhall be named, nor uſe, have, or execute any Juriſdiction or Epiſcopal power or authority within their ſaid Sees, nor within any Dioceſs or place of this Realm, or elſewhere within the Kings Dominions, but only ſuch profits, juriſdiction, power and authority as ſhall be licenſed and limited to them to take, do, and execute by any Archbiſhop or Biſhop of this Realm, within their Dioceſs to whom they ſhall be Suffragans, by their Commiſſion under their ſeals. And that every Archbiſhop and Biſhop of this Realm, for their own peculiar Dioceſs, may and ſhall give ſuch Commiſſion or Commiſſions to every ſuch Biſhop Suffragan as ſhall be ſo conſecrate by authority of this Act, as hath been accuſtomed for Suffragans heretofore to have, or elſe ſuch Commiſſion as by them ſhall be thought requiſite, reaſonable and convenient. And that no ſuch Suffragan ſhall uſe any Juriſdiction ordinary, or Epiſcopal power, otherwiſe, nor longer time then ſhall be limited by ſuch Commiſſion to him to be given, as is aforeſaid, under pain to incur into the pains, loſſes, forfeitures and penalties mentioned in the Statute of Proviſions, made in the ſixteenth year of King Richard the ſecond.

What authority and benefit Suffragans ſhall have in their Dioceſes

Provided always, That the Biſhop that ſhall nominate the Suffragan to the Kings

A ſuffragans reſidence over the dioceſs, ſhall be ſufficient for his benefice.

Highneſs, or the Suffragan himſelf that ſhall be nominate, ſhall provide two Biſhop or Suffragans to conſecrate him with the Archbiſhop, and ſhall bear their reaſonable coſts. Provided alſo, that the reſidence of him that ſhall be Suffragan over the Dioceſe where he ſhall have commiſſion, ſhall ſerve him for his reſidence as ſufficiently as if he were reſident upon any other his Benefice, any Act heretofore made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A ſuffragan may have two benefices with cure.

Be it further enacted, That all ſuch Suffragans as ſhall hereafter exerciſe the offices aforeſaid by the commiſſion, of the Biſhop, for the better maintenance of his dignity, may have two Benefices with cure, any former Act made to the contrary notwithſtanding. Rep. 1 & 2 P. & M. 8. Revived 1 El. 1.

CAP. XV.

What duties Spiritual men in Richmond in Yorkſhire ſhall take after the deceaſe of any perſon.

FOraſmuch as divers and many the King our Soveraign Lords ſubjects, inhabited within the Archdeaconry of Richmond in the County of York, be, and of long time have been ſore and grievouſly exacted and impoveriſhed by the Parſons, Vicars, and others, ſuch as have benefices and ſpiritual promotions within the ſame, as by taking of every perſon, when he dieth, in the name of a penſion, or of a portion, ſometime the ninth part of all his goods and cattels, and ſometime the third part, to the open and manifeſt impoveriſhing of moſt of all the Kings poor ſubjects inhabited and deceaſing within the ſame.

What duties ſpiritual perſons beneficed in the Archdeaconry of Richmond ſhall take after the deceaſe of any perſon.

Wherefore be it ordained, enacted, and eſtabliſhed by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from the Feaſt of Saint Mark the Evangeliſt next coming, no manner of ſpiritual perſon, or others now having, or that from the ſaid Feaſt ſhall have any manner of benefice, or other ſpiritual promotion within the ſaid Archdeaconry, ſhall in no wiſe ask, levy, demand, or take, after the deceaſe of any perſon or perſons, any ſuch portions or penſions, nor any other demand or duty in the name or lieu of the ſame, upon pain to incur ſuch dangers, forfeitures and penalties, as be contained in the Statute of Proviſors, made the five and twentieth year of the Reign of our moſt noble progenitor King Edward the Third: but that all and every the Kings ſubjects of the ſaid Archdeaconry, and their executors and adminiſtrators, from henceforth ſhall be ordered, intreated and uſed for their goods and cattels, after their deceaſe, in like manner, form, order, and condition, as is contained in the Statute made in the one and twentieth year of your moſt noble and victorious Reign, for probate of teſtaments, and none otherwiſe, any ſuch cuſtom, bull, compoſition, preſcription, or ordinance heretofore had, obtained, or uſed to the contrary, within the aforeſaid Archdeaconry, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. XVI.

How Worſteds are to be made in Norwich, Lynn, and Yarmouth.

St. 14 H. 8. 3.

The election of a Warden of Worſted-weavers in great Yarmouth.

WHere at a Parliament holden at London the fifteenth day of April, in the fourteenth year of the Reign of our Soveraign Lord the King that now is, and from thence adjourned to Weſtminſter, the laſt day of July, in the fifteenth year of our ſaid Soveraign Lord, and there ended: It was ordained, enacted and eſtabliſhed, That the craftſmen called Worſted-weavers inhabited in the Town of great Yarmouth, ſhould have power and authority by that Act from thence forward to elect and chooſe yearly for ever, on the Munday next after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt, one honeſt man of the myſtery and occupation of Worſted-weavers, being an houſholder within the ſaid Town of great Yarmouth, and having of his proper goods and cattels to yͤ value of ten pounds at yͤ leaſt, or lands and tenements to his own uſe of eſtate of freehold at the leaſt to the clear yearly value of twenty ſhillings, to be Warden of the ſame craft and myſtery of Worſted-weavers for the year next enſuing, which man ſo elected and choſen, ſhould perſonally appear before the Mayor of the City of Norwich for the time being, the Munday next after the Feaſt of Corpus Chriſti then next enſuing, then and there to be ſworn and charged by like Oath, concerning the true and ſubſtantial making of Worſteds, Says, and Stamins, within the ſaid Town of great Yarmouth, as the four Wardens of the ſaid City of Norwich, by vertue of an Act of Parliament made in the ſeventh year of King Edward the fourth, were charged and ſworn for the ſame City of Norwich. And if the ſaid Mayor happened to be abſent the ſaid Munday next after Corpus Chriſti, or elſe then refuſed to receive or take the ſaid Oath, then the ſaid Warden ſo elect, within four days next after the ſame Munday, ſhould come before the Bailiffs of the ſaid Town of great Yarmouth for the time being, or before one of them, the other being abſent, and then and there receive a corporal Oath for the true exerciſing of the ſame office of Wardenſhip, after the tenor of the Oath accuſtomedly uſed to be given to the ſaid Wardens of the ſaid City of Norwich. And then the ſaid Warden of the ſaid Town of great Yarmouth for the time being, ſo elected and ſworn, might ordain and appoint a ſeal with this letter Y, to be graven in the ſame ſeal, and might have full power and authority to view, ſearch, ſeiſe and ſeal in lead, with the ſame ſeal ſo to be appointed and engraven, and none other, all Worſteds, Says, and Stamins within the ſaid Town of Yarmouth, and ſuburbs of the ſame, made or to be made, and not elſewhere, in as large and ample manner as the ſaid Wardens of the ſaid City of Norwich, and the Wardens of the County of Norfolk, or any of them had within the ſaid City or County, or in any wiſe may do in that behalf, by authority or vertue of the afore-remembred Act made in the ſaid ſeventh year of King Edward the Fourth, any thing in the ſame contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. And that no perſon inhabited within the ſaid Town of great Yarmouth, or ſuburbs thereof, ſhould weave any Worſteds, Says, or Stamins within the ſame Town, except he be an Engliſhman born, and had been a Prentice to the ſame occupation, and without he weaved therein ſuch proper marks as ſhould be limited and appointed by the ſaid Warden of the ſaid Town for the time being, elect and ſworn as is aforeſaid, upon pain of forfeiture thereof to the King our Soveraign Lord. And that every Warden of the ſaid Town ſhould limit diſtinct and ſeveral marks to every of the ſaid Worſted-weavers of the ſame Town of great Yarmouth, and the ſame marks by the ſaid Warden to be regiſtred in a Book.

The election and oath of the Warden of Worſted-weavers in Linne and in Norfolk:

And it was further enacted, That if, and whenſoever the Town of Linne ſhould be inhabited with ten ſundry houſholders, or more number of houſholders, exerciſing and uſing the ſaid craft or myſtery of Worſted-weavers, then and from thenceforth, that is to ſay, as long as the ſame Town of Linn ſhould be inhabited with the number of ten ſuch houſholders at the leaſt, it ſhould be lawful to the ſame inhabitants of the ſaid Town of Linne, yearly on the Munday next after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt, to elect and chooſe of themſelves one Warden of the ſaid craft and myſtery of Worſted-weavers, to be of the value in lands and goods as is aforeſaid, of the Wardens of Yarmouth, which Warden ſo elect, ſhould yearly be ſworn and charged at the ſaid City of Norwich, in like manner, and at like day, as is before limited to the Wardens of Yarmouth; or in default of the ſaid Mayor of Norwich, then the ſaid Warden ſo to be elect for the ſaid Town of Linne, to take a corporal oath before the Mayor of the ſaid Town, within ſuch time, and after ſuch form as is before limited unto the ſaid Warden of Yarmouth.

And that the ſaid Warden for the ſaid Town of Linn for the time being, ſo elect and ſworn by himſelf, might ordain and appoint a ſeal with this letter L. to be graven in the ſeal, and might have full power and authority to view, ſearch, ſeiſe, and ſeal in lead with the ſame ſeal to be graven, and with none other, all Worſteds, Says, and Stamins, within the ſaid Town of Linne, and ſuburbs of the ſame, made or to be made, and not elſewhere, in as large and ample manner as the ſaid Warden of the ſaid City of Norwich, and Warden of the ſaid County of Norfolk, or any of them had within the ſaid City or County, or otherwiſe might do by the authority or vertue of the aforeſaid Act, made in the ſaid ſeventh year of King Edward the fourth, any thing contained in the ſame Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Who only may weave Worſted, &c. in Linne

And that no perſon inhabited within the ſaid Town of Linne, or ſuburbs thereof, ſhould make any Worſteds, Says, or Stamins within the ſame Town, except he were Engliſh born, and had been apprentice to the ſame occupation, and without he weaved therein ſuch proper mark as ſhould be limited and appointed by the ſaid Wardens of the ſame Town of Linne for the time being, upon pain of forfeiture therefore to the King our Soveraign Lord. And that every Warden of the ſaid Town, ſhould limit diſtinct and ſeveral marks to every of the ſaid Worſted-weavers of the ſame Town, and the ſame marks by the ſaid Warden to be regiſtred in a book.

Who ſhall ſearch and ſeal Worſteds at Linne, when there ſhall be no Wardens there.

And it was further Enacted, That from the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel then next following, unto ſuch time as the ſaid Town of Linne ſhould be inhabited with the ſaid number of ten houſholders of the ſaid craft of Worſted-weavers, and always after when the number of ten houſholders ſhould happen to fail and not be inhabited in yͤ ſaid Town of Linn, the ſaid Wardens of the ſaid City of Norwich, and their ſucceſſors, ſhould procure and cauſe one of themſelves, or one of the Wardens of the ſaid craft of the ſaid County of Norfolk, perſonally to come and be every xxviii. day from and after the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, in and to the ſaid Town of Linn, or within ſix days next after every ſuch eight and twentieth day, and there to continue and abide by ſo long time as he might ſearch and ſeal all ſuch Worſteds, Says, and Stamins, made in the ſame Town of Linne, as then ſhould be brought to him to be ſealed within the ſpace of one whole day. And the ſaid inhabitants of Worſted-weavers of the ſame Town of Linne being, ſhould content and pay to the ſaid Wardens of Norwich or Norfolk, which ſhould ſo come to Linne, in the ſaid xxviii. day, or within vi. days next after the xxviii. day, for his coſts and expences for every time that he ſhould ſo come to Linne, between the Feaſts of S. Michael the Archangel, and the annunciation of our Lady S. Mary, iii. s. and for every time that he ſhould ſo come to the ſaid Town of Linne, between the Feaſt of the Annunciation of our Lady, and the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, two ſhillings. And if the ſaid inhabitants of Worſted-weavers of the ſaid Town of Linne, did not content and pay to the ſaid Warden, coming to Linne, in form aforeſaid, for his ſaid coſts and charges, the ſaid three ſhillings or two ſhillings, as is above limited, then the ſame inhabitants ſhould forfeit and pay to the ſaid Warden, or to his executors for every ſuch default of payment xl. s. And if none of the ſaid Wardens of Norwich and Norfolk come to the ſaid Town of Linne for the cauſe aforeſaid, in manner and form above remembred, that the ſaid Wardens of the ſaid City of Norwich ſhould forfeit and pay to the ſaid inhabitants of Linne, of the ſaid myſtery of Worſted-weavers, for every ſuch default xl. s. for recompence of the penalties and forfeits, the ſaid Wardens of Norwich or Norfolk being thereunto entituled by that Act, by his proper name, with this addition, that is to ſay, Unius Gardianorum, or Nuper Unius Gardianorum, artis ſive myſterii textorum panni lanei vocat. Worſted in civitate Norwici, vel. com. Norf. as the truth requireth, ſhould and might have action of debt by writ, bill, or plaint, in any competent or lawful Court of this Realm, againſt the inhabitants of Linne of the ſaid myſtery for the time being, by their ſundry proper names, and the ſaid inhabitants by their ſaid names, with this addition, Textorum panni lanei vocat. Worſt. inhabitantes villæ de Linne, ſhould and might have like action of debt againſt the ſaid Wardens of Norwich, by the name of Gardiani artis ſive myſterii textorum pannorum laneorum vocat. And that the particular bodies, or goods of any of the ſaid Wardens or inhabitants, being condemned in any of the ſaid actions, ſhould and might be put in execution, after ſuch manner and form, as is uſed in an action of debt by courſe of the common Law of this Realm.

By what names the parties grieved ſhall uſe their actions.

Clothes marked by the Wardens ſhall not be marked again.

And moreover it was enacted, That all clothes of Worſteds, Says and Stamins, made within any of the ſaid Towns of Linne, and in great Yarmouth, or ſuburbs of the ſame, or any of them, and marked with ſuch marks as ſhould be limited to the markers, by the ſaid Wardens of the ſaid Town in manner and form as is aboveſaid, and viewed and ſealed by any of the ſaid Wardens of the ſaid Towns of Linne and Yarmouth, in form remembred, by force and vertue of the ſaid Act, might be lawfully put to ſale by the owners and makers of the ſame, without any other marking or ſealing upon the ſame clothes, or upon any of them to be had or made by any other Wardens dwelling or abiding without the ſaid Town, and without any arreſt, ſeiſure, or forfeiture to be had or made of or upon any of the ſaid clothes, for lack of any other ſeals or marks, any thing contained in the ſaid ſeventh year of King Edward the fourth to the contrary notwithſtanding.

What Apprentices the ſaid Worſted-weavers may have.

And over this it was enacted, That every Craftſman of the ſaid myſtery and occupation of Worſted-making, dwelling within any of the ſaid Towns of Linne and Yarmouth, and ſuburbs of the ſame, at their free wills and liberties from henceforth for ever, might have and take Apprentice or Apprentices, being male of the age of eighteen years, and upward, and being the Kings natural ſubjects, for term of ſeven years, and not under, ſo that none of them exceed the number of two at once, to learn, uſe, and exerciſe the ſaid craft within either of the ſaid two Towns of Linne and great Yarmouth, and ſuburbs of the ſame; albeit the father of the ſaid apprentice or apprentices might not expend in lands or tenements, to the yearly value of twenty ſhillings: any Act or Ordinance to the contrary made or to be made notwithſtanding.

This Act ſhall not be prejudicial to the Mayor of Norwich, or to the Wardens there.

Provided alway, that the ſame Act, or any thing therein contained ſhould not in any wiſe be hurtful or prejudicial to the Mayor of Norwich, or to his ſucceſſor, or to the Wardens of the ſaid City or County, or to their ſucceſſors, in any point, or article, power, or authority, other then for weaving, ſearching, and ſealing of Worſteds, Says, and Stamins, made or to be made only within yͤ ſaid Town of Linne or Yarmouth, or ſuburbs of yͤ ſame, or to any of them, and for limiting of marks to the markers of Worſteds, Says, and Stamins, only inhabited in either of the ſaid Towns or ſuburbs thereof, and taking of the apprentices in form above remembred: but that the Mayor of the ſaid City of Norwich, and Wardens of the ſame City and County, and every of them, might have and uſe all other points, articles, powers, and authorities contained and ſpecified in the above remembred Act, made in the ſaid vii. year of King Edward the fourth, as well for the ſearch, ſealing, correction, and reformation of the ſaid Wardens, newly to be elected by the vertue of the ſame Act, and every of them, according and after ſuch form as they might do or uſe any of the ſaid Wardens of the City, or County, by force of the ſaid Act, made in the ſaid ſeventh year of King Edward the fourth, as all and every other inquiries, corrections, ſearches, ſealings, and reformations to be had for the true making of Worſteds, Says, and Stamins, in and upon any perſon and perſons, as well within the ſaid Towns of Linne and Yarmouth, as without, without trouble, let, or vexation of any of the inhabitants of the ſaid Town, in as large and ample wiſe, as they might have done before the making of the ſaid Act; any thing contained in the ſame Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

None in Linne or Yarmouth ſhall ſhear, die, or colour Worſted, but in Norwich.

And alſo it was further provided and enacted, That the ſaid craftſmen of Worſted-weavers, inhabited, or after that to be inhabited within either of the ſaid Towns of Linne and Yarmouth, or ſuburbs of the ſame; and the Merchants or any other perſon or perſons, which ſhould happen to buy of the ſame craftſmen, or any of them, or any other perſon, any of the ſaid clothes of Worſteds, Says, or Stamins, made or to be made within either of the ſaid Towns of Linne and Yarmouth, and ſealed by the ſaid Wardens of the ſame Towns, to be elect and ſworn as is aforeſaid, and any of them, ſhould not ſhear, dye, or put in colour, or Kalender any Worſteds, Stamins, or Says, made, or after that to be made within either of the ſaid Towns of Linne and Yarmouth, and ſuburbs of the ſame, in any other place or places, but only within the ſaid City of Norwich, or ſuburbs of the ſame, upon pain of forfeiture of every piece of Worſted, Says, or Stamins, to be made within any of the ſaid Towns of Linne and Yarmouth, or ſuburbs of the ſame, or the value thereof ſhorn, died, coloured, or kalendred by any of the ſaid craftſmen, buyers, or merchants, in any other place or places, then in the ſaid City of Norwich, or ſuburbs of the ſame; the one half thereof to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half thereof to ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhould ſeiſe the ſame, ſo that the ſaid Worſteds brought to the ſaid City of Norwich to be ſhorn, died, coloured, and kalendred without covin or craft of any of the ſaid inhabitants and merchants, might be ſhorn, died, coloured, and kalendred at and by as convenient price or prices, and in as ready wiſe as the ſaid inhabitants of either of the ſaid Towns of Linne and Yarmouth, and merchants buyers of the ſaid Worſteds, or other of the ſaid City and County had had in times paſt, or after that ſhould have. And alſo that the ſame inhabitants and merchants, and every of them ſo bringing the ſaid Worſteds to the ſame City to be ſhorn, died, coloured, and kalendred, were reaſonably and lawfully entreated according to the ſaid Act, made the ſaid ſeventh year of King Edward the fourth, and the Ordinance made and affirmed, or hereafter to be made and affirmed for the ſaid myſtery, without let or diſturbance, contrary to the ſame Act or Ordinance in that behalf.

No Worſteds ſhall be carried beyond the ſea, before they be ſhorn, died, &c.

And it is further enacted, That no perſon or perſons, any time after that, ſhould convey or tranſport into any of the parts beyond the ſea, any manner of clothes of Worſteds, before the ſame clothes were ſhorn, died, coloured and kalendred, upon pain of forfeiture the value thereof: the one half to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half thereof to the party that will ſue therefore, by action, or plaint of debt, in any of the Kings Courts; in which action or ſuit, no protection or eſſoin ſhould be allowed, nor the defendant admitted to wage his law, as by the ſaid Act thereof made, more plainly appeareth: which Act was made to endure unto the next Parliament, whereby it is now expired. In conſideration whereof, and foraſmuch as the ſame Act is a good and neceſſary Act, for the true making of Worſteds, Says, and Stamins, and very commodious and profitable for the increaſe of the ſaid Towns of Yarmouth and Linne, Be it therefore enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, and the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, that the ſame Act, and every article, ſentence and proviſion therein contained, ſhall from henceforth be continued, and ſtand for ever in full ſtrength and vertue, 21 H.8.21.

The Stat. of 14 H.8.3. rehearſed and made perpetual.

CAP. XVII.

Fermors of ſpiritual perſons ſhall not pay any firſt-fruits of the Tenth granted to the King.

For certain reaſonable and urgent conſiderations moving the Kings moſt high Court of Parliament, It is ordained and enacted by authority of the ſame, That all and ſingular Fermors and Leſſees of any Manors, Lordſhips, Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments, Parſonages, Vicarages, portions of Tithes, or other whatſoever profits or commodities belonging to any Archbiſhop, Biſhop, or other Prelate or ſpiritual perſon or perſons, or ſpiritual body corporate or politick, whereof any firſt-fruits or yearly penſion of the tenth part is granted to the King our Soveraign Lord in this preſent Seſſion of the ſaid Court of Parliament, ſhall be diſcharged, and not chargeable to pay to our ſaid Soveraign Lord, of his or their proper money, coſt, or charge, for or in diſcharge of the leſſor or leſſors, owner or owners of the ſame, by reaſon of any covenant, bargain, bond, condition, clauſe of reentre, or other thing heretofore made or concluded, but that every of the ſaid leſſors and owners, and their ſucceſſors, ſhall be charged and chargeable to pay and ſatisfie the ſame, of his or their proper coſt and charge, to the King our Soveraign Lord, his heirs and ſucceſſors, according to the grant thereof: any covenant, bargain, contract, bond, condition, clauſe of reentry, or other thing heretofore made or concluded to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding. Exp. 1 El. 4.

Fermors of ſpiritual perſons ſhall not be compelled to pay firſt-fruits or tenths for their Leſſees. St, 26 H.8.3.

The Kings Pardon to all his Subjects, of all Felonies, treſpaſſes and offences, not excepted. Exp.

Anno viceſimo ſeptimo Henrici octavi.

Acts made in the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, holden upon prorogation at Weſtminſter the 4th day of February, in the ſeven and twentieth year of the Reign of our moſt dread Soveraign Lord King Henry the Eighth, and there continued and kept till the fourteenth day of April next enſuing, to the honour of God, and for the common weal and profit of this his Realm.

CAP. I.

A remedy for repair of decayed houſes and ground in Nottingham, Shrewsbury, Ludlow, Gloceſter, Bridgnorth, Quinborough, and Northampton, and the Precincts thereof.

Foraſmuch as divers and many houſes, meſſuages and tenements of habitations in the Town of Nottingham, Shrewsbury, Ludlow, Bridgnorth, Quinborow, Northampton, and Gloceſter, now are, and of long time have been in great ruine and decay, and ſpecially in the principal and chief ſtreets there being, in the which chief ſtreets in times paſſed have been beautiful dwelling houſes there, well inhabited, which at this day much part thereof is deſolate, and void grounds, with pits, cellars, and vaults, lying open and uncovered, very perillous for people to go by in the night, without jeopardy of life: which decays are to the great impoveriſhing and hinderance of the ſame Towns.

For the remedy whereof, it may pleaſe the King our Soveraign Lord, by the aſſent of his Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, it may be enacted, That if the owner or owners of any ſuch void and decayed houſes or grounds within the Precinct of the ſaid Towns of Nottingham, Shrewsbury, Ludlow, Gloucester, Bridgnorth, Quinborow, and Northampton, within three years next after Proclamation thereof to be made by the Mayor, Sheriffs, and Bayliffs of any of the ſaid Towns, by what name or names ſoever they be incorporated, in and upon any ſuch vacant or decayed houſes and grounds in any ſuch Towns, as is aforeſaid, and according to this Act, do not enter, and ſufficiently re-edifie, and build the ſame decayed houſes or void grounds: that then it ſhall be lawful to the Lord, of whom ſuch vacant grounds or decayed houſes been or ſhall be holden, to enter immediately after the ſaid three years expired, and to have the ſame grounds to them and their heirs and ſucceſſors for ever: So that the ſaid Lords do ſufficiently re-edifie, and build the ſame vacant or void grounds, wherein he or they may enter by this Act within three years next after and immediately following the determination of the former three years, in the which the owners ought to have entred, re-edified, and builded the ſame by vertue of this Act.

The owners of decayed houſes or grounds ſhall re-edifie them within three years.

The Lords of the fee may ſeiſe and repair them in default of the owner.

And if ſuch Lords as may enter by this Act, do not enter, and well and ſufficiently re-edifie and build the ſame void and decayed houſes and grounds in their ſaid three years to them limited by this Act, that then it ſhall be lawful to the Mayors, Sheriffs, Bayliffs, and comminalty of the ſaid Towns, by what name or names ſoever they be incorporated, and their ſucceſſors for the time being, immediately after the ſaid three years expired, to enter into every ſuch void or decayed grounds, or houſes, and the ſame grounds, or ground to hold and retain without interruption to them and their ſucceſſors for ever, clearly diſcharged of rents going out of the ſame, as well againſt the Lord or Lords, of whom ſuch ground or grounds be holden, as all other: ſo that always the ſame Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, or Comminalty, or their ſucceſſors for the time being, do well and ſufficiently re-edifie, and build the ſame ground or grounds, wherein they may ſo enter by this Act, within three years next and immediately following the determination of the former three years, in the which the aforeſaid Lords, of whom ſuch ground or grounds were holden, ſhould or ought to haue entred, re-edified, and builded the ſame.

The chief officers of the Towns may enter, ſeiſe, and repair them, if the chief Lords do not.

The firſt owner may re-enter, if the chief Officer do not re-edifie within three years.

And in caſe the ſaid Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, and Comminalty, or their ſucceſſors for the time being, do not enter, and ſufficiently re-edifie and build the ſame void or decayed houſes or grounds, in form aforeſaid, within the ſaid term of three years, according to this Act, That then it ſhall be lawful to the firſt owner and owners of ſuch decayed and void grounds, their heirs or ſucceſſors immediately after the ſame three years expired, into the ſame ground and grounds to re-enter, and them to retain to them, their heirs or ſucceſſors, as in their firſt eſtate, any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A proviſo for an infant, woman covert, any perſon in priſon, or beyond the ſea.

Provided always, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall be in any wiſe prejudicial or hurtful to any perſon or perſons, being at the time of the ſaid Proclamation made under the age of one and twenty years, or to any woman covert-baron, or any perſon or perſons being in priſon, or beyond the ſea in the Kings wars, or his other lawful affairs, during ſuch time as ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall be within age, covert-baron, in priſon, or beyond the ſea, ſo that the ſame perſon or perſons, after he or they be come to full age, or being not covert-baron, out of priſon, and come again within this Realm, within three years next enſuing do re-edifie the ſame houſes ſo decayed.

CAP. IV.

The trial and puniſhment for Pirates on the Sea.

The inconveniences of trial of piracy after the courſe of the Civil Law.

Before what perſons offences committed upon the ſea ſhall be enquired, heard, and determined.

Where Pirates, Thieves, Robbers, and Murderers upon the ſea, many times eſcape unpuniſhed, becauſe the trial of their offences hath heretofore been ordered before the Admiral, or his Lieutenant, or Commiſſary, after the courſe of the civil Laws, the nature whereof is, that before any judgment of death can be given againſt the offendors, either they muſt plainly confeſs their offence (which they will never do without torture or pains) or elſe theirs offences be ſo plain and directly proved by witneſs indifferent, ſuch as ſaw their offences committed, which cannot be gotten but by chance at few times, becauſe ſuch offendors commit their offences upon the ſea, and at many times murder and kill ſuch perſons being in the ſhip or boat where they commit their offences, which ſhould bear witneſs againſt them in that behalf: and alſo ſuch as bear witneſs be commonly mariners and ſhipmen, which for the moſt part cannot be gotten, ne had always ready to teſtifie ſuch offences, becauſe of their often voyages and paſſages in the ſeas, without long tarrying aud protraction of time, and great coſts and charges, as well of the Kings Highneſs as ſuch as would purſue ſuch offendors. For reformation whereof be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That all ſuch offences done in or upon the ſea, or in any other haven, river or creek, where the Admiral or admirals pretend to have juriſdiction, ſhall be inquired, tried, heard, and determined in ſuch Shires and places in this Realm, as ſhall be limited by the Kings Commiſſion to be directed for the ſame, in like form and condition, as if ſuch offences had been done upon the land. And that ſuch Commiſſions ſhall be had under the Kings great ſeal, directed to the Lord Admiral or Admirals, or to his or their Lieutenant, deputy, or deputies, and to three or four ſuch other ſubſtantial perſons as ſhall be named by the Lord Chancellor for the time being, as often as need ſhall require, to hear and determine ſuch offences after the common courſe of the Laws of the land, uſed for felonies done and committed within the Realm.

By what Jurors the ſame offences ſhall be enquired of.

The trial, judgment, and forfeiture of offendors in Piracy.

And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That ſuch perſons, to whom ſuch Commiſſions ſhall be directed, or three of them at the leaſt, ſhall have full power and authority to enquire of ſuch offences by the oaths of xii. good and lawful men inhabited in the Shire limited in their Commiſſion, in ſuch like manner and form, as if ſuch offendors had been committed upon the land within the ſame Shire: and that every indictment found and preſented before ſuch Commiſſioners of any felonies, robberies, murders, or manſlaughters done upon the ſeas, or in or upon any other haven, river, or creek, ſhall be good and effectual in the Law. And if any perſon or perſons happen to be indicted for any ſuch offence done, or hereafter to be done upon the ſeas, or in any other places above limited: that then ſuch order, proceſs, judgment and execution ſhall be uſed, had, done, and made to and againſt every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo being indicted, as againſt felons and murderers for murder or felony done upon the land, as by the Laws of the Realm is accuſtomed. And that the trial of ſuch offence, if it be denied by the offendors, ſhall be had by twelve men inhabited in the Shire limited within ſuch Commiſſion, which ſhall be directed as is aforeſaid, and no challenge to be had for the hundred. And ſuch as ſhall be convict of any ſuch offence by verdict, confeſſion, or proceſs, by authority of any ſuch Commiſſion ſhall have and ſuffer ſuch pains of death, loſſes of lands, goods and cattels, as if they had been convict of any felonies or murders done upon the lands.

Clergy ſhall not be allowed to Pirates.

And be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That for robberies, felonies, and murders done upon the ſeas, or in any other places above rehearſed, the offendors ſhall not be admitted to have the benefit of their Clergy, but be utterly excluded thereof, and alſo of the privilledge of any ſanctuary.

Things taken upon the ſea by neceſſity.

Provided alway, That this Act extend not to be prejudicial or hurtful to any perſon or perſons for taking any victuals, gables, ropes, anchors, or ſails which any ſuch perſon or perſons compelled by neceſſity, taketh of or in any other ſhip, which may conveniently ſpare the ſame: So that the ſame perſon or perſons pay out of hand for the ſame victual, gables, ropes, anchors, or ſails, money, or money-worth to the value of the thing ſo taken, or deliver for the ſame a ſufficient bill obligatory to be paid in form following, that is to ſay, if the taking of the ſame things be on this ſide the Straits of Marrok, then to be paid within four moneths. And if it be beyond the ſaid Straits of Marrok, then to be paid within twelve moneths next enſuing the making of ſuch bills: And that the makers of ſuch bills well and truly pay the ſame debt at the day to be limited within the ſaid bills.

Commiſſions directed into the five Ports.

Provided alway, That whenſoever any ſuch commiſſion for the puniſhment of the offences aforeſaid, ſhall be directed or ſent to any place within the juriſdiction of the five Ports, that then every ſuch commiſſion ſhall be directed unto the Lord, Warden of the ſame Ports for the time being, or to his deputy, and unto three or four ſuch other perſon or perſons, as the Lord Chancellor for the time being ſhall name and appoint: any thing in this preſent Act to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Provided alſo, That whenſoever any Commiſſion ſhall be directed into the five Ports for the inquiſition and trial of any of the offences expreſſed in this Act: that every ſuch inquiſition and trial to be had by vertue of ſuch commiſſion, ſhall be made and had by the inhabitants in the ſaid five Ports, or the members of the ſame: any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. CAP. V.

Who ſhall make Juſtices of Peace, &c. in Cheſter and Wales.

Co. Inſt. 4. part 211.

The lack of the execution of Juſtice the cauſe of diſorder.

The Kings Highneſs conſidering the manifold robberies, murders, thefts, treſpaſſes, riots, routs, embraceries, maintenances, oppreſſions, ruptures of his peace, and many other malefacts, which been daily practiſed, perpetrated, committed, and done within his Counties, and County Palatine of Cheſter and Flintſhire in Wales, adjoyning to the ſaid County of Cheſter, and alſo in his Counties of Anglice, otherwiſe called Angleſea, Cayernervan, and Mereoneth within his Principality of Northwales: And alſo in his Counties of Cardigan, Kayermerthen, Pembroke and Glamorgan in Southwales, by reaſon that common Juſtice hath not been indifferently miniſtred there, like and in ſuch form as it is in other places of this his Realm: By reaſon whereof the ſaid murders, robberies, thefts, treſpaſſes, and breaking of the peace have remained unpuniſhed, to the great animation of evil doers in the ſame Countreys. For redreſs and amputation whereof, and to the intent that one order of miniſtring of his laws ſhould be had, obſerved, and uſed in the ſame, as in other places of this Realm of England is had and uſed: It is ordained and enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, and the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That the Lord Chancellor of England, or the Lord Keeper of the great ſeal for the time being, from time to time, and at all times, ſhall have full power and authority by his diſcretion, to nominate and appoint Juſtices of Peace, Juſtices of the Quorum, and Juſtices of Gaol-delivery in the ſaid Counties of Cheſter, Flint, Angleſey, Kayernervan, Mereoneth, Cardigan, Kayermerthen, Pembroke, and Glamorgan, by Commiſſion under the Kings great ſeal, which ſhall have full power and authority to enquire, hear, and determine all manner thing and things inquirable, preſentable, or determinable before Juſtices of Peace, Juſtices of Quorum, and Juſtices of Gaol-delivery in other Shires of this Realm of England, by force or vertue of any Statute or Statutes made and to be made, or by the courſe of the common Laws of this Realm. And that the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, Juſtices of Quorum, and Juſtices of Gaol-delivery, ſo to be named and appointed by the ſaid Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the great Seal, and every of them ſhall have like power and authority within the ſaid Counties of Cheſter, Flint, Angleſey, Kayernarvan, Mereoneth, Cardigan, Kayermerthen, Pembroke, and Glamorgan, to do, uſe and execute every thing and things, as other Juſtices of Peace, Quorum, and Gaol-delivery, have within any other of the Shires of this Realm of England: And alſo ſhall be ſworn, aſtricted and obliged to the keeping of their Seſſions of the Peace, and to the due execution of all and ſingular Statutes and Ordinances made, and to be made in like manner and form, and under like pains and penalties, as Juſtices of Peace, Quorum, and Gaol-delivery, in other Shires of this Realm of England been and ſhall be bounden and obliged, any Act, Statute, Preſcription, Uſage, Cuſtom, Liberty, or Privilledge, had, made, accuſtomed, or uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Juſtices of Peace of Quorum, and of Gaol-delivery, ſhall be aſſigned in certain Shires in Wales, and their authority

Cheſter. Flint.

And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the extreats of the iſſues, fines, and amerciaments, taxed, ſet, loſt or forfeited by or before ſuch Juſtices of Peace, Quorum, and Gaol-delivery, in the ſaid Counties of Cheſter and Flint, ſhall be returned and certified into the Eſchequer of Cheſter before the Kings Chamberlain there.

Angleſey. Kayernarvan. Mereoneth.

And that the extreats of the iſſues, fines and amerciaments, taxed, ſet, loſt, or forfeited, by or before the Juſtices of Peace, Quorum, and Gaol-delivery, in the ſaid Counties of Angleſey, Kaernarvan, and Mereoneth, and every of them ſhall be returned and certified into the Kings Eſchequer at Kayernarvan, to, and before the Kings Chamberlain of Northwales.

Kaermerthen. Cardigan.

And that the extreats of the iſſues, fines and amerciaments, taxed, ſet, loſt, or forfeited, by or before the Juſtices of Peace, Quorum, and Gaol-delivery, in the ſaid Counties of Angleſey, Kayermerthen and Cardigan, and every of them ſhall be returned, and certified into the Kings Exchequer at Kayermerthen, to, and before ẏ Kings Chamberlain of South-wales.

Pembroke.

And that the extreats of the iſſues, fines and amerciaments, taxed, ſet, loſt, or forfeited, by or before the Juſtices of Peace, Quorum, and Gaol-delivery in the County of Pembroke, ſhall be returned and certified unto the Kings Exchequer at Pembroke.

Kardiff.

And that the extreats of the iſſues, fines, and amerciaments, taxed, ſet, loſt, or forfeited, by or before the Juſtices of Peace, Quorum, and Gaol-delivery in the ſaid County of Glamorgans ſhall be returned and certified into the Kings Exchequer at Caierdiff. And that the ſaid extreats of the ſaid iſſues, fines, and amerciaments, certified and returned into every of the foreſaid Eſchequers, ſhall be indented in ſuch like manner and form as is uſed in the Kings Eſchequer at Weſtminſter. And that the ſaid Juſtices of Peace and Quorum, or Gaol-delivery in every of the ſaid Shires, ſhall direct ſuch like proceſs, by extreats indented, within the extreats certified into the ſaid Eſchequers, to the Sheriff of every of the ſaid Counties, for the levying and gathering of the ſaid iſſues, fines, and amerciaments, in ſuch like manner and form as is uſed by the Juſtices of Peace, Quorum, and Gaol-delivery in every other of the Shires, within this Realm of England. And every Sheriff of every of the ſaid Shires ſhall make their accompts in every of the ſaid Eſchequers of and for the ſaid iſſues, fines, and amerciaments, upon the extreats to them directed, in manner and form as is uſed in the Kings Eſchequer at VVeſtminſter.

The Sheriffs accompts of iſſues, fines, amerciaments

The Juſtices and Clerk of the Peace allowances.

And it is enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, and Clerks of the Peace within the ſaid Counties of Cheſter, Flint, Angleſey, Kayernarvan, Merioneth, Cardigan, Keyermerthen, Pembroke, and Glamorgan, and every of them ſhall be paid, and allowed, of the ſaid iſſues, fines, and amerciaments, ſuch like fees, profits, and commodities, as other Juſtices of Peace, and Clerks of the Peace in other Shires of this Realm, have and ought to have.

Inferior Officers ſhall be attendant to the Juſtices.

And it is further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the Sheriff or his deputy, and all other his miniſters, in all and every of the ſaid Shires, and all Coroners, high-Conſtables, petty-Conſtables, and other Officers within every of the ſaid Shires, ſhall be obliged and bounden to be as well attendant unto the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, Quorum, and Gaol-delivery, in all and every thing and things concerning their authorities, as in executing and returning of all precepts and proceſſes to them directed by any of the ſaid Juſtices, in like manner and form, and under like pains and penalties, as all and every Sheriffs, Coroners, and other Officers be and ſhall be bounden and obliged by any Statute, or common Law in other Shires of this Realm of England: any Act, Statute, preſcription, uſage, cuſtom, liberty, or priviledge, had, accuſtomed, or uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. VI.

Order for increaſe of good horſes.

The cauſe of the decay of the breed of horſes.

THe King our Soveraign Lord continually ſtudying for the advancement, augmentation, and increaſe of the publick weal of this his Realm, calling to his moſt gracious memory, the great decay of the generation and breeding of good, and ſwift, and ſtrong horſes, which heretofore have been bred in this Realm, to the great defence, profit, and common commodity of the ſame; And now remembring that like breed of horſes is ſore diminiſhed and decayed, the occaſion whereof is thought to proceed, that in many and moſt places of this Realm, commonly little horſes and nags of ſmall ſtature and value, be ſuffered to depaſture, and alſo to cover mares and feſys of very ſmall ſtature, by reaſon whereof the breed of good and ſtrong horſes of this Realm is now lately diminiſhed, altered and decayed, and further is like to decay, if ſpeedy remedy be not ſooner provided in that behalf.

Owners and Farmers of Parks ſhall be charged to keep Mares.

The Kings Highneſs willing therefore to provide remedy in that behalf, by the advice of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, hath ordained, enacted and eſtabliſhed, That every perſon and perſons, as well ſpiritual as temporal, of what eſtate, degree or condition ſoever he or they be, which at this preſent time, or at any time hereafter, ſhall have any Park or Ground incloſed with hedge, ditch, wall, or pale, wherein any Deer is, or hereafter ſhall be uſually kept for game, containing the quantity of one mile in compaſs, and is, or ſhall be ſeiſed thereof in fee-ſimple, fee-tail, or for term of life, in poſſeſſion to his or their own profit and behalf, that every ſuch owner of every ſuch Park and ground, being in his own hand, and every fermer of every ſuch Park or ground, being let to ferm, from the firſt day of May, that ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, MDXXXVII. ſhall keep for every ſuch Park or ground, being incloſed as is aforeſaid, as long as the ſame Park or ground incloſed ſhall be uſed, and kept with Deer in the ſame for games, two Mares being not ſplaied, apt and able to bear foals, each of them of the altitude or height of xiii. handfuls at the leaſt, to be meaſured from the lower part of the hoof of the foot, unto the higheſt part of the ſhoulder, and every handful to contain iv. inches of the ſtandard, upon pain of forfeiture of xl. s. of every moneths lacking the ſame Mares contrary to this Act: and that every ſuch owner or farmer of Park or ground, whereof the compaſs is iv. miles and above, upon pain afore expreſſed, ſhall keep for every ſuch Park iv. Mares being not ſplaied, apt and able to bear foals, of the altitude or height of xiii. handfuls at the leaſt, to be meaſured as is aforeſaid.

Provided, That if it ſhall happen any of the ſaid Mares by miſchance, or caſualty for to die, that then the Lord, owner or owners of the ſaid Mares providing or buying others of like height and altitude, as is before limited within iii. moneths next after the death of the ſame Mares, ſhall not incur the danger and penalty of this eſtatute, any thing before rehearſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

And it is alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, that the Lords, owners, and farmers of all

Parks and grounds incloſed as is above rehearſed, limited and appointed by this Act to keep Mares, ſhall not at any time after the ſaid firſt day of May, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God MDXXXVII. willingly ſuffer any of the ſaid Mares to be covered and leapt with any ſtoned horſe under the ſtature of xiv. handful, to be meaſured in form afore rehearſed, upon pain of forfeiture of xl.s. The moyety of all ſuch forfeitures ſhall be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other moyety thereof to the party that will ſue for the ſame in any Court of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, by action, bill, plaint, or information, or otherwiſe, in which action or ſuit the defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his Law, or any eſſoin or protection ſhall be unto the defendant allowed in that behalf.

Mares ſhall not be covered with ſmall horſes.

Provided alway, That this Act extend not to charge the Lord, owner or owners of any Park or ground, incloſed within the Counties of Weſtmerland, Cumberland, Northumberland, and the Biſhoprick of Durham, nor any of them, to keep any Mares for any Park or Parks, ground or grounds incloſed, as is aforeſaid, lying in the ſaid Counties of Weſtmerland, Cumberland, Northumberland, and the Biſhoprick of Durham, or otherwiſe then they have or might have done before the making of this Act: nor alſo ſhall extend to charge the Lords, owner or owners of any Park or Parks, or grounds incloſed, with the finding of any Mares, the herbage of which Park or Parks is common to the Tenants and inhabitants of the Townſhips next adjoyning to the ſame Park or Parks, any thing in this preſent Act made to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

To which Counties this Statute extendeth not.

Provided alſo, That every ſpiritual perſon and perſons charged and chargeable by this Act with the finding of Mares, may lawfully bargain and ſell the increaſe and breed of their ſaid Mares, any Act or Acts heretofore made to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Spiritual perſons may ſell the increaſe of their Mares.

CAP. VII.

No exactions ſhall be taken in the Forreſts of Wales.

Where divers and many Forreſts be in Wales, and the Marches of the ſame, as well of the inheritance and poſſeſſions of our Soveraign Lord the King, as of divers others being Lords Marchers: within which Forreſts certain unreaſonable cuſtoms and exactions have been of long time unlawfully exacted and uſed, contrary both to the Law of God and man, to the expreſs wrong, and great impoveriſhing of divers of the Kings true ſubjects: the effect of which ſaid unlawful exactions and cuſtoms be hereafter declared, that is to wit, It hath been there unlawfully uſed, that if it fortuned any of the Kings ſubjects to paſs, go, or ride through or in any way or path of any of the ſaid Forreſts, not having upon him or them that ſo ſhall fortune to paſs, go, or ride, a token delivered to him or them by the chief Forreſters, rulers, walkers, or fermers, ẏ which token ſhall be well known amongſt all them that are walkers and rulers under him or them: Or that he or they that ſo ſhal fortune to paſs, go, or ride in, or throughout any of the ſaid Forreſts, be not yearly tributors or chenſers, then he or they ſo going, riding, or travelling, in, or throughout any of the ſaid Forreſts, having no token, nor being yearly tributors or chenſers, as is aforeſaid, have uſed to pay by unlawful exactions, unto the forreſters rulers, walkers, and fermers of the ſaid Forreſts, a grievous fine or reward. And if any perſon or perſons, not having ſuch token or tokens, and not being a yearly tributor, or a chenſer as is aforeſaid, ſhould happen to be taken, found, or eſpied by any of the ſaid foreſters, rulers, walkers, or fermers, or their aſſigns, by the ſpace of xxiv. foot out of the high-way, then he or they ſo being taken, found, or eſpied out of the high-way, within any of the ſaid Forreſts, as is aforeſaid, to forfeit and loſe unto the ſaid forreſters, rulers, walkers, or fermers, all ſuch money or gold, as ſhould be then found upon him or them, ſo being taken in any of the ſaid Forreſts, out of the high-way, as is aforeſaid.

A rehearſal of divers unlawful and unreaſonable cuſtoms that were in ſome Forreſts in Wales.

And alſo the ſame perſon or perſons ſo being taken or found out of the high-way, to forfeit and loſe a joynt of one of his or their hands, or elſe to make fine therefore with the ſaid Forreſters, rulers, walkers, and fermers, at the will and pleaſure of the ſaid rulers, walkers, or fermers.

And if alſo that it happen any beaſt or quick cattel to come, go or eſcape into any of the ſaid Forreſts by ſtray, or thief-ſtollen, or otherwiſe, the ſaid forreſters, rulers, walkers, or fermers, after knowledge to him or them given, have likewiſe unlawfully uſed to ſeiſe, and take the ſame beaſt or cattel, as his or their own, and mark them with the mark of their Forreſt there uſed, and ſo ſeiſed, marked, taken thence, retain them as cattel forfeited unto their own uſe, by reaſon whereof, the owner and owners of the ſame cattel have been clear without remedy for the having again of the ſaid cattel, except only by way of redemption, or buying again of their own cattel, contrary to all equity and conſcience. In conſideration whereof it may pleaſe the Kings Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons at this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, to enact, ordain and eſtabliſh, That from the Feaſt of the nativity of Saint John Baptiſt next coming, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, MDXXXVI. all the ſaid unlawful cuſtoms to be determined, void, and had for nought throughout all and every of the ſaid Forreſts within Wales, and the Marches of the ſame.

And that it ſhall be lawful from thenceforth to all and every of the Kings true ſubjects, and all other perſon or perſons being in league and amity with our Soveraign Lord the King, his heirs and ſucceſſors Kings of England, freely, quietly, and in peace to paſs and repaſs, travel and go into, and thoughout the ſaid Forreſts and every of them, both on horſeback and on foot, as well following and driving of cattel, as with carrying of wares, or otherwiſe, about their lawful buſineſs and affairs, without any fine or forfeiture, toll, cuſtom, exaction, or other impoſition, to be taken, exacted or demanded of them, or any of them by the ſaid forreſters, rulers, walkers, fermers, or their aſſigns. And if it ſhall chance or happen any of the ſaid forreſters, rulers, walkers, fermers, or their aſſigns, or any

All the Kings ſubjects and friends may paſs freely through all the Forreſts in Wales without payment of any unlawful exactions.

any of them at any time after the ſaid Feaſt of S. John Baptiſt, to take any peſon or perſons, being the Kings true ſubjects, or otherwiſe in league and amity with our ſaid Soveraign Lord, his heirs or ſucceſſors, Kings of England, as is aforeſaid, and exact and take of them, or any of them, any of the ſaid forfeitures, fines, tolls, cuſtoms and exactions as is above mentioned, and be thereof lawfully convicted, that then he or they ſo doing, and offending contrary to this Act, to incur and ſtand in the dangers of the Statute heretofore provided for robberies by the Kings high-way, and the ſame to be tried before the Juſtices of the Peace in the next Shire adjoynant, according to the Law of this Realm of England.

The penalty of ſuch which do take unlawful exactions.

Cattel ſtrayed being recovered within a year, ſhall be re-delivered to the owner.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any manner of beaſt or quick cattel of any of the Kings true ſubjects, or others of the Kings friends, at any time after the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt, do come into any the ſaid Forreſts by ſtrayes, thief-ſtollen, or otherwiſe, and there be marked and ſeiſed by any of the ſaid Forreſters, rulers, walkers, fermors, or their aſſigns, or any of them, and the owner and owners of the ſame cattel within one year and a day then next enſuing, chance to find the ſaid cattel ſo taken, and lawfully prove the ſame to be his or their own proper cattel, That then the ſame cattel to be re-delivered to the owner or owners thereof, according to the ancient Law of this Realm of England, the ſaid owner or owners reaſonably paying for the keeping of ſuch cattel after the rate of the time that ſuch cattel ſhall have been in the cuſtody and keeping of any ſuch Forreſters, Rulers, Walkers, and Farmers, or his or their aſſigns, in ſuch manner and form as heretofore hath been in like caſe uſed to be done by the Law of this Realm of eſtrayed cattel claimed and proved by the owners, within a year and a day next after the ſeiſing of the ſame cattel. And if any of the ſaid Forreſters, Rulers, Walkers, Farmers, or their aſſigns, or any of them do deny the re-deliverance of all ſuch cattel, by them or any of them ſo ſeiſed or marked within any of the ſaid Forreſts, after the owner or owners of them ſhall have duly and lawfully proved them to be his or their own proper goods and cattels, as is aforeſaid, that then every ſuch Forreſter, Ruler, Walker, Farmer, or their aſſigns ſo doing, and offending contrary to this Act, to forfeit and pay unto the party grieved, the double value of all ſuch cattel as ſhall be ſo taken and marked, and not delivered to the owner or owners as is aforeſaid. And that the party grieved may have his action of detinue at the common Law, of and for the ſame cattel, againſt every ſuch offendor or offendors, and the ſame to be tried in the next Shire adjoynant: in which action the defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his Law, nor eſſoin, nor protection ſhall be allowed for them: And like proceſs of outlawry to be had and made in the ſaid action of detinue, in the next Shire adjoynant againſt every Forreſter, Ruler, Walker, Farmer, or their aſſigns, ſo offending contrary to the tenor of this Act, as in an action of treſpaſs at the common Law of this Realm is uſed.

The penalty for detaining cattel ſtrayed.

CAP. VIII.

No ſpiritual perſon ſhall pay any tenth the ſame year they pay their firſt-fruits.

St. 26 H. 8. 3.

Where by a late Act made in this Parliament, for and concerning the grant made to the Kings Highneſs of the teuth of the yearly value of all ſpiritual poſſeſſions of this Realm, and of the firſt-fruits thereof, there appeareth by the words of the ſaid Act, that Prelates, and all other incumbents be charged to the payment of the tenth that ſhall be due to the Kings Highneſs, in and for the firſt year that they ſhall be elected, prefected, preſented, collated, or admitted to any degrees, benefices, or other promotions ſpiritual, and for the ſame firſt year ſhall alſo pay the whole firſt-fruits of their ſaid dignities, benefices, and promotions, which is a double charge. For reformation whereof, the Kings Highneſs for the entire and hearty love that his Grace beareth to the Prelates, and other incumbents chargeable to the payment of the ſaid tenth and firſt-fruits, of his excellent goodneſs is pleaſed and contented, that it be enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That whenſoever any perſon or perſons, from the firſt day of May, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, a thouſand five hundred thirty and ſix, ſhall be named, prefected, preſented, collated, or by any other means appointed to have any Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Priory, Colledge, Hoſpital, Archdeaconry, Deanry, Provoſtſhip, Prebend, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chauntry, Free-chappel, or other dignity, benefice, or promotion ſpiritual, by vertue whereof they ſhall be charged or chargeable, as well for the payment of the tenth of every of the ſaid Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Priory, Colledge, Hoſpital, Archdeaconry, Deanry, Provoſtſhip, Prebend, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chauntry, Free-chappel, or other dignity, benefice, or promotion ſpiritual, as with the payment of the firſt-fruits of the ſame, and every of the ſame, ſhall at his or their compoſition, agreement, or entry into ſpecialty, or ſpecialties, for the payment of the ſaid firſt-fruits, have allowance and deduction of the ſaid tenth part of the whole, out of the ſum to be paid for the ſaid firſt-fruits for the year, wherein he or they ſhall be firſt nominated, prefected, preſented, collated, or by any other means appointed, to have any of the ſaid dignities, benefices, offices, or other promotions ſpiritual, according to the juſt rate, taxation, and ſeſſment of the tenth of every of the ſaid Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Priory, Colledge, Hoſpital, Archdeaconry, Deanry, Provoſtſhip, Prebend, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chauntry, Free-chappel, or other dignity, benefice, office, or promotion ſpiritual within this Realm, or elſewhere within any of the Kings dominions, of what name, nature, or quality ſoever they be, or to whoſe foundation, patronage, or gift ſoever they belong, now being enrolled, or that hereafter ſhall be enrolled in the Kings Eſchequer, or in any other the Kings Courts of Record.

The tenth of each ſpiritual promotion ſhall be deducted to every Eccleſiaſtical perſon.

And be it further enacted, That every Commiſſioner or Commiſſioners, or other the Kings Officers or Miniſters, or any other perſon or perſons, which either by authority of any Act of Parliament, or by Commiſſion or Commiſſions, under the Kings great Seal, or otherwiſe by his Graces commandment, or by the commandment of ſuch as by his Highneſs ſhall be authorized for that purpoſe, be appointed, aſſigned, or deputed, or that hereafter ſhall be appointed, authoriſed, aſſigned, or deputed to compound, agree, and receive bonds, and ſpecialties to his Majeſties uſe, for payment of the ſaid firſt-fruits of every of the ſaid dignities, benefices, offices, or other promotions ſpiritual, ſhall and may by force of this Act, from the ſaid firſt day of May for ever forward, have authority to deduct and allow unto every ſuch perſon or perſons, as from the aforeſaid firſt day of May ſhall be nominated, prefected, preſented, collated, or by any other means appointed to have any of the ſaid Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Priory, Colledge, Hoſpital, Archdeaconry, Deanry, Provoſtſhip, Prebend, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chauntry, Free-chappel, or other dignity, benefice, office, or promotion ſpiritual, the tenth part of the whole as is aforeſaid, out of the ſame firſt-fruits for the year, wherein he or they ſhall be firſt nominated, prefected, preſented, collated, or by any other means appointed unto every of the ſame as is aforeſaid, without any further ſuit to be made to the Kings Highneſs, and without impoſition or exaction, or other charge to be in any wiſe demanded or exacted of the perſon or perſons ſo preferred, for the allowance unto them of the ſaid tenth, for the ſaid firſt year in form above expreſſed: any thing or things in the ſaid Act of the grant of the ſaid tenth and firſt-fruits to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Every perſon authorized to compound for firſt-fruits, may deduct the tenth part out of the firſt-fruits.

And it is alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons, that upon his or their compoſition and agreement for the firſt-fruits, ſhall be defalked and allowed the tenth part of the whole ſum of his or their dignities, benefices, offices, or promotions ſpiritual, for the year wherein he or they ſhall be firſt nominated, prefected, preſented, collated, or by any other means appointed unto any of the ſame, as is aboveſaid, ſhall yield and pay the ſaid tenth part unto the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, the ſaid firſt year, in like manner and form, and at ſuch day as is limited in the ſaid Act of the grant of the ſaid tenth and firſt-fruits: any thing contained in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

He that hath his tenth deducted out of the firſt-fruits, ſhall pay it to the King.

Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in ſuch caſes where the ſucceſſor of any incumbent ſhall be chargeable to the payment of ſuch ſums of money as ſhall be due of and for the ſaid tenth, that ſhall happen to be behind unpaid in the time or life of his predeceſſor, there every ſuch ſucceſſor may lawfully diſtrain ſuch goods and cattels of his predeceſſor, as ſhall happen to be and remain in and upon the dignity, benefice, or promotion ſpiritual, of the which the ſame tenth was behind and unpaid in the life or time of his predeceſſor, and retain the ſame goods and cattels, till ſuch time as the ſaid predeceſſor, if he be alive, and if he be dead, then his executors or adminiſtrators, or ſuch other to whom his goods or cattels ſhould appertain, have fully ſatisfied and paid ſuch ſums of money as ſhall happen to be behind and unpaid of the ſaid tenth. And in caſe the ſaid predeceſſor, his executors, adminiſtrators, or ſuch other to whom his goods or cattels ſhould appertain, within twelve days next after the diſtreſs thereof, do not ſatisfie the ſaid ſums of money, being behind of the ſaid tenth, as is aforeſaid; that then for ſuch default of payment, it ſhall be lawful to every ſuch ſucceſſor, to cauſe the ſaid goods and cattels ſo diſtrained, to be praiſed by two or three indifferent perſons to be ſworn for the ſame: And according to the ſame appraiſing, to ſell ſo much thereof as ſhall amount as well to the full ſatisfaction of the ſaid ſums of money being behind and unpaid of the ſaid tenth in the life or time of his predeceſſor, as for the reaſonable coſts that ſhall be ſpent by the occaſion of diſtraining and appraiſing of the ſame goods and cattels. And in caſe no ſufficient goods and cattels may be found in or upon ſuch dignities, benefices, or promotions ſpiritual, for the ſatisfaction of the ſaid tenth being behind unpaid, as is aboveſaid, that then the predeceſſors by whom ſuch tenth was due to be paid, if he be alive, and if he be dead, then his executors, adminiſtrators, and other to whom his goods and cattels ſhall appertain or belong, ſhall be compelled to the payment of the ſaid tenth being behind and unpaid, as is aforeſaid, by bill to be purſued in the Kings Chancery by the ſucceſſor that ſhall be chargeable for the ſame, or elſe by action or plaint of debt to be taken or commenced by ſuch ſucceſſor, by order of the Common Laws. 1 Eliz. 4.

What remedy the ſucceſſor ſhall have, which is compelled to pay the tenth for his predeceſſor.

A woman ſhall be endowed whoſe joynter is recovered.

Pꝛovided alway, That if any ſuch woman be lawfully expulſed oꝛ evicted from her ſaid joynter, oꝛ from any part thereof, without any fraud oꝛ covin, by lawful entry, action, oꝛ by diſcontinuance of her husband: then every ſuch woman ſhall be endowed of as much of the reſidue of her husbands tenements oꝛ hereditaments, whereof ſhe was befoꝛe dowable, as the ſame lands and tenements ſo evicted and expulſed ſhall amount oꝛ extend unto.

Women heretofoꝛe married.

Pꝛovided alſo, That this Act, noꝛ any thing therein contained oꝛ expꝛeſſed, extend, oꝛ be in any wiſe hurtful oꝛ pꝛejudicial to any woman oꝛ women heretofoꝛe being married, of, foꝛ, oꝛ concerning ſuch right, title, uſe, intereſt oꝛ poſſeſſion, as they oꝛ any of them have, claim, oꝛ pꝛetend to have foꝛ her oꝛ their joynter oꝛ dower of, in, oꝛ to any manoꝛs, lands, tenements, oꝛ other hereditaments of any of their late husbands, being now dead oꝛ deceaſed, any thing contained in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A joynter made after marriage, may be taken oꝛ refuſed by the wife.

Pꝛovided alſo, That if any wife have, oꝛ hereafter ſhall have any manoꝛs, lands, tenements, oꝛ hereditaments, unto her given oꝛ aſſured after marriage, foꝛ term of her life, oꝛ otherwiſe in joynter, except the ſame aſſurance be to her made by Act of Parliament, and the ſaid wife after that foꝛtune to over-live the ſame her husband, in whoſe time the ſaid joynter was made oꝛ aſſured unto her; that then the ſame wife ſo over-living, ſhall and may at her liberty after the death of her ſaid husband, [c] refuſe to have and take the lands and tenements ſo to her given, appointed, oꝛ aſſured during the coverture, foꝛ term of her life, oꝛ otherwiſe in joynter, except the ſame aſſurance be to her made by Act of Parliament, as is afoꝛeſaid, & thereupon to have, ask, demand and take her dower by writ of dower, oꝛ otherwiſe, accoꝛding to the common Law, of, and in all ſuch lands, tenements and hereditaments, as her husband was and ſtood ſeiſed of any ſtate of inheritance at any time during the coverture, any thing contained in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

c Dyer f.318. Cok.13.f.27.

This ſtatute ſhall extinguiſh no ſtatute oꝛ recogniſance, &c.

Pꝛovided alſo, That this pꝛeſent Act, noꝛ any thing therein contained, extend, noꝛ be at any time hereafter inteꝛpꝛeted, expounded oꝛ taken to extinct, releaſe, diſcharge oꝛ ſuſpend any Statute, recogniſances, oꝛ other bond, by the execution of any eſtate, of, oꝛ in any lands, tenements, oꝛ hereditaments, by the authoꝛity of this Act, to any perſon oꝛ perſons, oꝛ bodies politick; any thing contained in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Wills made befoꝛe the ſtatute, oꝛ ſhoꝛtly after, how they ſhall be taken.

And foꝛaſmuch as great ambiguities and doubts may ariſe of the validity and invalidity of Wills heretofoꝛe made of any lands, tenements and hereditaments, to the great trouble of the Kings ſubjects: the Kings moſt Royal Majeſty, minding the tranquility and reſt of his loving ſubjects, of his moſt excellent and accuſtomed goodneſs is pleaſed and contented, that it be enacted by the authoꝛity of this pꝛeſent Parliament, That all manner true and juſt Wills and Teſtaments heretofoꝛe [d] made by any perſon oꝛ perſons deceaſed, oꝛ that ſhall deceaſe befoꝛe the firſt day of May, that ſhall be in the year oꝛ our Loꝛd God, MDXXXVI. of any lands, tenements, oꝛ other hereditaments, ſhall be taken and accepted good and effectual in the Law, after ſuch faſhion, manner and foꝛm as they were commonly taken and uſed at any time within xl. years next afoꝛe the making of this Act; any thing contained in this Act, oꝛ in the Pꝛeamble thereof, oꝛ any opinion of the common Law to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

d Dyer f.143.

How fines foꝛ alienation, reliefs, and harriots ſhall be paid to the King.

Pꝛovided always, That the Kings Highneſs ſhall not have, demand, oꝛ take any advantage oꝛ pꝛofit, foꝛ, oꝛ by occaſion of the executing of any eſtate, only by authoꝛity of this Act, to any perſon oꝛ perſons, oꝛ bodies politick, which now have, oꝛ on this ſide the ſaid firſt day of May, which ſhall be in the year of our Loꝛd God, MDXXXVI. ſhall have any uſe oꝛ uſes, truſts oꝛ confidences in any manoꝛs, lands, tenements oꝛ hereditaments holden of the Kings Highneſs, by reaſon of pꝛimer ſeiſin, [e] livery, Ouſter le maine, fine foꝛ alienation, relief oꝛ harriot: but that fines foꝛ alienations, reliefs and harriots ſhall be paid to the Kings Highneſs, and alſo liveries, and Ouſter le maines ſhall be ſued foꝛ uſes, truſts and confidences to be made and executed in poſſeſſion by authoꝛity of this Act, after and from the ſaid firſt day of May, of lands and tenements, and other hereditaments holden of the King in ſuch like manner and foꝛm, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as hath heretofoꝛe been uſed oꝛ accuſtomed by the oꝛder of the Laws of this Realm.

e Co.l.6.f.28.

Other lands, fines, reliefs, and harriots.

Provided alſo, That no other perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, of whom any lands, tenements or hereditaments be or hereafter ſhall be holden mediate or immediate, ſhall in any wiſe demand or take any fine, relief, or harriot, for or by occaſion of the executing of any eſtate by the anthority of this Act to any perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, before the ſaid firſt day of May, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, MDXXXVI.

Ceſtuy que uſe may take all ſuch advantages as his Feoffees might have had.

And be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular perſon and perſons, and bodies politick, which at any time on this ſide the ſaid firſt day of May, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God 1536. ſhall have any eſtate unto them executed of and in any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, by the anthority of this Act, ſhall and may have and take the ſame or like advantage, benefit, voucher, aid, prayer, remedy, commodity and profit by action, entry, condition, or otherwiſe, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as the perſon or perſons ſeiſed to their uſe, of, or in any ſuch lands, tenements, or hereditaments ſo executed, had, ſhould, might, or ought to have had at the time of the execution of the eſtate thereof, by the authority of this Act, againſt any other perſon or perſons, of or for any waſt, diſſeiſon, treſpaſs, condition broken, or any other offence, cauſe or thing concerning or touching the ſaid lands or tenements ſo executed by the authority of this Act.

Actions now depending.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That actions now depending againſt any perſon or perſons ſeiſed of or in any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, to any uſe, truſt or confidence, ſhall not abate, ne be diſcharged for or by reaſon of executing of any eſtate thereof by authority of this Act, before the ſaid firſt day of May, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God 1536. any thing contained in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Wardſhips, liveries, or Ouſter le main of any now being within age, or of full age,

Provided alſo, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not be prejudicial to the Kings Highneſs for wardſhips of Heirs now being within age, nor for liveries, or for Ouſter le mains, to be ſued by any perſon or perſons now being within age, or of full age, of any lands or tenements unto the ſame heir or heirs now already deſcended: any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Recogniſances taken to the Kings uſe concerning recoveries.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular Recogniſances heretofore knowledged, taken or made to the Kings uſe, for or concerning any recoveries of any lands, tenements or hereditaments heretofore uſed or had, by writ or writs of entry upon diſſeiſon in le poſt, ſhall from henceforth be utterly void and of none effect to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes.

Eſtates of lands executed to perſons born in Wales.

Provided alſo, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, be in any wiſe prejudical or hurtful to any perſon or perſons born in Wales, or the marches of the ſame, which ſhall have any eſtate to them executed by authority of this Act in any lands, tenements, or other hereditaments within this Realm, whereof any other perſon or perſons now ſtand, or be ſeiſed to the uſe of any ſuch perſon or perſons born in VVales, or the marches of the ſame: but that the ſame perſon or perſons born in VVales, or the marches of the ſame, ſhall or may lawfully have, retain and keep the ſame lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, whereof eſtate ſhall be ſo unto them executed by the authority of this Act, according to the tenor of the ſame: any thing in this Act contained, or any other Act or proviſion heretofore had or made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. XI.

The courſe of ſuing forth Gifts and Grants made under the Kings Sign Manual, and the Clerk of the Signets fees.

Co. Inſt. 4 p. 55.

The Kings grants ſhall be brought to the Secretary or Clerk of the Signet.

WHereas the Kings Clerks of his Graces Signet and Privy Seal, giving their daily attendances for the paſſing and writing of his Maieſties great and weighty affairs, and the cauſes of this his Realm, have for their entertainment aud their Clerks, no fees nor wages certain for thoſe Offices, other then ſuch fees as cometh and groweth of the ſaid Signet and Privy Seal: To the intent that from henceforth they ſhould not by any manner of means be defeated of any part or portion of the ſame their fees, Be it therefore ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted by the conſent and aſſent of the Lord ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That all and every gift, grant, and other writing, which ſhall be made or given in writing by the Kings Highneſs, or any his moſt noble poſterity, to any perſon or perſons, ſigned with his Graces Sign, or the Sign or Signs Manual of any of them, to be paſſed under any his Graces Great Seals of England, Ireland, Dutchy of Lancaſter, or any of his Highneſs Counties Palatines, or Principality of VVales, or by other proceſs out of the Exchequer, after the xv. day of April, in the xxvii. year of his moſt noble reign, & that all & every gifts, grants, and other writings, of what name or names, qualitie or qualities ſoever the ſame be, or hereafter ſhall be named, deemed, or called, which the Maſter of the Kings Wards, or general Surveyors of the Kings lands for the time being, or any other Officer or Officers that now be or hereafter ſhall be made, ſhall by vertue of any Act of Parliament, or any the Kings grants to them or any of them made, or hereafter to be [a] made in that behalf, give, grant or make, after the aforeſaid xv. day of April, to any perſon or perſons in the Kings name to be paſſed under any his Majeſties Seals, be in any wiſe firſt and before the ſame grant or any of them, be paſſed under any the Kings ſaid Seals, or other proceſs made of the ſame, brought and delivered to the Kings principal Secretary, or to one of the Kings Clerks of his Graces Signet for the time being, to be at the ſaid Office of the Signet paſſed accordingly.

[a] Co.l.8.ii

A warrant by the Clerk of ÿ ſignet to the Lord Keeper of the privy ſeal.

And be it alſo ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That one of the Clerks of the ſaid Signet, to whom any the ſaid writings ſigned with the Kings moſt gracious hand, or the hand of any other aforeſaid, or any of them, fortune to be delivered, may and ſhall by warrant of the ſame bills, and every of them within the ſpace of viii. days next after he ſhall have received the ſame, unleſs he have knowledge by the ſaid Secretary, or otherwiſe of the Kings pleaſure to the contrary make, or cauſe to be made in the Kings name, letters of warrant, ſubſcribed with the hand of the ſame Clerk, and ſealed with the Kings Signet, to the Lord Keeper of the Kings Privy Seal, for further proceſs to be had in that behalf. And that one of the Kings Clerks of the ſaid Privy Seal, upon due examination had by the ſaid Lord Keeper of the ſaid Privy Seal, of the ſaid warrant to him addreſſed from the Office of the ſaid Signet as afore, may and ſhall within the ſpace of viii. days next after he ſhall have received the ſame, unleſs the Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal do give them commandment to the contrary, make or cauſe to be made by warrant of the foreſaid warrant to the ſaid Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal, addreſs from the office of the Signet aforeſaid, other letters of like warranty, ſubſcribed with the name of the ſame Clerk of the Privy Seal, to the Lord Chancellor of England, Lord Keeper of the Great Seal, Chancellor of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, Chancellor of the Kings land of Ireland, Treaſurer and Chamberlains of the Exchequer, and Chamberlains of any of his Counties Palatines, or Principality of Wales, or other officer, and to every of them, for the writing and enſealing with ſuch Seals as remain in their cuſtody, of Letters Patent or cloſed, or other proceſs making, due and requiſite to be had or made upon any the ſaid grants, according to the tenor of the warrant to them or any of them directed from the Officer of the Privy Seal, as is afore ſpecified.

A warrant from the privy ſeal to the great ſeal, &c.

And alſo be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner Clerk or Clerks, or other perſon or perſons, do write, or make any manner writing, warrant or warrants, upon any manner gift or grant made by the Kings Highneſs, or by any other his Graces officers, as aforeſaid, or procure the ſame or any of the ſame to be paſſed under any the Seals aforeſaid, after any other ſort, manner or faſhion, or by any other warrant or warrants, then as before is ſpecified and declared, upon pain to forfeit for every bill, warrant or writing paſſed contrary to the order before limited and preſcribed, the ſum of x.li. ſterling, the one half thereof to be to our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other half to him that ſhall firſt ſue for the ſame by action of debt, writ, bill, plaint, or information, in any the Kings Courts; in which action or ſuit, no eſſoin, protection, proviſion, priviledge, nor wager of Law ſhall be admitted, any manner Act, Statute, Proviſion, Proclamation, or other Ordinance heretofore had or made, contrary to this preſent Act, or any article of the ſame, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The penalty for altering of the courſe aforeſaid.

And nevertheleſs be it alſo enacted, That every of the ſaid Clerks, or other perſon, which ſhall paſs in writing, or procure to be paſſed in writing, any grant or grants by immediate warrant, wherefore fees be paid at the Great Seal, ſhall of the parties receive for the offices of the ſaid Signet and Privy Seal, as well ſuch fees as in this Act is taxed for writing of any ſuch grant, or other writings, as alſo the fees for the ſeal of the ſame, which fees, and every part and portion thereof, the ſame Clerk or Clerks, by whom any grant ſhall paſs in writing by immediate warrant, ſhall upon a bill of the hand of one of the ſaid Clerks of the ſaid Signet or Privy Seal, deliver unto one of the ſame Clerks of the Signet or Privy Seal, within the ſpace of three months, next and immediatly enſuing after the paſſing and ſealing of the ſaid grant or grants by immediate warrant, upon pain of x.li. ſterling, to be by every ſuch of the ſaid Clerks or other perſon as ſhall offend, forfeited, to be levied in form aforeſaid, as often as he or they ſhall offend contrary to the meaning of this Act.

Fees for writing which paſs by immediate warrant.

Provided alſo, That this Act, or any thing contained in the ſame, be not in any wiſe prejudicial to the Lord Treaſurer of England for the time being, concerning ſuch warrants or precepts as he by vertue of his Office ſhall and may direct immediately to the Lord Chancellor of England, or to any other perſon, for making out of the Kings grants, or Letters Patents, to any perſon or perſons, of any offices, farmers of lands or tenements, or of any other thing belonging to his nomination and diſpoſition: but that as well he may direct his ſaid warrants or precepts for the cauſes abovesaid, as alſo his Clerk or Clerks, or other perſon may procure the ſame to be ſealed under any of the Clerks aforeſaid, without any warrant to be before or after ſued or obtained under the Kings Signet or Privy Seal for the ſame, in as large and ample manner, and after ſuch ſort and faſhion as he or they might have done at any time before the making of this Act, any thing in the ſame Act mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

This Act ſhall not prejudice the Lord Treaſurer for directing of warrants to the great ſeal.

Provided alſo, That all and every leaſe and leaſes of the Kings manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, or other profits or hereditaments within the County Palatine of Lancaſter, or of the Dutchy of Lancaſter out of the ſaid County Palatine, which the Chancellor of the Dutchy of Lancaſter for the time being, or the Chancellor of the ſaid County Palatine for the time being, or either of them ſhall hereafter make or grant in the name of the King our Soveraign Lord, his Heirs or Succeſſors, to any manner perſon or perſons, ſhall and may paſs and be paſſed under the Seals of the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter, or of the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, or either of them, in manner and form as heretofore hath been uſed and accuſtomed: any thing in this preſent Act before made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Leaſes of the Dutchy lands may paſs under the ſeal of the ſame Dutchy.
Co. Inſt. 4 p. 210.

Provided alſo, That all and every gift, grant, and patent of any manner office or offices, or any other thing being, or which hereafter ſhall be in the County Palatine of Lancaſter, or of the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter out of the ſaid County Palatine, the yearly wages or fees whereof amounteth not over and above the value of ii.d. by the day, ſhall and may paſs and be paſſed by the ſaid Chancellor of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, or by the ſaid Chancellor of the ſaid County Palatine, or of either of them for the time being, in manner and form as heretofore hath been uſed and accuſtomed, any article or thing in this preſent Act before made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A grant of a ſmall office in the Dutchy.

And to the intent that as well ſuch as now be, or hereafter ſhall be Miniſters and Clerks of the Kings Signet and Privy Seal, ſhould have and take honeſt and ſufficient ſalary and reward for the writing of the ſaid warrants to be by them made as aforeſaid, as alſo the Kings moſt loving, faithful and obedient ſubjects, knowing the certain charges to be by them laid out for the writing of the ſaid warrants, ſhould not by any manner exaction or other ſiniſter means be conſtrained by any the ſaid Clerks to pay more large and exceſſive fees for the writing of the ſame, then reaſon and conſcience ſhall require, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that all and every Clerk and Clerks of the ſaid Signet and Privy Seal ſhall have and take for his or their writing of a warrant upon a bill for tales or reward, twelve pence. For the writing of a warrant for the gift of every Office, twenty pence. For the writing of a warrant for a penſion, annuity, or wages, twenty pence. For the writing of a warrant for a ſpecial Livery, or other perpetuity, ſix ſhillings and eight pence. For the writing of a warrant upon every bill for a Congy deſler, royal aſſent, reſtitution of temporalities, donatives, advocations, preſentations, or other Eccleſiaſtical matter, three ſhillings and four pence. For the writing of every warrant upon a placard, licence, pardon, or Sheriffs reward, two ſhillings. For the writing of every warrant upon a Deniſen, three ſhillings and four pence. For the writing of a warrant for keeping of an idiot, twenty pence. For the writing of a warrant for keeping of a Ward, three ſhillings and four pence. And that no manner of Clerk or Clerks of the Signet or Privy Seal aforeſaid ſhall take for the writing of any manner warrant above ſpecified, more large and ample fees, then before is preſcribed and appointed, upon pain of x. li. ſterling to be by him forfeited, that ſhall offend contrary to the true tenor and meaning of the ſaid Act; the one half thereof to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, the other half to him that ſhall firſt ſue for the ſame, by bill, action, plaint, or information in any of the Kings Courts: in which action or ſuit, no eſſoin, protection, nor wager of law ſhall be admitted.

The penalty for taking more or larger fees.

The Lord Chancellor may paſs things without fees.

Provided alſo, That the Lord Chancellor of England for the time being, ſhall and may at all times uſe his diſcretion in paſſing and ſpeeding any thing by the Great Seal, and delivering the ſame without paying any fees for the Great Seal, Signet, and Privy Seal, as the caſe of neceſſity ſhall require, and as hath been accuſtomed. And that the Clerks for writing or procuring ſuch writings and patents by his commandment, ſhall be diſcharged of all penalties expreſſed before in this Act, for not receiving and paying fees to the ſignet and privy ſeal: any thing in this act contained to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

This Act ſhall bind every officer and clerk or the Court of Augmentations.

And be it furthermore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this preſent Act and every part and parcel thereof, ſhall extend to the Court of the augmentation of the revenues of the Kings Crown, and bind every Officer, and Officers, their Clerks and Miniſters, that now be, and hereafter ſhall be of the ſame Court, to the obſervation thereof, and of every part thereof, for and concerning the ſealing, and writing of any manner patent, leaſe, or other grant, which upon the Kings bill ſigned ſhall paſs the great ſeal of the ſame Court: any ſpecial words contained in the Act made in this preſent ſeſſion for the eſtabliſhment of the officers of the ſaid Court of the augmentation, or any other Act or proviſion made to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Sealing of things touching the Kings private affairs, of the affairs of the Realm.

Provided nevertheleſs, That this Act or any thing contained in the ſame, be not in any wiſe prejudicial to any manner perſon or perſons, whom the Kings Highneſs ſhall by expreſs commandment direct, ſend or appoint to procure any thing or things to be ſealed with his Majeſties ſeals, for or concerning his Majeſties private affairs, or the affairs of his Highneſs Realm: but that as well the ſame perſon or perſons, being appointed by the Kings Highneſs as aforeſaid, as alſo ſuch officer, and officers as ſhall have the keeping of any of the Kings ſeals, their Miniſters and Clerks, ſhall and may ſeal, write and deliver, and procure the ſealing, writing and delivering of any ſuch thing and things, concerning the Kings Highneſs affairs, as aforeſaid, without being bound to procure any manner warrant, or paying any manner fees at or to the ſignet or privy ſeal for the ſame, ſo that the name or names of every ſuch perſon or perſons, as ſhall procure the ſealing of any ſuch thing or things on the Kings behalf, as aforeſaid, be entred in the Clerk of the Hanapers book, after this ſort, per A. ad mandatum domini regis: any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The grant or leaſe of any farms under the yearly rent of vi. li. xiii. s. iv. d.

Provided alſo that this Act, nor any thing contained in the ſame, be not in any wiſe prejudicial to any manner perſon or perſons, which hereafter ſhall have by the Kings Highneſs, or by any his Majeſties officers, the grant or leaſe of any manner farm or farms to be ſealed with any his Highneſs ſeals, the yearly rent whereof amounteth not above the ſum of ſix pounds, xiii. s. iv. d. ſterling: but that as well every ſuch perſon and perſons, as officer and officers having the cuſtody of ſuch ſeal or ſeals, their Miniſters and Clerks may write, ſeal and deliver, or procure the writing, ſealing, and delivering of any ſuch leaſe or leaſes, as aforeſaid, without paying therefore any manner fees, at, or to the Signet or Privy-ſeal for the ſame: any thing in this Act mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. XII.

An order for true making of Wollen clothes.

Foraſmuch as great infamy and ſlander hath riſen of late years in ſundry outward parties beyond the Sea, of the untrue making of woollen clothes within this Realm, to the great derogation of the common-weal of the ſame, and the no little hindrance of the ſale of the ſaid commodity. For remedy whereof be it ordained and enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That after the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, all and every Clothier within this Realm, ſhall weave or cauſe to be woven his or their ſeveral token, or mark in all and every cloth, kerſey, and other clothes whatſoever they be, made and wrought to be uttered and ſold. And when any ſuch cloth ſhall be ready made and dreſſed to be put to ſale, every of the ſame Clothiers ſhall ſet his ſeal of lead unto every of the ſame his or their clothes and kerſeies, in which ſeal of lead ſhall be contained the true and juſt length of every of the ſame clothes or kerſeies as it ſhall be duly found by every buyer of the ſame, upon due proof thereof to be tried by the water. And in caſe upon any ſuch proof to be made by any buyer of them at the water, there ſhall be found leſs or ſmaller content in length, than is contained and ſpecified in every of their ſaid ſeals: then every of the ſaid clothiers making ſuch default, ſhall loſe and forfeit unto every ſuch buyer of the ſame, the double value of ſo much cloth as ſhall want and lack of the ſaid content in length, at the only ſight and judgment of any two indifferent perſons, that ſhall meaſure the ſame clothes and kerſeies. And every clothier ſending or putting any of their clothes to ſell, before ſuch time as all and every of the ſame clothes ſhall be ſealed by the aulnager of the ſame Counties, where it ſhall chance any of the ſaid clothes ſo to be made: and alſo to be ordered and ſealed by every of the ſaid clothiers in form aforeſaid, ſhall loſe and forfeit his cloth or clothes whatſoever they be, the one half thereof ſhall be to the Kings highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors, and the other half to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by bill, plaint, action of debt, or otherwiſe: in which action no wager of law, eſſoin, or protection ſhall be allowed.

Every clothier ſhall weave his mark in his cloth, and ſet his ſeal to it.

The penalty for want in length.

The clothiers forfeiture omitting his duty.

And it is further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That after the ſaid feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, every broad cloth ſhall contain in breadth ſeven quarters of a yard within the liſts at the leaſt, and to hold the ſame content always, if it be proved at the water. The Act made in the firſt year of the reign of our ſaid Soveraign Lord, that every broad cloth ſhould contain two yards in breadth within the liſts, or any other thing therein contained, touching the keeping of the ſame breadth of two yards, in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And every Kerſey ſhall contain in breadth one yard within the liſts at the leaſt, if it be proved in the water: upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch broad cloth iii.s.iv.d. and for every kerſey xx.d. to be recovered to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs, and of any other that will ſue for the ſame in manner and form before declared.

The breadth of cloth.

Anno 1 H.8.2.

Kerſeies breadth.
Rep. 33 H.8.18.

Provided always, That this preſent Act extend not to any clothes, called ſet clothes, of all ſorts, made in the County of Suffolk, not exceeding the price of xlvi.s.viii.d. the cloth, or to any clothes called Taveſtocks, weſtern doſeins, frizes, kendals, cottons, and all manner of courſe clothes made for linings.

To what clothes this ſtatute ſhall not extend.

And be it further enacted by the ſaid authority, That the Aulnager of any County ſhall not ſeal any of the ſaid clothes, with the Kings Seal, until ſuch time as they and every of them ſhall firſt be ordered, and ſealed with their contents, according to the true meaning of this preſent Act, in form aforeſaid, upon pain of loſing of his office. And that no buyer of any the ſaid clothes or kerſeies, marked and ſealed in form aforeſaid, preſume by any manner of ſleight, means or engines, to draw, pull, or to ſtretch out any of the ſame clothes or kerſeies, otherwiſe than to make them even after they be wet, and to agree with the contents ſpecified and contained in the ſeal of every of the ſame clothes and kerſeies, as neer as they can, upon pain to forfeit the double value of every ſuch cloth or kerſey ſo miſuſed, contrary to the true intent and meaning of this preſent Act, to be levied to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs, and of any other that will ſue for the ſame in like manner and form as is before declared.

When the Aulnager ſhall ſeal.

How far the buyers of clothes or kerſeies may draw or ſtretch them.

Provided alway, That all cloth hereafter made to be ſold within the City of Worceſter, the Towns of Droitwich, Eveſham, Kedirminſter, and Brommeſgrove, in the County of Worceſter, ſhall be ſealed with the ſeal of the Searchers there, according to an Act of Parliament in that behalf provided and made, the five and twentieth year of the reign of our Soveraign Lord, and that the owners of the clothes made within the ſaid City and Towns, ſhall not be compelled by this Act, to put their own ſeals to any clothes there made or hereafter to be made. Rep. 5 Ed. 6.6.

Cloth made in Worceſter, &c. ſhall be ſealed according to the Act therefore provided. St. 25 H.8.18.

CAP. XIII.

Of what value clothes carried over the Sea may be.

Whereas by Act of Parliament, holden in the fifth year of the reign of our Soveraign Lord the King that now is, it was ordained and enacted, That no woollen cloth above the price of five marks, ſhould be conveyed over the Sea unrowed, unbarbed, and unſhorn, upon certain penalties in the ſame Act expreſſed more at large. Which Act being put in execution, ſhall not only redound and turn to the abatement of the Kings cuſtoms, but alſo grow to the utter undoing of his Graces ſubjects, cloth-makers and merchants, conveyers of the ſaid clothes, by reaſon that wooll is riſen to a far greater price, than it was at the making of the foreſaid Act: For where a cloth was then commonly ſold at five marks, it is now ſold for four pounds. And alſo by force of the ſaid Act, the Merchants ſhould be bound to dreſs every white cloth above the value of five marks on this ſide the Sea, after that they have bought them: which white cloth ſo dreſſed, when they be brought into the parties beyond the Sea, and there by the buyers of them died and put in colours, then they muſt be newly dreſſed, barbed, ſhorn, and rowed: and ſo they ſhall be thereby the leſs in ſubſtance of themſelves, and the worſe to the ſale, and ſold for leſs price by ten or twelve ſhillings a piece beyond the Sea, than they ſhould be undreſſed. Wherefore be it ordained and enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That every white woollen cloth ſold for four pounds and under, and every coloured cloth ſold for three pounds and under, may be carried and conveyed into the parties beyond the Sea, there to be ſold at the pleaſure of the buyers of the ſaid cloth or clothes unbarbed, unſhorn, and unrowed, any Act or Acts to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The inconveniences which would enſue if the Statute of 5 H.8.3. ſhould be put in execution.

Clothes of what prizes may be carried over the ſea unbarbed, unſhorn and unrowed.

And over this be it ordained and enacted by the ſaid authority, That if any perſon or perſons ſend or convey, or cauſe to be ſent and conveyed into the parts beyond the Sea, any white woollen cloth above the value of four pounds, or any coloured cloth above the price of three pounds, unrowed, unbarbed, and unſhorn, in other form than is aforeſaid: that then the perſon or perſons ſo offending, ſhall forfeit the value of the ſaid clothes, ſo carried and conveyed into the parties beyond the Sea: the one moyety of the ſame forfeiture to be to the uſe of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, and the other moyety to every perſon which will or ſhall ſue by bill, writ, information, or otherwiſe, againſt any perſon for the ſame. And that the defendant in any plea, upon any ſuch action be not admitted to wage his Law, nor any protection, or eſſoin for any ſuch defendant be allowed in the ſame. CAP. XIV.

In what manner Cuſtom ſhall be taken for Leather.

Where great quantity and much abundance of leather is daily conveyed out of this Realm, as well by ſtrangers, as alſo by tanners and other the Kings ſubjects, inhabited in divers parts of this Realm, towards the Sea coaſts, and in eſpecially out of Wales, Cheſhire, and Cornwal, where little or no cuſtom is paid for the ſame, which leather is commonly packed by the ſaid ſtrangers, Tanners and other the Kings ſubjects in their houſes, and ſo conveyed unto the Ports and Havens where they intend to ſhip the ſame: which packs ſo conveyed and brought to ſuch Ports and Havens to be ſhipped, be never there unpacked, to be viewed what number of leather is contained in any ſuch pack, but entred into the cuſtomers books, by, and upon information and report of the ſaid ſtrangers, tanner, or other perſon tranſporter of the ſame leather. And albeit that the Kings Highneſs in ſuch places and Ports hath very little cuſtoms paid for the ſame, yet foraſmuch as in ſuch places there is no better ſearch nor view had for the perfect knowledge of the number and quantity of the leather ſo by them packed, the Kings Grace is much deceived of ſuch his cuſtoms as ought therefore to accrue to his Highneſs. For where in the Port of London two perſons be named and appointed by the weigher of the wools within the ſaid Port for the time being, to tell and number all ſuch leather by the hide, accounting ten hides to the dicker, and alſo all woolfels as within the ſame Port ſhall be ſhipped from time to time, which two perſons be ſworn before the Cuſtomers of his great Cuſtom, truly and duly to do and execute their offices, in telling and numbring all ſuch leather and woolfels, in the preſence of the ſaid Cuſtomers, and of the Comptroler of the ſame Cuſtom, or of their Deputies, who being preſent, and viewing the ſame, do make entry thereof into their books: And after ſuch tale made, and entry taken, another perſon by the Maior of London for the time being conſtituted and appointed, is alſo ſworn truly to pack the ſame leather ſo told and entred into the Cuſtomers books, every of the ſame tellers and packers taking ſuch fees for their labours as of old time have been uſed, limited and accuſtomed, every ſtranger paying for cuſtom of every dicker four ſhillings and nine pence, and every deniſen four ſhillings and a peny, which like cuſtom is alſo paid in the Port of Hampton, but not in any other Ports of this Realm, and ſpecially in Wales, Cheſhire, and Cornwal, out of the which parts, by reaſon of ſuch ſmall cuſtoms, more leather is conveyed over the ſea, then out of other places of this Realm, which is an occaſion of dearth, & great prices of the ſame leather. For the redreſs whereof, & to the intent that one manner of cuſtom for every ſuch dicker of leather ſo conveyed over the ſea, as well by deniſens as ſtrangers, ſhall be paid throughout this Realm, Wales, and other the Kings Dominions; and alſo that the Kings Highneſs may be the better aſſured of his cuſtoms to be paid of all ſuch leather as ſhall be hereafter carried and conveyed over the ſea; Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that from henceforth no manner ſtranger nor deniſen ſhall pack or cauſe to be packed any manner of leather to be conveyed or ſhipped over the ſea, out of this Realm, Wales, or other the Kings Dominions, otherwiſe then in this Act is expreſſed, that is to ſay, that all ſuch leather ſhall be hereafter packed by a packer ſworn in every ſuch Port, where any leather ſhall be ſhipped to be conveyed out of this Realm, Wales, or other the Kings Dominions, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch leather as hereafter ſhall be packed contrary to the purport of this Act, or of the value thereof. And alſo that from henceforth every ſtranger and denizen, which ſhall ſhip, ſend or convey any leather over the Sea, out or from any part of this Realm, Wales, Cheſhire, or other the Kings Dominions, ſhall pay like cuſtom for the ſame, as is uſed to be payed within the Port of London, that is to ſay, every ſtranger to pay for every dicker for cuſtom iv.s.ix.d. and every denizen iv.s.i.d.

How much ſtrangers, and how much deniſens do pay for the cuſtom of a dicker of leather.

Leather to be carried beyond the Sea ſhall be told and packed by a man ſworn thereunto.

And be it alſo enacted, That within every Port, Haven, and creek, within this Realm, VVales, and other the Kings Dominions, where no tellers nor packers at this preſent time be, nor before the making of this Act have been, that from henceforth the Cuſtomers and Comptrollers of every ſuch Port, Haven, and creek, where ſuch leather ſhall be ſhipped to be conveyed into the parties beyond the Sea, ſhall have power by authority of this Act, to name, conſtitute and appoint one able perſon to ſell and number all ſuch leather as ſhall be any time there ſhipped, which perſon ſo named, ſhall be ſworn by the Cuſtomer and Comptroller of every ſuch Port, Haven, and Creek, truly and duly to execute his office in the preſence of the Cuſtomer and Comptroller of every ſuch Port, Creek, or Haven, where any ſuch leather ſhall be ſhipped, or of his or their deputy or deputies, the ſame Teller taking of every ſtranger for the telling of every dicker of leather ſix pence, whereof the ſame teller to have for his labour two pence, and four pence to be to the Comminalty of the ſame Town and Port, toward the payment of their fee farm, and other their charges. And of every denizen, not being a freeman of the ſaid Port and Haven, for every dicker four pence, whereof the teller to have two pence, and the other two pence to be to the comminalty of the ſame Port or Haven, for the intent above declared: and of every dicker by any perſon being a freeman of ſuch Port and Haven, but only two pence for his labour. And that immediately after ſuch ſuch tale had, and entry thereof made by the Cuſtomer or his deputy, another able perſon named, deputed, and aſſigned by the ſaid Cuſtomers and Comptrollers of every ſuch Port and Haven, and before them ſworn, truly and duly to do and execute his office, ſhall pack all ſuch leather ſo told and entred, every pack to contain as many dicker, under the number of vii. dicker, as it ſhall pleaſe the Merchant or owner thereof to appoint, taking for his labour for the packing of every pack four pence.

A packer of leather ſhall be aſſigned, and his fee.

And be it further enacted by the ſaid authority, That if any packer take upon him to pack any leather before it be told or numbred, and entry thereof made by the cuſtomer or his deputy, or at any time pack more leather than ſhall be told and entred, according to the purport of this act that then the ſame packer to forfeit and loſe for every time doing the contrary, v. li. and to ſuffer therefore impriſonment at the Kings pleaſure. And alſo that if the teller within any ſuch Port or Haven, at any time hereafter, take upon him to tell or number any leather in the abſence of the cuſtomer, controller, or of his of their deputy or deputies, then the ſame teller for every time ſo doing to loſe and forfeit v. marks.

The ſeveral forfeitures of the packer and teller not performing their duties.

And for as much as divers ſtrangers carry and convey their leather from one Port to another, and by the way cauſe the ſame leather to be packed: which packs ſo conveyed be not undone nor opened at their arrival within the Ports whereunto they be ſo tranſported: but there only entry by and upon the report and information of the Merchant eſtranger, or of his factor, whereby much cuſtom is concealed. Be it therefore alſo enacted by the ſaid authority, That if any ſtranger or other his factor, at any time hereafter do convey and carry any leather from one Port to another, to the intent to ſhip the ſame in ſuch other Port whereunto it ſhall be ſo conveyed, the ſame ſtranger, or other his factor for him, before ſuch tranſporting of the ſame leather, ſhall cauſe the ſaid leather firſt to be told within the ſame Port, from whence he will or intendeth to carry the ſame: and the ſame ſo told, cauſe to be entred by the cuſtomer of the ſame Port, or his deputy: and cauſe to be alſo packed by the ſaid packer of the ſaid Port, where it ſhallbe ſo told, taking of the cuſtomer or cuſtomers of the ſame Port or Haven, or their deputy or deputies, a certificate expreſſing the number or quantity of dickers of all the ſame leather, ſo to be carried and tranſported, directed to the cuſtomer of the other Port or Haven, whereunto the ſame leather ſhall be ſo conveyed, making mention alſo in the ſame certificate, whether the cuſtom thereof accordingly be truly paid or not. And in caſe any ſuch leather be carried or conveyed from one Port to another, there to be ſhipped without having of ſuch certificate: that then the ſame leather, or the value thereof to be forfeited.

In what ſort a ſtranger conveying leather from one port to another ſhall uſe it.

And be it further enacted, That no Tanner within this Realm, VVales, or other the Kings Dominions, or other perſons occupying or having a Tanhouſe, ſhall from henceforth ſend, or cauſe to be conveyed over the Sea, by way of merchandiſe or otherwiſe, any manner of leather tanned or untanned, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch leather, or the value thereof. Nor that any perſon or perſons at any time hereafter, ſhall carry or convey over the Sea out of this Realm, VVales, or other the Kings Dominions, any ſalt or untanned hides, or any leather called backs, or ſole leather, the Kings ſpecial licence not obtained for the ſame, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch hides and leather, called backs or ſole leather, or the value thereof: the one half of all the ſaid forfeitures to be to the Kings Highneſs, and the other half to any of his Subjects, that will purſue for the ſame in any his Courts by action of debt, bill, plaint, information or otherwiſe, in which ſuit none eſſoin, protection, wager of law, or other dilatory plea for the defendant ſhall be admitted or allowed.

None having a Tanhouſe ſhall tranſport tanned leather, or untanned.

Provided always, That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not be hurtful, nor prejudicial to any Captain of any Ship in the time of War, being in the retinue and ſervice of the Kings Highneſs, nor to any owner or maſter of any Ship the Kings Subject going into Iſland, Danske, Norway, or ſouthward beyond the ſtraits: but that every ſuch Captain and Maſter of every ſuch ſhip, during the war time, and every Maſter of ſuch ſhips, paſſing into the places before named, may and ſhall at their pleaſure have and carry ſalt hides in their ſhips, ſo that every of them ſhall not have at ſuch voyage, or during the war, at any one time above the number of viii. ſalt hides. This Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Captain of a ſhip and owner of a ſhip in ſome caſe excepted out of this ſtatute.

Provided always, That hides untanned of any beaſts, being killed within VVales or the marches thereof, may be conveyed and carried into outward parties by any perſon or perſons from time to time, except only by tanners, and ſuch as have tanhouſes, in ſuch like manner as they might have been before the making of this Act, any thing in the ſame mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding. CAP. XX.

Tithes ſhall be paid according to the cuſtom of the Pariſh, &c.

FOraſmuch as divers numbers of evil diſpoſed perſons inhabited in ſundry Counties, Cities, Towns and places of this Realm, having no reſpect to their duties to Almighty God, but againſt right, and good conſcience, having attempted to ſubtract and withhold in ſome places the whole, and in ſome places great parts of their tithes and oblations, as well perſonal, as predial, due unto God, and holy Church, and purſuing ſuch their deteſtable enormities, and injuries, have attempted in late time paſt to diſobey, contemn and deſpiſe the proceſs, laws, and decrees of the Eccleſiaſtical Court of this Realm, in more temerous and large manner than before this time hath been ſeen. For reformation of which ſaid injuries, and for unity and peace to be preſerved amongſt the Kings ſubjects of this Realm, our Soveraign Lord the King, being ſupream head on earth under God, of the Church of England, willing the ſpiritual rights and duties of that Church to be preſerved, continued and maintained, hath ordained and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That every of his ſubjects of this Realm of England, Ireland, Wales, and Caleis, and marches of the ſame, according to the Eccleſiaſtical laws and ordinances of his Church of England, and after the laudable uſes and cuſtoms of their Pariſh, or other place where he dwelleth, or occupieth, ſhall yield and pay his tithes and offerings, and other duties of holy Church, and that for ſuch ſubtractions of any of the ſaid tithes, offerings, or other duties, the Parſon, Vicar, Curat, or other party in that behalf grieved, may by due Proceſs of the Kings Eccleſiaſtical laws of the Church of England, convent the perſon or perſons offending before his Ordinary, or other competent Judge of this Realm, having authority to hear and determine the right of tithes, and alſo to compel the ſame perſon or perſons offending, to do and yield their ſaid duties in that behalf. And in caſe the Ordinary of the Dioceſs, or his Commiſſary, or the Archdeacon or his Official, or any other competent Judge aforeſaid, for any contempt, contumacy, diſobedience, or other miſdemeanor of the party defendant, make information and requeſt to any of the Kings moſt honourable Councel, or to the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſhire where ſuch offendor dwelleth, to aſſiſt and aid the ſame Ordinary, Commiſſary, Archdeacon, Official, or Judge, to order or reform any ſuch perſon in any cauſe before rehearſed: that then he of the Kings ſaid honorable Councel, or ſuch two Juſtices of Peace, whereof the one to be of the Quorum, to whom ſuch information or requeſt ſhall be made, ſhall have full power and authority by vertue of this Act, to attach, or cauſe to be attached the perſon, or perſons againſt whom ſuch information or requeſt ſhall be made, and to commit the ſame perſon or perſons to ward, there to remain without bail and mainprize, till Tithes ſhall be paid according to the cuſtom of the pariſh where they be due.

The offendor in ſubtracting of tithes, ſhall be convented before the Ordinary.

till that he or they ſhall have found ſufficient ſurety, to be bound by recogniſance, or otherwiſe before the Kings ſaid Councellor, or Juſtice of Peace, or any other like Councellor, or Juſtice of Peace, to the uſe of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, to give due obedience to the Proceſs, proceedings, decrees, and ſentences of the Eccleſiaſtical Court of this Realm, wherein ſuch ſuit or matter for the premiſes ſhall depend or be. And that every of the Kings ſaid Councellors, or two Juſtices of the Peace, whereof the one to be of the Quorum, as is aforeſaid, ſhall have full power and authority by vertue of this Act, to take, receive and record Recogniſances and Obligations, in any of the cauſes above written.

The offendor ſhall be bound by two Juſtices of peace, &c. to obey the Ordinaries ſentence.

Provided alway, That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any inhabitant of the City of London, for or concerning any manner of tithe, offering, or other Eccleſiaſtical duty, grown, and due to be paid or yeelden within the ſame City, becauſe there is another order made for the paiment of tithes, and other duties within the ſaid City.

This Act ſhall not extend to the Citizens of London.

Provided alſo, That every perſon and perſons, being party or parties to any ſuch ſuit, ſhall and may make and have his and their lawful action, demand or proſecution, appeals, prohibitions and all other their lawful defences and remedies in every ſuch ſuit, according to the ſaid Eccleſiaſtical Laws, and Laws and Statutes of this Realm, in as ample and liberal manner and form, as they or any of them might have had, if this Act had never been made: Any thing in this Act above written notwithſtanding.

Every perſon ſhall have his demand and defence according to the Laws Eccleſiaſtical.

Provided always, and be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That this Act for recovering of tithes, ne any thing therein contained, ſhall take force and effect, but only until ſuch time as the Kings Highneſs, and ſuch other xxxii. perſons, which his Highneſs ſhall name and appoint for the making and eſtabliſhing of ſuch laws, as his Highneſs ſhall affirm and ratifie to be called the Eccleſiaſtical laws of the Church of England. And after the ſaid laws ſo ratified and confirmed as is aforeſaid, that then the ſaid tithes to be paid to every Eccleſiaſtical perſon, according to ſuch laws, and none otherwiſe. Preſervation of Havens in Devonſhire and Cornwal.

Where by a ſtatute made in this preſent Parliament, for, and concerning the amending and maintenance of the Havens & Ports of Plimouth, Dartmouth, Tinmouth, Falmouth, and Fowey, in the County of Devonſhire and Cornwal, among other things it was ordained and enacted, That no perſon or perſons, from and after the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, which was in the xxiv. year of the reign of the Kings Highneſs that now is, ſhould labour or work, or cauſe to be laboured or wrought in any manner of Tin works called Streme works, within the ſaid Counties of Devonſhire and Cornwal, nigh to any of the freſh waters, rivers or low places, deſcending, or having courſe unto the ſaid Havens or Ports, or any of them, nor ſhould labour, dig, or waſh any Tin in any of the ſaid Tin works, called Streme works, unleſs the ſaid digger, owner, or waſher ſhould make, or cauſe to be made ſufficient hatches, and tyes, in the end of their buddels and cords, and therein put and lay, or cauſe to be put and laid all the ſaid ſtones, gravel, and robel digged, about the enſearching, finding, and waſhing of the ſaid Tin, there to be wholly and ſurely kept by the ſaid hatches and tyes, out and from the ſaid freſh rivers or water courſes, or any of them, ſo that the ſaid ſtones, gravel, and robel, ne any part thereof, be for lack of ſuch hatches or tyes, conveyed into the ſaid Ports and Havens, or any of them, upon pain to forfeit for every time that any owner or digger ſhould dig or waſh, or cauſe to be digged or waſhed in Tin contrary to the form aforeſaid, x.li. The one half thereof to be to the uſe of our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other half thereof to be to any of the inhabitants of the ſaid Port-towns, or Havens, that would ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts by original Writ, Bill, Plaint, Information, or otherwiſe, wherein the defendant ſhould not be admitted to wage his law, ne any protection or eſſoin ſhould be allowable, as in the ſaid Act among other things more plainly is expreſſed and declared.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 23 H.8.8. made for the preſervation of Ports and Havens in Cornwal and Devonſhire.

And becauſe ſith the making of the ſaid ſtatute, the Inhabitants of the ſaid Port-Towns, or Havens, having little regard, reſpect, love, or affection to the amending, and maintenance of the ſame Towns and Havens, nor to their poſterity, as they been naturally bounden and obliged, have permitted and ſuffered the ſaid owners and diggers to perſevere and continue in digging, ſearching and waſhing of Tin, nigh the ſaid freſh waters, rivers, or low places, not making ſufficient hatches and tyes, as by the ſaid ſtatute is provided and ordained, without any manner of ſuit commenced or purſued by the ſaid Inhabitants, according to the tenor of the ſaid Act, to the great animation and encouragement of the offendors, and to the utter undoing and deſtruction of the ſaid Port-Towns, and Havens. The Kings Majeſty minding, and intending the ſupportation, and maintenance of his ſaid Towns, and Havens, and the animadverſion and correction, of the ſaid offendors, hath by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, ordained, enacted & eſtabliſhed, that no perſon or perſons hereafter ſhall labour or work, or cauſe to be laboured or wrought, in any manner of Tin works, called Streme works, within the ſaid Counties of Devonſhire & Cornwal, nigh to any of the ſaid freſh waters, rivers, or low places, deſcending, or having Courſe unto the ſaid Havens, or Ports, or any of them, nor ſhall labour, dig, or waſh any Tin in any of the ſaid Tin-works, called Streme works, unleſs the ſaid digger, owner, or waſher ſhall make, or cauſe to be made ſuficient hatches and tyes in the end of their buddels and cords, and therein put and lay, or cauſe to be put and laid, all the ſaid ſtones, gravel, and robel digged about the enſearching, finding, and waſhing of the ſaid Tin, there to be wholly and ſurely kept by the ſaid hatches and tyes, out and from the ſaid freſh rivers or water-Courſes, or any of them, ſo that the ſaid ſand, ſtones, gravel, and robel, ne any part thereof be for lack of ſuch hatches or tyes, conveyed into the ſaid Ports and Havens, or any of them, upon pain to forfeit for every time, that any Owner, Tinner, digger, or labourer ſhall dig or waſh, or cauſe to be digged or waſhed any Tin contrary to the form aforeſaid, xx. li. The one half thereof to be to the uſe of his Highneſs, and the other half thereof, to be to any his Graces ſubjects, that will ſue for the ſame in any of his Graces Courts, by Original Writ, Bill, Plaint, Information, or otherwiſe, wherein the Defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his Law, ne any protection or eſſoin ſhall be allowable.

There ſhall be no penalty inflicted for proſecuting according to this Statute.

And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall happen to be ſued, accuſed, indicted, impriſoned, amerced, condemned, or otherwiſe vexed or troubled in his perſon, lands, Tin-works, goods or cattels by any of the Miniſters or Officers of any the Kings Courts of Stannery, or by any other perſon or perſons, for purſuing or attempting any ſuit or action according to this eſtatute, againſt ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall offend contrary to the form aforeſaid: that then all ſuch ſuits, accuſements, indictments, impriſonments, actions, condemnations, fines, amerciaments, and every other Act or acts, to be done in any of the ſaid Courts of Stannery, or elſewhere, by any perſon or perſons againſt any perſon or perſons, for ſuing or attempting any ſuit or ſuits by vertue of this eſtatute, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect in the Law. And that the party ſued, indited, accuſed, impriſoned, or otherwiſe grieved or moleſted, for purſuing againſt any perſon or perſons offending this ſtatute, ſhall have his action and remedy grounded upon this ſtatute by original writ, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe in any of the Kings Courts, againſt ſuch as ſhall procure or attempt to vex, trouble, or otherwiſe moleſt any ſuch perſon or perſons for ſuing or purſuing of the forfeitures aforeſaid, and ſhall recover treble dammages in that behalf; and the party defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his law, ne any protection, eſſoin nor priviledge ſhall be to him allowable.

A remedy to relieve him that ſhall be impriſoned for ſuing according to this ſtatute.

And if it ſhall happen any perſon or perſons, for purſuing any ſuit or action upon this ſtatute, or by occaſion of the ſame, hereafter to be impriſoned by any manner of perſon or perſons being officers or miniſters of the Court of Stannery, their deputies or ſubſtitutes; that then every of the Juſtices of Peace within any of the Counties aforeſaid, wherein the ſaid priſoner ſhall happen to be committed to priſon, upon credible information thereof, taking ſurety by his diſcretion for appearance of ſuch priſoner at the next general Seſſions of Peace, ſhall have power and authority as well to direct his warrant to the Gaoler or Keeper of the priſon, as to any other perſon or perſons, to whom the ſaid priſoner ſhall be committed, commanding him or them upon pain of forfeiture of xl. li. to deliver and put at large the ſaid priſoner or priſoners, which if he refuſe ſo to do, then every ſuch offendor ſhall loſe and forfeit the ſaid xl. li. the one half of which forfeiture to be to the uſe of our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other half to him that is grieved by reaſon of ſuch impriſonment, to be recovered in manner and form aforeſaid. And the defendant in any action or ſuit for the ſame ſhall not wage his law, ne have any eſſoin or protection allowed. And if it ſhall appear upon the appearance of ſuch priſoner at the quarter Seſſions, by examination of the Juſtices of the Peace there being, that he was impriſoned contrary to the form of this ſtatute; that then he ſhall be forthwith diſmiſſed, and thereby diſcharged. And if he were lawfully impriſoned for any other juſt cauſe, then to be remanded to priſon by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices.

The liberties of the Stanneries ſaved.

Provided alway, That this Act, or any thing therein contained be not in any wiſe prejudicial or hurtful to any of the Officers of the Stannery, ne to any of their lawful liberties, priviledges, uſages, laws, or cuſtoms, ſaving only in the caſes and proviſions contained and limited within this preſent Act: which ſhall alway be put in execution, according to the tenor of this Act; any uſage, cuſtom, priviledge, ordinance or liberty to the contrary thereof notwithſtaning.

CAP. XXIV.

The recontinuing of certain liberties taken from the Crown.

WHere divers of the moſt ancient prerogatives and authorities of Juſtice appertaining to the Imperial Crown of this Realm, have been ſevered and taken from the ſame by ſundry gifts of the Kings moſt noble progenitors Kings of this Realm, to the great diminution and detriment of the royal eſtate of the ſame, and to the hindrance and great delay of juſtice. For reformation whereof, be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons, of what eſtate or degree ſoever they be, from the firſt day of July, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, 1536. ſhall have any power or authority to pardon, or remit any treaſons, murders, man-ſlaughters, or any kinds of felonies, whatſoever they be; nor any acceſſaries to any treaſons, murders, man-ſlaughters, or felonies, or any outlaries for any ſuch offences aforeſaid, committed, perpetrated, done, or divulged, or hereafter be committed, done, or divulged, by or againſt any perſon or perſons in any part of this Realm, Wales, or the marches of the ſame: but that the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors Kings of this Realm, ſhall have the whole and ſole power and authority thereof united and knit to the Imperial Crown of this Realm, as of good right and equity it appertaineth, any grants, uſages, preſcription, Act or Acts of Parliament, or any other thing to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

No perſons ſhall pardon treaſons or felonies but the King.

No perſon ſhall make Juſtices but the King.

And be it alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons of what eſtate, degree, or condition ſoever they be, from the ſaid firſt day of July, ſhall have any power or authority, to make any Juſtices of Eire, Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Juſtices of Peace, or Juſtices of Gaol-delivery: but that all ſuch officers and miniſters ſhall be made by Letters Patents under the Kings Great Seal, in the name, and by authority of the Kings Highneſs, and his Heirs Kings of this Realm, in all Shires, Counties, Counties Palatine, and other places of this Realm, Wales, and the Marches of the ſame, or in any other his Dominions, at their pleaſure and wills, in ſuch manner and form as Juſtices of Eire, Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Juſtices of Peace, and Juſtices of Gaol-delivery, be commonly made in every Shire of this Realm, any grants, uſages, preſcription, allowance, Act or Acts of Parliament, or any other thing or things, to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

All writs, &c. in a County Palatine ſhall be made in the Kings name. Co.Inſt. 4 p.205.

And be it further enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That all original writs, and judicial writs, and all manner of inditements of treaſon, felony and treſpaſs, and all manner of proceſs to be made upon the ſame in every County Palatine, and other liberty within this Realm of England, Wales, and Marches of the ſame, ſhall from the ſaid firſt day of July, be made only in the name of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, and his heirs Kings of England. And that every perſon or perſons having ſuch County Palatine, or any other ſuch liberty, to make ſuch originals, judicials, or other proceſs of Juſtice, ſhall make the Teſte in the ſaid original Writs, and judicial, in the name of that ſame perſon or perſons that have ſuch County Palatine or liberty.

And that in every Writ and Indictment that ſhall be made within any ſuch County Palatine or Liberty, after the ſaid firſt day of July next coming, whereby it ſhall be ſuppoſed any thing to be done againſt the Kings Peace, ſhall be made and ſuppoſed to be done only againſt the Kings Peace, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and not againſt the peace of any other perſon or perſons, whatſoever they be; any Act of Parliament, grant, cuſtom, uſage, or allowance in Eire before this time had, granted or uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Juſtices aſſigned within the County Palatine of Lancaſter.

Provided always, That Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Juſtices of Gaol-delivery, and Juſtices of Peace to be made and aſſigned by the Kings Highneſs within the County Palatine of Lancaſter, ſhall be made and ordained by Commiſſion under the Kings uſual Seal of Lancaſter, in manner and form as hath been accuſtomed, any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Towns corporate which have Juſtices.

Provided alſo, That all Cities, Boroughs, and Towns corporate within this Realm, which have liberty, power and authority to have Juſtices of Peace, or Juſtices of Goal-delivery, ſhall ſtill have and enjoy their liberties and authorities in that behalf, after ſuch like manner as they have been accuſtomed, without any alteration by occaſion of this Act; any thing in this Act, or in any article therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Bailiffs and Officers of liberties ſhall attend upon the Juſtices as they have done.

And it is ordained by authority aforeſaid, That all Stewards, Bailiffs, and other Miniſters, of any liberties or franchiſes, which in times paſſed have uſed or ought to attend upon the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Juſtices of Gaol-delivery, and Juſtices of the Peace at large in any County, ſhall be attendant to the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Juſtices of Gaol-delivery, and Juſtices of Peace of the ſame Shires wherein ſuch Liberties and Franchiſes be, and make due execution of all proceſs to them to be directed, for miniſtration of Juſtice within ſuch liberties or franchiſes. And that alſo all ſuch Bailiffs, or their Deputies or Deputy, ſhall give their attendance and aſſiſtance upon the Sheriff, together with the Sheriffs Bailiffs at all Courts of Gaol-delivery from time to time for execution of priſoners according to Juſtice.

Liberties of Cities or Boroughs not to appear elſewhere.

Provided alway, That the article next above rehearſed ſhall not in any wiſe be prejudicial to any Stewards, or Bailiffs of any Cities, Boroughs, or Towns corporate ſet in any Shire of this Realm, which have priviledge that they ſhould not be compelled to attend, or appear out of ſuch Cities, Boroughs, or Towns wherein they inhabit; but that every ſuch City, Borough, and Town corporate, ſhall uſe their ſaid priviledges and liberties, as heretofore hath bee accuſtomed, any thing in any of the articles above rehearſed to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The King ſhall have the fines, forfeitures, &c. of Bailiffs of Liberties.

And it is further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the King our Soveraign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors Kings of this Realm, from the ſaid firſt day of July next coming, ſhall have all manner fines, iſſues, amerciaments and forfeitures that ſhall be loſt, forfeit, or aſſeſſed, by or upon any Stewards, Bailiffs, or any other Miniſters or Officers of any Franchiſes or Liberties, for non-execution, miſ-execution, or inſufficient returns of ſuch Writs, Warrants, Precepts, or other proceſs, which to them, or to any of them, or to any their deputie or deputies ſhall be directed, or for any contempt or other miſdemeanor whatſoever it be, concerning their offices, in and for the due execution or adminiſtration of juſtice; any grant or allowance, or other thing to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding. And that the amerciaments for inſufficient returns of Writs, or their proceſs, made by Stewards or Bailiffs of Liberties or Franchiſes, having returns of Writs, and execution of the ſame, ſhall be put and ſet upon the heads of ſuch Stewards or Bailiffs, and not upon the Sheriffs.

Fines ſhall be aſſeſſed upon the Bailiffs of Liberties for inſufficient returns, and not upon the Sheriff.

Purveyors may provide within Liberties, notwithſtanding any grant. Co.pl.f.560.

And furthermore it is enacted by authority aforeſaid, That Purveyors aſſigned by the Kings commiſſion for proviſions of his Grace, the Queen, and their Children, ſhall and may provide all victuals, corn, and other kinds of things whatſoever it be, according to their Commiſſions, as well within Liberties and Franchiſes as without, any grants, allowance, or other thing to the contrary or let thereof notwithſtanding.

Provided

Co.Inſt. 2 p.3.

Provided always, That ſuch Purveyors ſhall obſerve the Statutes for them provided in every behalf.

The Kings officers may keep Court within the verge, and his Clerk of the market only execute his office there. Stat. 32 H. 8.29. Stat.17Ca.r 1.19.

And over this it is ordained by authority aforeſaid, That in all ſuch places whereſoever the Kings Highneſs in his own moſt Royal Perſon ſhall come to reſt, tarry, abide, or make his repoſe within this Realm, or any his Dominions, within Liberty or without, there and within the Verge limited and accuſtomed to his Graces Court, during the time of his abode, his Grace, his Steward, Marſhal, Coroner, and all other his miniſters, ſhall and may keep their Courts for Juſtice, and exerciſe their offices as ſhall appertain to them, according to the Laws, Cuſtoms and Statutes of this Realm, as well within Liberties as without. And that his Graces Clerks of the Market, and none other during the ſaid time, as well within Liberties as without, ſhall exerciſe the office of Clerk of the Market; any priviledge, grant, allowance, or other thing to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Provided alway, That this article next afore rehearſed, or any thing therein contained, be not in any wiſe prejudicial to the City of London, but that the ſame City ſhall have and uſe ſuch liberties as they mought, if this article had never been made.

All ſtat. made for ſheriffs, under ſheriffs, &c. ſhall be in force againſt ſtewards and other miniſters of liberties.

And be it alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all and every Statute, Act and Acts heretofore made, and being in force againſt Sheriffs, their Under-ſheriffs, Bailiffs, or their miniſters, for making or returning of panels or Juries, or for due execution and ſerving any writs or other proceſs, or for taking of fees, or for reformation of extortions, or for any other thing or things concerning their offices, and all pains and penalties contained in every ſuch Statute, ſhall from henceforth be extended to all Stewards, Bailiffs, and other miniſters and officers of liberties and franchiſes, having returns of writs, and executions thereof, in like manner, form and condition, as they extend to Sheriffs, their Under-ſheriffs, Bailiffs or other miniſters, and as if the ſaid Stewards, Bailiffs, or other miniſters or officers of liberties, and franchiſes, had been ſpecially and particularly named, and rehearſed in ſuch Statutes.

Stewards and Bailiffs of franchiſes may enjoy their offices above one year.

Provided alway, That this Article next above rehearſed, ſhall not be prejudicial to any Steward, Bailiffs of Franchiſes, or to their Deputy or Deputies, or their Clerks, for exerciſing and occupying their offices over and above one year: but that they, and every of them, may keep and occupy their ſaid offices for ſo long time as they be or hereafter ſhall be given to them, as if this article next afore rehearſed had never been made, any of the ſaid Acts to be expounded and taken againſt them, or any of them, to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

And it is enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all ſuch Juſtices to be made as is afore rehearſed in this Act, ſhall have authority and power to keep and hold their Seſſions of Peace, and to deliver the ſame Gaols from time to time only within the ſame liberties and franchiſes, and in ſuch places, and in none other places, by reaſon and authority of that Commiſſion, and to do and execute all other things within the ſame, in as ample and large manner as any other Juſtices of Peace and Gaol-delivery in any Shire within this Realm may do, and have authority to do; any Act, grant, uſe, cuſtom and allowance heretofore had, made, or uſed, or any article in this preſent Act made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The new Juſtice ſhall ſit where commonly ſuch have uſed to ſit before.

Provided always, That all and ſingular Juſtices of the Peace, Gaol-delivery and Aſſiſe, hereafter to be made, named and appointed by the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and Succeſſors, within any liberty, where any ſuch Juſtice of Peace, Gaol-delivery, or Aſſiſe, or any of them have been made by any perſon or perſons, by vertue or authority of any Letters Patents of the gift or grant of our Soveraign Lord the King, or his moſt noble progenitors Kings of this Realm, or otherwiſe, ſhall ſit and keep their Seſſions, Gaol-delivery and Aſſizes, only in ſuch place and places as the Juſtices of the ſaid liberties lately have commonly uſed within the ſaid liberties. And that no perſon or perſons within the ſaid liberties, or any of them, ſhall be hereafter in no wiſe compelled by authority of this Act, to appear out of the ſaid liberties, before any other Juſtice of Aſſize, Gaol-delivery, or of the Peace, then before ſuch Juſtices as ſhall be named and aſſigned to ſit and be by the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, within the ſaid liberties and form aboveſaid. And that this Act ſhall not extend, or be expounded, or taken by any other liberty, priviledge or franchiſe, granted, uſed, or had to any perſon or perſons, other then before in this preſent Act is expreſſed, and plainly declared and rehearſed; any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding, and as if this Act had never been made.

Sir Tho. Englefield Juſtice of Cheſter and Flint.

Provided always, That this Act nor any thing therein contained, be in any wiſe hurtful or prejudicial unto Sir Thomas Englefield knight, Juſtice of the County Palatine of Cheſter and Flint, nor to his Deputy or Deputies nor to any of them, of, for, or concerning the office of Juſtice or Juſticer of the ſaid County Palatine, and Flint, nor for or concerning any fees, profits or advantages, to the ſame Offices in any manner wiſe appertaining or belonging, but that the ſaid Sir Thomas, his Deputy and Deputies, and every of them, may lawfully have, occupy and exerciſe the ſaid Office, and alſo receive and take to their own uſe, all manner profits commodities and advantages, to the ſaid Office belonging or appertaining, according to the tenour, purport and effect of ſuch Letters Patents, as before this time were unto the ſame Sir Thomas made under the Seal of the ſaid County Palatine, or under any other Seal, by our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King that now is, of, for, or concerning the ſaid Office, and other the premiſſes, or any parcel thereof, in as ample and large manner as though this Act had never been had ne made, any thing in this Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Provided alway, That this Act, ne any thing therein contained, be in any wiſe prejudicial or hurtful to any City, Borough, or Town corporate, by what name or names ſoever they or any of them be incorporate, and their ſucceſſors, and the ſucceſſors of every of them, of, or for any manner of liberties, priviledges, cuſtoms, and ancient uſages and franchiſes: and alſo of all manner of fines, iſſues, and amerciaments, and forfeitures, which they or any of them have of the grant or grants of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, or of any of his noble Progenitors, Kings of this Realm of England: but that the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, and Towns Corporate, and every of them, and their ſucceſſors, may have, take, levy, and enjoy all and every ſuch lawful liberties, priviledges, franchiſes, cuſtoms, and uſages, in as ample and large manner, and in like form and condition as they and every of them have lawfully taken, uſed, and had the ſame before the making of this Act; Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding, and as if this Act had never been had ne made.

Cities and Towns corporate ſhall have ſuch liberties, &c. as they had before.

Provided alway, and be it enacted, That Thomas now Biſhop of Ely, and his ſucceſſors Biſhops of Ely, and their temporal Steward of the Iſle of Ely for the time being, and every of them, ſhall from henceforth be Juſtices of Peace within the ſaid Iſle, and ſhall uſe and exerciſe all manner of things within the ſame Iſle, that appertaineth or belongeth to any Juſtices of Peace within any County of this Realm of England, to do, exerciſe, and uſe by vertue and authority that they be Juſtices of Peace, in as ample and large manner as any other Juſtices of Peace, in any County within this Realm have or might do, exerciſe, or uſe, any thing or things in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Biſhop of Ely and his Steward ſhall be Juſtices of Peace within the ſame Iſle.

Provided alway, and be it enacted, That Cuthbert now Biſhop of Durham, and his ſucceſſors Biſhops of Durham, and their temporal Chancellor of the County Palatine of Durham for the time being, and every of them, ſhall from henceforth be Juſtices of Peace within the ſaid County Palatine of Durham, and ſhall exerciſe and uſe all manner things within the ſame County Palatine, that appertaineth or belongeth to any Juſtice of Peace within any County of this Realm of England, to do, exerciſe, and uſe, by vertue and authority that they be Juſtices of Peace, in as ample and large manner as any other Juſtics of Peace in any County within this Realm have, or might do, exerciſe, or uſe; any thing or things in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Biſhop of Durham and his Chancellor.

Provided alway, and be it enacted, That Edward now Archbiſhop of York, and his ſucceſſors Archbiſhops of York, and their temporal Chancellor of the Shire and Liberty of Hexam, otherwiſe called Hextoldſham, for the time being, and every of them, ſhall from henceforth be Juſtices of Peace within the ſaid Shire and Liberty of Hexam, otherwiſe called Hextoldſham; and ſhall exerciſe and uſe all manner things within the ſaid Shire and Liberty, that appertaineth or belongeth to any Juſtice of Peace within any County of this Realm of England, to do, exerciſe, and uſe, by vertue and authority that they be Juſtices of Peace, in as large and ample manner as any other Juſtice of Peace in any County within this Realm have or might do, exerciſe, or uſe; any thing or things in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Biſhop of York, and his temporal Chancellor of Extoldſham.

CAP. XXV.

All Governours of Shires, Cities, Towns, Hundreds, Hamlets, and Pariſhes, ſhall find and keep every aged, poor, and impotent perſon which was born or dwelt three years within the ſame limit, by way of voluntary and charitable alms in every of the ſame Cities and Pariſhes, &c. with ſuch convenient alms as ſhall be thought meet by their diſcretion, ſo as none of them ſhall be compelled to go openly in begging. And alſo ſhall compel every ſturdy vagabond to be kept in continual labour. Children under xiiij. years of age, and above v. that live in idleneſs, and be taken begging, may be put to ſervice by the Governours of Cities, Towns, &c. to husbandry, or other crafts or labours. A valiant beggar, or ſturdy vagabond, ſhall at the firſt time be whipped, and ſent to the place where he was born, or laſt dwelled by the ſpace of iij. years, there to get his living: And if he continue his roguiſh life, he ſhall have the upper part of the griſtle of his right ear cut off: And if after that he be taken wandring in idleneſs, or doth not apply his labour, or is not in ſervice with any Maſter, he ſhall be adjudged and executed as a felon. No perſon ſhall make any open or common dole, nor ſhall give any money in alms but to the common boxes, and common gatherings in every Pariſh, upon pain to forfeit ten times ſo much as ſhall be given. There ſhall be no playing at unlawful games. Exp. St. 31 H. 8. 7. St. 39 El. 4.

CAP. XXVI.

Juſtice executed in Walss in manner as it is in England, &c.

Albeit the Dominion, Principality, and Countrey of Wales juſtly and righteouſly is, and ever hath been incorporated, annexed, united, and ſubject to and under the temporal Crown of this Realm, as a very member and joynt of the ſame, whereof the Kings moſt Royal Majeſty of meer droit, and very right, is very Head, King, Lord, and Ruler: Yet notwithſtanding, becauſe that in the ſame Countrey, Principality, and Dominion, divers rights, uſages, laws, and cuſtoms be far diſcrepant from the laws and cuſtoms of this Realm, and alſo becauſe that the people of the ſame Dominion have, and do daily uſe a ſpeech nothing like, ne conſonant to the natural mother tongue uſed within this Realm, ſome rude and ignorant people have made diſtinction and diverſity between the Kings ſubjects of this Realm, and his ſubjects of the ſaid Dominion and Principality of Wales, whereby great diſcord, variance, debate, diviſion, murmur, and ſedition hath grown between his ſaid ſubjects: His Highneſs therefore of a ſingular zeal, love, and favour that he beareth towards his ſubjects of his ſaid Dominion of Wales, minding and intending to reduce them to the perfect order, notice, and knowledge of his Laws of this his Realm, and utterly to extirp all and ſingular the ſiniſter uſages and cuſtoms differing from the ſame, and to bring his ſaid ſubjects of this his Realm, and of his ſaid Dominion of Wales to an amiable concord and unity, hath by deliberate advice, conſent, and agreement of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, ordained, enacted, and eſtabliſhed, That his ſaid Countrey or Dominion

Dyer [illegible] Plowd. [illegible]

And that all and ſingular perſon and perſons inheritable to any manors, lands, tenements, reverſions, ſervices, or other hereditaments, which ſhall deſcend after the Feaſt of All-Saints next coming, within the ſaid Principality, Countrey, or Dominion of Wales, or within any particular Lordſhip, part or parcel of the ſaid Countrey or Dominion of Wales, ſhall for ever from and after the ſaid Feaſt of All-Saints, inherit and be inheritable to the ſame manors, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, and hereditaments, after the Engliſh tenour, without diviſion or partition, and after the form of the Laws of this Realm of England, and not after any tenure, ne after the form of any Welſh Laws or cuſtoms. And that the Laws, Ordinances, and Statutes of this Realm of England for ever, and none other Laws, Ordinances, ne Statutes, from and after the Feaſt of All-Saints next coming, ſhall be had, uſed, practiſed, & executed in the ſaid Countrey or Dominion of Wales, and every part thereof, in like manner, form, & order as they be and ſhall be had, uſed, practiſed and executed in this Realm, and in ſuch like manner and form as hereafter by this Act ſhall be further eſtabliſhed and ordained; any act, ſtatute, uſage, cuſtom, preſident, liberty, priviledge, or other thing had, made, uſed, granted, or ſuffered to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Lordſhips marchers, and the diſorders committed therein.

Lordſhips marchers divided Shires.

The County of Monmouth, and the Towns within the ſame.

And foraſmuch as there be many and divers Lordſhips marchers within the ſaid Countrey or Dominion of Wales, lying between the Shires of England, and the Shires of the ſaid Countrey or Dominion of Wales, and being no parcel of any other Shires, where the Laws and due correction is uſed and had; by reaſon whereof hath enſued, and hath been practiſed, perpetrated, committed, and done, within and among the ſaid Lordſhips and Countreys to them adjoyning, manifold and divers deteſtable murders, brenning of houſes, robberies, thefts, routs, riots, unlawful aſſemblies, embraceries, maintenances, receiving of felons, oppreſſions, ruptures of the peace, and manifold other malefacts, contrary to all Laws and Juſtice; and the ſaid offenders thereupon making their refuge from Lordſhip to Lordſhip, were, and continued without puniſhment or correction. For due reformation whereof, and foraſmuch as divers and many of the ſaid Lordſhips marchers be now in the hands and poſſeſſion of our Sovereign Lord the King, and the ſmalleſt number of them in the poſſeſſion of other Lords, It is therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That divers of the ſaid Lordſhips marchers ſhall be united, annexed, and joyned to divers of the Shires of England, and divers of the ſaid Lordſhips marchers ſhall be united, annexed, and joyned to divers of the Shires of the ſaid Countrey or Dominion of Wales, in manner and form hereafter following. And that all the reſt of the ſaid Lordſhips marchers within the ſaid Countrey or Dominion of Wales, ſhall be ſevered and divided into certain particular Counties or Shires, that is to ſay, the County or Shire of Monmouth, the County or Shire of Brecknock, the County or Shire of Radnor, the County or Shire of Mountgomery, the County or Shire of Denbigh. And that the Lordſhips, Townſhips, Pariſhes, Commotes, and Cantreds of Monmouth, Chepſtow, Matherne, Llamnihangel, Magour, Goldecliffe Newport, Wenllonge, Llanwerne, Caerlion, Uſk, Treleck, Tintern, Skynfreth, Gronſmont, Wite-caſtle, Reglan, Calicote, Biſton, Abergevenny, Penroſe, Grenefield, Maghen, and Hochuyſlade in the Countrey of Wales, and all and ſingular Honours, Lordſhips, Caſtles, Manors, Lands, Tenements, & Hereditaments, lying or being within the compaſs or precinct of y ſaid Lordſhips, Townſhips, Hamlets, Pariſhes, Commotes, and Cantreds, & every of them, in whoſe poſſeſſion ſoever they be or ſhall be, & every part thereof, ſhall ſtand and be from and after the ſaid Feaſt of All-Saints guildable, and ſhall be reputed, accepted, named, & taken as parts and members of the ſaid Shire of Monmouth. And that the Town of Monmouth ſhall be named, accepted, reputed, uſed, had, & taken, head and Shire-town of the ſaid County or Shire of Monmouth. And that the Sheriffs County or Shire-court of and for the ſaid Shire or County of Monmouth, ſhall be holden and kept one time at the ſaid Town of Monmouth, and the next time at the Town of Newport in the ſame County or Shire, and ſo to be kept in the ſame two Towns alternis vicibus, and according to the Laws of this Realm of England for ever, and in none other places.

Actions for lands or other things to be ſued in the County of Monmouth.

The Kings Juſtices may award Venire facias into the County of Monmouth, and all other proceſs.

The inhabitants of the County of Monmouth obedient to the Kings Officers and Laws.

The Sheriffs and Eſcheators of Monmouths duties.

And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all actions reals hereafter ſhall be commenced or ſued for any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or any other thing within the ſaid County or Shire of Monmouth, and all actions perſonals within the ſame Shire or County of the ſum of xl. s. or above, and all actions mixt, ſhall be ſued by original writ out of the Kings high Court of Chancery in England, and heard, determined, and tried, before the Kings Juſtices in England, by Aſſiſe, or Niſi prius, within the ſaid County of Monmouth, in ſuch like manner, form, and wiſe, as all other actions reals, perſonals, and actions mixt, be ſued, heard, determined, and tried, in or for any Shire of this Realm of England. And that the Kings Juſtices of his Bench, or of his common Bench of Weſtminſter, ſhall have full power and authority to direct all manner proceſs to the Sheriff, and all other Officers of the ſaid County of Monmouth, and alſo to direct writs of Venire facias to the ſame Sheriff, for the trial of every iſſue joyned before them: and alſo to award Commiſſions of Niſi prius into the ſaid County of Monmouth, for the trial of ſuch iſſues joyned before them, in like manner and form as they do into every Shire of this Realm of England. And all and every the Kings ſubjects and inhabitants within the ſaid County of Monmouth, ſhall be for ever, from and after the ſaid Feaſt of All-Saints, obliged and bounden to be obedient and attendant to the Lord Chancellor of England, the Kings Juſtices, and other of the Kings moſt honourable Council, and unto all Laws, Cuſtoms, Ordinances, and Statutes of this Realm of England, in like manner, form, and wiſe, as all other the Kings ſubjects within every Shire of this Realm of England be obliged and bounden; any act, ſtatute, uſage, cuſtom, liberty, priviledge, or any other thing to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And that the Sheriff of the ſaid County ſhall hold plea of Replegiare, and all other ſuits and plaints under forty ſhillings, in his County or Shire-Court, in like manner and form as all other Sheriffs do within this Realm of England. And that the Sheriffs, Eſcheators, and Coroners, that hereafter ſhall be within the ſaid County or Shire of Monmouth, ſhall be obliged and bounden to execute all the Kings Proceſſes, and to make due returns thereof, and to uſe and exerciſe their offices according to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm of England, in all and every thing, as the Sheriffs, Eſcheators, and Coroners be obliged and bounden to do in all and every other Shire of this Realm of England. And that the Sheriffs and Eſcheators of the ſaid Shire or County of Monmouth that hereafter ſhall be appointed by our Sovereign Lord the King, make their accounts for their ſaid offices in the Kings Exchequer in England, in like manner and form as other Sheriffs and Eſcheators do within this Realm of England, and upon ſuch like pain and penalty as is upon other Sheriffs and Eſcheators in every other Shire within this Realm of England.

And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Juſtices, Commiſſioners, Sheriffs, Coroners, Eſcheators, Stewards, and their Lieutenants, and all other officers and miniſters of the Law ſhall proclaim & keep the Seſſions, Courts, Hundreds, Leets, Sheriffs Courts, and all other Courts in the Engliſh tongue: and all Oathes of Officers, Juries, and Inqueſts, and all other affidavits, verdicts, and wagers of law, to be given and done in the Engliſh tongue. And alſo that from henceforth no perſon or perſons that uſe the Welſh ſpeech, or language, ſhall have or enjoy any manner office or fees within this Realm of England, Wales, or other the Kings Dominion, upon pain of forfeiting the ſame offices or fees, unleſs he or they uſe and exerciſe the Engliſh ſpeech or language.

No perſon uſing Welſh ſpeech ſhall have any office or fee.

These Sheriffs ſhall put every miſruled perſon under common mainpriſe. 34 H. 8. 26.

And it it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to the Sheriff of every of the foreſaid Shires of Monmouth, Brecknock, Radnor, Mountgomery, and Denbigh, and every of them, to put every miſruled and ſuſpect perſon within their Sheriffwick, under common mainpriſe and ſurety of their perſonal apparance, as the Sheriffs do within every of the three Shires of North-wales. And that the recogniſances of ſuch common mainpriſe and ſurety of apparance, taken before any of the ſaid Sheriffs, ſhall be as good and effectual, as if it were taken by any Juſtice of Record.

Certificate of Recogniſance in Monmouth.

And that the Sheriff of the County of Monmouth ſhall certifie ſuch recogniſances, common mainpriſe, or ſurety of apparance at every quarter Seſſions, before the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſaid County of Monmouth. And that every perſon or perſons, within the ſaid County of Monmouth, put under common mainpriſe, and bound to his perſonal apparance, ſhall keep their perſonal apparance at the Seſſions holden within the ſaid Shire of Monmouth, next after the clauſe of Eaſter, and at the Seſſions to be holden within the ſaid Shire next after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, until ſuch time that they be thereof releaſed after the form of the Law.

Certificate of Recogniſances

And that every of the Sheriffs of the ſaid Counties of Brecknock, Radnor, Mountgomery, and Denbigh, and every of them ſhall certifie ſuch recogniſances, common mainpriſe, or ſurety of apparance by them taken, before ſuch Juſtice as ſhall be appointed by our Sovereign Lord the King within every of the ſaid Shires, at every Seſſions to be holden in any of the ſaid Shires before the ſame Juſtice.

Apparance of them which are bound.

And that every perſon and perſons within the ſaid Counties of Brecknock, Radnor, Mountgomery, and Denbigh: and alſo within the above named Counties of Glamorgan, Kaiermarden, Pembroke, and Cardigan, or any of them, put under common mainpriſe, and bound to his or their perſonal apparance, as well by the aforeſaid Sheriffs, as by the Juſtices of any of the ſaid Counties, ſhall keep their apparance before the ſaid Juſtices at every Seſſions within the ſaid Counties to be holden, in ſuch like manner and form, as is uſed in the three Shires of North-wales.

Lord marcher ſhall have half the forfeiture of his tenants. St. 1 & 2 P. & M. 15.

And for that the Lords Marchers before this preſent Parliament, have uſed to put their tenants within their Lordſhips marchers, under ſuch common mainpriſe and ſurety of apparance, and have had the forfeitures thereof, which for ever from and after the ſaid Feaſt of All-Saints ſhall utterly ceaſe and determine: Therefore be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after the ſaid Feaſt of All-Saints, every lay and temporal perſon now being a Lord marcher, ſhall have the moyety, or half of every forfeiture of all and every connnon mainpriſe, recogniſance for the peace of apparance, forfeited by any of their tenants, inhabiting within any of their Lordſhips marchers: and they to be paid the ſame [a] moyety or half by the hands of the Sheriffs, of every of the ſaid Counties where ſuch forfeitures ſhall be, if the Sheriff can levy the ſame: and the ſame Sheriff to accompt to our Sovereign Lord the King for the other half or moyety, in ſuch Eſchequer as they be accomptant.

Commiſſions to divide the Shires of Wales into Hundreds.

Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That immediately upon the prorogation, or diſſolution of this preſent Parliament, the Lord Chancellor of England ſhall direct the Kings Commiſſion under his Graces great Seal, to ſuch perſons as to him ſhall be thought convenient, to enquire and view, all the ſaid Shires of Kaiermarthen, Pembroke, Cardigan, Monmouth, Brecknock, Radnor, Mountgomery, Glamorgan, and Denbigh, and every part and parcel of them: and upon ſuch view and ſearch, to divide them and every of them into ſo many Hundreds, as they ſhall think moſt meeteſt and convenient: And the Hundreds ſo divided, ſhall return and certifie with the ſaid Commiſſion into the high Court of Chancery, before the ſaid Feaſt of All-Saints, and the ſame to remain of Record, and to be of ſuch force and effect as it were by Act of Parliament. And that the ſaid Hundreds, after the ſaid Certificate, ſhall be uſed and taken as other Hundreds be in every other Shire within this Realm of England.

Commiſſions to enquire the Laws and Cuſtoms of Wales.

Furthermore it is enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That immediately after the prorogation or diſſolution of this preſent Parliament, the Lord Chancellor of England ſhall direct the Kings Commiſſion under his Graces great Seal, to ſuch perſons as to him ſhall be thought convenient, to enquire and ſearch out by all ways and means that they can, all and ſingular laws, uſages and cuſtoms, uſed within the ſaid Dominion and Countrey of Wales: and the ſame ſhall return, and certifie to the Kings Highneſs, and his moſt honourable Council before the ſaid Feaſt of All-Saints next coming: and that upon deliberate advice thereof had and taken, all ſuch laws, uſages, and cuſtoms, as the Kings Highneſs and his ſaid moſt honourable Council ſhall think expedient, requiſite and neceſſary to be had, uſed and exerciſed in the before rehearſed Shires, or any of them, or in any other Shire of the Dominion or Countrey of Wales, ſhall ſtand, and be of full ſtrength, vertue and effect, and ſhall be for ever inviolably obſerved, had, uſed, and executed in the ſame Shires, as if this Act had never been had ne made: Any thing in the ſame Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Dyer f. 303.

The Knights for the Shire of Monmouth, and one Burgeſs for the Town.

And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That for this preſent Parliament, and all other Parliaments to be holden & kept for this Realm, two Knights ſhall be choſen and elected to the ſame Parliament for the Shire of Monmouth, & one Burgeſs for the Borough of Monmouth, in like manner, form and order, as Knights and Burgeſſes of the Parliament be elected and choſen in all other Shires of this Realm of England: And that the ſame Knights and Burgeſſes ſhall have like dignity, preeminence, and priviledge, and ſhall be allowed ſuch fees as other Knights and Burgeſſes of the Parliament have been allowed: And the Knights fees to be levied, perceived, received, gathered and paid in ſuch manner, form and order, as ſuch fees be gathered, levied, perceived, received & paid in other Shires of this Realm of England: And the Burgeſſes fees to be levied as well within the Borough of Monmouth, as within all other ancient Boroughs within the ſaid Shire of Monmouth.

Knights and Burgeſſes for the Parliament in Wales, and their fees. 34 & 35 H 8.26.

And that for this preſent Parliament, and all other Parliaments to be holden and kept for this Realm, one Knight ſhall be choſen and elected to the ſame Parliaments for every of the Shires of Brecknock, Radnor, Mountgomery, and Denbigh, and for every other Shire within the ſaid Countrey or Dominion of Wales: and for every Borough being a Shire-town within the ſaid Countrey or Dominion of Wales, except the Shire-town of the foreſaid County of Mereoneth, one Burgeſs: and the election to be in like manner, form and order, as Knights and Burgeſſes of the Parliament be elected and choſen in other Shires of this Realm. And that the Knights and Burgeſſes, and every of them, ſhall have like dignity, preeminence and priviledge, and ſhall be allowed ſuch fees as other Knights of the Parliament have, and be allowed: And the Knights fees to be levied and gathered of the Commons of the Shire that they be elected in: and the Burgeſſes fees to be levied and gathered as well of the Boroughs and Shire-towns, as they be Burgeſſes of, as of all other ancient Boroughs within the ſame Shires.

Lords marchers ſhall keep their liberties.

And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every lay and temporal perſon and perſons, now being Lords marchers, & having any Lordſhips marchers or Lordſhips royal, ſhall from and after the ſaid Feaſt of All-Saints, have all ſuch meſes and profits of their tenants as they have had, or uſed to have, at the firſt entry into their hands in times paſt: and alſo have, hold and keep within the precinct of their Lordſhips, Courts baron, Court leets, and Lawdays, and all and every thing to the ſame Courts belonging. And alſo ſhall have within the precinct of the ſaid Lordſhips, or Lawday, Waife, Straife, Infanthef, Outfanthef, Treaſuretrove, Deodands, goods and cattels of felons, and of perſons condemned, or outlawed of felony or murther, put in Exigent for felony or murther, and alſo Wreck de mer, Wharfage, and cuſtoms of ſtrangers, as they have had in times paſt, and as though ſuch priviledges were granted unto them by our Sovereign Lord the King, by point of Charter: any thing in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The cuſtoms of North-wales and the County Palatine of Lancaſter ſaved.

Provided alway, That this preſent Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall take away, or derogate any laws, uſages, or laudable cuſtoms now uſed within the three Shires of North-wales, nor ſhall not deprive, nor take away the whole liberties of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, but that the ſaid liberties ſhall continue, and be uſed in every Lordſhip parcel of the ſaid Dutchy, within the Dominion or Countrey of Wales, as the liberties of the ſaid Dutchy be uſed, in Shire-ground, and not County Palatine within this Realm of England.

A reſervation of Patents.

Earl of Worceſter Juſtice of Glamorgan.

Provided alſo, That this Act nor any thing therein contained, be not in any wiſe prejudicial to the right Honourable Henry Earl of Worceſter, for the exerciſing, uſing, and occupying of the Office of the Juſtice of the whole County of Glamorgan: any thing in this preſent Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

St. 26 H. 8. 6.

Provided alſo, That this Act nor any thing therein contained, extend not to deprive, take away, or derogate any other Acts before this time made for the trial of treaſon, murder, or felonies, or acceſſaries of the ſame committed and done in any Lordſhip Marcher in Wales, or in the next Shires of England adjoyning to the ſaid Lordſhip Marcher.

Lands partable. Alt. 34 H. 8. 26.

Provided alway, That lands, tenements, and hereditaments, lying in the ſaid Countrey and Dominion of Wales, which have been uſed, time out of mind, by the laudable cuſtoms of the ſaid Countrey, to be departed and departable among iſſues and heirs males, ſhall ſtill ſo continue and be uſed in like form, faſhion, and condition, as if this Act had never been had nor made, any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The King may ſuſpend or revoke this Statute.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Kings Highneſs notwithſtanding this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall have power and authority for the term of three years next after the end and diſſolution of this preſent Parliament, to ſuſpend for ſuch time as ſhall pleaſe his Grace, or utterly to repeal, revoke, and abrogate this whole Act, or any part thereof from time to time, as ſhall ſtand with his moſt gracious pleaſure, ſo that every ſuch ſuſpending, repeal and revocation from time to time, as often as any ſuch caſe ſhall happen, ſhall be made in writing under the Great Seal of England, and be annexed to the roll of this preſent Parliament, wherein this Act ſhall be enrolled, and Proclamations thereupon to be made in every Shire within the ſaid Countrey and Dominion of Wales. And that every ſuch ſuſpending, repeal, and revocation ſo to be had and made by the Kings Highneſs, ſhall be as good and effectual to all intents and purpoſes, as if the ſame had been done by authority of this preſent Parliament: this Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The King may erect in Wales ſo many Courts and Juſtices, &c. as he will.

And where by this preſent Act there is appointed one Chancery and one Exchequer at Brecknock, and another Chancery and Exchequer at Denbigh, it is enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the Kings Highneſs from time to time within the term of five years next after the end of this Parliament, for due miniſtration of Juſtice in the ſaid Countrey of Wales, ſhall have power and authority to erect, make and ordain ſuch a Court or Courts, and ſo many Courts of Record, and ſuch and ſo many Juſtices, Miniſters, Officers and Clerks, as by his Highneſs within the time of five years next after the end of this preſent Parliament ſhall be thought ſufficient and convenient as well for the due execution of this Act, or of any thing or things that ſhall be had, done, or made by authority of the ſame, as for the good governance and rule of the ſaid Countrey of Wales.

The office of Protonotary and Clerk of the Crown.

Provided alway, That this Act or any thing or things to be done by authority thereof, ſhall not be prejudicial to any perſon or perſons, which now have by the Kings Letters Patents any Office or Offices of Protonotary, or Clerk of the Crown in the ſaid Countrey or Dominion of VVales, but that they and every of them ſhall and may ſtill have, and uſe their Offices, in as large and ample manner, form, faſhion, and condition, as if this Act, nor any thing to be done by authority thereof had never been had or made: any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Lord Ferrers offices in Wales reſerved.

Provided alſo, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, extend not, or in any wiſe be prejudicial or hurtful to Sir VValter Devereux Knight of the noble Order of the Garter, and Lord Ferrers of Chartley, of, for, and concerning the offices of chief Juſtice of South-wales, the office of Chamberlain of South-wales, and of the Counties of Carmarden and Cardigan in South-wales, aforeſaid. And of, and for the office of the Stewardſhip of the Lordſhip of Bealth in the marches of South-wales, and of, and for the office of Receivorſhip of the ſaid Lordſhip of Bealth: or of, for, or concerning any of the ſaid offices: but that the ſaid Lord Ferrers may have, uſe, exerciſe, and enjoy the ſaid offices, any and every of them, with all fees, wages, emoluments, commodities, and profits to the ſame offices or to any of them in any wiſe belonging and appertaining, in as large and ample manner, form and condition, as if this Act had never been had or made. CAP. XXVII.

The eſtabliſhing the Court of Augmentations, and the order thereof.

All Monaſteries given to the King which had not in lands above CC.l. by year. 27 H. 8. 28.

Co. Inſt. 4. 111.

Foraſmuch as in this preſent Parliament, begun at London in the third day of November, in the one and twentieth year of the Reign of the King our Sovereign Lord, and from thence adjourned to VVeſtminſter, and there holden, and from that time continued by divers Prorogations unto the fourth day of February, in the xxvij. year of his moſt noble Reign, and then there holden, it is enacted, ordained, eſtabliſhed, by the aſſent of the Kings Majeſty, his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That his Majeſty ſhould have and enjoy, to him, his Heirs and Succeſſors for ever, all and ſingular ſuch Monaſteries, Priories, and other Religious houſes of Monks, Canons, and Nuns, of what kinds or diverſities of habits, rules, or orders ſoever they be called or named, which have not lands, tenements, rents, tithes, penſions, & other hereditaments above the clear yearly value of two hundred pounds: and all the ſites and circuits of all ſuch Religious houſes, and all and ſingular the manors, granges, meſes, lands, tenements, reverſions, rents, ſervices, tythes, penſions, portions, advowſons, patronages, rights, entrees, conditions, and other hereditaments appertaining and belonging to every ſuch Monaſtery, Priory, and other Religious houſe, not having, as is aforeſaid, lands and tenements above the ſaid clear yearly value of two hundred pounds, in as large and ample manner as the Abbots, Priors, Abbeſſes, Prioreſſes, and other Governours of ſuch Monaſteries, Priories, and other Religious houſes then had or ought to have had the ſame in the right of their houſes: and that his Highneſs ſhall have to him and to his Heirs, all and ſingular ſuch Monaſteries, Abbies, and Priories, which at any time within one year next afore the making of the ſaid Act, have been given and granted to his Majeſty by any Abbot, Prior, Abbeſs, or Prioreſs, under their convent Seals, or that otherwiſe have been ſuppreſſed or diſſolved: and all and ſingular the manors, lands, tenements, rents, ſervices, reverſions, tithes, penſions, portions, Churches, Chappels, advowſons, patronages, rights, entrees, conditions, and all other intereſts and hereditaments, to the ſame Monaſteries, Abbies, or Priories, or to any of them appertaining or belonging, to do and uſe therewith his and their own wills, to the pleaſure of Almighty God, and to the honour and profit of this Realm.

The King ſhall have all Monaſteries and their lands which were ſurrendred unto him, or ſuppreſſed within one year before.

And further it is ordained by the ſaid Act, That the Kings Majeſty ſhould have and enjoy all ſuch ornaments, jewels, goods, cattels, and debts, which appertained or belonged to any of the chief Governours of the ſaid Monaſteries or Religious houſes, in right of their ſaid Monaſteries or houſes at the firſt day of March, in the year of our Lord God, MDXXXV. or at at any time ſithen, whereſoever, and to whoſe poſſeſſions ſoever they ſhall come or be found, except ſuch goods, cattels, and other things, excepted and foreprized in the ſaid Act, as by the ſame Act among other things more plainly at large may appear.

The King ſhall have all the goods and debts of the ſaid Monaſteries.

For the more ſurety and eſtabliſhment whereof, and to the intent that the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall be yearly, as well truly and juſtly anſwered, contented, and paid of the rents, ferms, iſſues, revenues, and profits, riſing, coming, & growing of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments before ſpecified, as of the goods, cattels, plate, ſtuff of houſhold, debts, money, ſtock, ſtore, and other whatſoever profit and commodity given, granted, or appointed, to the Kings Majeſty, by the ſame, in ſuch Court, place, form, manner, and condition, as hereafter ſhall be limited, declared, and appointed. Be it enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed by the aſſent of the Kings Majeſty, his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, in manner and form as hereafter followeth in Articles; that is to ſay,

The cauſe of the erection of the Court of Augmentations.

ſhall truly keep, and diſpend, and true declaration and accompt thereof ſhall make from time to time without any concealment, according to this Act made for the eſtabliſhment of this Court, and further ſhall do every thing that of right appertains to your Office: So help you God, and all Saints.

Attornies oath. Sollicitors oath.

Alſo either of the ſaid Attorney and Sollicitor ſhall take a corporal oath before the ſaid Chancellor according to the tenour enſuing: Ye ſhall ſwear, That ye well and truly ſhall ſerve the King as his Attorney, in all Courts, for or concerning any matter or cauſe that ſhall concern or touch the poſſeſſions and hereditaments limited to the ſurvey and governance of this Court, and procure the Kings profit thereof; and that ye ſhall truly counſel the King, and his Chancellor of this Court, in all things concerning the ſame, to the beſt of your cunning, wit, and power, and with all ſpeed and diligence, from time to time, at the calling of the ſaid Chancellor, you ſhall endeavour your ſelf for the hearing and determination indifferently of ſuch matters and cauſes as ſhall depend before the ſaid Chancellor; and that ye ſhall not take any gift or reward in any matter or cauſe depending in the ſame Court, or elſewhere, wherein the King ſhall be party, whereby the Kings Majeſty ſhall be hurted, hindered, or diſherited; and further do all and every thing that ſhall appertain to your office: So help you God, and all Saints.

The Auditors oath.

Alſo that every of the ſaid Auditors ſhall take a corporal oath before the ſaid Chancellor after the tenour enſuing: Ye ſhall ſwear, That ye ſhall well and truly ſerve the King in your office, and true allowance make to every perſon which ſhall be accomptant before you; ye ſhall not take nor receive of poor or rich, any gift or reward, in any matter or cauſe depending or to be diſcuſſed in the ſame Court, but ſuch that ſhall be your ordinary fees; and ye ſhall do all and every other thing which ſhall appertain to your office: So help you God, and all Saints.

The Receivers oath.

Alſo that every of the ſaid particular Receivers ſhall take a corporal oath before the ſaid Chancellor after the tenor enſuing: Ye ſhall ſwear, That ye truly ſhall ſerve the King in your office, and nothing conceal, but true accompt make of all ſuch revenues, rents, ſums of money, and other profits wherewith ye ſhall be lawfully charged by reaſon of your office; ye ſhall make no petition, nor aſk allowance, but ſuch as ſhall be good, juſt, true, and reaſonable; and ye ſhall do all and every thing and things which you ought to do by reaſon of your office, according to the form and effect of this Act: So help you God, and all Saints.

The Clerks oath.

Alſo that the ſaid Clerk of the Counſel ſhall take a corporal oath before the ſaid Chancellor after the tenor enſuing: Ye ſhall ſwear, That ye ſhall well and truly ſerve the King in your office of Clerk of the Councel of this Court, and truly do and execute all and every thing and things, which ye ought to do by reaſon of your office, according to the form and effect of this Act: So help you God, and all Saints.

What lands ſhall be within ſentence and governance of the Court of Augmentations.

Alſo be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all the ſaid Monaſteries, Priories, and other Religious houſes which be diſſolved, and come or ſhall come to the Kings Highneſs, by the Act aforeſaid, and all the manors, meaſes, lands, tenements, rents, ſervices, tithes, penſions, portions, advouſons, patronages, and all hereditaments, appertaining or belonging to any of the ſaid Monaſteries, Priories, or other Religious houſes, ſhall be in the order, ſurvey, and governance of the ſaid Court, and of the Officers and miniſters thereof; and all the ferms, iſſues, revenues, and profits, coming and growing of the premiſſes, or any part thereof, ſhall be taken and received to the Kings uſe by the miniſters and officers of the ſame Court, in manner and form as hereafter ſhall be declared. Except always, and reſerved ſuch and as many of the ſame Monaſteries, Priories, and Houſes, with all their hereditaments, poſſeſſions, goods, and cattels, which the Kings Majeſty, by his Letters Patents under his Great Seal, ſhall declare and limit to continue and be in their eſſential eſtate, and to perſevere in the body and corporation, as they were before the making of the ſaid Act.

There ſhall be in the governance of the Court of Augmentations all Abbey lands, and all purchaſed lands.

Alſo be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all thoſe manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, which the Kings Highneſs hath purchaſed, and now remain in his Graces hands, or in the hands or poſſeſſion of any perſon or perſons to his uſe, and which hereafter his Highneſs ſhall purchaſe, ſhall be and remain in the order, ſurvey, and governance of the ſaid Court, in form as is above rehearſed.

All writings ſhall be made by the Clerk of the Court of Augmentations.

Alſo be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all gifts, grants, releaſes, confirmations, leaſes, letters patents, and other writings which ſhall be in the name of the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, of any eſtate of free-hold onely, or for term of any years, or at will, or at pleaſure, of any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, whatſoever they be, which be before aſſigned to the order, ſurvey, & governance of the ſaid Court, or of any rent, charges, annuities, next avoidance of advowſons, offices, or wards, to be given, letten, or granted out of the ſame, or any part thereof, or by any means concerning the ſaid Court, or any of the premiſſes committed to the ſurvey of the ſaid Court, to any perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, or of any office appertaining or belonging to the ſaid Court of Augmentation, ſhall be made by the Clerk of the ſaid Court, or his deputy or deputies, and ſubſcribed with his own proper hand and name, and ſealed with the Great Seal aſſigned to and for the ſaid Court. And that all and every ſuch gifts, grants, releaſes, confirmations, leaſes, letters patents, and other writings, which ſhall be made and ſealed, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be good and effectual in the Law, without livery and ſeiſin, or atturnment againſt the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors according to the tenors, purports, and effects of ſuch gifts, grants, releaſes, confirmations, leaſes, letters patents, or other writings ſo to be made; and that the ſaid Chancellor upon every warrant to be directed to him under the Kings ſign manual, ſhall have power and authority to cauſe to be made by the ſaid Clerk of the ſaid Court, or his deputy or deputies, in due order and form, all ſuch gifts, grants, releaſes, confirmations, leaſes, letters patents, or other writings,

And that the ſaid Chancellor ſhall have power and authority to take ſurrender of any leaſes, or letters patents, that ſhall be made under the ſaid Seal in his cuſtody, & to make cancellation of ſuch leaſes and letters patents that ſhall be to him ſurrendred, and cauſe the day, time, and year of every ſuch ſurrender to be regiſtred and enrolled by the ſaid Clerk of the ſaid Court.

Surrender of leaſes or letters patents.

The Chancellor, &c. may make wood-ſales, and leaſes for one and twenty years without the Kings warrant.

Alſo the ſaid Chancellor, by the conſent of the Treaſurer, Attorney, and Sollicitor, or two of them, without any warrant from the Kings Highneſs, ſhall have power and authority to make any wood-ſales in or upon any the manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, limited to the order, ſurvey, and governance of the ſaid Court. And ſhall alſo have like power and authority in the Kings name, to make leaſes for term of one and twenty years, and not above, by letters patents, to be written by the ſaid Clerk of the ſame Court, and his deputy or deputies, and the name of the ſaid Clerk of the ſame Court, as is aforeſaid, to be ſubſcribed, and to be ſealed with the ſaid Great Seal, of any of the manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments afore mentioned, which be appointed, or hereafter ſhall happen to be in the order and governance of the ſaid Court, the ſaid Chancellor and other Officer and Officers, taking for his or their fees thereof, as is aforeſaid. And that every leaſe ſo to be made, ſhall be good and effectual in the Law againſt the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, according to the tenour and effect of the ſame. Provided alway, That upon every ſuch leaſe to be made by the ſaid Chancellor, there ſhall be reſerved to the Kings Highneſs, and to his Heirs, ſo much yearly rent and profit as the lands, tenements, or hereditaments compriſed in ſuch leaſes, have been letten heretofore, or more, or after ſuch yearly value as they ſhall be certified by the Kings Commiſſioners into the ſaid Court. Provided alſo, That no leaſes for term of years ſhall be made of any reverſion, without the Kings eſpecial warrant for the ſame.

The Clerk of the Court ſhall regiſter all aſſurances and appearances, acts, decrees, and orders.

Alſo the ſaid Clerk of the ſaid Court ſhall enroll and regiſter in a great book in parchment, all and every thoſe gifts, grants, releaſes, confirmations, leaſes, letters patents, and all other writings, which ſhall be made and granted under the Great Seal, and alſo the day, time and year of the ſurrender of any of them, when any ſuch ſurrender ſhall happen, which regiſter of enrolments ſhall remain and be ſafely kept in the ſaid Court, as a record to the Kings uſe, by the appointment of the ſaid Chancellor. And that alſo the ſaid Clerk ſhall enter in a book the apparances of every perſon that ſhall be called to appear before the ſaid Chancellor, and all acts, decrees, and orders, that ſhall be made by the ſaid Chancellor and Councel, taking ſuch fees for the ſame, and for writing and enrolling of any gifts, grants, releaſes, confirmations, leaſes, letters patents, or other writings, as the Clerk of the Dutchy of Lancaſter hath been accuſtomed to take and have.

A tenour in Capite reſerved to the King, and a tenth out of Abbey lands granted in fee.
Stat. 35 H. 8. 14.
37 H. 8. 20.
7 Ed. 6. 3.

Alſo it is enacted by authority aforeſaid, That upon all and ſingular letters patents, to be made under the Great Seal of England, or any manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments belonging or appertaining to any of the ſaid houſes compriſed in the ſaid Act, and committed to the ſurvey of the ſaid Court, to any perſon or perſons, or body politick, for any eſtate of inheritance, there ſhall be always reſerved to the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, a tenour by Knights ſervice in Capite, and a yearly rent of the tenth part of the yearly value of the lands to be compriſed in every ſuch letters patents, according to ſuch rate as the ſame manors, lands, and tenements given, ſhall be expreſſed to be of yearly value, in the ſame letters patents; any thing or clauſe contained in any warrant to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. And that the ſaid rent ſo reſerved upon any ſuch eſtate, ſhall be contented and paid to the Officers of the ſaid Court to the Kings uſe, according as other revenues there ſhall be paid: and that none averment ſhall be made or admitted by or for the King, or any other perſon, that the ſame manors, lands, and tenements, be of more yearly value then in the ſame letters patents ſhall be declared.

No lands ſhall be averred to be of greater value then be compriſed in the letters patents.

The Chancellor may take recogniſances for all the Kings debts and duties.
33 H. 8. 22.

Alſo the ſaid Chancellor ſhall have power and authority to take recogniſances of every particular Receiver, which ſhall be aſſigned for the ſaid Court, and of his ſureties, for the ſure paiment of his receits: and alſo to take recogniſances in the Kings name of every Fermer, Bailiff, Reue, or other accomptants, for the true paiment of receits, and of every perſon and perſons which ſhall be indebted to the Kings Highneſs for any arrerages of his receit, ferm, or charge, and for any other cauſe, for and concerning any of the premiſſes, and that all ſuch recogniſances of what ſum ſoever they be, ſhall be as good and effectual in the Law, to all intents and purpoſes, as recogniſances taken in the Kings Chancery, or elſewhere before any Judge of Record.

Awarding of Scire facias under the great Seal of the Court.

Alſo it is ordained by authority aforeſaid, That the Chancellor of the ſame Court for the time being, ſhall have full power and authority to award writs of Scire facias under the Great Seal of his Office, upon every ſuch recogniſance in the ſaid Court to be taken, if caſe ſo require, and to hold plee upon the ſame, and to award execution to all intents and purpoſes, as is uſed and accuſtomed to be done in the Kings High Court of Chancery. Provided alway, That if any iſſue or trial, triable by the verdict of twelve men, fortune to ariſe in the pleading of the ſame, that then in every ſuch caſe, the ſaid Chancellor ſhall and may deliver the record thereof to the Juſtices of the Kings Bench for the time being, and thereupon the ſaid Court of the Kings Bench to do every thing for the trial of the ſame iſſue, as they ought to do in caſe the ſaid iſſue or trial had been ſent or delivered to them out of the Kings Court of Chancery. And after the trial thereof in due form had, and the judgment thereupon given, the Juſtices of the Kings Bench to have power to award execution accordingly, and the money thereof coming, to be delivered by the Trials of iſſues ſhall be in the Kings Bench.

ſame Juſtices or Clerk of the papers of the ſame Court, to the Treaſurer of the ſaid Court of Augmentations to the Kings uſe.

Proceſſes and precepts awarded under the privy ſeal.

Alſo that the ſaid Chancellor for the time being, ſhall have full power and authority to award under the privy Seal appointed to the ſaid Court, in the Kings name, ſuch proceſs and precepts, with reaſonable pains to be therein limited, as be now commonly uſed in the Court of the Kings Dutchy-chamber of Lancaſter being at Weſtminſter, againſt every perſon or perſons whatſoever they be, for, and concerning the intereſt and title of the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, of, in, or to any of the premiſſes limited to the ſurvey and governance of the ſaid Court: or of, or for any rent, accompt, receipt, or ſervices in anywiſe touching or concerning the ſame premiſſes, or any part of them, for, and on the behalf of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, or of, or for any debt riſing or growing by occaſion of the ſame.

The Atturny and Sollicitors duties.

Alſo it is ordained by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Attorney and Sollicitor ſhall diligently from time to time attend upon the Chancellor of the ſaid Court, for the hearing and ordering of matters and cauſes of the ſaid Court; and procure with all diligence, that all rents, farms, profits, caſualties, improvements, and all other emoluments of the manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, being in the ſurvey and governance of the ſaid Court, ſhall be truly and juſtly paid and anſwered to the Treaſurer of the ſaid Court, to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs without concealing any part thereof. And ſhall alſo cauſe and procure proceſs to be made againſt ſuch as ſhall be indebted to the Kings Highneſs, and their ſureties, of and for any part thereof from time to time, as the time or caſe ſhall require.

The penalty of an Officer concealing the Kings dues.

Alſo it is enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any of the ſaid Officers appointed for the ſame Court, do conceal or withdraw willingly any rents, revenues, caſualties, or other goods given to the King by the ſaid Act, that then the Officer ſo offending, ſhall loſe the double value of the thing ſo concealed or withdrawn.

The auditors and receivers duties.

And it is ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That every of the ſaid particular Auditors and Receivers ſhall be attendant upon the ſaid Chancellor from time to time, as cauſes ſhall require. And that every of the ſaid particular Receivers ſhall well, diligently, & effectually gather and levy to the Kings uſe, all ſuch farms, iſſues, and profits, as ſhall be limited to his charge, and diſtrain for the ſame if need require. And that every of the ſaid particular Receivers & Auditors ſo joyned together by the appointment of the ſaid Chancellor, ſhall well and truly ſurvey all manner of reparations needful to be done in or upon any of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments limited to his charge, and appoint the ſaid reparations to be done to the Kings moſt profit, and leaſt charge. And alſo to ſurvey the woods limited to their charge, and what wood-ſales ſhall be convenient to be made, and make certificate of the premiſſes from time to time to the ſaid Chancellor.

All the rents and profits of Religious lands ſhall be paid to the Treaſurer of the Augmentations.

Alſo it is ordained by authority aforeſaid, That all the rents, farms, iſſues, and profits of the ſaid Religious houſes, manors, lands, tenements, and all other the premiſſes, which be aſſigned to the order, ſurvey, and governance of the ſaid Court, as they ſhall grow due and be payable, ſhall be paid and delivered to the hands of the ſaid Treaſurer by every of the ſaid particular Receivers, to be ſafely kept to the Kings uſe: And that every acquittance, which ſhall be ſubſcribed with the name and hand of the ſaid Treaſurer made to any of the ſaid particular Receivers, or to any perſon or perſons, whereby ſhall appear that the ſaid Treaſurer ſhall have received of any of the ſaid particular Receivers, or other perſon or perſons,, any of the farms, rents, iſſues, and profits in the charge of the ſaid particular Receivers, or for any debt that ſhall be due to the Kings Highneſs by occaſion of the premiſſes, or any part thereof: or for any ſums of money, which the ſaid Treaſurer ſhall have power to receive for the Kings uſe by reaſon of his office: and all other acquittances made by any of the ſaid particular Receivers, to any whatſoever perſon for the receipt of any thing touching the premiſſes appointed to his or their charge, ſhall be a good and effectual diſcharge for every of the ſaid particular Receivers, and other whatſoever perſons aforeſaid, againſt the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors for ever.

The Treaſurer and particular Receivers accompts.

Alſo it is ordained, That the ſaid Treaſurer ſhall yearly account before the ſaid Chancellor, and ſuch two or moe of the ſaid Auditors as the ſaid Chancellor ſhall appoint. And that every of the ſaid particular Receivers ſhall yearly account before one of the ſaid ten Auditors, to be aſſigned to him by the ſaid Chancellor. And that every of the ſaid particular Receivers for the year to be ended at the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, ſhall make and finiſh his account before the twentieth day of March next after the ſame Feaſt enſuing. And that the ſaid Treaſurer ſhall yearly finiſh his account before the laſt day of April next after following.

The auditors ſhall be aſſigned their particular charges.

Alſo it is enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Chancellor by the conſent of the ſaid Treaſurer, Attorney, and Solliciter, or two of them, ſhall divide to every particular Receiver, ſuch portion as every of them ſhall receive of the ſaid Religious houſes, manors, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments aforeſaid, and ſhall alſo proportion the ſaid Religious houſes and other the premiſſes in ten parts; and ſhall aſſign to every part thereof, one of the ſaid ten Auditors, and that every of the ſaid ten Auditors, as they ſhall be aſſigned, ſhall yearly ride to the part to him to be limited, between the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel and Chriſtmas, and take the accounts of all Bailiffs, Reves, Farmers, Tenants, and occupiers of the manors, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, within the limits of his aſſignment.

The Auditors and Receivers upon warning given ſhall aſſemble.

Alſo it is enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Auditors and particular Receivers, at all times, upon warning given to them by the ſaid Chancellor, ſhall aſſemble together, as well for the ordering of the ſaid Religious houſes, manors, lands, tenements, and other the premiſſes, as of the tenants of the ſame, from time to time, as the caſe ſhall require, as for the viewing and determination of the ſaid accounts to be made thereof.

Alſo it is ordained by authority aforeſaid, That all the accounts of every year, to be ended at the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, as well of the ſaid particular Receivers, Bailiffs, Reues, Farmers, Tenants and occupiers of the ſaid houſes, manors, lands tenements, and other hereditaments aforeſaid, as of the ſaid Treaſurer, ſhall be well and perfectly engroſſed in parchment by the ſaid Auditors, and delivered to the ſaid Chancellor, ſafely to be kept to the Kings uſe, every year yearly before the firſt day of May next enſuing the ſaid feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, upon pain to forfeit and loſe their offices.

All accompts ſhall be engroſſed in Parchment.

Alſo it is enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Auditors, and other officers and miniſters of the ſaid Court for the time being, ſhall yearly perceive and take by the hands of the ſaid Treaſurer, particular Receivers, and all other officers and miniſters accomptant, all and ſingular ſuch like diets, rewards, profits and commodities, as well for their attendance upon the ſaid Chancellor for the time being, and for making of books, declarations and values, as for other matters and cauſes, of for, or concerning the ſaid Court: and alſo for the expences, coſts and charges of the ſaid Auditors and particular Receivers, and every of them, yearly riding there ſeveral circuits and limitations, in as large and ample manner and form as the Kings Auditors of his Dutchy of Lancaſter, and other officers and miniſters there, do yearly perceive, receive, take, and be allowed, in, for, and about any ſuch like matters, cauſes, and buſineſſes: and that the ſaid Auditors for the time being, and every of them, ſhall have power and authority to allow the ſame.

Diets, rewards and other duties allowed to Auditors and other officers.

Alſo it is ordained by authority aforeſaid, That all reparations and buildings which ſhall be done from time to time, in, or upon any the premiſſes, ſhall be done and made by the order and commandment of the ſaid Chancellor, by the conſent of the ſaid Treaſurer, Atturney, and Solicitor, or two of them. And that the ſaid Treaſurer from time to time upon his account ſhall be allowed, as well of ſuch fee as ſhall be limited unto him for exerciſe of his office, as of and for all ſuch ſums of money as he ſhall pay to any patentee or patentees of any office, fee or annuity that ſhall be granted or given under the Seal of the ſaid Court. And alſo of all ſuch ſums of money as he ſhall pay to any other perſon or perſons, by vertue of the Kings warrant or bill aſſigned: and alſo ſuch ſums of money as he ſhall be commanded to pay by any bill aſſigned and ſubſcribed with the hands of the ſaid Chancellor, Atturney, and Sollicitor, or two of them, upon ſuch conſiderations as ſhall be thought convenient by their diſcretions. And that the ſaid Auditors, taking the accompts of the ſaid Treaſurer, or of any of the ſaid particular receivers ſhall have power and authority to allow to the Treaſurer the premiſſes, and every part thereof, and alſo to allow to every particular receiver and other accountants, as well their fees and wages, and all other ſuch ſums of money, as they or any of them ſhall pay for, in, and about any buildings or reparations, as all other honeſt and reaſonable petitions and allowances, in as large and ample manner, and after ſuch form, faſhion and condition, as the Kings Auditors of his Dutchy of Lancaſter do, may do, and have been accuſtomed to do, without any bill or warrant to be ſued for the ſame.

Allowance for reparations and buildings.

The Treaſurers allowance upon his accompt.

Alſo it is enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all manner of proceſs that ſhall be made out of the Kings Exchequer, to or againſt any perſon or perſons, for any farms, rents, iſſues, or profits concerning the premiſſes or any part thereof, limited by this Act to be in the ſurvey, order, and governance of the Court and the Miniſters thereof, ſhall be clearly void and of none effect.

No proceſs ſhall be awarded out of the Exchequer for any lands within the ſurvey of the Court of Augmentations.

Alſo it is ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Chancellor and Treaſurer ſhall yearly declare to the Kings Highneſs, the ſtate of the clear yearly value of the ſaid houſes, manors, lands, tenements, rents, penſions, portions, tithes, and other hereditaments, and how, where, and to whom they be imployed, and what remaineth thereof in the hands of the ſaid Treaſurer.

The King ſhall be yearly informed of the clear value of the Abbey lands.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all ſuch manors, meſuages, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, and other hereditaments, which in any manner wiſe ſhall come to, or be in the hands or poſſeſſion of our ſaid Soveraign the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, by authority of the ſaid former Act of Parliament, ſet, lying and being as well within the County Palatine of Lancaſter, as all other manors, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, and hereditaments, with their commodities and appurtenances, ſet, lying and being within this Realm of England, Wales, or either of them, out of the ſaid County Palatine, which be, or were appertaining or belonging unto the ſaid Monaſteries, or any of them, which were of the foundation of our ſaid Soveraign Lord, or any of his right noble progenitors, as Duke or Dukes of Lancaſter, may at the free will, liberty and pleaſure of our ſaid Lord be aſſigned, limited and appointed unto the order, ſurveying, receipts, letting and ſetting of the Chancellor and Officers of his ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter, in as large and ample manner and form, as the ſaid Chancellor and Officers of the ſaid Dutchy have, uſe and exerciſe at this preſent time, of, or upon, and in any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, appertaining or in any wiſe belonging unto the ſaid Dutchy; this Act, nor any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding. Stat. 33 Hen. 8. 39. 7 Ed. 6. 2. 1 M. 10. 1 El. 4.

Which of the foreſaid lands may be aſſigned to the ſurvey of the Dutchy Court of Lancaſter.

CAP. XXVIII.

All Monaſteries given to the King, which have not lands above two hundred pounds by the year.

HIs Majeſty ſhall have and enjoy to him and his heirs for ever, all and ſingular ſuch Monaſteries, Priories, and other religious houſes of Monks, Canons, and Nuns, of what kinds of diverſities of habits, rules or order ſoever they be called or named, which have not in lands, tenements, rents, tithes, portions, and other hereditaments, above the clear yearly value of two hundred pound. And in like manner ſhall have and enjoy all the ſites and circuits of every ſuch religious houſes, and all & ſingular the manors, granges, meſes, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices, tithes, penſions, Churches, Chappels, advowſons, ſons, patronages, annuities, rights, conditions, and other hereditaments appertaining or belonging to every ſuch Monaſtery, Priory, or religious houſe, not having, as is aforeſaid, above the ſaid clear yearly value of two hundred pound, in as large and ample manner as the Abbots, Priors, Abbeſſes, and other Governors of ſuch Monaſteries, Priories, and other religious houſes now have, or ought to have the ſame in the right of their houſes. And that alſo his Highneſs ſhall have to him and to his heirs, all and ſingular ſuch Monaſteries, Abbies and Priories, which at any time within one year next before the making of this Act hath been given and granted to his Majeſty, by any Abbot, Prior, Abbeſs or Prioreſs, under their Covent Seal, or that otherwiſe hath been ſuppreſſed or diſſolved, and all and ſingular the manors, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, tithes, penſions, portions, Churches, Chappels, advouſons, patronages, rights, entries, conditions, and all other intereſts and hereditaments to the ſame Monaſteries, Abbies and Priories, or to any of them appertaining or belonging. To have and to hold all and ſingular the premiſſes, with all their rights, profits, juriſdictions and commodities, unto the Kings Majeſty, and his Heirs and Aſſigns for ever, to do and uſe therewith his and their own wills, to the pleaſure of Almighty God, and to the honour and profit of this Realm.

Co. Inſt. 4 p. 44. All monaſteries given to the King which have not above two hundred pound lands.

The King ſhall have all monaſteries before aſſured to him, or that have been ſuppreſſed.

They ſhall enjoy thoſe Abbey lands to whom the King hath given them.

And be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all & every perſon and perſons, and bodies politick, which now have, or hereafter ſhall have any Letters Patents of the Kings Highneſs, of any of the ſites, circuits, manors, lands, tenements, reverſions, ſervices, tithes, penſions, portions, Churches, Chappels, advouſons, patronages, tithes, entries, conditions, intereſts, or other hereditaments, which appertained to any Monaſteries, Abbies, or Priories heretofore given or granted to the Kings Highneſs, or otherwiſe ſuppreſſed or diſſolved, or which appertaineth to any of the Monaſteries, Abbies, Priories, or other religious houſes, that ſhall be ſuppreſſed or diſſolved by the authority of this Act, ſhall have and enjoy the ſaid ſites, circuits, manors, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices, tithes, penſions, portions, Churches, Chappels, advouſons, patronages, tithes, entries, conditions, intereſts, and all other hereditaments contained and expreſſed in their Letters Patents now being thereof made, and to be contained and ſpecified in any Letters Patents hereafter to be made, according to the tenor, purport and effect of any ſuch Letters Patents: and ſhall alſo have all ſuch actions, ſuits, entries and remedies to all intents and purpoſes, for any thing or things contained in every ſuch Letters Patents now made, or to be contained in ſuch Letters hereafter to be made, in like manner form and conditions, as the Abbots, Priors, Abbeſſes, Priories, and other chief governors of any religious houſes which had the ſame, might or ought to have had, if they had not been ſuppreſſed or diſſolved.

A ſaving of the right of others.

Saving to every perſon and perſons, and bodies politick, their heirs and ſucceſſors (other then the Abbots, Priors, Abbeſſes, Prioreſſes, or other chief Governors of the ſame religious houſes ſpecified in this Act, and the covents of the ſame, and their ſucceſſors, and ſuch as pretend to be founders, patrons or donors of ſuch religious houſes, of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments belonging to the ſame, and their heirs and ſucceſſors) all ſuch right, title, intereſt, poſſeſſions, leaſes for years, rents, ſervices annuities, commodities, fees, liberties and livings, penſions, portions, corrodies, ſinodies, proxies, and all other profits as they or any of them hath, ought, or might have had in or to any of the ſaid Monaſteries, Abbies, Priories, or other religious houſes, or in or to any manors, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, tithes, penſions, portions, or other hereditaments appertaining or belonging, or that appertained to any of the ſaid Monaſteries, Priories, or other religious houſes, as if the ſame Monaſteries, Priories, and other religious houſes had not been ſuppreſſed by this Act, but had continued in their eſſential bodies and ſtates that they now be, or were in.

Fraudulent aſſurances made by governours of houſes before their diſſolutions ſhall be void.

Provided always, and be it enacted, That foraſmuch as divers of the chief Governors of ſuch religious houſes, &c. have lately fraudulently and craftily made feoffements, eſtates, gifts, grants and leaſes, under the Covent ſeals, or ſuffered recoveries of their manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments in fee-ſimple, fee-tail, for term of life or lives, or for years, or charged the ſame with rents or corrodies, to the great decay and diminution of the houſes: that all ſuch crafty and fraudulent recoveries, feoffements, eſtates, gifts, grants, & leaſes, and every of them made by any of the ſaid chief Governours of ſuch religious houſes, under their Covent ſeals, within one year next before the making of this Act, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect. Provided always, That ſuch perſon and perſons as have leaſes for term of life and years, whereupon is reſerved the old rents and ferms accuſtomed, and ſuch as have any offices, fees, or corrodies, that have been accuſtomed or uſed in ſuch religious houſes, and have bought any livery or living in any ſuch houſes, ſhall have and enjoy their ſaid leaſes, offices, fees, corrodies, liberties, liveries and livings, as if this Act had never been made.

Ornaments, jewels, goods, cattels, debts of monaſteries given to the King.

And it is further enacted, That the Kings Highneſs ſhall have and enjoy to his own proper uſe, all ſuch ornaments, jewels, goods, cattels, and debts which appertained or belonged to any of the chief Governors of the ſaid Monaſteries or religious houſes, in the right of their ſaid Monaſteries or houſes, at the firſt day of March, in the year of our Lord God 1535. or any time ſithen whatſoever, or to whoſe poſſeſſion ſoever they ſhall come or be found, except only ſuch beaſts, grain, and woods, and ſuch other like cattel and revenues as they have ſold before the ſaid firſt day of March, or ſithen for the neceſſary or reaſonable expences or charges of any the ſaid Monaſteries or houſes.

The King ſhall have the actual poſſeſſion of the Abbey lands.

And be it likewiſe enacted, That the Kings Highneſs ſhall have and enjoy according to this Act, the actual and real poſſeſſion of all and ſingular ſuch Monaſteries, Priories, and other religious houſes, as ſhall appear by the ſaid certificate remaining in ẏ Kings Exchequer, not to have in lands, tenements, rents, tithes, portions and other hereditaments, above the ſaid clear yearly value of two hundred pounds; ſo that his Highneſs may lawfully give, grant and diſpoſe them or any of them at his will and pleaſure, to the honour of God and the wealth of this Realm, without further inquiſitions or offices to be had or found for the ſame.

A proviſo for the Cells of other monaſteries being under obedience.

Provided always, That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend nor be prejudicial to any Abbots or Priors of any Monaſteries or Priories, being certified into the Kings Exchequer, to have in poſſeſſions and profits Spiritual and Temporal, above the ſaid clear yearly value of two hundred pounds, for, or concerning ſuch Cells of religious houſes, appertaining or belonging to their Monaſteries or Priories, in which Cells the Priors or other chief governours thereof, be under the obedience of the Abbots or Priors to whom ſuch Cells belong, as the Monks or Canons of the Covent of their Monaſteries or Priories, and cannot ſue, nor be ſued by the laws of this Realm, or by their own proper names, for the poſſeſſion or other things appertaining to ſuch Cells, whereof they be Priors or Governours, but muſt ſue and be ſued in and by the names of the Abbots or Priors, to whom they be now obediencers, and to whom ſuch Cells belong. And alſo the Priors or Governours, dative or removeable from time to time, and accounts of the profits of ſuch Cells, at the only pleaſure and will of the Abbots and Priors to whom ſuch Cells belong. But that every ſuch Cell ſhall be, and remain undiſſolved in the ſame eſtate, quality, and condition, as if this Act had never been made, any thing in this Act to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

The right of Founders and Patrons ſaved.

Saving always, And reſerving unto every perſon and perſons, being Founders, Patrons or Donors of any Abbies, Priories, or other religious houſes, that ſhall be ſuppreſſed by this Act, their heirs and ſucceſſors, all ſuch right, title, intereſt, poſſeſſion, rents, annuities, fees, offices, leaſes, commons, and all other profits whatſoever they be, which any of them have or ſhould have had without fraud or covin by any manner of means, otherwiſe than by reaſon or occaſion of the diſſolution of the ſaid Abbies, Priories or other religious houſes into or upon any of the ſaid Abbies, Priories or other religious houſes, whereof they be founders, patrons, or donors, or into, or upon any lands, tenements, or other hereditaments appertaining or belonging to the ſame, in like manner, form and condition, as other perſons or bodies politick be ſaved by this Act, as is afore rehearſed, and as if the ſaid Abbies, Priories, or other religious houſes had not been ſuppreſſed and diſſolved by this Act, but had continued ſtill in their eſſential bodies and eſtates as they be now, any thing in this Act to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

Hoſpitality and husbandry ſhall be kept upon the ſite of the houſes ſuppreſſed. Rep. 21 Jac. 28.

And further be it enacted, That all and ſingular perſons and bodies politick and corporate, to whom the Kings Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors hereafter ſhall give, grant, let or demiſe any ſite, or precinct, with the houſes thereupon builded, together with the demeans of any Monaſtery, Priories, or other religious houſes that ſhall be diſſolved, or given to the Kings Highneſs by this Act, his heirs, ſucceſſors or aſſignes, every ſuch perſon, body politick and corporate, ſhall be bound by authority of this Act under the penalties hereafter, to keep, or cauſe to be kept, an honeſt continual houſe and houſhold in the ſame ſite or precinct, and to occupy yearly as much of the demeans in plowing and tilling of huſbandry: that is to ſay, as much of the ſaid demeans, which hath been commonly uſed to be kept in tillage by the Governours, Abbots, or Priors of the ſame houſes, Monaſteries, Priories, or by their farmer or farmers, occupying the ſame within the time of twenty years next before this Act.

And if any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, that ſhall be bounden by this Act, do not keep an honeſt houſhold of husbandry and tillage, in manner and form as is aforeſaid, that then he or they ſo offending, ſhall forfeit to the Kings Highneſs for every month offending, ſix pounds thirteen ſhillings and four pence, to be recovered to his uſe in any of his Courts of Record,

Juſtices of Peace ſhall enquire of, and puniſh offenders.

And over that it is enacted, That all Juſtices of Peace in every Shire, where any ſuch offence ſhall be committed and done, contrary to the true meaning and intent of this preſent Act, ſhall in every quarter and general Seſſions within the limit of their commiſſion, inquire of the premiſſes, and ſhall have full power and authority to hear and determine the ſame, and to tax and aſſeſs no leſs fine for every of the ſaid offences, than is afore limited for the ſame offence, and eſtreats thereof to be made and certified into the Kings Exchequer, according, and at ſuch time and form, as other eſtreats of fines, iſſues and amerciaments been made by the ſame Juſtices. Anno viceſimo octavo Henrici octavi.

Acts made in the Parliament, begun and holden at Weſtminſter the eighth day of June, in the eight and twentieth year of the Reign of our moſt dread Soveraign Lord King Henry the eight, and there continued and kept till the diſſolution of the ſame Parliament, the eighteenth day of July. To the honour of God, and for the Common weal and profit of this Realm.

CAP. I.

Felons abjuring for petty treaſon, &c. ſhall not have Clergy.

Where in the laſt Parliament begun and holden at London, the third day of November, in the one and twentieth year of the Kings moſt Gracious Reign, and from thence adjourned to Weſtminſter, and there holden and continued by divers and ſundry prorogations, It was enacted amongſt other things, That ſuch perſon and perſons which did flee or reſort to any Pariſh Church, Cimitory, or other like hallowed place for tuition of his life, by occaſion of any murder, robbery, or other felony by the ſame perſon committed, and thereupon confeſſed any murder, felony, or other offence before a Crowner, for the which the ſame perſon by the Law of this Realm afore that time uſed, ſhould abjure, and paſs out of this Realm, ſhall be directed by the Crowner to take his abjuration to any one ſanctuary being within this Realm, which the ſame perſon would elect and chuſe, there to remain as a ſanctuary man abjured, during his natural life. And if after ſuch abjuration, any perſon ſo abjured came out of the ſame ſanctuary to the which he was aſſigned, and be taken without the ſame ſanctuary, not having the Kings ſpecial pardon or licence ſo to do: that then every ſuch perſon abjured, and after abjuration taken without Sanctuary, whereunto he was aſſigned, ſhould ſuffer like pain of death, and after ſuch like manner ſhould be ordered, as he ſhould have done, and biden, in caſe he had abjured this Realm for murder or felony: and after ſuch abjuration had returned again into this Realm, contrary to the Laws of this Land. And it was further ordained by the ſame Act, that if any ſuch ſanctuary perſon ſo abjured, or any other perſon or perſons which then were, or at any time after ſhould happen to be in any Sanctuary of this Realm, for doing of any petty Treaſon, Murder, or Felony, or for being acceſſary to any ſuch offences: or if any perſon or perſons, which at any time after the making of the ſame Act, ſhould take any Sanctuary of this Realm, for any petty Treaſon, Murder, or Felony, or for being acceſſary to any ſuch offences, or upon abjuration: and ſo being in Sanctuary for any ſuch cauſe, matter, or offence, afterward commit any petty Treaſon, Murder, or Felony, within the ſame Sanctuary, or be acceſſary to any ſuch offences, or go out of the ſame Sanctuary and commit any petty Treaſon, Murder, or Felony, or be acceſſary to any ſuch offences, and afterward come again to the ſame Sanctuary, or take any other Sanctuary for the ſame: that every ſuch perſon and perſons, being indicted for any of the ſaid cauſes of offences, ſhould loſe the priviledge of the Sanctuary by him taken, and every other Sanctuary within this Realm for any ſuch cauſe of petty treaſon, murder, felony, or abjuration, or for any acceſſary to any ſuch offences.

Trial of forrein Pleas.

And it was further ordained by the ſame act, That all forrain Pleas triable by the Country, which ſhould be pleaded by any perſon or perſons arraigned upon any indictment for any petty Treaſon, Murder, or Felony, ſhould be tried before the ſame Juſtices, afore whom ſuch perſons ſhould be arraigned, and by the ſame Jurors of the County, that ſhall try the petty Treaſon, Murder, or Felony, without any further reſpect or delay: and that no perſon arraigned for any petty Treaſon, Murder, or Felony, ſhould be admitted to any peremptory challenge above the number of xx. which Act was made to endure to the end of the next Parliament, as by the ſaid Act amongſt divers clauſes and proviſions contained in the ſame, more plainly is expreſſed.

No peremptory challenge above the number of twenty.

23 H. 8. 1.

And where alſo in the ſame Parliament it was enacted, That no perſon or perſons, which ſhould happen to be found guilty after the laws of this Realm, for any matter of petty treaſon, or for any wilful murder of malice prepenſed, or for robbing of any Churches, Chappels, or other holy places, or for robbing any perſon or perſons in their dwelling houſes or dwelling places, the owner or dweller in the ſaid houſe, his wife, his children, or ſervants then being within, and put in fear and dread by the ſame: or for robbing of any perſon or perſons in or near about the high-ways, or for wilful burning of any dwelling houſes or barnes, wherein any corn or grain ſhall happen to be: nor that any perſon or perſons being found guilty of any abetment, procurement, helping, maintaining or counſelling of, or to any ſuch petty treaſons, murders, or felonies, ſhould be admitted the benefit of their Clergy (ſuch as be within holy Orders, that is to ſay, of the orders of Subdeacon, or above, all onely except) with many other clauſes and proviſions contained in the ſaid Act, as by the ſame Act more plainly appeareth: which Act was alſo made to continue and endure to the laſt day of the next Parliament.

Clergy taken from divers perſons which do commit ſeveral offences.

And where alſo in the ſame Parliament, it was further enacted, That every ſuch perſon and perſons, which ſhould happen to be indicted of any petty treaſon, wilful burning of houſes, murder, robbery, or burglary, or other felony, according to the tenour or meaning of the ſaid eſtatute next above rehearſed, and thereupon arraigned, did ſtand mute of malice or froward mind, or challenge peremptory above the number of xx. or elſe will not anſwer directly to the ſame indictment and felony, whereupon they ſhall be arraigned: that then every ſuch perſon and perſons ſhould loſe the benefit and priviledge of their Clergy.

25 H. 8. 3.

And it was alſo ordained by the ſame Act, That if any perſon or perſons be indicted and found guilty for ſtealing of any goods or cattels, in any County of this Realm, or being indicted, ſtand mute of malice, or challenge peremptory above the number of twenty perſons, or will not anſwer directly to the Law, ſhould alſo loſe the benefit of their Clergy, in like manner and form as they ſhould have done, if they had been indicted, arraigned and found guilty in the ſame County, where the ſame robbery or burglary was done, if it ſhall appear to the Juſtices by evidence or examination, that the ſaid felons or robbers arraigned before them, ſhould or ought to have loſt their Clergy by force of the ſaid eſtatute, in caſe they had been found guilty of the ſame felonies or burglaries in the ſame Shire where they were committed, as by the ſaid Act amongſt other things more at large is expreſſed.

Anno 25 H.8.6. The Statute of 22 H.8.14. 23 H. 8. 1. 25 H. 8. 3. & 6. rehearſed and made to continue unto the next Parliament.

And whereas alſo in the ſaid Parliament it was further ordained, That the deteſtable vice of buggery, committed with mankind or beaſt, ſhould be felony, and that the offenders therein ſhould loſe the priviledge of their Clergy: which Act was made to endure to the laſt day of the next Parliament, as by the ſame Act among other things it appeareth more at large. For as much as the ſaid Acts be beneficial and profitable to the Commonwealth of this Realm: Be it therefore enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Acts and every of them, and all clauſes and proviſions contained in the ſame, ſhall ſtand in full ſtrength and vertue, and from henceforth to continue and endure unto the laſt day of the next Parliament.

And be it alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That ſuch as be within holy Orders, ſhall from henceforth ſtand and be under the ſame pains and dangers for the offences contained in any of the ſaid ſtatutes, and be uſed and ordered to all intents and purpoſes, as other perſons not being within holy Orders: Any proviſion or exception ſpecified in any of the ſaid Acts, or any other uſage or cuſtom of this Realm to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. This Act to endure unto the laſt day of the next Parliament. Stat. 32 H.8.3. made perpetual.

CAP. IV.

In what manner Doulas and Lockeram ſhall be brought into this Land.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the third day of November in the xxi. year of the reign of our Soveraign Lord King Henry the eight, amongſt other things it was enacted and eſtabliſhed, that no perſon nor perſons, Engliſh nor ſtranger, denizen or alien, from or after the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel then next following, ſhould bring or convey, or cauſe to be conveyed or brought by any manner of means into this Realm of England, any linnen cloth, called Doulas or Lockeram, unleſs every whole peece of Doulas contained in length fiveſcore elels of aſſiſe, accounted to every ell one inch of aſſiſe, and in breadth one yard of aſſiſe: and every half peece fifty elles in length, and one yard in breadth of like aſſiſe, and all the whole peece and half peece of one goodneſs in making. And alſo it was there enacted and eſtabliſhed, That every whole peece of Lockeram ſhould be of like length as the whole peece of Doulas: and every half peece of Lockeram ſhould be of like length as the half peece of Doulas, and every ſuch whole peece and half peece of Lockeram to be in breadth a whole yard, lacking a nail of the yard: and every peece to be in like goodneſs by all the length of the ſame peece, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame Doulas & Lockeram ſo to be brought or conveyed into this Realm, not containing the full length, breadth, and goodneſs, or the value thereof, as in the ſame Statute more plainly at large doth appear. Sithens the making of which Act a great number of the Kings Subjects, that is to ſay, Weavers, Tuckers, Spinners, Diers, and Woolpickers, and many others have been idle and without work to their great impoveriſhing, which more and more is like daily to encreaſe, if remedy be not provided: For as much as the Clothmakers, which before the making of the ſaid Act, were wont to convey their ſaid clothes into Britain, where the ſaid linnen Cloth called Doulas and Lockeram is made, and from thence to bring with them the ſaid linnen cloth called Doulas and Lockeram, which they cannot do, ſithence the making of the ſaid Act, without danger and forfeiture of the ſaid linnen-cloth, by reaſon that there ſhall no Engliſh-man be ſuffered to carry or convey any of the ſaid clothes, called Doulas or Lockerams, from the parties of beyond the Sea into this Realm, of the length contained in the ſaid Act: which will make the ſaid Clothmakers to leave the making of their cloth, to the great and manifold perils of the Kings Subjects: Be it therefore enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Act, made in the ſaid xxi. year, be to all intents, purpoſes, and conſtructions in the Law, made utterly void and of none effect, as if the ſaid Act had never been had or made. Nevertheleſs to the intent that the buyers of the ſaid linnen clothes ſhall not be at any time hereafter deceived by the length of the ſaid clothes,

Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, no manner of perſon Engliſh nor ſtranger, Deniſen or Alien, put to ſale any whole peece, or half peece of the ſaid linnen-cloth, called Doulas and Lockeram, unleſs there be mention expreſſed upon every of the ſaid whole peece or half peece of the ſaid linnen cloth called Doulas or Lockeram, ſo put to ſale, as is aforeſaid, the whole and entire number of the yards or elles, that is contained in every ſuch whole peece, or half peece, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame whole peece or half peece, not containing the number of yards or elles, ſo mentioned upon every of the ſaid whole peece, or half peece, ſo put to ſale as is aforeſaid: The one half of every ſuch forfeiture to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half to him that ſhall ſeiſe and will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe: in which action, ſuit or information, no wager of Law nor Eſſoin ſhall be admitted or allowed.

The contents of every peece of Doulas, and Lockeram ſhall be ſet upon the cloth.

Provided always, That this Act or any thing therein contained, be not prejudicial, ne hurtful to any perſon or perſons, that before the firſt day of this Parliament hath made any ſeiſure, or put in any information into any of the Kings Courts for any manner of forfeiture, done, or committed by any perſon or perſons contrary to the ſaid eſtatute, made in the ſaid iii. day of November, the xxi. year of the reign of our Soveraign Lord King Henry the eighth.

CAP. VII.

Touching the Succeſſion of the Crown.

IN their moſt humble wiſe ſhewen to your moſt royal Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and all other your moſt loving and obedient Subjects, the Commons in this your moſt high Court of Parliament aſſembled, that where in your laſt Parliament begun and holden at London the iii. day of November, in the xxi. year of your moſt gracious reign, and from thence adjourned to VVeſtminſter, and there holden and continued by divers and ſundry prorogations upon the xv. day of January, in the xxv. year of your moſt Noble reign, and then there holden: It was made and ordained an Act concerning amongſt many things as well for ratification, and confirmation of your Marriage, then had and ſolemnized between your Highneſs and the late Lady Anne Bolein Marqueſs of Pembroke, as for the limitation of the ſucceſſion of your Imperial Crown of this Realm, to the iſſue of your body begotten, and to be begotten of the ſaid Lady Anne, with divers remainders over for default of ſuch iſſue, as in the ſaid Act plainly and particularly more at large is expreſſed and mentioned. And where alſo by the ſaid Act it was ordained and eſtabliſhed, That all and ſingular your Subjects ſhould take a corporal oath for the fulfilling, maintaining and defending the whole effects and contents of the ſaid Act. And it was further ordained by the ſaid Act amongſt other things, that if any perſon or perſons, ſubject or reſiant within this Realm, or within any your Graces Dominions after the firſt day of May, then next enſuing, by writing, print, deed, or act procured, or did or cauſed to be procured or done any thing or things to the prejudice, ſlander, diſturbance, or derogation of the ſaid Matrimony, ſolemniſed between your Majeſty and the ſaid Lady Anne, or to the peril, ſlander, or diſheriſon of any the iſſues, & heirs of your Highneſs, being limited by the ſame Act to inherit, and to be inheritable to the Crown of this Realm, whereby any ſuch iſſues or heirs of your Highneſs might be deſtroyed, diſturbed, or interrupted in body, or title of inheritance to the Crown of this Realm, as to them is limited in the ſame Act: that then every ſuch perſon and perſons, and their aiders, counſellers, maintainers, and abetters, and every of them, for every ſuch offence, ſhall be adjudged high traitors, and that every ſuch offence ſhould be adjudged high treaſon. And the offendors and their aiders, counſellors, maintainers, and abetters, and every of them being lawfully convict of ſuch offence by preſentment, verdict, confeſſion or proceſs, according to the cuſtoms and laws of this Realm, ſhould ſuffer pains of death, as in caſes of high treaſon: as in the ſaid Act amongſt many other articles, clauſes, and proviſions, is more at large mentioned and ſpecified.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 25 H. 8. 22. touching the Kings marriages, and limitation of ſucceſſion to the Crown.

And alſo in the ſaid Parliament holden at VVeſtminſter by prorogation, on the third day of November, in the xxvi. year of your moſt Noble reign, another Act was made for declaration and ratification of the ſaid oath, which divers of your Subjects then had taken, and all your Subjects after that were bound to take for due obſervation of the ſaid Act of the ſaid Succeſſion, as by the ſame Act amongſt other things is alſo ſpecified and expreſſed.

Stat. 26 H. 8. 2.

And albeit, moſt dread Soveraign Lord, the ſaid Acts were then made, as it was then thought by your Majeſty, Nobles and Commons, upon a pure, perfect, and cleer foundation, thinking the ſaid marriage then had between your Highneſs and the ſaid Lady Anne, in their Conſciences to have been pure, ſincere, perfect and good, and ſo was reputed, accepted, and taken in the Realm, till now of late, that God of his infinite goodneſs, from whom no ſecret things can be hid, hath cauſed to be brought to light, evident and open knowlede, as well certain, juſt, true, and lawful impediments, unknown at the making of the ſaid Acts, and ſithen that time hath been confeſſed by the ſaid Lady Anne, before the moſt reverend father in God Thomas Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Metropolitane and Primate of all England, ſitting judicially for the ſame: by the which plainly appeareth, that the ſaid marriage between your Grace and the ſaid Lady Anne, was never good nor conſonant to the Laws, but utterly void and of none effect. By reaſon whereof your Highneſs was and is lawfully divorced, and ſeparated from the bonds of the ſaid marriage in the life of the ſaid Lady Anne. And this notwithſtanding moſt gracious Soveraign Lord, the Lady Elizabeth your Daughter being born under the ſaid unlawful marriage, by vertue and authority of the Act of your Succeſſion above remembred, for lack of heir Males of your body ſhould immediately ſucceed as your lawful heir in the moſt Royal eſtate of your imperial Crown of this Realm, againſt all honour, equity, reaſon, and good conſcience, if remedy ſhould not be provided for the ſame. And over this, moſt dread Soveraign Lord, albeit that your Majeſty not knowing of any lawful impediments, entered into the bonds of the ſaid unlawful marriage, and advanced the ſame Lady Anne to the honour of the ſoveraign eſtate of Queen of this Realm: yet nevertheleſs ſhe inflamed with pride, and carnal deſires of her body, putting apart the dread of God, and excellent benefits received of your Highneſs, confederated her ſelf with George Boleine late Lord Rochford, her natural Brother, Henry Norris Eſquire, Francis VVeſton Knight, VVilliam Brereton Eſquire, Gentlemen of your privy Chamber, and Mark Smeton Groom of your ſaid privy Chamber, and ſo being confederate, ſhe & they moſt traiterouſly committed & perpetrated divers deteſtable and abominable treaſons, to the moſt fearful peril and danger of the deſtruction of your moſt royal perſon, and to the utter loſs, diſheriſon and deſolation of this Realm, if God of his goodneſs had not in due time brought their ſaid treaſons to light: for the which, being plainly and manifeſtly proved, they were convict, and attainted by the due courſe and order of your common Laws of this Realm, and have ſuffered according to their merits, as by the records thereof more at large appear.

The marriage between the King and Lady Anne Boleine was never good, nor conſonant to Law.

The Lady Elizabeth not born in lawful marriage.

Treaſon committed by the Lady Anne Boleine and others attainted and executed.

And albeit moſt gracious and moſt dread Soveraign Lord, divers and ſundry honourable, juſt, true and reaſonable clauſes be contained and expreſſed in the ſame Act, made for the eſtabliſhment of your ſucceſſion, which be very neceſſary and profitable for the commonwealth of this Realm: yet nevertheleſs becauſe certain Articles and clauſes contained in the ſame, concerning the ratification of your ſaid unlawful marriage, between your Highneſs and the ſaid Lady Anne, and the limitation of your ſucceſſion to the iſſues of your body had by the ſaid Lady Anne, and the other expreſſed and mentioned in both the Acts above remembred for the defending and maintaining the whole effects and contents of the ſaid Act, which clauſes and articles be now become of late ſo diſhonourable, and ſo far diſtant from the due courſe of your common laws of your Realm, and alſo ſo much againſt good reaſon, equity and good conſcience, that they cannot be ſuſtained, nor tolerated to continue, and endure without great peril of diviſion hereafter to be had, by occaſion of the ſame amongſt us your ſaid moſt humble, loving, and obedient ſubjects, and our poſterities. It may therefore pleaſe your Highneſs of your moſt excellent and accuſtomable goodneſs, and for the entire love, favour, and hearty affection that your Majeſty hath always born, and beareth to the Commonwealth of this your Realm, and for the conſervation of the good peace, unity, and reſt of us your moſt bounden and obedient ſubjects, and of our ſaid poſterities, that it may be enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, that the ſaid ii. Acts and every of them, and all clauſes, articles, and proviſions therein contained from the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, ſhall be repealed, adnulled, and made fruſtrate, and of none effect.

They ſhall not be pardoned which have offended before the firſt day of this Parliament.

Provided alway, that the ſaid repeal, and adnullation of the ſaid Act, which was made for the eſtabliſhment of your ſucceſſion, ſhall not be taken, expounded, nor underſtood to diſcharge any perſon or perſons which have done or committed any offences of treaſon, or miſpriſion of treaſon contrary to the ſame Act, or any part thereof, at any time afore the firſt day of this preſent Parliament; but that ſuch offences of treaſon, and miſpriſion of treaſon, done and committed by any perſon or perſons, contrary to the ſame Act, afore the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, ſhall be, and remain in the ſame degree and quality to be puniſhed by authority of the ſame Act, as if the ſame Act had not been repealed: the repeal & adnullation of the ſame Act by authority of this preſent Parliament in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Some upon good will and meaning to the King that have ſpoken or written againſt Queen Anne or her daughter the Lady Elizabeth.

They pardoned which ſpake or did any thing againſt the Kings marriage, Queen Anne, or Lady Elizabeth.

Nevertheleſs the Kings moſt royal Majeſty, moſt graciouſly conſidering that divers and many of his moſt loving and obedient ſubjects now lately afore the beginning of this preſent Parliament, have ſpoken, done, practiſed, procured, and attempted, as well by word, writing, printing, as by exterior Acts, not onely againſt the ſaid unlawful marriage, ſolemnized benween his Highneſs and the ſaid Lady Anne, and to the prejudice, ſlander, diſturbance, and derogation thereof, but alſo to the peril, ſlander and diſheriſon of the Lady Elizabeth the Kings Daughter illegitimate born under the ſame marriage, and to the let, diſturbation and interruption of the ſaid Lady Elizabeth to the title of the Crown: and alſo to deprive the ſaid Lady Anne, late Queen, and the ſaid Lady Elizabeth, and every of them, of their dignity, title, and name of their royal eſtates, contrary to the tenors, purports, proviſions, and ordinances, as well contained in the ſaid Act made in the laſt Parliament, for the eſtabliſhment of the Kings ſucceſſion, as in any other Act made in the laſt Parliament for puniſhment of treaſons. Which words, doings, practices, procurements, and attempts of his ſaid Subjects, albeit they proceeded of no malice, but upon true and juſt grounds, for puniſhment of the ſaid late Lady Anne, according to her deſerts, and for reformation of the ſaid unlawful marriage, for the ſurety of the Kings Highneſs, and for the unity and wealth of his Realm: yet nevertheleſs the Kings ſaid ſubjects might hereafter happen to be impeached, troubled, and vexed for ſuch their words, doings, acts, procurements, and attempts, as well by reaſon of the ſaid eſtatute, made for the eſtabliſhment of the Kings ſucceſſion, and now repealed by this Act, as by occaſion of other Statutes heretofore made for puniſhment of treaſon and miſpriſion of treaſon, to the great danger and perils of the lives, lands, and goods of the Kings ſaid ſubjects, which onely for hearty good will, and faithful obedience that they bear to the Kings Majeſty incurred into the ſaid dangers and perils: the Kings Highneſs therefore of his moſt bountiful mercy and benignity is pleaſed and contented, that it be enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and ſingular his loving Subjects, which have ſpoken, done, practiſed, committed or attempted, or procured to be done, or attempted directly or indirectly, by words, writings, prints, or any exterior act, any thing or things whatſoever it be, againſt the ſaid marriage ſolemniſed between his Highneſs and the ſaid late Queen Anne, or for the ſetting forth or preferment of the divorce or diſſolution thereof: or againſt the ſaid late Queen Anne, or the ſaid Lady Elizabeth, or to any of their ſlanders, perils, or diſheriſons, or have wiſhed, willed, or deſired by words or writings, or invented, imagined, practiſed or attempted any bodily harm to the ſaid late Queen Anne, or Lady Elizabeth, or to deprive the ſame late Queen Anne, or Lady Elizabeth, or any of them, of the dignity, title, or name of their Royal Eſtates; or have ſpoken, done, or procured to be done, any other words, writings, printings, wiſhing, willing, thing or things, act or acts againſt the ſaid late Queen Anne, or Lady Elizabeth, which is or might be deemed or interpreted for Treaſon, or miſpriſion of Treaſon by any conſtruction upon any of the Statutes of this Realm heretofore made, ſhall be freely and clearly pardoned, diſcharged and releaſed by authority of this Act, of all thoſe and ſuch Treaſons and miſpriſions of Treaſons above mentioned. And that none of his ſaid loving ſubjects for any of the ſaid Treaſons or miſpriſions of Treaſon above mentioned and ſpecified, ſhall hereafter at any time, by any manner of means be impeached, vexed, or troubled in their bodies, lives, lands, goods, or cattels, any thing in this Act, or in any Act or Acts heretofore made for treaſons or miſpriſions of treaſon, to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Queen Anne Boleine and her complices attainted of high treaſon, and their lands ſhall be forfeit to the King.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid late Queen Anne, George Bolein late Lord Rochford, Henry Norris Eſquire, Francis Weſton Knight, William Brereton Eſquire, and Mark Smeton, for their abominable and deteſtable treaſons, by them and every of them moſt abominably and traiterouſly committed and done againſt your Majeſty and the Realm, ſhall be by authority of this preſent Parliament convicted and attainted of high treaſon, in ſuch manner and form, and accordingly as they be, by the due courſe and order of your laws of this Realm. And that the ſaid late Queen Anne, George Lord Rochford, Henry Norris, Francis Weſton, William Brereton, and Mark Smeton, and every of them, ſhall loſe and forfeit to your Highneſs, and to your Heirs, all ſuch their manors, meſſes, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, remainders, uſes, poſſeſſions, offices, rights, conditions, and all other hereditaments, of what names, natures, or qualities ſoever they be, which they or any of them, or any other to their uſes, or to the uſe of any of them, had, or ought to have had of any eſtate of inheritance in fee-ſimple or in tail, in uſe or poſſeſſion, at the days of their ſeveral treaſons committed, limited and expreſſed in their indictment, or at any time after. Saving to every perſon and perſons, and bodies politick, and to the heirs, aſſignes, and ſucceſſors of every of them (other then to the ſaid late Queen Anne, and the other traitors afore named, and to the heirs, aſſignes, and ſucceſſors of every of them, and all and every other perſon and perſons claiming by them, or any of them, or to their uſes, or to the uſes of any of them, or to the uſe of any of their heirs) all ſuch right, title, uſe, poſſeſſion, intereſt, condition, fees, offices, rents, annuities, commons, and all other commodities and hereditaments whatſoever they or any of them might, ſhould, or ought to have had, if this Act had never been had ne made.

The right of all others ſaved, but of the offenders, &c.

And over this, moſt gracious Soveraign Lord, foraſmuch as it hath pleaſed your moſt Royal Majeſty, notwithſtanding the great and intolerable perils and occaſions which your Highneſs hath ſuffered and ſuſtained, as well by occaſion of your firſt unlawful marriage ſolemnized between your Highneſs and the Lady Katherine late Princeſs Dowager, as by occaſion of the ſaid unlawful marriage between your Highneſs and the ſaid late Queen Anne, at the moſt humble petition and interceſſion of us your Nobles in this Realm, for the ardent love, and fervent affection which your Highneſs beareth to the conſervation of the Peace and unity of the ſame, and for the good and quiet governance thereof, of your moſt excellent goodneſs to enter into marriage again, and have choſen and taken a right noble, vertuous, and excellent Lady Queen Jane to your true and lawful wife, and have lawfully celebrated and ſolemnized marriage with her, according to the laws of holy Church; who for her convenient years, excellent beauty, and pureneſs of fleſh and blood, is apt (God willing) to conceive iſſue by your Highneſs; which marriage is ſo pure and ſincere, without ſpot, doubt, or impediment, that the iſſue procreated under the ſame, when it ſhall pleaſe Almighty God to ſend it, cannot be lawfully, truly, nor juſtly interrupted or diſturbed of the right and title in the ſucceſſion of your Crown: It may therefore now pleaſe your moſt gracious Majeſty, at the moſt humble petition and interceſſion of us your Nobles and Commons aſſembled in this preſent Parliament, as well for the clear extinguiſhment of all ambiguities and doubts, as for a pure and perfect unity of us your moſt humble and obedient ſubjects, and of all our poſterities, that it may be enacted by your moſt gracious and royal Majeſty, by conſent of us the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame in manner and form as hereafter in articles enſueth.

Queen Jane married to the King according to the laws of the Church.

Firſt, foraſmuch as the marriage heretofore ſolemnized between your Highneſs and the ſaid Lady Katherine, late Princeſs Dowager deceaſed, which afore was lawful wife to your natural brother Prince Arthur, and by him carnally known, as hath duly been proved by ſufficient witneſſes, at all times was, is, and ought to be deemed and determined to be againſt the laws of Almighty God, and not diſpenſable by any humane authority, and ſo hath been deemed and determined, as well by the whole Clergy of this Realm in both Convocations, and by both the Univerſities thereof, as by the Univerſities of Bononie, Padua, Paris, Orleance, Tolowes, Aniew, and divers other, and alſo a great number of private writings of many right excellent well learned men; Be it therefore enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, according as it was ordained & enacted in the ſaid Act made in the laſt Parliament for the eſtabliſhment of your ſucceſſion, That the ſaid marriage heretofore had & ſolemnized between your Highneſs and the ſaid Lady Katherine, which was before lawful wife to the ſaid Prince Arthur your elder brother, and by him carnally known, as doth duly appear by ſufficient proof in a lawful proceſs had and made before the ſaid moſt reverend Father in God, Thomas, by the ſufferance of God, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Metroplitane & Primate of all England, ſhall be by authority of this preſent Parliament, definitively, clearly and abſolutely declared, deemed, and adjudged to be againſt the Laws of Almighty God, and alſo accepted, reputed, and taken of no value nor effect, but utterly void and annihiled: And that the ſeparation thereof made by the ſaid Archbiſhop, ſhall be good and effectual to all intents and purpoſes, any licenſe, diſpenſation, or any other act or acts going before, or enſuing the ſame, or to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And that every ſuch licenſe, diſpenſation, act or acts, thing or things, had, made, done, or to be done to the contrary thereof, ſhall be to all intents void and of none effect, and ſo ſhall be reputed and taken by and amongſt us your true ſubjects and inhabitants, our heirs and ſucceſſors of and in your Realm and Dominions for ever. And that the iſſue born and procreated under the ſame unlawful marriage, made and ſolemnized between your Highneſs and the ſaid Lady Katherine, ſhall be taken, deemed and accepted illegitimate to all intents and purpoſes, and ſhall be utterly foreclosed, excluded, and barred to claim, challenge or demand any inheritance as lawful Heir to your Highneſs by lineal diſcent.

The marriage between the King & Queen Katherine void.

The Lady Mary illegimate, and not inheritable to the King.

And alſo foraſmuch as the marriage ſolemnized between your Highneſs, and the ſaid late Queen Anne, upon true and juſt cauſes, was, & is deemed and adjudged by the ſaid moſt reverend Father, to be of no value ne effect, and a divorce and ſeparation thereof had and made by the due order and proceſs of the Laws of the Church of England, before the ſaid reverend Father: Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſame marriage between your Highneſs and the ſaid late Queen Anne, ſhall be taken, reputed, deemed, and adjudged to be of no force, ſtrength, vertue, and effect; and that the ſeparation and divorce thereof had by the ſentence and judgment of the ſaid moſt reverend Father, ſhall be good and effectual, and ſo hereafter ſhall be taken and reputed for ever by all your ſubjects, their heirs and ſucceſſors. And that none appeal, repeal, revocation or adnullation thereof, or any part of the ſame, ſhall hereafter be had, taken, allowed or admitted in any behalf. And that all the iſſues and children born and procreated under the

The marriage between the King & Queen Anne was void, and the ſeparation and divorce between them lawful.

The Lady Elizabeth illegitimate, and not inheritable to the King.

ſame marriage between your Highneſs and the ſaid late Queen Anne, ſhall be taken, reputed and accepted to be illegitimate to all intents and purpoſes, and utterly foreclosed, excluded and barred to claim, challenge, or demand any inheritance as lawful heir or heirs to your Highneſs by lineal diſcent, the ſaid former Act made in the laſt Parliament, for the eſtabliſhment of your ſucceſſion, or any thing therein contained, or any other thing or things to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Marrying within degrees prohibited by Gods law, and which be thoſe degrees. 28 H.S.16.

And furthermore, ſith many inconveniences have fallen, as well within this Realm as in others, by reaſon of marrying within the degrees of marriage prohibited by Gods laws, that is to ſay, the ſon to marry the mother, or the ſtep-mother carnally known by his father, the brother the ſiſter, the father his ſons daughter, or his daughters daughter; or the ſon to marry the daughter of his father, procreate and born by his ſtep-mother; or the ſon to marry his aunt, being his fathers or mothers ſiſter; or to marry his uncles wife, carnally known by his uncle; or the father to marry his ſons wife, carnally known by his ſon; or the brother to marry his brothers wife, carnally known by his brother; or any man married, and carnally knowing his wife, to marry his wives daughter, or his wives ſons daughter, or his wives daughters daughter, or his wives ſiſter.

And furthermore to dilate and declare the meaning of theſe prohibitions, it is to be underſtood, that if it chance any man to know carnally any woman, that then all and ſingular perſons being in any degree of conſanguinity or affinity, as is above written, to any of the parties ſo carnally offending, ſhall be deemed and adjudged to be within the caſes and limits of the ſaid prohibitions of marriage. All which marriages, albeit they be plainly prohibited and deteſted by the laws of God, yet nevertheleſs at ſome times they have proceeded under colours of diſpenſations by mans power, which is but uſurped, and of right ought not to be granted, admitted, nor allowed. For no man, of what eſtate, degree, or condition ſoever he be, hath power to diſpenſe with Gods laws, as all the Clergy of this Realm in the ſaid Convocations, and the moſt part of all the Univerſities in Chriſtendom, and we alſo do affirm and think.

No man can diſpence with the law of God.

No perſon ſhall marry within the degrees prohibited.

Be it therefore enacted by authority aforeſaid, according as it is declared and contained in the ſaid Act made in the laſt Parliament for the eſtabliſhment of your ſucceſſion, That no perſon or perſons, ſubjects or reſiants of this Realm, or in any your Dominions, of what eſtate, degree or dignity ſoever they be, ſhall from henceforth marry within the degrees afore rehearſed, what pretence ſoever ſhall be made to the contrary thereof. And in caſe any perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, dignity, degree or condition ſoever they be, that been heretofore married within this Realm, or in any other the Kings Dominions, within any the degrees above rehearſed, and by any the Archbiſhops or Miniſters of the Church of England be ſeparate from the bond of ſuch unlawful marriages; that then every ſuch ſeparation ſhall be good, lawful, firm and permanent for ever, and not by any power, authority and means, to be revoked or undone hereafter. And that the children proceeding or procreate under ſuch unlawful marriage, ſhall not be lawful nor legitimate; any foreign Laws, Licences, Diſpenſations, or other thing or things to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. And that in caſe there be any perſon or perſons within this Realm, or in any of the Kings Dominions already married within any of the ſaid degrees above ſpecified, and not yet ſeparate from the bonds of ſuch unlawful marriage, that then every ſuch perſon, ſo unlawfully married, ſhall be ſeparate by the definitive ſentence and judgment of the Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and other Miniſters of the Church of England, and in other your Dominions, within the limits of their juriſdictions and authorities, and by none other power or authority. And that all ſentences and judgments given and to be given by any Archbiſhop, Biſhop, or other Miniſter of the Church of England, or in any other the Kings Dominions, within the limits of their juriſdictions and authority, ſhall be definitively firm, good, effectual to all intents, and be obſerved and obeyed, without ſuing any provocations, appeals, prohibitions, or other proceſs from or to the Court of Rome, to the derogation thereof, or contrary to the Act made ſince the beginning of the laſt Parliament for reſtraint of ſuch provocations, appeals, prohibitions, and other proceſſes.

There ſhall be no appeals to the Church of Rome. 24 H.S.12.

And alſo be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all the iſſue hereafter to be had and procreate between your Highneſs, and your ſaid moſt dear and entirely beloved lawful wife, Queen Jane, ſhall be your lawful children and heirs, and be inheritable and inherit, according to the courſe of inheritance, and laws of this Realm, the Imperial Crown of the ſame, with all dignities, honours, preheminences, prerogatives, authorities and juriſdictions to the ſame annexed or belonging, in as large and ample manner as your Highneſs at this preſent time hath the ſame as King of this Realm, the inheritance thereof to be and remain of your ſaid children and right heirs, in manner and form as hereafter ſhall be declared, that is to ſay:

The Crown of England entailed to the King and to the heirs males of his body begotten, with ſeveral remainders over.

Firſt, the ſaid Imperial Crown, and other the premiſſes, ſhall be to your Majeſty, and to your Heirs of your body lawfully begotten: that is to ſay, to the firſt ſon of your body between your Highneſs and your ſaid lawful wife Queen Jane begotten, and to the heirs of the body of the ſame firſt ſon lawfully begotten. And for default of ſuch heirs, then to the ſecond ſon of your body, and of the body of the ſaid Queen Jane begotten, and the heirs of the body of the ſame ſecond ſon lawfully begotten, as is aforeſaid; and ſo to every ſon of your body, and of the body of the ſaid Queen Jane begotten, and to the heirs of the body of every ſuch ſon begotten, according to the courſe of inheritance in that behalf.

And if it ſhall happen your ſaid moſt dear and entirely beloved wife Queen Jane to deceaſe without iſſue male of the body of your Highneſs to be begotten (which God defend) then the ſame Imperial Crown, and all other the premiſſes, to be to your Majeſty, as is aforeſaid, and to the ſon and heir male of your body lawfully begotten by any other lawful wife, and to the heirs of the body of the ſame ſon and heir male lawfully begotten. And for default of ſuch iſſue, then to your ſecond ſon of your body lawfully begotten, and to the heirs of the body of the ſame ſecond ſon lawfully begotten; and ſo from ſon and heir male, to ſon and heir male, and to the heirs of the ſeveral bodies of every ſuch ſon and heir male lawfully begotten, according to the courſe of inheritance, in like manner and form as is above ſaid.

For default of iſſue male of the Kings body, the crown ſhall deſcend to the eldeſt iſſue female of his body begotten.

And for default of ſuch ſons of your body lawfully begotten, and of the heirs of the ſeveral bodies of every ſuch ſon lawfully begotten, that then the ſaid Imperial Crown, and other the premiſſes, ſhall be to the iſſue female between your Majeſty and your ſaid moſt dear and entirely beloved wife Queen Jane begotten: and for lack of ſuch iſſue, then to the heirs females of your body lawfully begotten by any other lawful wife: that is to ſay, firſt, to the eldeſt iſſue female, and to the heirs of her body lawfully begotten; and ſo from iſſue female to iſſue female, and to their heirs of their bodies one after another by courſe of inheritance according to their ages, as the Crown of England hath been accuſtomed and ought to ſucceed and go, in caſe where there is heir female inheritable to the ſame.

The perils that might enſue to the Realm, for want of knowledge of a lawful ſucceſſor to the Crown.

And foraſmuch as it ſtandeth at this preſent time in the only pleaſure and will of Almighty God, whether your Majeſty ſhall have heirs begotten and procreated between your Highneſs and your ſaid moſt dear and entirely beloved wife Qeen Jane, or elſe any lawful heirs and iſſues hereafter of your own body begotten by any other lawful wife, and if ſuch heirs ſhould fail, as God defend, and no proviſion made in your life, who ſhould rule and govern this Realm for lack of ſuch heirs; that then this Realm after your tranſitory life ſhall be deſtitute of a lawful Governor, or elſe pereaſe encumbred with ſuch a perſon, that would covet to aſpire to the ſame, whom the ſubjects of this Realm ſhall not find in their hearts to love, dread, and obediently ſerve as their ſoveraign Lord. And if your Grace, afore it may be certainly known, whether ye ſhall have heirs or no, ſhould ſuddenly name and declare any perſon or perſons to ſucceed after your deceaſe, and for lack of heirs of your body lawfully begotten, into the Royal Eſtate of the Imperial Crown of this Realm; then it is to be doubted, that ſuch perſon that ſhould be ſo named, might happen to take great heart and courage, and by preſumption fall to inobedience and rebellion, by occaſion of which premiſſes great diviſion and diſſention may be, and is very likely to ariſe and ſpring in this Realm, to the great peril and deſtruction of us your moſt humble and obedient ſubjects, and of all our poſterities, if remedy for the ſame ſhould not be provided. For reformation and remedy whereof, we your moſt bounden and loving ſubjects, moſt obediently knowledging, that your Majeſty moſt victoriouſly, prudently, politickly, and indifferently hath maintained, defended, governed and ruled this Realm in good peace, reſt, quietneſs and obedience, during all the time of your moſt gracious Reign, which we moſt heartily deſire might continue for ever, putting all our whole truſt and confidence in your Highneſs, and nothing doubting but ẏ your Majeſty, if ye ſhould fail of heirs of your body lawfully begotten (which God defend) for the hearty love and fervent affection that ye bear to this Realm, and for avoiding all the occaſions of diviſion afore rehearſed, ſo earneſtly mindeth the wealth of the ſame, that ye can beſt and moſt prudently provide ſuch a Governor for us and this your Realm, as ſhall and will ſucceed, and follow in the juſt and right trade of all your proceedings, and maintain, keep, and defend the ſame, and all the Laws and Ordinances eſtabliſhed in your moſt gracious time for the wealth of this Realm, which all we deſire, whereby we your ſaid moſt loving and obedient ſubjects, and our heirs and ſucceſſors, ſhall and may live, as near as may be, in as good peace, unity and obedience after your deceaſe, as we have lived in the time of your moſt gracious Reign: Do therefore moſt humbly beſeech your Highneſs, that it may be enacted, for avoiding of all ambiguities, doubts, diviſions and occaſions in that behalf, by your moſt royal Majeſty, by the aſſent of us the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this your preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That your Highneſs ſhall have full and plenary power and authority to give, diſpoſe, appoint, aſſign, declare and limit, by your Letters Patents under your great Seal, or elſe by your laſt Will made in writing, and aſſigned with your moſt gracious hand, at your onely pleaſure, from time to time hereafter, the Imperial Crown of this Realm, and all other the premiſſes thereunto belonging, to be, remain, ſucceed and come, after your deceaſe, and for lack of lawful heirs of your body to be procreated and begotten as is afore limited by this Act, to ſuch perſon or perſons in poſſeſſion and remainder, as ſhall pleaſe your Highneſs, and according to ſuch eſtate, and after ſuch manner, form, faſhion, order and condition, as ſhall be expreſſed, declared, named and limited in your ſaid Letters Patents, or by your ſaid laſt Will. And we your moſt humble and obedient ſubjects, do faithfully promiſe to your Majeſty by one common aſſent, That after your deceaſe, and for lack of heirs of your body lawfully begotten, as is afore rehearſed, we, our heirs and ſucceſſors, ſhall accept and take, love, dread, ſerve, and alonely obey ſuch perſon and perſons, males or females, as your Majeſty ſhall give your ſaid Imperial Crown unto, by authority of this Act, and to none other, and wholly to ſtick to them, as true and faithful ſubjects ought to do to their regal Rulers, Governors, and Supreme heads.

If the King die without iſſue of his body, he may limit the Crown to any by his Letters patents, or his laſt Will in writing.

A ſubmiſſion to the Kings Aſſignee.

And for ſure corroboration thereof, be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That ſuch perſon and perſons, to whom it ſhall pleaſe your Majeſty to diſpoſe, limit and aſſign your ſaid Crown, and other the premiſſes thereto appertaining, by your Letters Patents, or by your laſt Will, as is aforeſaid, ſhall have and enjoy the ſame after your deceaſe, and for lack of heirs of your body lawfully begotten, according to ſuch eſtate, and after ſuch manner, form, faſhion, order and condition as ſhall be thereof expreſſed, mentioned and contained in your ſaid Letters Patents, or in your ſaid laſt Will, in as large and ample manner, as if ſuch perſon and perſons had been your lawful heirs to the Imperial Crown of this Realm, and as if the ſame Crown of this Realm had been given and limited unto them plainly and particularly by ſpecial names and ſufficient terms and words, by the full and immediate authority of this your moſt high Court of Parliament.

And

A means to prevent uſurpation of the Crown, and the penalty of the uſurpers.

And it is further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any of your Heirs or Children hereafter do uſurp the one of them upon the other in the Crown of this Realm, or claim or challenge your ſaid Imperial Crown in any other form or degree of diſcent or ſucceſſion then is afore limited by this Act: Or if any perſon or perſons, to whom it ſhall pleaſe your Highneſs of your moſt excellent goodneſs, by authority of this Act, to give and diſpoſe your ſaid Crown and Dignity of this Realm, or the heirs of any of them, do at any time hereafter demanded, challenge, or claim your ſaid Crown of this Realm otherwiſe, or in any other courſe, form, degree or condition, then the ſame ſhall be given, diſpoſed and limited unto them by your Highneſs, by vertue and authority of this Act: Or if any ſuch perſon or perſons, to whom your Majeſty ſhall hereafter give or diſpoſe your ſaid Crown by authority of this Act, or any of their heirs, do intertupt or let any of the Heirs of your Majeſty, that is or ſhall be begotten, born and procreated under your lawful, pure, ſincere and undoubted marriage now had and ſolemnized between your Highneſs and your ſaid moſt dear and entirely beloved wife Queen Jane, or any other your lawful Heirs hereafter to be begotten of your body by any other lawful marriage, peaceably and quietly to keep, have, and enjoy the ſaid Imperial Crown, and other the premiſſes by courſe of inheritance, according to the limitation thereof, expreſſed and declared by this Act: That then all and ſingular the offenders in any of the premiſſes, contrary to this Act, and all their abettors, maintainers, fautors, counſellors and aiders therein, ſhall be deemed and adjudged high traitors to the Realm, and that every ſuch offence ſhall be accepted, reputed and taken to be high treaſon, and the offenders therein, their aiders, maintainers, fautors, counſellors and abbettors, and every of them, for every ſuch offence ſhall ſuffer ſuch judgment and pains of death loſſes and forfeitures of lands, goods, and priviledges of Sanctuary, as in any caſes of high treaſon. And over that, as well your ſaid Heirs and Children, as every ſuch perſon and perſons to whom your Highneſs ſhall limit your ſaid Crown in form as is aforeſaid, and every of their heirs, for every ſuch offence above ſpecified, by them or any of them to be committed, ſhall loſe and forfeit as well all ſuch right, title and intereſt that they may claim or challenge in or to the Crown of this Realm, as Heirs by diſcent, or by reaſon of any gift or Act that ſhall de done by your Highneſs for his or their advancement, by the authority of this Act, or otherwiſe by any manner of means or pretence whatſoever it be.

It ſhall be high treaſon to write any of the offences hereafter ſpecified.

Treaſon to believe either of the marriages between the King and the Lady Katherine or Anne to be good.

Treaſon to call Lady Mary or Lady Elizabeth legitimate.

Attempting to deprive the King his heirs or aſſigns of the Crown.

Refuſing to take an oath to anſwer Interrogatories.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree, dignity, or condition ſoever they be, at any time hereafter, by words, writing, imprinting, or by any exteriour Act or deed, maliciouſly or willingly porcure or do, or cauſe to be procured or done, directly or indirectly, any thing or things to the peril of your moſt royal perſon, or to the peril of the perſon of any of your Heirs or Succeſſors, having the royal eſtate of the Crown of this Realm: Or maliciouſly or willingly give occaſion by words, writing, print, deed or act, whereby your Highneſs, or any your ſaid heirs or ſucceſſors, having the royal eſtate of the Crown of this Realm, might be diſturbed or interrupted of the Crown of this Realm: Or by words, writing, print, deed or act, procure or do, or cauſe to be procured or done, any thing or things, to or for the interruption, repeal or adnullation of this Act, or of any thing therein contained, or of any thing that ſhall be done by your Highneſs, in the limitation and diſpoſition of your Crown by the authority of the ſame. Or by words, writing, print, deed, or act, procure or cauſe to be procured or done, any thing or things to the prejudice, ſlander, diſturbance or derogation of the ſaid lawful matrimony, ſolemnized between your Majeſty and the ſaid Queen Jane, or any other your lawful wife, or wives hereafter by your Highneſs to be taken: Or to the peril, ſlander, or diſheriſon of any of the iſſues, and heirs of your Highneſs, being limited by this Act to inherit, and to be inheritable to the Crown of this Realm, in ſuch form as is aforeſaid: Or to the interruption or diſheriſon of any ſuch perſon or perſons, to whom your Highneſs ſhall aſſign and and diſpoſe your ſaid Imperial Crown by authority of this Act, as is afore remembred, whereby any ſuch iſſues or heirs of your Highneſs, or ſuch other perſon or perſons might be deſtroyed, diſturbed, or interupted in fame, body, or title of the inheritance to the Crown of this Realm, as to them is limited in this Act in form above rehearſed, or as to them ſhall be limited and aſſigned by your Highneſs, by vertue and authority of this Act: Or if any perſon or perſons by words, writing, imprinting, or any other exteriour act, directly or indirectly, accept or take, judge or believe any of the marriages had and ſolemnized between the Kings Highneſs and the ſaid Lady Katherine, or between the Kings Highneſs and the ſaid late Queen Anne, to be good, lawful, or of any effect: Or by words, writing, printing, or by any other exteriour act directly or indirectly, ſlander, interrupt, impeach, gainſay, or impugn the lawful judgments and ſentences of the ſaid moſt reverend Father in God, Thomas Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and Primate of all England, for and concerning the Divorces and ſeparations of the ſaid unlawful marriages, or any of them: Or by words, writing, print, or any other exteriour act, directly or indirectly take, accept, name, or call by any pretence any of the children born and procreated under any of the ſaid unlawful marriages, to be legitimate and lawful children of your Majeſty: Or if any perſon or perſons craftily imagine, invent or attempt by colour of any pretence, to deprive the Kings Highneſs, the Queen, or the Heirs of their bodies begotten, or any other the Heirs of the Kings body lawfully begotten, or any perſon or perſons to whom the Kings Highneſs ſhall diſpoſe, give, and limit the Crown of this Realm, by authority of this Act, or any of their titles, ſtiles, names, degrees, or royal eſtates, or regal power: Or if any perſon or perſons at any time hereafter, being required or commanded by the Kings Highneſs, or by ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall be authorized by his Grace, or his lawful Heirs, to make or take an Oath to anſwer to ſuch queſtions and interrogatories as ſhall be objected to them upon any clauſe, article, ſentence or word contained in this Act, do contemptuouſly or utterly refuſe to make or take ſuch oath, or without fruſtratory delay do not make or take the ſame oath; or after the making or taking ſuch oath, do contemptuouſly refuſe directly to anſwer to ſuch queſtions and interrogatories as ſhall be objected concerning the ſame, or any part thereof: That then every ſuch perſon and perſons, of what eſtate, degree or condition ſoever he or they be, and their aiders, counſellers, maintainers and abettors, and every of them, for every ſuch offence afore declared, ſhall be adjudged high Traitors, and that every ſuch offence afore ſpecified ſhall be adjudged high Treaſon; and the offenders therein, and their aiders, counſellors, maintainers and abettors, and every of them, being lawfully convict of any ſuch offence by preſentment, verdict, confeſſion, or proceſs, according to the cuſtom and Laws of this Realm, ſhall ſuffer pains of death, as in caſes of high Treaſon. And that alſo every ſuch offendor, being convict as is aforeſaid, ſhall loſe and forfeit to your Highneſs, and to your heirs or ſucceſſors, Kings or regal rulers of this Realm, all ſuch manors, lands, tenements, rents, annuities, and hereditaments, which they had in poſſeſſion as owners, or were ſole ſeiſed of, by or in any right, title, or means, or any other perſon or perſons had to their uſe, of any eſtate of inheritance, at the day of ſuch Treaſons and offences by them committed and done. And ſhall alſo loſe and forfeit to your Highneſs and your ſaid heirs, as well all manner ſuch eſtates of free-hold, and intereſt for years of lands and rents, as all other goods, cattels and debts, which they had at the time of their conviction or attainder of any ſuch offence. Saving alway to every ſuch perſon and perſons, and bodies politick, to their heirs, aſſigns and ſucceſſors, and to the heirs and ſucceſſors of every of them, (other then ſuch perſon as ſhall be ſo convict or attainted, and their heirs and ſucceſſors, and all other claiming to their uſes) all ſuch right, title, uſe, intereſt, poſſeſſion, condition, rents, fees, offices, annuities, and commons, which they or any of them ſhall have in or upon any ſuch manors, lands, tenements, rents, annuities, or hereditaments, that ſo ſhall happen to be loſt and forfeit by reaſon of any conviction or attainder for any the Treaſons and offences above rehearſed, at any time before the ſaid Treaſons and offences committed.

The offendor ſhall forfeit his lands, leaſes and goods.

Other perſons rights ſaved.

Be it alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons offending in any the Treaſons contained and limited by this Act, or in any other Treaſons, ſhall in any wiſe have and enjoy the priviledge or immunity of any manner ſanctuary within this Realm, or elſewhere within any the Kings Dominions; but ſhall utterly loſe and be excluded of the ſame, any uſe, grant, cuſtom, preſcription, confirmation, or any other thing or things to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

None that committeth Treaſon ſhall have the benefit of ſanctuary.

And be it alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if your Majeſty ſhall happen to deceaſe before any ſuch your iſſue and heir male of your body, which ſhould inherit the Crown of this Realm, ſhall be of his age of xviii. years, or before that ſuch your iſſue and heir female, which ſhould inherit the Crown of this Realm, ſhall be married, or be of the age of ſixteen years, (which almighty God defend) that then the ſaid iſſue and heir male to the Crown, ſo being within the age of eighteen years, or your ſaid iſſue and heir female to the Crown, ſo being unmarried, or within the ſaid age of ſixteen years, ſhall be and remain, until ſuch time as ſuch iſſues and heirs ſhall come to their ſaid ſeveral ages afore limited, at and in the governance of their natural mother, and of ſuch other your Counſellors and Nobles of your Realm, as your Highneſs ſhall limit and appoint by your laſt will made in writing ſigned with your moſt gracious hand, if it ſhall be thought by your Highneſs moſt convenient ſo to be; or elſe the ſaid iſſues and heirs ſhall be at and in the governance of ſuch of your Counſellors and Nobles of your Realm, as your Majeſty ſhall name and appoint by your laſt will made in writing, and ſigned with your moſt gracious hand, as is aforeſaid. And if any perſon or perſons, by writing, printing, or exterior deed or Act, directly or indirectly, procure or do, or cauſe to be procured or done, any thing or things to the let or diſturbance of the ſame; that then every ſuch offence ſhall be high Treaſon, and the offendors being thereof convicted, ſhall ſuffer ſuch pains of death, and loſs of inheritance, priviledges of ſanctuaries, freeholds, intereſts for years, goods, cattels, and debts, in ſuch manner and form as is above ſpecified in caſes of Treaſon afore-mentioned.

If the King die, his heir within age, in whoſe cuſtody the ſame heir ſhall be.

And for the more ſure eſtabliſhment of the ſucceſſion of your moſt Royal Majeſty, according to the tenor and form of this Act, be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That as well all the Nobles of your Realm ſpiritual and temporal, as all other your ſubjects now living and being, or that hereafter ſhall be at their full ages, by the commandment of your Majeſty, or of your heirs or ſucceſſors, at all times hereafter from time to time, when it ſhall pleaſe your Highneſs, or your heirs or ſucceſſors to appoint, ſhall make a corporal oath in the preſence of your Highneſs, or your heirs or ſucceſſors, or before ſuch other as your Majeſty or your heirs or ſucceſſors will aſſign for the ſame, for the keeping, obſerving, defending, avowing, and maintaining of this Act, and of all things that ſhall be done by your Highneſs by authority thereof, according to the tenor of an oath hereafter enſuing, that is to ſay: Ye ſhall ſwear to bear faith, truth and obedience all onely to the Kings Majeſty, ſupream head in earth under God of the Church of England, during his life, and to his heirs of his body of his moſt dear and entirely beloved lawful wife Queen Jane begotten and to be begotten and procreated: And further to the heirs of out ſaid Soveraign Lord, according to the limitation in the Statute made for ſurety of his ſucceſſion in the Crown of this Realm, in the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter on the eighth day of June in the xxviii. year of the Kings moſt gracious Reign. And alſo for lack of ſuch heirs, to ſuch perſon and perſons as the Kings Highneſs ſhall limit and appoint to ſucceed to the Crown, by vertue and authority of the ſame Act, and not to any other within this Realm, nor foreign Authority, Power or Potentate. And in caſe any other Oath be made, or hath been made by you to any perſon or perſons; that then ye to repute the ſame as vain and adnihilate. And that to your cunning, wit, and uttermoſt of

All the Kings ſubjects ſhall take an oath for the performance of this Act.

The form of the oath.

A diſpenſation of any former oath, and the ſame ſhall be reputed as void.

your power, without guile, fraud, or other undue manner, ye ſhall obſerve, keep, maintain and defend the ſaid Act of ſucceſſion, made in the ſaid Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter in the ſaid viii. day of June, in the ſaid xxviii. year of the Kings moſt royal reign, and all the whole effects and contents thereof, and all things that ſhall be done by the Kings Highneſs by authority of the ſame, and all other Acts and Statutes made in confirmation, or for execution of the ſame, or of any thing therein contained: and this ye ſhall do againſt all manner of perſons, of what eſtate, dignity, degree or condition ſoever they be: and in no wiſe do or attempt, nor to your power ſuffer to be done or attempted, directly or indirectly, any thing or things, privily or appertly, to the let, hinderance, damage, or derogation thereof, or of any part of the ſame, or of any thing or things that ſhall be done by the Kings Highneſs, by vertue or authority of the ſaid Act, by any manner of means, or for any manner of pretence: ſo help you God, all Saints, and the holy Evangeliſts.

What ſort of perſons ſhall take this oath.

And it is alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all manner your ſubjects, as well ſpiritual as temporal, ſuing livery, or ouſtre le maine, out of the hands of your Highneſs, or of your heirs or ſucceſſors, or doing any fealty to your Highneſs, or to your heirs or ſucceſſors, by reaſon of tenure of their lands, ſhall ſwear the ſaid corporal Oath above mentioned: And that they, nor any of them ſhall hereafter have any liveries, ouſtre le maine, or reſtitution out of your hands, nor out of the hands of your heirs or ſucceſſors, till they ſhall have made the ſaid corporal Oath, in form above rehearſed. And if any perſon or perſons, being commanded by authority of this Act to make the ſaid Oath afore limited, obſtinately and wilfully refuſe that to do, or will proteſt and ſay, when they ſhall be examined upon any Interrogatories that ſhall be objected to them, for or concerning this Act, or any thing therein contained, that they be not bound to declare their thought and conſcience, and ſtiffly thereon abide: that then every ſuch perſon ſo doing, for every ſuch offence ſhall be taken and accepted for offender in high Treaſon.

The penalty of refuſers to take the oath.

And that every ſuch refuſal ſhall be deemed and adjudged high Treaſon, and the offender therein, being as is afore limited, lawfully convicted or attainted thereof by the Laws of this Realm, ſhall ſuffer ſuch pains of death, loſſes and forfeitures, and alſo loſe priviledges of Sanctuaries, in like manner and form as is above mentioned, for the Treaſons afore limited by this Act.

Honours, titles, ſtiles or lands, given by the Kings letters patents, or laſt will to ſome of his kin.

And be it further enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That if it ſhall pleaſe the Kings Majeſty at any time hereafter, by his Letters Patents under his great Seal, or by his laſt will made in writing, and ſigned with his moſt gracious hand, to advance any perſon or perſons of his moſt Royal bloud to any title, ſtile, or name, of any eſtate, dignity, or honour, whatſoever it be, and to give to them or any of them, any Caſtles, Honours, Manors, Lands, Tenements, Liberties, Franchiſes, or other hereditaments, in fee-ſimple, fee-tail, or for term of their lives, or the life of any of them: that then all and every ſuch Letters Patents, and laſt will of his Highneſs, ſo to be made to any ſuch perſon or perſons of his bloud, ſhall be good and effectual to them, and every of them, according to the tenour, purports, and effects of every ſuch Letters Patents and laſt Will. And that the ſaid perſon and perſons, and every of them, ſhall have and enjoy as well all ſuch titles, ſtiles, and names of honour, dignity and eſtate, which ſhall be contained and expreſſed in any ſuch Letters Patents, or laſt Will of the Kings Highneſs, as ſuch Caſtles, Honours, Manors, Lands, Tenements, Liberties, Franchiſes, and all other hereditaments, which ſhall be ſpecified and mentioned in every ſuch Letters Patents, or laſt Will, in ſuch manner, form, faſhion and condition, and according to ſuch eſtate or eſtates in the Law, as ſhall be expreſſed and limited in every ſuch Letters Patents or laſt Will, in as large and ample manner to all intents and purpoſes, as if the titles, ſtiles, and name of honour, dignity and eſtate, and the Caſtles, Honours, Manors, Lands, Tenements, Liberties, Franchiſes, and other hereditaments, which ſhall be compriſed in any ſuch Letters Patents, or laſt Will to be made, were already given by good and ſufficient Letters Patents to ſuch perſou or perſons of tha Kings bloud, by their ſeveral names and ſurnames, and ratified and confirmed by authority of this preſent Parliament: Or as if the names of ſuch perſon or perſons, ſo being of the Kings bloud, and ſuch titles, ſtiles, names, caſtles, honours, manors, lands, tenements, liberties, franchiſes, or other hereditaments, had been ſpecially named and expreſſed in this Act, and given to ſuch perſon or perſons of the Kings bloud, by their proper names and ſurnames, by ſufficient words, terms, clauſes and ſentences, immediately by authority of this preſent Parliament. Saving to all and every perſon and perſons, and bodies politick, and to their heirs, aſſigns and ſucceſſors, other then to the Kings Highneſs, his heirs or ſucceſſors, all ſuch right, title, intereſt, poſſeſſion, rents, annuities, fees, offices, commons, rights, intereſts, petitions, conditions, and all other hereditaments, which they or any of them may or might claim, of, in, or to any the ſaid titles, ſtiles, names, caſtles, honours, manors, lands, tenements, liberties, franchiſes, and other hereditaments contained or mentioned in any ſuch letters patents, or laſt will, in as large and ample manner as if this Act had never been had nor made.

The rights and eſtates of all others ſaved.

This Act ſhall be conſtrued according to the plain words thereof.

And be it finally enacted by authority aforeſaid, That this preſent Act, and every clauſe, article and ſentence compriſed in the ſame, ſhall be taken and accepted according to the plain words and ſentences therein contained, and ſhall not be interpreted nor expounded by colour of any pretence or cauſe, or by any ſubtile arguments, inventions or reaſons to the hinderance, diſturbance, or derogation of this Act, or any part thereof: Any thing or things, act or acts of Parliament heretofore made, or hereafter to be had, done or made to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. And that every act, ſtatute, law, proviſion, thing and things heretofore had or made, or hereafter to be had, done or made contrary to the effect of this ſtatute, ſhall be void, and of no value nor force. If any perſon ſhall extol the authority of the Biſhop of Rome, he ſhall incur the penalty of Premunire, provided Anno 16 R. 2. Every Eccleſiaſtical and lay Officer ſhall be ſworn to renounce the ſaid Biſhop and his authority, and to reſiſt it to his power, and to repute any oath taken in maintenance of the ſaid Biſhop or his authority to be void. And the refuſing of the ſaid Oath being tendred, ſhall be adjudged high Treaſon. Rep. 1 & 2 P. & M. 8. 13 El. 2.

CAP. XI.

Fruits taken during the vacation of a Benefice, ſhall be reſtored to the next Incumbent, whoſe charge for firſt-fruits ſhall begin from the firſt vacation.

FOraſmuch as in the Statute of the payment unto the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, of the firſt-fruits of ſpiritual promotions, offices, benefices and dignities within this Realm, and other the Kings Dominions, expreſs mention and declaration is not had, ne from what time the year ſhall be accounted, in which the firſt-fruits ſhall be due and payable to his Highneſs, that is to wit, whether immediately from the death, reſignation, or deprivation of every incumbent, or for the time of admiſſion or new taking of poſſeſſion in every ſuch promotion.

26 H.8.3.

And alſo by reaſon that in the ſame Statute it is not declared who ſhall have the fruits, tythes, and other profits of the ſaid benefices, offices, promotions, and dignities ſpiritual, during the time of vacation thereof, divers of the Archbiſhops and Biſhops of this Realm, have not only when the time of perceiving and taking of tythes (that is to ſay, Wooll, Lamb, Corn, and Hay, and of tithes uſually paid at the holy time of Eaſter) hath approached, deferred the collation of ſuch benefices as have been of their own patronage, but alſo have upon preſentations of Clerks made unto them by the juſt Patrons, protracted and deferred to inſtitute, induct and admit the ſame Clerks, to the intent that they might have and perceive to their own uſe, the ſame tythes growing, during the vacation: So that through ſuch delays (over and above the firſt-fruits, which be juſtly due to the Kings Highneſs) they have been conſtrained alſo to loſe all, or the moſt part of one years profits of their benefices and promotions, and to ſerve the cure at their and their friends proper coſts and charges, or utterly to forſake and give over their benefices and promotions, to their great loſs and hinderance.

The Ordinaries delay to inſtitute Clerks for their private gain.

For reformation whereof, it is ordained and enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that the ſaid year, in which the firſt-fruits ſhall be paid to the Kings grace, ſhall begin, and be accounted immediately after the avoidance or vacation of any ſuch benefice or promotions ſpiritual afore rehearſed. And that the tithes, fruits, oblations, obventions, emoluments, commodities, advantages, rents, and all other whatſoever revenues, caſualties, or profits certain and uncertain, affering or belonging to any Archdeaconry, Deanry, Prebend, Parſonage, Vicarage, Hoſpital, Wardenſhip, Provoſtſhip, or other ſpiritual promotion, benefice, dignity, or office, (Chauntrys only except) within this Realm, or other the Kings Dominions, growing, riſing or coming, during the time of vacation of the ſame promotion ſpiritual, ſhall belong, and affer to ſuch perſon, as ſhall be thereunto next preſented, promoted, inſtituted, inducted, or admitted, and to his executors, toward the payment of the firſt-fruits to the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors: Any uſage, cuſtom, liberty, priviledge, or preſcription to the contrary had, uſed, or being in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The next incumbents charged to the King, ſhall begin from the firſt vacation of the benefice. The fruits taken during the vacation of a benefice, ſhall be reſtored to his next incumbent. Coke pl. f.368.

And it is alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Archbiſhop, Biſhop, Archdeacon, Ordinary, or any other perſon or perſons, to their uſes and behoof, at any time heretofore ſith the firſt day of May laſt paſt, have perceived, received or taken, or at any time hereafter do perceive, receive, or take the fruits, tythes, obventions, oblations, emoluments, commodities, revenues, rents, advantages, profits, or caſualties, coming, growing, or belonging, or which hereafter ſhall come, grow, affer or belong to any Archdeaconry, Deanry, Prebend, Parſonage, Vicarage, Hoſpital, Wardenſhip, Provoſtſhip, or other ſpiritual promotion, benefice, dignity, or office (Chauntrys only excepted) within this Realm, or other the Kings Dominions, during the vacation of ſuch Archdeaconry, Deanry, Prebend, Parſonage, Vicarage, Hoſpital, Wardenſhip, Provoſtſhip, or other ſpiritual promotion, benefice, dignity or office (Chauntrys only excepted) and the ſame upon reaſonable requeſt from henceforth to be made, doth not render, reſtore, ſatisfie, content, and pay to the next incumbent, being lawfully inſtituted, inducted, or admitted to ſuch Archdeaconry, Deanry, Prebend, Parſonage or Vicarage, or other promotion, benefice, dignity, or office ſpiritual, except before excepted, or do let or interrupt the ſaid incumbent to have the ſame: that then every Archbiſhop, Biſhop, Archdeacon, Ordinary, or other perſon ſo doing, ſhall forfeit and loſe the treble value of ſo much as he ſhall then have received of the fruits of every Prebend, Parſonage, Vicarage, Hoſpital, Wardenſhip, Provoſtſhip, or other ſpiritual promotion whereof he ſo ſhall perceive, receive, or detain, let, or interrupt the incumbent, to perceive, receive, and have the fruits, tithes, obventions, oblations, emoluments, commodities, revenues, rents, advantages, profits, or caſualties: The moyety of which forfeiture ſhall be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other moyety thereof to the incumbent of the ſame Prebend, Parſonage or Vicarage, or other ſpiritual promotion, to be recovered in any of the Kings Courts by action, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe, in which action or ſuit the defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his Law, nor any protection or eſſoin ſhall be unto the defendant allowed.

What part of the fruits of a benefice the ordinary may retain in his hands, and for what cauſes.

Provided alway, That it ſhall be lawful to every Archbiſhop, Biſhop, Archdeacon and Ordinary, their Officers and Miniſters, to retain in his or their cuſtody, ſo much of the tithes, fruits, obventions, oblations, emoluments, commodities, advantages, rents, revenues, caſualties and profits, as ſhall amount to pay unto ſuch perſon or perſons, as hath or ſhall ſerve or keep the cure of ſuch Archdeaconry, Deanry, Prebend, Parſonage or Vicarage, or other ſpiritual promotion, during the vacation, his or their reaſonable ſtipend or ſalary. And alſo for the collection, gathering, and levying of ſuch tythes, fruits, emoluments, rents, and other profits, riſing and growing during the vacation aforeſaid: any thing in this Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Incumbents may declare their wills of any corn ſown by them upon their glebe lands.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in caſe any of the incumbents aforeſaid happen to die, and before his death hath cauſed any of his glebe-lands to be a manured and ſown at his proper coſts and charges with any corn or grain: that then in that caſe, all and every of the ſame incumbents may make and declare their teſtaments of all the profits of the corn growing upon the ſaid glebe lands, ſo manured and ſown. Any thing contained in this preſent Act in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

a 21 H. 8. 13. 34 H. 8. 19.

And where alſo before this time, divers and many Parſons, Vicars, and other ſpiritual perſons, being ſeiſed for term of their lives, of and in the ſaid ſpiritual promotions aforenamed, as well for great ſums of money to them beforehand paid, as for other cauſes and conſiderations, have let in ferm for term of years, by ſufficient writings, their ſaid Parſonages, Vicarages, and other ſpiritual promotions, or part thereof, unto divers and many of the Kings ſubjects, and after ſuch leaſes by them ſo made, the leaſors thereof have oftentimes uſed to reſign their ſaid benefices, or ſpiritual promotions, ſo demiſed and letten in ferm: by reaſon of which reſignation, and other the acts of the ſaid leaſors, the ſaid benefices, and other ſpiritual promotions have been void, and the title and intereſts of the ſaid leaſes hath been thereby adnihilate, and of none effect in the Law, contrary to right and good conſcience. For reformation whereof, and for a quietneſs the better hereafter to be had and continued between the Kings ſubjects, Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That from the foreſaid firſt day of May laſt paſt, no manner of ſuch leaſe, by ſufficient writing heretofore made, nor hereafter to be made by any ſpiritual perſon within this Realm of England, Wales, or the Marches of the ſame, to any lay perſon, of any Parſonage, Vicarage, or other ſpiritual promotion aforeſaid, within this Realm, upon which leaſe the rent and ſervices reſerved, with other the yearly charges of the leaſe, as in ſerving the cure and otherwiſe, ſhall amount within fourty ſhillings by the year, of as much as the ſaid Parſonage, Vicarage, or other ſpiritual promotion aforeſaid, ſo letten, is rated and valued at, upon the Kings books, for paying the firſt-fruits, ſhall be adjudged void, adnihilate, or determined, by reaſon of any ſuch reſignation, or other avoidance of the ſaid benefice or ſpiritual promotion, ſo letten by the only act of the ſaid leaſor, but that every ſuch leſſee or grantee of any ſuch benefices or ſpiritual promotions aforeſaid, their executors or aſſigns, ſhall have and enjoy their terms and intereſts of and in the ſame, for the term of ſix years, to be accounted next and immediately after the ſaid avoidance, if the ſaid Leaſor do ſo long live, and the leaſe ſo by him before made, do ſo long continue and endure. And that after ſuch avoidance, the ſucceſſor or ſucceſſors of every ſuch Leaſor ſhall and may diſtrain for the rent and ſervices ſo reſerved, and have their actions of debt, and all other advantages by way of action, entry, or otherwiſe, againſt the ſaid Leſſee, his executors or aſſigns, for recovery of the ſaid Rent, and covenants upon the ſaid Leaſe reſerved, as the Leaſor thereof might have had, if no ſuch avoidance had been had.

If a ſpiritual perſon do demiſe his benefice for years, and after doth reſign or die, how long the leſſee may enjoy it. ALT. 1 & 2 P. & M. 17.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if hereafter it happen any ſuch Leaſor to deceaſe and die before the end of the term by him ſo made, and that there be one year at leaſt to come of the ſaid term: that then it ſhall be lawful to the leſſee thereof, his executors or aſſigns, to hold and enjoy their ſaid Leaſe to the end of the ſame year, wherein he is ſo entred at the time of his ſaid Leaſors death, if the Leaſe do ſo long continue, bearing and paying unto the ſucceſſor of every ſuch Leaſor, all ſuch rent and ſervices, as for the remnant of the ſaid year ſhall upon every ſuch Leaſe be due: for the recovery whereof, the ſaid ſucceſſor ſhall and may have all ſuch ways and advantages, as before is limited and given to the ſucceſſor, where his predeceſſor maketh ſuch Leaſe and reſigneth.

The ſucceſſor ſhall have the Parſonage-houſe, and the glebe not ſown.

Provided alway, That every ſucceſſor after the death of his predeceſſor, may and ſhall have upon one moneths warning after the time of his induction, the manſion houſe of every ſuch Parſonage, Vicarage, or other ſpiritual promotion aforeſaid, with the glebe belonging to the ſame, not being ſown at the time of the ſaid predeceſſors death, for maintenance of his houſhold, deduction therefore in his rent, as heretofore hath been born for the ſame, or as it is reaſonably worth: any thing in this ſaid Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

How the Curate ſhall be paid his wages, if the fruit be not ſufficient.

Provided alway, That if the fruits of the vacation of the ſaid ſpiritual promotions be not ſufficient to pay the Curates ſtipend and wages for ſerving the Cure the vacation time, that then the ſame time to be born and paid by the next incumbent within xiv. days next after that he hath the poſſeſſion of the ſaid promotions ſpiritual. 1 El. 4.

CAP. XIII.

Which ſpiritual perſons ſhall be reſident upon their benefices, and which not, and for what cauſes.

Where in the Parliament begun at London on the third day of November, in the xxi. year of the Reign of our Soveraign Lord King Henry the viii. and from thence adjourned and prorogued to the Palace of Weſtminſter, the xvii. day of December then next enſuing, amongſt other good Acts and Ordinances then and there by the authority of the ſaid Parliament, it was eſtabliſhed, ordained and enacted, That as well every ſpiritual perſon, then being promoted to any Archdeaconry, Deanry, or dignity in any Monaſtery, or Cathedral Church, or other Church conventual or collegial, or being beneficed with any Parſonage or Vicarage, as all and every ſpiritual perſon and perſons, which ſhould after the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, which was in the foreſaid xxi. year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord King Henry the viii. be promoted to any of the ſaid dignities or benefices with any Parſonage or Vicarage, ſhould from the ſaid Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, be perſonally reſident and abiding at and upon his ſaid dignity, Prebend, or Benefice, or at one of them at the leaſt. And in caſe any ſuch ſpiritual perſon at any time after the ſaid Feaſt, kept not reſidence at one of his ſaid dignities, prebend, or benefices (as is aforeſaid) but abſent himſelf wilfully by the ſpace of one moneth together, or by the ſpace of two moneths, to be accounted at ſeveral times in any one year, and make his reſidence and abiding in any other places by ſuch time: that then he ſhall forfeit for every ſuch default x. li. ſterling, as in the ſame Act more plainly doth appear. In which Act among other proviſions contained and ſpecified in the ſame, it was provided, that the ſaid Act of non-reſidence ſhould not in any wiſe extend, ne be prejudicial to any ſcholar or ſcholars, being converſant and abiding for ſtudy without fraud or covin at any Univerſity within this Realm, or without, as by the ſame proviſion doth alſo appear more at large. Sithence the making of which good Act and Statute, divers and many perſons being beneficed with cure of ſouls (as is aforeſaid) and being not apt to ſtudy by reaſon of their age, or otherwiſe, ne never intending before the making of the ſaid Act, to travel in ſtudy within any of the ſaid Univerſities for the increaſe of learning, but rather minding and intending their own eaſe, ſingular lucre and pleaſure, by the ſame proviſion colourably to defraud the ſame good Statute and Ordinance; do daily and commonly reſort and repair to the ſaid Univerſities of Oxford and Cambridge, and to either of them, where they under the ſaid pretence and colour of ſtudy, do continue and abide, living diſſolutely, nothing profiting themſelves by ſtudy at all in learning, but conſume the time in idleneſs, and in other paſtimes and inſolent pleaſures, giving occaſion and evil example thereby to other young men and ſtudients within the ſaid Univerſities, little or nothing regarding their cure and charge of ſouls, contrary to the minds and intent of the makers of the foreſaid good Statute and Ordinance. And alſo divers and many old beneficed men have and do continually remain there, never exerciſing nor practiſing their learning to the example of vertue, and maintenance of the Commonweal, in diſcharge of their conſcience, according to their duty, having nevertheleſs, and occupying ſuch rooms and commodities as were inſtituted and ordained for the maintenance and relief of poor ſcholars, to the great hindrance and detriment of the ſame.

A rehearſal of 21 H. 8.13. touching reſidence of ſpiritual perſons upon their benefices.

Several perſons under the colour of ſtudy in one of the Univerſities, do intend to defraud the meaning of the St. of 21 H.8. 13.

Be it therefore enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That all and ſingular ſpiritual perſon and perſons, which now be, or hereafter ſhall be to any benefice or benefices promoted as is aforeſaid, being above the age of xl. years, (the Chancellor, Vice-chancellor, Commiſſary of the ſaid Univerſities, or any of them, Wardens, Deans, Provoſts, Preſidents, Rectors, Maſters, Principals, and other head rulers of Colledges, Halls, and other houſes or places corporate within the ſaid Univerſities, or any of them, Doctors of the Chair, Readers of Divinity in the common Schools of Divinity in any of the ſaid Univerſities, only excepted) ſhall be reſident and abiding at, and upon one of their ſaid benefices, according to the intent and true meaning of the ſaid former Act, upon ſuch pain and penalties as be contained in the ſaid former Act made and appointed for ſuch beneficed perſons for their non-reſidence. And that none of the ſaid beneficed perſons being above the age aforeſaid, except before except, ſhall from henceforth be excuſed of their non-reſidence upon the ſaid benefices, for that they be ſtudients or reſiant within the ſaid Univerſities or any of them: any proviſo, or any other clauſe or ſentence ſpecified, or contained in the ſaid former Act of non-reſidence, or any other thing or things to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Which ſpiritual perſons may be diſcharged from reſidence upon their benefices, and for what cauſe.

And over this be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular ſuch beneficed perſons being under the age of xl. years, reſiant and abiding within the ſaid Univerſities, or any of them, ſhall not enjoy the priviledge and liberty of non-reſidence, contained in the proviſo of the ſaid former Act, made for the Scholars of the ſaid Univerſities, or any of them, unleſs he or they be preſent at the ordinary Lecture and Lectures, as well at home in their houſes, as in the common School or Schools: and in their proper perſon keep ſophemes, problemes, diſputations, and other exerciſes of learning, and be opponent, and reſpondent in the ſame, according to the ordinances and ſtatutes of either of the ſaid Univerſities, where he or they ſhall be ſo abiding or reſiant, any thing contained in the ſaid Proviſo or former Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Provided alway, That this Act ſhall begin to take effect at the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, and not before.

Provided alway, That this Act nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to any perſon or perſons, which now is, or hereafter ſhall be Readers of any publick or common Lecture in Divinity, Law civil, Phyſick, Philoſophy, Humanity, or of any of the liberal ſciences, or publick or common Interpreters or Teachers of the Hebrew tongue, Caldy, or Readers of Lectures or Interpreters of tongues in either of the Univerſities.

Greek, in whatſoever Colledge or place of any of the ſaid Univerſities the ſaid perſons for the time being, ſhall read the ſaid common or publick Lectures: nor yet to any perſon or perſons, after or above the age of xl. years, which ſhall reſort to any of the ſaid Univerſities to proceed Doctors in Divinity, Law civil, or Phyſick, for the time of their ſaid proceedings, and executing of ſuch Sermons, Diſputations or Lectures, which they be bound by the Statutes of the Univerſities there to do for the ſaid degrees ſo obtained.

Proceeding Doctor in Divinity, Law, or Phyſick.

CAP. XIV.

At what prices Wines ſhall be ſold.

No perſon ſhal ſell Gaſcoyn or Guyon Wine above viii.d. the galon. Stat. 7 Ed.6.5. 5 El. 5. REP. 1 Jac.25. & 21 Jac.28.

BE it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons ſhall ſell any Gaſcoyn, Guyon, or French Wines above viii. d. the galon, that is to ſay, a peny the pint, two pence the quart, four pence the pottle, and eight pence the galon, upon pain of forfeiture for every pint to be ſold above the ſaid price, four pence, and for every quart ſold above the ſaid price, viii. d. and for every pottle ſo ſold above the ſaid price, xii. d. and for every galon ſo ſold above the ſaid price afore limited, ii. s. And that no Malmeſeys, Romneys, Sacks, nor other ſweet Wines ſhall be ſold by retail above xii. d. the galon, vi. d. the pottle, iii. d. the quart, i. d. ob. the pint, upon pain to loſe and forfeit iii. s. iv. d. for every galon, xx. d. for every pottle, xii. d. for every quart, and vi. d. for every pint that ſhall be ſold contrary to this Act.

The prices of veſſels of Wines ſhall be aſſeſſed by the Kings great Officers. St. 37 H.8.23. 34 H.8.7.

Provided alway, That the Lord Chancellor, Lord Treaſurer, Lord Preſident of the Kings moſt honourable Council, Lord Privy-ſeal, and the two Chief Juſtices of either Bench, or five, four, or three of them, ſhall have power and authority by their diſcretions, to ſet the prices of all kind of Wines, that is to ſay, of the prices of the butt, tun, pipe, hogſhead, puncheon, teerce, barrel, or rundlet, when it ſhall be ſold in groſs, ſo that they or any of them cauſe the prices by them ſet, to be written, and open proclamation thereof to be made in the Kings Court of Chancery openly in the Term time, or elſe in the City, Borough, or Town, where any ſuch Wines ſhall be ſold in groſs: any thing contained in this Act to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

The forfeiture of them which ſell Wines in groſs, contrary to the prices aſſeſſed.

And it is further enacted, That if any perſon or perſons, after ſuch prices be ſet, and put in writing by the ſaid Lord Chancellor, Lord Treaſurer, Lord Preſident of the Kings moſt honourable Councel, Lord Privy-ſeal, and the two chief Juſtices, or by five, four, or three of them, and Proclamation thereof had (as is aforeſaid) do ſell any Wines in groſs, by any fraud or covin, contrary to the ſaid prices ſo ſet and proclaimed: that then every offender in that behalf, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every veſſel by them ſold in groſs, contrary to the ſaid prices, xl. s. the one half of all which forfeitures to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half thereof, if it be within any City, Borough, or Town-corporate, to be to the Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, or other head rulers of ſuch Cities, Boroughs, or Towns-corporate. And if it be without City, Borough, or Town-corporate, then to be to ſuch of the Kings ſubjects as will ſue for the ſame. And that every ſuch forfeiture ſhall be recovered by original writ of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in which ſuit no wager of Law ſhall be admitted, nor any protection or eſſoin allowed.

Juſtices of P. and chief Officers in Boroughs, &c. ſhall enquire of, and puniſh offendors.

And it is alſo enacted, That the Juſtices of Peace in every Shire of this Realm, and all Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, and other head Officers in Cities, Boroughs, and Towns-corporate, that is to ſay, every of them within the limits of their Commiſſions and authorities, as well within Franchiſes as without, ſhall have power and authority to examine, hear, enquire and determine the defaults of ſuch as ſhall attempt to ſell any Wines in groſs or by retail contrary to this Act, and to puniſh the offendors by impriſonment, or otherwiſe by their diſcretions.

The contents of every veſſel of Wine, and the St. of 1 R.3. 13. and other Statutes made touching the ſame confirmed. St. 18 H.6.17.

And whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the firſt year of the Reign of King Richard the third, among other things it was eſtabliſhed, ordained and enacted, That every tun of wine ſhould contain CClii. gallons, every butt of Malmſey ſhould contain Cxxvi. gallons, every pipe Cxxvi. galons, every tertian or puncheon, lxxxiv. galons, every hogſhead lxiii. galons, every teerce xli. galons, and every barrel xxxi. galons and di. and every rundlet xviii. galons and di. And that no veſſel ſhould be put to ſale, till it were gauged, upon pain of forfeiture, as by the ſame Statute it doth appear more at large. Nevertheleſs great deceit is daily uſed in ſelling of Wines and Oyles in Casks and Veſſels not bearing the contents above limited, to the great loſs of the Kings poor ſubjects. For remedy whereof it is enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Statute made in the firſt year of King Richard the third, and all other Statutes heretofore made for true gauging and meaſuring of Wines, Oyles, Honey, or any other liquors, which Eſtatutes afore this time be not repealed nor expired, ſhall ſtand in their ſtrength and vertue, and be put in due execution, according to their tenour and effects in every behalf.

Every veſſel of Wine, &c. ſhall be truly gauged and marked upon the head. St. 27 Ed.3.8. 23 H.6.16.

And over that be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That every gauger within this Realm ſhall truly and effectually within the limits of his office gauge all the ſaid tuns, butts, pipes, teerces, puncheons, tertians, barrels, hogſheads, and rundlets, and ſhall plainly and truly mark upon the head of every ſuch veſſel the content of the ſame, upon pain to forfeit to the party to whoſe uſe the Wine, Oyle, or other thing therein being ſhall be ſold, four times the value of that which the veſſel ſo marked ſhall lack of his lawful content above written: the ſame forfeiture to be recovered over and beſide the coſts of the ſuit, by the Kings original writ, or by bill in any of the Kings Courts of his common Laws, or in any competent Court, having juriſdiction in the Place where that offence ſhall be committed, by action or bill of debt, in which action or ſuit, none eſſoin, protection, nor wager of Law ſhall be accepted, admitted, or allowed to the defendant or defendants. And that every Merchant or other perſon, ſelling the ſaid Wine, Oyle, or other thing contained in the ſaid veſſel marked, ſhall allow of the price thereof to the buyer of the ſame, for every quantity of Wine, Oyl, or other thing contained in the ſaid marked veſſel, the full value of the lack thereof, being by reaſon of default of full gauge of the veſſel marked, or of default of filling of the ſame veſſel, or by reaſon of default of any of them, after the rate of the whole price of Wine, Oyle, or other thing ſo being ſold by that veſſel marked: and that upon pain of forfeiture to the ſame buyer the double value of the ſame veſſel and Wine, Oyle, or other thing therein being ſo ſold; the ſame forfeiture to be recovered together with the coſts of the ſuit, in manner and form as the forfeiture laſt before written is limited to be recovered. How Pirates on the Sea ſhall be tryed and puniſhed.

Where Traytors, Pirates, Thieves, Robbers, Murderers, and confederates upon the Sea, many times eſcaped unpuniſhed, becauſe the trial of their offences hath heretofore been ordered, judged and determined before the Admiral or his Lieutenant, or Commiſſary, after the courſe of the civil Laws, the nature whereof is, that before any judgment of death can be given againſt the offendors, either they muſt plainly confeſs their offences (which they will never do without torture or pains) or elſe their offences be ſo plainly and directly proved by witneſs indifferent, ſuch as ſaw their offences committed, which cannot be gotten but by chance at few times, becauſe ſuch offendors commit their offences upon the Sea, and at many times murder and kill ſuch perſons, being in the ſhip or boat, where they commit their offences, which ſhould witneſs againſt them in that behalf; and alſo ſuch as ſhould bear witneſs be commonly Mariners and Shipmen, which becauſe of their often voyages and paſſages in the Seas, depart without long tarrying and protraction of time, to the great coſts and charges as well of the Kings Highneſs, as ſuch as would purſue ſuch offendors. For reformation whereof, be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all Treaſons, Felonies, Robberies, Murders, and Confederacies hereafter to be committed in or upon the Sea, or in any other haven, river, creek, or place where the Admiral or Admirals have, or pretend to have power, authority, or juriſdiction, ſhall be inquired, tried, heard, determined and judged in ſuch Shires and places in this Realm, as ſhall be limited by the Kings Commiſſion or Commiſſions to be directed for the ſame, in like form and condition, as if any ſuch offence or offences had been committed or done in or upon the land, and ſuch Commiſſions ſhall be had under the Kings great Seal, directed to the Admiral or Admirals, or to his or their Lieutenant, deputy and deputies, and to three or four ſuch other ſubſtantial perſons, as ſhall be named or appointed by the Lord-Chancellor of Eugland, for the time being, from time to time, and as oft as need ſhall require, to hear and determine ſuch offences, after the common courſe of the Laws of this land, uſed for Treaſons, Felonies, Robberies, Murders, and Confederacies of the ſame done and committed upon the land within this Realm.

And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That ſuch perſons to whom ſuch Commiſſion or Commiſſions ſhall be directed, or iv. of them at the leaſt, ſhall have full power and authority to enquire of ſuch offences, and of every of them, by the oaths of twelve good and lawful inhabitants in the Shire limited in their Commiſſion: in ſuch like manner and form, as if ſuch offences had been committed upon the land within the ſame Shire. And that every inditement found and preſented before ſuch Commiſſioners, of any Treaſons, Felonies, Robberies, Murders, manſlaughters, or ſuch other offences committed or done in and upon the ſeas, or in or upon any other haven, river, or creek, ſhall be good and effectual in the Law. And if any perſon or perſons happen to be indicted for any ſuch offence done, or hereafter to be done upon the Seas, or in any other place above limited: that then ſuch order, proceſs, judgment and execution ſhall be uſed, had, done, and made, to, and againſt every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo being indicted, as againſt Traytors, Felons, and Murderers, for Treaſon, Felony, Robbery, Murder, or other ſuch offences done upon the land, as by the Laws of this Realm is accuſtomed. And that the trial of ſuch offence or offences, if it be denied by the offendor or offendors, ſhall be had by xii. lawful men inhabited in the Shire limited within ſuch Commiſſion, which ſhall be directed as is aforeſaid, and no challenge or challenges to be had for the hundred. And ſuch as ſhall be convict of any ſuch offence or offences, by verdict, confeſſion, or proceſs by authority of any ſuch Commiſſion, ſhall have and ſuffer ſuch pains of death, loſſes of lands, goods and cattels, as if they had been attainted and convicted of any Treaſons, Felonies, Robberies, or other the ſaid offences done upon the lands.

CAP. XVI.

Releaſe of ſuch who have obtained licences from the See of Rome.

Where the Biſhop of Rome and his predeceſſors, of his and their covetous and ambitious mind, to the intent to advance and enrich themſelves and the See of Rome, to the great impoveriſhing of this Realm of England, and other the Kings Dominions contrary to Gods Law, the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, and in derogation of the Imperial Crown of this ſaid Realm, have heretofore wrongfully pretended, extorted, uſed and exerciſed within the ſame, divers and many uſurped powers, juriſdictions and authorities, during, and by the which time, the ſaid Biſhop and his predeceſſors, arrogantly and injuſtly have taken upon them, for great ſums of money, and other profits to them given, to grant unto the Kings ſubjects, and other inhabitants within this Realm, & other the Kings Dominions, many, divers and ſundry authorities, immunities, faculties, priviledges, licences, indulgences, and preheminences of divers kinds, natures, and qualities; which although they proceeded by an unjuſt and uſurped authority, have been until now of late by the ſubjects of this Realm timorouſly and ignorantly accepted, received, uſed, and erroniouſly put in exerciſe and execution: the which uſurped authority, juriſdiction and power is now juſtly, truly, and ought to be clearly and abſolutely extinguiſhed, extirped, and aboliſhed within this Realm, and other the Kings Dominions. And foraſmuch as all and every ſuch perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, which unlawfully and without any manner of authority or juſt ground, heretofore have timorouſly and ignorantly accepted, received, uſed, and erroniouſly put in execution and exerciſe the ſaid faculties, immunities, authorities, priviledges, licences, indulgences and preheminences, have now ſincere, pure, and perfect intelligence and knowledge of the ſaid uſurped authority, juriſdiction and power: And that the ſaid faculties, authorities, priviledges, licences and indulgences, ſo as is aforeſaid accepted, received, uſed, and erroniouſly exerciſed, were and been to all intents and purpoſes, clearly void, fruſtrate, and of none effect. Albeit if they ſhould be impeached or interrupted of ſuch priviledges, liberties, preheminences, authorities, juriſdictions, profits, and other commodities, which they now have, uſe and exerciſe by colour of ſuch vain and void licences, diſpenſations, and faculties, it ſhould be to their intolerable inquietations and utter undoing.

All bulls and diſpenſations from the Biſhop or See of Rome, to any Subjects of this Realm, ſhall be void.

Wherefore be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That all bulls, breves, faculties and diſpenſations, of what names, natures, or qualities ſoever they be of, heretofore had or obtained of the Biſhop of Rome, or of any his predeceſſors, or by the authority of the See of Rome, by or to any ſubjects, reſiants, or bodies politick or corporate, of or in this Realm, or of or in any other the Kings Dominions, ſhall from henceforth be clearly void, and of no value, force, ſtrength, nor vertue, and ſhall never hereafter be uſed, admitted, allowed, pleaded or alleadged in any places or Courts of this Realm, or of any other the Kings Dominions, upon the pains contained in the Statute of proviſion and premunire, made in the ſixteenth year of the Reign of King Richard the ſecond. Yet notwithſtanding, at the moſt humble petition and interceſſion of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, it may pleaſe the Kings Majeſty of his moſt gracious benignity, goodneſs, and bleſſed diſpoſition, that it may be enacted by authority of this Parliament, That all marriages had and ſolemnized within this Realm, or in any other the Kings Dominions, before the third day of November, in the ſix and twentieth year of the Kings moſt gracious Reign, whereof there is no divorce or ſeparation had by the Eccleſiaſtical laws of this Realm, and which marriages be not prohibited by Gods laws, limited and declared in the Act made in this preſent Parliament for the eſtabliſhment of the Kings ſucceſſion, or otherwiſe by holy ſcripture, ſhall be by authority of this preſent Parliament, good, lawful, and effectual, and ſhall be from the beginning of ſuch marriages reputed, eſteemed, taken, adjudged, received, approved, and allowed by the authority of this preſent Parliament, to all and ſingular purpoſes, effects and intents, as good, as ſufficient, and as available, as though no impediment of matrimony had ever been between them that have contracted and ſolemnized ſuch marriages: And that all children procreated and to be procreated in and under ſuch marriages, ſhall be lawful to all intents and purpoſes.

St. 28 H. 8 7. A confirmation of former lawful marriages.

A confirmation of all Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and their authority, and other Eccleſiaſtical perſons and orders.

And that it may be alſo enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all Archbiſhops and Biſhops of this Realm, or of any the Kings Dominions, conſecrated, and at this preſent time taken and reputed for Archbiſhops and Biſhops, may by authority of this preſent Parliament, and not by vertue of any proviſion, or other foreign authority, licence, faculty, or diſpenſation, keep, enjoy and retain their Archbiſhopricks and Biſhopricks, in as large and ample manner, as if they had been promoted, elected, confirmed and conſecrated according to the due courſe of the laws of this Realm. And that every Archbiſhop and Biſhop of this Realm, and of other the Kings Dominions, may miniſter, uſe and exerciſe all and every thing and things pertaining to the office or order of an Archbiſhop and Biſhop, with all tokens, inſigns and ceremonies thereunto lawfully belonging.

And that all Eccleſiaſtical perſons of the Kings Realm and Dominions, which at this time be taken, had and reputed for Abbots, Priors, Abbeſſes, Prioreſſes, and other heads of religion (which be not, neither ſhall be excluded from their dignities by the late Act of ſuppreſſion) and the religious perſons living under their obedience, and all perſons now taken and reputed as Maſters, Preſidents, Provoſts, and Wardens of Cathedral Churches and Colledges, with the Companies and Fellowſhips of the ſame, all Prieſts and Clerks, which have received any of the Eccleſiaſtical Orders, all Archdeacons and Deans, and other having Offices, cures and dignities ſpiritual, may by authority of this Act, and not by the vertue of any foreign power or authority, adminiſter, uſe and exerciſe all things pertaining to their dignities, offices, orders, cures, religions and fellowſhips, and may lawfully hereafter uſe all tokens, inſigns and ceremonies, which they have been accuſtomed to uſe in times paſt (ſo it be not expreſly againſt the Laws of God, and this Realm) any thing or things contained in any Act or Acts made ſithen the beginning of this preſent Parliament to the contrary of any the premiſes in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

And where divers and many of the Kings ſaid ſubjects have purchaſed and obtained many diſpenſations, bulls, breves and faculties of the Biſhop of Rome for the time being, or by authority of the See of Rome, as pluralities, unions, trialties, appropriations, commendams, exemptions, and other bulls, breves and faculties, for divers cauſes and matters, other then be afore expreſſed, which be of no ſtrength or vertue, It may therefore pleaſe the Kings Majeſty, that it may be enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all and every his ſaid ſubjects, during the time of one whole year next after the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, may enjoy, uſe and have by authority of this preſent Act, and not by the vertue of the ſaid bulls, breves and faculties, all and every the effects contained and ſpecified in ſuch bulls, breves and faculties, in all ſuch caſes only as may be diſpenſed with by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, by authority of ths Laws and Statutes of this Realm.

The effect and contents of bulls, breves, faculties, &c. purchaſed of the See of Rome, which be allowable, ſhall be confirmed under the great Seal.

And that it may be further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all and every the Kings ſaid ſubjects, bringing, tendring, and delivering to ſuch perſons of his Council, or the Maſters of his Chancery, as the Kings Highneſs ſhall name and appoint, any bulls, breves, or any other faculties, concerning any the premiſes, that then, if it ſhall appear to ſuch perſons, as the Kings Highneſs ſhall ſo name and appoint to receive ſuch bulls, faculties and breves, after due examination thereof had, that the effects contained and ſpecified in ſuch bulls, faculties and breves, or any part thereof, may be lawfully granted by the ſaid Archbiſhop of Canterbury, by authority of the Laws and Statutes of this Realm: that then and in every ſuch caſe the Kings ſaid ſubjects, making humble ſuit to have the effects contained in the ſaid bulls, breves and faculties to be granted unto them, ſhall have, receive and obtain of the Chancellor of England, or Keeper of the great Seal for the time being, by ſufficient writing in due form to be made, and to be ſealed under the Kings great Seal, all and every ſuch effects contained and ſpecified in ſuch bulls, breves and faculties, as may be lawfully granted by the ſaid Archbiſhop of Canterbury, by authority of the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, paying only for ſealing of every ſuch writing, xx. s. iv. d. and over that, for the reaſonable coſts for pains of the writing thereof, iii. s. iv. d. and not above; and for the pain taken for due examination of every ſuch bulls, breves and faculties, iii. s. iv. d. and not above. And that this preſent Act ſhall be ſufficient and immediate warrant to the Chancellor or Keeper of the great Seal, for enſealing and delivery of ſuch licences, faculties, diſpenſations, and other writings which ſhall be made, granted, and ſealed under the Kings great Seal, by vertue and authority of this Act.

And it is alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all and every ſuch licence, diſpenſation, faculty, confirmation, or other writing, to be had, made, or granted under the Kings great Seal, out of the ſaid Court of Chancery by authority of this Act, in form as is above rehearſed, ſhall be good and effectual to the ſaid parties ſuing for the ſame, according to the tenor and effects thereof, and ſhall be admitted, accepted, and allowed in all Courts and places of this Realm, and in all other the Kings Dominions; any uſage, preſcription, foreign laws, cuſtoms, or ordinance to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. CAP. I.

Joynt Tenants, and Tenants in common ſhall make partition by Writ.

Several inconveniences enſuing by holding lands joyntly, or in common, being undivided.

FOraſmuch as by the common Laws of this Realm, divers of the Kings ſubjects, being ſeiſed of manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, as joynt Tenants: or as Tenants in common, with other of any eſtate of inheritance, in their own rights, or in the right of their wives, by purchaſe, deſcent, or otherwiſe, and every of them ſo being joynt Tenants, or Tenants in common, have like right, title, intereſt, and poſſeſſion in the ſame manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments for their parts or portions joyntly, or in common undevidedly together with other, and none of them by the ſaid doth, or may know their ſeveral parts or portions in the ſame, or that that is his or theirs, by it ſelf undivided; and cannot by the Laws of this Realm otherwiſe occupy or take the profits of the ſame, or make any ſeverance, diviſion, or partition thereof, without other of their mutual aſſents and conſents: by reaſon whereof divers and many of them, being ſo joyntly and undividedly ſeiſed of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, oftentimes of their perverſe, covetous and malicious minds and wills, againſt all right, juſtice, equity, and good conſcience, by ſtrength and power, have not only cut and fallen down all the woods and trees growing upon the ſame, but alſo have extirped, ſubverted, pulled down and deſtroyed all the houſes, edifications and buildings, medows, paſtures, commons, and the whole commodities of the ſame, and have taken and converted them to their own uſes and behoofs, to the open wrong and diſheriſon, and againſt the minds and wills of other, holding the ſame manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments joyntly, or in common with them, and they have been always without aſſured remedy for the ſame.

Joynt Tenants and Tenants in common are compellable to make partition by writs. b Raſt. pl.f.450. Coke pl.f.410.

Be it therefore enacted by the King our moſt dread Soveraign Lord, and by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and by the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, that all joynt Tenants, and Tenants in common, that now be, or hereafter ſhall be of any eſtate, or eſtate of inheritance in their own rights, or in the right of their wives, of any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments within this Realm of England, Wales, or the marches of the ſame, ſhall and may be coacted and compelled, by vertue of this preſent Act, to [a] make partition between them of all ſuch manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments as they now hold, or hereafter ſhall hold as joynt Tenants, or tenants in common, [b] by writ De participatione facienda, in that caſe to be deviſed in the King our ſoveraign Lords Court of Chancery, in like manner and form as Coparceners by the common laws of this Realm have been and are compelled to do, and the ſame writ to be purſued at the common law.

How Lords in the Parliament ſhall be placed.

A known order of placing of great men according to their degree is neceſſary.

FOraſmuch as in all great Councils and Congregations of men, having ſundry degrees and offices in the Commonwealth, it is very requiſite and convenient that an order ſhould be had and taken for the placing and ſitting of ſuch perſons as been bounden to reſort to the ſame, to the intent that they knowing their places, may uſe the ſame without diſpleaſure, or let of the Council. Therefore the Kings moſt Royal Majeſty, although it appertaineth unto his Prerogative Royal, to give ſuch honour, reputation and placing to his Councellors, and other his ſubjects, as ſhall be ſeeming to his moſt excellent wiſdom, is nevertheleſs pleaſed and contented, for an order to be had and taken in this his moſt high Court of Parliament, that it ſhall be enacted by authority of the ſame, in manner and form as hereafter followeth.

None ſhall ſit on either ſide of the cloth of eſtate.

The Kings Vicegerent in Eccleſiaſtical juriſdiction.

Firſt, It is enacted by authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree, or condition ſoever he or they be of, (except only the Kings children) ſhall at any time hereafter attempt or preſume to ſit, or have place at any ſide of the cloth of eſtate in the Parliament-chamber, neither of the one hand of the Kings Highneſs, nor of the other, whether the Kings Majeſty be there perſonally preſent, or abſent. And foraſmuch as the Kings Majeſty is juſtly and lawfully ſupream head in earth under God of the Church of England, and for the good exerciſe of the ſaid moſt Royal dignity and office, hath made Thomas Lord Crumwel, and Lord privy ſeal, his vicegerent for good and due miniſtration of Juſtice to be had in all cauſes and caſes touching the Eccleſiaſtical juriſdiction, and for the Godly information and redreſs of all errors, hereſies, and abuſes in the ſaid Church: It is therefore alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Lord Crumwel having the ſaid office of Vicegerent, and all other perſons which hereafter ſhall have the ſaid office of the grant of the Kings Highneſs, his heirs or ſucceſſors, ſhall ſit and be placed, as well in this preſent Parliament, as in all Parliaments to be holden hereafter, on the right ſide of the Parliament chamber, and upon the ſame form that the Archbiſhop of Canterbury ſitteth on, and above the ſame Archbiſhop and his ſucceſſors, and ſhall have voice in every Parliament to aſſent or diſſent, as other the Lords of the Parliament.

How the Biſhops ſhall be placed in the Parliament houſe.

And it is alſo enacted, That next to the ſaid Vicegerent ſhall ſit the Archbiſhop of Canterbury; and then next to him on the ſame form and ſide, ſhall ſit the Archbiſhop of York; and next to him on the ſame form and ſide, the Biſhop of London, and next to him on the ſame ſide and form, the Biſhop of Durham; and next to him on the ſame ſide and form, the Biſhop of Wincheſter, then all the other Biſhops of both Provinces of Canterbury and York, ſhall ſit and be placed on the ſame ſide after their ancienties, as it hath been accuſtomed.

The Lord Chancellor, Treaſurer, Preſident of the Kings Council, and Lord Privy Seal.

And foraſmuch as ſuch other perſonages, which now have, and hereafter ſhall happen to have other great offices of the Realm, that is to ſay, the offices of the Lord Chancellor, the Lord Treaſurer, the Lord Preſident of the Kings moſt honourable Council, the Lord Privy Seal, the great Chamberlain of England, the Conſtable of England, the Lord Marſhal of England, the Lord Admiral, the grand Maſter or Lord Steward of the Kings moſt honourable Houſhold, the Kings Chamberlain, and the Kings Secretary, have not heretofore been appointed and ordered for the placing and ſitting in the Kings moſt high Court of Parliament by reaſon of their offices: It is therefore now ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Lord Chancellor, the Lord Treaſurer, the Lord Preſident of the Kings Council, and the Lord Privy-Seal, being of the degree of Barons of the Parliament, or above, ſhall ſit and be placed as well in this preſent Parliament, as in all other Parliaments hereafter to be holden, on the left ſide of the ſaid Parliament chamber, on the higher part of the form of the ſame ſide, above all Dukes, except onely ſuch as ſhall happen to be the Kings Son, the Kings Brother, the Kings Uncle, the Kings Nephew, or the Kings Brothers or Siſters Son.

The great Chamberlain, Conſtable, Marſhal, Admiral, Steward, &c.

And it is alſo ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the great Chamberlain, the Conſtable, the Marſhal, the Lord Admiral, the great Maſter or Lord Steward, and the Kings Chamberlain, ſhall ſit and be placed after the Lord Privy-Seal, in manner and form following, that is to ſay, Every of them ſhall ſit and be placed above all other perſonages being of the ſame eſtates or degrees that they ſhall happen to be of, that is to ſay, The great Chamberlain firſt, the Conſtable next, the Marſhal third, the Lord Admiral the fourth, the Grand Maſter or Lord Steward the fifth, and the Kings Chamberlain the ſixth.

The Kings chief Secretary.

And it is alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the Kings chief Secretary, being of the degree of a Baron of the Parliament, ſhall ſit and be placed afore and above all Barons, not having any of the offices afore mentioned. And if he be a Biſhop, that then he ſhall ſit and be placed above all other Biſhops, not having any of the Offices above remembred.

Dukes, Marqueſſes, Earls, Vicounts, Barons.

And it is alſo ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all Dukes not afore mentioned, Marqueſſes, Earls, Vicounts, and Barons, not having any of the Offices aforeſaid, ſhall ſit and be placed after their ancienty, as it hath been accuſtomed.

The places of great officers under the degree of Barons.

And it is further enacted, That if any perſon or perſons, which at any time hereafter ſhall happen to have any of the ſaid Offices of Lord Chancellor, Lord Treaſurer, Lord Preſident of the Kings Council, Lord Privy Seal, or chief Secretary, ſhall be under the degree of a Baron of the Parliament, by reaſon whereof they can have no intereſt to give any aſſent or diſſent in the ſaid houſe, that then in every ſuch caſe, ſuch of them as ſhall happen to be under the ſaid degree of a Baron, ſhall ſit and be placed at the uppermoſt part of the ſacks, in the midſt of the ſaid Parliament Chamber, either there to ſit upon one form, or upon the uppermoſt ſack, the one of them above the other in order, as is above rehearſed.

Places in trials by Peers.

Be it alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That in all trials of treaſons by Peers of this Realm, if any of the Peers that ſhall be called hereafter to be triers of ſuch treaſons, ſhall happen to have any of the Offices aforeſaid, that then they having ſuch Offices, ſhall ſit and be placed according to their Offices, above all the other Peers that ſhall be called to ſuch trials, in manner and form as is above mentioned and rehearſed.

Places in the Star-chamber, and other aſſemblies.

And it is alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That as well in all Parliaments, as in the Star-chamber, and in all other aſſemblies and conferences of Council, the Lord Chancellor, the Lord Treaſurer, the Lord Preſident, the Lord Privy-ſeal, the great Chamberlain, the Conſtable, the Marſhal, the Lord Admiral, the Grand Maſter or Lord Steward, the Kings Chamberlain, and the Kings chief Secretary ſhall ſit and be placed in ſuch order and faſhion as is above rehearſed, and not in any other place, by authority of this preſent Act.

b Plow. f. 102. Dyer f. 102. 352.

Abbeſs or Prioreſs, or other Governour or Governeſs aboveſaid, within one year next before the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, or if any late Abbot, Prior, Abbeſs, Prioreſs, or other late Governour or Governeſs aboveſaid, within one year next before any ſuch diſſolution, ſuppreſſion, renouncing, relinquiſhing, forfeiting, giving up, or coming to the Kings Highneſs, of the premiſſes, or of any parcel thereof, as is aforeſaid, have made any demiſe, leaſe, or grant to any perſon or perſons for term of years, of any manors, meaſes, lands, tenements, parſonages appropriate, tithes, penſions, portions, or other [a] hereditaments aforeſaid, which perſon or perſons at the time of the ſaid demiſe, leaſe, or grant, had, and held the ſame to ferm for term of years then not [b] expired, that then the ſaid perſon or perſons to whom any ſuch demiſe, leaſe, or grant hath been ſo made, ſhall have and hold the ſame for the term of one and twenty years onely from the time of the making of the ſaid demiſe, leaſe or grant, if ſo many years be by the ſame demiſe, leaſe or grant ſpecified, limited and expreſſed, or elſe for ſo many years, as in ſuch demiſe, leaſe or grant been expreſſed, ſo that the old rent be thereupon reſerved, and ſo that the ſame leaſe or leaſes exceed not xxj. years. This Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A leaſe for life, made to the old leſſee for life or years.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Abbot, Prior, Abbeſs, Prioreſs, or other late Governour or Governeſs, within one year next before any ſuch diſſolution, ſuppreſſion, renouncing, relinquiſhing, forfeiting, giving up, or coming unto the Kings Highneſs of the premiſſes, or of any parcel thereof, as is aforeſaid, have made any demiſe, leaſe or grant to any perſon or perſons, for term of life or lives, of any manors, meaſes, lands, tenements, parſonages appropriate, tithes, penſions, portions, or other hereditaments aforeſaid, which perſon or perſons, or any of them, at the time of the ſaid demiſe, leaſe or grant, had and held the ſame for term of life or lives, or for term of years then not expired: that then the ſaid perſon or perſons, to whom any ſuch leaſe or grant hath been ſo made, ſhall have and hold the ſame for term of their life or lives, ſo that the old rent be thereupon reſerved: this Act or any other thing therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

All Copies for life granted according to the Cuſtom ſhall be good.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular leaſes and grants, made by copy to any perſon or perſons, of any of the ſaid meſſuages, lands, tenements, parſonages appropriate, tithes, penſions, portions, or other hereditaments aforeſaid, for term of life or lives, which by the cuſtom of the Countrey hath been uſed to be demiſed, letten, or granted by copy of Court-roll, ſhall be good and effectual in the Law, ſo that the old rent be reſerved by and upon every ſuch leaſe and leaſes: this Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Leaſes allowed in the Court of Augmentations.

c Dyer f. 80.

Provided alway, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all leaſes heretofore made of any of the premiſſes by authority of our Sovereign Lord the Kings Courts of Augmentations [c] of the Revenues of his Crown, and all ſuch leaſes, feoffments, and wood-ſales, made by the ſaid Governours and Governeſſes, or any of them, under their Covent ſeals, or under the Covent or common ſeal of any of them, within one year next before the diſſolution, ſuppreſſion, renouncing, relinquiſhing, forfeiting, giving up, or coming to the Kings Highneſs, of the ſaid Monaſteries, Abbathies, Priories, Nunneries, Colledges, Hoſpitals, houſes of Friers, or other Religious or Eccleſiaſtical houſes or places, which ſaid leaſes, grants, feoffments, and wood-ſales have been examined, enrolled, decreed, or affirmed in our ſaid Sovereign Lord the Kings Court of Augmentations, and the decree of the ſame put in writing, ſealed with the ſeal of the ſaid Court of Augmentations, ſhall be good and effectual according to the ſame decree, any clauſe or act heretofore in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

How they ſhall be relieved which have truly paid money for wood to any Eccleſiaſtical Governour.

Provided alway, and be it alſo further enacted by the authority aboveſaid, That if any perſon or perſons have juſtly and truly, without fraud or covin, paid or given in any ſum or ſums of money, to any of the ſaid late Governours and Governeſſes, for the bargain and ſale of any woods, being and growing in or upon any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, which appertained or belonged to the ſaid late Monaſteries, Abbathies, Priories, Nunneries, Colledges, Hoſpitals, houſes of Friers, or other Religious or Eccleſiaſtical places, or unto any of them, which bargain and ſale, by authority of this Act, is made void and of none effect, and by mean thereof the Kings Highneſs may have and take the commodity and profit of ſuch woods, ſo bargained and ſold: that then the Chancellor and other Officers of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the Kings Court of Augmentations, or three of them, whereof the Chancellor for the time being ſhall be one, of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the Kings Treaſure, remaining in the Treaſury of the ſame Court, ſhall ſatisfie and recompence every ſuch perſon or perſons, ſuch ſum of money, or other recompence, as the ſame Chancellor and Officers, or three of them, whereof the ſaid Chancellor ſhall be one, ſhall think meet and convenient. And if any other perſon or perſons ſhall happen to take profit and commodity, by reaſon of avoiding of ſuch wood-ſales by authority of this Act, that then every perſon and perſons, which may or ſhall take ſuch profit, ſhall be ordered for ſatisfaction to be made to the parties that ſhall happen to be grieved by this Act, by the ſaid Chancellor and other the Officers of the ſame Court.

Aſſurance to others by the Kings licenſe of any Abbey lands.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons, their heirs and aſſigns, which ſithen the ſaid iv. day of February, by licence, pardon, confirmation, releaſe, aſſent or conſent of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, under his Great Seal heretofore given, had or made, or hereafter to be had or made, have obtained or purchaſed by indenture, fine, feoffment, recovery, or otherwiſe of the ſaid late Abbots, Priors, Abbeſſes, Prioreſſes, or other Governours or Governeſſes of any ſuch Monaſteries, Abbathies, Priories, Nunneries, Colledges, Hoſpitals, houſes of Friers, or other Religious or Eccleſiaſtical houſes or places, any Monaſteries, Priories, Colledges, Hoſpitals, manors, lands, tenements, meadows, paſtures, woods, Churches, Chappels, parſonages, tithes, penſions, portions, or other hereditaments, ſhall have and enjoy the ſame, according to ſuch writings and aſſurances as been thereof before the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, or hereafter ſhall be had or made.

A ſaving of the right of others accrued unto them before the ſaid purchaſe.

Saving to all and every perſon and perſons, and bodies politick, their heirs and ſucceſſors, and to the heirs and ſucceſſors of every of them (other then the ſaid late Abbots, Abbeſſes, Priors, Prioreſſes, and other Governours and Governeſſes, and their ſucceſſors, and the ſucceſſors of every of them, and ſuch as pretend to be Founders, Patrons, or Donors of the Monaſteries, Abbathies, Priories, Nunneries, Colledges, Hoſpitals, and other Religious or Eccleſiaſtical houſes or places, or of any of them, or of any manors, meſſuages, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments late belonging to the ſame, or to any of them, and their heirs, ſucceſſors, and the heirs and ſucceſſors of every ſuch founder, patron, or donor) all ſuch right, title, intereſt, poſſeſſion, rents, annuities, commodities, offices, fees, liveries, and livings, portions, penſions, corrodies, ſynods, proxies, or other profits, which they or any of them have, ought or might have had, in or to any of the ſaid Monaſteries, Abbathies, Priories, Colledges, Hoſpitals, manors, lands, tenements, rents, ſervices, reverſions, tithes, penſions, portions, or other hereditaments, at any time before any ſuch purchaſe, indentures, fines, feoffments, recoveries, or other lawful mean between any ſuch parties had or made, as is aboveſaid, this Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A confirmation of the Kings purchaſes made ſithence 4 Februarii. Anno 27 H. 8.

And where our ſaid Sovereign Lord, ſith the fourth day of February, the ſaid xxvij. year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lord, hath obtained and purchaſed, as well by exchanges, as by gifts, bargains, fines, feoffments, recoveries, deeds, enrolled, and otherwiſe, of divers and ſundry perſons, many and divers honours, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, medows, paſtures, woods, rents, reverſions, ſervices, and other hereditaments, and hath not onely paid divers and ſundry great ſums of money for the ſame, but alſo hath given and granted for the ſame, unto divers and ſundry perſons, divers and ſundry manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, and other recompences in and for full ſatisfaction of all ſuch honours, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices, and other his hereditaments, by his Highneſs obtained or had as is aboveſaid. Be it therefore enacted by the authority aboveſaid, That our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall have, hold, poſſeſs and enjoy all ſuch honours, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, as his Highneſs ſith the ſaid fourth day of February, the xxvij. year aboveſaid, hath obtained and had by way of exchange, bargain, purchaſe, or other whatſoever mean or means, according to the true meaning and intent of his Highneſs bargain, exchange or purchaſe, miſrecital, miſnaming, or non-recital, or not naming of the ſaid honours, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, compriſed or mentioned in the bargains, or writings made between the Kings Highneſs, and any other party or parties, or of the Towns or Countries where the ſaid honours, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments lie and been, any other matter or cauſe whatſoever it be in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A ſaving of the right of all others, but of the ſellers, their heirs and wives.

Saving to all and every perſon and perſons, and to their heirs, bodies politick and corporate, and to their ſucceſſors, and to every of them (other then ſuch perſon and perſons, and their heirs, and their wives, and the wives of every of them, bodies politick and corporate, and their ſucceſſors and every of them, of whom the Kings Highneſs hath obtained by exchange, gift, bargain, fine, feoffment, recovery, deed enrolled, or otherwiſe, any ſuch honours, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, as is aforeſaid) all ſuch right, title, uſe, intereſt, poſſeſſion, rents, charges, annuities, commodities, fees and other profits, (rents ſervices, and rents ſecks onely except) which they or any of them have, might or ought to have had, in or to the premiſſes, ſo obtained and had, or in or to any parcel thereof, if this Act had never been had nor made, this preſent Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

An exception of rents ſervices, and rens ſeck.

And where it hath pleaſed the Kings Highneſs of his moſt abundant grace and goodneſs, as well upon divers and ſundry conſiderations his Majeſty ſpecially moving, as alſo otherwiſe to have bargained, ſold, changed or given and granted by his Graces ſeveral letters patents, indentures or other writings, as well under his Highneſs great Seal, as under the Seal of his Highneſs Dutchy of Lancaſter, and the Seal of the Office of the Augmentations of his Crown, unto divers and ſundry of his loving and obedient ſubjects, divers and ſundry honours, caſtles, manors, monaſteries, abbathies, priories, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices, parſonages appropriate, advowſons, liberties, tithes, oblations, portions, penſions, franchiſes, priviledges, liberties, and other hereditaments, commodities and profits, in fee-ſimple, fee-tail, for term of life, or for term of years: for avoiding of which ſaid letters patents, and of the contents of the ſame, divers, ſundry, and many ambiguities, doubts and queſtions might hereafter ariſe, be moved and ſtirred, as well for miſ-recital, or non-recital, as for divers other matters, things or cauſes to be alledged, objected or invented againſt the ſaid letters patents, as alſo for lack of finding of Offices or Inquiſitions, whereby the title of his Highneſs therein ought to have been found, before the making of the ſame letters patents, or for miſ-recital, or non-recital of leaſes, as well of record as not of record, or for lack of the certainty of the values, or by reaſon of miſ-naming of the honours, caſtles, manors, monaſteries, abbathies, priories, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments compriſed and mentioned within the ſame letters patents, or of the Towns and Counties where the ſame honours, caſtles, manors, monaſteries, abbathies, priories, lands, tenements, rents, and other hereditaments lien and been, as for divers and ſundry other ſuggeſtions and ſurmiſes which hereafter might happen to be moved, ſurmiſed and procured againſt the ſame letters patents, albeit the words in effect contained in the ſaid letters patents be according to the true intent and meaning of his moſt Royal Majeſty.

Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That as well all and every the ſaid letters patents, indentures, or other writings, and every of them, under the ſeal or ſeals aboveſaid, or of any of them, made or granted by the Kings Highneſs ſithen the ſaid iv. day of February, the ſaid xxviij. year of his moſt noble Reign, as all and ſingular other his Graces letters patents, indentures, or other writings to be had, made or granted to any perſon or perſons within three years next after the making of this preſent Act, of any honours, caſtles, manors, monaſteries, abbathies, priories, nunneries, colledges, hoſpitals, houſes of Friers, or other Religious or Eccleſiaſtical houſes or places, ſites, circuits, precincts, lands, tenements, parſonages, tithes, penſions, portions, advowſons, nominations, and all other hereditaments and poſſeſſions, of what kind, nature or quality ſoever they be, or by whatſoever name or names they or any of them be named, known or reputed, ſhall ſtand and be good, effectual and available in the Law of this Realm, to all reſpects, purpoſes, conſtructions and intents, againſt his Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, without any other licence, diſpenſation or tollerance of the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, or of any other perſon or perſons whatſoever they be, for any thing or things contained, or hereafter to be contained in any ſuch letters patents, indentures, or other writings: any cauſe, conſideration, or thing material to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Kings patents ſufficient notwithſtanding miſrecital, not finding of Offices, &c.
Stat. 34 & 35 H. 8. 21.

Saving to all and ſingular perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their heirs and ſucceſſors, and the heirs and ſucceſſors of every of them, other then his Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the ſaid Governours and Governeſſes, and their ſucceſſors, donors, founders, and patrons aforenamed, and their heirs and ſucceſſors, and all other perſons claiming in their rights, or to their uſe, or in the right or to the uſe of any of them all ſuch right, title, claim, intereſt, poſſeſſion, reverſion, remainder, offices, annuities, rent, charges and commons, which they or any of them have, ought, or might have had, in or to any of the ſaid honours, caſtles, manors, monaſteries, abbathies, priories, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments in the ſaid letters patents made, or hereafter to be made, compriſed at any time before the making of the ſaid ſuch letters patents; this Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A ſaving of the right of others in the lands aſſured by the King.

And where divers and ſundry Abbots, Priors, Abbeſſes, Prioreſſes, and other Eccleſiaſtical Governours and Governeſſes of the ſaid Monaſteries, Abbathies, Priories, Nunneries, Colledges, Hoſpitals, houſes of Friers, and other Religious and Eccleſiaſtical houſes and places, have had, poſſeſſed and enjoyed divers and ſundry parſonages appropriated, tithes, penſions and portions, and alſo were acquitted and diſcharged of and for the paiment or paiments of tithes, to be paid out or for their ſaid Monaſteries, Abbathies. Priories, Nunneries, Colledges, Hoſpitals, houſes of Friers, and other Religious and Eccleſiaſtical houſes and places, manors, meſſuages, lands, tenements and hereditaments. Be it therefore enacted by the authority aboveſaid, That as well the King our Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, as all and every ſuch perſon and perſons, their heirs and aſſigns, which have, or hereafter ſhall have any Monaſteries, Abbathies, Priories, Nunneries, Colledges, Hoſpitals, houſes of Friers, or other Eccleſiaſtical houſes or places, ſites, circuits, precincts of the ſame, or any of them, or any manors, meſſuages, [a] parſonages appropriate, tithes, penſions, portions, or other hereditaments, whatſoever they be, which belonged or appertained, or which now belong or appertain unto the ſaid Monaſteries, Abbathies, Priories, Nunneries, Colledges, hoſpitals, houſes of Friers, or other Religious and Eccleſiaſtical houſes or places, or unto any of them, ſhall have, hold, retain, keep and enjoy, as well the ſaid parſonages appropriate, tithes, penſions, and portions of the ſaid Monaſteries, Abbathies, Priories, Funneries, Kolledges, Hoſpitals, houſes of Friers, and other Religious and Eccleſiaſtical houſes and places, ſites, circuits, precincts, manors, meaſes, lands, tenements and other hereditaments whatſoever they be, and every of them, according to their eſtates and titles, [b] diſcharged and acquitted of paiment of tithes, as freely, and in as large and ample manner, as the ſaid late Abbots, Priors, Abbeſſes, Prioreſſes, & other Eccleſiaſtical Governours & Governeſſes, or any of them had, held, occupied, poſſeſſed, uſed, retained or enjoyed the ſame, or any parcel thereof at ye days of their diſſolution, ſuppreſſion, renouncing, relinquiſhing, forfeiting, giving up or coming to the Kings Highneſs of ſuch Monaſteries, Abbathies, Priories, Nunneries, Colledges, Hoſpitals, houſes of Friers, or other Religious or Eccleſiaſtical houſes or places, or at the day of the diſſolution, ſuppreſſion, renouncing, relinquiſhing, giving up, or coming to the Kings Highneſs of any of them, this Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Such Abbey lands as before the diſſolution of them were diſcharged of tithes, ſhall ſo continue.

Saving to the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, all and all manner of rents, ſervices, and other duties whatſoever they be, as if this Act had never been had nor made.

All rents, ſervices, and other duties reſerved to the King.

And be it further enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That ſuch of the ſaid late Monaſteries, Abbathies, Priories, Nunneries, Colledges, Hoſpitals, houſes of Friers, and other Religious and Eccleſiaſtical houſes and places, and all Churches and Chapels to them or any of them belonging, which before the diſſolution, ſuppreſſion, renouncing, relinquiſhing, forfeiting, giving up, or coming unto the Kings Highneſs, were exempted from the viſitation or viſitations, and all other juriſdiction of the Ordinary or Ordinaries, within whoſe Dioceſe they were ſituate or ſet, ſhall from henceforth be within the juriſdiction and viſitation of the Ordinary or Ordinaries, within whoſe Dioceſe they or any of them be ſituate and ſet, or within the juriſdiction and viſitation of ſuch perſon or perſons, as by the Kings Highneſs ſhall be limited or appointed: this Act, or any other exemption, liberty, or juriſdiction to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Monaſteries, &c. exempt from Viſitations and Juriſdiction of the Ordinary.

And where before this time it hath pleaſed the Kings Majeſty, at the contemplation and humble petition of the right Noble Thomas Duke of Norfolk, to give his Royal aſſent of licence by his Graces word, without any manner of letters patents, or other writing, to purchaſe and receive to him and his heirs for ever, of William Flatbury, late Abbot of the Monaſtery

Duke of Norfolk.
Sipton Abbey.

naſtery of Sipton in the County of Suffolk, and Covent of the ſame late Monaſtery now being diſſolved, all the ſame Monaſtery, together with all and ſingular Manors, lordſhips, lands, tenements, woods, waters, commons, courts, leets, advowſons, patronages, parſonages, vicarages, chantries, free chappels, tithes, portions of tithes, penſions, annuities, rents, ſuits, ſervices, reverſions, remainders, and all other things which were the hereditaments, or the poſſeſſions of the ſaid late Monaſterie, whereſoever they lay, or were within the Realm of England. And in like wiſe our ſaid Sovereign Lord gave like licence by his Graces word, unto the right honourable George Lord Cobham, to purchaſe and receive to him and to his Heirs for ever, of the late Maſter and Brethren of the Colledge or Chantry of Cobham in the County of Kent, now being utterly diſſolved, the ſite of the ſame Colledge or Chantry, and all and ſingular their hereditaments and poſſeſſions, as well Temporal as Eccleſiaſtical, whereſoever they lay, or were within the Realm of England.

Lord Cobham. Cobham Chantry.

Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Act above written or any thing therein contained, ſhall not be in any wiſe prejudicial or hurtful to the ſaid Duke, and Lord Cobham, or to either of them, or to the heirs or aſſigns of either of them, but that the ſame Duke and Lord Cobham, and either of them ſundrily, and the heirs and aſſigns of either of them, ſhall and may have, hold, receive and enjoy the premiſſes by them ſundrily purchaſed or received, according to the purports and effects of ſuch evidences, writings and conveyances, as they or any of them ſundrily have cauſed to be deviſed and made to them or to their uſes for the ſame.

Saving of other mens rights in the Monaſtery of Sipton and Cobham Chantry.

Saving alway, and reſerving to all and ſingular perſons, and bodies politick, and to their heirs and ſucceſſors (other then the ſaid late Abbot and Convent, and their ſucceſſors, and the ſaid late Maſter and Brethren, and their ſucceſſors, and the founders of the ſame Monaſtery, or of the ſaid Colledge or Chantry, and the heirs of either of them, and all donors, granters, or augmenters of them, or of either of them, and the heirs and aſſigns of either of them) all ſuch rights, titles, poſſeſſions, rents, ſervices, fees, offices, annuities, corrodies, liveries, leaſes, and all other ſuch their intereſſes, profits and commodities, as they or any of them had, ſhould, or ought to have, of, to, or in any of the premiſſes ſundrily purchaſed or received by the ſaid Duke, or Lord Cobham, if this preſent Act had never been had or made, any thing in the ſame Act to the contrary being in any wiſe notwithſtanding. CAP. XIV.

1. If any perſon by word, writing, printing, ciphering, or any other wiſe, do preach, teach, diſpute, or hold opinion, That in the bleſſed Sacrament of the Altar, under form of Bread and Wine, (after the conſecration thereof) there is not preſent really the natural Body and Bloud of our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt conceived of the Virgin Mary: Or, that after the conſecration there remaineth any ſubſtance of Bread or Wine, or any other ſubſtance but the ſubſtance of Chriſt, God and Man: Or, that in the Fleſh, under form of Bread, is not the very Bloud of Chriſt; or, that with the Bloud, under the form of Wine, is not the very fleſh of Chriſt, as well apart, as though they were both together: Or affirm the ſaid Sacrament to be of other ſubſtance then is aforeſaid; or deprave the ſaid bleſſed Sacrament: Then he ſhall be adjudged an Heretick, and ſuffer death by burning, and ſhall forfeit to the King all his lands, tenements, hereditaments, goods and cattels, as in caſe of high Treaſon.

2. And if any perſon preach in any Sermon, or Collation openly made, or teach in any common School or Congregation, or obſtinately affirm or defend, that the Communion of the bleſſed Sacrament in both kinds is neceſſary for the health of mans ſoul, or ought or ſhould be miniſtred in both kinds; or that it is neceſſary to be received by any perſon (other then by Prieſts) being at Maſs and conſecrating the ſame.

3. Or that any man, after the order of Prieſthood received, may marry, or contract matrimony.

4. Or that any man or woman which adviſedly hath vowed or profeſſed, or ſhould vow or profeſs chaſtity or widowhood, may marry, or contract marriage.

5. Or that private Maſſes be not lawful, or not laudable, or ſhould not be uſed, or be not agreeable to the Laws of God.

6. Or that Auricular confeſſion is not expedient and neceſſary to be uſed in the Church of God, he ſhall be adjudged, ſuffer death, and forfeit lands and goods as a felon. If any Prieſt, or other man or woman, which adviſedly hath vowed chaſtity or widowhood, do actually marry or contract matrimony with another: Or any man which is or hath been a Prieſt, do carnally uſe any woman, to whom he is, or hath been married, or with whom he hath contracted matrimony, or openly be converſant or familiar with any ſuch woman: both the man and the woman ſhall be adjudged felons. Commiſſions ſhall be awarded to the Biſhop of the Dioceſe, his Chancellor, Commiſſary, and others, to enquire of the Hereſies, Felonies, and offences aforeſaid. And alſo Juſtices of Peace in their Seſſions, and every Steward, Under-ſteward, and Deputy of Stewards, in their Leets, or Law-day, by the oaths of twelve men, have authority to enquire of all the Hereſies, Felonies, and offences aforeſaid. Dyer f. 72.

Where the Kings moſt Royal Majeſty in all the time of his moſt gracious and noble Reign hath ever been a merciful, loving, benevolent and moſt gracious Sovereign Lord, unto all and ſingular his loving and obedient ſubjects, and by many times paſt hath not onely ſhewed and imparted to them generally by his many and often great and beneficial pardons heretofore by authority of his Parliaments granted, but alſo by divers other ways and means, many great and ample grants and benignities, in ſuch wiſe as all his ſaid ſubjects been moſt bounden to the uttermoſt of all their powers and graces by them received of God, to render and give unto his Majeſty their moſt humble reverence and obedient thanks and ſervices, with their daily and continual prayer to Almighty God, for the continual preſervation of his moſt Royal eſtate in moſt Kingly honour and proſperity: yet always his Majeſty being repleat and endowed by God with grace, goodneſs and liberality, moſt tenderly conſidering, that his ſaid obedient and loving ſubjects cannot uſe or exerciſe themſelves according to their eſtates, degrees, faculties, and qualities, or to bear themſelves in ſuch wiſe, as that they may conveniently keep and maintain their hoſpitalities and [a] families, nor the good education and bringing up of their lawful generations, which in this Realm, laud be to God, is in all parts very great and abundant, but that in manner of neceſſity, as by daily experience is manifeſted and known, they ſhall not be able of their proper goods, cattels, and other movable ſubſtance, to diſcharge their debts, and after their degrees ſet forth and advance their children and poſterities. Wherefore our ſaid Sovereign Lord moſt vertuouſly conſidering the mortality that is to every perſon at Gods will and pleaſure moſt common and uncertain, of his moſt bleſſed diſpoſition and liberality, being willing to relieve and help his ſaid ſubjects in their ſaid neceſſities and debility, is contented and pleaſed that it be ordained and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, in manner and form as hereafter followeth, that is to ſay, That all and every perſon and perſons, having, or which hereafter ſhall have any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments holden in ſoccage, or of the nature of ſoccage tenure, and not having any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments holden of the King our Sovereign Lord by Knights ſervice, [b] by ſoccage tenure in chief, or of the nature of ſoccage tenure in chief, nor of any other perſon or perſons by Knights ſervice, from the twentieth day of July, in the year of our Lord God M. D. XL. ſhall have full and free liberty, power and authority to give, diſpoſe, will and deviſe as well by his laſt will and teſtament in [c] writing, or otherwiſe by any act or acts lawfully executed in his life, all his ſaid manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or any of them, at his free will and pleaſure, any Law, Statute, or other thing heretofore had, made or uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Lands holden of the King in ſoccage in chief, and none holden by Knights ſervice.

And that all and every perſon and perſons, having manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments holden of the King our Soveraign Lord, his Heirs or Succeſſors, in ſoccage, or of the nature of ſoccage, tenure in chief, and having any other manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments holden of any other perſon or perſons in ſoccage, or of the nature of ſoccage tenure, and not having any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments holden of the King our Soveraign Lord by Knights ſervice, nor of any other Lord or perſon by like ſervice, from the twentieth day of July, in the ſaid year of our Lord God M. D. XL. ſhall have full and free liberty, power and authority to give, Will, diſpoſe and deviſe, as well by his laſt Will or Teſtament in writing, or otherwiſe by any Act or Acts lawfully executed in his life, all his ſaid manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, or any of them, at his free will and pleaſure, any Law, Statute, Cuſtom, or other thing heretofore had, made, or uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A ſaving of the Kings primer ſeiſin, and his fines for alienation.

f. 304.

Saving alway, and reſerving to the King our Soveraign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, all his right, title and intereſt of primer ſeiſin, and reliefs, and alſo all other rights and duties for tenure in ſoccage, or of the nature of ſoccage tenure in chief, as heretofore hath been uſed and accuſtomed, the ſame manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments to be taken, had and [d] ſued out of, and from the hands of his Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, by the perſon or perſons to whom any ſuch manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments ſhall be diſpoſed, willed or deviſed, in ſuch and like manner and form as hath been uſed by any heir or heirs before the making of this Statute. And ſaving and reſerving alſo fines for alienations of ſuch manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments holden of the King our Soveraign Lord in ſoccage, or of the nature of ſoccage tenure in chief, whereof there ſhall be any alteration of freehold or inheritance made by Will, or otherwiſe, as is aforeſaid.

Lands holden of the King by Knights ſervice in chief.

ſt. 78,2

And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular perſon and perſons having any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments of eſtate of inheritance holden of the Kings Highneſs in chief by [e] Knights ſervice, or of ÿ nature of Knights ſervice in chief, from the ſaid twentieth day of July, ſhall have full power & authority by his laſt Will by writing, or otherwiſe by any Act or Acts lawfully executed in his life, to give, diſpoſe, Will or aſſign two parts of the ſame manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments in three parts to be divided, or elſe as much of ÿ ſaid manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments as ſhall extend or amount to the yearly value of two parts of the ſame, in three parts to be divided in certainty, & by ſpecial diviſions, as it may be known in ſeveralty, to and for the advancement of his wife, preferment of his children, and paiment of his debts, or otherwiſe at his will and pleaſure, any Law, Statute, Cuſtom, or other thing to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Saving

Wardſhip, primer ſeiſin, and fines for alienation ſaved to the King.

Saving and reſerving to the King our Sovereign Lord, the cuſtody, wardſhip, and [e] primer ſeiſin, or any of them, as the caſe ſhall require, of as much of the ſame manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, as ſhall amount and extend to the full and clear yearly value of the third part thereof, without any diminution, dower, fraud, covin, charge, or abridgement of any of the ſame third part, or of the full profits thereof.

Saving alſo, and reſerving to the King our ſaid Sovereign Lord, all fines for alienations of all ſuch manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments holden of the King by Knights ſervice in chief, whereof there ſhall be any alteration of free-hold or inheritance made by Will or otherwiſe, as is aboveſaid.

Lands holden of the King by Knights ſervice in chief, and other lands holden by Knights ſervice or otherwiſe.

And be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular perſon and perſons, having manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments of eſtate of inheritance holden of the King in chief by Knights ſervice, and having other manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments holden of the King, or of any other perſon or perſons by [f] Knights ſervice, or otherwiſe, every ſuch perſon and perſons from the ſaid twentieth day of July, ſhall have full power and authority to give, diſpoſe, will or aſſign by his laſt Will in writing, or otherwiſe by any act or acts lawfully executed in his life, two parts of the ſame manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, in three parts to be divided, or elſe as much of the ſame manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, as ſhall extend or amount to the yearly value of two parts of the ſame, in three parts to be divided in certainty, and by ſpecial diviſions, as it may be known in ſeveralty, to and for the advancement of his wife, preferment of his children, [g] paiment of his debts, or otherwiſe at his will and pleaſure, any Law, Statute, cuſtom, or other thing to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Wardſhip, primer ſeiſin, and fines for alienation ſaved to the King.

Saving alway, and reſerving to the King our Sovereign Lord, the cuſtody, wardſhip, and primer ſeiſin, or any of them, as the caſe ſhall require, of as much of the ſame manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, as ſhall amount and extend to the full and clear yearly value of the third part thereof, without any manner diminution, dower, fraud, covin, charge, or ſubtraction of the ſame third part, or of the full profits thereof.

Saving alſo, and reſerving to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, all [h] fines for alienation of any ſuch manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments holden of the King by Knights ſervice in chief, whereof there ſhall be any alteration of freehold or inheritance made by will or otherwiſe, as is aboveſaid.

Lands holden by Knights ſervice of other Lords then of the King, and other lands holden in ſoccage.

Be it further enacted by the authority aboveſaid, That if any perſon or perſons hold any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments onely of any other Lord or perſon then the King our ſaid Sovereign Lord by Knights ſervice, and other lands and tenements in ſoccage, or of the nature of ſoccage tenure, that then every ſuch perſon ſhall or may give, diſpoſe or aſſure, by his laſt Will, or otherwiſe by any act or acts lawfully executed in this life, two parts of the ſaid manors, lands and tenements holden by Knights ſervice, or of as much thereof as ſhall amount to the full yearly value of two parts, in manner and form as is above declared; and alſo all the lands and tenements holden by ſoccage, or of the nature of ſoccage tenure, at his will and pleaſure, as is above written. Saving and reſerving to the Lord of the lands and tenements holden by Knights ſervice, for his cuſtody and wardſhip, as much of the ſame lands and tenements as ſhall extend or amount to the full and clear yearly value of the [i] third part of the ſame lands and tenements holden by Knights ſervice, without any diminution, dower, fraud, covin, charge or ſubtraction of any portion of that third part, or of the clear yearly value thereof, in manner and form aforeſaid.

The Lords wardſhip of the third part ſaved.

Lands holden of the King by Knights ſervice, and not in chief: and lands holden in ſoccage of others.

And be it further enacted by the authority aboveſaid, That if any perſon or perſons hold any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, onely of the King our Sovereign Lord by Knights ſervice, and not in chief, or hold any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments of our ſaid Sovereign Lord by Knights ſervice, and not in chief, and alſo hold other manors, lands, tenements & other hereditaments, of any other perſon or perſons by Knights ſervice, and alſo hold other manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, of any other perſon or perſons in ſoccage, or of the nature of ſoccage tenure: that then all and every ſuch perſon and perſons, ſhall and may give, diſpoſe, will, deviſe and aſſure, by his laſt Will, or otherwiſe by any act or acts lawfully done and executed in his life, two parts of the ſame manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments holden of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King by Knights ſervice, and two parts of the manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, holden of any perſon or perſon by Knights ſervice, or as much of either of them as ſhall amount to the full yearly value of two parts in manner and form as is above declared; and alſo of all his lands and tenements ſo holden in ſoccage, or of the nature of ſoccage tenure, at his free will and pleaſure.

Saving to the King and other Lords, [k] cuſtody and wardſhip.

Saving and reſerving to the Kings Highneſs, the cuſtody and wardſhip of as much of the ſame manors, lands, tenements or other hereditaments, as ſhall extend and amount to the full and clear yearly value of the third part of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, & hereditaments ſo holden of his Highneſs by Knights ſervice, without any diminution, dower, fraud, covin, charge, and ſubtraction of any portion of that third part, or of the full profits thereof. And alſo ſaving and reſerving to the Lords of whom any of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements or other hereditaments been holden by Knights ſervice, for the cuſtody and wardſhip, as [l] much of the ſame manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments holden of them or any of them by Knights ſervice, as ſhall extend and amount to the full and clear yearly value of the third part of the ſame, without any diminution, charge, fraud, covin or ſubtraction of any portion of that third part, or of the clear yearly value of the third part thereof, in manner and form above declared.

Provided alway, and it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if that third part of the manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments of any of the Kings ſubjects, which in any of the caſes aboveſaid ſhall hereafter come to the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, ceſſors, by vertue of this Act, as is abovesaid, be not, or do not amount to the clear yearly value of the third part of all the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, whereof the ſaid Kings Highneſs is or ſhall be intituled to have the cuſtody or primer ſeiſin, as is abovesaid; that then our ſaid Soveraign Lord and his Heirs, ſhall and may at his or their free liberty and pleaſure, take into his or their hands and poſſeſſion, as much of the other two parts of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, as with that of the ſame manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments holden or remaining in the Kings hands, ſhall make up the clear yearly value of the full third part of the ſaid manors, lands and tenements ſo to be had of the Kings Highneſs in title of wardſhip and primer ſeiſin, or any of them, as the caſe ſhall require. And like benefit and advantage to be given to every Lord or Lords, of whom any ſuch manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments been or ſhall be holden by Knights ſervice, as is abovesaid, concerning onely his third part, of or for title of wardſhip.

The King or any other Lord may take ſo much as will amount to his third part, if it be not left unto them.

Provided alway, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon and perſons ſhall ſue their liveries, for poſſeſſions, reverſions or remainders, and alſo pay reliefs and heriots, after ſuch manner and form as they ſhould or ought to have done before the making of this Act, and as if this Act had never been made.

Suing of liveries, paying for relief and heriots, for poſſeſſions, reverſions, remainders, ſhall be as they have been.

And that fines for alienations ſhall be paid in the Kings Chancery, for and upon writs of [e] entry in the poſt, to be obtained in the ſame Court of Chancery, after the ſaid twentieth day of July, for common recoveries to be had or ſuffered of any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments holden of the King in chief, in like manner and form as is uſed upon alienations of ſuch manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, ſo holden in chief, by fine or feoffment.

Fines for alienations upon common recoveries.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in ſuch caſes where fines for alienations ſhall be paid in the Kings Chancery for writs of entry in the poſt, as is aforeſaid, that then none other fine ſhall be paid in the ſame Court for any ſuch writs: any uſage or cuſtom to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That where two or more perſons now hold, or hereafter ſhall hold any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments of the King our Sovereign Lord by Knights ſervice, [f] joyntly to them, and to the heirs of one of them, and he that hath the inheritance thereof dieth, his heir being within age, that in every ſuch caſe the King ſhall have the ward and the marriage of the body of ſuch heir ſo being within age, the life of the freeholder or freeholders of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments ſo holden by Knights ſervice notwithſtanding. Saving and reſerving to all and every woman and women, all and every ſuch right, title, intereſt of dower, as they or any of them ought to have, or be or ſhall be juſtly intitled to have, claim, or demand, of any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments by the Laws of this Realm, to be taken or aſſigned unto them or any of them, out of the two parts of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments ſevered, and divided from the third part, as is abovesaid, and not otherwiſe. And ſaving alſo to the King our Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, the reverſions of all ſuch tenants in joynt tenure and dower, immediately after the death of all ſuch tenants, if they ſhall happen to die during the minority of the Kings wards. Stat. 34 H. 8. 5. Co. Inſt. 111. b.

Two perſons ſeiſed of lands holden of the King by Knights ſervice, and to the heirs of one of them.

Women ſhall have their dowers of the two parts.

The reverſion of the tenant in dower in the King, if the tenant do die during the minority of the Kings ward.

CAP. II.

Within what time any perſon ſhall bring his Writ of right, poſſeſſary action, Avowry, Formedon, Scire facias, &c.

Forasmuch as the time of limitation appointed for ſuing of writs of right, and other writs of poſſeſſion & ſeiſon of mens anceſtors, or predeceſſors, or of their own poſſeſſion or ſeiſon by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm heretofore made, limited & appointed, extend, and be ſo far and long time paſt, that it is above the remembrance of any living man, truly to try & know ẏ perfect certainty of ſuch things as hath or ſhall come in trial, or do extend unto the time and times limited by the ſaid Laws & Statutes, to ẏ great danger of mens conſciences that have or ſhall be impanelled in any Jury for the trial of the ſame: and it is alſo a great occaſion of much trouble, vexation, & ſuits to the Kings loving ſubjects at the common Laws of this Realm; ſo that no man, although he and his anceſtors, and thoſe whoſe eſtate he or they have, have been in peaceable poſſeſſion of a long ſeaſon, of and in lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, is or can be in any ſurety, quietneſs or reſt, of and in the ſame, without a good remedy and reformation to be had, made and provided for the ſame. Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, & the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no manner of perſon or perſons ſhall from henceforth ſue, have, or maintain any writ of right, or make any preſcription, title, or claim to or for any manors, lands, tenements, rents, annuities, commons, penſions, portions, corrodies, or other hereditaments, of the poſſeſſion of his or their anceſtor or predeceſſor: and declare and alledge any further ſeiſon or [a] poſſeſſion of his or their anceſtor or predeceſſor, but onely of the ſeiſon or poſſeſſion of his anceſtor or predeceſſor, which hath been, or now is, or ſhall be ſeiſed of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, rents, annuities, commons, penſions, portions, corrodies, or other hereditaments, within threeſcore years next before the teſte of the ſame writ, or next before the ſaid preſcription, title, or claim ſo hereafter to be ſued, commenced, brought, made or had.

It is a great benefit to have a certain limitation of time for the quiet poſſeſſion of lands.

The limitation of preſcription in a writ of right.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner of perſon nor perſons ſhall hereafter ſue, have, or maintain any aſſiſe of Mort anceſtor, Coſinage, Ayle, writ of entry, upon diſſeiſon done to any of his anceſtors, or predeceſſors, or any other action poſſeſſary, upon the poſſeſſion of any of his anceſtors or predeceſſors, for any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, of any further ſeiſin or poſſeſſion of his or their anceſtor or predeceſſor, but onely of the ſeiſin or poſſeſſion of his or their anceſtor or predeceſſor which was, or hereafter ſhall be ſeiſed of the ſame manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, within fifty years next before the Teſte of the original of the ſame writ hereafter to be brought.

Limitation of preſcription to actions poſſeſſary.

Concerning ſuit for land of his own poſſeſſion.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon nor perſons ſhall hereafter ſue, have, or maintain any action for any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, of or upon his or their own ſeiſin or poſſeſſion therein, above thirty years next before the Teſte of the original of the ſame writ hereafter to be brought.

Avowry or cogniſance for any rent, ſuit, or ſervice.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon nor perſons ſhall hereafter make any avowry or cogniſance for any rent, ſuit or ſervice, and alledge any ſeiſin of any rent, ſuit or ſervice in the ſame avowry or cogniſance in the poſſeſſion of his or their anceſtors, or predeceſſor or predeceſſors, or in his own poſſeſſion, or in the poſſeſſion of any other, whoſe eſtate he ſhall pretend or claim to have above fourty [a] years next before the making of the ſaid avowry or recogniſance.

Formedons in reverter, formedons in remainder, ſcire facias upon fines.

And over that be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all formedons in reverter, formedons in remainder, and ſcire facias upon fines of any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments at any time hereafter to be ſued, ſhall be ſued and taken within fifty [b] years next after the title and cauſe of action, fallen, and at no time after the ſaid fifty years paſſed.

Alt. 21 Jac. 16.

Barre for default of ſeiſon within the time of limitation.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons at any time hereafter do ſue any of the ſaid actions or writs, for any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, or make any avowry, cogniſance, preſcription, title, or claim of or for any rent, ſuit, ſervice, or other hereditaments, and cannot prove that he, or they, or his or their anceſtors or predeceſſors, were in actual [c] poſſeſſion or ſeiſon of and in the ſame manors, lands, tenements, rents, ſuits, ſervices, annuities, commons, penſions, portions, corrodies, or other hereditaments, at any time or times within the years before limited, and appointed in this preſent Act, and in manner and form as is aforeſaid, if the ſame be traverſed, or denied by the party plaintiff, demandant, or avowant, or by the party tenant or defendant, that then and after ſuch trial therein had, all and every ſuch perſon and perſons, and their heirs, ſhall from henceforth be utterly barred for ever, of all and every the ſaid [d] writs, actions, avowries, cogniſance, preſcription, title or claim hereafter to be ſued, had, or made, of and for the ſame manors, lands, tenements, hereditaments, or other the premiſſes, or any part of the ſame, for the which the ſame action, writ, avowry, cogniſance, preſcription, title, or claim hereafter ſhall be at any time had, ſued, or made.

A proviſo for ſuits depending An. Dom. 1546.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons which now have any of the ſaid actions, writs, avowries, Scire facias, cogniſance, preſcription, title, or claim depending, or that hereafter ſhall ſue, commence, make, or bring any of the ſaid writs or actions, or make any of the ſaid avowries, cogniſances, preſcription, titles, or claim at any time before the Feaſt of the Aſcenſion of our Lord God, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord, a thouſand five hundred fourty and ſix, ſhall alledge the ſeiſon of his or their anceſtors or predeceſſors, or his own poſſeſſion and ſeiſon, and alſo have all other like advantages, to all intents and purpoſes in the ſame writs, actions, avowries, cogniſances, preſcriptions, titles, and claims, as he or they might have had at any time before the making of this eſtatute, this Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A proviſo to relieve women, covert-infants within age, perſons in priſon, or out of the Realm at the time of this Statute made.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons now being within the age of xxi. years, or covert baron, or in priſon, or out of this Realm of England, now having cauſe to have, ſue, commence, make, or bring any of the ſaid writs, or actions, or to make any avowries, cogniſances, preſcriptions, titles, or claims, that it ſhall be lawful to ſuch perſon and perſons being within age, covert baron, in priſon, or out of this Realm, to ſue, commence, or bring any of the ſaid writs, or actions, or make any of the ſaid avowries, cogniſances, preſcriptions, titles, or claims, at any time within ſix years next after ſuch perſon or perſons, now being within age, ſhall accompliſh the age of one and twenty years, or within ſix years next after ſuch perſon or perſons now being covert baron ſhall be ſole, or within ſix years next after ſuch perſon or perſons now being in priſon, ſhall be ſet at his liberty, or within ſix years next after ſuch perſon or perſons now being out of this Realm, ſhall come and be within this Realm. And that every ſuch perſon and perſons in their ſaid actions, writs, avowries, recogniſances, preſcription, titles or claims to be made, ſued, or commenced within the ſaid ſix years, ſhall alledge within the ſaid ſix years the ſeiſon of his or their anceſtors or predeceſſors, or of his own poſſeſſion, or of the poſſeſſion of thoſe whoſe eſtate he ſhall then claim: And alſo within the ſame ſix years ſhall have all and every like advantages, to all intents and purpoſes in the ſame, as he or they might have had before the making of this Act, and as though this Act had never been had, ne made: This Act nor any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A remedy to relieve the heirs of an infant, a woman covert, any perſon in priſon, or out of the Realm, if the party himſelf die before judgment.

Provided alſo, That if it happen the ſaid perſon or perſons, now being within age, or covert baron, in priſon, or out of this Realm, having cauſe to ſue, commence, make, or bring any the ſaid writs, actions, avowries, cogniſance, preſcription, title, or claim, to deceaſe within age, or being covert, as is aforeſaid, or during the time he or they ſhall be in priſon, or out of this Realm, or to deceaſe within ſix years next after ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall accompliſh his or their full ages, or ſhall be at large within this Realm, or ſhall become ſole, and no determination or judgment had of ſuch titles, actions, rights, ſo to them accrued: that then the next heir or heirs of ſuch perſon or perſons being in priſon, or out of this Realm, or within age, or being covert baron ſo dying, ſhall have and enjoy all

It was enacted among other things, That all foreign pleas triable by the Countrey, which ſhould be pleaded by any perſon or perſons arraigned upon any indictment for any petty treaſon, murder or felony, ſhould be tryed before the ſame Juſtices afore whom ſuch perſons ſhould be arraigned, and by the ſame Jurors of the County, that ſhall try the petty treaſon, murder or felony, without any further reſpite or delay. And that no perſon or perſons arraigned for any petty treaſon, murder or felony ſhall be admitted to any peremptory challenge, above the number of xx. which Act was made to endure to the end of the next Parliament, as by the ſaid Act amongſt divers clauſes and proviſions contained in the ſame more plainly is expreſſed.

St. 23 H. 8. 1. Clergy taken away from offendors in certain caſes.

And where alſo in the ſame Parliament it was enacted, That no perſon or perſons, which ſhould happen to be found guilty after the Laws of this Realm, for any manner of petty Treaſon, or for any wilful murder of malice prepenſed, or for robbing of any Churches, Chappels, or other holy places, or for robbing of any perſon or perſons in their dwelling houſes, or dwelling place, the owner and dweller in the ſaid houſe, his wife, his children or ſervants then being within, and put in fear, and dread by the ſame, or for robbing of any perſon or perſons, in or neer about the high-ways, or for wilful burning of any dwelling houſes or barns, wherein any corn or grain ſhall happen to be; nor that any perſon or perſons being found guilty of any abetment, procurement, helping, maintaining, or counſelling, of, or to any ſuch petty treaſon, murders or felonies, ſhould be admitted to the benefit of their Clergy (ſuch as be within holy orders, that is to ſay, of the orders of Subdeacon or above, all onely except) with many other clauſes and proviſions contained in the ſaid Act, as by the ſame Act more plainly appeareth, which Act was alſo made to continue and endure to the laſt day of the next Parliament.

23 H. 8. 3r. A Felon ſtanding mute challenging above xx. or not anſwering directly.

And where alſo in the ſame Parliament it was further enacted, That every ſuch perſon and perſons, which ſhould happen to be indicted of any petty treaſon, wilful burning of houſes, murder, robbery, or burglary, or other felony, according to the tenour and meaning of the ſaid eſtatute next above rehearſed, & thereupon arraigned, did ſtand mute of malice or froward mind, or challenge peremptory above the number of twenty perſons, or will not anſwer directly to the ſame indictment and felony whereupon they ſhall be arraigned, that then every ſuch perſon and perſons ſhould loſe the benefit and priviledge of their Clergy.

And it was alſo ordained by the ſame Act, That if any perſon or perſons be indicted and found guilty for ſtealing of any goods or cattels, in any County of this Realm, or being indicted, ſtand mute of malice, or challenge peremptory above the number of xx. perſons, or will not anſwer directly to the Law, ſhould alſo loſe the benefit of their Clergy, in like manner and form as they ſhould have done, if they had been indicted, arraigned and found guilty in the ſame County where the ſame robbery or burglary was done, if it ſhall appear to the Juſtices by evidence or examination, that the ſaid felons or robbers arraigned afore them, ſhould or ought to have loſt their Clergy by force of the ſaid eſtatute, in caſe they had been found guilty of the ſame felonies, or burglaries in the ſame Shire where they were committed, as by the ſaid Act amongſt other things more at large is expreſſed.

Stat.25 H.8 6. Buggery ſhall be felony.

And where alſo in the ſaid Parliament it was further ordained, That the deteſtable vice of buggery committed with mankind or beaſt, ſhould be felony, and that the offendors therein ſhould loſe the priviledge of their Clergy, which Act was made to endure to the laſt day of the next Parliament, as by the ſame Act amongſt other things it appeareth more at large.

Stat.28 H.8.1.

And where alſo in the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter the eighth day of June, in the xxviii. year of the reign of our ſaid moſt dread Soveraign Lord King Henry the eighth, and there continued and kept until the diſſolution thereof: It was ordained and enacted, That all and ſingular the ſaid ſeveral Acts above remembred, and every of them ſhould continue and endure in their force and ſtrength, and alſo be obſerved and kept until the laſt day of the next Parliament. And it was alſo ordained by the authority of the ſame Parliament, that ſuch as be within holy orders, ſhould from thenceforth ſtand and be under the ſame pains and dangers for the offences contained in any of the ſaid ſtatutes, and be uſed and ordered to all intents and purpoſes, as other perſons not being within holy orders, any proviſion, or exception ſpecified in any of the ſaid Acts, or any other uſage or cuſtom of this Realm to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding, as by the ſame Acts among other things therein contained more plainly appeareth. And foraſmuch as all and ſingular the ſaid ſeveral Acts above mentioned be good and beneficial for the common-wealth of this Realm,

Such as be within orders ſhall be uſed as others be.

The St.22 of H. 8.14. 23 H.8.1. 25 H.8 3, and 6. and 28 H.8.1. rehearſed and made perpetual.

Be it therefore enacted and ordained by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and ſingular the ſaid ſeverſal Acts, and every of them, and all clauſes, articles, and proviſions in them and every of them contained ſhall continue and endure in their force and ſtrength, and be obſerved and kept for ever.

And be it alſo enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That ſuch perſons as be, or ſhall be within holy orders, which by the Laws of this Realm, ought or may have their Clergy for any felonies, and ſhall be admitted to the ſame, ſhall be brent in the hand in like manner and form as lay Clerks be accuſtomed in ſuch caſes, and ſhall ſuffer and incur afterward all ſuch pains, dangers and forfeitures, and be ordered and uſed for their offences of felony, to all intents, purpoſes and conſtructions, as lay perſons admitted to their Clergy, be or ought to be ordered and uſed by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm: any Statutes, Laws, proviſions, priviledges, cuſtoms, or any other thing to the contrary thereof heretofore uſed notwithſtanding.

CAP. IV.

Treaſons ſhall be tried that be committed in Wales, or where the Kings Writ runneth not in ſuch Shires, and before ſuch Commiſſioners as the King ſhall from time to time aſſign by his Commiſſion. Alt.1. & 2 P. & M. 10.

CAP. V.

A remedy for the Cogniſee or Obligee, where lands delivered to him in execution be recovered from him.

Whereas before this time divers and ſundry perſons have ſued executions, as well upon judgments for them given of their debts or damages, as upon ſuch ſtatutes merchant and ſtatutes of the ſtaple, or recogniſances, as hath been to them before made, recogniſed, and knowledged, and thereupon ſuch lands, tenements, and other hereditaments as were liable to the ſame execution, have been by reaſonable extent to them delivered in execution for the ſatisfaction of their ſaid debts and damages, according to the laws of this Realm. Nevertheleſs it hath been oftentimes ſeen, that ſuch lands, tenements, and hereditaments ſo delivered and had in execution have been recovered, or lawfully deveſted, taken away, or evicted, from the poſſeſſion of the ſaid recoverers, obligees, or recogniſees, their executors or aſſigns before ſuch time as they have been fully ſatisfied and paid of their debts and damages, without any manner fraud, deceit, covin, colluſion, or other default in the ſaid recoverers, obligees, or recogniſees, their executors and aſſignes: by reaſon whereof the ſaid recoverers, obligees, and recogniſees have been thereby ſet cleerly without remedy by any manner ſuit of the Law to recover, or come by any ſuch part or parcel of their ſaid debts and damages, as was behind and not by them levied, or received before ſuch time as the ſaid lands, tenements, and other hereditaments ſo by them had in execution were recovered, lawfully deveſted, taken, or evicted out of, and from their poſſeſſions as is aforeſaid, to their hurt and loſs, and much ſeeming to be againſt equal juſtice, and good conſcience. For reformation whereof, be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That if hereafter any ſuch lands, tenements, or hereditaments, as be, or ſhall be had, and delivered to any perſon or perſons in execution as is aforeſaid upon any juſt and lawful title, matter, condition or cauſe, wherewithal the ſaid lands, tenements, and hereditaments, were liable, tied, and bound at ſuch time as they were delivered and taken into execution, ſhall happen to be recovered, lawfully deveſted, taken or evicted out of, and from the poſſeſſion of any ſuch perſon and perſons, as now have and hold, or hereafter ſhall have and hold the ſame in execution as is aforeſaid, without any fraud, deceit, covin, colluſions or other default of the ſaid tenant or tenants by execution, before ſuch time as the ſaid tenants by execution, their executors or aſſignes ſhall have fully and wholly [a] or received the ſaid whole debt and damages, for the which the ſaid lands, tenements, and other hereditaments were delivered and taken in execution, as is aforeſaid, then every ſuch recoverer, obligee, and recogniſee ſhall and may have, and purſue a writ of ſcire facias out of the ſame Court from whence the ſaid former writ of execution did proceed, againſt ſuch perſon or perſons, as the ſaid writ of execution was firſt purſued, their heirs, executors, or aſſignes, of ſuch lands, tenements, or hereditaments, as were or been then liable, or charged to the ſaid execution returnable into the ſame

Court at a certain day, being full fourty days after the date of the ſame writ. At which day if the defendant being lawfully warned, make default, or appear and do not ſhew and plead a ſufficient matter or cauſe (other then the acceptance of the ſaid lands, tenements, or hereditaments by the ſaid former writ of execution) to bar, avoid, or diſcharge the ſaid ſuit for the reſidue of the ſaid debt, and damages remaining unlevied, or unreceived by the ſaid former execution: then the Lord Chancellor or other ſuch Juſtice or Juſtices, before whom ſuch writ of Scire facias ſhall be returnable, ſhall make eftſoones a new writ or writs out of the ſaid former record of judgment, ſtatute merchant, ſtatute ſtaple, or recogniſance, of like nature and effect, as the ſaid former writ of execution was, for the levying of the reſidue of all ſuch debt and damage as then ſhall appear to be unlevied, unſatiſfied or unpaid of the whole ſum, or ſums in the ſaid former writ of execution contained; any law, cuſtom, or other thing to the contrary hereof heretofore uſed in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Whoſoever ſhall deliver any horſe into Scotland or the batable ground to the uſe of a Scottiſh man without the Kings licence, ſhall be adjudged a felon, and the Wardens of the Marches may hear and determine ſuch felonies. Rep. 4 Jac. 1. St. 23 H. 8. 16. 1 El. 7.

CAP. VII.

How Tithes ought to be paid, and how to be recovered being not paid.

Where divers and ſundry perſons inhabiting in ſundry Counties, and places of this Realm and other the Kings Dominions, not regarding their duties to Almighty God, and to the King our Soveraign Lord, but in few years paſt more contemptuouſly and commonly preſuming to offend and infringe the good and wholſom laws of this Realm, and gracious commandments of our ſaid Soveraign Lord, than in times paſt hath been ſeen or known, have not letted to ſubſtract and withdraw the lawful and accuſtomed tithes of Corne, Hay, Paſturages, and other ſort of tithes and oblations commonly due to the owners, proprietaries, and poſſeſſors of the Parſonages, Vicarages, and other Eccleſiaſtical places, of and within the ſaid Realm and Dominions, being the more encouraged thereto, for that divers of the Kings ſubjects being lay perſons, having Parſonages, Vicarages, and tithes to them and their heirs, or to them and to their heirs of their bodies lawfully begotten, or for term of life or years, cannot by the order and courſe of the Eccleſiaſtical Laws of this Realm, ſue in any Eccleſiaſtical Court for the wrongful withholding and detaining of the ſaid tithes or other duties, nor cannot by the order of the common Laws of this Realm have any due remedy againſt any perſon or perſons, their heirs or aſſignes, that wrongfully detaineth, or withholdeth the ſame: by occaſion whereof, much controverſie, ſuit, variance and diſcord is like to inſurge, and enſue among the Kings ſubjects, to the great detriment, damage, and decay of many of them, if convenient and ſpeedy remedy therefore be not had and provided.

What hath encouraged divers perſons to detain their tithes from Lay men which have eſtates in them.

Wherefore it is ordained and enacted by our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That all and ſingular perſons of this his ſaid Realm, or other his Dominions, of what eſtate, degree, or condition ſoever he or they be, ſhall fully, truly, and effectually, divide, ſet out, yield, or pay all and ſingular tithes and offerings aforeſaid, according to the lawful cuſtoms and uſages of the Pariſhes and places where ſuch tithes or duties ſhall grow, ariſe, come, or be due. And in caſe * that ſhall happen any perſon or perſons of his or their ungodly and perverſe will and mind, to detain and withhold any of the ſaid tithes or offerings, or part, or parcel thereof, then the perſon or party being Eccleſiaſtical, or lay perſon, having cauſe to demand or have the ſaid tithes or offerings, being thereby wronged or grieved, ſhall and may convent the perſon or perſons ſo offending before the Ordinary, his commiſſary, or other competent Miniſter, or lawful Judge of the place where ſuch wrong ſhall be done, according to the Eccleſiaſtical laws. And in every ſuch caſe of matter or ſuit, the ſame Ordinary, commiſſary, or other competent Miniſter, or lawful Judge, having the parties or their lawful procurators before him or them, ſhall and may by vertue of this Act proceed to the examination, hearing and determination of every ſuch cauſe or matter ordinarily, or ſummarily, according to the courſe and proceſs of the ſaid Eccleſiaſtical laws, and thereupon may give ſentence accordingly.

Every perſon ſhall ſet out and pay his tithes according to the cuſtom of the Pariſh where they be due.

The offendor convented before the Ordinary.

And in caſe that any of the parties, for any cauſe or matter concerning that ſuit, do appeal from the ſentence, order and definitive judgment of the ſaid Ordinary or other competent Judge, as is aforeſaid, then the ſame Judge by vertue of this Act, forthwith upon ſuch appellation made, ſhall adjudge to the other party the reaſonable coſts of his ſuit therein before expended; and ſhall compel the ſame party appellant to ſatisfie and pay the ſame coſts ſo adjudged, by compulſory proceſs, and cenſures of the ſaid laws Eccleſiaſtical, taking ſurety of the other party to whom ſuch coſts ſhall be adjudged and paid, to reſtore the ſame coſts to the appellant, if after the principal cauſe of that ſuit of appeal ſhall be adjudged againſt the ſame party, to whom the ſaid coſts ſhall be yielden. And ſo every Ordinary or other competent Judge Eccleſiaſtical, by vertue of this Act, ſhall adjudge coſts to the other party upon every appeal to be made in any ſuit, or cauſe of ſubtraction or detention of any tithes or offerings, or in any other ſuit to be made for or concerning the duty of ſuch tithes or offerings.

The appellant ſhall pay coſts of ſuit to the other party.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, after ſuch ſentence definitive given againſt them, obſtinately and wilfully refuſe for to pay their tithes, or ſuch ſums of money ſo adjudged, wherein they be condemned for the ſame, that then two Juſtices of the Peace for the ſame Shire, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall have authority by this Act, upon information, certificate, or complaint to them made by writing by the ſaid Eccleſiaſtical Judge that gave the ſame ſentence, to cauſe the ſame party ſo refuſing, to be attached, and committed to the next Goal, and there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, till he or they ſhall have found ſufficient ſureties to be bound by recogniſauce or otherwiſe, before the ſame Juſtices, to the uſe of our Soveraign Lord the King, to perform the ſaid definitive ſentence and judgment.

Lands diſcharged of tithes. Co.pla.f.454.

Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall be ſued, or otherwiſe compelled to yeeld, give or pay any manner of tithes, for any Mannors, Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments, which by Laws or Statutes of this Realm are [a] diſcharge, or not chargeable with the payment of any ſuch tithes.

The inhabitants of London

Provided alſo and be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That this Act nor any thing therein contained, ſhall in any wiſe bind the inhabitants of the City of London and Suburbs of the ſame, for to pay their tithes and offerings within the ſame City and Suburbs otherwiſe then they ought, or ſhould have done before the making of this Act: any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Recoveries may be had and conveyances made in temporal Courts of tithes, as of lands.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all caſes, where any perſon or perſons, which now have, or which hereafter ſhall have any eſtate of inheritance, freehold, term, right or intereſt of in or to any Parſonage, Vicarage, portion, penſion, tithes, oblations, or other Eccleſiaſtical or Spiritual profit, which now be, or which hereafter ſhall be made Temporal, or admitted to be, abide, and go to, or in Temporal hands and lay uſes and profits by the Law or Statutes of this Realm, ſhall hereafter fortune to be diſeiſed, deforced, wronged, or otherwiſe kept or put from their lawful inheritance, eſtate, ſeiſion, poſſeſſion, occupation, term, right, or intereſt of, in or to the ſame, or of, in or to any parcel thereof, by any other perſon or perſons, claiming or pretending to have intereſt or title in or to the ſame: that then in all and every ſuch caſe or caſes, the perſon or perſons ſo diſeiſed deforced or wrongfully kept or put from his or their right or poſſeſſion, as is afore rehearſed, their heirs, wives, and ſuch other to whom ſuch injury and wrong ſhall be done or committed, ſhall and may have their remedy in the [b] Kings temporal Courts, or other temporal Courts as the caſe ſhall require for the recovery, getting, or obtaining of ſuch inheritance, eſtate, freehold, ſeiſion, poſſeſſion, term, right, or intereſt, by [c] writs original of Prec. quod reddat, Aſſ. of novel diſſeiſon, mortdanc. Quod ei deforciat, writs of dower or other writs original, as the caſe ſhall require, to be deviſed and granted in the Kings Court of Chancery, of every ſuch Parſonage, Vicarage, portion, penſion, or other profit called Eccleſiaſtical or Spiritual, ſo to be demanded according to the nature and cauſe of the ſuit thereof in like manner and form as they ſhould, ought, or might have had, of or for lands, tenements, or other hereditaments in ſuch manner to be demanded. And that writs of [d] covenant and other writs for fines to be levied, and all other aſſurances to be had, made, or conveyed of any ſuch Parſonage, Vicarage, portion, penſion, or other profit called Eccleſiaſtical or Spiritual, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be hereafter deviſed and granted in the ſaid Chancery, according as hath been uſed for fines to be levied, and aſſurance to be had or made, or conveyed of lands, tenements, or other hereditaments. And that all judgments to be given upon any of the ſaid writs original ſo to be deviſed or granted of or for any the premiſes, or any of them: and all fines to be levied and knowledged in any of the Kings ſaid Courts, thereof ſhall be of like force and effect in the law, to all intents and purpoſes, as judgments given, and fines levied of lands, tenements, and hereditaments in the ſame Courts upon writs original therefore duly purſued and proſecuted, albeit no ſuch form of writs original out of the ſaid Court of Chancery have heretofore proceeded or been awarded.

Judgments given, and fines levied, in the Kings Courts of tithes ſhall be of like force as of lands.

Remedy ſhall be had for tithes and offerings in the ſpiritual courts and not in the temporal.

Provided always, That this laſt Act ſhall not extend nor be expounded to give any remedy cauſe of action, or ſuit in the Courts Temporal againſt any perſon or perſons which ſhall refuſe or deny to ſet out his or their tithes, or which ſhall detain, withhold or refuſe to pay his tithes or offerings, or any parcel thereof: but that in all ſuch caſes the perſon or party being Eccleſiaſtical or lay perſon, having cauſe to demand, or have the ſaid tithes or offerings, and thereby wronged or grieved, ſhall take and have their remedy for their ſaid tithes or offerings in every ſuch caſe in the Spiritual Courts, according to the ordinance in the firſt part of this Act mentioned, and not otherwiſe: any thing herein expreſſed to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. Stat. 27 H.8.20. 2 Ed.6.13. Co.l.2.f.43.

CAP. VIII.

Whoſoever ſhall ſell or buy any Feſant or Partridge (ſaving the officers of the Kings, Queens, or Princes houſes) ſhall forfeit for every Feſant vi.s. viii.d. and for every Partridge iii.s. iv.d. to the King and I. &c. Exp. St. 1 Jac. 27.

CAP. IX.

No perſon ſhall ſell or buy any right or title, or maintain it, or procure maintenance in any ſuit.

Maintenance, embracery, ſubornation of witneſſes, and buying of titles great hindrances to juſtice.

The King our Soveraign Lord calling to his moſt bleſſed remembrance, that there is nothing within this Realm that conſerveth his loving ſubjects in more quietneſs, reſt, peace, and good concord, then the due and juſt miniſtration of his laws, and the true and indifferent trials of ſuch titles and iſſues, as been to be tried, according to the Laws of this Realm, which his moſt Royal Majeſty perceiveth to be greatly hindred by maintenance, embracery, Champerty, ſubornation of witneſſes, ſiniſter labour, buying of titles and pretenced rights of perſons not being in poſſeſſion, whereupon great perjury hath enſued, and much inquietneſs, oppreſſion, vexation, trouble, wrongs, and diſinheritance hath followed among his moſt loving Subjects, to the great diſpleaſure of Almighty God, the diſcontentation of his Majeſty, and to the great hinderance and let of Juſtice within this his Realm. For the avoiding of all which miſdemeanors, and buying of titles, and pretenced rights, and to the intent that Juſtice may be more fully, and indifferently miniſtred, and the truth in cauſes of contention, plainly tried betweeen his ſubjects of this Realm: Be it enacted by our ſaid Soveraign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That from henceforth all Statutes heretofore made, concerning maintenance, Champerty, and Embracery, or any of them now ſtanding and being in their full ſtrength and force, ſhall be put in due execution, according to the tenures, and effects of the ſame Statutes. Stat. 1 Ed.3.14. 20 Ed.3.4. 1 R.2.4. 3 Ed.1.25. 33 Ed.1. 28 Ed.1.11.

All Statutes made concerning Maintenance, Embracery & Champerty, ſhall be put in execution.

And over that, be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon nor perſons, of what eſtate, degree, or condition ſoever he or they be, ſhall from henceforth bargain, buy, or ſell, or by any ways or means, obtain, get, or have any pretenced rights, or titles, or take, promiſe, grant, or covenant to have any [a] right, or title of any perſon or perſons, in, or to any Manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments (except ſuch perſon or perſons, which ſhall ſo bargain, ſell, give, grant, covenant or promiſe the ſame, their anteceſſors, or they by whom he or they claim the ſame, have been in poſſeſſion of the ſame, or of the reverſion, or remainder thereof, or taken the rents or profits thereof, by the ſpace of one whole [b] year next before the ſaid bargain, covenant, grant, or promiſe made) upon pain that he that ſhall make any ſuch bargain, ſale, promiſe, covenant, or grant, to forfeit the whole value of the lands, tenements, or hereditaments, ſo bargained, ſold, promiſed, covenanted or granted, contrary to the form of this Act: And the buyer or taker thereof, knowing the ſame, to forfeit alſo the value of the ſaid lands, tenements, or hereditaments ſo by him bought, or taken, as is aboveſaid. The one half of the ſaid forfeitures to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half to the party that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, In which action, bill, plaint, or information, no eſſoin, protection, wager of law, nor injunction ſhall be allowed.

None ſhall buy any pretenced right in any land, unleſs the ſeller hath taken the profit thereof one year before.

And furthermore, That no manner of perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree, or condition ſoever he or they be, doe hereafter unlawfully maintain, or cauſe, or procure any unlawfull maintenance in any action, demand, ſuit, or complaint in any of the Kings Courts of the Chancery, the Star-Chamber, Whitehal, or elſewhere within any of the Kings Dominions of England and Wales, or the marches of the ſame, where any perſon or perſons have, or hereafter ſhall have authority by vertue of the Kings Commiſſion, Patent, or Writ, to hold plea of lands, or to examine, hear, or determine any [c] title of lands, or any matter or witneſſes concerning the title, right, or intereſt of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments: and alſo that no perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree, or condition ſoever he or they be, do hereafter unlawfully retain for maintenance of any [d] ſuit or plea, any perſon or perſons, or embrace any Freeholders, or Jurors, or ſuborn any witneſs by letters, rewards, promiſes, or any other ſiniſter labor or means, for to maintain any matter, or cauſe, or to the diſturbance or hinderance of Juſtice, or to the procurement, by occaſion of any manner of perjury by falſe verdict, or otherwiſe, in any manner of Courts aforeſaid, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch offence, x. li. the one moyety thereof unto the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other moyety to him that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any the Kings Courts, in which action no eſſoin, protection, wager of law, nor injunction ſhall be allowed.

Purchaſing of a pretenced title by him that is in poſſeſſion is lawful.

And for the due execution of this preſent Act, be it further enacted by authority aboveſaid, That the Juſtices of Aſſiſe of every circuit within this Realm, and elſewhere within the Kings Dominions, ſhall in every County within their circuits two times in the year, that is to ſay, in the time of their ſittings for the taking of Aſſiſes, or delivery of the Gaols, cauſe open Proclamation to be made, as well of this preſent Act, and of every thing therein contained, as alſo of all other Statutes heretofore made againſt unlawful Maintenance, Champerty, Embracery, or unlawful retainers, to the intent that no manner of perſon or perſons hearing the ſame, ſhould be ignorant or miſcogniſant of the dangers and penalties therein contained and ſpecified.

Proclamations ſhall be made at Aſſiſes of the Statutes of maintenance, champerty, &c.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act ſhall not extend to charge any perſon or perſons with any of the penalties mentioned in the ſaid Act, for any offence by him or them committed contrary to the ſaid Act, except the ſame perſon or perſons ſo offending be ſued thereof by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of the Kings Courts, within one year next after the ſame offence by him or them committed, as aforeſaid. CAP. XIII.

Horſes feeding on Commons not being of lawful height ſhall be ſeiſed and meaſured, &c.

Foraſmuch as the generation and breed of good and ſtrong Horſes within this Realm extendeth not onely to a great help of defence of the ſame, but alſo is great commodity and profit to the inhabitants thereof, which now is much decayed and diminiſhed, by reaſon that in foreſts, chaſes, moors, mariſhes, heaths, commons, and waſte grounds within this Realm, little ſtoned Horſes and Nags of ſmall ſtature, and of little value, be not onely ſuffered to paſture and feed thereupon, but alſo to cover and leap Mares feeding there, whereof cometh in manner no profit or commodity.

For reformation whereof, and for the increaſe and breed of better and ſtronger Horſes hereafter to be had within this Realm: Be it enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That no Commoner or Commoners within any foreſt, chaſe, moor, mariſh, heath, common or waſte ground, nor any Officer or Officers of or within any of the ſaid foreſts or chaſes, nor any other perſon or perſons whatſoever he or they be, at any time after the laſt day of March, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, one thouſand five hundred and three and fourty, ſhall have, or put to paſture into or upon any ſuch ground, foreſt, chaſe, moor, mariſh, heath, common, or waſte ground, any ſtoned horſe or horſes, being above the age of two years, and not being of the altitude and height fifteen handful, to be meaſured from the loweſt part of the hoof of the forefoot, unto the higheſt part of the wither, and every handful to contain four inches of yͤ Standard, to paſture, feed, or be in or upon any of the ſaid foreſts, chaſes, commons, moors, mariſhes, heaths, or waſte grounds within any of the Shires and Territories of Norfolk, Suffolk, Cambridge, Buckingham, Huntingdon, Eſſex, Kent, Southampſhire, North-Wiltſhire, Oxford, Berkſhire, Worceſter, Gloceſter, Somerſet, North-Wales, South-Wales, Bedford, Warwick, Northampton, Yorkſhire, Cheſhire, Staffordſhire, the County of the City of York, the Town and Liberties of Glouceſter, the County of the Town of Kingſton, upon Hull, the County Palatine of Lancaſter, the County of Salop, Leiceſter, Hereford, and Lincoln, or within any of them: Nor ſhall put to feed or paſture any ſtoned horſe or horſes, being above the ſaid age of two years, and not being of the altitude and height of fourteen handful, to be meaſured as is aboveſaid, within or upon any like ground or grounds as been above written, lying or being within any other Shire of this Realm, nor within any of them, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſaid horſe or horſes which ſhall be ſo found in or upon any ſuch ground, foreſt, chaſe, moor, mariſh, heath, common, or waſte ground, at any time after the ſaid laſt day of March, which ſhall be in the ſaid year of our Lord God, one thouſand five hundred and three and fourty, contrary to the form of this Statute.

Of what height thoſe ſtoned horſes ſhall be which do feed upon the common in certain Counties. Stat. 8 El.8. 21 Jac.28.

Seiſure and meaſuring of a horſe not of a lawful height.

And it ſhall be lawful to every perſon and perſons that ſhall find any ſuch horſe or horſes, contrary to the form of this Statute, to ſeize the ſame in manner and form following, that is to ſay, The ſaid perſon and perſons ſo finding any horſe or horſes, contrary to this Act, in any foreſt, chaſe, common, moor, mariſh, heath, or waſte ground, within the ſaid Shires, or other limits aforeſaid, or in any of them, ſhall firſt go unto the Keeper or Keepers of the ſame foreſt or chaſe, or to his deputy or deputies, or to the Conſtable, Bailiff, Headborough, Burſholder, or Tithingman of any Townſhip next adjoyning unto the ſaid place where the ſaid horſe or horſes ſhall be; and ſhall command or require him or them, or any of them, in the Kings behalf, to go with him or them, to bring every ſuch horſe or horſes, as he or they ſhall think to be there feeding and going contrary to this Statute, to the next Pound, and there the ſaid horſe and horſes to be meaſured by any of the ſame Officer or Officers, in the preſence of three other honeſt men, to be named and appointed by the ſaid Officer; and if it ſo be found that the ſame horſe or horſes be contrary to this Act, that then it ſhall be lawful to every ſuch perſon and perſons that ſo ſhall challenge and ſeize the ſaid horſe or horſes as before is ſaid, to take and retain the ſame horſe and horſes, and every of them to his own uſe, as his own proper goods and cattels for ever, without let, interruption, vexation, ſuit, or trouble of the owner or owners of them, or any of them, or of any other perſon or perſons.

Alſo it is further enacted by authority aboveſaid, That if any of the ſaid Keepers, their deputy or deputies, Bailiffs, Conſtables, Headboroughs, Burſholders, or Tithingmen, or any of the ſaid three other honeſt men, which ſhall be required to be at the meaſuring of the ſaid horſe or horſes, as is beforeſaid, do refuſe to do as is aforeſaid, or elſe do not truly meaſure ſuch horſe and horſes, that then every ſuch Bailiff, Keeper, deputy or deputies, Conſtable, Headborough, Burſholder, and Tithingman, and the ſaid three honeſt perſons to be named as is aforeſaid, and every of them, not doing, and refuſing to do his or their duty in the premiſſes, ſhall forfeit and loſe fourty ſhillings for every time ſo refuſing to do, or not doing as is aforeſaid, the one half thereof to be to our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other half thereof to be to the party that will ſue for the ſame in any Court of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, by bill, or plaint of debt, information, or otherwiſe, in which action none eſſoin, wager of law, or protection ſhall be admitted or allowed.

The penalty of thoſe that refuſe to meaſure a horſe not of a lawful height being hereunto required.

Provided alway, That this Act ſhall not extend to any ſtoned horſe or horſes, that ſhall happen once in a year, after the ſaid laſt day of March, to break, eſcape, or go out of any ſeveral paſture or ground, againſt the will and mind of the owner or poſſeſſor of ſuch horſe or horſes, into any of the ſaid foreſts, chaſes, moors, mariſhes, heaths, commons, or waſte grounds, ſo that the ſaid horſe or horſes ſo breaking, eſcaping, or going out, do not remain or abide in the ſaid foreſts, chaſes, moors, mariſhes, heaths, commons, or waſte grounds, or any of them by the ſpace of four days, next after ſufficient and open notice and knowledge given at the dwelling houſe of the owner of the ſaid horſe or horſes, or after open publication thereof made upon a Sunday, or other Feſtival day, in the Pariſh Church where the owner or poſſeſſor of ſuch horſe doth dwell.

Horſes breaking forth into the common againſt the owners will.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all foreſts, chaſes, commons, moors, mariſhes, heaths, and waſte grounds within this Realm of England and Wales, and the marches of the ſame, and every of them, ſhall be driven at the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, or within xv. days then next after, and ſo yearly to be driven by the Lords, owners and poſſeſſors of the ſaid foreſts, or chaſes, or by the officers of the ſame, and by the Conſtables, Headboroughs, Bailiffs, Burſholders, and Tithingmen, within whoſe offices, precincts, and limits, the commons, moors, mariſhes, heaths, and waſte grounds, being out of foreſts and chaſes, be or lie, upon pain of xl.s. to be forfeited to our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, by every of the ſaid officers, Bailiffs, Conſtables, Headboroughs, Burſholders, and Tithingmen, as often, and at every time as the ſaid drift ſhall be omitted, or left undone within xv. days after the ſaid Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, as is aforeſaid. And it ſhall alſo be lawful to the Lords, owners and poſſeſſioners of the ſaid Foreſts and Chaſes, by their Officers of the ſame, and by the Conſtables, Bailiffs, Headboroughs, Burſholders, and Tithingmen, and every of them, within the limits of their offices, to make like drift of the ſaid foreſts, chaſes, commons, moors, mariſhes, heaths, and waſte grounds, at any other ſeaſon and time of the year, whenſoever, and as often as they ſhall think meet and convenient.

Foreſts, heaths, chaſes, commons, and waſte grounds ſhall be driven once in the year. Co. Inſt. 4 p. 309.

And furthermore be it enacted, That if in any of the ſaid drifts there ſhall be found any mare, filly, fole, or gelding, that then ſhall be thought not to be able, nor like to grow to be able to bear foles of reaſonable ſtature, or not able nor like to grow to be able to do profitable labours, by the diſcretions of the drivers aforeſaid, or of the more number of them, then the ſame driver or drivers ſhall cauſe the ſame unprofitable beaſts and every of them to be killed, and the bodies of them to be buried in the ground, or otherwiſe beſtowed as no noiance thereby ſhall come or grow to the people there near inhabiting, or thither reſorting.

Upon the drift of commons unlikely Tits ſhall be killed. 21 Jac. 28.

And it is further enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Juſtices of Peace in every Shire, Riding, and other place, in their quarter Seſſions to be kept and holden by vertue of the Kings Commiſſion of the Peace to them directed, and all Stewards of Leets and Lawdays, in the ſame Leets and Lawdays, ſhall have authority by this Act, to enquire of all defaults, contempts, omiſſions, and offences contrary to the effects above written, and every of them. And all preſentments thereof to be found in any of the ſaid Leets and Lawdays, ſhall be certified by the Steward or Deputy Steward, or Court-holder of the ſame Leet or Lawday, in the next general Seſſions of the Peace to be holden in the County where ſuch preſentments ſhall be found or had, or unto the Cuſtos Rotulorum of the ſame Shire, within fourty days next after that preſentment made, which Juſtices of Peace in their quarter Seſſions of the Peace, ſhall have power and authority by this Act, to hear and determine every ſuch preſentment before themſelves found, or in any of the ſaid Leets or Lawdays, to be preſented and certified as is aforeſaid, as well by examination, as otherwiſe; and if any ſuch Steward, Deputy Steward, or Court-holder aforeſaid, imbezil or conceal any ſuch preſentment, or do not certifie the ſame as is afore written, every of them ſo offending ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence, xl.s. The one half of every ſuch forfeiture, and every other of the forfeitures afore written, to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half to the perſon or perſons that will ſue for the ſame, before the ſaid Juſtices of Peace in their ſaid quarter Seſſions, by bill, or information, which Juſtice ſhall have full power and authority, by vertue of this Act, to hear and determine every ſuch offence, as well by examination, as otherwiſe, as is before mentioned.

Juſtices of Peace in the Seſſions, and Stewards in their Leets and Lawdays ſhall inquire of all offences aforeſaid.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons after the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, ſhall have or put to paſture any horſe, gelding, or mare infect with ſcab or mange, in, to, or upon any of the ſaid foreſts, chaſes, moors, mariſhes, heaths, commons, waſte grounds, or common fields: upon pain to forfeit for every horſe, gelding, or mare ſo infect, paſturing in any of the ſaid grounds, ten ſhillings, which offence ſhall be inquirable and preſentable before the Steward in every Leet, as other common annoyances be. And the forfeiture therefore to be to the Lord of the ſame Leet where the ſaid offences ſhall be preſented.

No horſe, gelding, or mare, infected with the ſcab ſhall be put upon the Commons.

Provided

Horſe of ſmall height may be put where mares are uſed not to be kept.

Provided alway, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend, nor be prejudicial to any perſon or perſons, having any ſtoned horſe or horſes, under the heights and altitudes above mentioned, for or concerning the having or putting any of the ſaid horſes to feeding in or upon any common or waſte grounds, where any mares or fillies are not uſed nor ſuffered to be fed, paſtured, or kept. CAP. XVI.

Aliens ſhall be bound by and unto all the Laws and Statutes of this Realm.

The King our moſt dread Soveraign Lord calling unto his bleſſed remembrance the infinite number of ſtrangers and aliens of foreign Countreys and Nations which daily do increaſe and multiply within his Graces Realm and Dominions in exceſſive numbers, to the great detriment, hindrance, loſs and impoveriſhment of his Graces natural lieges and ſubjects of this his Realm, and to the great decay of the ſame; remembring alſo the manifold Acts and good Statutes which have been heretofore made, as well by his moſt noble progenitors, as by his own moſt royal Majeſty, for reformation of the ſame in divers and ſundry Parliaments, that is to wit: Firſt, in the firſt year of the Reign of King Richard the third, where it was enacted, That no perſon not born under the ſame Kings obeiſance, nor made denizen, taking upon him to be an artificer, or handy-crafts man, ſhould take nor occupy any houſe or chamber within this Realm, nor abide or remain in the ſame, nor ſojourn with any ſtrange perſon, not being born under the obeiſance of the ſame King, as is aforeſaid, nor exerciſe or occupy any craft, or manual occupation within this ſame Realm; but that ſuch ſtrangers ſhould depart from this ſame Realm, within a certain time appointed by the ſaid Eſtatute, unleſs they were retained in ſervice to or with any ſubjects or lieges of the King onely which were expert in their crafts or occupations, under pain to forfeit all their goods.

Stat. 1 R.3.9.

No alien born not made denizen, being an Artificer, ſhall take or occupy any houſe or chamber, nor ſojourn with a ſtranger, nor occupy any craft.

An alien ſhall not make any cloth, ſell any ware by retail, or ſhall take any ſervant but the Kings ſubject, or his own child.

And that no perſon, not being born under the ſaid Kings obeiſance, nor made denizen, being an artificer or handy-crafts man, ſhould make any cloth within this Realm. And alſo that no ſuch ſtrangers ſhould ſell any wares within this Realm, but onely in groſs, and not by retail, under pain of forfeiture of the ſaid wares.

And moreover, that no perſon, not being under the ſaid Kings obeiſance, abiding in any houſe or chamber within this Realm, occupying any handy-craft, after a certain time in the ſaid Act limited, ſhould take any ſervant to work with him, except it were his ſon or daughter, or elſe one of the ſubjects of the ſaid King, and born under his obeiſance, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch default xx.li. as in the ſaid Act amongſt other things more plainly appeareth.

Stat. 14 H.8.2. What prentices aliens muſt take, & whom for Journeyman, and they muſt be under reformation. Stat. 5 El.4.

And where alſo in the xiv. and xv. year of the Reign of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King that now is, it was enacted, that no ſtranger born out of his Graces obeiſance, were he denizen, or not denizen, uſing any handy-craft or occupation within this Realm, ſhould take any apprentice, except the ſame apprentice were born within his Graces Dominions and obeiſance, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch apprentice ſo taken, x.li.

And that alſo no ſtranger, nor alien born, under like pain, uſing any handy-craft within this Realm, after a certain time limited in the ſaid Act, ſhould take or have any Journey-man or covenant-ſervant, except ſuch Journey-man or covenant-ſervant were born under his Graces obeiſance.

Stat. 21 H.8.26. Aliens ſhall be contributory to charges with the Kings ſubjects, they ſhall ſwear to be true to the King and ſhall make no aſſemblies but at their Halls.

And that all manner of aliens born, as well being denizens, as not being denizens, inhabiting within the City of London, or a certain ſpace about the ſame, ſhould be under the ſearch and reformation of the Wardens of the Fellowſhips of handy-crafts within the ſaid City of London, as in the ſaid Eſtatute among other things more plainly appeareth.

And where alſo in the Parliament of our ſaid Soveraign Lord, holden at Weſtminſter, in the xxi. year of his moſt gracious Reign, it was enacted among other things, That no ſtranger ſhould keep any more ſervants ſtrangers but onely two at one time, and that all denizens then made, or after to be made, which would inhabit within the ſaid City of London, or within a certain circuit of the ſame, and would there keep any houſe, or occupy any craft or occupation, ſhould be contributory to and with the Kings Graces ſubjects of the ſame craft or occupation within the ſaid City of London, paying, bearing and ſuſtaining ſuch charges of the ſame crafts-men, as in the ſame Act is contained: and that they ſhould alſo preſent themſelves at the common Hall or meeting place of the ſaid craft in the City of London, and there to take corporal Oath before the Maſter and Wardens of the ſame craft, to be true to our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, and his Heirs. And alſo, that no ſtranger, artificer or handy-crafts man, born out of his Graces allegeance, not being denizen, ſhould ſet up, or keep any houſe, ſhops, or chambers, wherein they ſhould exerciſe any handy-craft or myſtery, within this Realm, upon like penalties as been mentioned in the ſaid former Eſtatute. And that alſo no ſtranger, nor denizen not being born within this Realm, ſhould aſſemble in any company, fellowſhip, congregation, or conventicle, but onely in the common hall of their crafts with his Graces ſubjects of the ſame craft, upon like pain as is aforeſaid, as in the ſaid Acts and Statutes, among many other things more plainly appeareth. All which good, wholeſom and beneficial Acts and Statutes been in manner infringed, fruſtrated, and defrauded, chiefly by the means of divers Letters Patants obtained by the crafty ſuits, inventions and practiſes of ſtrangers, lately made denizens in great number, which Letters Patents do contain, that every ſuch denizen ſhall be as free as Engliſh-men naturally born within the Kings Graces Dominions and obeiſance, any Acts or Statutes made or to be made to the contrary notwithſtanding; by reaſon whereof, the ſaid denizens refuſe to obey and perform ſuch orders and directions as in the ſaid former Eſtatutes were limited, preſcribed, and declared, as well to and for ſuch ſtrangers born out of the Kings obeiſance, as at that time were made denizens, or that after ſhould be made denizens, to the great hinderance and decay of the handy-crafts men, being the Kings Graces natural lieges and ſubjects.

For reformation whereof, the Kings moſt royal Majeſty is contented and pleaſed, that it be enacted by his moſt gracious Highneſs, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, & the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That all manner of ſtrangers born out of his Graces obeyſance, which heretofore have been made denizens, or that hereafter ſhall be made denizens, from and after the firſt day of September next coming, ſhall be bound and obedient, by, and unto all the foreſaid Acts and Statutes, and to all the contents of the ſame, and to all other Acts and Statutes of this Realm, heretofore made, now being in their force, and not repealed; any Letters Patents, or Ordinances heretofore made, or hereafter to be made to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And that alſo in all and every Letters Patents of or for the making of any denizen, from and after the laſt day of this preſent Parliament, to be made to any ſtranger not being born under the Kings Graces obeiſance, ſhall be contained a proviſo, that he or they to whom ſuch Letters Pattents ſhall be ſo made and granted, ſhall be bounded and obedient by and unto all the Acts and Eſtatutes of this Realm, as is aforeſaid, and to all and every the contents of the ſame: Except it ſhall be the Kings moſt gracious pleaſure, to grant to any ſuch alien any ſpecial liberties or priviledges, more or otherwiſe then is contained in the ſaid Eſtatutes: And in that caſe, all ſuch liberties and priviledges ſo to be granted to any ſuch alien, contrary to the form of any of the ſaid Eſtatutes, ſhall be plainly, wholly and particularly expreſſed, ſpecified and declared by ſpecial words, as well in the bill aſſigned with the Kings Graces hand for obtaining of any ſuch grant, as in the Letters Patents to be made out of the Chancery for and concerning the ſame.

All ſtrangers made denizens, ſhall be obedient unto the ſtatutes. 1 R.3. 14 H.8. 21 H.8.

A proviſo in all Letters patents for making of denizens, that they ſhall be obedient to the laws.

And furthermore be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no alien or ſtranger, denizen, or not denizen, uſing any handy-craft, being born out of the Kings Graces obeiſance, inhabiting within the Univerſities of Oxford or Cambridge, or within the precinct of Saint Martins le grand in London, or within any other ſuch like places priviledged, ſhall from the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, retain, have, or keep in their ſervice, any Apprentice, Journey-man, or ſervant, being aliens born out of the Kings obeiſance, above the number of two perſons at one time, upon pain and penalty contained in the ſaid Act made in the ſaid fourteen and fifteen years of his Graces Reign; any Act or proviſion heretofore made to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

No alien dwelling in Oxford, &c. ſhall keep above two ſervants that be ſtrangers at one time. Stat. 5 El. 4.

And that it be alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every alien and ſtranger, born out of the Kings obeiſance, not being denizen, which now or hereafter ſhall come in or to this Realm, or elſewhere within the Kings Dominions, ſhall after the ſaid firſt day of September next coming, be bounden by and unto the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, and to all and ſingular the contents of the ſame.

Every alien bound to the laws of this Realm.

And that none of the Kings ſubjects ſhall retain or keep together at one time in his houſhold, ſervice, or family, above the number of four ſtrangers born out of the Kings obeiſance: Nor that any alien, being denizen, and uſing no handy-craft, ſhall retain or keep in his houſhold, ſervice, or family, together at one time, above the ſaid number of four ſtrangers, upon pain that the offendor and offendors contrary to this article, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every ſtranger born out of the Kings obeiſance, retained and kept above that number, ten pound. The moiety of all which forfeitures ſhall be to the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety thereof to ſuch perſon or perſons as will ſue for the ſame by original writ, bill, plaint, or information in any of the Kings Courts. In which ſuit, none eſſoin, protection, nor wager of Law be admitted or allowed.

No man may keep above four ſtrangers in his ſervice at one time. Stat. 5 El. 4.

Provided alway, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall be hurtful or prejudicial to ſuch Proclamation as the Kings Majeſty hath publiſhed or proclaimed for and concerning the payment of cuſtom for ſtrangers, granted by the goodneſs of his Majeſty to endure for certain years, but that the ſame Proclamation ſhall abide, be, and remain in the ſame plight and ſtrength that it is, and as if this Act had never been made; any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

A Proclamation publiſhed by the King for the payment of cuſtom.

Provided alſo, That every Lord of the Parliament may keep the number of ſix ſtrangers born out of the Kings obeiſance together at one time; any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Lords of the Parliament may keep ſix ſtrangers.

And it is further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all leaſes of any dwelling houſe or ſhop within this Realm, or any the Kings Dominions, made to any ſtranger, artificer, or handy-craft man born out of the Kings obeiſance, not being deniſen, from and after the ſaid Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, ſhall be void and of none effect. And that no ſtranger artificer, or handy-craft man, born out of the Kings obeiſance, not being denizen, ſhall after the ſame Feaſt take any leaſe of any dwelling houſe or ſhop within this Realm, or in any other the Kings Dominions, upon pain to loſe and forfeit for every time doing contrary to this Act, one hundred ſhillings. And that no perſons, after the ſame

No ſtrangers except denizens, may take any leaſes of houſes.

Feaſt, ſhall grant or let to ferm any dwelling houſe or ſhop to any ſuch ſtranger, artificer, or handy-crafts man, not being denizen, to the intent to dwell or inhabit in the ſame, upon like pain of one hundred ſhillings. The one moyety of which pains and forfeitures to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other moyety to ſuch as will ſue for the ſame, in manner and form as in this Act is above expreſſed.

CAP. XVII.

Paving of certain ſtreets within London.

FOraſmuch as the ſtreet or way leading from Algate within the City of London to White-Chappel Church without the ſame gate, in the County of Middleſex, the lane called Chancery-lane, and the way leading from the bars in Holborn Weſtwards, towards Saint Giles in the field; and the lane called Grays-Inne-lane within the ſaid County; and alſo the lane lying beſides Saint Andrews Church in Holborn, called Show-lane; and alſo the lane called Feuter-lane, being thorow-fares and paſſages from Fleet-ſtreet into Holborn, within the Liberty of the City of London, be very foul, and full of pits and ſloughs, very perillous and noyous, as well for all the Kings ſubjects, through and by them repairing, as well on horſe-back as on foot, as alſo with carriage: For the amendment and reformation whereof, it may pleaſe the Kings Highneſs, with the aſſent of his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of his Commons in this high Court of Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that it may be ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted, That all and every perſon, bodies politick and corporate, which now have, or at any time hereafter ſhall have, any lands, tenements, or other hereditaments in fee-ſimple, fee-tail, or for term of life, or for term of years, or by reaſon of the wardſhip of any heir during the nonage of the ſame heir, or by execution, by writ of Elegit, or by any Eſtatute of the Staple, lying and being between the ſaid Gate called Algate, and White-Chappel Church next adjoyning to the ſaid high-way, or next adjoyning to any of the ſaid lanes or ways called Chancery-lane, Grays-Inne-lane, Show-lane, Feuter-lane, and the way from the bars in Holborn Weſtwards to the far end of high Holborn, ſhall on this ſide the Feaſt of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, M.D.XLII. well and ſufficiently pave, or cauſe to be paved with paving ſtone, the bridge at Holborn bars, at the cauſey, beginning at the ſame bars, unto the end of high Holborn Weſtwards, as far as any habitation or dwelling is on both the ſides of the ſame ſtreet: And alſo the cauſey or high-way leading from Algate to White-Chappel Church: And the lane called Chancery-lane, from the bars beſides the Rolls late made and ſet up by the Lord Privy Seal, unto the ſaid high-way in Holborn: And the ſaid lane called Grays-Inne-lane, from Holborn bars Northward, as far as any habitation is there: And alſo the lanes called Show-lane, and Feuter-lane, every man his part and quantity of the ſame cauſeys and lanes, unto the midſt of the ſame cauſeys and lanes, and every of them in length, as his or their lands or tenements do lie or extend, in like manner and form as the cauſey or high-way leading from Strand-bridge to Charing-Croſs is made and paved: And alſo the lanes called Show-lane, and Feuter-lane, in every part of the ſame lanes, as other ſtreets within the City of London be paved, with a canel in the midſt of the ſame lanes, upon pain, every perſon in his own default, to forfeit for every ſquare of the ſame cauſeys and lanes, and every of them, not ſufficiently paved before the ſaid Feaſt of S. John Baptiſt, ſix pence.

They which have a certain eſtate in lands adjoyning to theſe ſtreets and lanes, ſhall pave the ſame before the feaſt of S. John Baptiſt, Anno Dom. 1542. to the midſt of the cauſeys. Co. Inſt. 4 p. 249.

And that all and every ſuch perſons having, or which hereafter ſhall have lands or tenements in fee-ſimple, fee-tail, or for term of life, or otherwiſe, as is aforeſaid, adjoyning or lying to and next either ſide of the ſaid cauſeys, or lanes, or any of them, their heirs, aſſigns or ſucceſſors, after and from the ſaid Feaſt of Saint John Baptiſt, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, M.D.XLII. ſhall yearly maintain and repair the ſame pavements, and every of them, over againſt his ſaid lands and tenements, well and ſufficiently from time to time, as often, and when need ſhall require, at all times hereafter with paving ſtone, upon pain to forfeit for every yard ſquare not ſufficiently paved, ſix pence, as often as any ſuch default of any perſon ſhall be preſented before the Juſtices of Peace within the ſaid County of Middleſex, for that part of the ſaid way being within the ſaid County of Middleſex; and before the Mayor and Aldermen, or Juſtices of the Peace within the City of London, for that which is within the Liberties of the ſaid City.

They which ſhall have eſtate in lands adjoyning to the high-way in the foreſaid ſtreets or lanes, ſhall continue the ſame paved.

And be it further enacted by the ſaid authority, That the Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid County of Middleſex for the time being, ſhall have full power and authority, to enquire in every quarter Seſſions to be kept after the ſaid Feaſt of S. John Baptiſt, by the oath of twelve men of the ſaid County, as well of them that have not paved ſuch part or portion of the ſame cauſeys, and every of them being within the ſame County, over againſt, and along unto the midſt of the ſame cauſeys, as their lands and tenements do extend or lie, as alſo of ſuch perſons as have been remiſs and negligent in amending and repairing the ſame cauſeys from time to time, as need ſhall require, according to the meaning of this Act.

The Juſtices of Peace of Middleſex ſhall enquire of them which omit their duty there.

And alſo be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Mayor of London, Aldermen, and Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame City for the time being, ſhall have like power and authority by vertue of this Act, to enquire both in their quarter Seſſions, and all Wardmote enqueſts, to be kept within the City of London, after the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of S. John Baptiſt, by the oath of twelve men of every Ward, within the ſaid City and Liberties thereof, as well of all ſuch perſon and perſons that from time to time, as need doth and ſhall require, have not paved ſuch part and portion of the ſtreets and lanes within the ſaid City and Liberties thereof, and alſo within all priviledged places being within the ſaid City and Liberties thereof: As alſo of all ſuch perſon and perſons as be remiſs and negligent in amending and repairing of the ſame ſtreets and lanes, and every of them, as often, and when as need requireth, according to the purport of this Act, upon like pains and penalties to be aſſeſſed and afferred upon the offendors, within the ſaid City and liberties thereof, in every condition, as be limited before for them which do not pave and repair the ſaid cauſeis, in Holborn, Chancery-lane, and without Algate. And that the ſaid Juſtices of Peace within the ſaid County of Middleſex, for the time being, within their juriſdiction, ſhall have full power and authority by their diſcretions, to amerce, and ſet fines upon ſuch perſons as ſhall be remiſs and negligent, or make default in the obſerving of the tenor of this Act. And if the ſaid Juſtices of Peace within the ſaid County of Middleſex, or the Mayor and Aldermen, and Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid City of London, at any their quarter Seſſions after the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of S. John Baptiſt, to be holden and kept within the ſaid County of Middleſex, by the Juſtices of Peace of the ſame County, or the Mayor, Aldermen, and Juſtices of Peace of the City of London at any their quarter Seſſions or enqueſts of Wardmote kept within the City of London, be negligent and remiſs on their parts, to charge by oath ſuch perſons to find and preſent the ſaid defaults and negligence of all perſons offending contrary to the meaning of this Act, then the ſaid Juſtices of Peace within the ſaid County of Middleſex, being preſent at the ſame quarter Seſſions, to loſe and forfeit for every time ſo neglecting the ſaid charge, C. s. And likewiſe the Mayor, Aldermen and Juſtices of Peace of London for every like default and neglecting, to loſe and forfeit C. s.

The Mayor and Aldermen of London ſhall enquire of offences committed within the Liberties of the ſaid City.

The penalty of the Juſtices of Peace, and of the Mayor that be remiſs to inquire of the offences aforeſaid.

And be it further enacted by the ſaid authority, That the Clerk of the Peace of the ſaid County of Middleſex for the time being, ſhall from time to time certifie into the Kings Exchequer, all ſuch fines, & forfeitures ſo aſſeſſed within the ſaid County, loſt & forfeited before the ſaid Juſtices of Middleſex, into the Kings Exchequer to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs, and his heirs, and the Barons of the ſaid Exchequer, to make out proceſs by diſtreſs to be taken and levied upon the ſaid lands and tenements, or otherwiſe by their diſcretions, as well for the ſaid fines aſſeſſed, as alſo for the ſaid forfeitures and penalties before limited. And if the Clerk of the Peace within the ſaid County of Middleſex, be remiſs and negligent in making ſuch certificate, or doing his duty according to this Act, then the ſame Clerk to loſe and forfeit for every ſuch default, five pounds: the one half to be to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs, and the other half to the uſe of any the Kings ſubjects that will ſue for the ſame in any the Kings Courts, by bill, action, information, or otherwiſe, wherein no wager of law, eſſoin, or protection ſhall lye for the defendant.

The Clerk of P. ſhall certifie into the Exchequer all fines and forfeitures.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Mayor, Aldermen, and Juſtices of Peace within the City of London and Suburbs of the ſame, or three of them, whereof the Mayor to be one, by vertue of this Act, ſhall have full power and authority from time to time, to ſet fines and amerciaments on all and ſingular perſons, for not paving and repairing of any ſtreet, lane, ſtreets, lanes, within the ſaid City and liberties of the ſame, which now be paved, or by force of this Act hereafter ſhall be paved, and the ſame fines and amerciaments to be levied by diſtreſs, plaint or action, within the ſame City, by the Chamberlain of the ſaid City for the time being, to the uſe of the Mayor and Comminalty of the ſaid City, and their Succeſſors, as other fines, and amerciaments for any other matter or cauſe within the ſaid City have been uſed and acuſtomed.

The Mayor of London, &c. may ſet fines upon thoſe which do not pave or repair any ſtreet or lane.

Provided always, That if the inhabitants of ſuch lands or tenements, do ſufficiently repair and pave before their manſions and dwelling places, the ſaid ſtreets, lanes and cauſeis, that then every ſuch inhabitant by vertue of this Act, ſhall defalk, abate, and retain in his hands as much of the rent due unto his leſſor, as he can prove to have expended in and about the ſame paving. And the leſſor, for ſo much money, as ſuch ſum doth amount unto, to have no action, re-entree, or other remedy for non-payment of that ſame, unleſs it be otherwiſe agreed between them.

An inhabitant paving the ſtreet may defalk ſo much of his rent from his Leſſor.

CAP. XVIII.

Houſes decayed within York, Lincoln, Buckingham, &c. muſt be repaired.

Foraſmuch as there hath been in time paſt divers and many beautiful houſes of habitation within the walls and liberties of the Cities, Boroughs, and Townes of York, Lincoln, Canterbury, Coventry, Bath, Chicheſter, Salisbury, Wincheſter, Briſtow, Scarburg, Hereford, Colcheſter, Rocheſter, Porteſmouth, Poole, Linne, Feverſham, Worceſter, Stafford, Buckingham, Pontfret, Grantham, Exeter, Ipſwich, Southampton, great Yarmouth, Oxenford, great Wicombe, Gulford, Eſtretfore, Kingſton upon Hull, Newcaſtle upon Tine, Beverley, Bedford, Leyceſter, and Berwick, and now are fallen down, decayed, and at this day remain unre-edified, and do lye as deſolate and vacant grounds many of them nigh adjoyning to the high ſtreets repleniſhed with much uncleanneſs and filth, with pits, cellers and vaults, lying open and uncovered, to the great peril and danger of the inhabitants, and other the Kings ſubjects, paſſing by the ſame, and ſome houſes be feeble and very like to fall down, dangerous to paſs by, which decays are to the great impoveriſhing and hinderance of the ſame Cities, Boroughs and Towns. It may therefore pleaſe the King our Soveraign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That it may be enacted by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, being owners or poſſeſſioners of any ſuch deſolate or void grounds, that have been at any time within xxv. years immediately paſt, before the xii. day of April, in the xxxi. year of his Majeſtes reign, builded for houſes of habitation, or of any other houſe or houſes of habitation, now, or hereafter being in decay, and not fully fallen down, within the liberties or precincts of any of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, or Towns, do not ſufficiently re-edifie, build and repair, or cauſe to be re-edified, builded and repaired, the ſaid deſolate, void grounds, or decayed houſes, convenient for habitation and dwelling, within three years next after Proclamation thereof to be made, in, or upon the ſame void ground or grounds, decayed houſe or houſes, by the Mayors, Sheriffs,

If the owner of any decayed houſe do not repair it within two years after Proclamation, the Lord of the ſame may enter and retain it to him, &c.

Bailiffs, or other head Officers of every of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, and Towns, by what name or names ſoever they be incorporated, every of them within the precinct of their own authority: that then it ſhall be lawful for the Lord or Lords, of whom ſuch deſolate void grounds, or decayed or ruinous houſes been holden, after the ſaid three years expired, to enter into the ſame, and to have the ſame grounds or houſes to them, and to their heirs or ſucceſſors, to their own proper uſe for ever, ſo that the ſaid Lord or Lords ſo entring by authority of this Act, do ſufficiently re-edifie, build and repair the ſame void grounds, or decaied houſes, within two years next and immediately following the determination of the ſaid three years.

The entry of them which have a rent charge.

And in caſe ſuch Lord or Lords as may enter by this Act, do not enter, and well and ſufficiently re-edifie, build, or repair the ſame void grounds or decayed houſes, within the ſaid ii. years to them limited by this Act, That then it ſhall be lawful to ſuch perſon or perſons, or bodies politick as ſhall then have any rent charge going ſeverally out of any of the ſaid void ground or grounds, or decayed houſe or houſes, in any of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, or Towns, immediately after the ſaid two years expired, to enter into the ſame, and to have the ſame void grounds, or decayed houſes to them, their heirs or ſucceſſors for ever, to their own proper uſe, ſo that the ſaid perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, having the ſaid rent charge, entring by authority of this Act, do ſufficiently build, re-edifie, and repair the ſame deſolate and void ground or grounds, or decayed houſe or houſes, within one year next and immediately following the determination of the ſaid two years to the ſaid Lord or Lords appointed by this Act.

The entry of head Officers of corporate Towns.

And in caſe ſuch perſon or perſons, or bodies politick having the ſaid rents charges as may enter by this Act, do not enter, and well and ſufficiently re-edifie, build, and repair the ſame void grounds, or decayed houſes, within the ſaid one year to them appointed by vertue of this Act: That then it ſhall be lawful to the Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, or Comminalty, or other head Officer of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, or Towns, by what name or names ſoever they be incorporate, or their ſucceſſors, every of them within the limits of their authorities, immediately after the ſaid year expired, into ſuch deſolate or void grounds, decayed or ruinous houſes, to enter, and the ſame grounds and houſes, and every of them, to hold and enjoy to them and their ſucceſſors for ever, clearly diſcharged of all rent going out of the ſaid grounds or houſes, as well againſt the ſaid Lord or Lords, as all perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, having any ſuch rent or rents, as before is ſaid: ſo that the ſame Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, and Comminalty, or other head Officers, as is aforeſaid, or their ſucceſſors for the time being, do re-edifie, build, or repair, or cauſe to be re-edified, builded, or repaired the ſame ground or grounds, houſe or houſes, within three years next and immediately following the determination of the ſaid year appointed to ſuch perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, that ſhall have any ſuch rent, as is aforeſaid.

The entry of the firſt owners or poſſeſſors.

And in caſe the ſaid Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, Comminalty, or other head Officers, as is aforeſaid, or their ſucceſſors do not enter, and re-edifie, build, and repair the ſame void ground, or grounds, or decayed houſe or houſes, in form beforeſaid, within the ſaid term of three years after the ſaid entry, that then it ſhall be lawful to the firſt owner or owners, poſſeſſioner or poſſeſſioners of ſuch void ground or grounds, or decayed houſe or houſes, their heirs or ſucceſſors, immediately after the ſaid three years, to the ſaid Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, Comminalty, or other head officers, as is aforeſaid, limited, expired, into the ſame ground or grounds, houſe or houſes, to re-enter, and the ſame to retain to them, their heirs or ſucceſſors, as in their firſt eſtate, any thing contained in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A proviſion for ſuch as be within age, married, in priſon, or out of the Realm.

Provided always, That this preſent Act, nor any thing therein contained be in any wiſe prejudicial or hurtful to any perſon or perſons, being at the time of the ſaid Proclamation made, under the age of xxi. years, or to any woman being married, or to any perſon or perſons being in priſon, or beyond the Sea in the Kings Wars, or in his other lawful affairs, during ſuch times as ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall be within age, married, in priſon, or beyond the Sea: ſo that the ſame perſon or perſons, after he or they ſhall come to the age of xxi. years, or being not married, out of priſon, or come again within this Realm, within three years next enſuing, do re-edifie the ſame deſolate or void grounds, or repair the decayed houſes.

CAP. XIX.

Houſes decayed within ſundry Towns in the Weſt parts, &c. muſt be repaired.

FOraſmuch as in time paſt divers and many beautiful houſes of habitation have been within the walls and liberties of the Boroughs, and Towns of Shaſton, Shireborn, Birtport, Dorceſter, and Weimouth, within the County of Dorcet, and the Boroughs and Towns of Plimouth, Plimton, Barſtable, Taviſtock, and Dartmouth, within the County of Devonſhire, and the Boroughs and Towns of Lanceſton, Lyskerde, Leſtuthiel, Bodman, Truru, and Helſton, within the County of Cornwal, and the Boroughs and Towns of Bridgewater, Taunton, Somerton and Alcheſter, within the County of Somerſet, and the Borough of Maldon in the County of Eſſex, and alſo the Borough and Shire Town of Warwick, in the County of Warwick, which now are fallen down, decayed, and at this time remain unre-edified, lying as deſolate and void grounds, and many of them adjoyning nigh unto the high ſtreets, repleniſhed with much ordure, filth and uncleanneſs, with pits, cellers, and vaults, lying open, and uncovered, to the great peril and danger of all the inhabitants, and other the Kings Subjects, paſſing by the ſame: and ſome houſes be very weak and feeble, ready to fall down, and therefore dangerous to paſs by, to the great decay and hinderance of the ſaid Boroughs and Towns. It may be therefore enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, If the owner of any decayed houſe within any of the foreſaid Towns, do not repair the ſame within three years after Proclamation, the chief Lord may enter and retain it.

aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, being owners or poſſeſſioners of any ſuch deſolate or void grounds, that at any time within xxv. years next before the making of this Act, have been builded for houſes of habitation, or of any other houſe or houſes of habitation now or hereafter being in decay, and not fully fallen down, within the liberties or precincts of any of the ſaid Boroughs and Towns, do not ſufficiently re-edifie, build and repair, or cauſe to be re-edified, builded and repaired, the ſaid deſolate, void grounds, and decayed houſes, convenient for habitation and dwelling, within three years next after Proclamation to be made in or upon the ſame void ground or grounds, decayed houſe or houſes, by the Mayors, Bailiffs, or other head officers of the ſaid Boroughs and Towns, by what name or names ſoever they be incorporated, every of them within the precinct of their own authorities, that then it ſhall be lawful to the high Lord or Lords, of whom ſuch deſolate and void grounds, decayed or ruinous houſes be holden, after the ſaid three years be expired, to enter into the ſame, and to have the ſame grounds or houſes to them and their heirs or ſucceſſors, to their own proper uſe for ever: ſo that the ſaid Lord or Lords entring by the authoritie of this Act, do ſufficiently re-edifie, build or repair the ſame void grounds, or decayed houſes within two years next and immediately following the determination of the foreſaid three years.

The entry of them which have a rent charge out of the decayed houſes.

And in caſe ſuch Lord or Lords as may enter by this Act, do not enter, and well and ſufficiently re-edifie, build or repair the ſame void grounds, or decayed houſes, within the ſaid two years to them limited by this Act: That then it ſhall be lawful to all ſuch perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, as ſhall then have any rent charge going ſeverally out of the ſaid void ground or grounds, or decayed houſe or houſes, in any of the ſaid Boroughs or Towns, immediately after the ſaid two years expired, to enter into the ſame, and to have the ſame void grounds or decayed houſes, to them and to their heirs or ſucceſſors for ever, to their own proper uſe: ſo that the ſaid perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, having the ſaid rent charge, entring by authority of this Act, do ſufficiently re-edifie, build, and repair the ſame deſolate and void ground or grounds, or decayed houſe or houſes, within one year next and immediately following the determination of the ſaid two years, to the ſaid Lord or Lords appointed by this Act.

The entry of the head officers of the ſame corporate Town.

And in caſe ſuch perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, having the ſaid rents charges, as may enter by this Act, do not enter, and well and ſufficiently re-edifie, build, or repair the ſame void grounds, or houſes decayed, within one year to them appointed by vertue of this Act, that then it ſhall be lawful to the Mayors, Bayliffs, or comminalty, or other head officers of the ſaid Boroughs and Towns, by what name or name or names ſoever they be incorporated, or their ſucceſſors, every of them within the limits of their authorities, immediately after the ſaid year expired, into every ſuch deſolate or void grounds, decayed or ruinous houſes to enter, and the ſame grounds or houſes, and every of them, to hold and enjoy to them and their ſucceſſors for ever, clearly diſcharged of all rents going out of the ſame grounds or houſes, as well againſt yͤ ſaid Lord or Lords, as all other perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, having any ſuch rent or rents, as before is ſaid: ſo that the ſame Mayor, Bayliffs and Comminalty, or other head officers as is aforeſaid, or their ſucceſſors for the time being, re-edifie, build or repair, or cauſe to be re-edified, builded or repaired, the ſame ground or grounds, houſe or houſes, within three years, next and immediately following the determination of the ſaid year appointed to ſuch perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, that ſhall have any rent as is aforeſaid.

The entry of the firſt owners or poſſeſſors.

And in caſe the ſaid Mayor, Bayliffs, Comminalty, or other head officers as is aforeſaid, or their ſucceſſors do not enter and re-edifie, build or repair the ſame void ground or grounds, or decayed houſe or houſes, in form aforeſaid, within the ſaid term of three years after their ſaid entree: That then it ſhall be lawful to the firſt owner or owners, poſſeſſioner or poſſeſſioners of ſuch void ground or grounds, or decayed houſe or houſes, their heirs or ſucceſſors, immediately after the ſaid three years, to the ſaid Mayor, Bayliff, Comminalty, or other head officers as is afore limited, expired, into the ſame ground or grounds to enter, and the ſame to retain, to them, their heirs and ſucceſſors, as in their firſt eſtate: any thing contained in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A relief for ſuch as be within age, married, or in priſon, or out of the Realm.

Provided alway, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, be not in any wiſe hurtful nor prejudicial to any perſon or perſons being at the time of the ſaid Proclamation made, under the age of xxi. years, or to any woman being married, or to any perſon or perſons being in priſon, or beyond the Sea in the Kings Wars, or in his other lawful affairs, during ſuch time as ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall be within age, married, in priſon, or beyond the ſea: ſo that the ſame perſon or perſons, after that he or they come to their plein age, be unmarried, out of priſon, or come again within this Realm, within three years next enſuing do re-edifie the ſame deſolate or void grounds, or repair the ſaid decayed houſes.

CAP. XX.

Priviledges and Liberties of owners of Lands, Manors, &c. by former Statutes aſſured to the King, ſhall be continued.

a Coke pl. fol. 440 445. 546.

Where divers and ſundry Scites, Circuits, and Precincts of late Monaſteries, Abbathies, Priories, Nunneries, Colledges, Hoſpitals, and other Eccleſiaſtical and Religious Houſes and places, and divers Honours, Caſtles, Manors, Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements, Liberties, Priviledges, Franchiſes, and other Hereditaments, by divers and ſundry Statutes heretofore made, been aſſigned, limited and appointed to the order[a], rule, ſurvey and governance of the Court of our Soveraign Lord the King, called the Court of Augmentations of the Revenues of his Crown, and of the Chancellor, Officers and Miniſters of the ſame, by the which Statute it is not fully, plainly, nor expreſſly decla-

The ſame franchiſes that the late owners of religious houſes had within three moneths before their diſſolutions, ſhall be revived, and be actually in the King, and in the ſurvey of the Court of augmentations.

ted or rehearſed, how, and in what wiſe, and by what ſpecial Officers and Miniſters, the liberties, priviledges and franchiſes, which the late owners of the ſame ſcites, circuits, precincts, honours, caſtles, manors, meſſuages, lands, tenements, and other the premiſes, had, uſed and exerciſed, ſhould be ordered, uſed, exerciſed, and put in execution. Be it therefore enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and of the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and ſingular the ſame liberties, franchiſes, priviledges, and temporal juriſdictions, which the ſaid late owners had, uſed and exerciſed lawfully, by themſelves, or by their Officers or Miniſters, or might have uſed or exerciſed them in three moneths next before that the ſaid ſcites, circuits, precincts, honours, caſtles, manors, meſſuages, lands, tenements, and other the premiſes, came to the poſſeſſion of the Kings Highneſs, ſhall be by vertue of this preſent Act revived, and be [b] really and actually in the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors, and ſhall be in the rule, order, ſurvey and governance of the Kings ſaid Court of Augmentations of the Revenues of his Crown, and of the Chancellor, Officers and Miniſters of the ſame. And that the ſame liberties, franchiſes, priviledges, and temporal juriſdictions, and all manner fines, iſſues, amerciaments, and other profits and commodities, of what kinds or natures ſoever they be, coming, growing, or riſing, by reaſon or occaſion of them, or any of them, ſhall be uſed, exerciſed and occupied to all intents, purpoſes, conditions and reſpects, and ſhall be claimed, levied, collected and taken by ſuch Stewards, Bayliffs, and other Officers and Miniſters, as ſhall pleaſe the Kings Highneſs to name and appoint, in like manner, form, faſhion aud condition, as they, or any of them were lawfully uſed, exerciſed, executed, claimed, levied, collected and taken, before that they came to the hands and poſſeſſion of our ſaid Soveraign Lord: and that the ſame Stewards, Bayliffs, Officers and Miniſters, ſhall be accomptant for the iſſues and revenues of their Bayliwicks and Offices, and ſhall be compelled to accompt in the ſaid Court of Augmentations, like as the Kings Receivers, or other Officers accomptants in that Court heretofore have done, or ought to do.

Thoſe lands, &c. of the late Abbeys which came to the King by attainder, ſhall be in the order of the Court of general ſurveyors.

And where alſo divers and ſundry ſcites, circuits and precincts of late Monaſteries, Abbeys, Priories, Nunneries, Colledges, Hoſpitals, and other eccleſiaſtical and religious houſes and places, and alſo divers honours, caſtles, manors, meſſuages, lands, tenements, liberties, priviledges, franchiſes, and other hereditaments, which been comen to the Kings hands by attainder, or attainders of high Treaſon, been aſſigned, limited and appointed to the order, rule, ſurvey and governance of the Kings general ſurveyors: And foraſmuch as it is not fully, plainly, nor expreſly known or declared, how and in what wiſe, and by what ſpecial Officers or Miniſters, the temporal liberties, priviledges, franchiſes, and temporal juriſdictions, which the late owners of the ſaid ſcites, circuits, precincts, honours, caſtles, manors, meſſuages, lands, tenements, and other the premiſes, had, uſed and exerciſed, ſhould be ordered, uſed, and put in execution. Be it therefore enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular the ſame liberties, franchiſes, priviledges, and temporal juriſdictions, which the late owners of the ſaid ſcites, circuits, precincts, honours, caſtles, manors, and other the premiſes, which been comen into the Kings hands by attainders, as is aforeſaid, lawfully had, uſed and exerciſed by themſelves, or by their Officers, or Miniſters, or which they might have uſed or exerciſed within three moneths next before that the ſame ſcites, circuits, precincts, honours, caſtles, manors, and other the premiſes, came to the poſſeſſion of the Kings Highneſs, ſhall be by vertue of this Act revived, and be really and actually in the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors, and ſhall be in the rule, order, ſurvey and governance of the Kings ſaid general ſurveyors, and of the Officers and Miniſters of the ſame. And that the ſame liberties, franchiſes, priviledges and temporal juriſdictions, and all manner fines, iſſues and amerciaments, and other profits and commodities, of what kinds or natures ſoever they be, coming, growing, or riſing by reaſon or occaſion of them, or any of them, ſhall be uſed, exerciſed and executed to all intents, purpoſes, conditions and reſpects, and ſhall be claimed, levied, collected and taken by ſuch Stewards, Bayliffs, and other Officers and Miniſters as ſhall pleaſe the Kings Highneſs to name and appoint for the ſame, in like manner, form, faſhion and condition, as they or any of them were uſed, exerciſed, executed, claimed, levied, collected and taken, before they came to the hands and poſſeſſion of our ſaid Soveraign Lord by attainder, as is aforeſaid. And that the ſaid Stewards, Bayliffs, Officers and Miniſters thereof, ſhall be accomptant for the iſſues and revenues of their Bailiwicks and Offices, and ſhall be compelled to accompt before the ſaid general ſurveyors, as other Officers accomptants in that Court heretofore have done, or ought to do.

The juriſdiction of the ſtewards and bayliffs of thoſe liberties that were late the Abbeys, &c. and their attendance to the Kings Courts.

And be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Stewards, Bayliffs, and other Officers and Miniſters ſhall be attendant and obedient to all other the Kings Courts, as well for all executions and returns of writs, warrants and precepts, as for their perſonal appearances, and other duties of their Offices, like as the Officers and Miniſters of the ſaid late owners did, and ought to do, or ſhould have done by reaſon of their ſaid ſeveral Offices, before that the ſame liberties, priviledges, and temporal juriſdictions did come to the poſſeſſion of our ſaid Soveraign Lord, and that to be done and obſerved, upon all pains and penalties by the Laws of this Realm limited and ordained for any offence or default in the ſame. And that no Sheriff, Under-ſheriff, or other Officer or Miniſter of any Sheriff, or other foreign Officer or Miniſter, ſhall in any wiſe intromit, or medle in, with, or upon any of the premiſes, or otherwiſe, or in any other manner, nor for any other cauſe, then they or any of them lawfully might have done, before the ſame premiſes did come to the poſſeſſion of our Soveraign Lord.

Provided always, and be it enacted, That all and ſingular perſons, and bodies politick, and the heirs, ſucceſſors and aſſigns of every of them, ſhall have, hold, uſe, execute and exerciſe as well by themſelves, their officers, ſervants, and miniſters, as by and for their tenants, fermors, and reſiants, all and ſingular liberties, priviledges and franchiſes which they or any of them now have, by or from the Kings Majeſty, by any Letters Patents, Indentures, writings under any his Highneſs ſeal, or by authority of Parliament, or otherwiſe, or by the lawful grant, or leaſe of any perſon or perſons, or by any other means, or lawful title, in as large, ample and beneficial manner, to all intents, reſpects and purpoſes, as they or any of them now have, or of right ought to have the ſaid liberties, franchiſes and priviledges, or any of them, and as though this Act had never been had, ne made: any thing above written notwithſtanding (the priviledges of Sanctuaries, Church, Church-yards, or cemitories for tuition of tranſgreſſors and offendors only excepted.) Saving to all and ſingular perſons, and bodies politick, and the heirs, ſucceſſors and aſſigns of every of them, all ſuch office and offices, fees, annuities, profits and commodities, which they or any of them now have, or of right ought to have, in or upon, or by reaſon of the ſaid ſcites, circuits, precincts, caſtles, honours, manors, meſſuages, lands, tenements, liberties, franchiſes, priviledges, and other the premiſes, or in any part or parcel of them, in as large and ample manner, form, faſhion and condition to all reſpects and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had nor made: any thing in this Act to yͤ contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Every perſon may uſe ſuch liberties as he hath by the Kings grants, or otherwiſe.

A ſaving to all perſons their offices, fees, annuities and profits out of any of the lands of any Abbeys, &c.

And furthermore be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Chancellor of the ſaid Court of Augmentations now being, and every of his ſucceſſors, being Chancellor of the ſame Court, and the Kings general Attorney, and his Graces Attorney of the ſaid Court of Augmentation for the time being, and every of them, and their ſucceſſors, and the ſucceſſors of every of them ſhall have full power and authority by vertue of this Act, to take to the uſe of the King our Soveraign Lord, his heirs and ſucceſſors, knowledges of all manner of concords for fines thereupon to be had, and recorded in the Court of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, and of his heirs and ſucceſſors, commonly called the Common place, of and upon all and ſingular manors, lordſhips, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, being, and which by reaſon of thoſe fines or otherwiſe, ſhall be under the order, rule or ſurvey of the ſaid Court of Augmentations, without any fine or fee to be paid for the ſame. And that the Judges or Juſtices for the time being, of the ſaid Court called the Common place, and their ſucceſſors, ſhall accept, receive and allow, all the ſaid knowledges of concord by the ſaid Chancellor and Attorneys, or any of them, to be certified or delivered into the ſaid Court called the Common place.

And the ſame to be as effectual in the Law to all intents and purpoſes, as if the ſame knowledges of concords had been made, taken or knowledged before the chief Judg of yͤ ſaid Common place out of the ſame Court, or openly in that Court. And alſo that the ſaid Chancellor and Attorneys for the time being, and every of them, and the ſucceſſors of every of them, ſhall have full power and authority to take knowledge for enrollments of all deeds made or to be made to the uſe of the King our Soveraign Lord, his heirs and ſucceſſors, of any manors, lands and teuements, and of all obligations to be made to the King, his heirs and ſucceſſors, or to other perſon or perſons to the uſe of the King, his heirs and ſucceſſors, for any matter or cauſe concerning the ſaid Court of Augmentations, or concerning the ſaid manors, lands, and tenements, without any fee, gift or reward, by them or any of them to be taken therefore. And the ſame deed ſo knowledged, to be enrolled, or regiſtred in the ſaid Court of Augmentation, and ſo being there enrolled or regiſtred amongſt other records there remaining, and the enrollments and regiſtrings of the ſame, to ſtand and be of record, and of as good ſtrength and effect, as if the ſame were or had been knowledged before any other Judge or Juſticer of record, and enrolled in any other Court of record.

Fines may be levied in the Court of Augmentations to the King.

Enrollments in the Court of Augmentations of all deeds made to the uſe of the King, and of all obligations Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in all ſuch of the ſaid liberties, franchiſes and places priviledged, and in every of them limited to the ſaid Court of Augmentations, and to the Surveyors Court, whereſoever the Kings Highneſs in his own moſt Royal perſon ſhall come to reſt, tarry, abide, or make his repoſe within this his Realm, or any of his Dominious, within liberty or without, there and within the verge limited and accuſtomed to his Graces Court, during the time of his abode, the Steward or great Maſter of his Graces houſhold, the Marſhal, Coroner, Clerk of the Market, and all other his Miniſters, ſhall and may keep their Courts for Juſtice, and exerciſe their office and offices, as ſhall appertain to them according to the Laws, Cuſtoms and Statutes of this Realm, as well within liberties and franchiſes as without. And that his Graces Clerk of the Market, and none other, during the ſame time, as well within the ſaid liberties and franchiſes as without, ſhall exerciſe the office of Clerks of the Market, within the ſaid virge, any priviledge, grant, allowance, or other thing to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The Kings officers may keep Court within the virge, and his Clerk of the Market onely execute his office there. St. 27 H.8.2.

Provided alway, That this Article next above rehearſed, or any thing therein contained, be not in any wiſe prejudicial to the City of London, but that the ſame City ſhall have and uſe ſuch liberties as they might, if that article had never been had ne made.

The liberty of the City of London reſerved.

And where alſo the ſcites, circuits and precincts of the late Monaſtery of Furnes, and of the late Monaſteries and Priories of Cartemele, Coningſhead, Buſtough and Holland, and alſo divers honours, caſtles, manors, meſſuages, lands, tenements, liberties, priviledges, franchiſes, and other hereditaments, late parcel and appertaining to the ſaid late Monaſteries, & Priories, or to any of them, which been comen into the Kings hands, been aſſigned, limited and appointed, to the order, rule, ſurvey and governance of the Chancellor, officers and miniſters of the County Palatine and Dutchy of Lancaſter. And foraſmuch as it is not fully, plainly, nor expreſly known or declared, how and in what wiſe, and by what ſpecial officers and miniſters, the temporal liberties, priviledges, franchiſes, and temporal juriſdictions which the late owners of the ſaid ſcites, circuits, precincts, honours, caſtles, manors, meſſuages, lands, tenements, and other the premiſes had, uſed or exerciſed, ſhould be ordered uſed and put in execution.

The lands of the late Monaſteries of Friers, &c. ſhall be in the government of the Officers of the Dutchy.

Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular the ſame liberties, franchiſes, priviledges and temporal juriſdictions, which the ſaid late owners of the ſaid ſcites, circuits, precincts, honours, caſtles, manors, and other the premiſes lawfully had, uſed and exerciſed by themſelves, or by their officers or miniſters, or which they might have uſed or exerciſed within three moneths next before the ſame ſcites, circuits, precincts, honours, caſtles, manors, and other the premiſes came to the poſſeſſion of the Kings Highneſs, ſhall be by vertue of this Act revived, and be really and actually in the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors, and ſhall be for ever in the rule, order, ſurvey and governance of the ſaid Chancellor, officers and miniſters of the ſaid County Palatine and Dutchy of Lancaſter. And that the ſame liberties, franchiſes, priviledges, and temporal juriſdictions, and all manner of fines, iſſues, amerciaments, and other profits and commodities, of what kinds or nature ſoever they be, coming, growing or riſing, by reaſon or occaſion of them, or any of them, ſhall be uſed, exerciſed and executed to all purpoſes, intents, conditions and reſpects, and ſhall be claimed, levied, collected and taken by ſuch Stewards, Bayliffs, and other officers and miniſters, as ſhall pleaſe the Kings Highneſs to name and appoint for the ſame, in like manner, form and condition, as they or any of them were uſed, exerciſed, executed, claimed, levied, collected and taken before they came to the hands and poſſeſſion of our ſaid Soveragn Lord. And that the ſaid Steward, Bayliffs, officers and miniſters ſhall be compelled to accompt for the ſame before the ſaid Chancellor, officers and miniſters of the ſaid County Palatine and Dutchy of Lancaſter, as other officers and accomptants in the Court of the ſaid Dutchy heretofore have done, or owe to do.

The ſtewards and bailiffs of thoſe Liberties ſhall be attendant to the Kings Courts.

The Sheriff or other Officers ſhall not meddle within thoſe Liberties.

And be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Stewards, Bayliffs, and other officers and miniſters, ſhall be attendant and obedient to all other the Kings Courts, as well for all executions and returns of writs, warrants and precepts, as for perſonal apparances and other duties of their offices, like as the officers and miniſters of the ſaid late owners did or ought to do, or ſhould have done, by reaſon of the ſaid ſeveral offices, before that the ſame liberties, priviledges and temporal juriſdictions, did come to the poſſeſſion of our ſaid Soveraign Lord: and that to be done and obſerved, upon all pains and penalties by the Laws of this Realm limited and ordained for any offence or default of the ſame. And that no Sheriff, under-Sheriff, or other officer or miniſter of any Sheriff, or other foreign officer or miniſter, ſhall in any wiſe intromit or meddle in, with or upon any of the premiſes, otherwiſe, or in any other manner, or for any other cauſe, then they or any of them, might lawfully have done before the ſaid premiſes did come to the poſſeſſion of our ſaid Soveraign Lord.

This Statute ſhall not diminiſh the Liberties of any Lands being parcel of the Dutchy of Lancaſter.

Provided always, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall in any wiſe extend to abrogate, adnull, diminiſh, nor to take any liberties, franchiſes, priviledges, juriſdictions, royalties, or any other profits, commodities and advantages whatſoever they be, belonging or in any wiſe appertaining to any the Kings caſtles, honours, manors, lands, tenements, or other his poſſeſſions of his ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, and Dutchy of Lancaſter, or of either of them, but that all ſuch liberties, franchiſes, priviledges, juriſdictions, royalties, and all other ſuch profits and commodities, and advantages whatſoever they be, ſhall be received, taken and anſwered to the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors, by the Chancellor, officer and miniſters of the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, and Dutchy of Lancaſter, and either of them, as heretofore hath been uſed and done at any time before the fourth day of February, in the ſeven and twentieth year of his moſt noble Reign. Any thing, matter or clauſe in this Act contained to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Liberties of the five Ports reſerved.

Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, do not extend to diſanul, or be hurtful to any of the liberties or priviledges of the five Ports, or the members of the ſame; but that they and every of them ſhall enjoy, poſſeſs and have, all and ſingular liberties, cuſtoms and grants to them granted heretofore by the moſt famous Prince of memory King Edward the fourth, and other his noble progenitors, confirmed by our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty that now is, in like manner and form, as though this Act had never been had ne made. CAP. XXI.

Trinity Term abbreviated.

The cauſes of abbreviating of Trinity Term.

Where the Term called Trinity Term, of long time hath been, and yet is yearly uſed to be holden and kept in ſuch time and ſeaſon of the year, that by occaſion thereof not only great peril and danger of infection of the Plague, and ſundry other ſickneſſes, have happened to the Kings loving ſubjects, as well Nobles as other, but alſo hath been, and yet is a great impediment and let to a great multitude of the Kings poor ſubjects, for proviſion and gathering in of Harveſt, and other their neceſſary buſineſs and livings in that ſeaſon of the year moſt expedient to be exerciſed. The Kings moſt Royal Majeſty having eſpecial reſpect as well to the health as to the wealth of his people, by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, ordaineth, enacteth and eſtabliſheth, That in the ſaid Trinity Term ſhall be four common days of return only, and not above; that is to ſay, the firſt day of return ſhall be, and be called, In craſtino ſanctæ Trinitatis; the ſecond day of return of the ſame Term ſhall be, and be called, In octabis ſanctæ Trinitatis; the third day of return of the ſame Term ſhall be, and be called, In quindena ſanctæ Trinitatis; and the fourth day of return of the ſame Term ſhall be, and be called, A die ſanctæ Trinitatis in tres ſeptimanas. And that the ſame days of return ſhall be obſerved and kept in all our Soveraign Lord the Kings high Courts of Record hereafter to be holden at Weſtminſter, or other place or places at the aſſignment,

There ſhall be four only days of return in Trinity Term, and not above. St. 51 H. 3.

ſignment, appointment, or agreement of our Soveraign Lord, his heirs or ſucceſſors. And that from or after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, there ſhall not be, nor be called any days of return, In craſtino ſancti Ioannis Baptiſtæ, Octabis ſanctæ Ioannis Baptiſti, nor Quindena ſancti Ioannis Baptiſtæ, nor any of them.

When Trinity Term ſhall begin, and every return thereof.

And be it further enacted by the authority abovesaid, That the ſaid Term of the holy Trinity ſhall yearly for ever, from the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, begin the Munday next after Trinity Sunday, whenſoever it ſhall happen to fall, for the keeping of the eſſoins, proſers, returns, and other ceremonies heretofore uſed and kept, in like manner and form as in times paſt hath been uſed to be done in the day of return commonly called In octabis ſanctæ Trinitatis. And that the full term of the ſaid Trinity Term ſhall yearly for ever begin and take his commencement the Friday next after Corpus Chriſti day, in ſuch and like manner and form, to all purpoſes, intents and reſpects, as heretofore hath been uſed the Wedneſday next after Corpus Chriſti day. And that from and after the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, the ſaid ſecond and third days of return called Octabis ſancte Trinitatis, and Quindena ſancte Trinitatis, ſhall take their commencement and begin as in times paſt hath been uſed. And the ſaid fourth day called A die ſancte Trinitatis in tres ſeptimanas, ſhall take his commencement and begin from the ſame Trinity Sunday into three weeks then next following, and ſhall have his return with the fourth day, as is accuſtomed in other like days of return.

Days given in real actions.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if after the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, any Writ in any real Action come in, or be returnable into any of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the Kings Courts, In octabis ſancti Hilarii, the day ſhall be given In craſtino ſancte Trinitatis; if In quindena ſancti Hilarii, In octabis ſancte Trinitatis; if In craſtino Purificationis beate Marie, In quindena ſancte Trinitatis; if In octabis Purificationis beate Marie, then A die ſancte Trinitatis in tres ſeptimanas. And if after the ſame Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, any Writ in any real Action come into any of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the Kings Courts, returnable In craſtino ſancte Trinitatis, then day ſhall be given In craſtino animarum; if In octabis ſancte Trinitatis, In craſtino ſancti Martini; if In quindena ſancte Trinitatis, In octabis ſancti Martini; if A die ſancte Trinitatis in tres ſeptimanas, In quindena ſancti Martini.

Days given in a Writ of Dower.
St. 52 H. 3. 12.

And be it further enacted by the authority abovesaid, That if after the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, any Writ of Dower come into any of our Soveraign Lord the Kings Courts, and be returnable In quindena Paſche, then day ſhall be given In craſtino ſancte Trinitatis; if A die Paſche in tres ſeptimanas, In octabis ſancte Trinitatis; if A die Paſche in unum menſem, In quindena ſancte Trinitatis; if A die Paſche in quinque ſeptimanas, or In craſtino Aſcenſionis Domini, then day ſhall be given into the day of A die ſancte Trinitatis in tres ſeptimanas. And if after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, any writ of Dower come into any of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the Kings Courts of Record, In craſtino ſancte Trinitatis, then day ſhall be given, In octabis ſancti Michaelis; if in octabis ſancte Trinitatis, in quindena ſancti Michaelis: if In quindena ſancte Trinitatis, A die ſancti Michaelis in tres ſeptimanas: if A die ſancte Trinitatis in tres ſeptimanas, A die ſancte Michaelis in unum menſem; or otherwiſe, as is appointed, limited and declared by the Statute of Marlebridge, in the twelfth Chapter thereof made and provided.

St. 52 H. 3. 12.

And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all common writs and proceſſes, as well perſonal as mixt, which ſhall fortune to be returnable in the ſaid Trinity Term, ſhall have and keep the ſaid returns of craſtino ſancte Trinitatis, octabis ſancte Trinitatis, quindena ſancte Trinitatis, and A die ſancte Trinitatis in tres ſeptimanas, or any one of them.

Where the Juſtices may aſſign ſpecial days for the returning of Writs.

Provided always, and it is further enacted by the authority abovesaid, That in ſuch and like caſes and proceſſes, as ſpecial days have been uſed to be appointed, aſſigned, and given for the returning of writs and proceſſes, it ſhall be lawful to the Juſtices of every of the Kings ſaid Courts of Record for the time being, in all the proceſſes by them awarded, to aſſign and appoint ſpecial days of returns, as by their diſcretion ſhall be thought convenient.

Days given in Aſſiſes of darrein preſentment, Quare impedit and attaint
St 52 H. 3. 12.
5 Ed. 3. 7.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the days in aſſiſe of darraine preſentment, and in plea of Quare impedit, limited and appointed by the Statute of Marlebridge, and alſo the days to be given in attaint, limited in the Statute made in the fifth year of the Reign of the noble King Edward the third, being not contrariant to the tenour of this Act, ſhall be holden firm and ſtable, and ſhall ſtand in their full force and effect.

CAP. XXII.

A Biſhop or his Deputy, taking oath upon his accompt that he cannot levy the tenth, &c. ſhall be diſcharged.

By the Stat. of 26 H. 8. 3. a tenth was granted to the King of all ſpiritual livings.

IN moſt humble wiſe beſeeching your moſt Royal Majeſty, your humble ſubjects, the Archbiſhops and Biſhops of this your Realm, That where in the Parliament begun at London the third day of November, the one and twentieth year of your moſt Gracious Reign, and from thence adjourned to Weſtminſter, and there holden and continued by divers prorogations, unto the third day of November, in the ſix and twentieth year of your moſt noble Reign, it was enacted by the authority of the ſame Parliament, among other things, That your Majeſty, your heirs and ſucceſſors, Kings of this Realm, for more augmentation and maintenance of the Royal Eſtate of your Imperial Crown, and Dignity of Supream Head of the Church of England, ſhould yearly have, take, poſſeſs and enjoy, united and knit to your Imperial Crown for ever, one yearly rent or penſion, amounting to the value of the tenth part of all the Revenues, Rents, Farms, Tithes, Offerings, Emoluments, and of all other profits, as well called Spiritual as Temporal, then appertaining or belonging, or that hereafter ſhould belong to any Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Priory, Archdeaconry, Deanry, Hoſpital, Colledge, houſe Collegiate, Prebend, Cathedral Church, Colegiate Church, Conventual Church, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chantry, Free Chappel, and other Benefice or Promotion ſpiritual, of what name, nature or quality ſoever they then were, within any Dioceſe of this your Realm, or in Wales, the ſaid penſion or annual rent to be yearly paid for ever to your Majeſty, your heirs and ſucceſſors, Kings of this Realm, at the Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord God, as in the ſaid Act more plainly appeareth.

Every Biſhop charged with the collection of the tenth of all ſpiritual livings within his Dioceſe.

And furthermore it was enacted by the ſaid authority in the ſame Parliament, That after a Certificate made into your Exchequer, and tax ſet in ſuch manner and form as by the ſaid act is limited, every Archbiſhop and Biſhop then being, & after that to be, ſhould be charged, and chargeable to levy, collect and receive within their proper Dioceſs, as well in place exempt, as not exempt, all ſuch ſums of money, wherewith the dignities, benefices, and other promotions ſpiritual afore-named within their Dioceſs, chargeable by the ſaid Act, ſhould be ſet, taxed and charged, towards the payment of the ſaid yearly penſion, and ſhould pay and content the ſaid ſums of money before the firſt day of April, to the Treaſurer of your Chamber for time being, or to any other perſon or perſons whom it ſhould pleaſe your Highneſs to appoint to receive the ſame: and that the Treaſurer, Chancellor, Chamberlain and Barons of your Exchequer, ſhould cauſe yearly proceſs to be made by their diſcretions, for non-payment of the ſaid penſion and yearly rent, as by the ſaid Act, among other things, more at large appeareth.

Cauſes why the Biſhops ſhall not levy ſo much money for tenths as by Commiſſions was certified to be due.

And foraſmuch as ſince the making of the ſaid Act, all and ſingular Abbacies, Priories, Monaſteries, and other religious houſes, which were then conventual, being clearly diſſolved, and come to your Highneſs, by authority of Parliament, and otherwiſe by your Laws, whereby the ſaid yearly rents and penſions, which before that time were of them ſeverally to be paid, be now not payable or leviable: And alſo that the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops, upon Certificate made into the ſaid Exchequer, by reaſon of the ſaid Act made in the ſaid ſix and twentieth year of your Reign, been charged and chargeable with the ſaid yearly rents or penſions of the tenth of divers and many perſons, which were certified into your ſaid Exchequer by the Commiſſioners aſſigned to tax and ceſs the ſaid ſpiritual dignities and promotions, to have pepetuities and chanteries, and other ſalaries, where never any ſuch chantery or perpetual ſalary was founded or ordained, and many chanteries, and other perpetuities ſpiritual then being in eſſe, been ſince that time utterly diſſolved and extincted: And alſo many Prebends, Parſonages and Vicaries, baen double certified by the ſaid Commiſſioners, and ſome certified to be in places where none ſuch be in rerum natura, and ſome by wrong names, or otherwiſe miſcertified, and alſo ſome parts of the profits and emoluments, which did then belong to ſome Dignities, Parſonages, Vicarages, Cathedral Churches, and Collegiate Churches, as in Proxies, Sinodales, Oblations and Indulgences, Pardons, and other profits, been now decayed and diminiſhed by ſundry means, and many chanteries, and other ſmall promotions ſpiritual, been ſince that time decayed and extinguiſhed, and no Prieſts thereon abiding.

And alſo ſith the making of the ſaid Act, made in the ſaid ſix and twentieth year, there have been aſſurances made to your Majeſty by ſome of the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops, of parcels of their poſſeſſions charged with the ſaid rent or penſion, and parcel of the ſaid poſſeſſions charged with the payment of the ſaid yearly rent or penſion been come to your hands by other lawful means. By reaſon whereof, and of many other cauſes, doubts and ambiguities, which do daily riſe concerning the premiſes, the ſaid Collectors cannot levy the ſaid yearly rents or penſions, concerning many promotions or profits ſpiritual, certified in your ſaid Exchequer, by the ſaid Commiſſioners: and yet that notwithſtanding, the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops, for lack of ſufficient warrant and authority to the Barons of your ſaid Exchequer, for their diſcharge in that behalf, been greatly prolonged and letted in yielding of their accompts in your ſaid Exchequer of the ſaid annual rent or penſion, and put to great coſts and charges, to their great inquietneſs, charges, loſſes and troubles, where they have nothing allowed them, or to any of their Officers, for the collecting, levying, gathering or paying of the ſaid annual rents or poenſions to the uſe of your Highneſs.

If a Biſhop or any of his deputies will take his oath that he cannot levy the tenth of any promotion, he ſhall be diſcharged thereof.

It may therefore pleaſe your Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that it be enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops, or any of them, their deputies, or other accomptants, or any of them, that now be, or hereafter ſhall be chargeable with the collection of the ſaid annual rent or penſion, or of any part or portion thereof, ſhew and alleadge, by the oath of any of the ſaid Archbiſhops, Biſhops, or other accomptants, or other perſon or perſons authorized to accompt for any of them, before the Treaſurer, Chancellor, and Barons of your Exchequer, or before the more part of them, or before ſuch other perſons as it ſhall pleaſe the Kings Highneſs to appoint to hear the ſame accompt, that they, or any of them, for any of the cauſes aboveſaid, or for any other ſufficient cauſe or matter by any of them to be alleadged, cannot, or may not in any wiſe lawfully levy any ſuch particular ſum or ſums of money of the ſaid annual rent or penſion, as they or any of them now be, or hereafter ſhall be chargeable and charged with, and no matter apparent there ſhewed to the contrary for your Highneſs by any of your Serjeants at the Law, or by your Atturney-general for the time being, or by any other for your Majeſty: That then your ſaid Treaſurer, Chancellor, and Barons, or the more part of them, or ſuch other perſons as ſhall be appointed by the Kings Highneſs, ſhall by vertue and authority of this Act, have full power and authority by their diſcretions, to accept and allow that allegation, and thereupon thereof to diſcharge the accomptant, or elſe by their diſcretions to direct the Kings writ unto any of the Kings Courts, for to certifie unto them the truth thereof. And thereupon the ſaid Treaſurer, Chanchellor, and Barons, or the more part of them, or ſuch perſons as ſhall be thereunto appointed by the Kings Highneſs, ſhall proceed further to hear and examine the ſame matter and cauſe, by witneſs and depoſitions of ſuch as can inform the Court, or the ſaid other perſons as ſhall be thereunto appointed by the Kings Highneſs, of the truth thereof, or by any other ways and means that they can beſt deviſe; and if need require, to award Commiſſions by their diſcretions to certain indifferent perſons in every ſuch Dioceſs, where any ſuch matter or cauſe ſhall be alleadged, without any charge asking or taking for the making of the ſame Commiſſions ſo to be awarded, which ſaid Commiſſioners ſhall and may, by vertue of their Commiſſions, have full power and authority to examine the ſame matter and cauſe ſo alleadged by any of the ſaid Biſhops, or other accomptants for them, and in their diſcharge, by the oaths of ſuch perſons as ſhall have perfect notice thereof, or otherwiſe, and thereupon to make certificate thereof to the ſaid Treaſurer, Chancellor and Barons, or to the more part of them in the ſaid Exchequer, or to ſuch other perſons as thereunto ſhall be appointed by the Kings Highneſs.

And upon certificate ſo made of the ſaid matter, or if by any other matter or certificate it ſhall appear to the ſaid Treaſurer, Chancellor and Barons, or to the more part of them, or to ſuch other perſons as thereunto ſhall be appointed by the Kings Highneſs; that the ſaid matter, and the allegations thereof be good and true; then the ſaid Treaſurer, Chancellor and Barons, or the more part of them, or the ſaid ſuch other perſons as thereunto ſhall be appointed by the Kings Highneſs, thereupon to make a clear and ſufficient deduction, allowance, determination and diſcharge to any of the ſaid Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and other accomptants, and to every of them, of and for the ſame, without further ſuit or delay, and the ſame allowance and diſcharge to cauſe to be entred in that Court, there to remain of record, as by their diſcretions ſhall be thought requiſite from time to time, without further ſuit, charge, or other inquieting of any of the ſaid Archbiſhops, Biſhops, or other accomptants, or any of them, or any of the ſucceſſors or executors of any of them in that behalf.

Commiſſions may be awarded to enquire the cauſe of any tenth defalked.

And that it may be further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in caſe it be hereafter certified by commiſſion or otherwiſe, by ſufficient and probable witneſſes, had and found before the ſaid Treaſurer, Chancellor, and Barons, or before the more part of them, or before ſuch other perſons as thereunto ſhall be appointed by the Kings Highneſs, that any Benefice, Chantery, Hoſpital, or other Eccleſiaſtical Promotion, is omitted, and not ſpecified, or not certified by or in the ſaid original, or former Certificate; that then upon due proof, information, knowledge, or certificate thereof by any of the ſaid Archbiſhops or Biſhops, or otherwiſe made or declared before the ſaid Treaſurer, Chancellor, or Barons, or before the more part of them, or before ſuch other perſons as thereunto ſhall be appointed by the Kings Highneſs, of any ſum or ſums of money, concerning the premiſes ſo omitted, and not charged for lack of knowledge or certificate thereof, whereof the King of right ought to be anſwered; the ſaid Treaſurer, Chancellor, and Barons, or the more part of them, or ſuch other perſons as thereunto ſhall be appointed by the Kings Highneſs, ſhall make a ſufficient entry thereof, to be annexed to, and with the ſaid original of the ſame tenth, and thereupon to charge the ſaid accomptants to make, levy, and anſwer thereof yearly from henceforth, ſo that the Kings Highneſs may be truly anſwered thereof from time to time, according to his lawful title in that behalf. 1 El. 4.

A mean how the King ſhall be anſwered of the tenth of any ſpiritual living omitted in the former certificate.

CAP. XXIII.

A confirmation of a Subſidy to be paid within two years, of four ſhillings in the pound granted to the King by the Clergy of the Province of Canterbury, and of ſuch ſums of money which after ſhall be granted to him by the Clergy of the Province of York. Exp.

CAP. XXIV.

The lands and goods of Saint Johns of Jeruſalem ſhall be in the Kings diſpoſition.

The Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, having credible knowledge, that divers and ſundry the Kings ſubjects, called the Knights of the Rhods, otherwiſe called Knights of S. Johns, otherwiſe called Friers of the Religion of Saint John of Jeruſalem in England, and of a like houſe being in Ireland, abiding in the parts beyond the Sea, and having as well out of this Realm, as out of Ireland, and other the Kings Dominions, yearly great ſums of money for maintenance of their livings, have unnaturally, and contrary to the duty of their allegiances, ſuſtained and maintained the uſurped power and authority of the Biſhop of Rome, lately uſed and practiſed within this Realm, and other the Kings Dominions; and have not only adhered themſelves to the ſaid Biſhop, being common enemy to the King our Soveraign Lord, and to this his Realm, untruly upholding, knowledging and affirming maliciouſly and traiterouſly, the ſame Biſhop to be ſupream and chief head of Chriſts Church by Gods holy word, intending thereby to ſubvert and overthrow the good and godly laws and ſtatutes of this Realm, their natural Countrey, made and grounded by authority of holy Church, by the moſt excellent wiſdom, policy, and goodneſs of the Kings Majeſty, with the whole aſſent and conſent of the Realm, for the aboliſhing, expulſing, and utter extincting of the ſaid uſurped power and authority, but alſo have defamed and ſlandered as well the Kings Majeſty, as the Noblemen, Prelates, and other the Kings true and loving Subjects of this Realm, for their good and godly proceeding in that behalf; have therefore deeply pondered and conſidered, that like as it is and was a moſt godly act of the Kings moſt Royal Majeſty, and the ſaid Noblemen, Prelates and Commons of this Realm, utterly to expulſe and aboliſh, not only from this Realm, but alſo from other the Kings Dominions, the ſaid uſurped power and authority of the Biſhoop of Rome, and alſo the hypocritical and ſuperſtitious Religion in this Realm, and other the Kings Dominions, being his members and adherents, having their original erection and foundation by the ſaid uſurped authority; by expulſing whereof, Gods holy Word, neceſſary for increaſe of vertue and ſalvation of Chriſten ſouls, is not only purely and ſincerely advanced and ſet forth, but alſo their extorted exactions of innumerable ſums of money, craftily exhauſted out of this Realm, and other the Kings Dominions, by the colour of the ſaid uſurped authority, is removed and taken away, to the ineſtimable benefit and commodity of the Kings loving ſubjects, ſo in like manner of wiſe, it ſhould be moſt dangerous to be ſuffered or permitted within this Realm, or in any other the Kings Dominions, any Religion, being ſparks, leaves, and imps of the ſaid root of iniquity; conſidering alſo, that the Iſle of Rhodes, whereby the ſaid Religion took their old name and foundation, is ſurpriſed by the Turk; and that it were, and is much better, that the poſſeſſions in this Realm, and in other the Kings Dominions, appertaining to the ſaid Religion, ſhould rather be imployed and ſpent within this Realm, and in other the Kings Dominions, for the defence and ſurety of the ſame, than converted to, and among ſuch unnatural ſubjects, who have declined not only from their natural duty of obedience that they ought to bear unto the King our Soveraign Lord, but alſo from the good Laws and Statutes of this Realm their natural Countrey, daily doing and attempting privily and craftily all that they can to ſubvert the good and godly policy in the which, thanks be to God, and our moſt dread Soveraign Lord, this Realm, and other the Kings Dominions now ſtand in. In conſideration whereof, the ſaid Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, moſt humbly beſeechen the Kings moſt Royal Majeſty, that it may be enacted by his Highneſs, and by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That the Corporation of the ſaid Religion, as well within this Realm, as within the Kings Dominion and Land of Ireland, by whatſoever name or names they be founded, incorporated or known, ſhall be utterly diſſolved and void to all intents and purpoſes. And that Sir William Weſton Knight, now being Prior of the ſaid Religion of this Realm of England, ſhall not be named or called from henceforth, Prior of Saint Johns of Jeruſalem in England, but ſhall be called by his proper name of William Weſton Knight, without further addition touching the ſaid Religion. And that likewiſe John Rauſon Knight, now being Prior of Kilmainam in Ireland, ſhall not be called or named from henceforth, Prior of Kilmainam in Ireland, but only by his proper name of John Rauſon Knight, without further addition touching the ſaid religion. Nor that any of the brethren or confreres of the ſaid religion in this Realm of England, and land of Ireland, ſhall be called Knights of the Rhodes, nor Knights of S. Johns, but ſhall be called by their own proper Chriſten names and ſirnames of their parents, without any other addition touching the ſaid religion.

The Corporation of the Religion of S. Johns in England and Ireland ſhall be diſſolved.

The Priors and Confreres of S. John ſhall be called by their own names and ſirnames, without any addition of their Religion.

And be it furthermore enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That if the ſaid William Weſton, or any of his brethren or confreres of the hoſpital or houſe of S. John of Jeruſalem in England, now abiding and dwelling within this Realm of England, or any other perſon or perſons being members profeſſed of or in the ſaid Hoſpital, now dwelling within the ſaid Realm, at any time after the firſt day of July next coming, do uſe or wear within this Realm or elſewhere, in, or upon any apparel of their bodies, any ſign, mark, or token heretofore uſed and accuſtomed, or hereafter to be deviſed for the knowledge of the ſaid religion; or make any Congregations, Chapiters, or Aſſemblies touching the ſame religion; or maintain, ſupport, uſe, or defend any liberties, franchiſes, or priviledges heretofore granted to the ſaid religion by the authority of the Biſhop of Rome, or of the See of the ſame; that then every of them ſo offending, ſhall incur and run into the pains, forfeitures, and penalties ordained and provided by the Statute of Proviſion and Premunire, made in the xvi. year of King Richard the ſecond. And if the ſaid John Rauſon Knight, or any of his brethren or confreres of the ſaid Hoſpital or houſe of Kilmainam in Ireland, or any other perſon or perſons, being members profeſſed of or in the ſaid Hoſpital of Kilmainam, now abiding and now dwelling within the ſaid Land of Ireland, at any time after the laſt day of September next coming, do uſe or wear within this Realm, or within the ſaid Land of Ireland, or elſewhere, in, or upon any apparel of their bodies, any ſign, mark, or token heretofore uſed and accuſtomed, or hereafter to be deviſed for the knowledge of the ſame religion, or make any Congregations, Chapiters or Aſſemblies touching the ſame religion, or maintain, ſupport, uſe, or defend any manner of liberties, franchiſes or priviledges heretofore granted to the ſame by authority of the Biſhop of Rome, or of the See of the ſame; that then every of them ſo offending, ſhall incur and run into the pains, forfeitures and penalties ordained and provided by the ſaid Statute of Proviſion and Premunire, made in the ſaid xvi. year of Richard the ſecond.

The penalty for the ſaid Priors and Confreres to wear any ſign of their Religion, or to make any aſſemblies touching the ſame, or to defend any priviledges thereof.

And be it likewiſe enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any the Knights or confreres of the ſaid religion, being the Kings natural Subjects, which now inhabit, abide and dwell out of any the Kings Dominions, at any time after the firſt day of February next coming, do offend in any of the articles or offences next above rehearſed, that then every of them ſo offending, ſhall incur and run into the pains, forfeitures and penalties next above remembred.

The King ſhal have all the manors, lands, &c. lately belonging to the Prior and brethren of S. John in England and Ireland.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, ſhall have and enjoy all that Hoſpital, Manſion houſe, Church, and all other houſes, edifices, buildings, and gardens to the ſame belonging, being near to the City of London, in the County of Middleſex, called the houſe of Saint Johns of Jeruſalem in England; and alſo all that Hoſpital, Church and Houſe of Kilmainam in the Land of Ireland, and all and ſingular caſtles, honours, manors, meaſes, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices, woods, medows, paſtures, parks, warrens, liberties, franchiſes, priviledges, parſonages, tithes, penſions, portions, Knights fees, advouſons, commandries, preceptories, contributions, reſponſions, rents, titles, entries, conditions, covenants, and all other poſſeſſions and hereditaments, of what natures, names, or qualities ſoever they be, and whereſoever they be or lie within this Realm of England, or within the Land of Ireland, or elſewhere within the Kings Dominions, which appertained or belonged to the ſaid Religion, or to the Priors, Maſters, or Governors, Knights, or other Miniſters profeſſed of or in the ſame, by the pretence, or in the right of the ſaid Religion: and all and ſingular goods, cattels, debts, arrerages of rents and farms, and all other things real and perſonal, whatſoever they be, whereof or whereunto any of the ſaid Priors, Brethren, or Confreres, or perſons profeſſed in the ſaid Religion, can have nor claim any particular propriety to their own proper uſe by the Rules and Statutes of the ſaid Religion: To have and to hold the premiſes, and every of them, to our ſaid Soveraign Lord, and to his heirs and ſucceſſors for ever, to uſe and employ by his moſt excellent wiſdom and diſcretion, at his own free will and pleaſure. And that his Highneſs ſhall be deemed and adjudged in the real and actual poſſeſſion of the premiſſes, by vertue and authority of this preſent Act. Saving to all perſons, and bodies politick, their heirs and ſucceſſors, and the heirs and ſucceſſors of every of them (other then the ſaid Prior of Saint Johns of Jeruſalem in England, and the ſaid Prior of Kilmainam in the land of Ireland, and the brethren or confreres of every of them, and the ſucceſſors of every of them, and all and every other perſon and perſons of the ſaid Religion, and their ſucceſſors of every of them, and the ſucceſſors of every of them) all ſuch right, title, intereſt, poſſeſſion, leaſes, grants, annuities, fees, offices, corrodies, reverſions, rents, and ſervices, rent-charges, commons, rights, titles, entries, actions, petitions, penſions, portions, and all other hereditaments, of what names, natures, or qualities ſoever they be, which they have, ſhould, or ought to have had, if this Act had never been had ne made; any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, by the agreement and aſſent of the Kings moſt excellent goodneſs, That the ſaid William Weſton, during his natural life, ſhall have and enjoy to his own uſe out of the premiſes yearly, one annual rent or penſion of one thouſand pounds, to be paid to him or his aſſigns at the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, and the Annunciation of our Lady, by even portions, and alſo ſhall have to his own uſe, ſuch reaſonable portion of goods and cattels appertaining to the ſame Religion, as it ſhall pleaſe the Kings Majeſty of his moſt excellent goodneſs to limit and appoint of the ſame. And that the ſaid John Rauſon Knight, ſhall have and enjoy to his own uſe, out of ſuch poſſeſſions as he now hath in England and Ireland, one annual penſion of five hundred marks, to be paid to him or to his aſſigns at the Feaſts aforeſaid, by even portions; and likewiſe ſhall have to his own proper uſe, ſuch reaſonable portion of the goods of the ſaid Religion, as ſhall pleaſe the Kings Majeſty of his moſt excellent goodneſs to limit and appoint for the ſame. And that Clement Weſt, being one of the confreres of the ſaid Religion, ſhall have and enjoy during his natural life, one annuity or penſion of two hundred pounds. And that Thomas Pemberton, another of the confreres of the ſaid Religion, ſhall have and enjoy yearly during his natural life, one yearly penſion of fourſcore pound. And that Giles Ruſſell another of the ſaid confreres, ſhall have and enjoy yearly during his natural life, one yearly penſion of one hundred pound. And that George Aylmer, another of the ſaid confreres, ſhall have and enjoy yearly during his natural life, one yearly penſion of one hundred pound. And that John Sutton, another of the confreres of the ſaid Religion, ſhall have and enjoy yearly during his natural life, one yearly penſion of two hundred pound. And that Edward Bellingham, another of the confreres of the ſaid Religion, ſhall have and enjoy yearly during his natural life, one yearly penſion of one hundred pound. And that Edward Brown, another of the confreres of the ſaid Religion, ſhall have and enjoy yearly during his natural life, one yearly penſion of fifty pound. And that Edmund Huſſe, another of the confreres of the ſaid Religion, ſhall have and enjoy yearly during his life natural, one yearly penſion of one hundred marks. And that Ambroſe Cave, another of the confreres of the ſaid Religion, ſhall have and enjoy yearly during his natural life, one yearly penſion of one hundred marks. And that Thomas Copledike, another of the confreres of the ſaid Religion, ſhall have and enjoy during his natural life, one yearly penſion of fifty pound.

lack of knowledge of their names, that yet nevertheleſs every of them ſo forgotten, and not now preſently named or remembred, ſhall have and enjoy ſuch honeſt, convenient, and reaſonable yearly penſion and portion of goods, as ſhall pleaſe the Kings Majeſty to limit and appoint in that behalf.

Onely true ſubjects ſhall have penſions.

Provided always, That none of the ſaid Priors or Confreres of the ſaid Religion ſhall have and enjoy any of the penſions afore ſpecified, except ſuch of them as be the Kings true and faithful ſubjects. Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The ſub-prior Maſter of the Temple, and two Chaplains ſhall retain their houſes and wages.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That John Mapleſden, otherwiſe called John Mableſton Clerk, ſub-prior of the ſaid religion of the ſaid Hoſpital of S. John of Jeruſalem in England, William Emerſted Clerk, Maſter of the Temple of London, Walter Lymſey and John Winter Chaplains there, and every of them, ſhall have, perceive and enjoy, during their natural lives, all ſuch manſion houſes, ſtipends and wages, and all other profits of money, in as large and ample manner, as they or any of them now lawfully have the ſame, without let or interruption of the King our Soveraign Lord, his heirs or ſucceſſors, or any other his officers or miniſters, the ſaid Maſter and two Chaplains of the Temple doing their duties and ſervices there as they have accuſtomed to do.

The foreſaid parties ſhall have the Kings Letters Patents of the things before granted.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid William Weſton and John Rawſon, and every of the ſaid brethren or confreres aforenamed, and the ſaid ſub-prior, and the ſaid Maſter of the Temple, and two Chaplains, and every of them, being the Kings true and faithful ſubjects, upon their reaſonable ſuits and petitions, ſhall have ſufficient Letters Patents of the ſaid ſeveral yearly annuities, penſions, manſions, ſtipends and wages, and other profits of money to them limited by authority of this Act, under the Kings great Seal, without any fine or fee to be paid to the Kings uſe for the ſame.

The confreres and brethren diſcharged of their obedience to their Priors, and may ſue and be ſued by their proper names.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid brethren or confreres of the ſaid Religion, and all other obediencers being members of the ſaid Religion, ſhall be acquitted and diſcharged of their obedience that they have uſed to bear and give unto the ſaid William Welton, or to the ſaid John Rauſon, or to any other of the ſaid Religion, by the Ordinances, Uſages, Rules or Statutes of the ſaid Religion. And that as well the ſame William Weſton and John Rauſon, as the ſaid brethren or confreres of the ſaid Religion called Knights as is aforeſaid, and every of them being the Kings ſubjects born in the Realm of England, or in the land of Ireland, or elſewhere within any the Kings Dominions, ſhall be enabled to ſue and be ſued, by their own ſaid proper names and ſirnames, and have ſuch capacity, and other freedom, liberties and priviledges, to all intents and purpoſes, in as large and ample manner, form, faſhion and condition, as in the firſt ſeſſion of this preſent Parliament was ordained and enacted for Religious perſons: Any Statutes, Ordinances, Laws, Cuſtoms, Uſages, or any other thing or things to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

31 H.8.6.

Provided alſo and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all priviledges of ſanctuaries, heretofore uſed or claimed in manſion houſes, and other places commonly called St. Johns hold, and all other ſanctuaries heretofore uſed in any place within this Realm, or in Ireland, which heretofore hath been belonging to any of the ſaid Hoſpitals, ſhall ſtand and be utterly void, and of none effect, for or concerning any ſanctuary, or priviledges of ſanctuary, there to be had or uſed, the priviledges of common Churches and Church-yards, applied and uſed to Gods ſervice, and burials of Chriſtian people, only excepted.

All land of S. Johns ſhall be in the government of the Court of augmentations. ALT. 1 M.10.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all the ſaid manors, meaſes, lands, tenements, and all and ſingular other poſſeſſions, priviledges, liberties, franchiſes, and other hereditaments granted to the Kings Majeſty by this Act, ſhall be in the ſurvey, rule, order and governance of the Chancellor and other miniſters and officers of the Court of the augmentations of the revenues of the Kings Crown, in like manner, form, faſhion and condition, as the poſſeſſions of the lands of the Abbeys, Monaſteries, or Priories ſuppreſſed or ſurrendred been.

The confreres which be out of the Realm, ſhall return and ſubmit themſelves to the obedience of the Law.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every ſuch perſon and perſons as be now confreres of the ſaid Hoſpital or Hoſpitals, and at this preſent time out of this Realm, ſhall before the Feaſt of Pentecoſt, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, a thouſand five hundred fourty and one, return into the ſame, and here perſonally preſent themſelves to the Kings Majeſty, or to the Lord Chancellor of England, the Lord Treaſurer, the Lord Preſident of the Kings Council, and the Lord Privy Seal, or two of them for the time being at the leaſt, both acknowledging themſelves to be his Highneſs true and loyal ſubjects, and declaring themſelves to be content willingly to obſerve, keep and maintain, all the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, as to true and good ſubjects appertaineth: or elſe the ſame confrere or confreres making default of ſuch his repair and preſentment, as is beforeſaid, ſhall in no wiſe claim and enjoy any penſion by vertue of this Act: any thing in the ſame contained notwithſtanding; unleſs the perſon or perſons ſo making default of repair and apparance, can ſhew and declare themſelves to have been detained, or by a neceſſary mean impeached and letted of their will, purpoſe and deſire to have come hither, and to have accompliſhed the whole contents of this Statute accordingly.

Leaſes made by Tenants in Fee or Fee-tail, in the right of their wives or Churches, which be good, which void.

WHere great number of the Kings ſubjects have heretofore taken Leaſes of lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, for term of years, and divers of them for term of lives, and have given and paid great fines, and great ſums for the ſame, and alſo have been at great coſts and charges, as well in and about great reparations and buildings upon their ſaid ferms, as otherwiſe concerning their ſaid ferms: yet notwithſtanding the ſaid fermors, after the deaths or reſignations of their leſſors, have been, and be daily with great cruelty expulſed, and put out of their ſaid ferms and takings, by the heirs or ſucceſſors of their ſaid leſſors, or by ſuch perſons as have intereſt therein, after the deaths or reſignations of their ſaid leſſors, by reaſon of privy gifts of entail, or for that the leſſors had nothing in the lands, tenements, or other hereditaments ſo letten, at the time of the leaſes thereof made, but only in the right of their wives, or ſuch other like cauſe, to the great impoveriſhment, and in manner utter undoing of the ſaid fermors: for reformation whereof, be it ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That all leaſes heretofore to be made of any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments by writing indented under ſeal for term of years, or for term of life, by any perſon or perſons, being of full age of xxi. years, having any eſtate of inheritance, either in fee-ſimple, or in fee-tail, in their own right, or in the right of their Churches, or Wives, or joyntly with their Wives, of an eſtate of inheritance made before the coverture or after, ſhall be good and effectual in the law, againſt the leſſors, their wives, heirs and ſucceſſors, and every of them, according to ſuch eſtate as is compriſed and ſpecified in every ſuch indenture of leaſe, in like manner and form as the ſame ſhould have been, if the leſſors thereof, and every of them, at the time of the making of ſuch leaſes, had been lawfully ſeiſed of the ſame lands, tenements and hereditaments compriſed in ſuch indenture, of a good, perfect, and pure eſtate, of fee-ſimple thereof to their own only uſes.

Leaſes made by tenant in tail, or by him which is ſeiſed in the right of his wife or Church, &c. St. 34 H. 8. 20. Cro. El. 5. 350.

Provided alway, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any leaſes to be made of any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, being in the hands of any fermor or fermors by vertue of an old leaſe, unleſs the ſame old leaſe be expired, ſurrendred or ended within one year next after the making of the ſaid new leaſe, nor ſhall extend to any grant to be made of any reverſion of any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, nor to any leaſe of any manors lands, tenements, or hereditaments, which have not moſt commonly been letten to ferm, or occupied by the fermors thereof by the ſpace of twenty years next before ſuch leaſe thereof made: nor to any leaſe to be made, without impeachment of waſte: nor to any leaſe to be made above the number of xxi. years, or three lives at the moſt, from the day of making thereof. And that upon every ſuch leaſe there be reſerved yearly during the ſame leaſe, due and payable to the leſſors, their heirs and ſucceſſors, to whom the ſame lands ſhould have come after the deaths of the leſſors, if no ſuch leaſe had been thereof made, and to whom the reverſion thereof ſhall appertain, according to their eſtates and intereſts, ſo much yearly ferm or rent, or more, as hath been moſt accuſtomably yeelden or paid for the manor, lands, tenements, and hereditaments ſo to be letten within xx. years next before ſuch leaſe thereof made. And that every ſuch perſon and perſons to whom the reverſion of ſuch manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments ſo be letten, ſhall appertain, as is aforeſaid, after the deaths of ſuch leſſors or their heirs, ſhall and may have ſuch like remedy and advantage, to all intents and purpoſes againſt the leſſees thereof, their executors and aſſigns, as the ſame leſſor ſhould or might have had againſt the ſame leſſees. So that if the leſſor were ſeiſed of any ſpecial eſtate tail of the ſame hereditaments, at the time of ſuch leaſe, that the iſſue or heir of that ſpecial eſtate, ſhall have the reverſion, rents and ſervices reſerved upon ſuch leaſe after the death of the ſaid leſſor, as the leſſor himſelf might or ought to have had if he had lived.

Special obſervations of leaſes to be made by tenant in tail, or of the wives land.

Provided alway, That the wife be made party to every ſuch leaſe which hereafter ſhall be made by her huſband of any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, being the inheritance of the wife, and that every ſuch leaſe be made by indenture in the name of the huſband and his wife, and ſhe to ſeal to the ſame: And that the ferm and rent be reſerved to the huſband and to the wife, and to the heirs of the wife, according to her eſtate of inheritance in the ſame. And that the huſband ſhall not in any wiſe alien, diſcharge, grant, or give away the ſame rent reſerved, nor any part thereof, longer then during the coverture, without it be by fine levied by the ſaid huſband and wife. But that ẏ ſame rent ſhall remain, deſcend, revert, or come after ẏ death of ſuch huſband, unto ſuch perſon or perſons, and their heirs in ſuch manner and ſort, as the lands ſo leaſed ſhould have done, if no ſuch leaſe had been thereof made.

Stat. 25 H 8.13. Leaſes of term

Leaſes of Parſonages or Vicarages.

Provided alſo, That this Act extend not to give any liberty or power to any perſon or perſons to take any mo terms, leaſes, or takings, of any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, then he or they ſhould or might lawfully have done before the making of this Act, nor extend to give any liberty or power to any Parſon, or Vicar of any Church or Vicarage, for to make any leaſe or grant of any of their meſſuages, lands, tenements, tithes, profits, or hereditaments belonging to their Churches or Vicarages, otherwiſe or in any manner, then they ſhould or might have done before the making of this Act: Any thing contained in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A confirmation of Leaſes made before the Stat. by certain perſons, and upon certain conditions.

And furthermore be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all leaſes at any time within the ſpace of three years next before the xii. day of April, and in the xxxi. year of our Sovereign Lord the Kings Reign, made by writing indented under ſeal, by any perſon or perſons of full age, of whole memory, not unlawfully coarcted, nor being covert Baron for term of years, of any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, whereof the leſſor or leſſors were ſeiſed of any eſtate of inheritance of and in the ſame, to their own only uſe at the time of making any ſuch leaſe thereof, and whereof the leſſees, their executors or aſſigns be now in poſſeſſion by vertue of the ſame leaſe, and no cauſe of reentre or forfeiture thereof had or made, ſhall be good and effectual in the Law, againſt the leſſors, their heirs and ſucceſſors, and the heirs and ſucceſſors of every of them, according to the covenants, articles and agreements ſpecified in every ſuch indenture or leaſe. So always there be reſerved and yearly payable during the ſame leaſe to the ſaid leſſors, their heirs or ſucceſſors, or to ſuch other as ſhould or ought to have had the ſame manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments ſo leaſed after the deceaſe of ſuch leſſors, in caſe no ſuch leaſe had thereof been made, as much yearly rent for the ſame, as was at any time therefore yeelden or paid within twenty years next before the making of any ſuch leaſe, or elſe ſuch leaſes to be of no other force ne effect, then they were before the making of this preſent Act.

Leaſes made by the husband and the wife of the inheritance of the wife. Stat. 34 H.8.22.

Provided furthermore, That this clauſe or act extend not to give any liberty to any ſuch wife, or to her heirs, for to avoid any leaſe hereafter to be made of any inheritance of the wife, by her husband and her for term of one and twenty years, or under, or any her inheritance for term of three lives at the uttermoſt, whereupon as much yearly rent or more is or ſhall be reſerved, and yearly payable during the ſame leaſe, as was at any time therefore yeelden or payed within twenty years next before the making of any ſuch leaſe, according to the tenor of this preſent Act, any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Leaſes made by Eccleſiaſtical perſons attainted of Treaſon.

Provided alſo, That this Act extend not to make good any leaſe or leaſes heretofore made by any Eccleſiaſtical perſon or perſons by their covent or common ſeal, which be made void or taken away by authority of any Act of Parliament heretofore made, nor extend to make good any leaſe or leaſes heretofore made by any Eccleſiaſtical perſon or perſons now being attainted of Treaſon under their covent ſeal, or otherwiſe, or by any other perſon or perſons now being attainted of Treaſon by Act of Parliament or otherwiſe: But that all and ſingular ſuch leaſe and leaſes, and every of them now made, or hereafter to be made, ſhall be of ſuch like effect and ſtrength in the law, and none other, as they and every of them were before the making of this Act: any thing before mentioned in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The ſeveral inconveniences which have heretofore followed by delays in ſuits.

FOraſmuch as the party plaintiffs and demandants in all manner of actions and ſuits, as well real as perſonal, at the common law of this Realm, before this time have been greatly delayed and hindered in their ſuits and demands, by reaſon of the crafty, ſubtile, and negligent pleadings of the plaintiffs or demandants, defendants or tenants, where any action or demand hath been ſued, had, or made, as well in miniſtring of their declarations and bars, as alſo in their replications, rejoynders, rebutters, joyning of iſſues, and other pleadings, to the great hurt, delay and hinderance of the ſaid plaintiffs or demandants, or to the vexation of the defendants or tenants. Inſomuch, that when the iſſues joyned in the ſame actions between the parties to the ſame hath been tried, and found by the verdict of thirteen or moe indifferent perſons, for the ſaid plaintiffs or demandants, or for the tenants or defendants, and the Juſtices ready to give judgment for the ſaid parties, for whom the ſaid iſſue was found: The ſame parties have been compelled by the courſe and order of the Common Law of this Realm afore this time, to replead, and the ſaid verdicts ſo given, as is afore rehearſed, to be taken as void and of none effect, ſometime becauſe the iſſues have been miſjoyned, and jeofaile, and ſometime by taking advantages of the parties own miſpleading, or the purſuing, miſconveying, or diſcontinuing of proceſs of any of the parties, and for divers other cauſes, the which is thought as well a great ſlander to the ſaid Common Law of this Realm, and to the Miniſters of the ſame, as alſo a plain delay, and hinderance unto the ſaid parties, in that they ſhould not have their judgments when the iſſue hath been found and tried as is aforeſaid, to their great coſts and charge. Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth, if any iſſue be tried by the oath of twelve or moe indifferent men for the party plaintiff or demandant, or for the party tenant or defendant, in any manner of action or ſuit at the common Law of this Realm in any of the Kings Courts of Record, that then the Juſtice and Juſtices by whom judgment thereof ought to be given, ſhall proceed and give judgment in the ſame, any[a] miſpleading, lack of colour, inſufficient pleading, or jeofaile, any miſcontinuance, or diſcontinuance, or miſconveying of proceſs, miſjoyning of the iſſue, lack of warrant of Atturney of the party againſt whom the ſame iſſue ſhall happen to be tried, or any other default or negligence of any of the parties, their Counſellors or Atturneys, had or made to the contrary notwithſtanding, and the ſaid judgments thereof ſo to be had and given, ſhall ſtand in full ſtrength and force, to all intents and purpoſes, according to the ſaid verdict, without any reverſal or undoing of the ſame by writ of error, or of falſe judgment, in like form, as though no ſuch default or negligence had never been had or committed.

Joynt Tenants and Tenants in common for lives or years, ſhall make partition.

31 H. 8. 1.

Foraſmuch as in the Parliament begun at Weſtminſter the eight and twentieth day of April, and there continued till the xxviij. day of June, the xxxj. year of the Kings moſt noble and victorious Reign that now is, It was amongſt other things there enacted and eſtabliſhed, That all joynt tenants, and tenants in common, that then were, or hereafter ſhould be of any eſtate, or eſtates of inheritance in their own rights, or in the right of their wives, of any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments within this Realm of England, Wales, or marches of the ſame, ſhall and may be coacted and compelled by vertue of the ſaid Act, to make partition between them, of all ſuch manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments as they then held, or hereafter ſhould hold as joynt tenants, or tenants in common, as more plainly at large appeareth by the ſaid Statute. And foraſmuch as the ſaid Statute doth not extend to joynt tenants, and tenants in common for term of life or years, neither to joynt tenants, and tenants in common, where one, or ſome of them have but a particular eſtate for term of life or years, and the other have eſtate or eſtates of inheritance of and in any manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments. Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all joynt tenants, and tenants in common, and every of them, which now hold, or hereafter ſhall hold, joyntly, or in common, for term of life, year or years: or joynt tenants, or tenants in common, where one or ſome of them have, or ſhall have eſtate or eſtates for term of life or years, with the other that have or ſhall have eſtate or eſtates of inheritance, or freehold in any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, ſhall and may be compellable from henceforth by Writ of Partition to be ſued out of the Kings Court of Chancery, upon his or their caſe or caſes, to make ſeverance and partition of all ſuch manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, which they hold joyntly or in common, for term of life or lives, year or years, or where one or ſome of them hold joyntly, or in common, for term of life or years, with other that have an eſtate or eſtates of inheritance or free-hold.

CAP. XXXIII.

Wrongful diſſeiſin is no deſcent in Law.

A diſſeiſor dying ſeiſed, taketh away no title of entry from the diſſeiſee or his heir.

Five years poſſeſſion in the diſſeiſor before his death.

Where divers perſons of their inſatiable minds have heretofore by ſtrength, and without title, entred into manors, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, and wrongfully diſſeiſed the rightful owners and poſſeſſors thereof, and ſo being ſeiſed by diſſeiſin, have thereof died ſeiſed, by reaſon of which dying ſeiſed, the diſſeiſee, or ſuch other perſons as before ſuch deſcent might have lawfully entred into the ſaid manors, lands and tenements, were, and be thereby clearly excluded of their entree into the ſaid manors, lands, and tenements, and put to their action for their remedy and recovery therein, to their great coſts and charges. For reformation whereof, be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that the [b] dying ſeiſed hereafter of any ſuch diſſeiſor, of, or in any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, having no right or title therein, ſhall not be taken or deemed from henceforth any ſuch deſcent in the Law, for to toll, or take away the entree of any ſuch perſon or perſons, or their heirs, which at any time of the ſame deſcent, had good and lawful title of entree into the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments; Except that ſuch diſſeiſor hath had the peaceable poſſeſſion of ſuch manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, whereof he ſhall ſo die ſeiſed, by the ſpace of five years next after the diſſeiſin therein by him committed, without entree or continual claim, by or of ſuch perſon or perſons as have lawful title thereunto.

Grantees of reverſions may take advantage of reverſions and covenants againſt the leſſees: and leſſees may have the like remedy againſt grantees, as they might have had againſt their grantors.

By the common Law no ſtranger to any covenant, action, or condition could take advantage thereof.

Where before this time divers as well temporal as eccleſiaſtical and religious perſons, have made ſundry leaſes, demiſes and grants to divers other perſons, of ſundry manors, lordſhips, ferms, meaſes, lands, tenements, medows, paſtures, or other hereditaments, for term of life or lives, or for term of years, by writing under their ſeal or ſeals, containing certain conditions, covenants and agreements to be performed, as well on the part and behalf of the ſaid leſſees and grantees, their executors and aſſigns, as on the behalf of the ſaid leſſors and grantors, their heirs and ſucceſſors: and foraſmuch as by the common Law of this Realm, no ſtranger to any covenant, action or condition, ſhall take any advantage or benefit of the ſame, by any means or ways in the Law, but onely ſuch as be parties or privies thereunto, by the reaſon whereof, as well all grantees of reverſions, as alſo all grantees and patentees of the King our Sovereign Lord, of ſundry manors, lordſhips, granges, ferms, meaſes, lands, tenements, medows, paſtures, or other hereditaments late belonging to Monaſteries, and other Religious and Eccleſiaſtical houſes diſſolved, ſuppreſſed, renounced, relinquiſhed, forfeited, given up, or by other means come to the hands and poſſeſſion of the Kings Majeſty ſince the fourth day of February, the ſeven and twentieth year of his moſt noble Reign, be excluded to have any entry or action againſt the ſaid leſſees and grantees, their executors or aſſigns, which the leſſors before that time might by the Law have had againſt the ſame leſſees for the breach of any condition, covenant or agreement, compriſed in the indentures of their ſaid leaſes, demiſes and grants: Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, Grantees of reverſions may take advantage of conditions and covenants againſt the leſſees of the ſame lands.

That as well all and every perſon and perſons, and bodies politick, their heirs, ſucceſſors and aſſigns, which have or ſhall have any gift or grant of our ſaid Sovereign Lord by his letters patents, of any lordſhips, manors, lands, tenements, rents, parſonages, tithes, portions, or other hereditaments, or of any reverſion or reverſions of the ſame, which did belong and appertain to any of the ſaid Monaſteries, and other Religious and Eccleſiaſtical houſes, diſſolved, ſuppreſſed, relinquiſhed, forfeited, or by any other means come to the Kings hands ſince the ſaid fourth day of February, the ſeven and twentieth year of his moſt noble Reign, or which at any time heretofore did belong or appertain to any other perſon or perſons, and after came to the hands of our ſaid Sovereign Lord, as alſo all other perſons being grantees or aſſignees to, or by our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, or to or by any other perſon or perſons then the Kings Highneſs, and the heirs, executors, ſucceſſors and aſſigns of every of them, ſhall and may have and enjoy like advantages againſt the leſſees, their executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns, [c] by entry for non-payment of the rent, or for doing of waſte, or other forfeiture: and alſo ſhall and may have and enjoy all and every ſuch like, and the ſame advantage, benefit and remedies by action onely, for not performing of other conditions, covenants or agreements, contained and expreſſed in the indentures of their ſaid leaſes, demiſes or grants, againſt all and every the ſaid leſſees, and fermers, and grantees, their executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns, and the ſaid leſſors or grantors themſelves, or their heirs or ſucceſſors, ought, ſhould, or might have had and enjoyed, at any time or times, in like manner and form, as if the reverſion of ſuch lands, tenements or hereditaments had not come to the hands of our ſaid Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhould or might have had and enjoyed in certain caſes, by vertue of the Act made at the firſt Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, if no ſuch grant by letters patents had been made by his Highneſs.

How Executors may recover rents due to the Teſtator, &c.

A remedy for executors, &c. to recover a rent due to their teſtator in his life time.

Foraſmuch as by the order of the Common Law, the executors or adminiſtrators of tenants in fee-ſimple, tenants in fee-tail, and tenants for term of life, of rents ſervices, rent charges, rents ſecks, and fee-farms, have no remedy to recover ſuch arrerages of the ſaid rents or fee-farms as were due unto their teſtators in their lives, nor yet the heirs of ſuch teſtator, nor any perſon having the reverſion of his eſtate after his deceaſe, may diſtrain, or have any lawful action to levy any ſuch arrerages of rents, or of the fee-farms, due unto him in his life, as is aforeſaid: By reaſon whereof, the tenants of the demean of ſuch lands, tenements or hereditaments, out of the which ſuch rents were due and payable, who of right ought to pay their rents & farms at ſuch day and terms as they were due, do many times keep, hold and retain ſuch arrerages in their own hands, ſo that the executors and adminiſtrators of the perſons to whom ſuch rents or fee-farms were due, cannot have or come by the ſaid arrerages of the ſame, towards the paiment of the debts, and performance of the will of the ſaid teſtators. For remedy whereof, be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the executors and adminiſtrators of every ſuch perſon or perſons, unto whom any ſuch rent or fee-farm is or ſhall be due, & not paid at the time of his death, ſhall & may have an action of [b] debt for all ſuch arrerages againſt the tenant or tenants that ought to have paid the ſaid rent or fee-farms ſo being behind in the life of their teſtator, or againſt the executors and adminiſtrators of the ſaid tenants. And alſo furthermore, it ſhall be lawful to every ſuch executor and adminiſtrator of any ſuch perſon or perſons unto whom ſuch rent or fee-farm ſhall be due, and not paid at the time of his death, as is aforeſaid, to diſtrain for the arrerages of all ſuch rents and fee-farms, upon the lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, which were charged with the paiment of ſuch rents or fee-farms, and chargeable to the diſtreſs of the ſaid teſtator, ſo long as the ſaid lands, tenements, or hereditaments continue, remain, and be in the ſeiſin or poſſeſſion of the ſaid tenant in demeſne, who ought immediately to have paid the ſaid rent or fee-farm ſo being behind to the ſaid teſtator in his life, or in the ſeiſin or poſſeſſion of any other perſon or perſons claiming the ſaid lands, tenements and hereditaments, onely by and from the ſame tenant by purchaſe, gift or deſcent, in like manner and form as their ſaid [c] teſtator might or ought to have done in his life time, and the ſaid executors and adminiſtrators ſhall for the ſame diſtreſs lawfully make avowry upon their matter aforeſaid.

What Marriages are lawful, and what not.

Co.Inſt. 2 p. 683.

Whereas heretofore the uſurped power of the Biſhop of Rome hath always intangled and troubled the meer juriſdiction and Regal power of this Realm of England, and alſo unquieted much the ſubjects of the ſame, by his uſurped power in them, as by making that unlawful which by Gods word is lawful, both in marriages and other things, as hereafter ſhall appear more at length, and till now of late in our Sovereign Lords time, which is otherwiſe by learning taught then his predeceſſors in times paſt long time have been, hath ſo continued the ſame, whereof yet ſome ſparks be left, which hereafter might kindle a greater fire, and ſo remaining, his power not to ſeem utterly extinct.

Therefore it is thought moſt convenient to the Kings Highneſs, his Lords Spiritual and temporal, with the Commons of this Realm aſſembled in this preſent Parliament, That two things ſpecially for this time be with diligence provided for, whereby many inconveniences have enſued, and many moe elſe mought enſue and follow: as where heretofore divers and many perſons, after long continuance together in matrimony, without any allegation of either of the parties, or any other at their marriage, why the ſame matrimony ſhould not be good, juſt and lawful, and after the ſame matrimony ſolemnized, and conſummate by carnal knowledge, and alſo ſometime fruit of children enſued of the ſame marriage, upon pretence of a former contract made, and not conſummate by carnal copulation, (for proof whereof two witneſſes by that Law were onely required) been divorced and ſeparate, contrary to Gods Law, and ſo the true matrimony, both ſolemnized in the face of the Church, and conſummate with bodily knowledge, and confirmed alſo with the fruit of children had between them, clearly fruſtrate and diſſolved: Further alſo, by reaſon of other prohibitions then Gods law admitteth, for their lucre by that Court invented, the diſpenſations whereof they always reſerved to themſelves, as in kindred, or affinity between Coſin-germanes, and ſo to fourth and fourth degree, carnal knowledge of any of the ſame kin or affinity before in ſuch outward degrees, which elſe were lawful, and be not prohibited by Gods Law, and all becauſe they would get money by it; and keep a reputation of their uſurped juriſdiction, whereby not onely much diſcord between lawful married perſons hath (contrary to Gods Ordinance) ariſen, much debate and ſuit at the Law, with wrongful vexation, and great damage of the innocent party hath been procured, and many juſt marriages brought in doubt, and danger of undoing, and alſo many times undone, and lawful heirs diſherited, whereof there had never elſe, but for his vain-glorious uſurpation, been moved any ſuch queſtion, ſince freedome in them was given by Gods Law, which ought to be moſt ſure and certain. But that notwithſtanding, marriages have been brought into ſuch an incertainty thereby, that no marriage could be ſurely knit and bounden, but it ſhould lie in either of the parties power, and arbiter caſting away the fear of God, by means and compaſſes to prove a precontract, a kindred, and aliance, or a carnal knowledge, to defeat the ſame, and ſo under the pretence of theſe allegations afore rehearſed, to live all the days of their life in deteſtable adultery, to the utter deſtruction of their own ſouls, and the provocation of the terrible wrath of God upon the places where ſuch abominations were uſed and ſuffered. Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That from the firſt day of the moneth of July next coming, in the year of our Lord God 1540. all and every ſuch marriages as within this Church of England ſhall be contracted between lawful perſons, (as by this Act we declare all perſons to be lawful,

And that no reſervation or prohibition, Gods Law except, ſhall trouble or impeach any marriage without the Levetical degrees. And that no perſon, of what eſtate, degree, or condition ſoever he or ſhe be, ſhall after the ſaid firſt day of the moneth of July aforeſaid, be admitted to any of the Spiritual Courts within this the Kings Realm, or any his Graces other Lands and Dominions, to any proceſs, plea, or allegation, contrary to this foreſaid Act. Priviledges granted to Phyſicians in London.

Co.Inſt.4 p. 251. Cro.Jac.121. 159. Cro.Car.[illegible]

In moſt humble wiſe ſhewen unto your Majeſty, your true and faithful ſubjects and liege men, the Preſident of the Corporation of the Comminalty and Fellowſhip of the Science and Faculty of Phyſick in your City of London, and the Commons of the Fellows of the ſame, that whereas divers of them many times having in cure, as well ſome of the Lords of your moſt Honourable Council, and divers times many of the Nobility of this Realm, as many other your faithful and liege people, cannot give their due attendance to them and other their patients with ſuch diligence as their duty were and is to do, by reaſon they be many times compelled, as well within the City of London, and ſuburbs of the ſame, as in other Towns and Villages, to keep watch and ward, and be choſen to the Office of Conſtable, and other Offices within the ſaid City and ſuburbs of the ſame, as in other places within this your Realm, to their great fatigation and unquieting, and to the peril of their patients, by reaſon they cannot be conveniently attended. It may therefore pleaſe your moſt Excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of your Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, to enact, ordain, and eſtabliſh, That the ſaid Preſident of the Comminalty and Fellowſhip for the time being, and the Commons and Fellows of the ſame, and every Fellow thereof that now be, or that any time hereafter ſhall be their ſucceſſors, and the ſucceſſors of every of them, at all time and times after the making of this preſent Act, ſhall be diſcharged to keep any watch and ward in your ſaid City of London, or the ſuburbs of the ſame, or any part thereof; and that they or any of them ſhall not be choſen Conſtable, or any other Officer in the ſaid City or ſuburbs. And that if any time hereafter the ſaid Preſident for the time being, or any of the ſaid Commons or Fellows for the time being, by any ways or means be appointed or elected to any watch or ward, Office of Conſtable, or any other Office within the ſaid City or ſuburbs, the ſame appointment or election to be utterly void and of none effect, any order, cuſtom, or law to the contrary before this time uſed in the ſaid City notwithſtanding.

The Phyſicians in London ſhall be diſcharged to bear certain Offices there.

Four Phyſicians ſhall be choſen yearly to ſearch Apothecary wares in London.

And that it may pleaſe your moſt Royal Majeſty, by the authority aforeſaid, that it may be further enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed, for the common wealth and ſurety of your loving ſubjects of this your Realm, in and for the adminiſtration of medicines to ſuch your ſaid ſubjects as ſhall have need of the ſame, That from henceforth the ſaid Preſident for the time being, Commons and Fellows, and their ſucceſſors, may yearly, at ſuch time as they ſhall think moſt meet and convenient for the ſame, elect and chuſe four perſons of the ſaid Commons and Fellows, of the beſt learned, wiſeſt, and moſt diſcreet, ſuch as they ſhall think convenient, and have experience in the ſaid faculty of Phyſick: And that the ſaid four perſons ſo elected and choſen, after a corporal oath to them miniſtred by the ſaid Preſident, or his Deputy, ſhall and may, by vertue of this preſent Act, have full authority and power, as often as they ſhall think meet and convenient, to enter into the houſe or houſes of all and every Apothecary, now, or any time hereafter uſing the myſtery or craft of Apothecary within the ſaid City, onely to ſearch, view, and ſee ſuch Apothecary wares, drugs and ſtuffs, as the Apothecaries, or any of them have, or at any time hereafter ſhall have in their houſe or houſes: And all ſuch wares, drugs and ſtuffs, as the ſaid four perſons ſhall then find defective, corrupted, and not meet nor convenient to be miniſtred in any medecines for the health of mans body, the ſame four perſons calling to them the Wardens of the ſaid myſtery of Apothecaries within the ſaid City for that time being, or one of them, ſhall cauſe to be brent, or otherwiſe deſtroy the ſame, as they ſhall think meet by their diſcretion. And if the ſaid Apothecaries, or any of them, at any time hereafter, do obſtinately or willingly refuſe or deny the ſaid four perſons yearly elected and choſen, as is beforeſaid, to enter into their ſaid houſe or houſes for the cauſes, intent and purpoſe before rehearſed; That then they and every of them ſo offending contrary to this Act, for every time that he or they do ſo offend, to forfeit C. s. the one half to your Majeſty, and the other half to him that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of the Kings Courts, wherein no wager of law, eſſoin, or protection ſhall be allowed. And if the ſaid four perſons, or any of them ſo elected and choſen as before is ſaid, do refuſe to be ſworn, or after his ſaid Oath to him or them adminiſtred, do obſtinately refuſe to make the ſaid ſearch and view once in the year, at ſuch time as they ſhall think moſt convenient by their diſcretions, having no lawful impediment by ſickneſs or otherwiſe to the contrary; That then for every ſuch wilful and obſtinate default, every of the ſaid four perſons making default to forfeit fourty ſhillings.

The forfeiture of ſuch as being elect, refuſe to be ſworn, or to make ſearch.

And foraſmuch as the Science of Phyſick doth comprehend, include and contain the knowledge of Surgery, as a ſpecial member and part of the ſame, Therefore be it enacted, That any of the ſaid Company or Fellowſhip of Phyſicians, being able, choſen, and admitted by the ſaid Preſident and Fellowſhip of Phyſicians, may from time to time, as well within the City of London, as elſewhere within this Realm, practiſe and exerciſe the ſaid Science of Phyſick in all and every his members and parts, any Act, Statute, or proviſion made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Any of the Phyſicians in London may practiſe Surgery.

CAP. XLII.

The authority and liberties of Barbers and Surgeons in London, being made of one Company.

The King our Sovereign Lord, by the advice of his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, by all their common aſſents, duly pondering, among other things neceſſary for the common wealth of this Realm, that its very expedient and needful to provide for men expert in the Science of Phyſick and Surgery, for the health of mans body, when infirmities and ſickneſs ſhall happen, for the due exerciſe and maintenance whereof, good and neceſſary Acts be already made and provided: Yet nevertheleſs, foraſmuch as within the City of London, where men of great experience, as well in ſpeculation as in practiſe of the Science and Faculty of Surgery, be abiding and inhabiting, and have more commonly the daily exerciſe and experience of the ſame Science of Surgery, then is had or uſed within any parts of this Realm; and by occaſion thereof many expert perſons be brought up under them as their ſervants, apprentices, and others, who by the exerciſe and diligent information of their ſaid maſters, as well now as hereafter, ſhall exerciſe the ſaid Science within divers other parts of this Realm, to the great relief, comfort, and ſuccour of much people, and to the ſure ſafeguard of their bodily health, their limbs and lives. And foraſmuch as within the ſaid City of London there be now two ſeveral and diſtinct Companies of Surgeons, occupying and exerciſing the ſaid ſcience and faculty of Surgery, the one Company being commonly called the Barbers of London, and the other Company called the Surgeons of London; which Company of Barbers be incorporated to ſue and be ſued by the name of Maſters or Governours of the myſtery or comminalty of the Barbers of London, by vertue and authority of the letters patents under the Great Seal of the late King of famous memory King Edward the Fourth, dated at Weſtminſter the four and twentieth day of February, in the firſt year of his Reign, which afterward, as well by our moſt dread Sovereign Lord, as by the right noble and vertuous Prince, King Heury the Seventh, Father unto the Kings moſt excellent Highneſs now being, were and be confirmed, as by ſundry letters patents thereof made, amongſt other things in the ſame contained, more at large may appear; and the other Company called the Surgeons, be not incorporate, nor have any manner Corporation. Which two ſeveral and diſtinct Companies of Surgeons were neceſſary to be united and made one body incorporate, to the intent that by their union and often aſſembly together, the good and due order, exerciſe and knowledge in the ſaid Science or Faculty of Surgery, ſhould be as well in ſpeculation as in practice, both to themſelves, and all other their ſaid ſervants and apprentices, now and hereafter to be brought up under them, and by their learning, and diligent and ripe informations, more perfect, ſpeedy, and effectual remedy ſhould be, then it hath been, or ſhould be if the ſaid two Companies of Barbers and Surgeons ſhould continue ſevered aſſunder, and not joyned together, as they before this time have been, and uſed themſelves, not medling together. Wherefore in conſideration of the premiſſes, be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and by the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid two ſeveral and diſtinct Companies of Surgeons, that is to ſay, both the Barbers and the Surgeons, and every perſon of them, being a freeman of either of the ſaid Companies after the cuſtom of the ſaid City of London, and their ſucceſſors, from henceforth immediately be united, and made one entire and whole Body Corporate, and one Comminalty perpetual, which at all times hereafter ſhall be called by the name of Maſters or Governours of the Myſtery and Comminalty of Barbers and Surgeons of London for evermore, and by none other name: And by the ſame name to implead, and be impleaded before all manner of Juſtices, in all Courts, in all manner of actions and ſuits. And alſo to purchaſe, enjoy, and take, to them and to their ſucceſſors, all manner of lands, tenements, rents, and other poſſeſſions whatſoever they be, and alſo ſhall have a common Seal, to ſerve for the buſineſs of the ſaid Company and Corporation for ever. And by the ſame name, peaceably, quietly, and indifferently have, poſſeſs and enjoy, to them and to their ſucceſſors for ever, all ſuch lands, and tenements, and other hereditaments whatſoever, which the ſaid Company or Comminalty of Barbers have and enjoy, to the uſe of the ſaid Myſtery and Comminalty of Barbers of London. And alſo ſhall peaceably and quietly have and enjoy all and ſingular benefits, grants, liberties, priviledges, franchiſes, and free cuſtoms, and alſo all manner

By whom and at what time the Barbers of London were incorporate.

The benefit like to enſue by joyning the Barbers and Surgeons in one Company.

The Barbers and Surgeons of London made one Company and incorporated.

The Barbers and Surgeons in London ſhall be exempt from bearing of arms, or to be in watches or inqueſts.

manner of other things at any time given or granted unto the ſaid Companies of Barbers or Surgeons, by whatſoever name or names they or any of them were called, and which they or any of them now have, or any of their predeceſſors have had, by Acts of Parliament, letters patents of the Kings Highneſs, or other his moſt noble Progenitors, or otherwiſe by any lawful means had at any time afore this preſent Act, in as large and ample manner and form, as they or any of them have, had, might, or ſhould enjoy the ſame, this union or conjunction of the ſaid Companies together notwithſtanding. And as largely to have and enjoy the premiſſes, as if the ſame were, and had been ſpecially and particularly expreſſed, and declared with the beſt and moſt cleareſt words, and terms in the Law, to all intents and purpoſes. And that all perſons of the ſaid Company now incorporate by this preſent Act, and their ſucceſſors that ſhall be lawfully admitted and approved to occupy Surgery, after the form of the Statute in that caſe ordained and provided, ſhall be exempt from bearing of armour, or to be put in any watches or inqueſts: And that they and their ſucceſſors ſhall have the ſearch, overſight, puniſhment, and correction as well of freemen as of foreign, for ſuch offences as they or any of them ſhall commit, or do againſt the good order of Barbery or Surgery, as afore this time among the ſaid Myſtery and Company of Barbers of London, hath been uſed and accuſtomed, according to the good and politick Rules and Ordinances by them made, and approved by the Lords Chancellor, Treaſurer, and two chief Juſtices of either Bench, or any three of them, after the form of the Statute in that caſe after ordained and provided.

The Surgeons may take yearly four condemned perſons for Anatomies.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Maſters or Governours of the Myſtery and Comminalty of Barbers and Surgeons of London, and their ſucceſſors, yearly for ever, after their ſaid diſcretions, at their free liberty and pleaſure, ſhall and may have and take without contradiction, four perſons condemned, adjudged, and put to death for felony, by the due order of the Kings Laws of this Realm, for Anatomies, without any further ſuit or labour to be made to the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors for the ſame: And to make inciſion of the ſame dead bodies, or otherwiſe to order the ſame, after their ſaid diſcretions, at their pleaſures, for their further and better knowledge, inſtruction, inſight, learning, and experience in the ſaid ſcience or faculty of Surgery. Saving unto all perſons, their heirs and ſucceſſors, all ſuch right, title, intereſt, and demand, which they or any of them might lawfully claim to have in or to any of the lands and tenements, with the appurtenances belonging unto the ſaid Company of Barbers and Surgeons, or any of them, at any time afore the making of this Act, in as ample manner and form as they or any of them had or ought to have had heretofore; any thing in this preſent Act compriſed to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

No Barber in London ſhall uſe Surgery.

No Surgeon in London ſhall uſe the craft of ſhaving.

Every Surgeon in London ſhall have a ſign at his door.

And foraſmuch as ſuch perſons being of the myſtery or faculty of Surgery, oftentimes meddle, and take into their cure and houſes, ſuch ſick and diſeaſed perſons as been infected with the peſtilence, great pocks, and ſuch other contagious infirmities, do uſe or exerciſe Barbery, as waſhing, or ſhaving, and other feats thereunto belonging, which is very perilous for infecting the Kings liege people, reſorting to their ſhops and houſes, there being waſhed or ſhaven. Wherefore it is now enacted, ordained, and provided by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner perſon within the City of London, ſuburbs of the ſame, and one mile compaſs of the ſaid City of London, after the Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord God next coming, uſing any Barbery or ſhaving, or that hereafter ſhall uſe any Barbery or ſhaving within the ſaid City of London, ſuburbs, or one mile circuit of the ſame City of London, he nor they, nor none other for them, to his or their uſe, ſhall occupy any Surgery, letting of bloud, or any other thing belonging to Surgery, (drawing of teeth onely except.) And furthermore in like manner, whoſoever that uſeth the myſtery or craft of Surgery within the circuit aforeſaid, as long as he ſhall fortune to uſe the ſaid myſtery or craft of Surgery, ſhall in no wiſe occupy nor exerciſe the feat or craft of Barbery or ſhaving, neither by himſelf, nor by none other, for him, to his or their uſe: And moreover, that all manner of perſons uſing Surgery for the time being, as well freemen as foreigns, aliens and ſtrangers within the ſaid City of London, the ſuburbs thereof, and one mile compaſs of the ſame City of London, before the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel next coming, ſhall have an open ſign on the ſtreet ſide where they ſhall fortune to dwell, that all the Kings liege people there paſſing by, may know at all times whether to reſort for their remedies in time of neceſſity.

None ſhall be a Barber in London, but a free-man of that Company.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner of perſon after the ſaid Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel next coming, preſume to keep any ſhop of Barbery or ſhaving within the City of London, except he be a freeman of the ſame Corporation and Company.

Four Wardens ſhall be choſen, and their authority.

The forfeitures of the offendors.

And furthermore, at ſuch times as have been heretofore accuſtomed, there ſhall be choſen by the ſame company, four Maſters or Governours of the ſame Corporation or Company, of the which four, two of them ſhall be expert in Surgery, and the other two in Barbery; which four Maſters, and every of them, ſhall have full power and authority from time to time, during their ſaid Office, to have the overſight, ſearch, puniſhment, and correction of all ſuch defaults and inconveniences as ſhall be found among the ſaid Company uſing Barbery or Surgery, as well of freemen as foreigns, aliens and ſtrangers, within the City of London, and the circuits aforeſaid, after their ſaid diſcretions. And if any perſon or perſons uſing any Barbery or Surgery, at any time hereafter, offend in any of theſe articles aforeſaid: then for every moneth the ſaid perſons ſo offending ſhall loſe, forfeit and pay five pounds, the one moiety thereof to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other moiety to any perſon that will or ſhall ſue therefore by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any the Kings Courts, wherein no wager of law, eſſoin or protection ſhall be admitted or allowed in the ſame.

Provided, That the Barbers and Surgeons, and every of them, ſhall bear and pay lot and ſcot and ſuch other charges, as they and their predeceſſors have been accuſtomed to pay within the ſaid City of London; This Act nor any thing therein contained to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Any perſon may keep a Barber or Surgeon as his ſervant.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to any of the Kings ſubjects, not being Barber or Surgeon, to retain, have, and keep in his houſe, as his ſervant, any perſon being a Barber or Surgeon, which ſhall and may uſe and exerciſe thoſe arts and faculties of Barbery or Surgery, or either of them, in his maſters houſe or elſe-where by his maſters licence or commandment: Any thing in this Act above written to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. XLIII.

Seſſions ſhall be kept in Cheſter twice in the year onely.

27 H. 8. 5.

Where it is enacted and eſtabliſhed in the xxvij. year of our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, as well for the increaſe and augmentation of good rule and order to be had and done in the County Palatine of Cheſter, and other Shires, as for the adminiſtration of Juſtice among the Kings ſubjects there, That the Lord Chancellor of England, and the Lord Keeper of the Great Seal for the time being, ſhall have authority from time to time, to nominate and appoint Juſtices of Peace, Juſtices of Quorum, and Juſtices of Gaol-delivery, as well within the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, and other Shires, and parts of Wales, by Commiſſion under the Kings Great Seal, which perſons named, ſhall have power and authority to enquire, hear and determine all manner thing and things inquirable, preſentable, or determinable before Juſtices of Peace, Juſtices of Quorum, and Juſtices of Gaol-delivery in other Shires of this Realm of England, and to do, uſe, and execute every thing and things as other Juſtices of Peace, Quorum, and Gaol-delivery do in other Shires of England, and that they ſhall keep their Seſſions there, as they do in other Shires of England, upon like penalty as hath been ordained for ſuch abuſes in ſuch Juſtices in other Shires of England: any law, act, ſtatute, uſage, cuſtom, priviledge, preſcription or liberty to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding, as in the ſaid ſtatute made in yͤ ſaid xxvij. year amongſt other things more plainly appeareth. By reaſon of which Act it is now uſed to keep Seſſions in the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, as it is uſed in other Shires of England. Alſo it is uſed in the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, that the Juſticer of the ſame for the time being, hath yearly, time out of mind, uſed to keep the Shires or County days in manner and form following, (that is to ſay) one year viij. Shires or County days and another ix. Shires or County days, to the which the Gentlemen, free-holders, and ſuiters of the ſaid County, are bounden of ancient cuſtom and duty to appear and give their attendance to ſerve the King, which Shires and County days come very oftentimes in the year; And now by reaſon of the ſaid new Statute of Juſtices of Peace had in the ſaid County, the ſaid Gentlemen, free-holders, and ſuiters of the ſaid County being bounden of their ſaid old cuſtom and law, to give their attendance and apparance to the ſaid Shires and County days, are now bounden alſo to give their apparance and attendance at four quarter Seſſions, and other privy Seſſions in the ſaid County: By mean whereof the ſaid apparance and attendance cometh ſo often and thick together, that at many times they cannot depart from the one Court, and attend their buſineſs ſcarcely one day, or ſometimes leſs, but they muſt again ride to ſerve the other Court, which is too painful, chargeable, intollerable and importune, for any man to ſuſtain and abide. In conſideration whereof, be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth the Law and adminiſtration of Juſtice, and all other things in the ſaid County in times paſt uſed to be had at the ſaid Shire days, ſhall be holden, had, made, done and executed by the Juſticer of the ſaid County for the time being, at two times in the year onely, that is to wit, at the Seſſions next after the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, and at the Seſſions next after Eaſter yearly for ever, during ſo many days at every of the ſaid times as need ſhall require, in like manner and form as it is now uſed and executed in the County Palatine of Lancaſter. And that no action, ſuit or proceſs, now or hereafter to be depending in the ſaid Counties, ſhall be thereby diſcontinued, hurt, or impaired, nor any advantage therein to be taken by error, diſcontinuance of proceſs, ne otherwiſe, but the ſame to proceed after the ſame new order. And that from henceforth the ſaid old order, rule, and cuſtom in holding of the Counties or Shire days, ſhall utterly ceaſe, and determine for ever: Any act, ſtatute, preſcription, grant, uſage, cuſtom, priviledge, law, liberty, conſtitution, or confirmation heretofore had, made, accuſtomed, or uſed to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

In what manner Shire-days in the County of Cheſter had wont to be kept.

Seſſions ſhall be kept in the County of Cheſter twice in the year onely.

The old order of keeping the County days ſhall ceaſe.

XXXV. and to be paid yearly by ſuch as ſhould be appointed to have the collection thereof by the ſaid Act, in ſuch manner and form as hereafter ſhould be limited by the ſaid Act, before the firſt day of April yearly next enſuing after the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord God. And that every Archbiſhop, and Biſhop then being, or that hereafter ſhould be, ſhould be charged, and chargeable to levy, collect and receive within their proper Dioceſs, as well in places exempt, as not exempt, all ſuch ſums of money wherewith the Dignities, Benefices, and Promotions Spiritual afore named within their Dioceſs, chargeable by the ſaid Act, ſhould be ſet, taxed, and charged towards the payment of the ſaid yearly penſion, and ſhould pay and content the ſaid ſums of money yearly before the firſt day of April to the Treaſurer of the Kings Chamber for the time being, or to any other perſon or perſons, whom it ſhould pleaſe the Kings Highneſs to appoint to receive the ſame. And that every of the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops, their executors and adminiſtrators, and the poſſeſſions of their Dignities and Churches, ſhould ſtand charged, and chargeable for the ſure payment of ſuch ſums of money as they ſhould collect and receive of the ſaid yearly rent and penſion, as by the ſaid Act it doth more plainly appear.

Anno 27 H. 8. A Statute not imprinted exempteth the Biſhop of Norwich from collecting of Tenths in his Dioceſs.

And by like Act of Parliament holden in the xxvij. year of our ſaid Sovereign Lords Reign, the Biſhop of Norwich that now is, and his ſucceſſors, were clearly acquitted and diſcharged of, and for the collection of the ſaid yearly Tenth, that was then, or ſhould be due and leviable to the Kings uſe within the ſaid Dioceſs of Norwich, of any perſon or perſons, or bodies politick or corporate, chargeable to the yearly paiment of the ſaid Tenth, the Act made for the ſame collection of Tenth to the contrary notwithſtanding, as by the ſame Act it will appear. But foraſmuch as the Kings Highneſs in recompence of divers and ſundry Lordſhips and Manors, parcel of the ſaid Biſhoprick, given unto his Grace by Act of Parliament, hath united and knit to the See of the ſaid Biſhoprick of Norwich, the Monaſtery of St. Bennets, with divers other poſſeſſions, being of greater value then the ſaid Lordſhips and Manors ſo to his Grace given were;

The Biſhop of Norwich and his ſucceſſors ſhall collect the Tenth of all Spiritual promotions within his Dioceſs.

It may be by authority of this preſent Parliament ordained and enacted, That from henceforth the Biſhop of Norwich that now is, and his ſucceſſors, Biſhops there, and in the time of vacation of the ſaid Biſhoprick, the Dean and Chapiter of the Cathedral Church of Norwich ſhall collect and gather together the ſaid annual rent or penſion of all the Promotions Spiritual within the ſaid Dioceſs, as well in places exempt, as not exempt. And all and ſingular ſuch ſums of money ſo by him or them to be collected and gathered, to pay yearly to the hands of the Treaſurer of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths before the ſaid firſt day of April, and thereof yearly to accompt before the Barons of the Kings Exchequer, and to have like allowance and diſcharge upon the ſame accompt by the acquittance of the ſaid Treaſurer, as other Biſhops and Collectors of the ſaid Tenths have had or ſhall have: this Act made in the ſaid ſeven and twentieth year of our ſaid Sovereign Lords Reign to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. Stat. 1 El. 4.

CAP. XLVIII.

The owners of lands holden of the Caſtle of Dover, which are bound by their tenures to pay their rents at the ſaid Caſtle upon great penalties called Surſiſes, ſhall hereafter pay the ſame rents to the King in the Exchequer, in the day of Simon and Jude, or within fifteen days after. And he that maketh default at that time, ſhall pay double the rent. But he that is bound to build or repair there, ſhall do it accordingly. During the time that the King ſhall have any of the lands in his hands for Wardſhip, or primer ſeiſon, no rent ſhall be paid for Caſtle-ward to Dover. Clx. li. ſhall be quarterly paid every year to the Conſtable of the Caſtle of Dover, at the door of the common Hall in the City of Canterbury by the Kings general Receiver, to diſcharge Officers and Souldiers. The Conſtable of the Caſtle of Dover ſhall ſurvey and controll the Keepers and chief Officers of the Caſtles, Block-houſes, and Bulwarks in Kent and Suſſex, and all Officers, Souldiers, and Munitions there. A grant of a Subſidy, and raiſing a Preſident and Councel in the Weſtern parts, having like authority as the Councel of Wales, and the North. PR. Exp. Co. Inſt. 4 par. 246.

Anno triceſimo tertio Henrici Octavi.

HEnry the Eight by the Grace of God, King of England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and of the Church of England, and alſo of Ireland, in earth ſupreme Head, to the honour of Almighty God, and for the concord, quiet and wealth of this his Realm, and ſubjects of the ſame, held his moſt high Court of Parliament, begun at Weſtminſter the xvi. day of January, and continued till the firſt day of April, the three and thirtieth year of his moſt noble and victorious Reign, wherein were eſtabliſhed theſe Acts following.

CAP. I.

Puniſhment of him who getteth money into his hands of another perſons, under colour of a falſe token or counterfeit letter.

FOraſmuch as many light and evil diſpoſed perſons, not minding to get their livings by truth, according to the Laws of this Realm, but compaſſing and deviſing daily how they may unlawfully obtain, and get into their hands and poſſeſſion goods, cattel, and jewels of other perſons, for the maintenance of their unthrifty livings, and alſo knowing, that if they come to any of the ſame goods, cattels, and jewels by ſtealth, that then they being thereof lawfully convict according to the Laws of the Realm, ſhall die therefore: have now of late falſly and deceitfully contrived, deviſed and imagined, privy tokens, and counterfeit letters in other mens names, unto divers perſons their ſpecial friends and acquaintances, for the obtaining of money, goods, cattels, and jewels of the ſame perſons, their friends and acquaintances, by colour whereof, the ſaid light and evil diſpoſed perſons have deceitfully and unlawfully obtained and gotten great ſubſtance of money, goods, cattels, and jewels into their hands and poſſeſſions, contrary to right and conſcience.

The puniſhment of him that doth get into his hands any money or goods of anothers by a falſe token or, &c.

For reformation whereof, be it ordained and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon or perſons, of what eſtate or degree ſoever he or they be, at any time after the firſt day of April next coming, falſely and deceitfully obtain, or get into his or their hands or poſſeſſion, any money, goods, cattels, jewels, or other things, of any other perſon or perſons, by colour and means of any ſuch falſe token, or counterfeit letter made in any other mans name, as is aforeſaid, That then every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo offending, and being thereof lawfully convict, by witneſſes taken before the Lord Chancellor of England for the time being, or by examination of witneſſes, or confeſſion taken in the Star-chamber at Weſtminſter before the Kings moſt honourable Council, or before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their circuits for the time being, or before the Juſtices of Peace within any part of the Kings Dominions in their general Seſſions, or by action in any of the Kings Courts of Record, ſhall have and ſuffer ſuch correction and puniſhment, by impriſonment of his body, ſetting upon the Pillory, or otherwiſe by any corporal pain (except pains of death) as ſhall be unto him or them limited, adjudged or appointed, by the perſon or perſons before whom he ſhall be ſo convict of the ſaid offences, or of any of them.

The Juſtices authority touching the ſaid offenders.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That as well the Juſtices of Aſſiſe for the time being, as alſo two Juſtices of Peace in every County, whereof the one to be of the Quorum, ſhall have full power and authority to call and convent by Proceſs, or otherwiſe, to the ſaid Aſſiſes or general Seſſions, any perſon or perſons being ſuſpected of any of the offences aforeſaid, and to commit him or them to ward, or let him or them to bail till the next Aſſiſes, or general Seſſions, there to be examined, and further to be ordered by their diſcretions, as is aboveſaid.

The authority of Juſtices of Peace in Cities, &c.

Provided always, and be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That Juſtices of the Peace within every City, Borough, Town, and Franchiſe within this Realm, or other the Kings Dominions, ſhall have like juriſdiction, power and authority, at their general Seſſions, and otherwiſe to do and execute all and every thing and things, in all points, as other Juſtices of the Aſſiſes in their circuits, or Juſtices of the Peace in the Counties, by vertue of this Act, be limited and appointed to do and execute for the puniſhment and correction of like offendors, as by this foreſaid Act is ſpecified and declared. Saving to the party grieved by ſuch deceit, ſuch remedy by way of action or otherwiſe, of and for the ſame money, goods, cattels, jewels, or other things ſo obtained, as he might have had, if this Act had never been had ne made, any thing in the ſame contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The remedy of the party grieved.

The Kings Councel of Calice.

Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Kings Highneſs Councel of his Town of Calice, or three of them for the time being, ſhall have ſuch and like authority, for the examination, bailment, and puniſhment of ſuch offendor or offendors, and for ſuch offences hereafter to be committed and done within the Town and marches of Calice, and County of Guiſnes, as the aforeſaid Juſtices of Aſſiſe, or Juſtices of Peace, have by force of this Act within their juriſdictions and authorities.

CAP. II.

Whoſoever ſhall buy any freſh fiſh (except Sturgeon, Porpoſe, and Seal) of any ſtranger in the parts of Flanders, Zealand, Picardy, or France, or upon the Sea between Shore and Shore, or in any place beyond the Sea, to put to ſale to any perſon within this Realm, ſhall forfeit for every time ten pounds. But this ſhall not extend to any perſons which ſhall buy fiſh in any part of Iſeland, Scotland, Orkney, Shotland, Ireland, or Newland. Exp. Stat. 1 M. 13. St. 23 El. 7. 27 El. 15. 39 El. 10.

CAP. III.

Welſh Clothes called Whites, Ruſſets and Kennets, ſhall be folded either in pleats or cuttles.

Folding of clothes in North-wales which are to be ſold.

Where a certain kind and ſort of Welſh Clothes, called Whites, Ruſſets, and Kennets, made and wrought in North-wales, and Orceſter hundred, adjoyning to North-wales, of long time have been, and be ſo craftily and hard rolled together, that the buyer thereof cannot perceive nor diſcern the untrue making and breadth thereof, to the great hurt, deceit and impoveriſhing of the Kings true and loving ſubjects. For remedy whereof be it enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed, by the King our Sovereign Lord, his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That all and every the ſaid Clothes, from and after the Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt next coming, that ſhall be brought to any common Markets or Fairs, to be uttered and ſold, ſhall be folded either in pleats or cuttles, as the Clothes of all other Countries of this Realm commonly have been uſed, and be uſed, to the intent that the buyers thereof may plainly ſee and perceive the breadth and goodneſs of ſuch Cloth and Clothes as he ſhall buy. And that every piece of the ſaid Clothes, which after the ſaid Feaſt ſhall be brought to any Market or Fair to be uttered and ſold contrary to the form aforeſaid, ſhall be forfeited, that is to ſay, The moiety or one half thereof to the uſe of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, and the other moiety thereof to any of the Kings ſubjects which will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record, by action of debt, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe, wherein the defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his Law, nor any protection, nor eſſoin, nor any other delatory plea admitted or allowed.

CAP. IV.

The goodneſs of Pewter and Braſs, and in what places it ſhall be ſold or changed.

Stat. 25 H. 8. 9.

Where at the Parliament begun at London the third day of November, in the one and twentieth year of the Reign of the King our Sovereign Lord, and from thence adjourned to Weſtminſter, and there holden, and from that time continued by divers prorogations unto the fifteenth day of January, the xxv. year of his moſt noble Reign: it was ordained and eſtabliſhed by the aſſent of the Kings Majeſty, his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in the ſaid Parliament then aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That no perſon nor perſons, from that time then inhabiting, or which after that time ſhould inhabit within this Realm, ſhould buy, or otherwiſe take by exchange for other wares, any manner wares made, or hereafter to be made out of this Realm, of Tin, or mixt with Tin, as platters, diſhes, ſaucers, pots, baſons, ewers, flaggons, goblets, ſalts, ſaltcellers, ſpoons, or any other thing made of Tin or Pewter, as aforeſaid, whatſoever it were, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame wares, in whoſe hands ſoever it might be found or taken, and alſo lawful money currant in this Realm, to the full value thereof, the one half of the ſame forfeiture to be to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs, and the other half to be to the uſe of the finders of the ſame.

None ſhall buy wares made of Tin out of the Realm.

Searchers of wares made of Tin brought into this Realm.

And further it was enacted, That it ſhould be lawful to the Maſter and Wardens of the Pewterers, as well within the City of London, as within every other City, Borough or Town within this Realm, where ſuch Wardens were, and, where no ſuch Wardens were, to the head Officer or Governour, head Officers or Governours of the ſame City, Borough, or Town for the time being, to appoint divers perſons moſt expert in knowledge of the ſame, to make ſearch and ſeiſure, and to take into their hands and poſſeſſion, all ſuch wares, as thereafter ſhould be brought, contrary to the true intent and effect of the ſaid Act, in whoſeſoever hands or poſſeſſions any ſuch ſhould be found.

No Pewterer ſhall take a ſtranger born to be his Prentice, &c.

And it was alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, occupying the ſaid craft or occupation of Pewterers within this Realm, ſhould ſet on work, or retain in his or their ſervice, any perſon or perſons to his or their Prentice or Journeymen, eſtranger born out of this Realm, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch Prentice and Journeyman x. li. ſterling: And that no ſtranger born out of this Realm, ſhould occupy, exerciſe or uſe, from the Feaſt of Penticoſt then next coming, the ſaid craft of Pewterers, ne work any manner of veſſels, or other ware aforeſaid, to be made of Tin or Pewter, within any place or places of this Realm, upon pain of forfeiture of x. li. ſterling, and alſo upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame Pewter or Tin ſo wrought, in whoſe hands ſoever it ſhould be found or taken.

No ſtranger born ſhall work any Pewter or Tin.

No Pewterer ſhall teach this trade in a foreign Realm.

And it was further enacted by the ſaid authority, That no perſon nor perſons being born within this Realm, then occupying or exerciſing the ſaid craft of Pewterers, ſhould from thenceforth reſort into any ſtrange Regions or Countreys, there to uſe, teach or exerciſe the ſaid craft of Pewterers, upon pain to loſe the priviledge and benefit of an Engliſhman. And if in caſe any of the Kings ſubjects, at that time dwelling in any ſtrange Countrey or Region, and there occupying the ſaid craft of Pewterers, did not repair into this Realm within three moneths next after requeſt and warning to him to be given by writing, ſealed with the common ſeal of the Wardens of the ſaid craft within the ſaid City of London, and here in this Realm continually from thenceforth dwell and inhabit, that then, and from thenceforth he ſhould be reputed and taken as no Engliſhman, but ſhould ſtand and be from thenceforth out of the Kings protection.

And it was then further enacted, That where ſundry evil diſpoſed perſons, which commonly were called Haukers, by authority of the Kings Letters Patents, or Placard, did not onely go about from place to place within this Realm, uſing buying and ſelling of Braſs and Pewter, and by colour and pretence of the ſame Licences or Placards, did not onely uſe unlawful and deceivable weights and beams, but alſo did uſe to ſell both Braſs and Pewter, which was not good, nor truly or lawfully mixt or wrought, to the great deceit of the Kings true liege people, contrary to the form and effect of a good and laudable act and ſtatute, made in the iv. year of the Kings ſaid moſt noble reign, That all ſuch licences and placards afore that time had, made or granted to any ſuch perſon or perſons, contrary to the true meaning, form and effect of the ſaid eſtatute, ſhould be from thenceforth by the authority of the ſaid Parliament cleerly void and of none effect. And whereas in the ſaid Act of Parliament concerning the ſaid craft of Pewterers and Braſiers, made in the ſaid iv. year, for divers cauſes and conſiderations in the ſame Act contained, amongſt other things it was expreſſed, that no perſon nor perſons, uſing the ſaid craft of Pewterers or Braſiers, ſhould from henceforth ſell or change any pewter or braſs, new or old, at any place or places within this Realm, but onely in open fairs or markets, or in their own dwelling houſes, except they were deſired by the buyers of ſuch wares, upon pain of forfeiture of every ſuch default x. li. And ſo then the ſame forfeiture being to the onely uſe of the Kings Highneſs, and the party ſearching or finding the ſame, not being intituled to have any benefit thereby, it was not known, that any perſon or perſons had taken any pains to enſearch or make any enquiry thereof, by reaſon whereof, divers and many evil diſpoſed perſons, then uſing buying and ſelling as well of braſs as pewter, and not regarding the ſaid good Act, nor the ſaid penalty, went daily about from village to village, town to town, and from houſe to houſe, to ſell ſuch pewter and braſs which was not good, and alſo uſed deceivable weights and beams, as they did before the making of the ſaid Act, to the great hurt and deceit of the Kings true liege people and ſubjects. Wherefore it was enacted by the authority of the ſaid Parliament, that as well the moyety of the ſaid forfeiture of x. li. limited in the ſaid ſtatute, made in the ſaid iv. year, as alſo the moyety of all other forfeitures and penalties expreſſed and ſpecified in the ſaid Acts, and every of them, ſhould be to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors and the other moyety of the ſame forfeitures and penalties, and every of them, to the uſe of him or them that would ſeiſe, find, or preſent the ſame forfeitures, or any of them, or that would ſue for the ſame in any competent Court or Courts within this Realm, by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, wherein the defendant ſhould in no wiſe be admitted to wage his law, or any protection or eſſoin to any perſon or perſons, which ſhould be impeached to have offended contrary to the form and effect of this eſtatute, ſhould be allowable, as in the ſaid Act more plainly appeareth, which Act was appointed to endure only to the end of the next Parliament then next following: and which Act was after renewed in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the xxviii. year of the reign of our ſaid Soveraign Lord, to endure to the end of the next Parliament then next following: and which Act was alſo renewed at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the xxxi. and xxxii. years of our ſaid Soveraign Lords reign, to endure until the laſt day of the next Parliament then next enſuing.

Licences and placards made to bauhers of Pewter ſhall be void. 4 H. 8. 7.

Pewter and Braſs ſhall be ſold onely in Fairs or Markets, or in their own houſes.

Who ſhall have the penalties forfeited by the Stat. of 4 H. 8. 7. & 25 H. 8. 9 and by what means they ſhall be recovered.

28 H. 8. 9.

31 H. 8. 7.

Prayen therefore in this preſent Parliament, our ſaid Soveraign Lords true and obedient Subjects, the Pewterers of this his ſaid Realm, and other the true Commons of the ſame, becauſe the ſame Act is beneficial and neceſſary for the Common-wealth of this Realm: That it may be enacted by the King our ſaid Soveraign Lord, the Lords Spiritual & Temporal; & other the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, for as much as the ſame Act, and every thing therein contained, is good and beneficial to the Common wealth of this Realm, that all and every the ſaid acts and ſtatutes, and all and every article, ſentence and clauſe compriſed in the ſame, may from henceforth ſtand, and abide in full ſtrength, and effect for evermore from henceforth to endure, according to the purport, tenor and effect of the ſame act and acts, as though the ſaid articles, ſentences and clauſes were ſpecially limited, recited or declared in this preſent Act.

The Statute 25 H. 8. 9. made perpetual.

And that no perſon ne perſons from henceforth buy or take by exchange, or othewiſe take into, or within this Realm, to the intent to ſell any ſuch things or wares above rehearſed, made or to be made out of this Realm, upon pain of like forfeitures and penalties, as are and were expreſſed in the ſaid ſeveral Acts, the ſame penalties and forfeitures to be levied as is afore expreſſed.

And that it may be further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons do unlawfully withſtand, interrupt, diſturb, or let the Maſter and Wardens, or their deputies of the ſaid craft of Pewterers for the time being, or the head Officer or Governour, head Officers or Governours of Cities, Towns and Boroughs within this Realm, wherein no ſuch Maſter and Wardens are, or ſhall be, or any of them, in ſearching, ſeiſing, and taking into their hands and poſſeſſions, ſuch wares as ſhall happen to be bought, or brought into this Realm, contrary to the purport and effect of the ſaid eſtatute made in the ſaid xxv. year of the reign of our ſaid Soveraign Lord, that then every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo offending, in letting, diſturbing, or withſtanding the ſaid ſeiſure or taking of ſuch wares, as is aforeſaid, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every time ſo doing, the ſum of v. li. ſterling, the one half whereof ſhould be to the Kings uſe, and the other half to him or them that will or ſhall ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, writ, bill, plaint or information in any of the Kings Courts of Record. In which action or ſuit, no protection, priviledge, or wager of law ſhall be allowed nor admitted.

The penalty for withſtanding or letting of ſearching or ſeiſing of pewter, &c.

Who may ſhoot in Gun or Croſsbow, and who not.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the fifteenth day of January, in the five and twentieth year of the Kings moſt gracious reign, and there continued and kept

Stat. 25 H. 8. 17.

Inconveniences enſuing the uſe of croſſe-bows and hand-guns.

until the xxx.day of March then next enſuing, among divers and ſundry wholeſome and laudable acts, ſtatutes and ordinances, one ſtatute and ordinance was made and ordained for the avoiding and eſchewing of ſhooting in croſſ-bows and hand-guns: Since the making of which Act, divers malicious and evil diſpoſed perſons, not onely preſuming wilfully and obſtinately the violation and breach of the ſaid Act, but alſo of their malicious and evil diſpoſed minds and purpoſes, have wilfully and ſhamefully committed, perpetrated and done divers deteſtable and ſhameful murders, robberies, felonies, riots and routs, with croſſ-bows, little ſhort hand-guns, and little hagbuts, to the great peril and continual fear and danger of the Kings moſt loving Subjects, and alſo divers Keepers of Foreſts, Chaſes, and Parks, as well of our ſaid Soveraign Lord, as other his Nobles and Commons; and divers Gentlemen, Yeomen and Servingmen now of late have laid apart the good and laudable exerciſe of the Long-bow, which always heretofore hath been the ſurety, ſafeguard, and continual defence of this Realm of England, and an ineſtimable dread and terror to the enemies of the ſame. And now of late the ſaid evil diſpoſed perſons have uſed, and yet do daily uſe to ride and go in the Kings high-ways, and elſewhere, having with them croſſ-bows, and little hand-guns, ready furniſhed with quarrels, gunpowder, fire and touch, to the great peril and fear of the Kings moſt loving ſubjects. For reformation whereof, be it enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame in manner and form following, that is to ſay, That no perſon or perſons, of what eſtate or degree he or they be, except he or they in their own right, or in the right of his or their wives, to his or their own uſes, or any other to the uſe of any ſuch perſon or perſons, have lands, tenements, fees, annuities, or offices, to the yearly value of one C. pounds, from or after the laſt day of June next coming, ſhall [a] ſhoot in any croſſ-bow, hand-gun, hagbut, or demy-hake, or uſe to keep in his or their houſes, or elſewhere, any croſſ-bow, hand-gun, hagbut, or demy-hake, otherwiſe, or in any other manner then is hereafter in this preſent Act declared, upon pain to forfeit for every time that he or they ſo offend contrary to this Act, x.li.

Who may keep or ſhoot in a gun or croſſe-bow, and who not.
Stat. 2.3 E.6.4.

Of what length a hand gun, hagbut, and demy-hake ſhall be.

And furthermore be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, of what eſtate or degree ſoever he or they be, from or after the ſaid laſt day of June, ſhall ſhoot in, carry, keep, uſe or have in his houſe, or elſewhere, any hand-gun, other then ſuch as ſhall be in the ſtock and gun of the length of one whole yard; or any hagbut or demy-hake, other then ſuch as ſhall be in the ſtock and gun of the length of three quarters of one yard, upon pain to forfeit for every time that he or they ſhall ſhoot in, carry, uſe or have any ſuch gun, being not of the length of one whole yard, or hagbut or demy hake, being not of the length of three quarters of a yard, ten pound ſterling. And that it may be lawful to every perſon and perſons which have lands, tenements, fees, annuities, or offices, to the yearly value of C. li. as is aforeſaid, to ſeize and take every ſuch croſſ-bow, and alſo every hand-gun being in ſtock and gun ſhorter in length then one whole yard, and every hagbut and demy-hake being ſhorter in length then three quarters of a yard, or any of them, from the keeping or poſſeſſion of every ſuch offender contrary to the form of this Act; and the ſame croſſ-bow or croſſ-bows to keep and retain to his or their own uſe; and alſo the ſame hand-guns, hagbuts and demy-hakes ſo ſeized and taken, within twenty days next after the ſame ſeizure or taking, to break and deſtroy, upon pain of xl. s. for every gun ſo ſeized, and not broken and deſtroyed; and the ſame ſo broken and deſtroyed, to keep and retain to his or their own uſe.

He that hath C.li. by year, may take the croſſ-bow or gun from another.

No perſon ſhall carry a gun charged.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, other then ſuch as have lands, tenements, rents, fees, annuities, or offices, to the yearly value of C. li. as is aforeſaid, from or after the ſaid laſt day of June, ſhall carry or have in his or their journey, going or riding in the Kings high-ways, or elſewhere, any croſſ-bow bent, or gun charged or furniſhed with powder, fire, or touch for the ſame, except it be in time and ſervice of war, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch offence x. li, this preſent Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Shooting in a Market-town with a gun.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, from the ſaid laſt day of June, ſhall in any wiſe ſhoot in or with any hand-gun, demy-hake, or hagbut, at any thing at large, within any City, Borough, or Market-town, nor within one quarter of a mile of any City, Borough, or Market-town, except it be at a butt or bank of earth, in place convenient, or for the defence of his perſon or houſe, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch ſhoot x. li. this preſent Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

No man ſhall command his ſervant to ſhoot.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, of what eſtate or degree ſoever he or they be, ſhall from or after the ſaid laſt day of June, command any of his or their ſervants to ſhoot in any croſſ-bow, hand-gun, hagbut or demy-hake of his or their ſaid Maſters, or of any other perſons, at any Deer, Fowl, or other thing, except it be onely at a butt or bank of earth, or in the time of war, as is abovesaid, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch offence ten pounds. The one moyety of all which forfeitures and penalties in this preſent Act above ſpecified, ſhall be to the King our Soveraign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moyety thereof to the party that will ſue for the ſame by bill, plaint, action of debt, or information in any of the Kings Courts of Record, in which ſuit no eſſoin, protection, nor wager of law ſhall be allowed.

Shooting at a butt or bank of earth.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authorithy aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful from henceforth to all Gentlemen, Yeomen, and Servingmen of every Lord Spiritual and Temporal, and of all Knights, Eſquires and Gentlemen, and to all inhabitants of Cities, Boroughs and Market-towns of this Realm of England, to ſhoot with any hand-gun, demy-hake, or hagbut, at any butt or bank of earth, onely in place convenient for the ſame, ſo that every ſuch hand-gun, demy-hake, and hagbut be of the ſeveral lengths aforeſaid, and not under. And that it ſhall be lawful to every of the ſaid Lord and Lords, Knights, Eſquires, and Gentlemen, and the inhabitants of every City, Borough, and Market-town, to have and keep in every of their houſes any ſuch hand-gun or hand-guns of the length of one whole yard, or any hagbut or demy-hake of the length of three quarters of a yard, as is aforeſaid, and not under, to the intent to uſe and ſhoot in the ſame at a butt or bank of earth onely, as is aboveſaid, whereby they and every of them by the exerciſe thereof in form aboveſaid, may the better aid and aſſiſt to the defence of this Realm, when need ſhall require; this preſent Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

These may keep in their houſes guns of a lawful length.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to every perſon and perſons, which dwelleth and inhabiteth in any houſe ſtanding and being ſet diſtant two furlongs from any City, Borough, or Town, to keep and have in his ſaid houſe, for the onely defence of the ſame, hand-guns, hagbuts, and demy-hakes, being of the ſeveral lengths aforeſaid, and not under, and to uſe and exerciſe to ſhoot in the ſame at any butt or bank of earth near to his houſe, and not otherwiſe; any thing contained in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

He that dwelleth in a houſe ſtanding two furlongs from a Town.

And furthermore, the Kings moſt loving ſubjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, moſt humbly do beſeech the Kings Majeſty, that it be further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Letters Patents, Fraternities, and alſo all other placards, licences, and bills aſſigned, heretofore had, made, or ſigned by his Highneſs, or by any other authorized by his Highneſs Letters Patents under his Great Seal to give licence and placard to ſhoot in croſſ-bows and hand-guns, or any of them, ſhall be, from and after the ſaid laſt day of June, fruſtrate, void, and of none effect.

Placards of licence to ſhoot in croſſ-bows, &c. void.

And alſo that it may be further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid xxv. year of the Kings moſt gracious Reign, and all other Statutes heretofore made and provided for the avoiding and reſtraint of ſhooting in croſſ-bows and hand-guns, or for any of them, or for the uſing and keeping of the ſame, be from henceforth utterly void, and of none effect.

All ſtatutes for ſhooting in croſſ-bows and guns repealed

Provided always, That every proceſs, ſuit or information, conceived, commenced, and now depending, for any offence done contrary to the form of the ſaid Statute, made in the ſaid five and twentieth year of the Kings moſt noble Reign, or of any other Statute, made, provided for and concerning the ſhooting in croſſ-bows and hand-guns, not repealed, and for the keeping of the ſame, ſhall be as good and effectual to the parties that have commenced the ſame, and ſhall ſtand and be in ſuch form, effect, degree and condition, as if this Act had never been made.

Provided alſo, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, be not in any wiſe hurtful or prejudicial to any perſon or perſons, now being, or that hereafter ſhall be appointed by the Kings Highneſs to keep, receive or take any croſſ-bows or hand-guns that ſhall be forfeited or taken within the precinct or liberty of the Kings foreſts, parks, or chaſes; but that he or they may lawfully keep and retain the ſame croſſ-bows or hand-guns from time to time, until ſuch time as the further pleaſure of the Kings Highneſs in that behalf be to every ſuch perſons ſhewed and declared.

Receiver of croſſ-bows forfeit to the King.

Provided alſo, That this Act extend not to the makers of croſſ-bows or hand-guns, but that they may lawfully keep croſſ-bows and hand-guns, hagbuts and demy-hakes in their houſes, and ſhoot in the ſame, onely for proving and aſſaying of them, at a butt or bank of earth, in a place convenient, and not otherwiſe; ſo that the ſaid hand-guns, hagbuts and demy-hakes be of the ſeveral lengths in ſtock and gun as is above limited.

Croſſ-bow and hand-gun makers.

Provided alſo, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, extend not, or be prejudicial to any Merchants which have or ſhall have any croſſ-bows, hand-guns, hagbuts, and demy-hakes, or any of them, to ſell within this Realm, and to none other uſe, ſo that the ſame hand-guns, hagbuts and demy-hakes be of the ſeveral lengths in gun and ſtock, as is above limited, and not under.

Merchants having to ſell croſſ-bows, &c.

Provided alſo, That no manner of perſon run in any danger, or take hurt by reaſon of any penalty or forfeiture contained in this Act, until ſuch time as proclamation be made of the ſame Act within the County where the party that ſhall or may offend contrary to this Act dwelleth, by the ſpace of twenty days next after the making of the ſaid proclamation.

Proclamation made in the County.

Provided alſo, That if any manner of perſon bring or cauſe to be brought with him into his lodging, or in or to any other mans houſe, any croſſ-bow or hand-gun, that then the penalty and forfeiture, if any ſuch be or hereafter ſhall be forfeited by reaſon of this Act, to run and be onely upon the bringer of the ſaid croſſ-bow and hand-gun, and not to the owner of the ſame lodging or houſe, if the ſaid owner of the ſaid lodging or houſe cauſe the bringer thereof to take and to carry away the ſaid croſſ-bow or hand-gun again with him at his departing; any thing in this Act made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

One bringing a croſſ-bow, or, &c. into anothers houſe.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon or perſons from or after the laſt day of June next coming, ſee, or find any perſon or perſons offending, or doing contrary to the form and effect of this preſent Act, that then it ſhall be lawful to every ſuch perſon or perſons, perceiving, finding or ſeeing any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo offending contrary to this Act, to arreſt and attach every ſuch offender or offenders, and to bring or convey the ſame to the next Juſtice of the Peace of the ſame County where the ſame offender or offenders ſhall be found ſo offending. And that the ſame Juſtice of the Peace, upon a due examination, and proof thereof before him had or made, by his diſcretion, ſhall have full power and authority to ſend or commit the ſame offender or offenders to the next Goal, there to remain till ſuch time as the ſaid penalty or forfeiture ſhall be truly contented and payed by the ſaid offender: The one moyety of the ſame penalty to be payed to the Kings Highneſs, and the other moyety thereof to the firſt bringer or conveyer of the ſaid offender to the ſame Juſtice of Peace.

Any may bring the offender to a Juſtice of Peace.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, do at any time hereafter obtain, get or purchaſe of the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors, any placard, licence or bill aſſigned, to ſhoot in any croſs-bow, hand-gun, hagbut, or demy-hake, contrary to the tenor, purport and effect of this preſent Act, that then there ſhall be contained in every ſuch placard, licence, and bill aſſigned, at what beaſts, fowls, or other things, the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo obtaining any ſuch placard, licence, or bill aſſigned, ſhall ſhoot at, with any croſs-bow, hand-gun, hagbut, or demy-hake; or elſe that every ſuch placard, licence and bill aſſigned, hereafter to be obtained, gotten or purchaſed, ſhall be clearly void, fruſtrate, and of none effect.

In every placard granted to ſhoot in croſs-bow, &c. there ſhall be contained at what beaſts or fowls he ſhall ſhoot.

And alſo that every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo obtaining any ſuch placard, licence, or bill aſſigned, before they ſhoot in any ſuch croſs-bow, hand-gun, hagbut, or demy-hake, in any ſuch manner or form as ſhall be mentioned in any ſuch placard, licence, or bill aſſigned, ſhall be bounden in the Kings Court of Chancery by recogniſance, in the ſum of twenty pound, to the Kings uſe, with and upon condition, that he ſo obtaining or having the ſaid licence, placard, or bill aſſigned, ſhall not ſhoot in any croſs-bow, hand-gun, hagbut, or demy-hake, at any other beaſts or fowls, then in any ſuch placard, licence, or bill aſſigned, ſhall be contained and ſpecified; and elſe all ſuch placards, licences, and bills aſſigned, ſo hereafter to be made to any perſon or perſons, not being ſo bounden by recogniſance in the Court of Chancery, as is aforeſaid, to be utterly void, and of none effect.

Who may enquire of and puniſh offenders.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to all Juſtices of the Peace in their Seſſions, and to all Stewards and Bailiffs in their ſeveral Leets and Lawdays, to enquire, hear and determine every ſuch offence, after the ſaid laſt day of June to be committed and done contrary to the tenor of this preſent Act; ſo that always no leſs fine then ten pounds be aſſeſſed upon every ſuch preſentment and conviction made according to the due courſe of the Law, the ſame fine ſo by the ſame Juſtices of Peace upon every ſuch preſentment and conviction made before them in their Seſſions, to be paid and levied onely to the Kings uſe: and the one moyety of every fine to be aſſeſſed by the Steward or Bailiffs of any Leet or Lawday upon every preſentment or conviction before them to be made, to be paid and levied to the uſe of the King our Soveraign Lord; and the other moyety, the one half to the owner of the ſaid Leet or Lawday, by diſtreſs or action of debt, and the other half of the ſame ſecond moyety of the ſame fine to be to the party that will purſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts, by bill, plaint, information, or action of debt, in the which none eſſoin, protection, nor wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

Who ſhall have the forfeitures, and by what means they ſhall receive them.

Wilful concealment of the Jury ſhall be enquired of by another Jury.

And be it further enacted, That if any Jury, being ſworn and charged to enquire for the King our Soveraign Lord, before any Juſtices of the Peace, or Stewards of Leets or Lawdays, of any offences committed or done contrary to this preſent Act, do wilfully conceal any of the ſame offences; that then the ſaid Juſtices, Stewards or Bailiffs, before whom any concealment ſhall be had and done, ſhall have authority, by vertue of this preſent Act, from time to time, to charge and ſwear another Jury of twelve or moe good and ſubſtantial honeſt perſons, to enquire of every ſuch concealment: And if any ſuch concealment be found and and preſented by the ſaid Jury ſo charged to enqnire of the ſame, that then every one of the ſaid firſt Jury that ſo did conceal the ſame, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every ſuch concealment of every ſuch offence, twenty ſhillings. All which forfeitures and penalties of twenty ſhillings, for every ſuch concealment of every ſuch ſoffence, ſo found and preſented before the ſame Juſtices of Peace, ſhall wholly be levied and paid to the Kings uſe.

And the moyety of all the ſame forfeitures and penalties of twenty ſhillings, ſo found and preſented before the Steward or Bailiffs of any Leet or Lawday, ſhall be levied and paid to the uſe of the owner of the ſaid Leet or Lawday, by diſtreſs or action of debt; and the other moyety thereof to [illegible] to the party or parties that will ſue for the ſame by action, information, bill, or plaint, in any of the Kings Courts, in the which actions, informations, bills, or plaints, no wager of law, eſſoin, nor protection ſhall be allowed.

Within what time a ſuit ſhall be commenced againſt an offender, by the King, or any other.

Provided alway, and it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons hereafter in any part do offend or do contrary to the purview and remedy of this Act, whereupon cauſe of action for the ſame offence ſhall be given to the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, or to any other perſon or perſons that will ſue by vertue of this Act, for yͤ puniſhment of the ſaid offence or forfeits; that if the King our Soveraign Lord, his Heirs or Succeſſors within one year next and immediately after ſuch offences & forfeits had & made, do not purſue their action or actions ſo given by this Act, or cauſe examination upon ſuch defaults and offences to be had and made before their Counſel, or other preſentments thereof to be had, according to the meaning of the ſame Act: and every other perſon which hereafter by vertue of this Act may have action or actions, ſuit or information upon this Statute, within half a year next and immediately after ſuch offences or forfeits had & made, do not commence their ſuits, informations, actions, or preſentments of, and upon the ſaid forfeits, by action, or otherwiſe, as in this preſent Act is limited and declared; that then as well the King our Soveraign Lord, his Heirs & Succeſſors, after one year next after ſuch offences & forfeits had & made, if no ſuit in his or their name be taken by action or otherwiſe, as is before expreſſed, before the ſame year ended and determined, as every other perſon after half a year next after like offences and forfeits had and done in the form aforeſaid, if no ſuit thereupon be taken by none of them in form above declared, be utterly excluded and debarred of their ſaid ſuits, actions, informations and examinations, to them given by vertue of this ſaid Act; and the parties, and every of them ſo offending, ſhall be of all ſuch offences and forfeits clearly diſcharged and quit, any thing in this Act compriſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this preſent Act, ne any thing therein contained, ſhall in any wiſe extend or be prejudicial unto the Kings ſubjects reſident or inhabiting near unto the coaſts of the ſea, in any part of this Realm, their houſes being not above five miles diſtant from the ſame coaſts: Nor alſo to any of the Kings ſaid ſubjects inhabiting within twelve miles of the borders of Scotland; nor to any the Kings ſubjects inhabitants of the Town and marches of Calice, nor to any of the inhabitants of the Iſles of Gerſey, Gerneſey, Angleſey, and the Iſles of Wight and Man; but that it ſhall be lawful for every of the ſaid inhabitants, at all times hereafter, to have, exerciſe, and uſe their hand-guns, hagbuts, and demy-hakes, of the lengths abovesaid, within the limits and Iſles abovesaid, ſo that it be at no manner of Deer, Hearon, Shovelard, Feſant, Partrich, Wildſwine, or wild Elke, or any of them, this preſent Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Dwellers within xii. miles of Scotland. Rep. 4 Jac. 1. The inhabitants of certain places priviledged.

Provided alſo, That this Act, ne any thing therein contained, be in any wiſe hurtful or prejudicial to any ſervant or perſon that hereafter, from the ſaid laſt day of June, ſhall bend, bear, carry, charge, uſe, or aſſay any croſs-bow, or any hand-gun, demy-hake, or hagbut, of the lengths aboveſaid, by the commandment of his Lord or Maſter, ſo that the ſaid ſervant or perſon do not ſhoot at any fowl, deer, or other game, of what kind or nature ſoever they be of: Nor alſo to any ſuch ſervant, perſon or perſons, that ſhall, after the ſaid laſt day of June, bear or convey any croſs-bow, hand-gun, hagbut, or demy-hake, of the lengths aforeſaid, to any place or places, by the commandment of his Lord or Maſter that may ſhoot by authority of this Act, to be amended, repaired, delivered or aſſayed, ſo that the ſaid ſervant or other perſon ſo bringing or conveying the ſaid croſs-bow, hand-gun, hagbut, or demy-hake, have ready to ſhew to every perſon requiring the ſight thereof, one licence in writing ſealed or ſubſcribed by his ſaid Lord or Maſter, to carry and convey the ſame croſs-bow, hand-gun, hagbut, or demy-hake, to the intent to be amended, repaired, aſſayed or delivered, as is aforeſaid.

A ſervant charging a gun by the commandment of his maſter.

A ſervant having licence in writing may carry his maſters gun.

Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any owner of any ſhip, for having or keeping of any hand-gun, hagbut, or demy-hake, of the ſeveral lengths in this Act expreſſed, or under, onely to be had and occupied within any their ſhip or other veſſel, or for the carriage and recarriage of them or any of them on land, or keeping of them for the onely exerciſe and occupying of them within their ſaid ſhip or veſſel; any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. Stat. 2 & 3 Ed. 6. 14.

The owner of a ſhip may keep a gun.

CAP. VII.

No man may convey any Braſs, &c. out of the Kings Dominions.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the third day of November, in the one and twentieth year of the reign of our Soveraign Lord the King that now is, amongſt other things it was enacted, That no perſon or perſons ſhould from thenceforth carry or convey any braſs, copper, latten, bell-metal, gun-metal, ne ſhroff-metal, into any part or parts beyond the ſea, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſaid metal, as by the ſaid Act more plainly appeareth. Sith the making of which Eſtatute, divers perſons, as well Engliſh-men as ſtrangers, have by deceit fully obtained licences of the Kings Highneſs to carry over bell-metal, and other broken metal, ſurmiſing the ſame metals not to be meet for making of guns, and other engines of war, nor for implements neceſſary for houſhold, which ſurmiſe is proved untrue, as the common experience thereof daily declareth: So that all other Realms and Countreys be full of Artillery and munitions, and this Realm like to lack, if more haſty remedy to ſtop the conveyance of the ſame be not further provided then is in the ſame Act.

21 H. 8. 10.

Wherefore may it pleaſe the Kings Highneſs, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, to enact, That no perſon nor perſons from henceforth ſhall carry or convey by water or otherwiſe, any braſs, copper, latten, bell-metal, pan-metal, gun-metal, nor ſhroff-metal, whether it be clean or mixed (tin and lead onely excepted) into any part beyond the ſea, or into any outward Realm or Dominion whatſoever it be, upon pain to forfeit the double value of the ſame metal ſo carried and conveyed, the one half thereof to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other to the party that will ſue for the ſame by writ, bill, plaint or information, in the which no eſſoin or protection ſhall be allowed.

No perſon ſhall convey any braſs, copper, latten, bell-metal, &c. out of the Kings Dominions.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That for the true meaning of this Eſtatute, that the arrival, diſcharge and delivery of the ſaid metals in any parts beyond the ſea, in any other foreign Realm or Dominion, ſhall be tried and determined within this Realm, in ſuch County or place where the ſaid metal or metals were ſhipped, or firſt carried, with like proces and determination as all other informations or actions to be tried and adjudged within this Realm, or as the ſame fact had been done within this Realm and Dominion.

Trial within this Realm of a foreign act.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon nor perſons at any time hereafter ſhall ſhip or carry any of the ſaid metals afore rehearſed, to carry or diſcharge the ſame in any part of this Realm, unleſs ſuch perſon or perſons before the ſhipping thereof, do declare and manifeſt unto the Cuſtomer of ſuch Port or Creek, where the ſame metal ſhall be ſhipped, the true weight of all ſuch metal as ſhall be ſhipped, and alſo ſhall make a ſufficient obligation in the Law, in the which he ſhall be bounden to the ſaid Cuſtomer to the Kings uſe, in ſuch ſum as ſhall amount to the double value of the ſaid metal ſo declared and manifeſted, with condition that the ſame ſhall be diſcharged at ſome Port or Creek within this Realm, and in no other place, upon pain to forfeit the ſame in manner and form above rehearſed. And that every ſuch perſon or perſons, that ſhall ſhip ſuch metals, and be and ſhall be bounden as is aforeſaid, ſhall within eight moneths next after the ſhipping thereof, bring a true certificate from the Cuſtomer of the Port, Creek or place, where he or they ſhall happen to diſcharge the ſame metal, teſtifying that the ſame metal ſo ſhipped, and the true weight thereof, is there diſcharged: which Certificate the Cuſtomer of ſuch place where the ſaid metal ſhall be diſcharged, ſhall upon the diſcharge thereof, make and deliver to the party ſo diſcharging, or to his factor without any delay.

He that carrieth braſs, &c. in any ſhip, ſhall be bound to to diſcharge the ſame within this Realm.

The penalty of a Cuſtomer making a falſe Certificate.

And be it further enacted, That if any Cuſtomer, or his deputy, by covin, or by any other undue mean, do make any falſe or untrue Certificate concerning the ſaid diſcharging of ſuch metal, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, that then ſuch Cuſtomer, ſo falſely or untruly certifying as is aforeſaid, ſhall loſe his Office, and alſo the value of the goods ſo concealed out of the ſaid Certificate.

A remedy if the metal be drowned or robbed.

Provided alway, That if the ſaid metal by tempeſt of weather be drowned, or by enemies or pyrates robbed and ſpoiled, and that ſufficiently proved without fraud or covin before the Cuſtomer and Comptroller, or their ſufficient deputies, in the Port where the party or parties ſo ſhipped the metals aforeſaid, or any of them, by the ſaid party or parties, or their executors, that then he or they ſo bringing ſuch ſufficient proof, ſhall have his obligation to him delivered, or elſe he and his executors thereof to be acquitted and clearly diſcharged, any thing in this Act to the contrary contained notwithſtanding.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act ſhall onely take his effect, and be put in execution, from and after the firſt day of April next coming. St. 2 Ed. 6. 37.

CAP. VIII.

It ſhall be felony to practiſe, or cauſe to be practiſed Conjuration, Witchcraft, Enchantment, or Sorcery to get money, or to conſume any perſon in his body, members, or goods; or to provoke any perſon to unlawful love; or for the deſpight of Chriſt; or lucre of money, to pull down any Croſs; or to declare where goods ſtollen be. Rep. 1 Ed. 6. 12. & 1 M. 1. 5 El. 16. 1 Jac. 12.

CAP. IX.

Artillery ſhall be maintained, and unlawful games debarred.

3 H. 8. 3.
6 H. 8. 2.

Several new deviſed games, the cauſe of the decay of Archery.

Moſt humbly complaining, ſhew unto your Highneſs, your daily Orators, the Bowyers, Fletchers, Stringers, and Arrow-head-makers of this your Realm, that where for the advancement and maintenance of Archery, the better to be maintained and had within the ſame, and for the avoiding of divers and many unlawful games and plays, occupied and practiſed within this Realm, to the great hurt and let of ſhooting and archery, divers good and lawful Statutes have been deviſed, enacted and made, amongſt which one was made in a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the third year of your moſt Gracious Reign, and the ſame Act made perpetual in the Parliament there holden in the ſixth year of your ſaid Reign: The which good and laudable Act notwithſtanding, divers and many ſubtil, inventative and crafty perſons, intending to defraud the ſame eſtatute, ſithens the making thereof, have found, and daily find many ſundry new and crafty games and plays, as logating in the fields, ſlide-thrift, otherwiſe called ſhove-groat, as well within the City of London, as elſewhere in many other and divers parts of this Realm, keeping houſes, plays and alleys for the maintenance thereof; by reaſon whereof, Archery is ſore decayed, and daily is like to be more and more miniſhed, and divers Bowyers and Fletchers, for lack of work, gone and inhabite themſelves in Scotland, and other places out of this Realm, there working and teaching their ſcience to the puiſſance of the ſame, the great comfort of eſtrangers, and detriment of this Realm.

And where alſo your Graces ſubjects, Bowyers, Fletchers, and other artificers afore named, from time to time reſort, repair, and come out of all places of this your Realm, unto the City of London, for lack of living, and do inhabite nigh the ſame City, or in the ſuburbs of the ſame City, and in ſtreets and lanes of the ſame City, being no free-men of the ſame City, nor bearing neither ſcot, lot, nor other charges within your ſaid City, as other citizens and free-men of the ſame City do, and are bound to do, and by their oaths are ſworn to do, and which citizens and free-men of your ſaid City, of the myſteries and crafts before rehearſed, which have been brought up as prentices from their youth, dwelling within the freedom of your ſaid City of London, are always in readineſs to furniſh your Graces affairs when they ſhall be commanded: By reaſon of the which reſorting and abode of ſuch foreigners and ſtrangers, of the myſteries and crafts before rehearſed, in the ſuburbs, ſtreets and lanes of the ſame City, other Cities, Towns, Villages and places within this Realm, remain and be unfurniſhed of artificers and crafts-men before rehearſed, to the great decay of the Archery of this Realm. And foraſmuch as it appeareth by the preamble of the ſaid eſtatute enacted the ſaid third year, which was eſtabliſhed and made perpetual in the foreſaid ſixth year of your moſt Gracious Reign, that your Highneſs calling to your moſt Noble and Gracious remembrance, that by the feat and exerciſe of the ſubjects of this your Realm in ſhooting in long bows, there hath continually grown and bin within the ſame, great number and multitude of good archers, which hath not onely defended this Realm, and the ſubjects thereof, againſt the cruel malice and danger of their outward enemies in time heretofore paſt, but alſo with little number and puiſſance and regard, have done many notable acts and diſcomfitures of war againſt the Infidels and other, and furthermore ſubdued and reduced divers and many regions and countreys to their due obeyſance, to the great honour fame and ſurety of this Realm and ſubjects, and to the terrible dread and fear of all ſtrange nations, any thing to attempt or do to the hurt or damage of them or any of them: yet nevertheleſs archery & ſhooting in long bowes was little uſed, but daily did miniſh, decay and abate more and more, for that much part of the comminalty and poor people of the Realm, whereby of old time the great number and ſubſtance of archers hath grown and multiplied, were not of power or ability to buy them long bowes of ewe, to exerciſe ſhooting in ye ſame, & to ſuſtain the continual charge thereof, and alſo by means and occaſions of cuſtomable uſage of tennis-play, bowls, cloyſh, and other unlawful games, prohibited by many good & beneficial eſtatutes by authority of Parliament in that behalf provided and made, great impoveriſhment hath enſued, and many heinous murders, robberies and felonies were committed and done, and alſo the Divine ſervice by ſuch miſ-doers on holy and feſtival days not heard or ſolemnized, to the high diſpleaſure of Almighty God, as by the foreſaid preamble more plainly may appear.

The cauſes of the decay of Archery.

It may therefore be enacted by your Highneſs, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That every man, being the Kings ſubjects, not lame, decrepit, nor maimed, nor having any other lawful or reaſonable cauſe or impediment, being within the age of threeſcore years, (except Spiritual men, Juſtices of one Bench and of the other, Juſtices of the Aſſiſe, and Barons of the Exchequer) ſhall from the Feaſt of Pentecoſt next coming, uſe and exerciſe ſhooting in long bowes, and alſo have a bow and arrows ready continually in his houſe, to uſe himſelf, and do uſe himſelf in ſhooting. And alſo the fathers, governors and rulers of ſuch as be of tender age, do teach and bring up them in the knowledge of the ſame ſhooting. And that every man having a man-child or men-children in his houſe, ſhall provide, ordain and have in his houſe for every man-child, being of the age of ſeven years and above, till he ſhall come to the age of ſeventeen years, a bow and two ſhafts, to induce and learn them; and bring them up in ſhooting, and ſhall deliver all the ſame bow and arrows to the ſame young men to uſe and occupy. And if the ſame young men be ſervants, that then their maſters ſhall abate the money that they ſhall pay for the ſame bowes and arrows of their wages. And after all ſuch young men ſhall come to the age of ſeventeen years, every of them ſhall provide and have a bow and four arrows continually for himſelf, at his proper coſts and charges, or elſe of the gift or proviſion of his friends, and uſe and occupy the ſame in ſhooting, as is before rehearſed. And if the maſter ſuffer any of his ſervants, taking wages, being in his houſhold, and under the age of ſeventeen years; or the father ſuffer any of his ſons, being in his houſhold, and under the age of ſeventeen years, to lack a bow and two arrows, contrary to the form of this eſtatute, by the ſpace of one moneth together; then the maſter or father in whom ſuch negligences ſhall be, ſhall for every ſuch default forfeit ſix ſhillings eight pence. And that every ſervant, paſſing the age of ſeventeen years, and under the age of threeſcore years, and taking wages, which can or is able to ſhoot, and ſhall lack a bow and four arrows by the ſpace of one moneth together, ſhall for every ſuch default forfeit and loſe ſix ſhillings eight pence.

Moſt men under the age of threeſcore years ſhall have bows and arrows for ſhooting.

Mens children between ſeven years and ſeventeen.

Men about ſeventeen years of age.

Be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That no man under the age of four and twenty years, ſhall ſhoot at any ſtanding prick, except it be at a rover, whereat he ſhall change at every ſhoot his mark, upon pain for every ſhoot doing the contrary, four pence. And that no other perſon above the ſaid age of four and twenty years, ſhall ſhoot at any mark of elevenſcore yards or under, with any prick-ſhaft or flight, under the pain to forfeit for every ſhoot ſix ſhillings eight pence. And that no perſon, under the age of ſeventeen years, except he or his father or mother have lands or tenements to the yearly value of ten pound, or be worth in moveables the ſum of fourty markes ſterling, ſhall ſhoot in any bow of ewe which ſhall be bought for him after the Feaſt of the Purification of our Lady next coming, under the pain to loſe and forfeit ſix ſhillings eight pence. And alſo that Buts be made on this ſide the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, in every City, Town and place, by the inhabitants of every ſuch City, Town and place, according to the Law of ancient time uſed. And that the inhabitants and dwellers in every of them, be compelled to make and continue ſuch Buts, upon pains to forfeit for every three moneths ſo lacking, twenty ſhillings. And that the ſaid inhabitants ſhall exerciſe themſelves with long bows in ſhooting at the ſame, and elſewhere, in holy days, and other times convenient.

Who ſhall ſhoot at rovers, and not at a ſtanding prick.

Shooting in ewe bows.

The inhabitants of every town ſhall cut buts and ſhoot at them.

And to the intent that every perſon may have bowes of mean price, be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That every Bowyer, dwelling out of the City and Suburbs of London, ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt of the Purification of our Lady next coming, for every bow that he maketh of ewe, make four other bowes meet to ſhoot in, of elme, wich, haſil, aſhe, or other wood apt for the ſame, upon the pain to loſe and forfeit for every ſuch bow ſo lacking, three ſhillings four pence. And every Bowyer dwelling in the ſaid City, or Suburbs of London, ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt of the Purification of our Lady next coming, for every bow of ewe that he ſhall make, ſhall alſo make two other bows apt for ſhooting, of aſhe, elme, wich, haſil, or other wood meet for the ſame, under like pain and forfeiture.

Bows of elme, aſhe, &c. 8 El. 10.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Bowyet ſhall ſell any bow of ewe, for any perſon being between the age of ſeven years and fourteen years, above the price of twelve pence. And that the ſame Bowyers ſhall have bows of ewe of all prices from ſix pence the piece, to twelve pence the piece, for youth between the ſaid ages of ſeven years, and fourteen years. And likewiſe have bows of ewe for youth between the age of fourteen years, and one and twenty years, and ſhall ſell the ſame at reaſonable prices. And moreover, that no Bowyer ſhall ſell or put to ſale to any the Kings ſubjects, any bow of ewe of the tax called elk, above the price of three ſhillings four pence, under the pain to forfeit twenty ſhillings, for every bow ſold to the contrary, above the ſaid price of three ſhillings four pence, as appeareth by a ſtatute made in the two and twentieth year of the reign of King Edward the fourth, the fourth Chapter. And that all bow-ſtaves of ewe hereafter to be brought into this Realm, ſhall be ſold open, and not in bundles nor cloſe, to the intent the buyers of them may have perfect knowledge of the goodneſs of them, and give the better price for them; if they be ſo worth.

The ſeveral prices of ſeveral ſorts of Bows. Rep 8 El. 10.

And furthermore be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, the Fletchers of London; and the Suburbs of the ſame, may at their liberty ſell ſeaſonable timber to every Fletcher of the Countrey, without falling into any penalty or danger to any of their Wardens for ſo doing, and that all ordinances and other laws made or to be made by their Wardens, or otherwiſe to the contrary, ſhall be from henceforth clearly fruſtrate and void.

Sale of ſeaſonable timber by one Fletcher to another.

And alſo be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Bowyers, Fletchers, Stringers, and Arrow-head makers, repairing and reſorting unto the ſaid City or the Suburbs of the ſame, and there making their dwelling or abiding, being not free-men of the ſaid City; bearing neither ſcot nor lot within the ſaid City, ſhall at all times, by ẏ appointment of your Bowyers and Fletchers, &c. of London upon commandment ſhall dwell elſewhere.

Graces moſt honourable Councel, the Lord Chancellor of England for the time being, Lord Treaſurer, or the Lord Privy-ſeal, or one of them, go and inhabit ſuch Cities, Boroughs and Towns, as be deſtitute of ſuch Artificers, and there to exerciſe, occupy and practiſe their ſaid crafts and faculties for the maintenance of Artillery and Archery. And if any ſuch perſon, to whom warning ſhall be ſo given by the Kings moſt honourable Councel, the Lord Chancellor, the Lord Treaſurer, or the Lord Privy-ſeal, as is aforeſaid, to depart unto other Towns or places of the ſaid Realm of England, from the ſaid City of London, the ſuburbs, ſtreets, lanes, and places neer the ſame, refuſe to accompliſh the ſame, that then he or they ſo refuſing, ſhall forfeit for every day that he ſhall make his abode contrary to this Act, fourty ſhillings.

Aliens ſhall not convey Bowes or Arrowes beyond the Sea.

Be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no ſtranger born out of the Kings obeyſance, not being deniſen, ſhall convey, or do to be conveyed, give, ſell or exchange into any parties out of the Kings obeyſance, any long-bowes, arrowes or ſhafts, without the Kings ſpecial licence, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame, whereſoever they ſhall be taken, or the value thereof, within the Kings power, and upon pain of impriſonment, without bail or mainpriſe, until ſuch time as he or they ſo being in ward, have made a reaſonable fine to the King for his or their offences, afore the Juſtices of Peace, or two of them in their Seſſions in the ſame County where he or they ſhall be committed to ward, or find ſufficient ſurety for the payment of the ſame fine.

Aliens ſhall not uſe ſhooting in long bowes.
Magiſtrates may hear and determine theſe offences.

And that no manner of perſon, not being born within the Kings obeyſance, nor made deniſen, uſe within the Kings obeyſance ſhooting with long-bowes, without the Kings licence, upon pain of forfeiture of ſuch bowes, arrowes and ſhafts, as they ſhall be founden ſo ſhooting with, and every of the Kings ſubjects may have authority to take and ſeiſe the ſame forfeitures to his own uſe. And that Juſtices of Aſſiſe, of Gaol-delivery, Juſtices of Peace, and and Stewards of Franchiſes, Leets and Lawdays, have power to enquire of all the premiſſes in their Seſſions, Leets, and Lawdays, and hear and determine the ſame, and alſo by their diſcretion examine all perſons, lacking and not having bowes, ſhafts and arrowes, according to the form aforeſaid.

The penalty for maintenance of a houſe for unlawful games.

Be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner of perſon or perſons, of what degree, quality or condition ſoever he or they be, from the Feaſt of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt now next coming, by himſelf, factor, deputy, ſervant, or other perſon, ſhall for his or their gain, lucre or living, keep, have, hold, occupy, exerciſe or maintain any common houſe, alley or place of bowling, coyting, cloyſhcayles, half-bowl, tennis, dicing table, or carding, or any other manner of game prohibited by any eſtatute heretofore made, or any unlawful new game now invented or made, or any other new unlawful game hereafter be invented, found, had or made, upon pain to forfeit and pay for every day keeping, having or maintaining, or ſuffering any ſuch game to be had, kept, executed, played, or maintained within any ſuch houſe, garden, alley, or other place, contrary to the form and effect of this eſtatute, fourty ſhillings.

The penalty for reſorting to to a houſe of unlawful games.

And alſo every perſon, uſing and haunting any of the ſaid houſes and plays, and there playing, to forfeit for every time ſo doing, ſix ſhillings eight pence.

A placard to keep a houſe of gaming.

And if any perſon hereafter ſue for any placard, to have common gaming in his houſe, contrary to this eſtatute, That then it ſhall be contained in the ſame placard, what game ſhall be uſed in the ſame houſe, and what perſons ſhall play thereat, and every placard granted to the contrary, to be void: and alſo that the party obtaining any ſuch placard, before he put the ſame in execution, ſhall be bound with ſufficient ſureties with him by recogniſance in the Chancery, in a certain ſum, to be appointed by the diſcretion of the Lord Chancellor of England, that he ſhall not uſe the ſaid placard contrary to the form thereof.

Mageſtrates may repreſs unlawful games and puniſh the offenders.

Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to all, and every the Juſtices of Peace in every Shire, Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, and other head Officers, within every City, Town, and Borough within this Realm, from time to time, as well within liberties as without, as need and caſe ſhall require, to come, enter, and reſort into all and every houſes, places and alleys, where ſuch games ſhall be ſuſpected to be holden, exerciſed, uſed or occupped, contrary to the form of this eſtatute; and as well the keepers of the ſame, as alſo the perſons there haunting, reſorting and playing, to take, arreſt, and impriſon, and them ſo taken and arreſted, to keep in priſon, unto ſuch time as the keepers and maintainers of the ſaid playes and games have found ſureties to the Kings uſe, to be bound by recogniſance, or otherwiſe, no longer to uſe, keep, or occupy any ſuch houſe, play, game, alley or place: and alſo that the perſons there ſo found, be in like caſe bound by themſelves, or elſe with ſureties, by the diſcretion of the Juſtices, Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, or other head Officers, no more to play, haunt, or exerciſe from thenceforth, in, at, or to any of the ſaid places, or at any of the ſaid games.

Searching of houſes where unlawful games be kept.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, Conſtables, and other head Officers, within every City, Borough, or Town within this Realm, where any ſuch Officers ſhall fortune to be, as well within the franchiſes, as without, ſhall make due ſearch weekly, or at the furtheſt at all times hereafter once every month, in all places where any ſuch houſes, alleys, playes or places ſhall be ſuſpected to be had, kept and maintained. And if the ſaid Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, Conſtables, and other head Officers within their Cities, Boroughs and Towns, as well within franchiſes as without, do not make due ſearch at the furtheſt once every month, if the caſe ſo require, according to the tenor of this Act, and do not execute the ſame in all things according to the purport and force of the ſame: that then every ſuch Mayor, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, Conſtable, or other head Officer, to pay and forfeit for every month not making ſuch ſearch, nor executing the ſame, xl. s.

Be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner of Artificer or Craft-man of any handy-craft, or occupation, husbandman, apprentice, labourer, ſervant at husbandry, journeyman or ſervant of Artificer, mariners, fiſhermen, watermen, or any ſerving-man, ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of S. John Baptiſt, play at the tables, tennis, dice, cards, bowles, claſh, coyting, logating, or any other unlawful game, out of Chriſtmas, under the pain of xx. s. to be forfeit for every time, and in Chriſtmas to play at any of the ſaid games in their Maſters houſes, or in their Maſters preſence. And alſo that no manner of perſon ſhall at any time play at any bowl or bowls in open places out of his garden or orchard, upon the pain for every time ſo offending, to forfeit vi. s. viii. d. And that all Juſtices of Peace, Mayors, Bailiffs, Sheriffs, and all other head Officers, and every of them, finding, or knowing any manner perſon or perſons, uſing or exerciſing any unlawful games contrary to this preſent ſtatute, ſhall have full power and authority to commit every ſuch offendor to Ward, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, until ſuch time that they ſo offending, be bounden by obligation to the Kings uſe, in ſuch ſums of money, as by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices, Mayors, Bailiffs, or other head Officers, ſhall be thought reaſonable, that they or any of them ſhall not from henceforth uſe ſuch unlawful games.

Perſons prohibited to play at unlawful games out of Chriſtmas.

Playing at Bowles.

Certain Officers may commit offenders to priſon.

Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all other ſtatutes made for the reſtraint of unlawful games, or for the maintenauce of artillery as touching the penalties or forfeitures of the ſame, ſhall be from henceforth utterly void. And all informations, plaints, actions or ſuits that ſhall be taken or ſued upon any part of this ſtatute, ſhall be commenced within the year after the offence committed and done, or otherwiſe no advantage or ſuit thereof to be taken.

All other Statutes made againſt unlawful games, and for the maintenance of artillery repealed.

And where any ſuch forfeitures ſhall happen to be found within the precinct of any franchiſe, leet or lawday, then the Lord of the ſame franchiſe, leet, or lawday, to have the one moyety thereof, and the other moyety thereof to any of the Kings ſubjects that will ſue for the ſame, in any of the Kings Courts, by action, information, bill, or otherwiſe, in which action or ſuit the defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his Law, nor any protection, nor eſſoin ſhall be allowed: And where ſuch forfeiture ſhall be found out of the precinct of any franchiſe, leet, or lawday, that the moyety of all ſuch forfeitures ſhall be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other moyety thereof, to any the Kings Subjects that will ſue for the ſame, by bill, plaint, action, information, or otherwiſe, in any the Kings Courts, in which ſuit or action the defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his Law, nor any protection or eſſoin ſhall be allowed.

Within what time any ſuit ſhall be proſecuted upon this Statute and who ſhall have the forfeitures.

And to the intent that every perſon may have knowledge of this Act, and avoid the danger and penalties of the ſame, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Mayors, Bailiffs, Sheriffs, and all other head Officers, ſhall four times in the year, that is to ſay, every quarter once, make open Proclamation of this preſent Act, in every market to be holden within their ſeveral juriſdictions and authorities.

Proclamation of this ſtatute.

And alſo that the Juſtices of Gaol-delivery, Aſſiſes, and Juſtices of Peace, do cauſe the ſame to be proclaimed in their ſeveral circuits and ſeſſions before them holden, and that this Statute ſhall begin to take his effect, concerning the penalties of the ſame, from the ſaid Feaſt of S. John Baptiſt now next coming, and to continue and endure for ever.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons having taken by leaſe, whether it be by word, writing, or otherwiſe, any houſe, alley, or place, wherein any ſuch unlawful game now is, and at the time of ſuch leaſe made, was uſed, that then every ſuch leſſee ſhall at the liberty of him or them, to whom ſuch leaſe is made, there executors, adminiſtrators or aſſignes, from the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of S. John Baptiſt, be utterly void, except it be for breach of covenants or agreements, or payment of rent due, or to be due at the ſaid Feaſt, or any time before, ſo that then at the ſame Feaſt, or within one moneth next after the ſame, the ſaid leſſee give knowledge to ſuch leſſor or leſſors, their heirs and aſſignes, that he will no longer occupy the ſame, and that then it ſhall be lawful to the inheritor, leſſor or owner thereof, or to his heirs or aſſignes, in the ſame houſe, alley, or place to re-enter.

Leaſes of houſes where unlawful games be uſed.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful for every Maſter to licence his or their ſervants, to play at Cards, Dice, or Tables with their ſaid Maſter, or with any other Gentleman, repairing to their ſaid Maſter, openly in his or their houſe, or in his or their preſence, according to his or their diſcretion. And that it ſhall be lawful to every ſuch ſervant, for every time ſo being commanded or licenced by his ſaid Maſter, as is aforeſaid, to play at Cards, Dice or Tables, with his ſaid Maſter or other Gentlemen, ſo to him repairing, any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The ſervant by licence may play with his Maſter.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to every Nobleman, and other, having Manors, Lands, Tenements, or other yearly profits, for term of life in his own right, or in his Wives right, to the yearly value of a hundred pound, or above, to command, appoint or licence by his or their diſcretion, his or their ſervants, or family of his or their houſe or houſes, for to play within the precinct of his or their houſes, gardens or orchards, at Cards, Dice, Tables, Bowles, or Tennis, as well amongſt themſelves, as other repairing to the ſame houſe or houſes. And that they ſo playing by commandment, appointment or licence as is aforeſaid, ſhall not incur any danger or penalty contained in this Act for the ſame, this Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

In what caſes ſervants may play at Dice, Cards, Tables, Bowles or Tennis.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all informations, actions and ſuits now depending in any of the Kings Courts, for, or concerning any penalty or forfeiture contained in any of the ſaid Statutes, by this Act repealed, and no judgment therein yet given, the ſame informations, actions and ſuits, ſhall be, remain and ſtand as good and effectual in the law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if this act had never Puniſhment of Murder and Blood-ſhed within the Kings Court.

Co.Inſt.4. p.13.

Where treaſons, miſpriſions of treaſons, murders, manſlaughters, and other malicious ſtrikings, by reaſon whereof blood is, or ſhall be ſhed againſt the Kings Peace, been often and many times done and committed within the limits of the Kings Palace or houſe, or other houſe or houſes, where and when his Majeſty is there demurrant and abiding in his own moſt royal Perſon, which offences when they be done, be beſt known by his Highneſs Officers and Miniſters of his moſt honourable houſhold, and by his Majeſties Servants of his Chequer-roll: And if his Majeſty ſhall happen to remove from ſuch his Palace or houſe, or other houſe or houſes, where ſuch offences were done, before the trial and determination thereof, then ſuch offences might not lawfully be tried, heard and determined by and before the ſaid Officers, but be remitted to be tried and determined by the orders of the common-laws of this Realm, by reaſon whereof, the puniſhment of the ſaid offendors in ſuch caſes hath been long delayed, and ſometimes their offences forgotten, and not remembred, and ſo eſcape unpuniſhed: Be it therefore enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all treaſons, miſpriſions of treaſons, murthers, manſlaughters, blood-ſheds, and other malicious ſtrikings, by reaſon whereof, blood is, or ſhall be ſhed againſt the Kings Peace, which hath been done ſince the Feaſt of All-Saints laſt paſt, or hereafter ſhall be done within any the Palaces or houſes of his Highneſs or his Heirs, or any other houſe or houſes, at ſuch time as his Majeſty hath been ſince the ſaid Feaſt of All-Saints, or hereafter ſhall happen to be then demurrant or abiding in his royal Perſon, ſhall be from henceforth inquired of, tried, heard and determined within any the Kings Palaces or houſes, or other houſe or houſes, where his Majeſty or his Heirs ſhall hereafter repair unto, or be abiding, in manner and form following; That is to ſay, before the Lord great Maſter, or Lord Steward for the time being of the Kings moſt honourable houſhold, and of his Heirs and Succeſſors: And in the abſence of the ſaid Lord great Maſter, or Lord Steward of the houſhold, before the Treaſurer and Comptroller for the time being of the Kings moſt honourable houſhold, and of his Heirs and Succeſſors, and Steward of the [a] Marſhalſey for the time being, or two of them, whereof the Steward of the Marſhalſey for the time being, to be one, by vertue of their Offices, without any commiſſion, or other authority or power, other then by authority of this preſent Act, to be given unto them or any of them, which Steward of the Marſhalſey, ſhall be for ever from time to time aſſigned and appointed by writing, under the ſeal of the ſaid Lord great Maſter, or Lord Steward for the time being. And where the Kings Majeſty or his Heirs hath, or at any time hereafter ſhall be removed from the Palace, houſe or houſes, where ſuch offences were or ſhall be done, or not removed before they be enquired of, tried, heard and determined; yet ſuch offences ſhall by the authority of this Act, always from henceforth be enquired of, tried, heard and determined before the Kings Majeſty and his Heirs, Officers and Miniſters of his houſhold before named, or two of them, as is aforeſaid, by the inquiſition and verdict of his Highneſs and his Heirs houſhold ſervants, in his or their Check-roll, in manner and form as before and hereafter is expreſſed in this preſent Act, and at ſuch Palace, houſe or houſes where his Majeſty or his Heirs ſhall be at any time hereafter demurrant or abiding.

Where, and before whom murders, malicious ſtrikings, &c. committed in the Kings houſe ſhall be tried. a Raſt.pl.f.124.

And that all ſuch returnes of proceſs, and all executions and judgments concerning the premiſſes, ſhall be had and done by the Officers before and hereafter expreſſed, and in manner and form as before and hereafter in this preſent Act is contained.

Enquiry of perſons ſlain within the Kings houſe, or where he ſhall abide.

And that all inquiſitions upon the view of perſons ſlain, or hereafter to be ſlain within any the Kings ſaid Palaces or houſes, or other houſe or houſes aforeſaid, ſhall be by authority of this Act had and taken hereafter for ever, by the Coroner for the time being of the houſhold of our Soveraign Lord the King, or his Heirs, without any adjoyning or aſſiſting of another [b] Coroner of any Shire within this Realm, by the oath of twelve, or moe of the Yeomen Officers of the King and his Heirs moſt honourable houſhold, returned by the two Clerks Comptrollers, the Clerks of the Check, and the Clerks Marſhals, or one of them for the time being, of the ſaid houſhold, to whom the ſaid Coroner of the ſame houſhold ſhall direct his precept, which Coroner of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the Kings houſhold, ſhall be from time to time named, appointed and aſſigned by the ſaid Lord great Maſter, or Lord Steward for the time being, and that the ſaid Coroner of the ſaid houſhold, ſhall from time to time for ever without delay, certifie under his ſeal, and the ſeals of ſuch perſons as ſhall be ſworn before him, all ſuch inquiſitions, inditements and offices, upon the view of all dead bodies being ſlain at any time ſith the Feaſt of All-Saints aforeſaid, or which hereafter b Co.L.4.f. 45.

ſhall be ſlain within any the Kings ſaid Palaces or houſes, or other houſe or houſes aforeſaid, before the ſaid Lord great Maſter, or Lord Steward, and in his abſence before the Treaſurer, Comptroller, and Stewards of the Marſhalſey aforeſaid, or before two of them, whereof the ſaid Steward of the Marſhalſey to be one: and that ſuch inquiſitions and offices ſo certified, ſhall be deemed, adjudged and taken for ever, as good and effectual in the law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as any inquiſition taken upon the view of the body of any perſon being dead, by any Coroner of any County of this Realm, hath been, or ſhall be adjudged or taken.

Enquiry of murders, blood-ſhed, &c. by the yeomen Officers of the Kings houſe.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid two Clerks, Comptrollers, Clerks of the Check, and Clerks Marſhals for the time being of the Kings ſaid houſhold, and of his Heirs, or one of them for ever, upon a precept to them, or to any of them hereafter to be made by the ſaid Lord great Maſter or Lord Steward, or in the abſence of the ſaid Lord great Maſter or Lord Steward, by the ſaid Treaſurer and Comptroller of the Kings moſt honourable houſhold, and the ſaid Steward of the Marſhalſey, or by two of them, whereof the ſaid Steward of the Marſhalſey to be one, ſhall have full power to ſummon, warn and return the names of xxiv. perſons, being yeomen Officers of the Kings ſaid houſhold, and of his Heirs, in the ſaid Check-roll, to enquire of ſuch treaſons, miſpriſion of treaſons, murders, manſlaughters, and other malicious ſtrikings, by reaſon whereof blood is or ſhall be ſhed againſt the Kings peace, before the ſaid Lord great Maſter, or Lord Steward, and in his abſence, before the ſaid Treaſurer, Comptroller, and Steward of the Marſhalſey, or before two of them at the leaſt, whereof the Steward to be one.

And that it ſhall be lawful to the ſaid Lord great Maſter, or Lord Steward, and in his abſence to the ſaid Treaſurer, Comptroller, and the ſaid Steward aforeſaid, or two of them, whereof the ſaid Steward to be one, before whom ſuch returnes ſhall be ſo made, as is aforeſaid, to cauſe ſuch number of the ſaid xxiv. perſons ſo returned above the number of xii. perſons, as to him or them ſhall ſeem expedient, to enquire of ſuch treaſons, miſpriſions of treaſons, murders, manſlaughters, and other malicious ſtrikings, by reaſon whereof, bloud is or ſhall be ſhed againſt the Kings Peace within the ſaid Palaces or houſes, or other the ſaid houſe or houſes, ſith the ſaid Feaſt of All-Saints, or at any time hereafter ſhall be committed or done within the ſaid Palace or houſes, or other the ſaid houſe or houſes.

Arraignment of an offendor indicted.

And if any perſon or perſons be indicted by the ſaid Jury, ſo ſworn before them as is aforeſaid, or by inquiſition before the ſaid Coroner of the ſaid houſhold, and certified before the ſaid Lord great Maſter, or Lord Steward, or in the abſence of the ſaid Lord great Maſter, or Lord Steward, before the ſaid Treaſurer, Comptroller and Steward, or before two of them, whereof the ſaid Steward to be one, as is aforeſaid, that then immediatly without delay the ſaid Lord great Maſter, or Lord Steward, and in his abſence the ſaid Treaſurer, Comptroller, and Steward, or two of them, whereof the ſaid Steward to be one, before whom the ſaid preſentment, inquiſition or indictment ſhall ſo be ſo found or certified by the ſaid Coroner of the ſame houſhold, ſhall arraign before them all and every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo indicted, according to the courſe of the Common-law of this Realm, and forthwith after iſſue joyned between the King our Soveraign Lord, his Heirs or Succeſſors, and the priſoner ſo arraigned, the ſame day and place, or any other day and place, at the pleaſure of the ſaid Lord great Maſter, Lord Steward, and in his abſence, at the pleaſure of the ſaid Treaſurer, Comptroller, and Steward of the Marſhalſey, or two of them as is aforeſaid, ſhall make another precept to the ſaid Clerks, Comptrollers, Clerks of the Check, and Clerks Marſhals for the time being of the ſaid houſhold, or to one of them, to ſummon and return one other Jury of xxiv. perſons, to appear before the ſaid Lord great Maſter, or Lord Steward, and in his abſence, before the ſaid Treaſurer, Comptroller, and Steward of the Marſhalſey, or before two of them, whereof the ſame Steward to be one, at ſuch day, time and place, upon ſuch pain as ſhall be then limited and appointed, of the ſervants and Gentlemen officers of the Kings Chamber, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and of the ſaid houſhold, which now take or hereafter ſhall take wages by the Kings Cheque roll. And that the ſaid Lord Grand Maſter, or Lord Steward (if he be there preſent) or in his abſence the ſaid Treaſurer, Comptroller, and Steward of the Marſhalſey or two of them, whereof the ſame Steward to be one, before whom ſuch Jury ſhall be ſo returned, ſhall cauſe xii. of the ſame Jury to be ſworn, without any manner of challenge to be had or allowed for any manner of cauſe, to any the ſaid Jury, (malice onely excepted) truly to try between our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, and his Heirs, and ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall be ſo indicted and arraigned of ſuch treaſons miſpriſions of treaſons, murders, manſlaughters, and other malicious ſtrikings, by reaſon whereof blood is or ſhall be ſhed againſt the Kings Peace, or any of them. And if any ſuch perſon or perſons, ſo indicted and arraigned, be found guilty of any treaſon, miſpriſion of treaſon, murders or manſlaughters: that then all and every ſuch perſon and perſons, ſo found guilty, ſhall have judgment of life and member, and ſuffer ſuch pains of death, and ſhall forfeit all their manors, lands, tenements, goods and cattels, in like manner and form as if the ſame perſon and perſons had been found guilty of any the ſaid offences by the order of the Common-Laws of this Realm, without allowing to any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo found guilty of any of the ſame offences, the benefits of his or their Clergy, or priviledge of any ſanctuary.

The judgment of an offendor found guilty, and his forfeiture.

The judgment for ſtriking in the Kings Palace, whereby blood ſhall be ſhed.

And if any perſon or perſons ſo arraigned, be found guilty for malicious ſtriking, by reaſon whereof blood is, hath been, or ſhall be ſhed againſt the Kings Peace, within the ſaid Palace or houſe, or any other houſe, or any other the ſaid houſe or houſes: that then every ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall from henceforth have judgment by the ſaid Lord great Maſter, or Lord Steward (if he be preſent) and in his abſence, by the other aforenamed, before whom

Who ſhall do execution.

whom ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall be ſo found guilty, to have his right hand ſtriken off before the ſaid Lord great Maſter, or Lord Steward (if he be there preſent) and in his abſence, before the ſaid Treaſurer, Comptroller and Steward of the Marſhalſey, or two of them at the leaſt, whereof the ſaid Steward to be one, and at ſuch place or time, as he or they before whom ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall be ſo found guilty, ſhall appoint execution to be done: and the ſame execution to be done by ſuch perſon as the ſaid Lord great Maſter, or Lord Steward (if he be there preſent) and in his abſence as the ſaid Treaſurer, Comptroller, and Steward of the Marſhalſey, or two of them, whereof the Steward to be one, ſhall name or appoint, and alſo ſhall have judgment to have perpetual impriſonment during his life, and ſhall pay fine and ranſome at the Kings Majeſties pleaſure, his Heirs and Succeſſors.

The Kings officers attendant at the execution.
Chief Surgeon.

And for the further declaration of the ſolemn and due circumſtance of the execution appertaining, and of long time uſed and accuſtomed, to and for ſuch malicious ſtrikings, by reaſon whereof blood is, hath been, or hereafter ſhall be ſhed againſt the Kings Peace: It is therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that the Sergeant, or chief Surgeon for the time being, or his Deputy, of the Kings houſhold, his Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall be ready at the place and time of execution, as ſhall be appointed, as is aforeſaid, to ſear the ſtump, when the hand is ſo ſtriken off.

And the Yeoman of the Chandry for the time being of the ſame houſhold, or his deputy, ſhall alſo be then and there, and have in readineſs ſeared clothes, ſufficient for the Surgeon to occupy about the execution.

The Maſter Cook.

And the Maſter Cook for the time being of the ſame houſhold, or his deputy, ſhall alſo be then and there ready, and bring with him a dreſſing knife, and ſhall deliver the ſame knife at the place of execution, to the Sergeant of the Larder for the time being of the ſame houſhold, or to his deputy, who ſhall be alſo then and there ready, and hold upright the ſaid dreſſing knife till execution be done.

The Sergeant of the Larder.

The Sergeant of the Poultry.

And the Sergeant of the Poultry for the time being of the ſame houſhold, or his deputy, ſhall be alſo then and there ready with a cock in his hand, ready for the Surgeon to wrap about the ſame ſtump, when the hand ſhall be ſo ſtriken off.

Yeoman of the Scullery.

And the Yeoman of the Scullery for the time being of the ſame houſhold, or his deputy, to be alſo then and there ready, and prepare and make at the place of execution a fire of coals, and there to make ready ſearing-irons, againſt the ſaid Surgeon or his deputy ſhall occupy the ſame.

The chief Ferror.

And the Sergeant or chief Ferror for the time being of the ſame houſhold, or his deputy, ſhall be alſo then and there ready, and bring with him the ſearing-irons, and deliver the ſame to the ſame Sergeant, or chief Surgeon, or to his deputy, when they be hot.

Groom of the Salcery.

And the Groom of the Salcery for the time being of the ſame houſhold, or his deputy, ſhall be alſo then and there ready with vinegar and cold water, and give attendance upon the ſaid Surgeon, or his deputy, until the ſame execution be done.

The Sergeant of the Wood-yard.

And the Sergeant of the Wood-yard for the time being of the ſame houſhold, or his deputy, ſhall bring to the ſaid place of execution a block, with a betil, a ſtaple, and cords to bind the ſaid hand upon the block while execution is in doing.

The party indicted refuſing to anſwer directly or ſtand mute.

A Crier ſhall be appointed.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſo indicted of treaſon, miſpriſion of treaſon, murder, manſlaughter, or other malicious ſtriking, by reaſon whereof blood is, hath been, or ſhall be ſhed againſt the Kings Peace, as is aforeſaid, and thereof be arraigned, and obſtinately refuſe to anſwer directly to the ſame offences, whereof he or they be ſo indicted, or if ſuch perſon or perſons ſo indicted and arraigned, ſtand mute, and will not ſpeak, then ſuch perſon and perſons ſo refuſing to anſwer, or ſtanding mute, ſhall be convict, judged and deemed guilty of the thing whereof he or they is or ſhall be ſo indicted and arraigned, and ſhall have judgment to have like pains of death, and other pains, puniſhments, executions, forfeitures, loſſes, and ſeizures of lands, tenements, goods and cattels for the ſame, as he or they ought or ſhould have had for ſuch like offences, if he or they were or ſhould be found guilty thereof by the verdict of xii. men. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Clerks, Comptrollers, Clerks of the Check, and Clerks Marſhal, or one of them for the time being, ſhall from time to time name, aſſign and appoint a crier to make Proclamations, and to call the Juries, and to do other things as becometh a crier of a court to do belonging to that office.

Tryal by Peers.

Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the tryal of Peers of this Realm, for committing or doing any offences in this Act before mentioned, ſhall be as it hath been uſed in time paſt: any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The liberty of the verge.

Provided alſo, That the liberty and juriſdiction of the Marſhalſey court and circuit of the verge, ſhall be in all points, priviledges and authorities, uſed by the Miniſters and Officers of the ſame, in as full and as ample manner, as hath been heretofore lawfully uſed, for murders, felonies, offences, and all treſpaſſes, contracts, and other ſuits whatſoever they be, any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

And foraſmuch as before this time one Richard Staverton of Lincolnes-Inn Gentleman, was commanded and appointed by the Kings Majeſty to occupy the office of the Coroner of his ſaid houſe, by force whereof he hath continued officer in the ſame by the ſpace of ſixteen years or more: be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Richard Seaverton ſhall have, occupy and enjoy the ſaid office of Coroner during his life, together with all ſuch profits and commodities as before this time have been due and appertaining in any wiſe to the ſame. And after his deceaſe, the ſaid Coroner always to be made, aſſigned and appointed by the ſaid Lord great Maſter or Lord Steward for the time being.

The Coroner of the Kings houſe.

And for that hereafter it might be doubted, how far the limits and bounds of the ſaid houſe or houſes ſhould extend or be taken, within which limits or bounds any the ſaid offences which have been committed or done ſith the Feaſt of All-Saints, or hereafter ſhall be committed or done, for the which all and every perſon and perſons ſo offending, ſhould have and ſuffer the pains, penalties and forfeitures as is aforeſaid; for plain declaration thereof, and for the avoiding of all doubts and queſtions which may hereafter happen to ariſe of, for, or upon the ſame.

Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the limits and bounds of the ſaid houſe and houſes, within which any the offences aforeſaid, now committed or done ſith the ſaid Feaſt of All-Saints, or hereafter to be committed and done, ſhall be puniſhed as is aforeſaid, ſhall extend and be taken within theſe places enſuing, and in none other, that is to ſay, within any Edifices, Courts, Places, Gardens, Orchards, or Houſes, within the Porters ward of any of the houſe or houſes above rehearſed, or within any gardens, privy walks, orchards, tilt-yards, wood-yards, tennis-plays, cock-fights, bowling-alleys near adjoyning to any the houſes above rehearſed, and being part of the ſame, or within two hundred foot of the ſtandard of any outward gate or gates of any of the houſes above rehearſed, commonly uſed for paſſage out or from any the houſe or houſes above rehearſed.

The limits and bounds of the Kings houſe.

Provided always, That this Act ſhall not take effect, or be put in execution, till from and after the firſt day of May next enſuing, except only for murders and man-ſlaughters; for the which offences of murder and man-ſlaughter, the ſame to take effect from the Feaſt of All-Saints laſt paſt, according to the tenor and effect of the ſaid Act.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act before rehearſed concerning malicious ſtrikings, by reaſon whereof bloud is, hath been, or ſhall be ſhed againſt the Kings peace, ne the pains and forfeitures before rehearſed for the puniſhment of the ſame, ſhall not in any wiſe extend, or be prejudicial or hurtful to any Noble-man, ne to any other perſon or perſons that ſhall happen to ſtrike his or their ſervants within the ſaid Palace or Houſe, or any other houſe or houſes, place or places aforeſaid, or within the limits of the ſame, with his or their hands or fiſts, or with any ſmall ſtaff or ſtick, for correction of puniſhment for any offences committed and done, or to be committed and done, ne to any of the Kings officer or officers, that in executing of his or their office ſhall ſtrike any perſon or perſons with his or their hands or fiſts, or with any ſmall ſtaff or ſtick, or with any ſtaff commonly called a tip-ſtaff, within the ſame Palace or houſe, or any other Palaces or houſes, or places aforeſaid; ne to any other perſon or perſons, that in doing ſervice at any triumph, or any other time of ſervice, by the Kings commandment, or of any of his Graces Council, or other his Graces head officers, ſhall happen for the executing of their ſaid ſervice, to ſtrike any perſon or perſons with his or their hands or fiſts, or with any ſmall ſtaff or ſtick, or with any ſtaff commonly called a tip-ſtaff, within the ſame Palace or houſe, or any other Palaces or houſes, or place or places aforeſaid, although by reaſon of the ſame ſtroke or ſtrokes there happen to be any bloudſhed of ſuch perſon as ſhall be ſtricken, except the perſon ſo ſtricken do die of the ſame ſtroke within one year next after the ſtroke ſo given.

To what ſtrokes given in the Kings houſe whereby bloud ſhall be ſhed, this ſtatute doth not extend.

And alſo be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall from the firſt day of April next coming, ſteal, or feloniouſly take away any Plate, Jewels, or other goods of our Soveraign Lord the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors, Kings, of the value of xii. d. or above, or break or enter into any the Kings houſes, to the intent to ſteal any of the Kings goods, his heirs or ſucceſſors, Kings, though his Majeſty be abſent, or any other houſe, while it ſhall fortune the ſame his Majeſty to be lodged or abiding therein; every ſuch offence to be deemed felony, and the perſon or perſons ſo offending, their abettors, procurers, counſellors and recepters thereof lawfully convicted, to ſuffer like penalties, forfeitures and pains of death, as appertaineth to felons, without having benefit of their clergy or ſanctuary: and every ſuch offendor being apprehended within the verge of the Kings houſe, to be arraigned and tried by men of the country, as other offendors for offences done within the verge, before the Steward of the ſaid Marſhalſey, and other unto him aſſociated, are to be arraigned and tried within the ſame precinct.

Stealing the Kings goods, or entring his houſe to ſteal, ſhall be felony.

Lordſhips in Wales removed from the County of Denbigh to the County of Flint, &c.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the xxxii. year of the Reign of our Soveraign Lord King Henry the viii. that now is, it was amongſt other enacted, That notwithſtanding viii. County days in one year, and ix. County days in another year, were before that time holden and kept within the County Palatine of Cheſter, before the Juſticer of the ſame County, that from that time forthward the ſaid Juſticer ſhould hold and keep but only two ſeſſions every year within the ſame County, the one whereof to be kept after Michaelmas, and the other after Eaſter, and that from thenceforth all the ſaid County days ſhould clearly ceaſe and determine for ever, as by the ſame Act at large more plainly appeareth. And foraſmuch as within the ſame County Palatine it hath not been uſed nor ſeen, that the Sheriff of the ſame County hath kept any Shire-court for determination of plaints, and calling the exigends, as is commonly uſed in other Shires of this Realm, there was therefore never ſithen the making of the ſaid Act any exigend of felony or other clauſe proclaimed within the ſaid County, to the no little hindrance of juſtice, and to the great boldneſs of offenders. For reformation whereof, be it enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the Sheriff of the ſaid County for the time being, after the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, ſhall be bound to keep his Shire-court in the Shire-hall of the ſaid County every moneth for ever, for determination of plaints and actions under xl.s. and for proclamations, and calling of ª exigends, and other neceſſary cauſes, as is uſed in other Shires of this Realm of England, and that two head Coroners for the body of the ſaid Shire, ſhall be elected and choſen by vertue of the Kings Writ, De coronatore eligendo, to be awarded out of the Exchequer of Cheſter, which Coroners ſhall be bound to ſit with the ſaid Sheriff at the ſaid Courts, to give judgment upon utlaries, and to do all other things as appertaineth.

There ſhall be two Coroners choſen for the County of Cheſter.

ª Coke l.4. f.33.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid two Seſſions, in form aforeſaid, to be holden within the ſaid County, ſhall and may be holden at ſuch time and times as by the ſaid Juſticer or his Deputy ſhall be appointed, as well before the ſaid Feaſts of Eaſter and Michaelmas, as any other time, according as is moſt commonly uſed in other Shires of this Realm, ſo always open proclamation be thereof made by the ſpace of xv. days at the leaſt before the firſt day of the keeping of the ſame Seſſions.

Certain Lordſhips and Pariſhes in Wales annexed to the County of Flint.

Provided always, That the inhabitants and tenants of the ſaid Lordſhips, Towns, Hamlets and Pariſhes of Hope, Aſſaph, Moldeſdale, Mereford, and Hawarden, ſhall pay their miſſes and tallages, when, and as oft as the ſame ſhall be due, with the inhabitants of ſuch Shire or Shires as beforetime have been accuſtomed. And that the ſaid Lordſhips of Hope, Moldeſdale, Mereford, Oſeley, and Hawarden, with the whole and entire Pariſh of Hawarden, and all the grounds, lands, tenements and hereditaments within the precinct and limits of the ſame, ſhall from henceforth be called, taken and accepted, the hundreds of Moldeſdale in the County of Flint. And that the ſaid Lordſhip of Aſſaph, with all the grounds, lands, tenements and hereditaments within the precinct and limits of the ſame, ſhall be taken, accepted, and adjudged to be as part and parcel of the hundred of Ruthland in the ſame County. Who may buy Worſted Yarn in Norwich, and who not, &c.

Cro.El.19

Whereas for the moſt part in all the Shires and Counties of this Realm of England, there be and have been certain private commodities, growing and ariſing only within the ſaid Shires or Counties, by which only commodities politickly provided for, and continued, the Cities and Towns within the ſaid Shires and Counties, and the inhabitants of the ſame, be and have been, without any foreign aid or ſuccour, plenteouſly and wealthily kept, maintained, defended and preſerved: all which commodities, by the deceit and ſubtile practiſes, as well of Merchants ſtrangers, as of divers other covetous and evil conſcienced perſons have been, and be many times clearly deſtroyed and ſubverted, to the great loſs and decay, as well of the ſaid Cities and Towns within every ſuch Shires and Counties, as of the inhabitants of the ſame. Amongſt the which ſaid Cities, Towns, Shires and Counties having private commodities, the City of Norwick, and divers other and many Towns in the County of Narfolk, hath been always heretofore kept, preſerved and maintained, and the poor men, and other dwellers and inhabitants in the ſame, godly, honeſtly, and vertuouſly brought up, occupied and exerciſed, by a commodity growing and riſing only within the ſaid County, that is to ſay, by the making and weaving of Worſteds, and other Clothes, which hath been made and woven of the yarn called Worſted yarn, ſpun of the wooll growing and coming of the ſheep bred only within the County of Norfolk, Worſted yarn is the private commodity, the City of Norwich, and the County of Norfolk.

the yarn called Worſted-yarn, ſpun of the wooll growing and coming of the ſheep bred only within the County of Norfolk, and in no place elſewhere. And foraſmuch as the ſaid commodity of making and weaving of Worſteds within the ſaid City of Norwich and County of Norfolk, by the deceit and crafty practiſes of the great multitude of regrators and buyers of the ſaid yarn called Worſted-yarn, is wholly decayed and taken away from the ſaid dwellers and inhabitants in the ſaid City and Shire, that is to ſay, in that, that the regrators do buy the ſaid yarn by ſmall parcels of many men, and after that they have ſo by little and little bought a great quantity of the ſaid yarn, do not cauſe it to be woven, or otherwiſe wrought in the ſaid City or County, but do ſell, ſend, and carry away the ſame yarn out of this Realm of England, into France, Flanders, and ſuch other like places beyond the ſea; where with the ſaid yarn, ſtrangers not being born under the Kings Dominions, do make and weave Sayes, Ruſſels, Worſteds, and divers and ſundry other clothes and things, the which after they have ſo made and woven, the ſaid ſtrangers do ſell again unto us Engliſhmen within this ſaid Realm of England, to their great profit, lucre and advantage, and to the clear decay and deſtruction of the ſaid commodity: by reaſon whereof, the ſaid City of Norwich, and other the ſaid Towns in the ſaid County of Norfolk, are not onely moſt likely to be brought to utter ruine and decay, and the poor men, and other dwellers and inhabitants of the ſame, which have been heretofore ſet on work, kept, and maintained only by the ſaid commodity, illuded and deceived thereof, but alſo are very likely to be left deſtitute and unprovided of a living, or any manner of art or occupation, by the which they ſhall be able, within the ſaid City or County, to acquire to themſelves, their wives and children, any honeſt way and trade to live. Be it therefore ordained and enacted by the aſſent of the Kings moſt royal Majeſty, and the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That no perſon ne perſons from henceforth ſhall buy, ne cauſe to be bought, within the ſaid City of Norwich, or County of Norfolk, any yarn called Worſted-yarn, the which ſhall be ſpun within the ſaid City or County, but only ſuch perſon or perſons, being Weavers, or other Artificers, the which ſhall weave or otherwiſe work, or cauſe to be woven or otherwiſe wrought, the ſaid yarn ſo bought within the ſaid City and County, in the ſaid City of Norwich, or ſome other Market-town or Towns, or elſewhere within the ſaid County of Norfolk, upon the pain of forfeiting for every pound weight of yarn called Worſted-yarn ſo bought within the ſaid City of Norwich or County of Norfolk, and not woven or otherwiſe wrought within the ſaid City or County as is aforeſaid, xl. s. the one half thereof to our Sovereign Lord the King, and the other half to him or them that ſhall ſo take the ſaid yarn, or ſue for the ſame by bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe, in which ſuit, no eſſoin, protection, ne wager of law ſhall be allowed or admitted.

Who only may buy Worſted-yarn in the City of Norwich, or County of Norfolk.

And be it further ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons do from or after the firſt day of April next enſuing, ſhip to carry or convey, or cauſe to be ſhipped to carry or convey into the parts beyond the ſea, or elſe do carry and convey, or cauſe to be carried and conveyed into the parts beyond the ſea, any yarn called Worſted-yarn, not wrought or made in cloth, ſo ſuch yarn be ſpun or made within this Realm of England; that then every perſon and perſons ſo ſhipping, conveying, or carrying, or cauſing ſuch yarn ſo to be ſhipped, carried or conveyed, ſhall forfeit for every pound of Worſted-yarn ſo ſhipped, conveyed or carried, xl. s. the one half thereof to be unto our Sovereign Lord the King, the other half unto him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, by information, bill, plaint, or otherwiſe, wherein no wager of Law, eſſoin, or protection ſhall be allowed. This Act to continue and endure until the laſt day of the next Parliament. 1 Ed. 6. 6. made perpetual.

No Worſted-yarn ſhall be tranſported, or ſhipped to be tranſported.

Henry the eighth, and from thence adjourned to Weſtminſter, and there alſo holden and continued by divers prorogations unto the fourth day of February, in the ſeven and twentieth year of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the Kings Reign, and there then holden until the diſſolution thereof; it was by Act of Parliament ordained and eſtabliſhed, That every white woollen cloth ſold for four pound and under, and every coloured cloth ſold for three pound and under, might be carried and conveyed into the parts beyond the ſea, there to be ſold at the pleaſure of the buyers of the ſaid cloth and clothes unbarbed, unſhorn, and unrowed, any Act or Acts to the contrary made notwithſtanding.

And by the ſame Act it was further enacted, That if any perſon or perſons did ſend or convey, or cauſe to be ſent and conveyed into the parts beyond the ſea, any white woollen cloth above the value of iv. li. or any coloured cloth above the price of iii. li. unrowed, unbarbed, and unſhorn, in other form then is above mentioned, that then the perſon or perſons ſo offending, ſhall forfeit the value of the ſaid clothes ſo carried and conveyed into the parts beyond the ſea; the one moity of the ſame forfeiture to be to the uſe of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, and the other moity to any perſon which will or ſhall ſue by bill, writ, or otherwiſe, againſt any perſon for the ſame; and the defendant in any plea upon any ſuch ſuit or action be not admitted to wage his law, nor any protection or eſſoin for any ſuch defendant be allowed in the ſame, as by the ſame Act more plainly appeareth: upon the interpretation and expounding of certain words within the ſaid Act, diverſity of opinions hath riſen amongſt ſome perſons, that if any perſon or perſons ſend or convey, or cauſe to be ſent or conveyed towards the parts beyond the ſea, any white woollen cloth above the value of iv. li. or any coloured cloth above the value of iii. li. unrowed, unbarbed, or unſhorn, whether the ſame cloth ſo ſent, or the value thereof be forfeited, before the ſame cloth be carried and conveyed into the parts beyond the ſea. For a plain declaration of the premiſes, be it ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons from henceforth ſhall carry, or ſhip, or cauſe to be ſhipped in any ſhip, boat, cray, or veſſel, any white woollen cloth above the value of iv. li. or any coloured cloth above the value of iii. li. unrowed, unbarbed, or unſhorn, to the intent to be conveyed into the parts beyond the ſea, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame cloth or clothes, or the value thereof, the ſame forfeiture to be recovered in ſuch manner and form as is afore mentioned. 3 H. 7. 11. 27 H.8.3. 8 El. 6.

Proceeding againſt confeſſors of Treaſon, &c. by Commiſſion of Oyer and Terminer, without remanding them to the Shire where the offence was committed.

Foraſmuch as divers and ſundry perſons upon great grounds of vehement ſuſpicions, as well of high Treaſon, petty Treaſon, and miſpriſions of Treaſon, as of murders, be many times ſent for from divers the Shires and places of this Realm, and other the Kings Dominions, to the Kings Majeſties great charges and expences, to be examined before the Kings Highneſs Council, upon their offences, to the intent that conviction or declaration of ſuch perſons ſhould ſpeedily enſue, as the merits of their caſes ſhould require. And albeit that after great travel taken in the examinations of ſuch perſons, it appear to the ſaid Council by confeſſion, witneſs, or vehement ſuſpect, that ſuch perſons be rather guilty of ſuch offences whereof they be ſo examined, then otherwiſe; yet nevertheleſs ſuch offenders ſo examined, by the courſe of the common Law of this Realm, muſt be indicted within the Shires or places where they committed their offences, and alſo tried by the inhabitants or free-holders of ſuch Shires and places, although by their confeſſions, or by ſufficient witneſs, their offences be certainly known to the Kings Council: by reaſon whereof, beſide the travel and pains of the Kings Majeſties Council in ſuch caſes, the Kings Highneſs is oftentimes put to great charges and expences, in remanding ſuch perſons to the Countreys where they offended, there to be indicted and tried of their offences. And ſometime the inhabitants and freeholders of the Shires or places where ſuch offences were done, be compelled to appear out of the Shires and place for ſuch cauſes, to their great charges, for the trial or declaration of ſuch offences: And ſometime by occaſion of the charges for remanding of ſuch offendors to be indicted and tried by the courſe of the common Law, ſuch offendors lie ſtill in priſon, and be forgotten, whereby many times, by help of their confederates, they eſcape unpuniſhed, to the great courage and evil example of evil doers. Be it therefore enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, and by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons being examined by the Kings Council, or three of them, upon any manner of Treaſons, miſpriſions of Treaſons, or Murders, do confeſs any ſuch offences, or that the ſaid Council, or three of them, upon ſuch examination, ſhall think any perſon ſo examined, to be vehemently ſuſpected of any Treaſon, miſpriſions of Treaſons, or Murder; that then in every ſuch caſe by the Kings commandment, his Majeſties Commiſſion of Oyer and Terminer, under his Highneſs great Seal, ſhall be made by the Chancellor of England to ſuch perſons, and into ſuch Shires or places as ſhall be named and appointed by the Kings Highneſs for the ſpeedy trial, conviction, or deliverance of ſuch offendors; which Commiſſioners ſhall have power and authority to enquire, hear and determine all ſuch Treaſons, miſpriſions of Treaſons, and murders, within the Shires and places limited by their Commiſſion, by ſuch good and lawful perſons as ſhall be returned before them by the Sheriff or his miniſter, or any other having power to return writs and proceſs for that purpoſe, in whatſoever other ſhire or place, within the Kings Dominions, or without, ſuch offences of treaſons, miſpriſions of treaſons, or murders ſo examined, were done or commited, and that in ſuch caſes, no challenge for the ſhire or hundred ſhall be allowed.

The inconveniences enſuing the remanding of ſome ſuſpect perſons into the Counties where they offended to be tried.

In ſome caſes there ſhall be trial of treaſon, &c. in any County where the King by Commiſſion will appoint. Alt. 1 & 2 P & M. 10. for treaſon.

Provided alſo, That upon the tryal of ſuch treaſons, miſpriſions of treaſons, and murders, the challenge to any Juror for lack of free-hold of the yearly value of fourty ſhillings, ſhall be allowed as hath been accuſtomed.

Challenge for want of freehold.

Provided That if any the Peers of the Realm ſhall happen to be indicted of any the offences aforeſaid, by vertue of any ſuch Commiſſion to be granted by authority of this Act, yet nevertheleſs they ſhall have their tryal by Peers, in like manner and form as heretofore hath been uſed, any thing in this Act contained, or any thing to be done by vertue thereof, in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And it is ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That peremptory challenge ſhall not from henceforth be admitted or allowed in any caſes of high Treaſon, nor miſpriſion of high Treaſon. Dyer fo. 132, 286. Cok. l. 11. f. 63. Co. Inſt. 3. p. 27.

Trial by Peers.

No peremptory challenge in high treaſon, or miſpriſion of treaſon.

CAP. XXIV.

No man ſhall be Juſtice of Aſſiſe in his own Countrey, &c.

Where in the Parliament holden in the eighth year of King Richard the ſecond, it was enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed, That no man learned in the Laws of this Realm, ſhould from thenceforth be Juſtice of Aſſiſe in the Countrey where he dwelleth: And that the chief Juſtice of the common place, ſhould be from thenceforth aſſigned among other Juſtices, the taking of the ſaid Aſſiſes; but as to the chief Juſtice of the Kings Bench;

8 R. 2. 2. 13 H. 4. 2.

Affection and favour ſuſpected in Juſtices of Aſſiſe toward their kinſmen and friends.

Bench, there ſhould be done and uſed, as hath been uſed for the moſt part by the ſpace of one hundred years next before, as by the ſaid Act more at large it doth and may appear. Since the making of which ſaid good Act and Law, divers Juſtices and men learned in the Laws of this Realm, have by their own means, induſtry and policy, and for their own commodity and eaſe, obtained, contrary to the form of the ſaid Act, to be Juſtices of Aſſiſes in the Countreys and Counties where they were born, or were inhabiting, whereby ſome jealouſie of their affection and favour toward their kinſmen, alliance and friends within the ſaid Countreys or Counties where they were ſo born or inhabiting, hath been conceived and had againſt them by the Kings moſt loving ſubjects of the ſame Countreys and Counties.

No man ſhall be Juſtice of Aſſiſe in the County where he was born, or doth dwell.

For reformation whereof, the Kings moſt loving ſubjects, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, moſt humbly beſeech and deſire the Kings Majeſty, that it be enacted by the Kings Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That no Juſtice, nor other man learned in the Laws of this Realm, ſhall at any time from or after the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, uſe nor exerciſe the office of Juſtice of Aſſiſe within any County where the ſaid Juſtice was born, or doth inhabit, upon pain to forfeit for every offence done contrary to the form of this preſent Act, one hundred pounds; the moyety whereof to be to our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other moyety thereof to the party that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts, by bill, plaint, information, action of debt, or otherwiſe, in the which ſuit, no protection, eſſoin, nor wager of Law ſhall be admitted nor allowed.

This Statute doth not extend to the Clerk of Aſſiſes.

Provided alway, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing herein contained, ſhall not extend, be conſtrued or interpretate to touch or concern any perſon or perſons that now are, or hereafter ſhall be Clerk or Clerks of Aſſiſes and ſhall be aſſociate to any Juſtice of Aſſiſe, of or in any County, City or Town, within this Realm of England, wherein any perſon or perſons, Clerk or Clerks ſo aſſociate, do dwell, or were born, but that all and every Clerk and Clerks of Aſſiſes, which now do exerciſe or occupy, or hereafter ſhall exerciſe or occupy any office of Clerkſhip of Aſſiſes, ſhall and may exerciſe and occupy the ſame in any County, City or Town, wherein the ſame Clerk or Clerks of Aſſiſes do dwell or were born: Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Officers of Cities or corporate Towns.

Provided alſo, That theſe terms, Juſtices of Aſſiſes, or other perſons learned in the lawes of the Realm, ſhall not extend, or in any wiſe be interpretate to any Mayors, Sheriffs, Recorders, Stewards, Bailiffs, Sewters, or other officers, being born or dwelling within any City, Borough, or Town within this Realm of England, but that they may be Juſtices of Aſſiſes of freſh force, or of other Aſſiſes in the ſame City, Borough or Town, where he or they do or ſhall dwell, or were born, as they or any of them before this time have or might have been to all intents and purpoſes: any thing in this Act contained to th contrary notwithſtanding.

Juſtices of both Benches.

Provided alwayes, That this Act nor any thing therein contained, ſhall be prejudicial to any Juſtice or Juſtices of one Bench or the other, for taking, hearing or determining Aſſiſes in the ſaid Courts, in the one Bench or the other, nor to any Juſtice that ſhall take any Aſſiſe, by or upon adjournment for difficulty of the ſame.

No Clerk of aſſiſe ſhall be of counſel with any perſon in that circuit.

Provided alway, and be it enacted, That any Clerk of Aſſiſe, during the onely time of the Seſſion of or for any Aſſiſe or Aſſiſes, or of or for any Niſi Prius, ſhall not be of counſel with any perſon or perſons within any circuit whereof he ſhall be Clerk of Aſſiſe, otherwiſe then to that office onely appertaineth, upon pain to forfeit for every time offending, contrary to this Statute, ten pound: the one moyety thereof to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other moyety to the party grieved to be ſued in any of the Kings Courts of Record, by action of debt, bill, plaint, information or otherwiſe, in which ſuit, no eſſoin, protection, wager of law, or other delatory plea ſhall be admitted or allowed.

The Juſtices, Juſtice Clerks, and Clerk of Aſſiſe in the County of Lancaſter.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, extend not unto the Juſtices, Juſtice Clerks, or Clerk of Aſſiſes, within our Soveraign Lord the Kings Dutchy and County Palatine of Lancaſter, nor to any of them that now be, or hereafter ſhall be, but that the ſame Juſtices, Juſtice Clerks, and Clerk, and every of them ſhall and may execute their offices, and every of them, in ſuch manner and form as they, or any of them have uſed to do before the making of this preſent Act, this Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

CAP. XXV.

The children of Thomas Points, William Caſtelin, and John Dimmocke, born beyond the Sea, ſhall be reputed the Kings natural Subjects, and enabled to enjoy land by diſcent or purchaſe, to ſue and to be ſued. PR.

CAP. XXVI.

A repeal of certain fraudulent Deeds, Eſtates, Wills, and Conveyances made by Sir John Shelton, of lands in Norfolk and Suffolk, to defeat the King and others of Wardſhip, Primer Seiſon, Relief, &c. And he adjudged to die ſeiſed of ſuch eſtate in thoſe lands, as he was before the ſaid Conveyances made. PR.

CAP. XXVII.

Leaſes of Hoſpitals, &c. good with conſent of the more part.

In corporations the conſent of the greater number is as effectual as if it were done by the whole company.

Albeit that by the common laws of this Realm of England, all aſſents, elections, grants, and leaſes had, made and granted by the Dean, Warden, Provoſt, Maſter, Preſident, or other Governour of any Cathedral Church, Hoſpital, Colledge, or other Corporation, by whatſoever name they be incorporate or founded, with the aſſent and conſent of the more or greater part of their Chapiter, fellows or brethren of ſuch Corporation, having voices of aſſent thereunto, be as good and effectual in the law to the grantees, and leſſees of the ſame, as if the reſidue or the whole number of ſuch Chapiter, fellows and brethren of ſuch Corporation, having voices of aſſent, had thereunto conſented and agreed: yet the ſaid common laws, notwithſtanding divers founders of ſuch Deanries, Hoſpitals, Colledges and Corporations within this ſaid Realm, have upon the foundation and eſtabliſhment of the ſame Deanries, Hoſpitals, Colledges, and other Corporations, eſtabliſhed and made amongſt other their peculiar Acts, local Statutes, and Ordinances, that if any one of ſuch Corporation, having power or authority to aſſent or diſſent, ſhould and would deny any ſuch grant or grants, that then no ſuch leaſe, election, or grant ſhould be had, granted or leaſed, and for the performance of the ſame, every perſon having power of aſſent to the ſame, have been and be daily thereunto ſworn, and ſo the reſidue may not proceed to the perfection of ſuch elections, grants, and leaſes, according to the courſe of the common laws of this Realm, unleſs they ſhould incur the danger of perjury. For the avoiding whereof, and for the due execution of the common law univerſally within this Realm, and every place in one conformity of reaſon to be uſed: Be it ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every peculiar act, order, rule and eſtatute heretofore made, or hereafter to be made by any founder or founders of any Hoſpital, Colledge, Deanry, or other Corporation, at or upon the foundation of any ſuch Hoſpital, Colledge, Deanry, or Corporation, whereby the grant, leaſe, gift or election of the Governour or Ruler of ſuch Hoſpital, Colledge, Deanry, or other Corporation, with the aſſent of the more part of ſuch of the ſame Hoſpital, Colledge, Deanry, or Corporation, as have or ſhall have voice or aſſent to the ſame, at the time of ſuch grant, leaſe, gift or election hereafter to be made, ſhould be in any wiſe hindered or let by any one or moe, being the leſſer number of ſuch Corporation, contrary to the form, order and courſe of the common law of this Realm of England, ſhall be from henceforth clearly fruſtrate, void, and of none effect. And that all Oaths heretofore taken by any perſon or perſons, of ſuch Hoſpital, Colledge, Deanry, and other Corporation, ſhall be, for and concerning the obſervance of any ſuch order, eſtatute, or rule, deemed void, and of none effect. And that from henceforth, no manner perſon or perſons of any ſuch Hoſpital, Colledge, Deanry, or other Corporation, ſhall be in any wiſe compelled to take an oath for the obſerving of any ſuch order, eſtatute, or rule, upon the pain of every perſon giving ſuch Oath, to forfeit for every time ſo offending, five pound. The one moyety thereof to be to the uſe of our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other moyety thereof to any of the Kings ſubjects, which will ſue for the ſame, in any of the Kings Courts of Record, by action of debt, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe, wherein the defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his law, nor any protection nor eſſoin, or any other delatory plea admitted or allowed.

2 Dyer f.247.

In corporations none ſhall have a negative voice.

An oath ſhall not be obſerved which is taken contrary to this ſtatute.

CAP. XXVIII.

The Chancellor of Lancaſter, and other Noble men may retain Chaplains.

21 H. 8. 13.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the one and twentieth year of your moſt gracious Reign, it was amongſt other things ordained and provided, That certain honourable perſons, and other of your Highneſs Councellors and Officers, as well ſpiritual as temporal, ſhould and might have Chaplains beneficed with cure, to ſerve and attend upon them in their houſes, which Chaplains ſhall not incur the danger of any penalty or forfeiture made or declared in the ſame Parliament, for non-reſidence upon their ſaid benefices, or for obtaining licences or diſpenſations of pluralities, in which Act is no proviſion made for any the head Officers of your Graces ſeveral Courts of your Dutchy of Lancaſter, the Courts of augmentations of the Revenues of your Highneſs Crown, the firſt-fruits and tenths, the Maſter of your Majeſties Wards and Liveries, the general ſurveyors of your Graces lands, and other your Graces Courts.

In conſideration whereof, it may pleaſe your Majeſty, That it may be enacted by your Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the Chancellor of the ſaid Court of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, the Chancellor of your Highneſs Court of Augmentations, the Chancellor of your Graces Court of Firſt-fruits and Tenths, the Maſter of your Highneſs Wards and Liveries, and every of your Graces general Surveyors of your Highneſs lands, the Treaſurer of your Graces Chamber, the Treaſurer of your Highneſs Court of Augmentations, and the Groom of your Graces Stool, and every of them for the time being, ſhall and may retain ſingularly to every of them in his houſe, or attendant unto his perſon, one Chaplain having one Benefice with cure of ſouls, which may be abſent from the ſaid Benefice, and non-reſident upon the ſame, the ſaid eſtatute made in the ſaid one and twentieth year of your moſt gracious Reign, or any other eſtatute, act, or ordinance made to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Certain perſons which may retain one Chaplain having a benefice with cure of ſouls, that may be abſent from his benefice.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That every of the ſaid Chaplains ſo being beneficed as is aforeſaid, and dwelling with any the Officers aforenamed, ſhall perſonally repair two times in every year at the leaſt, to his ſaid benefice and cure, and there to tarry and abide by the ſpace of eight days, at every ſuch time at the leaſt, to viſit and inſtruct his ſaid cure, upon the pain to forfeit for every time ſo failing, fourty ſhillings, the one moyety thereof to the King our Soveraign Lord, the other to ſuch as will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any of the Kings Courts of record, in which ſuit no eſſoin, protection or wager of law ſhall be allowed.

Theſe Chaplains muſt ſometimes reſort to their cure.

CAP. XXIX.

Religious perſons enabled to ſue and be ſued.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 31 H.8.6. enabling religious perſons to purchaſe, to ſue, to be ſued, and inherit.

WHere in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the eight and twentieth day of April, in the one and thirtieth year of the Reign of our Soveraign Lord, Henry the eighth by the Grace of God King of England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and of the Church of England, and alſo of Ireland, in the earth the ſupream Head: It was and is ordained and enacted by the authority of the ſaid Parliament, That all and ſingular ſuch religious perſons, as well men as women profeſſed, of what order, rule or habit ſoever they were, which then were, or after that time ſhould be put at their liberties, from the danger, ſervitude, and condition of their Religion and profeſſion, whereunto they were profeſſed, by reaſon of ſuppreſſion, diſſolution, forfeiture by attainder, rendring, or otherwiſe giving to the hands of the Kings Majeſty, their houſes, Monaſteries and profeſſions; ſhould by authority of the ſaid Parliament, from and after the firſt day of the ſame Parliament, and from and after the time that they were or ſhould be put at ſuch liberty, have free liberty to purchaſe to them, and to their heirs in fee-ſimple, fee-tail, for term of life, for years, or at will, Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Annuities, and other Hereditaments and things whatſoever they were, in like manner and form, as though they or any of them had never been profeſſed, nor entred into any ſuch Religion: and that the ſame religious perſons, and every of them, by authority of the ſaid Act of Paliament, ſhould be able to ſue, and to be ſued in all manner of actions, plaints and ſuits, whatſoever they were, of and for any matter or cauſe grown ſithence, and after the time of their ſeveral deraignments or departing out of their Religion, in all Courts, places and juriſdictions within this Realm of England, as other the Kings ſubjects were, and that they and every of them ſhould and might from that time uſe and exerciſe, receive, take, have and enjoy, all and every lawful thing and things from thenceforth to be grown, fallen or happened unto them or any of them, after the ſaid deraignment, or departing out of their Religion, in as large and ample manner, form and condition, as if they had never been profeſſed, nor entred into Religion, this ſame profeſſion or religion, or any law, cuſtom or uſe, within the ſaid Realm of England to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding, as by the ſaid Act among other articles, clauſes and proviſions more plainly appeareth.

Religious perſons which were removed from one corporation to another, enabled to inherit, purchaſe, ſue and be ſued.

And foraſmuch as divers ambiguities and doubts daily do ariſe, whether the ſaid Act extend unto ſuch late religious perſons, as were in divers late religious houſes and Monaſteries, which by the Kings Highneſs were immediately tranſported and tranſlated from their religion and old corporation, into a new corporation, and never came and remained in his gracious hands, neither by ſuppreſſion, diſſolution, forfeiture by attainder, ne ſuch like, according to the words of the ſaid former Act. In avoiding of which ſaid ambiguities and doubts: Be it now ordained and enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, and the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Act of Parliament above remembred, made in the ſaid one and thirtieth year, ſhall extend as well to all ſuch perſons which be living, that were religious perſons in any of the ſaid houſes, which were ſo tranſlated and [a] tranſported from one corporation into another, which at any time was profeſſed, or were religious perſons, in any of the ſaid houſes within this Realm of England, and that they and every of them from the time of their ſaid ſeveral deraignment and diſcharge of their ſaid profeſſions and religions, ſhall be in like quality, eſtate, condition and degree, and alſo ſhall take, have and enjoy like benefit, commodity, profit and advantage, and with like proviſo onely, and not otherwiſe, to every intent & in every thing, as any other religious perſon or perſons may and ſhall have, take and enjoy by vertue of the ſaid former Act above remembred, the ſame profeſſion, or religion, or any cuſtom or uſe to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. XXXVI.

Proviſion for repair of deſolate and void grounds which had been builded in Canterbury, Buckingham, &c.

Foraſmuch as in times paſt, divers and many beautifull houſes of habitation have been within the walls and liberties of the City of Canterbury, the City of Rocheſter, the Boroughs and Towns of Stamford and great Grimesby, in the County of Lincoln, the Town of Cambridg in the County of Cambridge, the Borough or Town of Derby in the County of Derby, the Borough or Town of Gilford in the County of Surrey, the Town of Donwich in the County of Suffolk, the Boroughs or Towns of the Cinque Ports, with their members, the Town of Lewes in the County of Suſſex, and the Town of Buckingham in the County of Buckingham, which now are fallen down, decayed, and at this time remain unreedified, lying as deſolate and void grounds, and many of them adjoyning nigh unto the high ſtreets repleniſhed with much ordure, filth and uncleanneſs, with pits, cellers, and vaults lying open and uncovered, to the great peril and danger of all the inhabitants, and other the Kings ſubjects paſſing by the ſame: and ſome houſes be very weak and feeble, ready to fall down, and be very dangerous to paſs by, to the great decay and hinderance of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns and Cinque Ports. It may therefore be enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, being owners and poſſeſſioners of any ſuch deſolate or void grounds, that at any time within five and fourty years next before the making of this Act, have been builded for houſes of habitation, or for any houſe or houſes of habitation, now or hereafter being in decay and not fully fallen down, within the liberties and precincts of any of the ſaid Boroughs, Towns and places, do not ſufficiently reedifie, build and repair, or cauſe to be reedified, builded and repaired, the ſaid deſolate void grounds and decayed houſes, convenient for habitation and dwelling, within two years next after proclamation to be made in or upon the ſame void ground or grounds, decayed houſe or houſes, by the Mayors, Aldermen & Burgeſſes, or other head Officers within y precinct of their own authorities, That then it ſhall be lawful for the chief Lord or Lords immediate, of whom ſuch deſolate and void grounds, decayed and ruinous houſes be holden, after the ſaid two years be expired, to enter into the ſame, and to have the ſame grounds or houſes, with the curtilage, backſide, and garden adjoyning to the ſame, if they be of the inheritance of the owner or owners of the ſaid decayed houſe or ground, and exceed not one acre of ground, to them and to their heirs or ſucceſſors, or to their own proper uſe for ever: So that the ſaid Lord or Lords immediate, entring by the authority of this Act, do ſufficiently reedifie, build or repair the ſame void ground or decayed houſes, within two years and a half next and immediately following ths determination of the forſaid firſt two years.

If the owner of a decayed houſe do not reedifie it within two years after proclamation, the Lord of the fee may enter and retain it to him and his heirs.

And in caſe ſuch Lord or Lords as may enter by this Act, do not enter and well and ſufficiently reedifie, build or repair the ſame void grounds or decayed houſes, within the ſaid two years and an half to them limited by this Act: or if ſuch Lord or Lords immediate, as may enter by this Act, do ſufficiently reedifie, build and repair the ſame void grounds or decayed houſes, within the ſaid two years and an half to them limited, and after they, their heirs or ſucceſſors ſuffer the ſame houſes or void grounds to fall in ruine and decay, and do not build or reedifie the ſame ſufficiently within two years and an half of ſuch ruine or decay, that then it ſhall be lawful to all perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, as then ſhall have any rent-charge joyntly or ſeverally going out of the ſaid ground or grounds, or decayed houſe or houſes, in any of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns or places, immediately after the ſaid two years and an half expired, to enter into the ſame, and to have to ſuch of them, their heirs and ſucceſſors, to their own proper uſe, as ſhall ſo build the ſaid void grounds or decayed houſes, by authority of this Act, the ſame void grounds or houſes, with the curtilage, back-ſide, and garden adjoyning to the ſame, if they be of the inheritance of the owner or owners of the ſaid decayed houſe or ground, and exceed not in quantity one acre of ground, diſcharged of all rents going out of the ſame grounds or houſes, as well againſt the ſaid Lord and Lords immediate, as all other perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, having any rent, or rents charges, or rents ſeck out of the ſame, other than the fee-ferm of the ſaid City, Borough, Town or place, or ſome parcel thereof: So that the ſaid perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, having the ſaid rent-charge, entring by the authority of this Act, do ſufficiently reedifie, build and repair the ſame deſolate or void ground and grounds, or decayed houſe or houſes, within one year and three quarters next and immediately following the determination of the ſaid two years and an half, to the ſaid Lord or Lords immediate appointed by this Act.

The entry of him or them which have a rent-charge in default of the chief Lord.

And in caſe ſuch perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, having any of the ſaid rents charges,

as

The entry of the chief Officers of the ſame Corporate Towns in default of them which have the rent-charge.

as may enter by this Act, do not enter, and well and ſufficiently reedifie, build or repair the ſame void grounds, or decayed houſes, within one year and three quarters to them appointed by vertue of this Act: Or if they or any of them having ſuch rent-charge, and that may enter by this Act, do ſufficiently build and repair the ſame void ground or grouds, or decayed houſe or houſes, within the ſaid one year and three quarters to them limited, and after, they, their heirs or ſucceſſors, ſuffer the ſame void ground or grounds, houſe or houſes to fall in ruine and decay, and do not build or reedifie the ſame ſufficiently within one year and three quarters after ſuch ruine or decay: That then it ſhall be lawful to the Mayors, Aldermen and Burgeſſes, and other the head Officers of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns and places, by what name or names ſoever they be incoporated, and their ſucceſſors, and every of them, within the limits of their authorities, immediately after the ſaid year aud three quarters expired, into every ſuch deſolate and void grounds decayed, or ruinous houſes, to enter, and to have, hold and enjoy, to them and their ſucceſſors for ever, to their own uſes, the ſame grounds or houſes, and every of them, with the curtilages, gardens and backſides to the ſame, if they be of the inheritance of the owner or owners of the ſaid decayed houſe or ground, and exceed not in quantity one acre of ground, clearly diſcharged of all rents going out of the ſame grounds or houſes, as well againſt the ſaid Lord or Lords immediate, as all other perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, having ſuch rent-charge, or rent-ſeck, as before is ſaid, other then the fee-ferm of the ſaid City, Borough, Town or place, or parcel thereof, ſo that the ſame Mayors, Aldermen and Burgeſſes, or other head Officer as is aforeſaid, or their ſucceſſors for the time being, do reedifie, build or repair, or cauſe to be reedified, builded or repaired, the ſame ground or grounds, houſe or houſes, within three years next and immediately following the determination of the ſaid year and three quarters, limited or appointed to ſuch perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, that have, or ſhall have any rent as is aforeſaid.

The entry of the firſt owners in default of the chief Officers.

And in caſe the ſaid Mayors, Aldermen and Burgeſſes, or other head Officers, as is aforeſaid, or their ſucceſſors, do not enter and reedifie, build and repair the ſame void ground or grounds, decayed houſe or houſes, in form aforeſaid, within the ſaid term of three years after their ſaid entry: or if they ſufficiently reedifie, build and repair the ſame void ground or grounds, or decayed houſe or houſes, within the ſaid three years to them limited by this Act, and after they or their ſucceſſors ſuffer the ſame houſe or houſes, void ground or grounds to fall in ruine and decay, and do not build nor reedifie the ſame ſufficiently within three years after ſuch ruine and decay, that then it ſhall be lawful to the firſt owner or owners, poſſeſſor or poſſeſſors of ſuch void ground or grounds, decayed houſe or houſes, their heirs or ſucceſſors, immediately after the ſaid three years to the ſaid Mayors, Aldermen and Burgeſſes, and other head Officers, as is afore limited, expired, into the ſame houſes, ground or grounds, curtilages, gardens and back-ſides, to enter, and the ſame to retain to them, their heirs and ſucceſſors, as in their firſt eſtate; any thing contained in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. XXXIX.

The erection of the Court of Surveyors of the Kings Lands, the names of the Officers there, and their authority.

Co.Inſt.4.p.112.

THe Court of the General Surveyors of the Kings Lands, ſhall be a Court of Record, and ſhall have a Privy-Seal, of which Court ſhall be Officers, the Kings General Surveyors, a Treaſurer, viz. the Treaſurer of the Kings Chamber for the time being, an Atturney, the Maſter of the Woods, Auditors, Receivers, a Clerk of the Court, an Uſher, a Meſſenger; their ſeveral oaths, duties, and authorities. All lands only mentioned in a ſchedule ſigned or to be ſigned with the Kings Sign manual, ſhall be in order and governance of the ſaid Court. AL. 1 M. 10.

Co.Inſt.4.18

And where divers and ſundry obligations and ſpecialties heretofore have been made to divers perſons, part of them to the uſe of King Henry the ſeventh, father of our now moſt gracious Soveraign Lord, and part of them to the uſe and behoof of our ſaid Soveraign Lord: Be it enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That all obligations and ſpecialties, which after the firſt day of May next coming, ſhall be made for any cauſe or cauſes, touching or in any wiſe concerning the Kings moſt Royal Majeſty or his heirs, or to his heirs or their uſe, commodity or behoof, ſhall be made to his Highneſs, and to his heirs, Kings, in his or their name or names, by theſe words Domino regi, and to none other perſon or perſons to his uſe, and to be payed to his Highneſs by theſe words, Solvend. eidem Domino regi, hæred. vel executoribus ſuis, with other other words uſed and accuſtomed in common obligations. And that all ſuch obligations and ſpecialties ſo to be made, ſhall be good and effectual in the Law, to all purpoſes and intents, and ſhall be in the ſame nature, kind, quality, force and effect, to all intents and purpoſes, as the writings obligatory taken and knowledged according to the Statute of the Staple at Weſtminſter, hath at any time before the making of this preſent Act, been taken, uſed, exerciſed and executed againſt any lay perſon or perſons, any law, uſage or cuſtom to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Obligations made to the King ſhall be in the nature of a Statute Staple, and ſhall be made Domino Regi. St. 14 Car.2. ca.16.

And that all ſuch obligations and ſpecialties, the debt whereof being not payed nor contented in the life of the King, ſhall come, remain and be to the heirs or executors of the King, at the free liberty, diſpoſition, aſſignment and appointment of the ſame King to whom ſuch obligations or ſpecialties ſhall be made as is aforeſaid. And if any perſon or perſons in his or their own proper perſon or perſons, after the ſaid firſt day of May, make or take any obligation or obligations to the uſe of the Kings Majeſty, or of his heirs, Kings, otherwiſe then is before expreſſed, that then ſuch perſon or perſons only, that ſhall ſo offend contrary to this preſent Act, for his or their ſo doing, ſhall have and ſuffer ſuch impriſonment as ſhall be aſſeſſed and adjudged by the King or his honourable Council, daily attendant upon his Highneſs moſt Royal perſon.

Who ſhall have the Kings ſpecialties after his death.

And that all ſuits to be made after the firſt day of April next coming, for the recovery of, or for any the Kings debts, in any the Kings Courts mentioned in this Act, of, or upon any obligation or ſpecialty dated or delivered before the making of this preſent Act, or which ſhall be dated and delivered to the King, or to his uſe, afore the ſecond day of May next coming, ſhall be taken, ſued and purſued in the name of the King, and in the name of none other perſon or perſons, to whatſoever perſon or perſons the ſaid obligations or ſpecialties, or any of them, be, have been, or ſhall be made to the Kings uſe.

All ſuits for the Kings debt to be in his own name.

And that all ſuits, proceſs, judgments, decrees and executions hereafter to be taken, purſued or given for the King in any the Kings Courts mentioned in this Act, of or upon any of the ſame obligations laſt aforementioned, ſhall be of the ſame or like ſtrength, force, effect and intent in the Law to all purpoſes, only againſt all and all manner ſuch perſon and perſons as been bounden in ſuch obligations or ſpecialties, as well ſpiritual as temporal, as againſt their heirs, ſucceſſors, executors and adminiſtrators, and every of them, and againſt none other, as writings obligatories taken and acknowledged according to the Statute of the Staple at Weſtminſter at any time before the making of this preſent Act, have been uſed to be taken, exerciſed and executed againſt any lay perſon or perſons.

Proceſs, judgment, execution for the King to be in the nature of the Statute Staple.

And that the King in all ſuits hereafter to be taken in or upon any obligation or ſpecialties, made or hereafter to be made to the King, or any to his uſe, ſhall have and recover his juſt debts, coſts and damages, as other common perſons uſe to do in ſuits and purſuits for their debts. And that all ſuch ſuits as now be depending in the name of any common perſon to his Graces uſe, whereof no verdict is, or before the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, ſhall be given, ſhall be given or paſſed, or no Exigent awarded, ſhall abate, be void, and of none effect. And nevertheleſs the King by the authority aforeſaid, ſhall have his ſuit and remedy for the ſaid debt ſo being in action and proceſs, in form as is aforeſaid, in any of the Courts in this Act mentioned, any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The King in all ſuits for debt ſhall recover his coſts and damages.

And it is further enacted by the authority abovesaid, that all and every ſuit and ſuits, which hereafter ſhall be had, made or taken, of, for, or upon any debt or duties, which heretofore hath grown or been due, or that hereafter ſhall grow or be due to the King, in the ſeveral offices and courts of his Exchequer, Dutchy of Lancaſter, augmentations of the revenues of his Crown, Surveyors-general of his manors, lands and tenements, Maſter of ẏ Wards and Liveries, & Court of ẏ Firſt-fruits & tenths, or in any of them, or by reaſon or authority of any of them, ſhall be ſeverally ſued in ſuch one of ẏ ſaid Courts & Offices, in ẏ which Court

Suits for the Kings debts ſhall be in the Courts where they ſhall be due.

and office, or by reaſon of the which Court and office, the ſame debt or duty did firſt grow, or become to be due, or hereafter ſhall grow or become due, or in the which office or Court the recogniſance, obligation or ſpecialty is, or ſhall be or remain. And every ſuch ſeveral ſuit and ſuits ſhall be made in every of the ſaid ſeveral Offices and Courts, under the ſeveral ſeals of the ſaid ſeveral Courts by Capias, Extendi facias, Sub pœna, Attachments, and Proclamations of allegiance, if need ſhall require, or any of them, or otherwiſe, as unto the ſaid ſeveral Courts ſhall be thought by their diſcretions expedient for the ſpeedy recovery of the Kings debts.

And that the ſaid Court of Eſchequer, and all and every of the ſaid Courts, ſhall have whole and full authority and power to hear and determiue all and every ſuch ſuit and ſuits, as hereafter ſhall be taken, commenced and purſued for the intent above ſpecified, and thereupon to award, make, and do execution by and upon the body, lands and goods of the party or parties that ſo ſhall be condemned accordingly.

The authority of the Courts of Eſchequer, Wards and Dutchy.

And alſo ſhall have full power and authority to hear and determine all and all manner of debts, detinues, treſpaſſes, accompts, reckonings, waſtes, deceits, negligences, defaults, contempts, complaints, riots, quarrels, ſuits, ſtrifes, controverſies, forfeitures, offences, and other things whatſoever they ſhall be, which hereafter ſhall grow, be moved, ſtirred, procured, purſued or ariſe, in, for, or upon any matter, cauſe, or other thing aſſigned, committed or appointed, or hereafter to be aſſigned, committed or appointed to the ſeveral directions, orders and governances of the ſame Courts, or any of them, or for or upon any manner of thing or things, which may or ſhall touch, or in any wiſe concern the ſame, wherein the King ſhall be only party. And alſo all manner of ſtates for term of years between party and party concerning the premiſes, and to correct and puniſh by their diſcretions all and every perſon and perſons, which before them ſhall be convicted of any of the premiſes, according to the nature, quality and quantity of his or their offence or offences, cauſe or cauſes, matter or matters, all and all manner of treaſons, murders, felonies, eſtates, rights, titles and intereſts, as well of inheritance as of freehold, other then joynters for term of life only excepted and always reſerved.

Title pretended to lands ſold or exchanged by the King.

And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall make, or pretend any claim, right, title, intereſt or poſſeſſion, in, or to any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, bargained, ſold or exchanged, or hereafter to be bargained, ſold or exchanged by the King our Soveraign Lord, to any perſon or perſons in fee-ſimple, or fee-tail, by his Highneſs Letters Patents, made or to be made thereof under the great Seal of England, upon which Letters Patents there is or ſhall be reſerved any annual rents, or farmes payable to the Kings Highneſs, his heirs or ſucceſſors in his ſaid Court of Augmentations: or demand or ask any rents, annuities, offices, fees, or other profits in, out, or of any ſuch Manors, Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, contained or to be compriſed in any ſuch Letters Patents, made or hereafter to be made, as is aforeſaid: Or if our ſaid Soveraign Lord, his heirs or ſucceſſors, ſhall make or pretend any claim, right, title, intereſt or poſſeſſion, in, or to any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, bargained, ſold or exchanged, or to be bargained, ſold or exchanged, by the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors, to any perſon or perſons in fee-ſimple, or fee-tail, by his or their Letters Patents thereof made, or hereafter to be made under his or their great Seal of England, upon which Letters Patents is or ſhall be reſerved any annual rents, or farms payable, or which ſhall be payable to the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors, in his ſaid Court of Augmentations: Or if the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors, demand or ask any rents, annuities or other profits, or hereditaments of any eſtate of inheritance in, of, or out of any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments contained or compriſed, or to be contained or compriſed, appointed, or to be appointed, or aſſigned to the ſaid Court of Augmentations, in any Letters Patents made, or hereafter to be made, as is aforeſaid: That then the Chancellor of the ſaid Court of Augmentations, by the aſſent of the Council of the ſaid Court, or the more part of them, ſhall have power and authority by authority of this Act, to examine all ſuch demands, rights, titles, intereſts and poſſeſſions, rents, annuities, offices, fees and other profits and hereditaments, whatſoever they ſhall be, and every of them ſo to be demanded, pretended, claimed or asked, as is aforeſaid, and by witneſs, proofs, and other ways and means, by their diſcretions, to hear and determine the ſame: And in caſe the Kings Patentees in any ſuch Letters Patents, as is aforeſaid, or any of them, their heirs, ſucceſſors or aſſigns, ſhall be compelled by the authority of the ſaid Court of Augmentations, by decree or judgment of the ſame Court, to render and yield to any perſon or perſons in fee-ſimple or fee-tail, the lands, tenements or hereditaments compriſed or ſpecified in any ſuch Letters Patents, or any parcel of them, or to ſuffer any perſon or perſons to have and enjoy any offices, rents, annuities, or other profits or hereditaments in fee-ſimple, or in fee-tail, out, or of the ſame, or out of any parcel thereof: And that it ſhall appear in the ſaid Letters Patents, that the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors, is or ſhall be bounden, or of right and equity ought to recompence and ſatiſfie the ſaid Patentees, their heirs, ſucceſſors, executors or aſſigns, or any of them, of and for ſuch manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, annuities, rents, offices, fees, or other profits recovered in fee-ſimple or fee-tail, by decree or judgment of the ſaid Court, as is aforeſaid, or elſe to diſcharge and acquit the ſaid Patentees, their heirs, ſucceſſors, executors and aſſigns, of or for any rents, annuities, offices, fees, or other profits aforeſaid recovered by decree or judgment in fee-ſimple or fee-tail, as is aboveſaid: Or if it ſhall appear unto the ſaid Court of Augmentations, or unto the more part of them, that the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors, of right and equity ought to have, recover or enjoy in fee-ſimple or fee-tail, any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, in any ſuch Letters Patents compriſed, or rents, annuities, offices, fees, or other profits, in, out, or of the ſame: That then in all and every Demanding any rents or profits out of ſuch lands. The King pretending title to any lands by him ſold or exchanged.

The King demanding rents or profits out of ſuch lands.

ſuch caſe and caſes, the ſaid Chancellor of the Augmentations for the time being, with the aſſent of three or more ſuch perſons, as hereafter ſhall be named by the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhall have full power and authority without any Bill or Warrant to be ſigned, or ſued from the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, for the ſame, as well to recompence and ſatisfie the party or parties grieved, ſo much in money of the Kings treaſure remaining in the ſaid Court of Augmentations, as the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, rents, annuities, offices, fees, or other profits or hereditaments, loſt or recovered, by decree or judgment of the ſaid Court of Augmentations, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be worth to be ſold, or otherwiſe diſcharge and acquit ſuch perſon or perſons thereof, according to his or their letters patents: as alſo to make and take order, direction, decree and judgment for the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, for the recovery, attaining, and having of all and ſingular ſuch manors, lands, tenements, rents, annuities, offices, fees, profits and hereditaments, and all and every other thing and things, which the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, by, and upon ſuch examination and examinations, ought, ſhould, and ſhall be juſtly intituled to have, recover, poſſeſs or enjoy in fee-ſimple or fee-tail: And the ſame decree, direction, order and judgment to be good and effectual in the Law, to bind all parties and privies to the ſame to all intents and purpoſes. And where any decree or judgment ſhall be given in the ſaid Court of Augmentations for any the premiſſes, extend to the loſs of the Kings Patentee or Patentees, their heirs, ſucceſſors, executors or adminiſtrators, but for term of life or lives of the demaundant or demaundants, plaintiff or plaintiffs, or for term of years, the loſs whereof the King is bounden and ought to recompence, diſcharge or acquit by his letters patents: then the ſaid Chancellor of the Augmentations ſhall have full power and authority to recompence or diſcharge the ſame in money, as is aforeſaid, or elſe to recompence the ſame of the lands, tenements, hereditaments and poſſeſſions limited to the ſurvey and governance of the ſaid Court of Augmentations, to be granted under the ſeal of the ſame Court by the diſcretion of the ſaid Chancellor, as ſhall ſeem to him beſt for the Kings profit, without any Bill or Warrant to be ſued, or ſigned by, or from the King for the ſame. And that every ſuch recompence, ſatisfaction, and diſcharge to be made by authority of this Act, to any perſon or perſons by the ſaid Chancellor, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be good & effectual againſt the King, his Heirs & Succeſſors, any law, uſage or cuſtom to the contrary notwithſtanding.

In what cauſes the Court of Augmentations without other warrant may make recompence to any perſon that is wronged.

A loſs extending by a decree to the Kings Patentee for life or years.

Co. Inſt. 4 p. 124

And it is further enacted by the authority abovesaid, That every of the ſaid Courts ſhall have full power and authority, by force of this Act, to ſet ſuch fines, penalties, and amerciaments upon parties, Sheriffs, Officers, and other perſons, for his and their defaults, contempts, negligences, or miſdemeanors, as unto the ſaid Courts, or unto any of them ſhall be reaſonably conſidered and thought expedient. And that all and every trial and trials, of all and all manner of ſuits, bills, plaints, informations, declarations, complaints, anſwers, replications, allegations, cauſes, matters, and iſſues, or any of them, to be purſued, made or tried in the ſaid ſeveral Courts, or any of them, ſhall be made and tried by due examination of witneſs, writings, proofs, or by ſuch other ways or means, as by the ſaid ſeveral Courts, or by any of them ſhall be thought expedient. And that all and every ſuch judgment and judgments, decree or decrees, examination and examinations ſhall be good, perfect, and in full ſtrength, force and effect in the Law to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes.

The authority of the foreſaid Courts to ſet fines and amerciaments upon offenders.

Trials in the ſaid Courts.

And where divers and ſundry perſons ſtand bounden to the Kings Highneſs in divers great and notable ſums of money, by Recognizance or other bonds in the ſaid ſeveral Courts, for debts due to the Kings Highneſs, as well for the purchaſe of lands and woods, and performance of conditions, as alſo for divers and ſundry other cauſes; and albeit the ſame perſons have well and truly ſatisfied, contented and paid the ſame debts, or performed the conditions of the ſame Recogniſance, or other bonds, yet the ſame Recogniſances, or other bonds cannot be made void without the Kings eſpecial warrant, which ſhould be much unquietneſs to the Kings Majeſty, and alſo very chargeable to his Graces ſubjects, to ſue to his Highneſs from time to time for the ſame. In conſideration whereof, and foraſmuch as the ſaid perſons being ſo bounden by Recogniſance, or in other bonds, may by divers caſualties loſe their acquittances, whereby great danger and peril may grow to them, their heirs, executors, and ſucceſſors: Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That upon the ſight of the acquittances, made or to be made for the paiment of ẏ ſaid debt or debts, or ſum or ſums of money, growen or to be growen, or due and ſufficient proof made, or hereafter to be made before the ſaid ſeveral head Officers for the time being of the ſaid ſeveral Courts, as the caſe ſhall riſe or grow, or if the condition of the ſame Recogniſance or bond be performed or kept; That then every ſuch ſeveral head Officer for that Recogniſance taken or to be taken, by him or any of his predeceſſors, or of any other bond for that time being within his charge and cure, ſhall have full power and authority to cancel and make void the ſaid Recogniſance or other bond, calling to him ſuch of the ſame Court as to him or them ſhall ſeem moſt convenient for the cancellation of the ſame Recogniſance or bond.

The chief Officers of the foreſaid Courts may diſcharge Recogniſances taken there.

And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſame cancellation ſo made, ſhall be a ſure and ſufficient diſcharge of the ſame Recogniſance or other bond, to all and every ſuch perſon or perſons as do or ſhall ſtand bounden in the ſame Recogniſance or bond ſo cancelled againſt the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs, Executors, and Succeſſors for ever.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſame ſeveral head Officers for the time being, in every of their ſaid ſeveral Courts, ſhall have full power and authority to diſcharge, cancel, or make void by his or their diſcretion, all and ſingular Recogniſances now made, or hereafter to be made in the ſaid Court, for any apparance or other contempt: and that the ſame head Officer or Officers, and the parties ſo bounden and to be bounden, to be diſcharged againſt the King our Sovereign Lord, his Heirs, Executors, & Succeſſors for the cancellation of the ſame Recogniſance.

Diſcharging of Recogniſances taken for apparance or contempt.

27 H. 8. 27. And where the Kings Majeſty ſithen the making of the ſame Statute in the ſaid xxvij. year of his noble Reign, of his own meer motion, liberality, and benignity, hath freely given and granted by his ſundry letters patents under his Great Seal of England, unto divers and ſundry of the Nobles and Lords, as well Spiritual as Temporal of this his Realm, & alſo unto divers and many other perſons and bodies politick, to their heirs or ſucceſſors, and to the heirs of their bodies, or for term of life or lives, divers and many ſundry Honours, Caſtles, Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rectories, Penſions, Portions, and other Hereditaments, which then were in the order, governance and ſurvey of the ſame Court of the Augmentations of the Revenues of his Graces Crown, or out of any other of the ſaid ſeveral Courts, reſerving unto his Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors by the ſame letters patents, one yearly rent in the name of one Tenth, or the tenth part of the yearly value of the ſame premiſſes, or any other Tenth payable, and to be paid in the ſame Courts, or to the Officers of the ſame Courts deputed and aſſigned for the ſame, at one certain Feaſt or day in the ſame letters patents mentioned and declared, which ſaid perſons ſo advanced, notwithſtanding they have ſithen & after the making of the ſame letters patents peaceably enjoyed the ſame manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments ſo given, and thereof have quietly perceived and taken the iſſues, revenues, and profits thereof: yet nevertheleſs divers of the ſame perſons have not at the days and feaſts aſſigned and limited unto them in the ſame letters patents, not long time after the ſame days and feaſts of payment thereof, contented and payed in the ſame Courts, or to the Officers of the ſame Courts aſſigned and deputed for the ſame, the ſaid yearly rent or rents ſo reſerved to the Kings Highneſs, contrary to their duties, and againſt all reaſon and good conſcience. In conſideration whereof, be it therefore now ordained, enacted and eſtabliſhed, by the aſſent of the Kings Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon of what eſtate, degree or condition ſoever he be, or body politick, to whom the Kings Majeſty hath by his letters patents under his Great Seal of England, or under the great Seal of the ſame Court of Augmentation, given or granted, or hereafter ſhall give or grant, with like reſervation of rent or rents, any manors, lands, tenements, rectories, or other hereditaments whatſoever, which were, or hereafter ſhall be in the order, governance, and ſurvey of the ſame Courts, or any of them, to be had to them, and their heirs or ſucceſſors, or for any other eſtate of inheritance, or for term of life or lives, yielding and reſerving to the ſame our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, one yearly rent at one certain day or feaſt in the ſame letters patents, expreſſed, mentioned, and declared, and to be paid into the ſame Courts: that if the ſame perſons, bodies politick, their heirs, or ſucceſſors, or aſſigns, or any of them, do not truly content or pay, or cauſe to be contented, or paid unto the Treaſurer of ye ſaid ſeveral Courts, or to the general or particular Receiver of the ſame ſeveral Courts, deputed and aſſigned for the ſame, for the time being, to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs, at the day or feaſt limited by the ſame letters patents, or within three moneths next & immediately after the ſame day or feaſt of payment thereof, all ſuch ſums of money, which been, or hereafter ſhall be due, reſerved to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, by the ſame letters patents, or by any of them, or make ſufficient tender thereof to the ſaid Treaſurer, or general or particular Receiver: that then every of the ſame perſons, bodies politick, their heirs, ſucceſſors or aſſigns, for lack and default of payment of the ſame rent, to forfeit and loſe to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, as much money as the fourth part of the ſame rent ſo reſerved, or hereafter to be reſerved for one year, doth or ſhall amount unto, for, and in the name of one pain, over and above the ſame rent reſerved, or hereafter to be reſerved. And if it happen the ſame perſons, or bodies politick, their heirs, ſucceſſors, or aſſigns, or any of them, do not within one half year next after the day or feaſt expreſſed in the ſame letters patents, content or pay, or lawfully tender unto the ſame Treaſurer, or general and particular Receiver, to the uſe of the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors, as well the ſaid yearly rent, ſo reſerved, or hereafter to be reſerved, as alſo the ſaid money forfeited for and in the name of a pain: that then the ſame perſons, bodies politick, their heirs, ſucceſſors, or aſſigns, ſo offending, ſhall forfeit and loſe to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, ſo much money as the moiety or half deal of the ſame rent reſerved, or to be reſerved for one year, doth or ſhall amount unto, over and above the ſaid rent reſerved or to be reſerved, and ſo to forfeit and loſe for every half year after ſo much money as the whole rent reſerved, or to be reſerved for one whole year doth or ſhall amount unto, until the ſame rent reſerved or to be reſerved, and the arrearages of the ſame, and alſo the ſaid ſums of money ſo forfeited and loſt for a pain, been unto the ſame Treaſurer, or general or particular Receiver truly ſatisfied, contented and paid, to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors.

A remedy for tithes not payed iſſuing forth of Abbey lands given by the King to others.

The penalty for default of payment at the day aſſigned, or within three moneths after.

The penalty for default of payment within a year.

A further remedy for the tenth, and money forfeited in the name of a penalty.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to the ſame Treaſurer and general or particular Receivor, to diſtrain as well for the ſame rent ſo reſerved or to be reſerved, and for the arrearages of the ſame, as alſo for the ſaid ſums of money ſo forfeited, or to be forfeited and loſt, for and in the name of the pain aforeſaid. And alſo the head Officer or Officers of either of the ſame Courts for the time being, upon certificate to him made, or to be made of the ſame default and contempt, ſhall and may award ſuch proceſs out of the ſame Courts againſt the ſame offendor for not paying of the ſaid rent ſo reſerved, and alſo for the ſame ſums of money forfeited and to be forfeited by this Act, as by his or their diſcretion ſhall ſeem convenient.

Acquittance for the tenth.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons hereafter make lawful paiment to any of the ſaid Treaſurers, or general or particular Receivors of any of the ſame Courts, deputed and aſſigned for the ſame, of any ſum or ſums of money due to the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, for any yearly rent or tenth, and upon or after ſuch paiment offer unto the ſame Treaſurer, or general or particular Receivor, one lawful and ſufficient acquittance ready made to be aſſigned by the ſame Treaſurer or general or particular Receivor, witneſſing the receit of the ſaid ſum or ſums of money ſo paid: that then the ſaid Treaſurer, general or particular Receivor, ſhall with his own hand aſſign the ſame acquittance, without taking any fee or reward for the making of the ſame acquittance, upon pain to forfeit and loſe for every time offending contrary to this Act, xl ſhillings, one moiety whereof to be to the Kings Highneſs, and the other moiety to the party that will purſue for the ſame. And if the parties, which hereafter ſhall happen to pay to the ſame Treaſurer, or general or particular Receivor, any ſuch ſum or ſums of money, and do not bring an acquittance with him to be aſſigned, as is beforeſaid: that then if the ſame Treaſurer, or general or particular Receivor, upon requeſt to him made, ſhall make and deliver unto the ſame party one ſufficient acquittance, teſtifying the ſame receit, that then the ſame Treaſurer, or general or particular Receivor, or any of his Clerks, ſhall receive, or take of the ſame party for the making of the ſaid acquittance, not above four pence, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch acquittance xx. s. for which he or they ſhall happen to take above the ſaid ſum of iv. d. to be recovered as is beforeſaid, that is to ſay, the one moiety thereof to the uſe of the Kings Highneſs, of his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety thereof to the party that will purſue for the ſame.

And be it alſo enacted, That the ſame acquittance ſhall be a ſufficient diſcharge according to the tenor and effect of the ſame.

And be it alſo further enacted and ordained by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the ſame general or particular Receivors, which now be, or hereafter ſhall be within any of the ſaid Courts, happen to pay to any perſon or perſons, any annuity, penſion, or other rent, that then if the ſame perſon or perſons upon the receipt thereof deliver unto the ſame general or particular Receivor, one ſufficient and lawful acquittance ſealed and ſigned, teſtifying the ſame receit, that then the ſame general or particular Receivor ſhall receive the ſame acquittance, without taking or receiving any fee or reward for the making of the ſame. And if the ſame party, to whom the ſaid general or particular Receivor hath ſo contented and paid any ſuch annuity, penſion or rent, do not bring with him one ſufficient acquittance ſigned and ſealed, teſtifying the receit of the ſame money, by reaſon whereof the ſame general or particular Receivor by himſelf or his Clerk, maketh one acquittance for the receit of the ſame annuity, penſion or rent, that then the ſame Receivor or his Clerk, ſhall not receive or take for the making of ſuch acquittance, which he ſhall ſo happen to make, above four pence, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch acquittance, which he ſhall happen to refuſe, being ready made and offered to be delivered to him as is aboveſaid, xx. s. and for every acquittance which he ſhall hereafter happen to make for any the payments aforeſaid, and to receive for the making of the ſame acquittance above the ſum of four pence, to forfeit xx. s. the one moiety to the King, and the other to the party that will ſue for the ſame. And alſo that the ſame general or particular Receivors, or their deputies, which hereafter ſhall happen to pay any ſuch annuity, penſion, or rent, ſhall not retain or take of the party, to whom he ſhall happen to pay the ſame, in the way of reward or otherwiſe, not above the ſum of four pence for every pound, which the ſame general or particular Receivor ſhall ſo happen to pay, upon pain to forfeit vj. s. viij. d. for every penny, which he or they ſhall happen to receive aboveſaid ſum of four pence for every pound, which he or they ſhall ſo happen to pay: ẏ one moiety of the ſame forfeiture to be to the King, & the other moiety to the party ẏ will ſue for the ſame. And ẏ all the ſaid ſuits concerning the ſaid forfeitures may be commenced & purſued by bill, information, or action, in which ſuit none eſſoin, protection, or wager of law to be admitted.

How much he ſhall pay for an acquittance which doth receive any annuity.

The Receivor ſhall take but four pence a pound.

And be it further enacted, That if any perſon or perſons hereafter happen to tender or offer unto any of the Auditors of the ſame ſeveral Courts, for the time being, any of the Kings letters patents, decrees, of any of the ſame ſeveral Courts, grants, indentures of leaſes, as well for term of years, as for term of life or lives, to be enrolled before the ſame Auditor, according to his office: that then the ſame Auditor, upon the ſame tender or offer, ſhall enroll the ſame, or as much of the ſame letters patents, decrees, grants, or indentures, as ſhall appertain to his ſaid office. And if any of the ſame Auditors, or any of their Clerks, or any other to their uſe, or to the uſe of any of them, receive and take for the enrolment of any of the ſame letters patents, decrees, grants, or indentures, or for the allowance of the ſame above the ſum of three ſhillings four pence, that then the ſame Auditor or his Clerk ſo offending ſhall forfeit ſix ſhillings eight pence for every penny which the ſame Auditor, or any of them, ſhall happen at any time hereafter to receive contrary to the form aforeſaid, the one moiety of the ſame forfeiture to be to the Kings Highneſs, and the other moiety to him that will ſue for the ſame by ſuch manner and form as is aforeſaid.

The Auditors fees for enrolments.

And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Auditor of every the ſaid ſeveral Courts, yearly in every County within their ſaid ſeveral limits, by the ſpace of twenty days or more before their audit, ſhall proclaim, and declare in four ſeveral markets, or other places, the place and days, where and when they will keep their ſeveral audits in the ſame Shire, upon pain to forfeit for every time doing the contrary, five pounds, the one moiety whereof to be to the Kings Highneſs, and the other moiety to the party that will ſue for the ſame in form aforeſaid.

Auditors ſhall cauſe proclamation to be made in four market towns twenty days before their coming.

And that alſo every of the Auditors of the ſaid ſeveral Courts being ſeverally aſſigned to their ſeveral limits, and every the particular Receivors of the ſame ſeveral Courts, being alſo ſeverally aſſigned and joyned with the ſame ſeveral Auditors, in their ſaid ſeveral limits, after and between every of the Feaſts of St. Michael, the Archangel and Chriſtmas, ſhall direct and award their ſeveral warrants and precepts under their ſeals, to every of the Receivors, Bailiffs, Reeves, and other Officers whatſoever accomptable before the ſame Auditors, and by the ſame warrant or precept to charge and command in the name of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, every of the ſaid Receivors, Bailiffs, Reeves, and other Auditors and Receivors ſhall make their precepts to Bailiffs, &c.

other Officers, to appear before them at one certain day and place in the ſame warrant or precept to them preſcribed, there to declare and make a juſt and true accompt of all ſuch receipts, whereof they be accuſtomable, and owe to accompt.

A remedy againſt accomptants which make default of apparance of payment.

And after if the ſame Auditors and particular Receivors do repair unto the ſame place, and there keep their audit, according to the ſame proclamations, precept and warrant: that then if any Receivor, Bailiff, Reeve, or other Officer being accomptable of or for any of the manors, lands, tenements, or other whatſoever hereditaments, now remaining, or which hereafter ſhall be and remain in the order, governance, or ſurvey of any of the ſame ſeveral Courts, be lawfully warned, as well by the ſame proclamation, or by precept, or warrant in writing ſealed, and in the name of any of the Auditors of the ſaid ſeveral Courts, perſonally to appear by himſelf, or by his ſufficient and lawful deputy before the ſame Auditor and Receivor, at one certain day or place, in the ſaid warrant or precept preſcribed, there to make and declare a juſt and true accompt of all receipts of his ſaid Office, and if the ſame Receivor, Reeve, Bailiff, and other Officer, ſo being lawfully warned, do not appear before the ſame Auditor and Receivor at the ſame day and place in the ſaid warrant expreſſed: Or the ſame Receivor, Bailiff, Reeve, or Officer, do at the ſame day and place to them preſcribed, appear, and will not accompt before the ſame Auditor, according to the tenour and effect of the ſame precept and warrant, or if the ſame Receivor, Bailiff, Reeve, or other Officer accomptable, do by himſelf, or by his ſufficient and lawful deputy appear before the ſame Auditor and Receivor, and then, and there enter into his or their accompt before the ſaid Auditor, and after the ſame accompt finiſhed and ended, if the ſame Receivor, Bailiff, Reeve, or other Officer, do not content and pay unto the Treaſurer of the ſame ſeveral Courts, or to the general or particular Receivor of the ſame County for the time being, as the caſe ſhall require, within three weeks next and immediately after the ſame accompt fully finiſhed & ended, all ſuch ſums of money which upon the determination of his ſaid accompt, he ſhall happen to be found in arrearages, & the ſame default and accompt being duly proved before the head Officer and Officers of the ſaid ſeveral Courts for the time being: that then every ſuch Receivor, Bailiff, Reeve, or Officer, ſo offending, to forfeit and loſe his ſaid Office, and alſo his fee, which he or they had & Received for the exerciſing of the ſame Office.

The penalty if an accomptant do withdraw any rent.

And be it alſo further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any of the ſaid Receivors, Bailiffs, Reeves, or other Officers, upon the declaration of their ſaid accompts, do willingly conceal and withdraw any rent, revenue, fine, heriot, or other caſualty whatſoever it be, of the which he ought to have made accompt, and the ſame duly proved before the ſaid head Officer or Officers for the time being: that then every ſuch Receivor, Bailiff, Reeve, or other Officer ſo offending, to forfeit and loſe his ſaid office and fee, which he had for the exerciſing of the ſame, and alſo three times as much as he hath ſo concealed and withdrawn. And that the ſaid head Officer or Officers of the ſame ſeveral Courts for the time being, immediately upon certificate to him of the ſame default, contempt or offence, ſhall award proceſs in nature of attachment againſt the ſame Receivor, Bailiff, Reeve, or other Officer, as well for the ſame arrearages remaining in the hands of the ſame Receivor, Bailiff, Reeve, or Officer, as alſo for the penalty of their Recognizance, or bond, in which the ſame Receivor, Bailiff, Reeve, or Officer ſtandeth bounden to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, as alſo for the contempt and pain limited & appointed by this Act.

A remedy for debts which grow to the King by attainder, outlawry, forfeiture, gift, &c.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That in all actions and ſuits to be taken or purſued in any the Courts aforeſaid, for the recovery of any debt or debts, which now be or that hereafter ſhall happen to appertain, accrue, remain or be to the King, by reaſon of any attainder, outlawry, forfeiture, gift of the party, or by any other collateral way or means, it ſhall be ſufficient in the Law to ſhew and alledge in the ſaid ſuit generally, that the party to whom the ſaid debt or debts was or did belong, ſuch year and day did give the ſame debt or debts unto the King, or was attainted, outlawed, or other offence, forfeiture, deed, act, or thing committed or done, by reaſon whereof the ſaid debt or debts did accrue and ought to remain, come and be to the King. And that the ſame matter, ſo to be ſhewed, alleadged or declared in a generality, without ſhewing and declaring the circumſtance thereof, ſhall be of as good force and effect in the Law to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if the whole matter thereof had been or were alledged and declared at large in every point, according to the due order of the common Laws of this Realm.

The King ſhall be preferred in ſuit and execution.
9 H. 3. 18.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuit be commenced or taken, or any proceſs be hereafter awarded for the King, for the recovery of any of the Kings debts: that then the ſame ſuit and proceſs ſhall be preferred before any perſon or perſons. And that our ſaid Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall have firſt execution againſt any defendant or defendants, of and for his ſaid debts, before any other perſon or perſons, ſo always that the Kings ſaid ſuit be taken and commenced, or proceſs awarded for the ſaid debt, at the ſuit of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, before judgment given for the ſaid other perſon or perſons.

Tenant in fee-ſimple or tail, chargeable to pay the King his anceſtors debts.

And be it enacted alſo by authority aforeſaid, That all manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, and hereditaments, the which now be, or that hereafter ſhall come or be, in, or to the hands, poſſeſſion, occupation, or ſeiſon of any perſon or perſons, to whom the ſame manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments have heretofore, or hereafter ſhall deſcend, revert or remain in fee-ſimple or in fee-tail, general or ſpecial, by, from, or after the death of any his or their anceſtor or anceſtors as heir, or by gift of his anceſtors whoſe heir he is, which ſaid anceſtor or anceſtors, was, is, or ſhall be indebted to the King, or to any perſon or perſons to his uſe, by judgment, recognizance, obligation, or other ſpecialty, the debt whereof is or ſhall not be contented and paid: that then in every ſuch caſe the ſame manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, and hereditaments, ſhall be, and ſtand by authority of this Act, from henceforth charged and chargeable to and for the payment of the ſame debt, and of every part thereof.

And that our ſaid Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, at any time hereafter ſhall not be barred, delayed, fore-cloſed or excluded, to demand, have and receive his or their juſt, due and lawful debts and duties againſt any of his ſubjects, as heir or heirs to any perſon or perſons indebted to his Highneſs, or to other perſons to his uſe, or which ſhall be indebted to his Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, albeit this word Heir be not, or ſhall not be compriſed in ſuch recogniſance, obligation or ſpecialty, or that any ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall ſay, or alledge, that he or they have not any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, to them deſcended, but onely ſuch manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, as be, or ſhall be entailed or given to them by any their anceſtors, to whom they be heirs, any laws, uſes or cuſtoms before this time uſed, or had to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Kings debts payable by the Heir, though in the bond he be not named.

Lands entailed chargeable.

Provided always, That the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, may at his or their liberty and pleaſure demand, have and recover his or their ſaid debt or debts, of and againſt any executor or executors, adminiſtrator or adminiſtrators of any ſuch perſon or perſons, which is, hath been, or ſhall be indebted in manner and form abovesaid, if the ſame executor or executors, adminiſtrator or adminiſtrators, ſhall have aſſets in his or their hands, in deed or in law, any thing before mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The King may charge the executors or adminiſtrators.

Provided alſo, That if the ſaid manors, lands and hereditaments, or any of them, ſhall hereafter be recovered or evicted out of, or from the poſſeſſion of any ſuch perſon or perſons, by any juſt or former title, without fraud or covin, whoſe manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, been or ſhall be charged or chargeable, as is abovesaid: that then all and every ſuch manors, lands, and hereditaments, ſhall be clearly acquitted and diſcharged of and for the payment of the ſame debts, and of every part thereof, any thing before mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The lands chargeable to the King recovered.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, of whom any ſuch debt or duty is, or at any time hereafter ſhall be demanded or required, alledge, plead, declare or ſhew in any of the ſaid Courts, good, perfect and ſufficient cauſe and matter in law, reaſon or good conſcience, in bar or diſcharge of the ſaid debt or duty, or why ſuch perſon or perſons ought not to be charged or chargeable to or with the ſame, and the ſame cauſe or matter ſo alledged, pleaded, declared or ſhewed, ſufficiently proved in ſuch one of the ſaid Courts, as he or they ſhall be impleaded, ſued, vexed or troubled for the ſame: that then the ſaid Courts and every of them, ſhall have full power and authority to accept, adjudge and allow the ſame proof, and wholly and clearly to acquit and diſcharge all and every perſon and perſons, that ſhall be ſo impleaded, ſued, vexed, or troubled for the ſame, any thing in this preſent Act before mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Cok.l.3.f.64. l.7.l.19.

Sufficient matter pleaded in diſcharge of the debt.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments which be, or at any time hereafter ſhall be charged, or chargeable to or with the debt of our ſaid Sovereign Lord, his Heirs or Succeſſors, and be at any time hereafter, or ſhall be in the ſeiſin and poſſeſſion of divers and ſundry perſons, other then the obligor or obligors, that then all and ſingular the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, and every parcel of them, ſhall be wholly and entirely, and in no wiſe ſeverally, liable and chargeable, to and with the paiment and paiments of the ſaid debts, of the ſaid debt and duty, any thing before rehearſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Lands chargeable to the King in ſeveral mens tenures.

Cok.l.3.f.12.

Provided alſo, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall in any wiſe extend to miniſh, abrogate or take away any realties, liberties, priviledges, franchiſes, preeminences, juriſdictions, fines, iſſues, or amerciaments, appertaining or belonging to the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter and County Palatine of Lancaſter, or any of them; but that the ſame liberties, realties, priviledges, franchiſes, preeminences, juriſdictions, fines, iſſues and amerciaments, and every of them, ſhall ſtill continue, remain, and be to the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter and County Palatine, and every of them, as fully, wholly and plenarily, as they were before the making of this preſent Act, any thing in the ſame contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The liberties of the Dutchy of Lancaſter ſaved.

Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all manner of proceſs, proceſſes, and executions for debts, onely coming or growing in the Court of the Eſchequer, ſhall be made in the ſame Court of the Eſchequer, by ſuch Officer and Officers, Clerk or Miniſter of the ſame Court, as hath been afore this time uſed to be made, after and with ſuch kind of proceſs, proceſſes and executions, as by this Act is limited and declared, any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding. St. 7 Ed. 2.

Proceſs and executions for debts growing in the Eſchequer.

Anno triceſimo quarto & quinto Henrici Octavi.

CAP. I.

Recourſe muſt be had to the Catholick and Apoſtolick Church, for the deciſion of controverſies, and therefore all books of the old and new Teſtament in Engliſh, being of Tindals falſe Tranſlation, or compriſing any matter of Chriſtian Religion, Articles of the Faith, or holy Scripture, contrary to the Doctrine ſet forth ſithence Anno Dom. 1540. or to be ſet forth by the King, ſhall be aboliſhed. No Printer or Book-ſeller ſhall utter any of the aforeſaid Books. No perſons ſhall play in Enterlude, ſing or rhime contrary to the ſaid Doctrine. No perſon ſhall retain any Engliſh books or writings concerning matter againſt the holy and bleſſed Sacrament of the Altar, or for the maintenance of Anabaptiſts, or other books aboliſhed by the Kings Proclamation. There ſhall be no Annotations or Preambles in Bibles or New Teſtaments in Engliſh. The Bible ſhall not be read in Engliſh in any Church. No Women, or Artificers, Prentices, Journey-men, Serving-men, of the degrees of Yeomen or under, Husbandmen nor Labourers ſhall read the New Teſtament in Engliſh. Nothing ſhall be taught or maintained contrary to the Kings inſtructions. And if any Spiritual perſon preach, teach or maintain any thing contrary to the Kings inſtructions, or determinations made, or to be made, and ſhall be thereof convict, he ſhall for his firſt offence recant, for his ſecond abjure and bear a Fagot, and for his third ſhall be adjudged an Heretick, and be burned, and loſe all his goods and chattels. Rep. 1 Edw. 6. 12.

CAP. II.

When Collectors and Receivors ſhall pay in their money received, &c.

Within what time any Collector or Receivors of the Kings Fifteens, &c. ſhall pay the ſame to the Kings uſe.

Where divers and ſundry high Collectors of the Fifteens and Subſidie, to the Kings Highneſs, and divers other his particular and general Receivors of his Revenues and Duties, being within the ſurvey, rule and order of his Majeſties Court of the Eſchequer, the Dutchy of Lancaſter, the Court of the Augmentations of the Revenues of the Crown, the Court of the general Surveyors, the Court of the Wards and Liveries, and the Court of the Tenth and Firſt-fruits, have heretofore, after the collection, levying or gathering of the Kings fifteens, ſubſidies, rents, debts, and other his money and duties, retained, occupied and converted the ſame to their own ſingular profit and commodity, as in loning or laying out the ſame for gains in purchaſing lands of great value, and in buying of Wools and other merchandiſe, whereby the Kings Majeſty hath oft-times loſt great part of his debts and duties, and ſometime forborn the ſame by a long ſeaſon, after ſuch time as the ſame have been due and gathered. For reformation whereof, be it enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the Kings Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That every high Collector, of any fifteens, ſubſidy, or other tax, or loan, and all and every other the Kings ſaid particular and general Receivors, of any the ſaid ſums of money, and other duties belonging to the King, from and after the firſt day of July next coming, ſhall within the ſpace of three moneths next after ſuch days and times, as any the ſaid Fifteens, Subſidies, Rents, ſums of money, or other yearly profits, ſhall be due and payable to the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, by any Statute, Ordinance, or other mean, and by the ſame Collector, particular or general Receivor, or any of them retained or gathered, truly content, deliver, and pay the ſame to the Kings uſe, at ſuch place or places, and to ſuch perſon or perſons, as be, or ſhall be named, appointed and limitted for the ſame, upon pain to forfeit to the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, for every pound ſo being received, and after that retained, kept, or laid out for gain, and not paid within three moneths, to the Kings uſe as is aforeſaid, four ſhillings for every moneth that the ſame money ſhall be ſo retained, kept or laid out for gain, as is aforeſaid, and ſhall alſo loſe and forfeit his or their ſaid office, concerning the ſame, and all profits thereunto belonging. And that the King ſhall at his pleaſure charge the ſaid Collector, particular or general Receivor, upon his or their accompts, with the penalty and forfeitures above rehearſed, or elſe at his pleaſure demand, ask and recover the ſame by action, bill, plaint, or ſuit of debt, againſt the ſame Collector or Collectors, particular or general Receivor, their heirs, executors, or adminiſtrators: In which action, bill, plaint, or ſuit, no protection, eſſoin, or wager of law ſhall be allowed nor admitted.

The Collector or Receivors payment being tendred ſufficient, though it be not received.

Provided alway, That if any of the ſaid Collectors, particular or general Receivors, tender paiment of all ſuch money by them received to the Kings uſe, within the ſaid three months, in ſuch place, and unto ſuch perſon and perſons, as be or ſhall be charged with the receipt of the ſame, and do as much as in him or them is, or then ſhall be, for to make true paiment thereof, and cannot be thereunto admitted, by reaſon of importunate buſineſs, or other lawful impediment or cauſe in him or them that ſhould accept or receive the ſame, that in every ſuch caſe the ſame Collector, particular or general Receivor or Receivors, as ſhall ſo make tender of all ſuch money by him or them received or gathered to the Kings uſe, as is aforeſaid, and cannot be thereunto admitted for any the cauſes aboveſaid, ſhall not be charged with, or incur any danger and penalty contained in this Act: this Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

How far the Collector or Receivors heir ſhall be charged.

Provided always, and be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the heir or heirs of any Collector or Receivor aforeſaid, ſhall not be charged or chargeable by reaſon of this Act, but onely for and in ſuch lands, tenements or hereditaments, which the ſaid heir or heirs, have or ſhall have by deſcent in fee-ſimple, or fee-tail, or by gift, or elſe by any other aſſurance had or made to any ſuch heir or heirs, onely by covin from the ſaid Collector or Receivor, or any of them, or any their aſſigns. CAP. V.

The Explanation of the Statute of Wills, &c.

Where in the laſt Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter the eight and twentieth day of April, in the one and thirtieth year of the Kings moſt gracious Reign, and there by divers prorogations holden and continued unto the four and twentieth day of July, in the two and thirtieth year of his ſaid Reign: It was by the Kings moſt gracious and liberal diſpoſition ſhewed toward his moſt humble and obedient ſubjects, ordained and enacted, how and in what manner, lands, tenements and hereditaments might by Will or Teſtament in writing, or otherwiſe by any act or acts lawfully executed in the life of every perſon be given, diſpoſed, willed or deviſed, for the advancement of the wife, preferment of children, payment of debts of every ſuch perſon, or otherwiſe at his will or pleaſure, as in the ſame Act more plainly is declared. Sithen the making of which Eſtatute, divers doubts, queſtions, and ambiguities have riſen, been moved and grown, by diverſity of opinions, taking in and upon the expoſition of the letter of the ſame Eſtatute.

32 H. 8. 1.

For a plain declaration and explanation whereof, and to the intent and purpoſe, that the Kings obedient and loving ſubjects, ſhall and may take the commodity and advantage of the Kings ſaid gracious and liberal diſpoſition, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, moſt humbly beſeechen the Kings Majeſty, that the meaning of the letter of the ſame Eſtatute, concerning ſuch matters hereafter rehearſed, may be by the authority of this preſent Parliament enacted, taken, expounded, judged, declared and explained in manner and form following.

Firſt, Where it is contained in the ſame former Statute, within divers articles and branches of the ſame, that all and ſingular perſon and perſons, having any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, of the eſtate of inheritance ſhould have full and free liberty, power and authority to give, will, diſpoſe or aſſign, as well by his laſt Will and Teſtament in writing, or otherwiſe by any act or acts lawfully executed in his life, his manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, or any of them, in ſuch manner and form, as in the ſame former Act more at large it doth appear. Which words of eſtate of inheritance, by the authority of this preſent Parliament, is and ſhall be declared, expounded, taken and judged of eſtates in [a] fee-ſimple onely.

Lands wherein one hath eſtate of inheritance, viz. fee-ſimple onely may be deviſed.

And alſo that all and ſingular perſon and perſons, having a ſole eſtate or intereſt in fee-ſimple, or ſeiſed in fee-ſimple, in coparcenery, or in common in fee-ſimple, of and in any manors, lands, tenements, [b] rents, or other hereditaments in poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder, or of rents or ſervices incident to any reverſion or remainder, and having no manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments holden of the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, or of any other perſon or perſons by Knights ſervice, ſhall have full and free liberty, power and authority, to give, diſpoſe, will or deviſe to any perſon or perſons (except bodies politick and corporate) by his laſt Will and Teſtament in writing, or [c] otherwiſe by any act or acts lawfully executed in his life, by himſelf ſolely, or by himſelf and other jointly, ſeverally or particularly, or by all thoſe ways, or any of them, as much as in him of right is or ſhall be, all his ſaid manors, lands, tenements, [d] rents and hereditaments, or any of them, or any rents, commons, or other profits or commodities out of, or to be perceived of the ſame, or out of any parcel thereof, at his own free will and pleaſure: any clauſe in the ſaid former Act notwithſtanding.

Fee-ſimple in coparcenary or in common, in poſſeſſion, reverſion, remainder.

Deviſing of rent or common out of land.

And further be it declared and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular perſon and perſons, having a ſole eſtate or intereſt in fee-ſimple, or ſeiſed in fee-ſimple in coparcenery, or in common in fee-ſimple, of, or in any manors, lands, tenements, rents, or other hereditaments in poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder, or of and in any rents, or ſervices incident to any reverſion or remainder, holden of the King by Knights ſervice in chief, or of the nature of Knights ſervice in chief, hath, and by the authority of this preſent Parliament, ſhall have full and free liberty, power and authority to give, diſpoſe, will or aſſign to any perſon

Lands holden of the King by Knights ſervice in chief.

And that by the authority aforeſaid, the ſaid Will ſo declared, ſhall be good and effectual for two parts of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, although the Will ſo declared be made of the whole, or more then of two parts of the ſame. The ſame diviſion to be made and ſet forth by the diviſor or owner of the ſame manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, by his laſt Will in writing, or otherwiſe in writing. And in default thereof by a Commiſſion to be granted out of the Kings Court of the Wards and Liveries, upon the inquiry of the true value thereof, by the oaths of twelve men, and return or certificate thereof had in the ſame Court, of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, diviſion to be made by the Maſter of the Wards and Liveries, if the Maſter of the Wards and Liveries for the time being, and the parties thereunto, cannot otherwiſe agree upon the ſame diviſion. And that the iſſues and profits of the two parts of the ſame manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments upon every ſuch diviſion to be reſtored to them that ſhall have right or title to the ſame from the death of the owner or deviſor thereof.

Lands holden of the King or others by Knights ſervice, and lands holden in ſocage.

And further be it enacted and declared by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular perſon and perſons, having a ſole eſtate or intereſt in fee-ſimple, or ſeiſed in fee-ſimple, in coparcenary, or in common in fee-ſimple, of, and in any manors, lands, tenements, rents, or other hereditaments in poſſeſſion, reverſion, or remainder, or of, and in any rents or ſervices, incident to any [f] reverſion or remainder holden of the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, by Knights ſervice, and not in chief, or holden of any other perſon or perſons by Knights ſervice, ſhall have full and free liberty, power and authority to give, diſpoſe, will or deviſe to any perſon or perſons, except bodies politick and corporate, by his laſt Will and Teſtament in writing, or otherwiſe by any act or acts lawfully executed in his life by himſelf ſolely, or by himſelf and other joyntly, ſeverally or particularly, or by all thoſe ways, or any of them, as much as in him of right is or ſhall be, two parts of all the ſaid manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, or any of them ſo holden by Knights ſervice, or any rents, common, or other profits or commodities, out of, or to be perceived of the ſame two parts, or out of any parcel thereof, in three parts to be divided, or as much thereof as ſhall amount to the full and clear yearly value of two parts thereof, in three parts to be divided at his free will and pleaſure.

[f] Dyer f. [illegible]

A Will made of the whole ſhall be good for two parts.

And that the ſaid Will ſo declared by authority aforeſaid, ſhall be good and effectual for two parts of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, although the Will ſo declared be or ſhall be made of the [g] whole lands and tenements, ſo holden by Knights ſervice, or of more then of two parts of the ſame. And alſo for the whole of all other ſuch manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, or any of them, not holden of the King by Knights ſervice in chief, or otherwiſe by Knights ſervice, nor of any other perſon by Knights ſervice, and of any rents, commons, or other profits or commodities, out of, or to be perceived of the ſame, or out of any parcel thereof, at his free will and pleaſure. The ſame diviſion to be made and ſet forth by the owner of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, by his laſt Will and Teſtament in writing, or otherwiſe in writing. And in default thereof, for as much of the ſame manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments as ſhall concern the Kings intereſt, by Commiſſion to be directed out of the Kings Court of the Wards and Liveries, in manner and form as is aforeſaid, if the Maſter of the Wards and Liveries for the time being, and the parties thereunto cannot otherwiſe agree upon the ſame diviſion: And that reſtitution of the iſſues and profits of the two parts thereof ſhall be had and made in manner and form aboveſaid. And for ſuch of the ſame manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, as ſhall concern the intereſt of any other Lord or Lords, by Commiſſion to be granted out of the Kings Court of the Chancery, to enquire thereof by the oaths of twelve men, if the ſame Lord or Lords, and the parties thereunto cannot otherwiſe agree upon the ſame diviſion.
